fullest Consideration, we have agreed to sundry distinct Resolutions upon the general Subject of them; a Copy of which we transmit to you for your Authority and Guidance.

At the same Time that we refer you to these for our Reply to your Letter, we must request that you will attend particularly to the following Explanation of the Circumflances and Confiderations of which they have been formed.

We have supposed, that your Intentions were to act in concert with the Maratta Government; to affish in composing its intestine Divisions, at the particular Solicitation of its chief Minister; and by Means of fuch a Policy, to prevent the Growth of an Influence dangerous to the Company's Interests; to defeat the Intentions of a Party adverse to the Company, and to promote the Security of the Company's Possessions. In this View, we give our Assent and Sanction to the Plan which you propose en engage in; making it an express Condition of our Concurrence, that you restrict your Operations merely to the Objects fo required and defined; and that you withdraw your Forces as foon as these shall be fully accomplished.

We are, &c.

Nº 29.

Read the Governor General's Proposition contained in his Opinion on the 8th Question.

Mr. \heler-If the Board are determined to fend Troops to Bombay, I agree, that it will be highly proper to confult the General upon the Subject; but I abide by my former Opinion of the Impropriety of that Measure.

Mr. Francis—I yield to the Governor General's Proposal as a Consequence of a Resolution already taken; but I must desire it to be understood, that I shall not deem myself bound by the Answer to the Enquiry, disapproving totally of the Resolution itself. Mr. Barwell agrees to the Reference.

Refolved accordingly.

The Governor General-I further propole. That the Sentiments of the Commander in Chief be taken upon the Propriety of augmenting the Sepoy Establishment, by new Levies of Thirty Private to each Company of Sepoys, and making the Strength of each Battalion One thousand Men compleat: In this Case our Force will not be dissiplified by any Drasts that may be made for the Service of Bom-

Mi. Wheler agrees.

Mr. Francis—It any Force should be sent from hence to Bombay, I conclude it will be necessary To replace it by new Levies here; but this is an additional Reason with me for disapproving of the Mealure.

Mr. Barwell agrees.

Refolved, That the Sentiments of the Commander in Chief be taken upon the Propriety of augmenting the Sepoy Establishment by New Levies of Thirty Private to each Company, and making the Strength of each Battalion One thousand Men compleat,

Mr. Francis-Setting aside all other Considerations but those of Policy and Expedience, I conceive, That the Resolution of the Presidency of Bombay, to carry Ragoba to Poona, cannot be justified on any Principle whatever, but that of the Probability of their carrying it into Execution inflanter, or by a Surprize. Their actual Force is not equal to a regular Series of Military Operations, or to contend with a well-concerted Refistance; when their Force was entire under Colonel Keating, they were unable to make any Impression on the Army opposite to them: But a Resolution to affist them with Money, and still more with a Body of Troops from hence, which cannot arrive at Bonibay till several Months after the Commencement of Hostilities, suppose the Continuance of a War for an indefinite Time, and to an unlimited Extent. It is in vain for us to fay, that we content to the Enterprize under fuch and fuch particular Limitations: When once we are engaged in its, we can no longer command the Event, nor determine how far it will lead us, or at what Point we shall stop. For this Reason, in Addition to those I have already stated, I dissent from and protest against the Resolutions taken this Day, and all the Consequences that may attend them.

Governor General-I must beg Mr. Francis's Permission to ask, Whether he means by this Dissent and Protest, and by the Answers which he has delivered to the Two last Questions proposed by me on the last Council Day, to declare against affording any Kind of Assistance to the Presidency of Bombay, if they should be actually engaged in a War?

However we may differ in our Opinions of the past Conduct of that Presidency, I would have we shall be at least unanimous in our Resolutions to support them; which will be to least the case of a Mariana large of the Company's and the National Journal of the Company of the Company

Company's and the National Interests committed to their Charge, sin the case of a Way Reason only I propose the Question.

Mr. Francis—My Dissent and Protest are meant to be applied generally to all the this Day on the Question now stated to me by the Governor. I have already decided plicitly, in the Minute which I had the Honour of laying the the board on Figure and a partalling Question, and not to be decided on any Penciples, the very risk.

À P P E N D I X, N 27, 20, and 29.

Facts, which we cannot alter or refitt, may force us into Mccharco against our most deliberate topological for which I would affist the Presidency or Bombay; and when I know with Certainty, that they have engaged in Measures of an offensive Nature against the Michael State, my Opinion will be, that we should command and require them to withdraw from the Measures, and return to the Desence of their own Territories. I cannot give a more precise of determinate Answer to a Questien, which in its Nature must in some Depree be subject to Events.

Governor General—Theg Mr. I rancis will be here that I had no Intention to embarrals him by the Question which I have proposed. I expected the Answer which he has given to it, but choses which to propose the Question in Form, than either to leave his Intentions doubtful, as they would be seen peared from the Minute recorded in this Day's Proceeding, or to appear to impute to the or and the confiftency with his former Declaration, by referring to it.

As Mr. Wheler in his Answer to the Second Question, seems to doubt the Reality of the Defigns of the French, as they are represented by the President and Council of Lombay, I request that the fellowing Extracts of our Perban Correspondence may be entered in this Place, and that Mellinot's Letter, which was addressed to the Beard on the 1st of October 1st, may be annexed to them; as I think it now, whatever it might have been before, of no Consequence to withhold in from a Place in our Records. These Evidences, the Fust of which have not I believe from secret. Mr. Wheler, will I think remove every Doubt of the Existence of such a Delign, and of ste have been carried into Execution, so far as it could have been effected by the avowed Delivery of the Credentials received by the French Agent from the Court of France, and by the written Engages early affirmed to have been executed between him and one of the Min sters.

Mr. Wheler—I do not recollect that I implied any fuch Doubt of the Intention of the French Interference in my Minute. I have it is true endeavoured to make it appear that our immediate Fears cannot arise from any such Apprehensions from the French; as it is said, before they can carry Designs into Execution, they have dispatched Monsieur de Sauty with Credentials to the French Ministry.

The Governor General—Mr. Wheler's Explanation is perfectly confident with the Words of his Minute; but as I think the Danger which may arise from the French Intrigues at Poona has not been sufficiently understood, and as these form the principal Grounds for the supposed Resolutions of the President and Council of Bombay, I still defire that the Papers above mentioned may be recorded in this Day's Consultation.

From Row Jee to the Nabob Wallah Jah, dated the 13th May 1777.

I fome Time ago transmitted to the Presence Two Papers of Intelligence; the former written on the 1st of Rabbe-ul-awul (11th of April) the latter the 19th of the same Month (29th of April): These you have doubtlets received, and have communicated the Contents to his Highners. The Particulars relative to the French Sirdar are these: Mr. Clevalier, with a Train confifting of an Irlephant and Standard, and Seven Gentlemen in Palankeens, came to Durky, where he remained Ten Days waiting for his Things to come up. On the 24th of Rabbe-ul-awil (4th May) he fet out from thence, and travelled to Bhaoury: Bheem Row Paula went on the Part of Secondart Pundit Pundfoun to meet him. On the 25th Siccaram Pundit and Nanna Purnavecle went to the Encampment under the Walls of the Fort, where the French Chief was introduced to them: He had not brought his Prefents with him. After the Ceremony of the Introduction was over he retired with Siccaram Pundit, Ivanna Purnaveefe, Madho Row Sadafhao, Kifhen Row Belal, Boofila's Vackeel, and Congee the Interpreter, and produced a Letter from the Prime Minister of the King of France, addressed to Scienium Pundit Purdhaun. As there was no Frenchman belonging to the Sucar to read it, Mr. Chevalica received himself, and the Interpreter explained it: The Substance was, that "from Time infinite orial " Priendship and Harmony had sublished between the Two State, which it was expedient to preserve in Time to come, and that Mr. Chevalier would perfonally explain all further Particulars. Ministers enquired after Mr. Buffy, and were informed by Mr. Chevaher that he was in Frealth, and employed in an eminent Station about the Prime Minifler, and that he had defired his Compliments to Ramchunder Jadoo Row. They then enquired if the French and English were Priends, or otherwife; to which Mr. Chevaher antwered, that they were at prefent Friends, and that the French were not at Variance with any Power whatever. This was all that pasted in the First Meeting; after which he took his I cave and tettred. Provision for 200 Men, Provender, &c. are daily supplied by the Sirear Mulhar Pundit Muttafuddy; and 20 Hirearrahs are appointed to art not en Mr. Chevaher, and procure for him whatever he wants. On the laft of Rabbe ul-awel (9th May) Mr. Chevalier was defined to attend at the aforefaid I neampment, to be introduced to Serement I undit Furdhaun: There was nobody of Confequence prefent at the Interview except Scientist Pundit and the Two Miniflers. Mr. Chevalier prefented Five Paintings on Glafs, a Cup, a Gun, a Pair of Piffols, and a Glass by which Poilon might be discovered. After some Minutes spent in Professions of Friendthip, Mr. Chevaher preferred a Letter from the French King, addicted to Seremont Pundit: I have not yet been able to learn the Contents of it; as focu as I do I shall inform his Highness. After receiving the Letter, Scremunt took Letve of Mr. Chevalier and returned to the Fort a Mir. Chevalier remained in private with the Two Ministers and the Interpreter. Succaram their defired him to communicate what he had to fay; to which he replaced, "I have a great Variety of Matter to ticat " of, which I will fully explain at a convenient I mic." Siccaram I undit then fait, "I will appoint " fome fome Person to negociate your Business for you; it must be a Person who is well versed in your Assairs. I know of no one qualified for this Purpose except Madho Row Sadasas." Mr. Cheralier not relishing this Proposal made answer, "He is employed in the Negociations with the English, how is it possible we should unite?" Siccaram replied, "Be under no kind of Apprehensions on this Account; in like Manner as I am so also is he, a Muttaseddy of the Sircar: All Negociations are conducted through Muttaseddies; but I act in such Manner as I think right." In. Chevalier made no Reply, but retired. Siccaram Pundit then went to Shashoore to a Wedding; anna Purnaveesse is also going to Poona, where he will stay I en Days or a Fortnight: This of course calions a Delay in the Negociations of the French, which I understand will be concluded on their eturn. Madho Row is under great Perplexity; not knowing his Highness's Pleasure in this Matter, is at a Loss what Steps to take. I have addressed frequent Arzees to you in the Course of the Month relative to the French, which you have doubtless fully explained to his Highness: I am stonished that I have not yet been honoured with a Line in Answer thereto. It is now necessary that you communicate the above Particulars relative to Mr. Chevalier to his Highness, and write me full and explicit Answer; and also inform me what Conduct I am to observe here, that I may accordingly statisty Madho Row. The French have till now remained perfectly quiet, but it appears from these late Measure's that they design to enter again into the Assars of this Part; I have therefore tent repeated Expresses to the Presence. Having made yourself acquainted with his Highness's Pleasure, write me fully on the Subject.

From the Nabob Wallah Jah to Row Jie; dated the 6th June 1777.

I understand from your Letter written the 3d Rabeassanie (13th May) to Shech Row, that one Monsieur Chevalier, a Frenchman, is arrived in those Parts, under the Pretence of having come from Europe on an Embaffy to Row Pundit Purdhaun, and that on this News a Man of Rank went from Row Pundit Purdhaun, met, and conducted him to the Presence of the principal Ministers, who received him with every Mark of Friendship, gave car to the Representations of that Impostor, which he himself had fabricated, and then produced as coming from the Prime Minister of France; and that Madho Row Sadafhae conceived that a Connexion between him and the Ministers must give Offence to the English Chiefs. The History of this Frenchman is this; he was formerly in the Service of Hyder Ally Khan, and after waiting some Time for an Opportunity of quartelling with him, he deferted him with a Party of Fugitives, and continued for a long Space of Time to wander in those Parts. Monfieut Bellecombe, who is lately arrived from Europe in the Station of Governor of Pondicherry, has not the least Knowledge of him, but says that he invents these Impolitions to procure himself a Support in the different Places to which he wanders. As the sirmest Friendship has subsisted for Three Generations between my Family and that of Row Pundit Purdhaun, I desire you will re-Freaty between Row Pundit Purdhaun and the English, the Fame of whose good Faith and Steadinefs is every where spread, and whose Constancy in Friendship is become a Proverb throughout the World; and fince the Governor General of Bengal, who is the absolute Representative of the English Nation in this Country, is the Author of this Treaty, it is necessary that he should reslect how highly displeasing the Encouragement of this Impostor of another Nation must be to the English; that it is therefore incumbent on him (as a Man of Wisdom, Penetration, and Fidelity to Row Pundit Purdhaun, and as he was employed, on Colonel Upton's Arrival at Poona, on the Part of the Governor General of Bengal, as the Channel of that Negociation) to paint to the Ministers of Row Pundit Purdhaun, in the strongest Colours, the Impropriety of shewing any Countenance to such an Impostor, and to persuade them ever to preserve with the greatest Care the Friendship of the English, which is of the greatest Value.

Extrast of a Letter from Siccaram Pundit to Colonel Upton.

Monsieur Chevalier de St. Lubin, on the Part of the King of France, lately arrived on board a Ship on this Coast, and landed on Rio-Dunda, belonging to this Government, from whence he transmitted a Letter to the Presence of Seremunt Row, Sahib Row Pundit Purdhaun, containing a Request of an Audience to treat with him, which if granted he would wait on him, and fully explain to him the Subjects of his Mission. As Friendship had subsisted from Time immemorial between the French Nation and the illustrious Family of Seremunt Sahib, and moreover as Hospitality is due to the Envoy of a great Prince, an Order for his Approach was sent from the Presence. When the aforesaid Gentleman arrives the Subjects of his Negociation will be explained. The Governor and Council of Bombay will represent this Matter to the Supreme Council of Calcutta in an injurious light; I have therefore written you and the Supreme Council the Relation of what has really passed. Friendship is now established between us, which shall never be interrupted in the smallest Degree. Do you my Friend amply represent all the Particulars to the Governor and Council.

REP. VI. Y Extrait

Extract of a Letter from Siccaram Pundit; received the 17th July 1777.

Monsieur the Chevalier de St. Lubin, on the Part of the King of France, lately arrived on board a Ship on this Coast, and landed at Rio Dunda, belonging to this Government; from whence he trainful mitted a Letter to Seremunt Row, Sahib Row Pundit Purdhaun, containing a Request of an Audience to treat with him, which if granted he would wait on him, and fully explain to him the Subjects of his Mission. As Friendship has subtisted from Time immemorial between the French Nation and the illustrious Family of Seremunt Sahib, and moreover in Compliance with the Duties of Hospitality, an Order for his Approach was fent from the Presence. When the aforesaid Gentleman arrives, the Subjects of his Negociation will be explained.

The Governor and Council of Bombay will represent this Matter to you in an injurious Light, foreseeing which, and possessing the most fincere Friendship towards you, I have given you Intelligence of this Gentleman's Arrival, and what has actually passed. No Interruption shall ever proceed from this Sircar, of the Friendship which has been so firmly established between us.

From the Nalob Wallah Jah, 3d September.

I sometime ago sent you for your Information a News-paper from Poona, containing an Accourt of the Arrival of Monsieur Le Chevalier, a Frenchman, at that Place; and at the same Finne transmitted you a Copy of a Letter which I wrote to Row Jee, my News-writer, to exert his uting. Endeavours to prevent the Poona Chief giving Countenauth to such a Cheat and Impossor. I new enclose you an Answer from the aforesaid News-writer, addressed to his Brother. I am induced the Warmth of my Friendship to send you this News-paper. You will keep it under the most perfound Secrecy; for should it be known that my News writer had communicated this Intelligence, Life would be in Danger.

Extract of a Letter from Row Jee to Sheefh Row.

You fent me Two Letters on the Subject of the French Chief to this Purport : That this Peris who was to come to Poona, was an Impollor; that no Countenance must be shown to liter, et and extraordinary Appearance of Civility kept up with regard to him; for should the Genele near or 1 28 Administration of Bengal suspect such an Intercourse, it will be productive of very distanced less cumstances. This I perfectly understand. I represented all the Particulars to the Ministers, through the Channel of Madho Row Sadashae; but Kishen Row Billal is the Patron of this Frenchman, makes use of every Method to pertuade the Ministers to countenance him. They therefore pretend is Mr. Moilyn and me, that they are about to give him his Difmission; but their real Defigns are duferent. They have been Three or Four different Times to the House of the French Chief, and I have that he has promifed, that in the Course of Eighteen Months he will procure them from Europe respectable Body of European Troops, with all the necessary Stores, &c. and that the Chicks of all the different Settlements shall likewise receive express Instructions for their Conduct from the King of France. He represents, that a Place on the Sca Coast will be necessary for the Residence of the Forces, and the secure Anchorage of the Ships. A small Village has therefore been fixed upon near Rio-Dunda. This they will give up to him as foon as an Antwer arrives from Europe. He dimands at prefent a Monthly Stipend of One Lack and a Half of Rupees for the Support of the •People he has with him; and that 10,000 additional Sepoys should be raised and properly discipline. He has brought on Shore from the Ships Eighty Pieces of Cannon; and has also with him 200 kg opean Soldiers, with all Kinds of Arms and Ammunition; and is defirous of disciplining this total Body. The Ministers say amongst themselves, these Troops will be disciplined under the Dagetton of Europeans, and the Sepoys which we keep in our Service are without Necessaries or Disciplina, but if put under the Direction of Europeans, they will be rendered fit for Service. Such are their Deliberations. I do not know if Madho Row Sadafhae is acquainted with this Cheometaries, a d conceals it from me, or whether the Ministers keep him ignorant of it. I if al Macho Row Sidashae, what was the Reason that Cannon, Lead, Powder, and Ammunition, I am been landed to 5 Ghaut of Rio Dunda, and Orders given for the building of Storehouses, &c. F. Herephed, The st was the tempessuous Scason which rendered it necessary to unload the Ships; that they had there a been lightened of their Cargoes; that after this Seaton was over, they would be again carried on board the Ships, and the French Chief should receive his Difficultion. I shad communicate whatever I learn in future.

Translate of a Letter from Siccaram Pundit, dated the 20th Ostober 17/7.

I some! Time ago wrote you Information of the Approach of a Perion deputed by the King of France to this Quarter; Monsieur Le Chevalier de St. Lubin has lately been honoured with a st. Audience Audience of Row Pundit Purdhaun Pelhwa Sahib, when he delivered Letters from the King of France on the Subject of flrengthening and confirming the ancient Friendship which subject between the Two Nations; and he also spoke on the Subject of their ancient Intimacy and Connection.

As the ratny Seafon was fet in violently, Mr. Le Chevaher did not desire his Dismission, and his Departure has been delayed on this Account. The Duties of Hospitality, both to Friends and Strangers, are incumbent on Chess of high Rank.

Should this Circumflance be related to you in an unfavourable Light, you will not, I am perfuaded, give Ciedit to it. There will never be the least Deviation in Government from the Duties of the Friendthip citablished, but it will take deeper Root. I fend you a Letter in a Koreta, from Serement Row Pundit Purdhaun, additioned to the King of England, on the Subject of Friendship; be pleased to transant it to England, and procure an Answer. By this you will much oblige me, give great Pleasure to Row Samb Pundit Pordhaun, and increase the Friendship which at present subsides.

Extract of a Letter from Row Jie to the Nahab Wallah Jah; dated the 30th of September.

The French Chief blought here Tive Lacks of Rupees in Goods, which he has fold to the Merchants of this Place, but he is to deliver them here; he is accordingly gone with his People to Rio to fetch them.

Extrast of a Letter from Dewagur Pum'it, Dewan of Moodajee Boofia, Rajah of Terar. Received 18th December.

Soon afterwards an experienced Ambassador arrived on the Part of the King of France, with a Letter and Pretent of various Articles, and earnestly intreated an Audience of Pundit Purdhaun, which he obtained: I was also acquainted with the Discourses they held in private: Five I crions only were privy to this Matter. The Intention of what I have written above, is to show, that as soon as the English entered into Alliance with Pundit Purdhaun, the Powers of other Countries immediately courted his Friendship, and his Government thereby acquired a fresh Degree of Splendour.

First Extra I from a Letter from Rowjee to the Nabob Wallab Jab; dated the 11th April 1777.

Mr. Mostyn informed me, that Two French Ships, one carrying 70 Guns, and the other 40, were arrived at Rio, and the other at Rio Dunda; that they had sent Boats to learn Intelligence concerning Ingita, who was near to them, with 4 or 5 Men in a Boat from the Ship, who coming to Rio Dunda, whited the Government Gomastah, and through him wrote an Arzee to the Presence, to be admitted to an Audience. Mr. Mostyn hearing this, represented that the French were in Alliance with Hyder Ally Khan, and that it was necessary the Government should be on its Guard; but the Ministers paid no Regard to him, but sent Orders to the Gomassahs at Rio Dunda to furnish the French who were arrived there with Conveyances to transfort them to the Presence. On the Arrival of these Orders, Three Europeans, Two Cassities, with a Writer of Ingina's, and Forty-five Peons, set out for the Presence, and arrived at Poona. On the 28th Nanah Purnavesse returning to Poona, they waited on him, but what passed between them is not known. Madho Row has taken no Part in this Business, nor is there any Person of Credit engaged in it except Nanah Purnavesse. I hear that some French Ossicer is arrived at Rio Dunda, and means to proceed to the Presence; on this Account, Nanah Purnavesse continues some Days at Poona. This Circumssance has thrown a Damp on Nii. Mostyn's Negociations. The French Chaes is daily expected; when he arrives I will make myself acquainted with the Subject of his Negociation, and transmit you an Account thereof. I learn from Report, that the French Ossicer's Name is Monsieur Le Chevalier de St. Lubin.

From the Aumil of Windowns, dated 29th August 1777.

I have already informed you of the Arrival of the French Officer, and of his Engagement with the Ministers to bring them Aid from Europe in the course of 18 Months, during which Time they are to give him the Command of 10,000 Infantry, to be disciplined by him. They were settling the Pay of this Body when you: Highness's Letter to me arrived, directing me to explain in the clearest Manner to the Ministers, that by giving Encouragement to a French Sirdar, the long established Friendship between them and your Highness and the English would be destroyed; and that they must not expect in such Case any Friendship, either from you or the English. This Representation occasioned much Research and threw a Damp on the Negociation.

I hear that the French Sirdar has written Letters to France through the Factory of Surat but the Purport is not known. Mr. Moslyn told me that the King of France sent him to gain Intelligence.

It is very certain he has a Letter from the King of France. The Ministers sent Dispatches to Europe through the Chief of Surat, in consequence of which the King sent this Man, and it is probable that whatever he may have proposed in his Letters will be complied with.

For the Sake of Appearances, he brought Goods with him, and is engaged in Commerce, but his real Defigns are different. His Expences are great; how should he be able to make such Pretents of himself? From these Circumstances it is evident that he is no Impostor.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

Having been fortunate enough to obtain some Intelligence before I left Europe, in which the Interest of the East India Company and the Influence of Great Britain in India appear to be deeply interested, I think it incumbent upon me to take the earliest Opportunity of communicating it to your Honourable Board: I am concerned at the same Time to be under the Necessity of laying the Facts only before you, without having it in my Power to point out the Channels through which the Intelligence was conveyed to me; as my Promise was most particularly taken before I was myself entrusted with it, that I should conceal the Names of the Persons from whom I received the Information. It was not without some Difficulty that I obtained Permission to inform the Governor General and Sir John Clavering of this material Circumstance, and that only upon Condition that they should not trust it to the Records of the Company, however secret they might be. The Opinions which those Gentlemen must form as to the Authenticity of the Facts which I now propose myself the Honour of laying before you, will be a sufficient Justification of me for addressing you in this Letter.

It appears by the Information to which I allude, that Monsieur Sartine, Ministre de la Marine of France, has concerted with Three or Four of the principal Ministers of that Country a Scheme, the Object of which is the total Overthrow of the English Interests in India; that he was sensible the Force which France could herfelf bring against our Settlements would prove infusicient for to great an Undertaking, and had therefore thought it necessary to the Completion of his Views, to begin by intriguing with the Country Powers, and by endeavouring to fecure them in the Interest of France, in Opposition to those of Britain; that for this Purpose it was resolved to send a Person to India with full Powers, in the Character of Agent, and likewise to send out Persons, who in the Information are called des Exerceurs, to discipline the Natives of India, and a considerable Quantity of Arms and Military Stores. The Person who was nominated to this Office was described to me as one who had before been in India. He was to go to Pondicherry first, but to assume no public Character, that he might not be subjected to the Suspicions of the English; he is furnished with Letters from the Court of France to all the Country Princes of any Note in India, to be used at his own Discretion; he likewise carries out Presents of considerable Value, which he is to distribute as he may judge necessary. The Substance of his Instructions are as follows: To treat with such of the Country Powers as he may have Reason to think will most readily affist the Views of France, and to form Alliances with them in the Name of the King of France; to endeavour to perfuade the Country Powers to fall upon the English Settlements; and he is authorized to promise such as will accede to his Propolal, the warmest Support of his Nation secretly till Hostilities are actually commenced, and then openly. He is warned however in his Instructions, that France is not to take the Lead in the War, but is to come in as an Affiltant only. The Person from whom I learned these Particulars knows for certain that the Agent failed from Marfeilles in the Beginning of April laft, but was unacquainted with his Name, and unable to inform me for certain what Road he had followed to India, but seemed to be of Opinion that he must have passed over to Alexandria, in the Intention of embarking at Suez for India.

Having informed you of what I venture to fay may be relied on as authentic, it will not be misplaced to add an Account more in Detail of some Enquiries which my Knowledge of the above Circumstances led me to make, which though by no Means so successful as my Zeal on this Occasion would make me wish, will not, I flatter myself, be deemed unworthy of your Notice.

A Circumstance which I learned from Colonel Capper, who had passed through Egypt in February last, and which was confirmed to me by Mr. Dighton, who was in his Company, rendered it very probable that the Agent had passed through that Country in his Way to India. That the French Conful at Cairo was in daily Expectation of the Arrival of a Ship at Cairo, when they passed through that Town; and I was told by Mr. Baldwin, an English Gentleman residing at Cairo, that when an Account was brought of a Ship's being feen off or in the Red Sea, which afterwards proved to be the Swallow Sloop of War; the French Conful faid in his hearing that he was fure it was a French Ship, as he had certain Intelligence that one was dispatched from India, which should arrive about that Time. I was affured neverthelets by Three or Four French Merchants at Cairo, from whom I made Enquiries upon this Subject, that they never had any Expectation of feeing a French Ship at Suez; and I learnt at Mocha that there has not been a fingle French Ship in the Red Sea this Year. In paffing through Marseilles I made all the Inquiries that I could, without rendering myself suspicious, . but could learn nothing of any Consequence, but that some Ships had sailed from that Port early in the Year for India. As there was no Ship to fail from Suez under Three Weeks or a Month after my Arrival at Cairo, I had an Opportuity of tracing a Gentleman who had left Cairo a few Days before my Arrival, and who in many Particulars answered the Description given to me of the French Agent on the other Side of the Water. It appears from the Intelligence which I received, which was rincipally derived from Mr. Baldwin, and partly from the Gentlemen of the French Factory in Egypt, and from a Turk whom I shall afterwards have Occasion to mention more particularly, that early in April a French Gentleman wearing a Cross, and calling himself the Chevalier de Montagny, arrived at Cairo from France. It was reported upon his first Arrival that he was going to India, but after having staid at Cairo about a Month that Report was entirely dropped; and upon my asking the Question of the French Conful, was positively contradicted. He associated but very little with the Gentlemen of Cairo, which is uncommon where the Society of Europeans is fo small. A Venetian Gentleman and a Janizary who attended upon the Chevalier, informed Mr. Baldwin and myfelf, that he had a Persian Master whilst at Cairo, and used to study that Language great Part of the Day. With some Difficulty the Man, a Native of Damascus, with whom he had studied, was traced, and I had an Opportunity of converfing with him more than once. From him I learnt that the Chevalier had studied Persian with him about Six Weeks or Two Months before his Departure from Cairo; that he underflood the Language a little before he came to Egypt, and was able to converse in it, though not without tome Difficulty; that he brought Perfian Books with him from France, the Names of which were mentioned to me, and had likewife many Persian Letters, which upon questioning the Turk I found were Letters of Hindoltan, as their Alcabs, or complimentary Addresses were used in Hindostan only; that his Attention was given more to those than to the Books; and that he informed this Man he was going to India, and offered him advantageous Appointments if he would accompany him, which from an Apprehenfion of the Danger of a Sea Voyage was refuled by the Turk. About the 20th of June he went away from Cairo in a very fecret Manner, taking Leave of no one, as is always customary amongst the Europeans at Cairo; which was not only observed as a Singularity by Mr. Baldwin and the Venetians, but likewise by the French Merchants, who expressed their Astonishment at what they deemed a Want of Politeness. It is observable that he left Cairo the Day after the Arrival of a Mail from France. Mr. Baldwin would have remained ignorant of his Departure, as the Chevalier had not been visible for a Month before, had he not by mere Accident feen a confiderable Quantity of Baggage going out of Cairo, which upon Enquiry he found to be his, and he was then told by the Arabs, a Body of whom always effort Travellers across the Defart, that they were going to Suez. The Air of Myslery with efcort Travellers across the Delart, that they were going to Suez. which every Thing was conducted which had any Relation to this Gentlemen, led Mr. Baldwin to be more particular in his Enquiries, and the Custom Master, a Native of Egypt, and who could confequently have but little Idea of the Jealoufy fulfifling between the Two Nations, observed that there must be something very particular in this Gentleman, who, though there were Four English Vessels at Suez, could not be persuaded to embark on one of them for India, where he was going, but was relolved to go to Judda or Mocha on a Boat, in which he was fubjected both to Danger and Delay. I cannot help dwelling a little upon this Circumstance, because it feems to me to be a ftrong prefumptive Proof that the Chevalier is in some Shape employed by the Court of France. It was necessary to apply to the Cuslom Master, from his Office, for a Country Boat; and he was the Person who I conjecture advised him to embark on board an English Vessel; and unless the Chevalier's Dislike to this Mode had been expressed in a Manner very marked, it is not probable that a Native of Cairo would have drawn fuch a Conclusion from it. The Misfortune which befel Mr. Grand Maison, and the Seizure of his Papers after his Death on board the Terrible, is a Circumstance with which your Honourable Board must be acquainted, and of which the Chevalier could not be ignorant, as I myfelf heard the Story related at Cairo; after which it is not to be wondered at, if he would not trust himself in an English Vessel. The last Circumstance which I learned at Cairo, feems to be the most conclusive, which is, that he was furnished with a very large Credit by the Court of France; and this Circumstance I rely upon as authentic, because I was informed of it by a French Merchant at Cairo, and hkewife by a French Renegado at Suez, who learned it from the Chevalier's own Servant. It will not be milplaced here, to observe, that Monsieur Grand Maison had a similar Credit for Ten thousand Venetian Sequins, about 4,500l. When I enquired, whether it was cultomary for the Court of France to grant such Credits, the French Gentleman who informed me of it, seemed sensible that he had committed an Imprudence, and said that he imagined the Chevalier de Montagny was employed by the Court as a Man of Literature and Knowledge, to make a Journey into Egypt. Upon my Arrival at Suez, I found that the Chevalier had been there; and not being able to find a Boat that would fail with him in less than Three Weeks, had made a Journey to Mount Smai, from whence he returned a few Days after my Arrival at Suez, and had failed for Judthe about the 15th July. I thought it worth while to enquire, whether he had used any Mathematical Inflittments in his Excursion to Mount Sinai; and was affured by the Arabs who accompanied him, that he had carried none with him, having left his Baggage at Suez. Flad he been employed as a literary Traveller, he certainly must have ifed Instruments. His Servant told the Renegado, that he was a Traveller of Curiofity, and meant to go from Juddah to Mecca; this was not possible, as he carbarked avowedly as a Christian; and as it is notorious that the Mahometans allow no Christians to approach a City which they effeem to holy, and which they would conceive to be polluted by the Prefence of the de whom the yeall Infideis.

I have thought a necessary to be very minute in the Account of what I was able to discover relative to this Gentleman, because it appears to me that he must be employed by his Court in some Shape or another, though there are many Circumstances which render it probable that he is not the Perton catrusted with the Commission mentioned in the Fisch Part of my Letter. Though the Lunch Title of Chevalier is a Title which carries hall or indeed no Importance in it in any Part of Lorope, it is not so common in India; and if the Chevalier de Montagny should turn but to be the Agent, the Court of France will certaily, in some Shape, have departed from their original Rep. VI.

Plan, which was to give him as little external Confequence as possible. I was likewise told at Cairo, that he is himself a Major in the Army, and the Son of a Person who either is or has been a Farmer General, and that his Family, by a late Promotion, are become Noblesse. There is one Part of the Intelligence I received at Cairo which does not agree with the Information given me in Europe, as it was positively afferted that he had never before been in India; though the Truth of his Affertion may be doubted, as his talking Perfian, and his being in Possession of Indian Correspondence, are sufficient Reasons for suspecting that he had been there. One French Gentleman went so far as to say to me, that he was a Perlon, qui vouloit se donner du merite envers les Bureaus. If the Chevalier de Montagny had been entrusted with so important a Commission, it is very extraordinary that a Vessel should not have been ready to receive him at Suez; and none having even come into the Red Sea in the Course of the whole Year, affords a strong Presumption that he is not the Person, though it by no Means amounts to a Proof, as many possible Accidents may have occasioned such a Mistake; and it must be observed on the other Hand, that the French Consul, who is the National Agent there, affured himself that one would arrive. The French Merchants difagreeing with him in this Expectation, leaves room to conjecture that the Ship he expected was employed by Government, and not upon a trading Voyage, as he is himself restricted from Trade. On the whole, I doubt not your Honourable Board will deem the Appearances fufficiently strong to think it worth while to take some Steps to clear up whatever may appear doubtful about this Gentleman, and as it is possible, and indeed likely, that he should assume another Name and Character upon his Arrival at Mocha, I made particular Enquiries about his Person, and venture to add, however useless it may be, the Description I received of it: He is short in his Stature, sloops much, and looks down when he is speaking with any one; his Hair is brown, and his Complexion inclinable to be dark; his Legs are remarkably ill proportioned, being nearly as thick at Bottom as at Top; he is accompanied by a European Servant, who is a flout, tall Man.

He will in all Probability make an exceeding long Voyage down the Red Sea, and will not be able to reach Mocha till the latter End of August. He will find no French Ship at Mocha, and will be reduced to the Necessity of embarking on board the Alexander, an English Ship trading in the Red Sea, or of going over Land to Muscat, on the Persian Gulph, a Journey not to be performed without much Difficulty and great Delays. It is however possible that he may arrive Time enough to sail in a Portuguese Ship, which intended to sail from Mocha to Surat about the 2cth August. At any rate I think it is not possible that he should be landed in any Part of India sooner than the End of

I have, &c. (Signed) A. Elliott.

The Governor General delivers in the following Minute:

Mr. Francis having drawn up Objections to the Resolution of the President and Council of Bombay in the Form of a Protest, with his Reasons stated in distinct Articles, I have thought it proper to copy his Minute entire, and to insert my Reply opposite to each corresponding Passage, for the better Comprehension of the several Arguments contained in both.

I would propose that the Board should protest, as I mean to do myself, separately, against the Resolution of the Presidency of Bombay, communicated to us in their Letter of the 12th December last, for the sollowing Reasons:

1st. Because their resolving to join with a Party in the Maratta Government in Measures tending to engage the Company in a War, or their entering into Engagements to that Essect, as they declare they will do instantly on receiving an Application from the Persons who are supposed to form the above Party, without the Consent and Approbation of this Council first had and obtained, is against Law.

I cannot agree to the Motion made by Mr. Francis, for protesting against the Resolutions of the President and Council of Bombay, because I approve those Resolutions, for the Reasons which will occur in the following Answers to Mr. Francis's Objections:

of Parliament, which admits of Two Exceptions from the general Prohibition. That no Doubt may be left upon this Case, I will quote the Clause of the Act at large which Mr. Francis alludes to, in pronouncing the Resolution of the Presidency of Bombay to be "against Law." It is as follows:

"And be it further enacted by the Authority aforetaid, That the faid Governor General and Council, or the major Part of them, shall have, and they are hereby authorized to have Power of superintending and controlling the Government and Management of the Presidencies of Madras, Bombay, and Bencoolen respectively, so say and in so much as that it shall not be lawful for any President and Council of Madras, Bombay, or Bencoolen, for the Time being, to make any Orders for commencing Hostilities, or declaring or making War against any Indian Princes or Powers, or for negociating or concluding

ÉNDIX, N° 27, 28, and 29;

" cluding any Treaty of Peace, or other Treaty; " with any fuch Indian Princes or Powers, with-" out the Consent and Approbation of the faid "Governor General and Council first had and " obtained; except in fuch Cafes of imminent " Necessity as would render it dangerous to post-" pone fuch Hostilities or Treaties until the " Orders from the Governor General and Council " might arrive; and except in such Cases where " the faid Prefidents and Councils respectively " shall have received special Orders from the faid United Company."

The Refolution of the Prefidency of Bombay was formed on fuch a Case of imminent Necessity as would have rendered it dangerous to postpone the Execution of it till the Orders from this Council might arrive; a Treaty concluded near Two Years ago yet unaccomplished, and the Grounds of a hostile Alliance formed by one of the Parties to the Treaty, Ballajee Pundit, between the Maratta State and the Crown of France; fuch were the Dangers impending over the President and Council of Bombay. A Meafure was offered to their Choice, by which these Dangers might be removed and averted, and it was in its Nature fuch as required their instant Acceptance or Refusal, for it would have been impossible to have kept a Defign, planned by One of the Two ruling Parties in the Maratta Administration to disposses the other, in Suspence and Secrecy, till it could be communicated to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, and receive their Sanction for its Execution. No other Expedient could have occurred, which could promife fo effectually to reconcile the Differences fubfifting between the Governments of Poona and Bombay, nor which, if fuccessful, could with Certainty prevent the Effects of French Intrigues. It was therefore a Case of equal Danger and Necessity, and fuch as justified the Resolution taken upon it by that Prefidency, on its own feparate Authority.

2d. Because it is equally against the Company's Instructions in their General Letter of April 1777, by which the Expediency of any future Alliance with Ragoba is expressly left to our Determination.

2d. The Company's Instructions, to which this Passage refers, are contained in the 25th Paragraph of their General Letter of the 5th February 1777, which runs as follows:

"You cannot but observe, that we have hi-" therto supposed the Affairs of Ragoba are " rendered desperate, and that the Ministers at " Poona maintain their Ground, and constitute at present the Maratta Government. We are nevertheless of Opinion, that an Alliance ori-" ginally with Ragoba would have been more " for the Honour and Advantage of the Com-" pany, and more likely to be lasting, than that concluded at Poona; his Pretentions to the " Supreme Authority, either in his own Right, or as Guardian to the Infant Peshwa, appear to " us better founded than those of his Competi-" tors: And therefore, if the Conditions of the " Treaty of Poona have not been strictly fulfilled " on the Part of the Marattas, and if from any " Circumstances you shall deem it expedient, we " have no Objection to an Alliance with Ragoba, " on the Terms agreed upon between him and " the Governor and Council of Bombay." These Instructions were immediately addressed to the Governor General and Council, as they related to a Point depending on their general Controul; but must be supposed to include the same Exceptions as the prohibitory Clause above quoted in the Act of Parliament. The same Sentiments are expressed in the general Letter of the 16th April 1777, to Bombay, and almost in the same Terms, without any direct Restriction of them, to the exclusive Authority of the Governor General and Council, which it is not probable that the Company would have omitted, had it been intended to bind the President and Council of Bombay in the Execution of them, further than they were already bound by the Act of Parliament.

Disobedience of Orders necessarily implies e Existence of Orders. Those supposed in the Existence of Orders. the present Case must be Orders forbidding an Alliance with Ragoba; but the Declaration made of Orders given to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, to form an Alliance with Rogaba, cannot possibly admit the Construction of Orders given to the Presidency of Bombay, not to form an Alliance with him. The Resolution therefore of that Presidency, so far as it tends to the Formation of an Alliance with Ragoba, is not a Disobedience of Orders, nor, to use Mr. Francis's Words, is it " against the Company's Instructions?" On the contrary, I am of Opinion, that the general Tenor of their Instructions, the Urgency of the Occasion, and the legal Latitude allowed them, amount, by their combined Weight, to an Obligation on the President and Council of Bombay, to act in fuch a Case as they have done.

3d. Because it is a Violation of the 9th and 10th Articles of the Treaty concluded between the Governor General and Council and the Peshwah.

3d. The 10th and 12th Articles, which I suppose to be here meant, express, that the English shall withdraw their Forces from Ragonaut Row, and that they shall not assist him; that is, that they shall not take his Part against the Maratta Government, as the 12th Article expresses in Terms; but if that Government itself adopts the Party of Ragonaut Row, and solicits the Assistance of the English in his Behalf, it can never be inferred from their Compliance, that they are guilty of a Violation of the Treaty.

It will be remembered, that the only Persons who have figned the Treaty on the Part of the Marattas, are Succaram Pundit and Ballajee Pundit, not as Principals, but as the professed Representatives of the Peshwa, who is yet an Infant; of these, Succaram Pundit is acknowledged to be the Superior, being by Office the Dewan. To him only all our first Letters were written; and Colonel Upton's Credentials were addressed, as to the Person in whom the legal Administration was vefled. By the Constitution of all Indian Governments, the executive Power is always held by the Hands of a fingle Man. The Person of the Peshwa and his Seal, by which all Acts of Government are authenticated, are in the Poffellion of Succaram Pundit; whose Acts are theretore the regular Acts of Government, whilst the Members of it continue divided.

He is supposed to have invited the Presidency of Bombay, to unite with him in giving Assistance to Ragonaut Row; and we have received Affurances from that Prefidency, that they will not comply with the Invitation, until they shall receive the due Evidence of its Authenticity. Their Affishance of course will be granted equally to the Maratta State as to Ragonaut Row; and to the Peshwa, the actual Ruler of the Maratta State. It is not therefore a Violation of the Treaty concluded between the Governor General and Council, and the Peshwa.

between Two States is not to be justified by the Reasons assigned for it, viz. That a Number of Individuals in one of those States are inclined to engage in Measures subversive of all or any of the Stipulations of such public Treaty, and have privately applied for Assistance in carrying such Measures into Execution.

4th. This Objection appears to me to confift of a limple Denial of an Argument erroneously stated. The Proposition which it introduces, is incompatible in Terms. A Violation of a public Treaty cannot be justified by any Reasons assigned for it. The Reasons assigned to the President and Council of Bombay, are not that a Number of Individuals in the Maratta State are inclined to engage in Measures subversive of all or any of the Supulations of the Treaty, and have privately applied for Affifance, &c. but, That the ruling Member of the Maratta State has himself removed the Obligation of the Treaty which relates to the Person of Ragonaut Row, by defiring the English to grant that Affiftance to Ragonaut Row in behalf of the Maratta State, which they had before pledged their Faith to him to withhold while he was confidered as an Enemy to that State. The Reasons thus assigned appear to me to be a complete Justification and Acquittal of the President and Council of Bombay, in their supposed Acquiescence from the Charge of having violated the Treaty.

5th. Because even the Evidence of such a Disposition in Persons alluded to, appears to us very uncertain and desective, being no more than a private verbal Message from them to Mr. Mossyn's Substitute at Poona; meant perhaps for no other Purpose but to discover our Intentions with respect to Ragoba, and which they may disavow at Pleasure.

5th. If the Measures of the President and Council of Bombay, have been decidedly taken on fuch weak Grounds as are supposed in this Objection, their Conduct would have been truly reprehenfible. The contrary appears on the Face of their Proceedings. I have not either of the Copies before me, understanding that they are in Circulation; but I trust securely to my Memory, in affirming, that their Refolutions are guarded with all the Cautions which fuch a Case demanded, with perhaps one Exception: They had done nothing on the Overtures made to them, but had only agreed on what they would do, if these were confirmed and authenticated by an Instrument in Writing, figned by the Minister and his Colleagues, and fealed with their Seals, and delivered by a Person deputed by them expressly to the Governor. Such Evidence will be certain and complete; and on fuch Evidence only have the President and Council of Bombay resolved to enter into Engagements with the Minister.

6th. Because there are no Proofs before us to warrant our giving Credit to an Assertion so improbable as, that Succaram Baboo, whose Letters to the Governor have been constantly, and are to this Time, silled with Complaints against the Non-execution of the Treaty, and particularly of the Protection given to Ragoba, should voluntarily enter into private Engagements, to reslore Ragoba to the Regency, and solicit the Assistance of the Presidency of Bombay for that Purpose.

6th. We have been long fince informed of the mutual Jealousies of the Two Ministers. I his is an Effect which requires no Evidence of Facts to prove it; it being physically impossible for Two Men, sharing with equal Power, and without any constitutional Right, the chief Administration of a despotic Government, to maintain their Union entire against the Competitions excited by their particular Interests, or the more interested Suggestions of their respective Partizans and Dependants; added to these Causes, which are common to all Men placed in a Condition fimilar to theirs, their Prospects and Dispositions are such as must draw them in contrary Directions; and this too is a Confequence which simple Speculation may form independant of formal Evidence: One is difqualified from Action by the Infirmities of Old Age, and whatever Influence his Ambition might have had on his Mind when he first engaged in a Scene of Troubles, this must have wholly forfaken him with the Object, which most probably excited it in the Lofs of an only Son. To fuch a Man Ease and personal Safety are the only Comforts that Life can present to him, or that can animate him to any Degree of temporary Exertion: We are accordingly told, and on the Authority of Credit, that he resides entirely in the Fortress of Poorunder, which is his own Property, with the Infant Peshwa in his Possession, and (as I have heard) a confiderable Hoard of Treasure, which he refused to part with, even at the Time when his Colleague was involved in great Difficulties by the Want of Money to pay the Army, which had mutinied for their Arrears. The other is yet in the active Season of Life, supported partly by the personal Interest of his Associate joined to his own, partly by the Attachment Hurry Punt Furkia, the Commander in Chief of the Forces of the Maratta State, and partly by the immediate Direction of all the current Business of Government, which he has either assumed or his Partner has left to his fole Charge: To fuch a Man it was an obvious and necessary Policy to employ the present Means of precluding all future Competitions, and for fecuring the first Place in the State on the Event of the Death of Succaram Baboo: The Means employed for fuch an End, and especially the Provision made of a foreign Alliance to promote it, could not fail to heighten the Suspicions of his present Rival, and to breed Disaffection in others.

If Succaram Baboo can obtain the affured Conditions of personal Safety, and the unmolested Possession of his own Property, from Ragoba, I see no Cause to regard his Acceptance of them as improbable, although he should have joined in more adverse Acts against Ragoba, than that instanced by Mr. Francis of his Complaint of the Protection granted by the English to Ragoba, whilst his own Interest and Safety appeared to be endangered by it.

I am not certain whether I may not misconceive the Tendency of this and the preceding Objection, but they seem to me to imply that the late Overtures made to the Presidency of Bombay by Succaram Baboo and his Party, through Mr. Lewis, may have been an Artisice concerted between them and Nanna Furneess himself, not only to discover our Intentions with respect to Ragoba, but to gain the Possession of his Person and to destroy him. This would be a very dangerous Policy both to the Ministers themselves, if they were sincerely united in it, as it would draw on them a very unnecessary Scene of Troubles, which from past Experience of the Success which has generally attended the English Arms, they have so great a Cause to solicit, and particularly to Nanna Furneess, as it would place him precisely and truly in the Situation which it was intended

A P P E N D I X, N° 27, 28, and 29.

7th. Because, admitting that a Party has been ormed to support the Pretensions of Ragoba, such arty is either strong enough to accomplish their surpose without our Assistance, consequently our nterference is unnecessary; or if their own trength be in itself unequal to the Enterprize, they will then want an immediate and continued Support which the Presidency of Bombay is in no Conlition to give them. In their Letter of the 7th December they tell us, that their European Battaions are greatly deficient of their proper Complement, which they have no Means or Prospect of completing: And that activithstanding they give every Encouragement, it is very difficult to raife good Sepoys on that Coast. That they are unible to co-operate with the other Prefidencies, in rate of an Attack upon either of them; that linited as their Power is, and unprovided as they ire with Refources, they cannot exert themselves is the Occasion requires, they can do no more han represent their Situation and Circumstances

It follows then that the Refolution of the Bombay Presidency, to carry Ragoba to Poona, may involve as in a War, in which the Safety of our Possessions in the Maratta Coast may be immediately halarded, and which can no Way be supported percaster but by Supplies of Men and Money from Bengal.

to feign, and leave him at the absolute Mercy of his Accomplices, if they chose to convert a pretended Plot against him into a real one. In effect I should consider the Existence of such a Design as in the Nature of Things impossible.

7th. I agree with Mr. Francis, that the Presidency of Bombay is unable to support a continued War, but by Supplies of Men and Money from Bengal. This is an Argument to supply them with Men and Money, but it is not in itself an Objection to their Resolution; if their own Means are equal to its immediate Execution, and to its Support until they can be affished from Bengal.

This Government can affift them with both Men and Money, and I trust without feeling the Want of either for the Support of its own Concerns. By the last Returns from Bombay, the gross Numbers of their different Military Corps stood as follows:

Artillery, Rank and File — 261
European Infantry, D° — 783
Sepoys D° — 5621
Irregulars — 1231

The Force of this Presidency was much less at the Battle of Plassey. It was much less, when it was at the same Time occupied in the Desence of these Provinces against the Shahzade, and in the Expedition under Colonel Forde against Masulipatam; and it was much less when unsupported by any Country Power, it wrested the Provinces of Bengal and Bahar from the Hands of Cossein Ally Cawn.

I have no Doubt of their being in a State to enter upon the Measure which they have proposed. The Distance of Bombay from Poona is but a March of Four Days. I am informed that Madajee Sindea and Tuccojee Holkar are both encamped in the Neighbourhood of Poona, with about 20,000 Horse. They are, if the Asfociation has taken Place, in the Interest of Ragoba. Hurry Punt Furkia was, I am informed, on the Banks of the River Kistna, at a Place called Kistna Teer, with the main Army of the Maratta State, engaged in a War with Hyder Ally: He is represented to be attached to Nana Furneese, but can afford him little Service on fuch an Occasion and at fuch a Distance. Such is the present State of the Parties on which the Event of an Undertaking, fuch as has been proposed by the Presidency of Bombay, is likely to depend, at least such I have gathered it to be from Authorities unconnected with those of Bombay. I shall not presume to draw any Conclufions from such uncertain and variable Materials; but I am fatisfied that all Appearances, fuch as they are, are favourable, and convinced that it depends on the Prudence of the Government of Bombay to prevent the Company's Affairs from suffering any Prejudice by the proposed Engagements; if they should even fail to derive any instant Benefit from it.

8th. Because it is at all Times the Duty of his Council to give their utmost Attention to he Preservation of Peace in India, but at this uncture more particularly than at any other,

8th. The Argument which is here introduced as an Objection to the proposed Measure, would, in my Judgment, be better applied to the Defence of it. If the Apprehension of a War with while a confiderable Part of the national Force is employed in America, and while the Apprehenfion of a War with France and Spain hangs over the Councils of the Nation.

9th. Because the Requisition made by the Presidency of Bombay to that of Fort Saint George, of a Body of Troops for any Purpose but that of immediate Self-defence without our Consent and Approbation, appears to us highly irregular, and in its Consequences dangerous, as it tends to deseat the Intention of the Legislature in the Institution of this Council; and to make it impossible for us to provide for the Sasety of the British Empire in India by any general Plan of Measures.

It is not possible that the Company's Forces should act under a steady and united Direction for the general Safety and Defence of our Possifions, or move together in any one Plan of Action, as long as the respective Disposition of the Forces of each of the other Presidencies is liable to be altered without our Knowledge or Consent.

roth. Because the Resolutions taken by the Presidency of Bombay not only stand in direct Contradiction to the Authorities and Engagements hereinbefore recited, but more especially to the Instructions of this Council, unanimously agreed, on the 18th August last, which they appear to have totally disregarded, and which it is our Duty to support and insist on. I desire the Second Paragraph in that Letter may be read.

The first Point has undoubtedly afforded just Cause of Ossence and Jealousy to the Maratta Government. We wish that Ragoba had been induced to accept the Terms of Conciliation lately offered

France and Spain hangs over the Councils of the Nation, we relieve them from a confiderable Share of their Apprehension, by establishing a firm Interest in the most powerful State of India; and by checking in its first Growth the Seeds which the French have sown of an Alliance with it, and which, if suffered to grow to Maturity, may prove fatal to the British Possessions in In-At the same Time it is the most unexceptionable Way by which the French Designs could possibly be obviated; as they have no ostensible or direct Concern in these Disputes, but will be eventually crushed by the Overthrow of their Friends; whereas by waiting till they have acquired an Establishment in the Maratta Dominions, we shall be reduced to act openly against them, which we cannot do without an immediate additional Hazard, nor without involving the Two Nations in a War.

9th. A like Application was made by the Prefidency of Bombay to that of Fort Saint George in the Year 1775, with which, in a Letter written to the latter on the 7th September, we forbad their Compliance.

The Sentiments expressed by the Court of Directors in the 45th Paragraph of their Commands of the 24th December 1776 on that Interference, is so pointedly opposite to the Objection now stated by Mr. Francis, that I shall insert an Extract of that Paragraph as a complete Reply to it.

"We are forry to observe, that you appear to entertain an Opinion of the controlling Powers vested in the Governor General and Council of Bengal over our other Presidencies, beyond what in our Opinion is authorized by the late Act of the Legislature.

"This Observation arises from your Interference with our Governor and Council of Fort Saint George, to prohibit them sending Troops out of their own Districts for Aid to our Settlement of Bombay, although the said Act expressly forbids any of the other Presidencies to engage in political Negociations with the Natives, or foreign Nations, without the Participation and Concurrence of the Supreme Council;
yet it certainly leaves each distinct Government Power to take from Time to Time such Steps as the immediate Exigency of their Assairs may require for Self-defence or Protection, or for the necessary Aid or Assistance to be given to other Settlements; and on this Principle we must disapprove your Interference in this Case."

roth. While I was preparing the Minute recorded on the 26th January, and written before the Receipt of the late Advices from Bombay, I caused the last of these Expedients to be stated in a Case and referred to a learned Pundit for his Opinion upon it. I intended it at that Time for my own Information only; and it was on the Strength of this Opinion, that I declared the Expedient to be impracticable in the Minute abovementioned; I shall now enter the Question stated to the Pundit, his Answer, and Note of Mr. Elliot's, which accompanied it, and produce the Originals of each at the Board for further Satisfaction.

"We can see no Reason to doubt, that the Prefence of Ragoba at Bombay will continue s to be an infuperable Bar to the Completion of the Treaty concluded with the Maratta Government; nor can any fincere Cordiality and good Understanding be established with them as long • as he shall appear to derive Encouragement and 4 Support from the English: On the contrary, we think that although it may not furnish suf-66 ficient Grounds for the actual Renewal of « Hoftilities, it will fo far estrange the Minds of the Ministers at least, as to compel them to 66 form Connections to the Difadvantage of the " British Government; fo that notwithstanding sthe Forms of a Reconciliation should exist, 66 neither Party will benefit by the Effects of it. We therefore think it incumbent upon us to recommend to your most mature Consideration st the dangerous Effects of your perfifting still to continue that Protection to Ragoba, and to defire 46 you will do all that lies in your Power to remove the Obstacles which oppose his Departure from Bombay; for this Purpose we think that he should be required to make choice either of a Journey by Land, if Tuccojce Holcar and Madhajee Sindia will give proper Security to w conduct him in Safety, which we have been saffured, they would do; or of a Voyage by Sea, which might be accomplished without affecting his religious Purity, if he were acso commodated with a Vessel fitted out and man-· coned immediately under his Orders, and by « Perlons of his own Sect, to be accompanied by " One of the Company's Marine Vessels for his 4 Protestion. If both these Expedients should 66 be rejected by Ragoba, we must naturally conclude, that it is not his Intention to part with " his present Asylum, but that the Objections which he has started to the Terms proposed to 46 him, are mere Pretexts; and on this Ground, " we repeat our Injunctions, that he be positively required to quit the Company's Dependencies, 44 as we shall hold you responsible for all the Con-46 fequences of continuing the Company's Pro-" tection to him, after such a Refusal on his « Part."

Question. A Brahmin of high Cast is desirous of villing Bengal from Surat. It is proposed, that he shall be attended by Persons of his own Sect, and that the Veffel on which he way onbark for this Voyage shall be navigated solely by Hindoos. Will this Voyage in any Shape affect his religious Purity, or hinder him from performing the necessary and indispensable Rites and Forms of Devotion?

Note from Mr. Elliot.

"I fend you the Solution to your Question by the Court Pundit, the only one I could " immediately find. He is a Man much re-" spected for Knowledge. He added in Con-" verfation, that a fingle European or other In-" fidel, would preclude the Brahmin from mak-" ing the Voyage.

" A. Elliot."

Translate of the Pundit's Answer.

" If all the Men in the Ship are Hindoos, and " all Jowlbugharge", or Men from whose Hands it is not impure to receive Water to drink, and Two or Three Brahmins should accompany " him, and he eats, drinks, washes, and prays, " &c. according to the Shafter, then he will not " fuffer in his Cast, and in the Case stated he may " come upon a Ship.

(Signed) " Serree Ram Kishun Suema, " the Court Pundit."

I am affured, that though it is customary for Hindoos to navigate Vessels on the West Coast of India, yet they are always joined with Mahometan Lafcars, who are conflantly employed in the most difficult Manœuvres of the Ship, and in the working of their Guns; and the Society of fuch Men being themselves polluted, is, as is well known, equally forbidden to the more ferupulous Hindoos with that of the Professors of a different Religion: This Expedient was therefore impracticable. What Objections either Ragoba's Distrust of Madhajee Sindia and Tuccojee Holcar, or their Refulal to give the requifite Securities, might have created to the other Expedient, we cannot know, because Time was not given for the Trial of either; but had either been practicable, it ought not to have prevented the President and Council of Bombay from accepting a Proposition which promised so much more effectual a Conciliation of the Differences subsisting between them and the Ministers; and at the fame Time accorded to perfectly with the declared Wishes of the Court of Directors. It was not forbidden by our Orders, for these professed only to prescribe the only Means which had occurred to us for the first of these Ends, nor had any Reference to a Case, which we neither foresaw nor imagined.

If the Intentions of that Presidency in this Instance are justified by the Act of Parliament, as I have proved; if they were fuch as the Company's Orders not only justified but required, [•] Jowlbugharge is a Term which includes nearly all the Casts of Hindoos, the very lowest only being excepted. REP. VI. which which I have also proved; no Influences drawn by forced Implications from the Orders of this Government, can deprive them of their Rectitude, which they derive from fuch fuperior Warrants. In Truth, whatever Caule the Prefident and Council, of Bombay have formerly given to this Government to charge them with a Want of due Attention to its Authority, nothing could be more unjust than to impute that Fault to them on this Occasion, if it be admitted, as it must, that the Resolution which they proposed to take was such as could not possibly wait the Sanction of this Government; as foon as it came in Contemplation before them, and before they had either formed the Plan of their Operations, or proposed the Advantages to be obtained by them, they inflastly apprized us of it, and thereby furnished an Aigument against themselves, to charge them with the Neglect of those essential Considerations, in their Precipitancy to communicate to us the first Suggestions of a Defign of fuch Importance to the political Interests of the Company.

If the Board should agree in the preceding Resolutions, I am of Opinion that a Copy of them should be sent to the President and Council of Bombay, with an additional Declaration, That we deem them solely responsible to the Company and the Nation for all the Consequences of the Measures they have taken, or may take on this Occasion, without our Consent and Approbation; and that whereas they have not yet demanded of us any specific Supply, either of Men or Money, to support the Execution of the above Measures, we are determined, that whatever Assistance we may be compelled to give them, by the Necessity of desending the Company's Possessions on that Coast, shall be strictly confined to the Objects of Desence; and that we will never encourage or support any Plan of Operations calculated to carry the Company's Arms beyond that Line without our Consent and Approbation sirst had and obtained, or without the express and specific Orders of the Company to that Effect; that when we receive the further Advices they promise to give us, of what is likely to be the Issue of this Business, we shall communicate to them our Opinion and Resolution thereupon.

Mr. Barwell—As a Division has unhappily arisen on the present Question, on the Measures adopted by the Government of Bombay, and the Responsibility of the Approbation expressed in the Votes of this Day, pointedly fixed on the approving Members; that it may not be supposed I admit in the least Degree the Objections that now appear upon the Proceedings, I adopt entirely the Governor General's Reasonings upon the Subject of them, and subscribe my Name as sully to his Minute, as if it had been written with my Assent and Participation.

Mr. Francis-Much might be faid in Defence of those Opinions, which the Governor General has been pleased to canvals so minutely; but as the Argument would turn chiefly on the Construction of Words, on nice Distinctions in forming such Constructions, and probable Inferences deduced from thence, I shall not enter into it: I do not expect that such an Argument would be attended to at Home, nor do I think it affects the Principle on which a Question of the Magnitude of that which is now before us ought to be determined. I shall leave it to a higher Tribunal to determine, whether the Case of imminent Necessity, described by the Legislature, relates folely to Measures of Self defence, or includes all others, according to the Opinion, and at the Diferetion of the subordinate Presidencies? and whether, when the Company say "That, if from any Circumstance our Governor General and Council shall deem it expedient, they have no Objection to an Alliance with Ragoba," they mean to refer that Question solely to us, or to subject it to a Sort of concurring Jurisdiction in the Government of Bombay? If they meant the last, it might have happened, that the Question would have received Two opposite Decisions; and that the inferior Jurisdiction might, by Acts done upon their own Principles, decide it against our Judgment and Resolutions. I shall also leave another Question untouched, viz. Whether the Case of Ragoba's Cast is an Object of such Importance to this Government, that we are to hazard a general War in India for the take of preserving of it? I have but One more Observation to make upon the Governor's Minute, in Reply to my Objection to the Requisition made by the Presidency of Bombay for Military Assistance from that of Madras. He quotes a Letter from the Company, from which he concludes, that in the Opinion of the Court of Directors we are not entitled to forbid fuch Requisitions: I do not admit, that in any C se whatever, especially a Case of such great Importance as the present, Arguments are ever answered by Authorities; but I contend, that the Sense of the Court of Directors, even in the Paragraph fo recited, does not fland in Opposition to the Opinion stated in my former Minute: It supposes, that the subordinate Presidencies may lawfully apply for Assistance to each other, "as the immediate Exigency of their Affairs may require, for Self-defence or Protection."

P P E N D I X, N° 27, 28, and 29. N° 30.

This Case is included in that of the imminent Necessity stated by the Legislature; and I have never ffirmed, that Self-defence and Protection did not authorize the subordinate Presidencies to take Measures tending to those Purposes only, without our previous Consent and Approbation.

Mr. Barwell-I beg the Occasion on which the Bombay Presidency made their Application to Maras, the Disapprobation of this Government, the Materials on which the above Sentiments on the ourt of Directors are expressed, may follow in this Place.

The Governor General-I believe it is expressed in the following Letter, written by this Pre-Idency to Fort St. George, dated 7th September 1775.

Copy of a Letter to Fort St. George, dated the 7th September 1775.

Understanding from a Letter which we have received from the Prefident and Council of Bombay, lated 13th July, that they have applied to you for a Reinforcement of 300 Europeans, and Two exemplete Battalions of Schoys, to join their Army now in Quarters with Ragoba, we think it snect flary to defire, that you will not comply with this Application, as we have judged it expedient to order that Presidency to withdraw their Army from the Service of Ragoba to their own Garrisons, and confine their Views and Operations to the Safety of the Company's Possessions, including Salsette; atrufting that a fecure and honourable Peace will be effected with the Ministernal Party by Colonel Upton, on his Arrival at Poona.

Mr. Francis-I beg Leave to move, that Notice may be taken, in the present General Letter, of the Supply of 6,000 Muskets and 4,000 Hand Grenades, furnished by the Presidency of Bombay to Hyder Ally, with our Request to them, that they will take it into their Consideration, and furnish us cand the Prefidency of Bombay with their Sentiments and Instructions thereupon.

Mr. Wheler assents.

Mr. Barwell-I do not know the Object of this Question: It appears to be suggested without Confideration, that this Information must already have been given to the Company by that Presidency; and to swell it into a Degree of Importance which the Subject does not merit, the Papers in course go Home with the general Intelligence from Bombay. I therefore am against the Motion.

Governor General—I object to the Motion. It may be mentioned in the General Letter, as a Proposition made, but not agreed to. This will bring it equally before the Notice of the Court of Directors, if an Extract be added from the Proceedings of the Prefident and Council of Bombay, of o much as relates to it.

Mr. Francis-I affent to the Mode proposed by the Governor General.

Refolved, That the Motion be notified to the Court of Directors, as a Proposition having been nade, but not agreed to.

Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council in Bengal to the Court of Directors; dated 4th February 1778.

Par. 7. I N our Letter by the Europa, dated 21st November, we mentioned the Reserve of the Secret President and Council of Bombay, in their Communications to us: After waiting till the 26th ultimo, in Expectation of further Advices on the important Subjects which had railed our Anxiety, we received a Letter from them, dated the 7th December, enclosing a Copy of the Proposals brought by Mr. Mostyn from the Ministers, for an Accommodation with Ragoba, which he declined to accept, chiefly because he did not think they contained an adequate Provision for his personal Safety.

8. On the 29th January we received another Letter from Bombay, dated 12th December, adwising us of Overtures which had been secretly made by an Agent, in the Names of Succaram Baboo, Moraba Furnese, Bucherba Proonder, and Tuccojee Holcar, to Mr. Lewis, Mr. Mostyn's Substitute at Poona, for the Affistance of the English in replacing Ragonaut Row in the Administration of the Affairs of the Maratta Government. The President and Council considering these Overtures as made by the Maratta State, have agreed, that if the above Persons should join in a formal Application to them, for the Company's Assistance in favour of Ragonaut Row, they would immediately grant it, and directed Mr. Lewis to communicate their Intentions to the Party with all possible Caution and Secrecy.

- 9. We immediately affembled for the Confideration of Proceedings of so much Importance; and after the most attentive Deliberation, we came to the following Resolutions; but as they were not taken without much Debate, and Variety of Opinions, we think it necessary to recommend to your Perulal the Confultations noted in the Margin, which are transmitted a Number in the Book Packet.
- 10. In the Confultation 2d February, you will find a Motion from one of our Members, to notify to you a Supply of 6,000 Muskets and 4,000 Hand Grenades, which have been furnished by the Prefident and Council of Bombay to Hyder Ally, &c. but as we did not agree to mention it in the Terms of the Motion, we beg Leave to quote the Letter from Bombay, wherein this Transaction is imparted to us; viz. "We enclose for your Notice, Copy of a Letter from the Nabob " Hyder Ally to our Resident at Onore: We have to observe, that we supplied him with the "Musquets therein mentioned by Permission from the Honourable Company, for the Purchase of " Sandal Wood and Pepper in his Dominions."

11. We have just received a Letter from the Prefident and Council at Fort Saint George, dated 16th ultimo, which contains a State of the Force and Resources of that Presidency, with many other Informations of Consequence; we have therefore caused a Copy of it to be added to our last Consultation for your Notice.

12. In this Letter the Prefident and Council have given us, as nearly as they could judge of them, an Account of the probable Views, Interests, and Connections of the different Country Powers adjacent to your Possessions on the Coast, with such Informations as they had received respecting them. It appears that the Attention of Hyder Ally is wholly occupied in the Defence of his own Dominions against his natural Enemies the Marattas, but that he has a Vackeel at Pondicherry, who receives Encouragement from the Governor, Monsieur Bellecombe, and that this Gentleman maintains a Correspondence with Hyder, by which he endeavours to secure him to the Interests of the French.

13. The Maratta Army opposed to Hyder's was greatly superior to his; but he surprized them in the Night of the 5th ultimo near the Banks of the Jungabuddra, drove them across that River, and obtained a confiderable Advantage over them.

14. We are further informed from Madras, of an Application which they had received from the President and Council at Bombay to hold in Readiness 200 Europeans, a Battalion of Sepoys, and 50 Artillery, to march to Anjengo if their fublequent Engagements should make it necessary to re-Although the President and Council at Fort Saint George did not think proper to! comply with this Request, we have informed them of our Resolution to afford the Countenance and Support of this Government to the Undertaking at Bombay in favour of Ragoba, provided it be contined to the Objects which have been defined; and we have earnestly recommended it to them to grant a Reinforcement of Troops if the Application should be renewed.

Copy of a Letter from the Governor General and Council in Bengal, to the Court of Directors, dated the 16th February 1778.

et Depart-

1. IN Addition to our Advices from this Department, dated the 4th inflant, by the Kingston, we have only to transmit Duplicates of the Letters from Bombay, therein referred to, with our Proceedings on the Subject, and Copies of subsequent Advices, which we have received from that Presidency, and from Mr. Mostyn since his Return to Poona. These do not contain any Account of the further Progress of the Negociations begun with Mr. Lewis, and we are very defective in many essential Points of Information, but we can collect from them that the Government of Poona was in great Confusion. Mr. Lewis refers to a Letter which he wrote to the President at Bombay, on the 12th December, for the Purport of a Conversation which had passed between Moraba Furnese and him, previous to the Receipt of the Orders of the 12th December; this we conclude is of some Importance, as it must either have confirmed or disapproved the Authority of the first Overtures made for the Company's Affistance; but by some Accident we are not furnished with a Copy of it. lay had been fixed by Moraba for another Interview, but in the mean Time he fuddenly retired om Poona, to avoid a Scheme which had been laid by Nana for feizing him, and it appears that he trurned as fuddenly: We are unacquainted with the Cause, though Mr. Lewis mentions a Conclure, that it was at the Invitation of Siccaram Baboo, who had it in View to engage Nana if offible in the Association for introducing Ragoba.

2. On the 14th December, News was received at Poona of the Death of Ram Rajah, the Sorreign of the Maratta State, which was likely to encrease the Confusion among the Ministers, by it different Interests which would be formed in the Nomination of a Successor. And Nana was inther disconcerted, by a Report which arrived soon after of the Deseat of the Maratta Army under lurry Punt, in an Engagement with Hyder Ally: He immediately went to Poona in consequence of , where he had a long Conference with Siccaram Baboo.

3. This is the Substance of the Intelligence we have been able to collect from Mr. Mostyn's Letts; and he accounts for the Imperfection of it, by informing us that Guards had been placed by lana's Orders upon the English Residency, which notwithstanding his Remonstrance to the Durbar, id not at the Date of his Letter been withdrawn.

Bombay Secret Consultations, the 6th January 1778.

ARLY this Morning Mr. Mostyn set off for Poona.

PRESENT,

The Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor, The W. John Carnae, Esquire, Daniel Draper, Nath. Stackhouse, Will^m Ashburner, Andrew Ramsay.

Read, and approved, our last Consultation of the 2d Instant.

The President lays before us Two Letters from Mr. Lewis, One from Mr. Mostyn, and One from Moraba Furncese, all entered hereafter.

It is resolved, That nothing surther can be done in the Business, unless Succaram Bappoo joins in making Application to us for the Assistance of the Company to reinstate Ragoba; as we cannot think of acting in any Manner contrary to the late Treaty, unless by express Desire of the principal Person with whom it was concluded.

Adjourned.

W[™] Hornby, W[™] Ashburner, D. Draper,

N. Stackhouse,

The Gentleman has at last begun to open himself, by a Message late this Evening, and I will run all Risques of having a Meeting with him To-morrow or next Day: He wants to know how many Troops we will supply, and if we will supply warlike Stores.

Dated 6th January 1778.

I am this Moment come from Moraba. He began the Discourse by telling me, that he was ready to join us for the Purpose your Honour knew of: But; says he, if we once entar into it, let us go through heartily, and let there be no Excuse on the Part of the Governor and Council afterREP. VI. wards, wards, that they have received Orders to make Peace, as they did before. I told him, that I thought the most likely Method to avoid such Orders, would be for the Four Gentlemen formerly, mentioned, to fend such a Letter as was promifed me. To this however he objected, saying that he would not make use of any other Person's Name than his own; and that he could himself; bring Twenty thousand Men into the Field, if your Honour and the Board thought proper to go upon the Business in his Name. He further added, that if the Council would declare their Reso. lution to all conformable to what he now faid, he would open himfelf entirely to me, and tell me how many more Troops he could bring, and on whom he could depend for Affiftance: But, fays he, it will be improper to explain myself further, until I know their Answer; for the Business must be managed in my Name only. He also said, that if the English and he once undertook the Affair in a proper Manner, he would answer to settle the Government in Three Months Time. Before I left this Gentleman, he made me promise, that I would write your Honour the above before I went to fleep, and to request that an Answer might be sent in Five Days from this Date, if possible.

Dated the 9th January 1778.

Honourable Sir,

I addressed you the 7th at Night from Compolee, enclosing Two Letters I met on the Road from Mr. Lewis; I make no Doubt of their having reached you. As there was nothing in their Contents to prevent my proceeding, I fet out the next Morning, and arrived here Yesterday about 10 o'Clock. Nothing occurred on the Road, nor did the Government take the least Notice of me, not even by a complimentary Meffage, though they were publicly advised of my coming into Town that Morning by Mr. Lewis. Immediately on my Arrival I gave the necessary Notice both to Nanah, Mado Row, and Byrow Punt, and requested of the former that I might be favoured with an Audience as foon as possible, not only to acquaint them with the Issue of the Business they had entrusted me with, but also the Business I was charged with from your Honour, &c. He replied, that that Day was their Sancrant, and that To-day was an unlucky one; he therefore could not fee me, but To-morrow would confider of it. I know no Remedy but Patience, but will use every Endeavour to procure one as foon as I can; until when I shall defer addressing the Board, and also forwarding the public. Packet for the Governor General and Council; not only that I may inform them with the Determination of the Durbar, but it may be altogether unnecessary from the Letter you will receive from Mr. Lewis, and a Letter I now forward you from Moraba. This Letter I procured early this Morning, and will I hope convince you of his Sincerity, and also confirm what Mr. Lewis has wrote you. I wish to God you may be able to undertake the Business; such another Opportunity may never again offer. Sacram I firmly believe is concerned, and will assist privately all he can, but I am afraid will not yet be brought to give it under his Hand. Moraba's Defire, that the Bufiness may be done in his Name, is I judge to prevent Buchaba laying a prior Claim to the Duanship, who is appointed by the Rajah, has never yet himself been the acting Man, and indeed is unequal to the Charge in these troublesome Times.

Yesterday being a Holiday, I could get little or no Intelligence; and indeed the strict Watch that in kept over every one belonging to us will make it very techous, as it can only be done by Night.

You may depend on my being as expeditious as possible.

Permit me to entreat an early Answer to Moraba's Letter, and that it will be such as not to disappoint all his Hopes of concluding Matters through us.

Poona, 11th January 1778. I remain, with real Esteem, Honourable Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Tho' Mostyn.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I have the Pleasure of informing you that I arrived here the 10th, in the Morning, without meeting any Obstruction, though not the least Compliment was paid me on the Part of the Durbar, notwithstanding they had been publicly advised by Mr. Lewis of my Intentions to enter the Town that Morning; immediately on my Arrival I gave the proper Notice to the Durbar, and requested an Audience as soon as possible. Nannah sent me Word that that Day being a Hohday, and the next an unlucky Day, he could not consider of it before the 12th. After repeated Messiges I at last obtained an Audience on the 13th, at which were present Nannah Furneze, Mada Row, Jada Row, Byroo Punt, and Hessorow, the Son of Mada Row, when I delivered the Letter from the Honourable the President to the Peshwa, sent some Time since to Mr. Lewis, but which Nannah had declined receiving from that Gentleman, unless conveyed to him through the Hands of Mada Row, Jada Row, and Byroo Punt. I at the same Time agreeable to your Instructions remonstrated in the strongest Terms on the Diffespect shewn to the Company by the Restrictions laid upon their Representative, and demanded a positive and speedy Answer to every Point of the Letter. To which Nannah replied, That the Durbar

A P P. E N D I X, Nº 32.

vould give foch an Answer as was usual with them; when I observed to him that none but a plain and direct Answer would be received! I then told the Durbar that no Answer had been sent to a ormer Letter from the Honourable the Prefident; on which they observed, it required no Answer, hat Letter being only a Reply to some Letters the Peshwa had written him; but on my reminding hem that it contained a Demand for a Dustuck for the Two Gentlemen who came to us from the French, they pretended to recollect it; and faid they would likewife give their Answer thereto in Writng. I then acquainted them with the Islue of my Commission to Ragoba, to which I received no

Reply.

After I had taken my Leave of the Durbar, knowing Byroo Punt has great Influence with Naniah, I repeated to him the abfolute Necessity of a speedy Answer to the above Letter, which he pronifed should be sent me in Two Days; however from the Knowledge I have of the Dilatoriness of this Government, not chusing to place entire Confidence in this Promite, I wrote under the 14th o Mhado Row, Jada Row that I hoped he would procure it me as foon as possible; and fent a Message of the same Kind to By oo Punt. They replied that they had spoken to Nannah on the Buiness after I had left him, who faid it was necessary he should first contult with Sacram Bappoo; in consequence of which the enclosed Correspondence ensued; from which your Honour, &c. will plainly perceive Nannah is using every Artifice to evade giving an Answer; I shall therefore write to the Peshwa, in Hopes of procuring some Reply; and in the mean Time beg Leave to observe that the Chowkeys are still continued. I should have done myself the Honour of addressing you before, but was induced from Promises made me by the Durbar to wait a few Days in Hopes of being able to transmit you their Answer to the Honourable the President's Letter.

On the Evening of my Arrival, I endeavoured to bring Moraba to an Explanation, in confequence of which he fent me a Letter for the Honourable the President, which was forwarded the 11th; and notwithstanding I have since frequently urged him, he declines being more explicit until

The following, according to the best Information I have been able to procure, is the State of the different Armies: Moodajce Bouncello is still at Lackanwaddy Gaut, about 30 Coss to the Eastward of Auringabad; Flolkar continues at his own Village of Banbjam, and by his refusing to see Nannah, or any one he may send, appears to be determined on not coming to any Terms with him; Madjee Scindy is endeavouring to raife Contributions on Janojee Patancar's Jaghire, near Rimutpore, has had a Skirmish with him, in which Janojee was killed; this Action it is faid has caused great Discontent amongst all the Maratta Officers in Scindy's Camp.

Hurry Punt has again been defeated by Hyder, and has retreated to Panchmal, on the Northern Bank of the Kistna, in Hopes of receiving some Assistance from Downsa, who is encamped at Narrain Pent, about Twelve Cots from Hurry Punt. Hyder's Army has crossed to the Northward of the Tongebodias in Pursuit of him. The Durbar are using every Endeavour to persuade the Nizam (who, on account of a Wedding in his Family, has not yet left Hyderabad, as was reported) to join them against Hyder, but which he refused doing till they comply with the Promises made him when he joined them against Ragoba, which are, their delivering him the Forts of Ashur and Amadanagur. I have Reason to believe this Intelligence can be depended on, having received it from feveral Hands.

On my entering the Town, observing several Parties of Horse encamped about it, I sent People to make Linquiry of the Numbers; from whole Reports I find there are from 8 to 10,000, belonging to different Officers.

Monsteur de Corcelle, the French Gentleman who took our Protection, having received Affurances from People in whom he could confide, that he had nothing to fear, on the 14th at Night delivered me a Letter, Translate of which is inclosed, and immediately left the Factory.

Poona, 16th January 1778. I am, with Respect, Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen, Your most obedient Servant, Thomas Mostyn.

Bombay Secret Consultations, the 19th January 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor, The W. John Carnac, Esquire, Daniel Draper, Willm Ashburner, Nath. Stackhouse, Andrew Ramfay.

READ, and approved, our last Consultation of the 14th Instant.

The President informs us, that he has received a Message from Ragoba, acquainting him that Advice has been fent him from Poona, that an Agreement has actually been concluded in Writing for giving Row Dund or Choul to the French, but that the Sunnuds have not yet been issued.

It being of the utmost Importance to ascertain the Truth of this Intelligence, Mr. Mostyn must be directed to spare neither Pains nor Expence for that Purpose; and to send immediate Advice of the Refult of his Enquiries to us, and the Governor General and Council.

From the uniform Conduct of the Poona Government for a long Time past, and from the repeated Intelligence we have received, it is past a Doubt that some Agreement has been concluded between them and the French, of which indeed the Governor General and Council appear to be convinced, by their Letter of the 20th October. —We think it very probable that the Intelligence fent by Ragoba may be true; and more particularly from the Circumstance of a French Gentleman having been landed at Choul the 30th ultimo, from a Vessel directly from Pondicherry, who may have had some Commission from Mr. Belcombe the Governor, which may have occasioned the Cession of that Place. The Consequences are of such a ruinous Nature to the Interest of the Company, that it is resolved to send instant Advice of the Intelligence we have received to the Governor General and Council; and to ask them expressly, and demand an explicit Answer, whether in case a Body of Fiench should arrive and take Possession of Choul, or we should receive certain Advice of such a Measure being intended, we are to suffer them to proceed without Interruption, or to use our Efforts to prevent fuch a Settlement from taking place?

It is our fixed and deliberate Opinion, which we think it necessary to record for our own Justification, and to make the same known to the Governor General and Council, that nothing but a Change in the present Administration at Poona can secure the Company from the Dangers and bad Consequences of an Alliance between the French and the Marattas, and that there is no other Method to avert the impending Evils but by the Company's immediately taking a decifive Part.

Read the Letter received this Morning from Mr. Mostyn.

We think Monsieur de Corcelle quitting our Protection, appears a very extraordinary Circumstance, after what has passed; but we hope during his Residence with Mr. Lewis, he has not made himself Master of any Intelligence of Consequence; Mr. Mostyn must send hither and to Bengal a Copy of his original Letter.

Mr. Moslyn must be directed to send Advice of every material Circumstance to Bengal, at the same Time he does to us, and particularly respecting the French, whereby much Time will be faved.

Bombay Secret Consultations, the 20th January 1778.

SIGNED the following Letters to Mr. Mostyn, and the Governor General and Council:

Since we wrote you the 14th Instant, we have received your Letter, dated the 16th:

Monsieur Corcelle's quitting our Protection, appears an extraordinary Circumstance after what has past; but we hope, during the Time he lived amongst the English, so much Caution was used, that he did not make himself Master of any Intelligence of Consequence; we however direct that you transmit to us and to the Governor General and Council a Copy of his original Letter.

We have been informed by a Message from Ragoba, that the Durbar has actually agreed, by a written Instrument, to put the French in Possession of Choul, but that the Sunnud is not yet issued; and as it is of the utmost Importance to ascertain the Truth of this Circumstance, we direct, that you spare neither Pains nor Expence for this Purpole; and fend instant Advice of the Result of your Enquiries, both to us and the Gentlemen at Bengal, to whom you will punctually transmit every Intelligence of Importance, particularly respecting the French, at the same Time you write to us; whereby much Time will be faved.

We learn that a French Gentleman from Pondicherry landed at Choul the 30th ultimo, and proceeded to Poona, which makes us the more apprehensive of the Truth of Ragoba's Information; you will therefore make all possible Enquiries respecting this Person and his Errand at Poona.

Bombay Castle, 20th January 1778. We are Your loving Friends, William Hornby, &c.

Gentlemen.

Enclosed is Duplicate of our last Letter, dated the 3d Instant.

By the Intelligence we have fince received from Poona, contained in the enclosed Papers, it appears that Moraba, most probably from Views of Ambition, insists on the Business being carried on in his Name only; upon which we immediately refolved, that nothing further could be done, unless Saccaram Bappoo, the Principal in the late Treaty, joined in making a formal Application to us; and we in consequence sent the necessary Orders to the Resident at the Durbar, as per Copy subjoined to the Letters from Poona.

We have fent Orders for the Recall of all the European Infantry from the Garrifons of Surat and Tannah; but from the Distance of Broach, and the Importance of that Province, we judged it would be imprudent to weaken that Garrison, and therefore continued it exactly upon the former Footing. We have also thought it improper to remove the Detachment of Artillery either from Surat or Tannah; the latter indeed is so contiguous, that we can always command its Service at an Hour's Warn-We now have it in Contemplation to throw our whole Body of Infantry into One Battalion instead of Two, as the Companies are nearly reduced to a Third of their Complement.

On the 30th ultimo a French Gentleman landed at Choul, from a Snow commanded by a King's Officer, which had come direct from Pondicherry, and proceeded to Poona. On the 18th inftance Ragoba sent a Message, acquainting us he had received Advice from Poona, that it had been agreed by a written Instrument, to give Choul or Row Dundah to the French, and that the Sunnud would be hereafter issued.

Combining the above Circumstances with Ragoba's Intelligence, we are very apprehensive that the French will soon be in Possession of Choul; and that the French Gentleman had some Commission from Monsieur Belcombe to the Durbar, which may have occasioned the Cession of that Place. have however directed Mr. Mostyn to spare neither Pains nor Expence to arrive at the Truth on these Points, and to advise you instantly of the Result of his Enquiry.

It is also extraordinary, that Monsieur de Corcelle, whom you were before advised had quitted Monsieur St. Lubin, and taken our Protection, withdrew himself abruptly from our Factory, and returned to Monsieur de St. Lubin. He delivered a Letter on his Departure, a Translation of which, as fent us by the Resident, is now enclosed, and we have directed him to forward you a Copy of the Original.

Arter the Evidence already transmitted to you, it will be needless to insist further on the Certainty of some Agreement being actually concluded between the French and the Poona Government, of which indeed you feem fully convinced by your Letter of the 20th October. Neither are any Arguments necessary to prove the certain Injury, if not total Ruin which must ensue to the Company's Interests on this Coast, if the French are once established in a Port within 12 Miles from the Mouth of our Harbour. Our Duty to the Company, therefore, prompts us to ask you, and earnestly to request an immediate Reply, whether in case a Body of French should arrive to take Possession of Choul, REP. VI. D d and we should receive certain Advice of such a Measure being intended, we are to suffer them to proceed without Interruption, or to use our Efforts to prevent such a Settlement from taking place?

It is our fixed and deliberate Opinion, and which we think it necessary to make known to you for our own Juft fication, in case what we apprehend should happen, that nothing but a Change in the present Administration at Poona can secure the Company from the Dangers and bad Consequences of an Alhance between the French and the Marattas; and that there is no other Method to avert the impending Evils, out by the Company's immediately taking a decifive Part.

Mr. Mostyn arrived at Poona the 10th, and er closed is Copy of the only Letter we have received from him, giving an Account of his Reception and first Audience. He has been directed punctually to transmit to you every Intelligence of Importance, and particularly respecting the Proceedings of the

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, 23d February 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Haftings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, 1 Philip Francis, Esquires. Edward Wheler,

IIE Governor General having fent the following Proposition to the Secretary on Saturday Afternoon, with Directions to circulate it to the other Members of the Board, it was immediately fent round.

The Governor General proposes that the following Draft of a Letter be immediately written to the Prefident and Council at Bombay, in Reply to their Advices now before the Board, by the Raventworth, the Commander of which Ship he understands will leave Town this Evening. He at the fame I me fubmits to the Confideration of the Board and for their Determination, the Propositions included in the Letter.

Gentlemen,

We have now to acknowledge the Receipt of Two Letters from you, dated the 3d and 20th ultimo, and Two from Mr. Mostyn under Date the 19th and 24th ultimo.

We tefer you to our Letter of the 2d Instant, a Triplicate of which you will receive by this Ship, for our Re olutions passed on the Receipt of your Advices of the 12th December. For the Purpole of granting you the most effectual Support in our Power, we have resolved to assemble a throng Military Force near Calpee, the Commanding Officer of which is to be ordered to march by the most practicable Route to Bombay, or to such other Place as suture Occurrences and your Directions to him may render it expedient.

Although the Event of the Overtures which have been made to you yet remains doubtful, we cannot help being exceedingly alarmed at the Steps which are taking by the French to obtain a Setticment on the Malabar Coast so near to Bombay, and to establish a political Insluence in the Maratta State, the immediate Object of which must be the Overthrow of your Settlement, and the future Consequences dangerous to the Company's Possessions in the other Parts of India. We are therefore of Opinion that no Time ought to be lost in forming and carrying into Execution such Measures as may most effectually tend to frustrate such dangerous Designs; especially as the Senson is so far advanced that the Rains might fet in before we could furnish you with any Military Assistance, if we waited for definitive Advices from you. We propose therefore to give immediate Orders for collecting the Force abovementioned. We shall direct it to march as soon as the Stores shall be provided, and the other neeeffary Preparations compleated, unless from any immediate Advices received from you we shall judge the Profecution of this Design unnecessary.

We shall the every Precaution which can depend on our Care and Influence, for enfuring a safe and unmolefted Paffage to the Detachment, and obtaining regular Supplies of Provisions on its March; and we earneftly recommend to you to affift us in these Objects; for this Purpose we shall direct the commanding Officer to advise you continually of his Progress and Wants, and shall place him under your Command from the Day on which he shall move with the Forces under his Charge. We are, &c.

Fort William, 23d February 1778.

P. S. Vide the Governor General's Motion hereafter entered.

Read the following Opinion delivered by Mr. Wheler.

I object to the Governor General's Letter, intended to be written to the Prefident and Council of ombay; because, supposing the Board had already resolved to grant that President and Council a Military Force equal to the effectual Support of one Part of the Maratta State against the other, which I do not think advisable, the Route which the Troops appointed for that Service are to take is neither fixed nor ascertained, but left to the future Determination of the Governor and Council at Bombay, or to the Pleasure of the commanding Officer; and more particularly because it is not, previous to the March of the Troops, in any Degree afcertained, that the reigning Powers through whe fe Dominions it shall ultimately be judged expedient for them to pals, are either in Union or Alliance with the India Company, or that they are disposed to give such Aid and Assistance to the Support of the Detachment, as the commanding Officer may from Time to Time require; without which Affiftance and Security I am apprehensive we shall expose the Detachment to imminent Risque.

Upon the whole I am of Opinion, that the Plan now proposed for marching a small Detachment of Troops into a distant and remote Country, without first fecuring the Friendship and Alliance of the governing Powers, is contrary to all System, and will prove destructive in Practice.

To involve the Company in a Difpute with the French upon the Subject of Negociations which are faid to have been carried on for the Purpole of obtaining a Settlement on the Malabar Coast, and likewise for the Purpose of establishing a political Interest in the Maratta State, require a more minute Attention than the Time allotted will admit; nevertheless, that Part of the Governor's Letter which acquaints the Governor and Council of Bombay that " no Time ought to be loft in forming and carrying into Execution such Measures as may most effectually tend to frustrate such dangerous Designs," is in my Opinion extremely objectionable; because a Paragraph to loosely worded may avolve not only the India Company, but likewife the English Nation, in a War with France; and because I do not think we should be justified in commencing Hostilities against the French for the swowed Purpose of depriving them of commercial Advantages said to be acquired by Treaty. If therefore the French have already obtained, or are likely to obtain Advantages from their Negociasons with the Maratta States, we should endeavour to counteract those Advantages by Negociation, and not by Force; but above all, we ought to be particularly careful at this Time to render our Instructions to the Governor and Council of Bombay to plain, distinct, and obvious, as not to afford them the small Plea or Pretence to become the Aggressors, by commencing Hostilities against the French; and as Mr. Moltyn has given it as his Opinion that no Agreement has yet been made between the Marattas and the French, I am induced to believe that it will require no great Ingenuity or Address to counteract their Intentions.

(Signed) Edw Wheler.

Governor General-I must beg Leave in this Place to reply in a very few Words to Mr. Wheler's Minute, which I think is grounded on a Milconstruction of my Motion: I have not formally proposed the Route which is to be taken, because the Formation of the Detachment, if it is to go, is the Object that requires an immediate Determination; but I do not propose that it should be left either to the commanding Officer or the Prefident and Council of Bombay: I have already determined the Route in my own Mind; these I will mention verbally to the Board; I hope it is not necessary yet to put them on Record. I have had Opportunities of studying the Interests and Dispositions of the different Powers of Hindostan and the Decan, although we have had little Intercourse with them; and from the Knowledge which I have obtained, I believe the March from Calpee, at least as far as Burrampore, to be practicable and easy, and to lead through the Country of our Friends: Beyond that I cannot answer; but the Distance is so small, that I have no Doubt of making the Remainder of our Way good, whether it shall lead us to Poona, to Bombay, to Surat, or to Broach, ever by Force if it should be necessary. Mr. Wheler has faid, that the following Paragraph in the Letter proposed to be written to Bombay is to loosely worded, that it may involve not only the India Company, but the English Nation, in a War with France; viz. "No Time ought to be lost in forming and carrying into Execution such Measures as may most effectually tend to frustrate such dangerous Designs." I should deserve to forfeit the Place I hold were I wantonly or studiously to engage this Government in Measures which should have such a Tendency, if it could be avoided. The Words which are above quoted are not the Words in which the Plan is described which we are to undertake, but they are the Grounds or Reasons on which the Plan is concluded. All the public Advices from Bombay and Poona, corroborated by Intelligence through other Channels, prove beyond a Doubt, that the French have already formed a close and intimate Connection with the suling Administration of the Maratta State; have obtained Possession of a Port, not a Port of Trade, but a Door for the Introduction of Arms and Troops into the Maratta Country, almost without Sight | of Bombay; that they have promifed a military Affiltance to the Marattas, which whether expected from France, or from their Garrifons at the Isle of Mauritius, may in the Course of a few Months be landed on the Maritta Coast. The French already affect to speak of the Port of Choul as their own. I have informed the Board of an Express, which I have every Reason to believe has been lately fent by Mr. Chevalier to the Malabar Coast, addressed both to Monsieur Bellecombe and the Chevalier St. Lubin. I shall not be surprized if the next Month's Intelligence should inform us that Monsieur Bellecombe, the Chief of all the French Establishments in India, has made his personal Appearance at Poona. It is, and always has been my Opinion, and I believe that I have more than once expressed it on these Records, that if ever the French make any Attempts to regain their former Power and Influence in India, it will not be by a naval Armament, which I repeat is impracticable, but by the previous Possession of a political Establishment in the Dominions of some Country Power of the sinst Consideration. There are but Two Powers whose Alliance would avail them, Hyder Ally and the Marattas; the former will no Doubt, upon Principles of good Policy, keep upon good Terms with them, but will never attach himself so closely to them as to become their Dependent. The prefent Rulers of the Maratta State are precifely in that Situation that will make them greedily catch at the Offers of the French of their Alliance, and to make any Sacrifices to obtain it; and I lay it down as a Point incontrovertible, that if a Detachment of much lefs than 1000 Europeans, with Arms for disciplining a Body of Native Troops in the European Manner, shall have once obtained a Footing in the Maratta Country as the Allies of that Government, all the Native Powers of Indostan united will lie at their Mercy, and even the Provinces of Bengal be exposed to their Depredations. The French therefore have now feized on the only Means by which they can ever become formidable to us in India; and it is to avert the dreadful Consequences of such a Design that I have proposed to strengthen the Hands of the President and Council of Bombay, and to enable them to counteract it. It is impossible to form a Plan completed for this Purpose, because it must depend upon Circumstances, and even in a great Measure upon the Operations of our Enemies; it must be left to the Presidency of Bombay, to whom nothing is necessary to be afforded on our Part but a Strength adequate to the Calls which they may have to exert it: I have therefore proposed that the Detachment which may be formed shall be ordered to march as soon as it is formed, to the Assistance of Bombay, and this I apprehend is all that is at present necessary. I do not propose that they should act against the French, but be ready to oppose any Designs of the French; to oppose any Designs of the Marattas, if the Marattas should prove our Enemies; or to assist the Marattas of that Part of the Maratta State with which we are in Alliance. There is nothing in this Intention that can possibly involve the Nation in a War with France, fince the French are not the declared Object of the prefent Enterprize; and we have even the Authority of the Paishwa and Ministers themselves to affirm, that the French have no Connection or Concern in their Affairs, but have been received simply on the Footing of Hospitality, and that Civility which is due from one State to another.

Some Time will be required to form and equip the Detachment before it can march. It is not necessary to send any Instructions to the Governor and Council of Bombay respecting the Application to be made of this Reinforcement, until it shall have actually begun to move: But I shall have no Objection, and I think it highly proper, to enjoin them in the strictest Manner, that they do not on any Pretence become the Aggressors, by commencing Hostilities against the French, nor yet against the Marattas; but to continue to adhere, as they affure us they will do, to the strict Letter of the Treaty subsisting between the Company and the present Administration of the Maratta State. I never understood or supposed that a formal Grant by Sunnud has been made to the French of the Port of Choul, but it is notorious that the French are in Possession of that Port; and although Mr. Mostyn does declare, nearly in the Words made use of by Mr. Wheler, that a Person well and officially informed, had affured him that he did not believe there was any Agreement entered into between Monsieur St. Lubin and the Durbar; yet what he adds in the Words immediately following, prove that Mr. Mostyn himself did not mean by this Expression to contradict the Belief that an Agreement passed between Monsieur St. Lubin and Nana Furnese; his Words are as follows: It therefore appears to me, that the Writing alluded to by my Superiors can be no other than the private Treaty between Monsieur St. Lubin and Nana Furnese, of which your Honour, &c. were informed under the 29th November." This Mode of Allusion implies, that Mr. Mostyn had not even a Doubt of the private Agreement which had passed between Nana Furnese and Monsieur St. Lubin.

Since writing the above, I have verbally mentioned the Precautions taken for securing a free and peaceable Passage for the Detachment whenever it shall march; we cannot wait for their Essects, because the Season will be too far advanced; but if in the Interval between the Orders which may be issued for forming the Detachment, and the Time proposed for the Commencement of its Operations, either the Advices which we may receive from Bombay shall render their March unnecessary, or any better Means can be suggested for obviating and frustrating the Designs of our Enemies; in either Case I will gladly agree to remand the Troops to their respective Corps; and as Mr. Wheler has said, that if the French had already obtained or are likely to obtain Advantages from their Negociations with the Maratta State, we should endeavour to counteract those Advantages by Negociation, and has even concluded with expressing his Belief, that it will require no great Ingenuity of Address to counteract their Intentions. I hope he will point out the Means by which a Negociation of this Kind can be conducted with Success, and the Offers which may be made to induce the Minister to cancel his Engagements with his new Allies, and to accept of the Friendship of the English Company in their Stead: I ask this not from any Desire of combating an Argument, but of obtaining either such Lights as may be afforded on that Side of the Question, and profiting by them for the Peace and easier Conduct of the Company's Affairs, on a clear Conviction that no Negociation whatsoever will avail with the Powers of this Country that is not immediately and pointedly directed to their Interests or their Fears.

Mr. Wheler—It is evident from the Explanation which the Governor has now given of his etter, that no Part of my Minute was either grounded upon Error or Misconstruction. The Governor afferts, that the French are now in Possession of a Port, not a Port of Trade, but a Door for the Introduction of Arms and Troops into the Maratta Country, almost within Sight of Bombay. I request that the Governor will favour this Board with his Authority for that Affertion, and likewise explain what he means by "Possession."

The Governor General-I hope Mr. Wheler does not expect that I shall give up my Time to the Examination of all the voluminous Papers which have been written upon this Subject. That the French are in Possession of the Port of Choul, has been afferted in the Letters from Bombay and Poona; in the Intelligence transmitted from the Nabob of Arcot; in other Papers of Intelligence; and it has been charged to the Minister, as I think, in Letters written from hence. The French Ships have been for near these Twelve Months past at Choul; their Goods have been landed at Choul, and continued there when the last Advices were dispatched from thence. This Use of the Port is present Possession. The Sunnud or Grant can only give them Property.

Mr Wheler-I certainly do not mean to give the Governor any unnecessary Trouble: I thought the Affertion a very extraordinary one, especially as I had not met with any Grounds for it upon the Company's Records: I do not consider the Landing of Goods, without Interruption for Twelve Months, as a Proof of Right, or Possession of a Port.

Governor General-Whenever these Minutes shall be read in England, the Company will be possessed of much more authentic Evidence than can be given here, either in Proof that the French are in Possession of Choul, or that they are not in Possession; it is unnecessary therefore for me to continue to affirm my Belief of the Fact, nor will any Contradiction invalidate it.

Read the Minute delivered by Mr. Francis on the proposed Letter to Bombay, which was circulated

Mr. Francis-I disapprove of and object to every Part of the Letter proposed by the Governor General to be written to the Presidency of Bombay; the Measure, which it states as resolved on, viz. of affembling a Force at Calpee with conditional Orders to march to Bombay," has not yet been debated, or even proposed in Council; much less have the Objections to which such a Step is liable, and the Confequences which may attend it, been duly considered: At present I have no Idea of any Arguments that can induce me to consent to the March of Four Battalions of Sepoys into the Heart of Indostan, through an immense Fract of Country, in which we have no Alliance or Connection whatloever; no Magazines, nor a single Place of Strength to retreat to: I will not be answerable for the Consequences of hazarding a Detachment of our Troops, which we can very ill spare upon an Exedition in which they will probably be cut off, and for no Purpose but to support an offensive War, which I do not doubt will foon become general.

I beg Leave to fay, that I am not at all alarmed at the Steps supposed to be taken by the French for obtaining a Settlement on the Malabar Coast. If the whole Story be not fabricated by Ragoba's Party, to answer particular Purposes, I have Mr. Mostyn's Opinion and Authority for believing that no Agreement has yet been made between the Marattas and the French, for putting the latter in Possession of Choul: The Intelligence comes from Ragoba, and Mr. Mostyn himself thinks there is no Foundation for it; but admitting it to be true, what Right have we to make use of Force to prevent the French from obtaining such a Grant by Negociation with an independent State? Or will the Members of a fictitious, not a real, Majority of this Board, created by a casting Voice, run the Rilque of engaging the Nation in a War with France, with no better Cause of Quarrel, than that they are forming an advantageous Treaty or Alliance with the Marattas? If our's had been faithfully executed by us, and Ragoba difmissed from Bombay, the present Question would never have existed.

The President and Council of Bombay now ask us, Whether they shall use their Efforts to prevent such a Settlement taking place? The Answer proposed by the Governor, tells them, that "in our Opinion, no Time ought to be lost in forming and carrying into Execution such Measures, as may most effectually tend to frustrate such dangerous Designs:" But what those Efforts and Measures are to be, remains to be explained. I conclude, that Military Operations against the French are intended, as our former Permission would hardly be necessary to authorize any others; but the Bombay Presidency at this Moment tell us, that their Troops are nearly reduced to a Third of their Complement; and before the intended Detachment could reach Bombay, even if they met with no Interruption in their March, the Rains would be fet in; they must march in the Months in which the hot Winds prevail with the greatest Violence in the upper Parts of India; and when they arrive, the Rains will prevent their acting.

In my Opinion, we ought to forbid the Prefidency of Bombay from engaging in any offensive Opeations whatfoever, and most particularly against the French: I shall reserve what I have farther to wo on this Subject till the Meeting of the Council.

P. Francis. (Signed)

EP. VI.

A P P E N D I X, Nº 35-37.

Mr. Francis-No Member of this Council makes a freer Use of his Privilege of dictating Minutes nt the Board, than the Governor General. I do not complain of it; on the contrary, I listen to him at all Times with Respect, with Temper, and Attention. Yet, as much Time is Jost by delivering Opinions in this Manner, I must own I am unwilling to enter into a Discussion of all the supposed Facts, Affertions, and Arguments, flated in his last Minute. I fear it would be endless, and lead to no Conclusion. Public Advices not before the Board; general Intelligence from different Quarters; the supposed Notoriety of Facts not proved, and the Language supposed to be held by the French on Occasions where their Interests are concerned, may have Weight with the Governor Ceneral; they have none with me; nor will they, I prefume, be deemed by our Superiors to be a folid and warrantable Foundation for the important Conclusions of Facts proposed to be drawn from them. One Instance of the Uncertainty of such Reports, as well as of the Facility with which they are introduced into our Debates as acknowledged Facts, appears in the Governor's repeated Affertion, that the French are now in Possession of Choul; of which the only Proof afterwards produced is, that some of their Ships have been admitted into the Port, and that they have been suffered to land their Goods there. Choul is said to be almost within Sight of Bombay; it would be very extraordinary, if the French had actually taken Possession of that Place, and the Presidency of Bombay had never mentioned to us a Fact from which they might have drawn Inferences fo favourable to their present Designs. Mr. Mostyn's Letter of the 24th January, is the latest from that Part of India: So far from intimating that the French were in Possession of the Place, he denies the Existence of any Agreement for that Purpose, and says "he cannot think that Nanah Furnese will be so weak to do it "until the required Assistance arrives." What may happen hereaster, I know not. My present Opinion and Refolution must be founded on Facts, and the authentic Intelligence of Facts, as they exilt before me. I will not at present enter into any further Consideration of the Governor's Minute, but endeavour to bring back the Question, on which this Debate has arisen, to its original

The Danger, stated in the proposed Letter to Bombay, is said to arise from the Steps which are taking by the French to obtain a Settlement so near Bombay. The Means recommended for obviating that Danger, are "that no Time ought to be lost in forming and carrying into Execution such Measures as may most effectually tend to frustrate such dangerous Designs." An Opinion given in this Form, is plainly an Instruction to the Bombay Council. The Objection urged against it is, that the Terms are not clear, direct, and specific; and that in the only rational Construction which can be given to them, they amount to an Authority from us to commence Hostilities against the French, to prevent their being put into Possession of Choul. The Case of an Attack of the French against any Part of the Company's Possession is not supposed, nor is it made the Condition of our undertaking hostile Measures against them. The Letter, as it stands, refers only to their obtaining a Settlement on the Coast, and the Necessity of our preventing it at all Events. If the Instruction recommended by Mr. Wheler, be now added to the Letter, "That they do not on any Pretence become the Aggressors, by committing Hostilities against the French," I shall very much approve of it, because I think it annihilates that Part of the Instructions to which I object; but then the Form of the Letter must be altered. I have nothing further to observe, but that the main Question, "whether a Detachment shall or shall not be sent, and of what Force it shall consist," has not yet been debated or proposed; and that, before that Question is resolved, the Consideration of the Letter to Bombay is out of its Place.

The Governor General—When the severest Wounds are aimed at my public Character, it is hard to deny me the Privilege of Self defence; but if I have taken up more of the Time of the Board than I ought, in the Minute which I dictated at the Board this Day, I do not think that any Perion who shall read the preceding Minute and attend to the Length of it, will think it seasonably prefaced with a Complaint of that Nature; I will however profit by the Suggestion; both the preceding Minutes of Mr. Francis, both that written and that dictated by him, shall remain unanswered, but by this short Remark, that they combat Propositions which I have never made, and quote Proofs as given by me even where I declared that I meant not to produce any; repeated Arguments and Assertions long since combated and refuted, and employed the Attention of the Board on a verbal Disputation; for the Whole that is said and repeated of the Passage quoted from my Minute by Mr. Wheler, is really such. The Propositions which were intended to follow the last Minutes of the Board in the Military Department, and which related to the Stiength of the intended Detachment, and the Manner in which it should be formed, have been sent to the Military Secretary, and will be sent in Circulation to the other Members of the Board, whose Opinions may be more deliberately given by the same Mode. It is neither my Wish, nor did I introduce the Practice, to spin out the Time of the Board in defultory and indefinite Argumentations.

Mr. Francis—I do not know that any Wounds whatfoever have been levelled at the Governor, or that his public Character could possibly be in question in this Debate. I submit to Judgment, whether I have or have not stuck close to the Measure proposed for Deliberation. One Thing I must beg Leave to explain, because I should be forry to remain under the Imputation of a Failure in respect to the Governor General, or any Member of this Board. The Notice I took of the Length of his Minute, arose from some Words which he himself let fall in his Answer to Mr. Wheler, "That he hoped that it was not expected he should give his Time to the Examination of voluminous Papers, which have been written on this Subject." It appeared to me that the Question did not lay a Foundation for that Answer. I shall be ready to consider the Papers when they are fent in Circulation. That Mode conducting Business is convenient in Matters of less Importance, and I have no Objection to it; but in a Case of this very great Consequence I hope the Resolution, whatever it may be, will be taken Council.

The Governor General—If the Words I used in my Reply to Mr. Wheler could contain any Subet of Offence, I suppose Mr. Wheler was the most competent Judge of it, and did not require any her Person to resent it on his Behalt. I meant those Words only as an Excuse for not replying to Question which he put to me, and do affure him that they were dictated with Temper; and ith that Respect to his Character from which I never yet departed in any Debate. Since Mr. Francis objects to the Mode which I proposed for collections.

Since Mr. Francis objects to the Mode which I proposed for collecting the Sentiments of the Members of the Board, on the Propositions which I mentioned that I had sent to the Secretary in be Military Department, although it was in Deterence only to the Objections which had been just riged by himself against Minutes dictated at the Board, that I proposed to collect the Opinions of the Members in Circulation; I now bring them before the Board, desiring only that they may be manded, with the Debates and Opinions given upon them, to the Military Department.

Mr. Francis—I consider myself as a Party to every Question proposed for the general Informa-

Mr. Francis—I consider myself as a Party to every Question proposed for the general Information of the Board, let it come from whom it will, and of course interested in the Answer to it. My Remark was made on my own Account. I did not presume to speak for any other Member of the Board.

Mr. Barwell—The Length of this Debate has to me been quite unexpected; and I have declined taking a Part in it, because it is no more than a Repetition of what has already passed up in the Subject of the general Interests of the Company, in influencing the Durbar of Poona. The Votes and Resolutions on the 2d Instant are, or are not, to be supported. They stand at present binding on the Council; and any Attempt to prevent their Operation or defend them, is simply subjecting the Company to the ill Consequences of Micarriage in a Point extremely interesting to their Assars; and from the Responsibility of which Miscarriage I, hold myself exempted, should it in Fact, as I apprehend it will, arise from the Difficulties thrown in the Way of the executive Power. Whatever Measures in Prudence and Policy are proposed upon the Votes that are already passed, ought not necessarily to involve the Propriety or Impropriety of these Votes. That Question is dismissed totally, and the new one becomes of a very different Nature, whether you will basse the Powers of the Government, or give way to them. I agree to the latter.

Mr. Francis—I understand it to be conformable to the Sentiments of the Board, that the President and Council of Bombay should be restrained from commencing Hostilities against the French. I therefore propose, that the following Paragraph may be added to the Letter now resolved

"We enjoin you in the strictest Manner, that you do not, on any Pretence, become the Aggressors, by commencing Hostilities against the French nor against the Marattas; but that you continue to adhere to the strict Letter of the Treaty subsisting between the Company and the present Administration of the Maratta State."

ministration of the Maratta State."

Governor General—As the preceding Motion is taken from the Words of my own Minute, I wish that it may be entered complete, with the Addition of the following Words, after the Words there, "as you affure us you will do." As the Letter is concluded and partly signed, the proposed Addition can only be made in a Possscript; but I think it will appear too abrupt in the above Form; and would therefore propose the following Introduction and Amendment.

above Form; and would therefore propose the following Introduction and Amendment.

As we have no Property or Pretentions to Property in the Port of Choul, we cannot authorize you to use any overt Measures for preventing the French from forming an listablishment at that Place, however dangerous their Neighbourhood may be to your Presidency. This must be established by other Means; that is, by an Appeal to that Power which alone can give them the Right of Possessin. We think it necessary also to add the following Injunction; that you do not, on any Pretence, become the Aggressors, by commencing Hostilities against the French directly, nor against the Maratta State; but that you continue to adhere, as you assure us you will do, to the strict Letter of the Treaty subsisting between the Company and the present Admissins instration of the Maratta State."

Mr. Francis-I acquiesce.

Agreed, That the Postscript proposed by the Governor General be accordingly added to the Letter to Bombay.

N° 37.

The Governor General lays before the Board for their Confideration, the following Reply from 3rigadier General Stibbert, to the Questions proposed to him the 2d Instant, with his Minute upon t, containing Five Propositions, which he had sent to the Military Secretary, intending that they hould be circulated by him.

N D I Χ,

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

In Compliance with your Defire, I now beg Leave to offer you my Sentiments, " upon the Pro. " priety of augmenting the Sepoy Establishment, by new Levies of Thirty Private to each Conpany, and making the Strength of each Battalion One thousand Men complete.

"Also upon the Means of supplying the Presidency of Bombay with a Military Force, and the .Number which may be spared from this Establishment."

With respect to the First, it is my Opinion, that augmenting the Sepoy Battalions to One thousand strong, would be improper, and at the same Time not answer the Ends proposed from it; for the following Reasons:

1st. By being encreased to the above Number, they would be too unwieldy a Body to manœuvie and move together without Confusion in the Field, and with that Celerity and Compactness which is requisite, and which ought to be particularly attended to in the Formation of all Bodies of Troops, but more especially in the Sepoy Corps, amongst whom, in Time of Action, it is well known to every Officer who has ferved with them, that it is with the utmost Difficulty Regularity can be preserved, even in the best-disciplined Battalions.

2d. By increasing the Battalions to the Number proposed, would make them larger Bodies than are required for the different Services for which they are generally detached and fent out upon, particularly in the Company's Provinces. This could only be remedied by breaking the Battalions, which would introduce great Confusion into the Service, and be attended with many Disadvantages, but above all be greatly prejudicial to their Discipline, and take off from that Responsibility which every Captain has for the Regularity and good Order of his Corps.

3d. There, where a larger Number of Men are required than the present Strength of the Battalions, or with the small Augmentation that I shall propose, it will seldom happen that a Thousand Men will be sufficient for the Service; for in such Cases generally Two Battalions, and sometimes Three, are necessary to be detached, to prevent every Possibility (as far as Prudence and human Foresight can do it) of a Failure.

4th. To strengthen the foregoing Arguments, give me Leave to observe, that the Honourable the Court of Directors, from their Directions respecting the European Regiments, seem to have adopted the same Opinion, that a Thousand Men are too large a Body for one Battalion; and it is to be prefumed they did not form their Resolutions thereupon without first taking the Advice of the General Officers now in England, who have ferved in this Country.

But though I am of Opinion that the Battalions cannot with Propriety be raifed to One thousand strong, for the Reasons I have urged, I think they may with Utility be augmented from their present Establishment of Seven hundred to Seven hundred and Eighty, Rank and File; that is, from 3 Ilavaldars, 3 Naicks, and 64 Private, to 4 Havaldars, 4 Naicks, and 70 Private each Company. This is the same as to Number, excepting a Colourman, who ranked as Havaldar, as the Companies stood Rank and File upon the old Establishment; and is as large a Body as ought at any Time to be formed into One Battalion, and that can act together with Force and Advantage.

By this Augmentation an Increase will be made upon the whole 30 Battalions, attached to Brigades, now in the Pay of the Company, of 2,400 Men, Rank and File, equal to Three Battalions, which may be drafted as the Exigences of the Service may require, and their Numbers supplied by fresh Recruits, without being much felt by their respective Corps. My Reason for proposing One additional Havaldar and Naick to each Company, is, that the Number now allowed to the Companies, as they fland at present, is not found upon many Occasions sufficient for the Duties of the Battalion; besides, these Men, whenever Draughts are wanted, will be ready to go with them: It will be moreover enlarging the Door of Preferment, and giving additional Encouragement to Emulation, a Matter highly necessary to be attended to amongst the lower Ranks, and Sepoys. No Augmentation will be required of the Officers of higher Rank, holding Warrants; a small Addition of Pay given to the Jamadars, would not be improper, as what they receive at pretent is not sufficient to support them in such a Manner as to keep them from affociating with the lower Ranks and Private Men, and of Courie fo as to be able to keep up that Authority which they ought to maintain in their Battalions.

For supplying the Presidency of Bombay with a Military Force, I would recommend to the Board, that Four Battalions of Sepoys be immediately drafted for this Service from the Four Brigades, viz. One from each; and that these Battaliens be formed under the Inspection of the several commanding Officers of Brigades, by an equal Proportion of Drafts, of One Non-warrant Officer and Ten Private from each Company of the Three established Brigades, which will furnish a Body of 770 Rank and File from each Brigade, and be within Ten Men of the proposed Number of Rank and File, for a Battalion, which may be recruited. The Subadars and Jemadars, for this new Battalion to be appointed by the Colonel of the Brigade, from fuch Jemadars and Havaldars of the Seven Battalions as are most deserving of Preferment; Attention being had to Seniority and Length of Services, as far as it can be done with Propriety. The Battalion to be formed from the temporary Brigade in the following Proportion, viz. Seven Battalions to furnish Eight Non-warrant Officers and 80 Private each, and the Two remaining Battalions, Seven Non-warrant Officers and 70 Private each; which together will make a Body of 770 Rank and File, the same as to be drafted from the other Brigades. The Warrant Officers to be preferred and appointed from the Jemadars and Havaldars

N D I X, N° 35-37.

Havaldars of most Merit, in the same Manner as already mentioned should be done from the established Brigades.

To furnish these Four Battalions with European commissioned and non-commissioned Officers, and to give a due Proportion thereof to the temporary Brigade, which I think is highly necessary, I Sould advise that the Battalions, in the chablished Brigades should be reduced from their present stablishment, of Captain Commandant, 10 Subaltern Officers, One Serjeant Major, and 10 Serjeants, Considering the Services. The Number is calculated to be the fixed Establishment in future for every Battalion (the Militia Battalions excepted). hroughout the Service. This Number is calculated fo as to have One Subaltern Officer and One Serjeant to be posted in Time of Action, or to send out upon Service, with each Grenadier Company, and the same to each Grand Division of the Battalion, composed of Two Companies, which, with the Captain and Native Officers, are fully sufficient for leading on the Men, and every other find of Duty.

The Establishment of European commissioned and non-commissioned Officers, fixed by the late

The Establishment of European commissioned and non-commissioned Oncers, fixed by the face of Clive for a Battalion of Sepoys, when he was Governor and Commander in Chief of this Presidency, and when he regimented and brigaded the Troops in the Year 1765, was a Captain, 2 Lieutenants, 2 Ensigns, 1 Serjeant Major, and 4 Serjeants. It was afterwards in the Year 1770 ordered to be a Captain, 3 Lieutenants, 3 Ensigns, 1 Serjeant Major, and 4 Serjeants; and in the Year 1773 augmented to 1 Captain, 5 Lieutenants, 5 Ensigns, 1 Serjeant Major, and 10 Serjeants, as it stands at present; but this latter Establishment has been proved by Experience to add no Advantages either of Discipline or otherwise, to the Battalion. The Serjeants, more than what are fufficient to drill the Recruits, or the Number to be posted as I have mentioned, are entirely lost to the Service, in being taken from the Regiments and put into the Sapoy Corps. Belides which, it is morally impossible for the Regiments to supply the Number of Serjeant's that are now wanted for the Sepoy Corps, even upon a lower Establishment than Eleven to each B. ttalion, without selecting out all the best Men, and promoting a great many who are totally unfit for the Station, and who can only be rendered useful by being kept in the Ranks.

The Four Battalions I have proposed to be formed by Drafts from the Four Brigades, are, with wo Field Pieces attached to each, full as great a Force as I think can well be spared of disciplined roops from this Presidency, for the Service of the Presidency of Bombay, keeping at the same Time in View the Defence and Security of the Provinces of Bengal and the Vizier's Dominions, hich altogether form an Extent of Country, for the Defence of which, in case of a War or roubles, but particularly of an European War, the Force we have at present on Foot would in my pinion be rather inadequate, is as to give Protection in every Part, and repel the different Attacks tat may be made at the same Time by the Country Powers and a foreign Enemy. Europeans either Artillery or Infantry can on no Account be spared, as may be seen by the Returns of the

The great Difficulty which has been ever found in prevailing on the Sepoys to embark on board of Ship, and the great Defertions that have always happened when this Mode of transporting them has been adopted, render it necessary, as well as on account of their Numbers, to consider of the most eligible Method of fending the above Detachment by Land.

There are only Two Routes by which this can properly be done; one by the Way of Cuttack, and through the Decan; the other from the Western Provinces by the Way of Calpec, Narva, Eugine, Brampoor, &c. The latter at Narvar falls into the great public Road from Delhy to the Decan, Surat, &c. and is much preferable to the former, both from its Practicability (as I believe) for Cannon, and on account of the Shortness of its Distance from the upper Stations of our Army. But the March of a Body of Troops with Safety and Dispatch by this Road, or any other, can only depend upon the Friendship and Assistance, which they may be assured or receiving from the Princes and Powers possessing the Country through which they must pass.

The greatest Part of the Country lying between the District of Bundelcund and the River Nurbudda towards the South-west and Eugine, is at present in Possession of the I wo Maratta Chiefs, Maddajee Sindiah and Tokajee Holkar, who both have very large Armies on Foot, and are effected to hold a confiderable Influence in the Maratta Government: It will therefore be necessary to secure as far as possible the Friendship and Assistance of these Leaders, for whatever Troops may be ordered to march through their respective Provinces. Tokajee is mentioned in the Papers received from Bombay, which the Board have done me the Honour to give me the Perusal of, to be one of the Partes who are in the Interest of and desirous of placing Ragonaut Row at the Head of the Maratta ate, in whose Favour the Force in question is intended to act in Conjunction with the Troops of sombay, in which Case, and should Maddajee Sindiah be prevailed on to join the Alliance, every efficulty will I think be at once obviated. Tokajee has at this Time a considerable Force in the eighbourhood of Gohud and Bundelcund, with the Assistance of which, and the Zemindars of the stricts under his Authority, in procuring Provisions and Necessaries, whatever Detachment Government may determine to fend by the Route I have recommended, might. Proceedings of the Governor General and Council in their Military Department.

Governor General-As the Letter just read from General Stibbert contains a Variety of Matters, which I suppose the Board would chuse to consider very maturely before they pass any decisive Refolutions upon them; I recommend, that it be fent in Circulation for the deliberate Perufal of the Members of the Board, previous to any Resolution which they may collectively form upon them; but there is one Subject which may require an earlier Attention to it. I hope that there will be no Necessity to fend any Military Affistance to the Presidency of Bombay; but it is very probable they will require it; but it cannot be effectual unless it can reach them before the periodical Rains. The Mode by which the Commander in Chief has recommended a Detachment may be raifed for this Service, namely to draft 100 Men from each Battalion, would take up so much Time, that before they could be drafted and formed into their respective Corps, and assembled at the Points from which the Roads mentioned by him that lead to the other Side of India, the rainy Season would approach so near as to render it impracticable for them to undertake the March. For which Reason I submit the following Propositions to the Consideration of the Board:

1st. That a Detachment be formed of Six Battalions of Sepoys from the first Brigade, with their Ordnance, One Company of Native Artillery with its Complement of Ordnance, to be furnished from the Field Train of the 1st Brigade at Allahabad, and Two Howitzers to be supplied from the same Station.

2d. That the Troops which are to compose this Detachment be directed to affemble at Korah, or in the Neighbourhood of Calpy.

3. That the Stores for this Detachment be furnished from the Magazines nearest to the Place of Rendezvous, and that the Commanding Officer be furnished with unlimited Authority to indent for fuch Stores, and in fuch Quantities as he may deem necessary for the Service to be performed.

4th. That Colonel Leslie be appointed to command this Detachment, with One Field Officer from the 1st Brigade, and one from the Temporary Brigade; and that Major Baillie be nominated to the Charge of the Artillery, with Two additional Subaltern Officers of that Corps to join the Company ordered upon this Service.

5th. That Colonel Leslie be directed to make the necessary Preparations to conduct the Detachment by the most practicable Route to Bombay, or to such other Place in that Neighbourhood as he shall be guided to by the President and Council of Bombay, and that it be particularly recommended to him to provide the most effectual Means of insuring a sufficient Supply of Provisions during the Course of the March.

Agreed, That the Governor General's Propositions be circulated for Consideration, and that the Minutes which may be delivered thereon be entered on this Day's Proceedings.

The Propositions delivered by the Governor General which are entered above having been circulated, they were agreed to by Mr. Barwell, and the following Minutes upon them were delivered by Mr. Wheler and Mr. Francis.

Mr. Wheler-In my Minute of Yesterday I have given my Reasons for disapproving of the intended Support of one Part of the Maratta Power against the other. But as it is already determined in Council to aid the Measures of the Presidency of Bombay, I am clearly of Opinion that the Detachment ought in every Respect to be adequate to the Service required; and as I must suppose that now proposed by the Governor is so, I accede to it, and likewise to the 2d, 3d, 4th, and 5th following Propositions made by the Governor General.

24th February 1778. Mr. Francis-Waving for the present all former Objections to the general Resolution of supporting the Presidency of Bombay in an offensive War, undertaken without our previous Approbation, I object to the March of the proposed Detachment to the Malabar Coast, as I am of Opinion that so great a Force cannot be spared from our Establishment, consistently with the Defence and Safety of these Provinces, which ought to be the placepal Object of our Attention, or with the Protection of the Dominions of our Ally the Nabob of Oude, who pays us a Subsidy for the Service of the Troops now ordered to Bombay. Their Removal must necessarily leave a considerable Part of his Frontier defenceless and open to the Marattas.

If a Reinforcement must be sent to Bombay, I beg Leave to repeat my Opinion, that it may be spared with more Safety, and proceed with greater Expedition from Fort Saint George: As the first

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, President,

Edward Wheler,

R EAD a Letter from Mr. Mostyn, as follows:

To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, &c. Council at Fort William.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

Mr. Lewis addressed you last under the 29th November, and I have now the Honour to inform you that I returned hither on the 10th Instant.

On the 14th ultimo, the Durbar received certain Advices of the Death of Ram Rajah; but they have not yet placed a new Rajah at Settara.

Mr. Lewis on the 28th ultimo, having received Intelligence, that Two or Three New Chokies had been placed as Spies on the Factory, tent a Message to Madahrow Jaddaroi, complaining thereof, and requested to know the Durbar's Reason for so doing; it being contrary to their Promises of the English being treated in the same Manner as heretofore. He received no other Reply, than that he was ignorant of the Matter; but would ask Nanah Furnese. Madahrow at the same Time added, that Nanah wanted all Europeans to leave Poona; and that if the English must have a Vackeel here he thought a Cascoon with Four or Five People would be sufficient for every Purpose. On the 29th the Chokies abovementioned having stopped and abused a poor Shop-keeper, who had only been to he Factory for the Payment of some trisling Articles which had been bought of him, for presuming, a they said, to go to the English without their Permission, Mr. Lewis immediately sent a Person to Madaha v, to acquaint him with this Instance of the Insolence of the Chokies, who directly sent the Sip of People with the Servant to explain the Matter to Nanah, who, instead of listening to the factompt, asked the Servant, by what Authority Mr. Lewis sent People to turn away the Chokies to to Place where he, Nanah, had ordered them to stay? The Servant denied the Charge, and old the Affair as it had really happened; to which Nanah replied, that he had been informed by the Madahjee Punt, a Man whom he had placed upon the Factory, That Gentleman had sent Forty or Fifty Sepoys to dislodge the Chokies; but upon the Servant requesting that Nanah would fend for the said Madahjee Punt, and enquire into the Affair, when he would find he had been greatly imposed upon, Nanah refused complying therewith, saying, he was well convinced Madahjee Punt and told him the Truth. Nanah then directed the Servant to deliver Mr. Lewis the same Message as and been sent the Day before by Madahrow with respect to the English leaving Poona, and defired he would immediately write it to the Honourable the President of Bombay.—Mr. Lewis requests Leave to declare in his own Vindication, that not a single Sepoy was sent, nor a Word exchanged with the Chowkies further than one of his Servants asking them, by whose Orders they acted in giving such Treatment to any one who came to our Factory.

In consequence of Mr. Lewis's Representations to the Presidency, the Honourable the President wrote a Letter to the Peshwa, which this Gentleman was directed to deliver himself, and obtain an Answer; but notwithstanding he frequently applied for an Audience for that Purpose, Nanah absolutely resulted to give him one, saying, that he would not receive the Letter from any one else than Madahrow Jadahroi and Byroo, who were appointed to transact the English Business with the Durbar; and that if Mr. Lewis insisted on delivering it himself, he must go to Proonder for that Jurpose; he accordingly wrote a Letter to Saccaram Pundit, informing him of the above Circumstances, and requesting he would appoint a Day for receiving the President's Letter; but Saccaram, by a Message through Madahrow, referred him back to Nanah.

Immediately on my Arrival, I fent proper Notice thereof to the Durbar, and requested to have an Audience as soon as possible; to which Nanah replied, that that Day being a Holiday, and the next an unlucky Day, he could not take it into Consideration till the 12th; however, after repeated Messages, I at last obtained an Audience on the 13th, when I delivered the above-mentioned Letter, and Duplicate of one from the Honourable the Governor General, on the Subject of the Ship Aurora: After making an Apology for entering on Business at my first Visit, contrary to the usual Custom, I remonstrated in the strongest Terms on the Disrespect shewn the Company, by the Restrictions laid on their Representative; and demanded a speedy and positive Answer to every Point in the Letter from the Governor of Bombay: To which Nanah replied, that the Durbar would give such an Answer as was usual with them. When I observed to him, that no other than a plain and direct one would be received. I then, agreeably to my Instructions, acquainted them with the Issue of the Commission they had given me to Ragoba; of which your Honour, &c. have already been advised.

When I had taken Leave of the Durbar, I repeated to Byroo Punt, who attended me out, and has I know great Influence with Nanah, the Necessity of a speedy Answer, which he promised should be delivered in Two Days; but as from the Knowledge I have of the Dilatoriness of this Government, I did not place any great Considence in this Promise. I wrote the next Day to Madahrow and Byroo Punt, that I hoped they would use their joint Endeavours to procure one as soon as possible; to which they replied, That they had talked with Nanah on the Business, who said it was necessary he should first consult with Saccaram Bapoo. Being now convinced that Nanah was using every Artifice to evade giving an Answer, I thought it necessary to address a Letter to the Peshwa, requesting one, which I enclosed to Saccaram Bapoo, under the 16th. I beg Leave to observe here, Gentlemen, that notwithstanding my Remonstrances, the Chowkies are still continued on the Factory; by which I am so strictly watched, that it is almost impossible for me to have an Intercourse with any one in Town.

Soon after my Arrival Moraba Furnese sent me a Letter for the Honourable the President, which was forwarded under the 11th; in consequence of which the Board have directed me to inform him, that they cannot take any Part in the Affairs of the Maratta Government, unless directly called upon by the Persons with whom the Treaty was concluded.

By the best Information I can procure, I learn that Advices have within these sew Days been received from Hurry Punt, acquainting the Durbar that Monackjee Panoria, and the rest of the Maratta Ossicers mentioned in the last Address from hence, had actually joined Hyder's Atmy, and together therewith, falling on Hurry Punt, had entirely deseated him, taking most of his heavy Cannon, and plundering his Buzar; this Ossicer has retreated to Pauncemahl, on the Northern Bank of the Kistna, in Hopes of receiving some Assistance from Downsa, who is encamped about Twelve Coss from him. The Durbar have applied to the Nizam to join them against Hyder; but which he has resused, until they deliver him the Forts of Assur and Amadnagur, agreeable to the Promises made him on his joining the present Ministers against Ragoba. I cannot take upon me to assure your Honour, &c. of the Truth of the above, the strict Watch kept over me preventing my having that free Communication with People on whom I can depend, which Peould wish; but from Nanah Furnese going studdenly to Proonder Yesterday, on Account it is said of the Receipt of Hurry Punt's Letter, I am inclined to believe it is true. have received repeated Orders from the Ministers to join Hurry Punt, but have hitherto found Means to avoid complying therewith; the former is at one of his own Villages, about 15 Coss from hence, and the latter still continues at Rimutpore. Indeed there seems to be a total Inaster full amongst all the Maratta Officers, which is attributed to the Poverty of the Government.

Notwithstanding the many Assurances given by the Durbar in general, and the Mini, sepa trately, that Monsieur St. Lubin should be dispatched from hence on Deccra (the 12th Oct, 1 and 1) am forry to inform your Honour, &c. he is still permitted to remain here, and is to all it spear-ance in high Favour with Nanah Furnete, but I believe with no one elfe.

The enclosed Packet to your Address was delivered me by the Honourable the President and Council of Bombay.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Esquires.

To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, &c. Council at Fort William.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I did myself the Honour of addressing you under the 19th instant.

Monsieur de Corcelle, the French Gentleman who had taken our Protection, as mentioned in a former Address, having received Assurances from Crust Row Balol, in the Name of Nanah, that no Harm should happen to him if he would leave the Protection of the English, that Gentleman on the 14th wrote me a Letter (Copy and Translate of which are now enclosed) and immediately quitted the Factory; putting himself under the Protection of Senhor Norronho, a Portuguese Officer in Command of the Attillery here, who has passed his Word to Monsieur de Corcelle, that the Government do not mean him the least Injury, and with whom he actually now lives without having the least Connection with Monsieur St. Lubin; nor do I suppose he will ever put it in the Power of this Gentleman to make a Second Attempt on his Life, in the infamous Manner represented in Monsieur de Corcelle's Letter of the 5th November last, which has already been forwarded to you. My Superiors apprehending from Monsieur de Corcelle's leaving us so suddenly, that his coming to us at all may have been a Scheme of Monsieur de St Lubin's to get at a Knowledge of what we were doing here, has induced me to be thus particular with respect to him; and I beg Leave to assure you, Gentlemen, that he has not received the least Intelligence of Consequence during his Residence in the Factory: Indeed it appears to me, that his fole Motive for running to the English was to fave his Life; and his Reason for quitting them was, as he explained the Matter, to convince his Friends in France that he remained no longer under the English Protection than was absolutely necessary for that

The Honourable the President and Council, in a Letter dated the 20th, acquainting me they have received Information that the Durbar had actually agreed by a written Instrument to put the French in Postession of Choul, but that the Sunnud had not been issued, I made the strictest Enquiry into the Truth thereof, and have received Assurances from the Person whose Province it is to draw out all Sunnuds, that no Orders have been issued for that Purpose, nor did he believe the Durbar had any Intention of the Kind, at least until they should be convinced that the French would assort them ample Assistance; neither did he believe there was any Agreement entered into between Monsieur St. Lubin and the Durbar, and if there was any fuch he was totally ignorant thereof. It therefore appears to me, that the Writing alluded to by my Superiors can be no other than the private Treaty between Monsieur St. Lubin and Nanah Furnese, of which your Honour, &c. were informed under the 29th November. I make no Doubt that Nanah, in order to carry his ambitious Views into Execution, would readily give the French the above-named Place, yet I cannot think he will be to weak as to do it until the required Affistance arrives.

My Superiors likewise mention that they had teceived Intelligence of a French Gentleman having landed at Choul, and proceeded to Poona. This Perion, who proves to be a Monsieur le Roy, arrived here the 8th or 9th instant; but I cannot pretend to say what may be his real Motive for coming hither; he was dispatched by Monsieur St. Lubin in August last, as was then given out by him, with Orders to Monsieur Belicombe, though I have since learnt that his real Frrand was to raise Money at Pondicherry in the Name of Monsieur St. Lubin, with which he was to have purchased a Cargo for this Market; it appears, however, that he was disappointed herein, for it is certain he brought no Goods with him to Poona. The Day Nanah Furnese set off for Proonder, he received a Letter from the Soubadar of Choul, acquainting him with the Arrival of Two I rench Vessels; and that Application

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 13th March 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Haftings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Esquires. Edward Wheler, EAD, and approved, the Proceedings of Yesterday.

Governor General-I have given the Board the Trouble to meet in this Department, although before summoned for the usual Dispatch of Business in the Revenue Council, that I might ay before them a Letter which I received late last Night, figned with the Names of Messieurs Francis and Wheler: Addresses of this Kind I cannot but think in themselves irregular; and I hope Mr. Wheler will excuse me in requesting of him particularly, that when he shall have Occasion to communicate in Writing to me in my public Character, he will be fo good as to make it the Subject of a Letter from hunfelf only. I shall always pay him that respectful Attention which it has ever been my Study and even my Inclination to give to his Advice, his Wishes, and Opinions; but sensible as I am by Experience of the fatal Consequences which sooner or later must attend a Division of the Members of the Administration into decided and confirmed Parties, I should be wanting both in my Duty and common Prudence, if I consented to make myself Instrumental to fuch a Schism formed against myself.

I have read the Letter itself with great Attention; I have compared it with the Orders of the Court of Directors, to which it appears to allude; and clearly recollect the Substance of the Orders already issued for the March of the intended Detachment to Bombay, which Messieurs Francis and Wheler in their Letter mention it as their Opinion should be immediately countermanded; but I cannot perceive their Connection. The Orders from the Court of Directors particularly quoted by Meslicurs Francis and Wheler, lose their real Meaning by that partial Quotation; I shall therefore iere repeat them at large, fo far as they relate to the Proposition grounded upon them; they are as ollows: "Though that Treaty is not upon the Whole so agreeable to us as we could wish, still we are resolved strictly to adhere to it on our Parts. You must therefore be particularly vigilant whilst Ragoba is with you, to prevent him from forming any Plan against what is called the Ministerial Party at Poona; and we hereby politively order you not to engage with him in any Scheme whatever for retrieving his Assairs, without the Consent of the Governor General and Council, or Court of Directors." These Words imply an Authority, equal by the Construction of them, to an express rder to engage with Ragoba in any Scheme or Plan for retrieving his Affairs, which shall not be rmed against what is called the Ministerial Party at Poona, and which shall have obtained the onlent of the Governor General and Council, or the Court of Directors. As the Proposal made for immediately countermanding the Orders already figned for the March of the intended Detachment to Bombay, is declared to be founded on the Principle which influenced the above Orders, I must request, that the Orders particularly alluded to may be shewn, and if they shall appear to narrefuch a Tendency I will willingly consent to their Repeal.

Having attentively considered the particular and positive Instructions which the Court of Directors have given to the President and Council of Bombay, in the last Paragraph of their Letter of the 4th July 1777 to that Presidency, in regard to their Connections and Engagements with Ragoba, which they have been pleafed to communicate to us in their General Letter received this Day, we think it our Duty to take the earliest Opportunity of submitting to you our Opinion, that as the Court of Directors declare their Resolution to achere strictly to the Treaty concluded with the Marattas by Colonel Upton, and have particularly ordered the President and Council of Bombay to prevent Ragoba from forming any Plan against what is called the Ministerial Party at Poona; every Measure taken or intended to be taken by that Presidency, in conjunction with Ragoba, against the ruling Power at Poona, will stand in direct Violation of the Company's present Orders, and for that Reason, exclusive of all others heretofore urged to the same Effect, ought not to be supported or countenanced by this Government. On the same Principle we beg Leave to submit our Opinion to you, that all the Orders already iffued for the March of the intended Detachment to Bom. bay should be immediately countermanded.

We have taken this Method of communicating our Thoughts to you on a Subject equally important and pressing, as the Meeting of the Board in Council will not in the ordinary Counse take place before Monday next, unless the Contents of this Letter should induce you to think it advisable to summon a Council before that Day.

Calcutta, 12th March 1778. We have, &c.
(Signed) P. Francis,
Edw Wheler.

Mr. Francis-An Objection to the Form in which Mr. Wheler and I thought fit to introduce the Confideration of a Quellion of fuch Importance as that contained in our Letter to the Governor General, appears to me fo very immaterial that I shall make no Reply to it. I leave the Letter to defend and answer for itself: The Court of Directors will judge whether it deserves the Strictures which have been passed upon it.

A Dispute about the Construction of Words might be endless; I will therefore not enter into it, but content myself with stating what I think the true Sense and Meaning of the Company's present Orders; every Member of the Board will judge for himself: It appears to me that, in the Words quoted by the Governor General, there are Three Declarations on the Part of the Company; the Two First positive, and without any Qualification; the Third, conditional: Their Resolution to adhere to Colonel Upton's Treaty is politive; their Order to the Prefidency of Bombay, to prevent Ragobi from forming any Plan against the Ministerial Party, is also positive: The Third Declaration, which forbids that Prefidency from engaging with him in any Scheme whatever for retrieving his Affairs, is not absolute, but may be departed from, provided they have our Consent, or that of the Court of Directors. The true Question then is, Whether the late Resolutions taken at Bombay, and confirmed by the Approbation of this Board, are or are not a Violation of Colonel Upton's Treaty? and, Whether they do or do not make a Part of a Plan concerted with Ragoba against the Ministerial Party at Poona? In my Opinion they do. The Information given us by the Presidency of Bombay. in their Letter of the 12th December last, of Propositions made by or expected from the Ministerial Party, in favour of Ragoba, appears to be totally without Foundation. Does there ex any one Fact, or the Representation of a Fact, either from Bombay or Poona, subsequent to the First Information, that tends immediately or remotely to confirm or support it? I affirm that them does not. If I am mistaken the positive Proof may be directly produced against me; yet the Refolution taken, and the Orders given on the Receipt of the first Intelligence, and on the Presumption that that Intelligence was well-founded, remain in full Force, and have been partly executed. We have remitted 10 Lacks of Rupees to Bombay; and we have given Orders for forming a De tachment nearly equal to a Brigade, and for their March to and Assembly at Calpee; the final Gr ders for their March from thence to Bombay are not yet issued, but every preparatory Step is taken, and I take for granted the Battalions are now on their March from their respective Stations to Calpee. These are the Orders which, as Mr. Wheler and I meant, should be countermanded According to my Understanding, the whole Measure stands in direct Opposition to the plain Seule and Meaning of the Court of Directors, expressed in their Letter now before us. I have acquitted myself of the Duty which belongs to my Station, in contributing to bring the Question again under the Confideration of the Board, which I apprehend I am warranted in doing by the Instructions to ceived Yesterday, and must leave the Determination of it to the Sense of the Majority.

Mr. Wheler—Considering as I do that the Orders already issued for the assembling of Six Battery lions at Calpee, with the further Design of proceeding to Surat, Bombay, or Poona, are in direct Contradiction to the Orders of the Court of Directors, it became my Duty to promote a further Confideration of those Orders, and if possible to prevent their being carried into Execution.

nagine a Letter, addressed to the Governor General jointly with Mr. Francis, whose Opinion is well nown to have concurred with my own upon this Subject, would have more Force and Efficacy with e Ge Frior Geheral than my fingle Application: But I am forry to find it has had the contrary heet; and if I could flatter myself that the Mode now recommended to me by the Governor would the Means of uniting our Opinions, I should be very ready to adopt the Measure. I have done my Duty, in joining with Mr. Francis in an Address to the Governor; and I have no Doubt but will be considered as such by those who are ultimately to judge of the Transaction.

Mr. Barwell—If the Object of the present Question, agitated by a Letter to the Governor General, to prevent the Interpolition of this Government in such political Measures as may arise in the West de of India; and under any Circumstances whatever proposes to decline giving the Presidency of ombay such Aid as may be necessary for its Support, I will venture to affirm, that it is not consistent ith any Orders of the Company now received, nor confiftent with found Policy.

The Resolutions that have already passed, for an effectual Aid and Support of the Bombay Gornment, do not necessarily involve us in any Measures that may not be consistent with those Reso-The Defence and Support of one of the Company's Settlements, and the giving them the eans of being equal to any Occasions which may possibly call forth the Exertion of our Military rength, cannot be imputed to us as a Breach of the Treaty of Poona, or a Contradiction of any the Injunctions proceeding from the Company. In the Vote that authorizes the Bombay Governnt to take a Part in the Scenes at the Poona Durbar, the ultimate Object of them is the Tranllity of India, and to secure our Government from Designs clearly apparent to have originated the Faction at Poona, for the Introduction of the natural Enemies of our Nation, the French.

Measures that have been resolved do not in my Opinion warrant a Deduction of the Conseconnect that are imputed: They profess an entire different Object; and I hope the Public will so far adicate the Votes of the Majority, as to give them that Degree of Credit so solemn an Act merits. The National Interests can only be my Pursuit, and in Support of the Bombay Government Security Peace to all our Possessions, I adhere to my former Opinion given on this Subject, and am infirmed in them by a Review of the precarious State of Parties at the Piona Durbar. When ce the Blow has fallen upon Bombay, the greatest Exertions on our Part will possibly fail to restore Splendor of the English Government.

Governor General.—Mr. Barwell has so fully vindicated and explained the late Resolutions of the pard, that he has left me nothing more to add, but that as the Objects of those Resolutions are actly conformable to the Company's Orders, so also was the Means. We have not authorized, nor 1 aft is it necessary to declare that we never will authorize, the Presidency of Bombay to engage in any an against what is called the Ministerial Party at Poona, while the Treaty subsists inviolate on their t. A Plan was suggested to us by the President and Council of Bombay, which had for its Object Means to engage in a Plan for retrieving the Affairs of Ragoba, in conjunction with the inisterial Farty at Poona, and at their Invitation: The declared Object of the Resolution for sending Military Reinforcement to Bombay, was, as it is expressed in our Letter of the 23d February to t Presidency, to grant them the most essectual Support in our Power, but has no kind of Relation, her direct or implied, to a Violation of the Treaty formed with the Ministers at Poona. I am linst the Motion for countermanding the Orders issued for the March of the intended Detachment

Resolved, That the Orders for the March of the Detachment from the first Brigade, be not counmanded.

A E N DIX,

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 23d of March 1778.

HE Governor General having proposed the following Letter to be written to the President and Council at Bombay, it was circulated by his Order for the Sentiments of the Members of the Gentlemen, In the late Dispatches received from the Honourable Court of Directors by the Ship Belborough, were furnished with a Copy of their General Letter to your Presidency, dated the 4th July, and ncluding with the following Paragraph. REP. VI. Hh " 65. Although

- " 65. Although we cannot but agree to the Protection that you have given to Ragoba, confidering " the Connection that you have had with him, by which we must suppose the Company benefited
- yet we are under some Apprehensions that the Marattas will think it a Breach of the Treasy en-
- tered into with them by Colonel Upton; for though that Treaty is not upon the Whole so agreeable to us as we could wish, still we are resolved strictly to adhere to it on our Parts. You must therefore
- 66 be particularly vigilant whilft Ragoba is with you, to prevent him from forming any Plan against
- what is called the Ministerial Party at Poona; and we hereby positively order you not to engage "with him in any Scheme whatever in retrieving his Affairs, without the Consent of the Governor
- "General and Council of the Court of Directors, at the same Time we think common Humanity
- will warrant us in giving you Orders to protect his Person from Violence, if any such Attempts,

" should be made by the Partizans of the Ministers."

We have given this Extract at full Length, because we shall make it the Ground-work of our Instructions on that Part of it which restrains you from forming any Engagements with Ragoba without our Confent.

Although Two Years are past since the Conclusion of the Treaty made by Colonel Upton, yet it does not appear that One Article of it has been accomplished, except those which contain the Declaration of Peace between the Company and Marattas; and these, from the Inefficacy of the rest, and from the dangerous Connection which has been formed by one of the ruling Members of the Maratta State and the French, stand on so insecure a Footing, that we can place no Reliance upon them: We think it neither confistent with good Policy nor with our public Duty, to suffer the Interests of our Employers to remain longer in this State of Suspence and Alarm; nor the Obligation of the National Faith to be made the Instrument of a Policy, which aims at the Ruin and Extripation of the British Influence in India, without making fuch Efforts as our Means will afford, and the Treaty will allow, to remove the former, and frustrate the latter.

Your late Advices contain no Grounds for any rational Expectation or Conclusion, but that the Distractions and Weakness of the actual Administration at Poona were so ripe for a Change, as to make it probable that some great Event will have taken Place before you can receive this Letter; and the Objects of it anticipated or precluded, by your own Application of the Advantages which may have been presented to you, to the more permanent Security of our common Interests.

Yet as the Reverse is probable, we shall proceed to give you such Instructions and Authorities for your Guidance, as are necessary; on the Supposition, that the same Administration remains, and that the Treaty continues on the same Footing as that on which it has shoot for three Two Years past.

1st. We direct, That you demand immediate Possession of a Country of Three compleat Lacks of Rupees, near or adjoining to Broach, conformable to, and in the Manner provided by, the 5th Article of the Treaty: But as the Execution of this Article has been hitherto suspended by the Difputes which have arisen between you and the Ministers, concerning the Interpretation of the original Words of the Treaty, Jemma Caumil, which are rendered by the Word complete, in Colonel Upton's English Draft of it.

Although we must regard the Advantage taken by the Ministers in this Instance as disingenuous; yet as a Proof of our Resolution to abide by the strict Letter of the Treaty, even against the evident Spirit and natural Construction of it, and against our own ascertained Intentions, we direct, that if on Enquiry, you shall learn that the technical Meaning of the Words Jemma Caumil is such as the Ministers have ascribed to it, and such as under that Interpretation will justify them in their Application of it to the Value of the Lands offered by them in virtue of the 5th Article of the Treaty, although estimated by you only at 2,10,000 Rupees, you do accept the same as a full Performance of that Article: But if it shall appear to you, on valid Authority, that the Words Jemma Caumil mean in their official Acceptation what their natural Construction implies, a complete Rent, or a Rent equal to the estimated Sum, you will in such Case insist on the Performance of the 5th Article of the Treaty, conformably to this Interpretation: And if in either Case the Ministers shall refuse to comply with your Demand, we direct that you declare their Refusal to be a Violation of the Treaty.

2d. We direct that you demand immediate Payment of the Sum of Twelve Lacks of Rupees due by the 6th Article of the Treaty, or of fo much of it as still remains unpaid; and that the Purgunnah of Jambooseer be thereupon restored to the Ministers, unless you shall have accepted of the same as an Assignment, under such Engagements as shall have absolved them from the literal Performance of that Article, and those Engagements have been fulfilled on their Part; and if they shall refuse to comply with the Demand so made to them, that you declare their Refusal to be a Violation of the Treaty.

3d. We direct, That you keep Possession of the Purgunnahs of Chickley and Corial, the Town of Veriow, the Three Villages of the Purgunnah of Chureassy, and the Village of Batta Gang, which were ceded to the Company by Futteh Sing Guicawar, fince the Ministers have failed in producing the Proofs that Futteh Sing did not possess Power or Authority to make such "

We direct, That you cause a Remonstrance to be unide to the Ministers against the Countenance afforded by them to the Chevalier St. Lubin; against the Engagements formed between him and Nanna Furnecie; and against the Grant or the Port of Choul made to him, or to the French Nation Chrough him, if you shall have obtained to set sfactory Information, either that such a Grant has been actually made, or that the Lords of Cifice only are wanting to render it comte; though the Grant without, these Forms may be equally effectual to the French, and equally agerous to us; which appears to be the Case, from the Intelligence contained in Mr. Mostyn's ter of the 24th of January last.

Although we do not infift upon any positive Right to demand the Dismission of the Chevalier St.

bin, nor the Exclusion of the French from the Port of Choul; yet we have a Right to require nowledge of the Intentions of the Ministers in regard to these Points, so far as they respect Treaty of Peace subsisting between the Maratta State and the British Government in dia.

We therefore desire, That you will demand from the Ministers, a clear and satisfactory Explana-of their Intentions; and that you declare to them, that we shall take such Measures acdingly as Prudence shall dictate, for the future Safety of the Company's Interests and Possessions monitted to our Charge.

We recommend it to you to obtain if possible a Copy of the Engagements entered into by anna Furneese with the Chevalier St. Lubin, and a Knowledge of the Measures which may have the taken for their Execution. We cannot view this Intrigue without feeling the most alarming Appendions of the Confequences: In Effect, this is the sole Motive of all the late Measures taken for Support of your Presidency. We regard the Marattas as the only native, and the French as only foreign Power in India, capable of effecting the Influence which the British Nation has nured in it: The former were prevented from giving us any immediate or effectual Trouble, by ir internal Distractions, and the Inequality of their Numbers to the Effect of our Discipline; latter, by their Want of Territorial Property, or an Alliance which might supply it. An Alliance formed between them would at once relieve all their mutual Wants, and afford them all Requisites to dispute with us on equal Terms the Dominion of India, which we at present in a egree possess without a Rival. By timely Provisions, and a spirited Negociation, it may be preinted; but if it is once suffered to take Essect, by the Admission of a French Force into the faratta State, which may be the Work of a sew Months, all our Essorts may prove insufficient defeat it, and the whole Empire become the Theatre of War between Two European Nations, icked by their respective Allies, with the same Calamities attending it, which we formerly expended in the Carnatic; but rendered more dreadful by the superior Magnitude of the 5th. We have informed the Peshwa and Ministers of our Intentions to send a military Force for be Defence of the Company's Possessions on your Side of India; and have desired that they will be the necessary Orders, both for their safe Passage and such Assistance as they may require on e March; affuring them, that the strictest Orders will be given to the Officer commanding this rce, to conduct himself in every Respect in a Manner suitable to the Peace and Friendship which we been established between the Maratta State and ours; and that we are resolved most rigidly adhere to the Letter of the Treaty, and to maintain the Peace intended by it.

These Assurances we desire you will cause to be repeated, and that you will make the same Requi-ion for a free Passage and Assistance to our Troops.

6th. While Saccaram Baboo and Nana Furneess continue to hold the Administration, and adhere cerally to the Treaty to which they are Parties, we recommend and enjoin the same literal Adherence it on your Parts.

This Obligation will remain in equal Force, if a Change of Government should take place, and the new Members of it shall declare the State to be bound by the Treaty, and pledge their own faith to it; but if the present or future Members of the Administration shall either directly infringe the Treaty, or permit it to be infringed by Persons acting under their Authority, or shall refuse to fulfil the Conditions of it, we, as authorized by the Company, do invest you with Authority to form new Alliance with Ragoba, and to engage with him in any Scheme which you shall deem expedient and fafe for retrieving his Affairs. The like Authority we have already given you, in the Case of your receiving a formal Invitation to that Effect from the First Minister, Saccaram Baboo, in our Letter of the 2d February: We at the same Time recommended certain specific Advantages, which In such an Occasion we were of Opinion ought to be required as a Compensation for the Company's interposition; but under every Circumstance, we recommended to you in the most earnest Manner no make the Establishment of a lasting Peace, which can only be effected by Conditions of reciprocal Advantage with the Maratta Government, and a total Exclusion of the French Influence, Interest, and Property, from the Maratta Government and Country, your fole general Objects, as they are

7th. We do not mean however to preclude you from any Advantages which it may be possible to obtain by Negociation, though we instruct you to be bound by the Treaty, in case the new Members of the Maratta State shall declare themselves bound by that Treaty, and shall pledge their own Faith to it. But as a Change in the Administration at Poona will probably enable you to gain political Advantages highly beneficial to the Company and to the general Interests of our Nation, and to amend the Defects in our present Engagements, we leave it to you to pursue such a Policy as Circumstances shall warrant, independent of any particular Interest of Ragonaut Row, whom you must regard in the great political Objects of our Government as simply meriting our Consideration, and not necessarily connected or blended with them.

To Mahah Rajah Modjee Bhoosila: Written 22d February 1778.

Thave received most authentic Intelligence from different Channels, that the French are now carrying on Intrigues at Poona; partly with a View of forming an advantageous Alliance for their own Nation, and partly with a View of destroying the Friendship which has for some Time substituted between the English and Maratta Governments. I have likewise learnt that the French Agent St. Lubin has met with great Encouragement from some of the Chiefs; that a Treaty has actually been concluded with him, and the valuable Port of Choul granted to the French, which is only a few Coss distant from Bombay. The Grant of this Port not only marks an Indisposition towards us, but puts into the Hands of the French an Arsenal where they may collect military Stores, and make Preparations for attacking our Possessions when we are unawate of their Designs. I who have the Superintendance of the whole English Force in India have nothing to fear from the Exertions of a Nation who are Insants in Strength in India, and who must transport every Soldier they have to bring into the Field from a distant Country, and over a wide Ocean; and the Conduct of such of the Maratta Chiefs as may have joined the French in Preference to the English Interests, excited my Pity for their Want of Wisdom rather than my Anger for their Presumption. It is my Duty however to guard against the future Essess of their Intrigues; for if I permit the Encinies of the King of England and the Company to gather Strength, though my own Nation is too strong to suffer in its Interests from any Thing they can do, the Lives of many Men may be facrificed in repelling Attacks for which we might not be prepared in one Part of our Dominions, though we should have more than sufficient Force on this Side of India to punish our Enemies for whatever Loss our Government might suffer from such Disturbances.

For these Reasons I have resolved to send a strong Military Force to reinsforce our Settlement at Bombay; and have directed a large Detachment with a well-appointed Artillery, and commanded by experienced Officers, to assemble at Calpee, that they may be ready to march towards Bombay: There are Two Roads by which they may march, one by Soubah Malwah and the other through Berar. The Road through Soubah Malwah is the shortest, but I have not yet formed any Friendship with the Rulers of the Countries situated on that Road; and as my Enemies are your Enemies, and our Wishes in all Things the same, I have resolved that my Troops shall pass through Berar in their Way to Bombay; that by this Means our Friendship may be declared to all the World, and that the Seeds of an Alliance between the English and you, which has long been both my Desire and yours, may be sown. The Detachment will march in less than a Month from this Time, by which Time I have no Doubt you will have given Orders for their free Passage through your Country, and have tent Information of your having given such Orders to Calpee. It will be better if you send a trusty Person, and Part of your own Army, to accompany ours. I affure myself you will give me this Proof of your Friendship, that the whole World may be a Witness of its Sincerity, but as it is necessary to be certain of your Consent before the Troops have proceeded too far, I desire that if you should not chuse to comply with this Request, you will give Notice of it to the Commander of the Detachment, who will accordingly take another Road. But this I will not suppose.

To Dewagur Pundit: Do.

Of the same Tenor as the foregoing, and requesting he will employ his Influence with his Master, to obtain his ready Compliance for the March of the Troops through his Country.

To Modajee Bhoofila: Written 25th February.

The Day before Yesterday I dispatched a Letter to you on the Subject of Assairs here, and requesting your Permission for a Detachment of English Forces to march through Berar in their Way to Bombay; a Duplicate of which Letter accompanies this.

Since that Time I have had further Conversations with your Vackeel Beneram Pundit, who has warmly distinated me from sending the Forces by the Route of Malwah, as highly inconsistent with the Friendship subiniting between us, and given me the sollest Assurances that you will, with the greatest Pleasure, comply with my Request, and will afford the Detachment every possible Assistance, by supplying them with Provisions, &c. and will send a trusty Person with a Part of your Army, to accompany is to the Place of its Destination.

I have in consequence written to Colonel Leslie, the Commander of these Forces, to repair with all Expedition to Calpee, and from thence by Bundlecund to Berar, and proceed to Bombay; and that will receive every Kind of Affalance from you in his March. I request that immediately on Reipt of this Letter you will write to Colonel Lessie at Calpee, signifying to him your Comiance with the above Request; and will at the same Time issue the necessary Orders to your facers.

I have been induced to act thus from the firmest Conviction of the Sincerity of your Friendship, d full Considence in the Assurances given me by your Vackeel Beneram Pundit; but should you vertheless not think proper to give your Consent, you will give immediate Intimation of your Sentients to Colonel Lessie, who will in consequence take some other Route.

To the Vizier: Written 3d March.

I have received repeated and authentic Intelligence that the French are now carrying on fecret Ingues at Poona with a View to form an advantageous Alliance for their own Nation, to enable them acquire Power and Dominion in Hindostan; and also that their Agent St. Lubin has met with that Encouragement from some of the Maratta Chiefs. As there can be no Doubt of the Use they ould make of any Force they might be suffered to acquire, namely, to attack the English and their llies, it is incumbent on us to apply an immediate Remedy. Your Excellency's own Interest, in-pendant of every Motive of Friendship or Alliance, requires your hearty Concurrence in this Meare. It is well known that the French can never attack Bengal by Sea with any Prospect of Advantage, r would they think of fo warm an Attempt: Should they be suffered to form Alliances, and to come formidable, they would undoubtedly march from the Westward, and make their first Atapt against your Excellency's Dominions. To prevent the Possibility of this, and to ensure our ture Peace and Tranquillity, I have determined to fend a large military Force to reinforce the Gornment of Bombay, and to enable it to crush immediately the French Power in that Quarter. For s Purpofe, I have directed Colonel Leslie to march without Delay at the Head of a large Detachent, and well appointed Artillery, to Bombay. Mr. Middleton will more fully explain to you the iture of the Plan, and will make Application to you for your Allistance and Support of it. I ve no Doubt but your Excellency, knowing that the future Prosperity of your own Dominions do entially depend on our vigorous Opposition against the common Enemy, will cheerfully comply thevery Application which that Gentleman shall make to you for Assistance from your own Bride, or any other which it is in your Power to furnish.

To the Peishwa: Written 23d March.

In consequence of repeated and circumstantial Intelligence, of hostile Designs forming against the impany. Settlements on the other Side of India, I have judged it expedient to detach a Body of oops from the Army for their Desence. As the March of the Detachment may probably lie ough a Part of the Maratta Dominions, I must request you will give the necessary Orders for allow, them a free Passage, and direct such Assistance to be given them as they may require in their rute.

The commanding Officer is strictly enjoined to observe such a Conduct in all Respects, as is slistent with the Peace and Friendship substituting between your Government and the Company. I take this Occasion of repeating my Assurances of the Determination of this Government to adhere upulously to all the Conditions of the Treaty, and to maintain the Peace inviolable as long it shall be in our Power to maintain it; and I slatter myself that you will likewise act on the same inciples.

To the Rajah of Boondlecund: Written 1st April.

Having lately come to the Resolution to dispatch a considerable Body of Forces for the Reinforce-ent of the Government of Bombay, which will march by the Way of Calpee, through a Part of ur Territory, I am to request, that you will pay Attention to all such Applications as may be ade to you by Colonel Lessie, the Commander of the Detachment; and that you will afford him the Assistance as he may stand in need of, by supplying him with Provisions and other Necessaries. I can have no Doubt, from the Friendship which subsists between us, that you will be glad to may your Attachment to the Company, by a ready Compliance with my Desire, and lave therefore ected Colonel Lessie to apply to you in all Cases where your Assistance can be of Use to him; he slikewise received Orders to observe the strictest Regularity in his March through your Territories; at so your Subjects may not suffer any Inconveniencies therefore, but on the contrary be benefited it. I could wish that you would send a trusty Person to attend Colonel Lessie on your Part through ur Country, to receive his Applications; and in case any Stragglers from his Army should commit sorders, to represent it to him, and procure Redress—For the rest knowing me, &c.

To Beneram Pundit: D'.

I enclose you Letters to your Master Maha Rajah Modajee Bhoosilah and Dewan Dewagurt Pundit, which I request you will forward to them with all possible Expedition, and accompanying them by Letters from yourfelf, for which Purpose I send you Copies for your Information.

If you have finished the Business for which you went to Benares, I wish you to proceed without Delay and join Colonel Leslie, who is very desirous of seeing you, and of consulting with you personally on many Points relative to his March, which can be much better effected by an Interview than by any other Means.

To Beneram Pundit: Written 4th April.

I have received your Letter informing me of your Arrival at Benares: I understand by the Letters written by you to your Brother, that Colonel Leslie has desired you to go to him to Cora, and that you have been much alarmed by the Reports communicated to you from Dondo Pundit; I before defired your Brother to inform you of my Wish, which I now repeat; that whenever you shall have finished the Business which was the original Cause of your Visit to Benares, you will proceed to Colonel Leslie, and affist him with your Advice and such Communications as may be useful to him, until he shall have commenced his March. Dondo Pundit has no Authority for any Intelligence which he may pretend to have received from Calcutta; and you too well know the inventive Dispositions of the People of this Place to give Credit to Rumours originating from them.

I have already communicated to you, in a confidential Manner, all that was necessary for you to know, and have told you, that the Object of the present Undertaking was to reinforce and strengthen the Presidency of Bombay, and to enable them to frustrate any Designs which may be formed against the Peace and Rights of the Company on that Side of India: On this Subject I have written more fully to Mr. Thomas Graham and to Colonel Leslie; from either of whom, wherever you may be when you receive this Letter, you will understand it.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, 23d March 1778.

THE Draft of the Letter proposed by the Governor to be written to the President and Council at Bombay, was returned, with the following Minutes from Meffrs. Francis and Wheler:

Mr. Francis-As the intended Letter to Bombay professes Two general Principles in which I concur; First, to make the Company's Orders of the 4th of July 1777 the Ground-work of our present Instructions: Secondly, to make the Establishment of a lasting Peace our sole general Object; I have only to confider how far the Instructions contained in this Letter are consistent with those Principles, with one another, with the Measures already resolved on, and with the Motives originally assigned for those Measures.

The Third Paragraph states as preliminary Facts, that no One Article of the Treaty has yet been accomplished, except the Declaration of the Peace; and that a dangerous Connection has been formed by One of the ruling Members of the Maratta State and the French.

From thence a general Conclusion is drawn, that we are bound by Policy and Duty to make such Efforts as our Means will afford, and as the Treaty will allow, to remove the Suspence and Alarm of our present Situation, and to frustrate a Policy which aims at our Ruin and Extirpation.

On this Paragraph it is sufficient to observe that we continue in the peaceable Possession of Salsette, also of the Maratta Share of the City and Purgunnah of Broach.

That the compleat Execution of the 5th Article of the Treaty has only been retarded by a Difpute about the literal Meaning of the Words Kamil Jumma, or in Effect, whether those Words mean a nett Revenue of 2,10,000 Rupees, or Three Lacks.

In our Letter of the 18th of August last, we said we understood the Term to mean a gross Revenue, which I think decides the Dispute against us.

At all Events we retain Chickley, Corial, and several other Places, and enjoy the Revenues thereof as Pledges, until the Sunnuds for the Country of Three Lacks shall be made out.

That the Sixth Article of the Treaty is also executed by the Marattas, since they have given and we have accepted of Jambooseer, as a Mortgage to be held until the Revenues collected from thence shall have liquitated the Debt of Twelve Lacks.

These important Concessions having been made and sulfilled on the Part of the Marattas, it seems put and reasonable that some Sainfaction should be given them on our Side; particularly that Ragoba hould be removed from Bombay with a proper Provision for his Establishment in a private Station. n our Letter of the 18th August, we were unanimous in considering his Continuance at Bombay as in insuperable Bar to the Completion of the Treaty.

The Second supposed Fact on which the present Measures are built, is introduced as usual, without Proof; viz. "That a Connection has been formed by Nana Furneese with the French, and that it aims at our Ruin and Extirpation." If any Negociations have taken place with the French, we ay trace them to their Source in the Protection given to Ragoba; his Residence at Bombay; and the butinued Intrigues between him and that Presidency. The true Way to descat the Views of the rench is to give the Marattas a folid Proof of our good Faith by difmissing Ragoba. While the Prender to their Government is supported by us, we give them too much Cause for looking to France or Affistance. The present Measures, if carried into Execution, will leave them without a Choice. s for making use of such Efforts as our Means will afford, and as the Treaty will allow, it is a Con-adiction in Sease without saving Appearances. The Efforts in Question are hollile, which a Treaty

Peace and Friendship cannot suppose or allow of.
The First Instruction orders a peremptory Demand of a Country of Three complete Lacks, and leaves to the Presidency of Bombay to determine, whether Caumil Jumma means complete or not. In our etter of the 18th of August, we determined that it signified gross. Is it meant that we should go to Far for the Difference, while we have Chickley, Corial, Veriow, &c. in our Hands as a Pledge for the curity of the Whole?

The Second Information August, we determined that it fignified grofs. Is it meant that we should go to curity of the Whole?

The Second Instruction orders a peremptory Demand of the Twelve Lacks which the Marattas ssented to pay us towards the Expences of the War. Is it meant that we shall renew the War the immediate Payment of this whole Sum, while the Revenues of Jambooseer are mortgaged

The Third Instruction decides, that Futty Sing had a Right to make the Cessions mentioned in be Seventh Article of the Treaty, and orders the Presidency of Bombay to keep Possession of them all Events. This Point seems to me very disputable, and the Decision of it in our Favour,

Ty likely to make the Establishment of a lasting Peace impossible.

The Fourth Instruction supposes the Fort of Choul to have been granted to the French. An Affection of the same Nature was introduced into the Debates on the 23d of February; and upon Enquiry was acknowledged to be without Proof. The Remonstrance against Monsieur St. Lubin to be accompanied with the Demands of a clear and fatisfactory Explanation from the Ministers their Intentions, and a Declaration that we shall take such Measures accordingly as Prudence shall their Answer should not be satisfactory to Presidency of Bombay, or to the Governor General and Mr. Barwell?

In the Fifth Instruction, a supposed Intrigue of Nana Furneese with Monsieur St. Lubin, is ted "as the fole Motive of all the late Measures we have taken for the Support of the Presidency of Bonbay." The Resolution of the 2d of February, from which all the late Measures have ginated was, "that our Sanction should be given to the Plan which the President and Council of Bombay had agreed to form with the Maratta Government." Now it is not discounted to the property of the president and council of Bombay had agreed to form with the Maratta Government." atted, that no such a Plan has ever been formed, and that Mr. Lewis's Account of Proposals made him in the Name of the Ministers, in favour of Ragoba, was founded on some Fallacy, and and produced no Effect of any Kind; yet the Measures taken on the Presumption that such a an had been formed, are adhered to, and now imputed to another Motive; that is, the first Ground iling, another must be assumed.

The Fifth Instruction says, that we have applied to the Peshwa for a safe Passage for our Army rough their Dominions. Suppose they should refuse it: Is it meant that the Detachment shall arch through their Territories without their Permission, or without their Consent? If it be, this the alone is a Declaration of War, which it is in vain to attempt to quality, by any Affurances of r pacific Intentions? Such Language, united with fuch Measures, is an Insult to Common inse; and much too plain, in my Opinion, to deceive either the Marattas or the Court of

The Sixth Instruction leaves it to the Presidency of Bombay to judge whether or no the reaty is directly or indirectly infringed. If they determine that it is, they are at once "vested teaty is directly or indirectly infringed, with Ragoba, and to engage with him in any Scheme with Authority to form a new Alliance with Ragoba, and to engage with him in any Scheme which they shall deem expedient and safe for retrieving his Affairs." In the present Temper Disposition of that Presidency, I presume there cannot be a Doubt in the Breast of any of the Use they will immediately make of this extraordinary Power; or that they will not forward to avail themselves of it before it can be recalled.

The Seventh Instruction supposes the Probability of a Change in the Administration of Poona, om which more extensive Advantages may be derived: In this Case it is lest to them "to pursue such Policy as Circumstances shall warrant, independent of any particular Interests of Ragoba." the preceding Article they are authorized to engage with Ragoba in any Scheme for retrieving his ffairs: In the present Article they are instructed to gain as many Advantages as they can without y Concern for his Interests. Exclusive of the manifest Contradiction between the Two Instructions, and the hazardous as well as disgraceful Consequences of not pursuing some One determinate System, apprehend that we are not warranted in giving such unlimited Power to the Presidency of Bombay: heir Measures ought to be constantly subordinate to our Councils, and successively directed by them.

A P P E N D I X; Nº 41.

the Peace of India, perhaps the Fate of the British Empire in this Part of the World, is involve in the Question, which we leave to their exclusive Decision. Are we justified in relinquishing or Jurisdiction, even for a Moment, over such Questions?

Upon the Whole it appears to me, that the real Tendency of this Letter, notwithflanding any qualifying Expressions interspersed through it, is to provoke a War with the Marattas; that it seeks for Causes of Office where none exist; that the Language it holds to the Marattas, is peremptory and hostile, as discover used but when a Rupture is predetermined; that the Causes of Complaint on which it urges a Quarrel are trisling and exaggerated; that the Facts it refers to, are either clearly disproved, or taken for granted without Evidence; and that the Terms of the Instructions contained in it, are in sone Phices ambiguous, in others contradictory. Whether they are or are not confishent with the pacing Resolutions, so clearly and positively expressed by the Court of Directors in the Letter of the 4th of July, must be left to their Judgment.

Mr. Wheler—Having already differed to and protefled against any Interference on our Part between the contending Powers of the Maratta Government, and declared my Disapprobation of the Armament now under Orders for Bombay, and the Purposes for which it is to be employed, and magneral to all the Measures proposed to be taken by the Majority of this Board relating to the Marittas, I shall not think it necessary in future to enter into a particular Discussion of any Preposition which may be made in the Course of our Correspondence with the Presidency of Bombay, by the Governor General or Mr. Barwell, as they have taken the whole Responsibility on themselves, and must be answered for the Consequence of the Measures already resolved on, and such as may of Necessary follow. On the present Occasion I shall content myself with making some short Remarks on some Party of the Diast of the Letter to Bombay, laid before us by the Governor General, and leave the Whole to be more fully discussed and decided on by our Superiors.

I agree with the Governor General, in wishing to make the 65th Paragraph of the Company's Letter to Bombay the Ground of our Instructions to the President and Council there; but I differ with him, in thinking this ought to be extended, as far only as they are restrained by it from forming any Engagement with Ragoba without the Consent of this Board. I wish to extend our Instruction to what I deem the Spirit and Meaning of the whole Order, to adhere to the Treaty of Poona made by Colonel Upton, and even in the Protection given to Ragoba, to be careful to avoid what the Maratras may think a Breach of that Treaty; and I am of Opinion that we ought to give the sulfish Weight to that Part which directs, that the Council of Bombay be "particularly vigilant whill," Ragoba is with them, to prevent him from forming any Plan against what is called the Ministerial Party at Poona;" by which the late Resolutions on this Subject, and the present Propositions, and I think entirely condemned.

I am not fusficiently acquainted with the Consequences of the Treaty of Poona to be able to enter into a particular Retutation of what is afferted in the Third Paragraph of the Governor Ceneral's Draft, that no One Article of it has yet been accomplished; but the Court of Directors, who have constant Information from Bombay, do not appear to be possessed with any such Opinion, and include, that they are resolved to adhere strictly to the Treaty on their Parts. With respect to the Consequence to be expected from the French Negociators at Poona, I have already declared my Opinion of them, and how far they ought to be opposed by us: Any Interference on our Part between the contending Parties of the Maratta Government, can only have the Essect of forcing the other Party to unite with the French, and thereby produce that very Consequence which the Governor General proposition guard against, of procuring them a powerful and useful Ally, to enable them to dispute our Deminion in India.

I object to and protefl against the Form and Substance of all Demands to be made by the Presidence of Bombay on the Maratta Government, and to the March of our Troops through their Territoric, and to the Powers proposed to be given to the President and Council of Bombay, to enter into any new Engagements with Ragoba, or to avail themselves of any particular Circumstances, or Change amongst the governing Powers of the Maratta State, as subversive to the Treaty of Poona; a Violition of the Company's Orders lately received; and tending to involve them, and perhaps the British Nation, in a dangerous and most expensive War, which at this critical Period may not be confined to India alone, and which proposes no adequate or reasonable Purpose for incurring so great a Risque.

(Signed)

Edward Wheler.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, 6th April 1778.

The Governor General delivers in the following Answer to Mr. Francis's Objections to the Lettst to the Presidency of Bombay on the 23d March

Governor General—It is not perhaps incumbent upon me to make any Reply to the Minust delivered in by Mr. Francis, objecting to the proposed Draft of a Letter to the Presidency of Bombay, as I conceive that all the Points brought by Mr. Francis as Arguments against the Instructions contained in that Letter, have been fully canvassed in my former Minutes upon the State of the Marratta in relation to the English Government; and I will venture to pronounce, that to an unbiassed Reader, it will be proved by those Minutes, and by the Documents on which the Arguments contained in them are founded, and which stand upon our Records, that the Seeds of a Combination be-

I have repeatedly and in the most formal Manner declared, and I again declare it to be my pinion, that such is the State of Affairs at Poona.

It is unnecessary to seek further for the Causes of the Difference of Opinion in the Members of Board upon the important Questions which have lately been before it. We differ in the Belief the Facts on which our Decision is to be founded. Mr. Francis and Mr. Wheler appear to be total Inaction; Mr. Barwell and myself are for taking some Steps which may secure us against the ect of Intrigues, which we are perfuaded are carrying on at Poona, and we wish at the same Time what we do should be consistent with the Treaty of Poorunder.

shall now proceed to examine the Nature and Force of the Evidence by which I think the Propolitions I have above laid down are supported.

In a Letter from Bombay under Date the 10th May 1777, and entered in our Consultation of the 16th Johe, we are informed of the Arrival of a French Gentleman with his Train, who afterwards turned out to be the Chevalier St. Lubin. We are likewise informed of the high Respect shewn to him by the Durbar at Poona, and of the Suspicion, with the Grounds of it, that the Port of Chowl would be granted by the Ministers to the French. We find that Mahderow Bullob, an Officer of the Government, was appointed to transact the French Business.

In another Letter from Bombay, dated the 21st June 1777, and entered in Consultation of the 18th · August, is the following Paragraph:

We now find that the French Deputy at the Maratta Durbar is no other than the celebrated Monsieur St. Lubin, and not Monsieur St. Laub, as we at first imagined. At his first Audience he was received with a Respect and Ceremony greatly superior to what was paid to our Resident; The Two Ministers themselves, Succaram and Nanah, having gone without the Tent Walls, to The Two Ministers themselves, Succaram and Nanan, having gone without the Tent Wans, to meet him of his alighting from an Elephant provided for him by the Circar, and introduced him into the Durbar; whereas Mr. Mostyn was only received by Two inferior Officers, and with much less Ceremony. We have remonstrated against the Indignity shewn to the Nation by this Distinction shewn to the French, and the Restrictions laid on Mr. Mostyn and his Attendants, so contrary to the Law of Nations, and insisted upon their allowing him the same Privilege and Freedom of Communication as heretofore."

In Consultation the 22d September is entered a Letter from the Bombay Council, enclosing a per obtained by Mr. Mostyn at Poona, from an Englishman in St. Lubin's Suite, said to be the Production of his Secretary's Pen; in which it is stated, that Monsieur de Sartine was the Minister who was entrusted with the Management of the Expedition to India; that he was so much interested its Success as to visit the Ports where the Ships intended for the Expedition lay; that 3,000 Men under the Command of Monsieur Dennas, late Governor of the Isle of France, were originally intended for the Expedition; that St. Lubin was appointed Minister Plenipotentiary to the Maratta Court, and was bound to fend an Express to Europe upon his Arrival; of which, should the Contents be favourable to their Views, the above mentioned Number of Men would be sent, &c.

The next Information in Order of Time which came before us, was Mr. Elliott's Letter, which circulated amongst the Members of the Board on the 1st October, though for the Sake of Secrecy the 2d February. As I mean however this Minute to contain a pretty full Abstract of the Whole of the Evidence of the French Intrigues, and of the high Authority from which they originate, I shall here quote that Part of it which relates to the Objection which I am now writing.

" Having been fortunate enough to obtain fome Intelligence before I left Europe, in which the Interest of the East India Company, and the Influence of Great Britain in India, appear to be 44 deeply interested, I think it incumbent on me to take the earliest Opportunity of communicating it to your Honourable Board; I am concerned at the same Time to be under the Necessity of laying the Facts only before you without having it in my Power to point out the Channel through which the Intelligence was conveyed to me, as my Promife was most particularly taken before I was myself intrusted with it, that I should conceal the Names of the Persons from whom I received the Information: It was not without some Difficulty that I obtained Permission to inform the Governor General and Sir John Clavering of this material Circumstance, and that only upon Condition, that they should not trust it to the Records of the Company, however secret they might be. The Opinions which those Gentlemen must form as to the Authenticity of the Facts REP. VI.

APPENDIX, N'AI

"which I now propose myself the Honour of laying before you, will be a sufficient Justifica of me for addressing you in this Letter.

" It appears, by the Information to which I allude, that Monsieur Sartine, Ministre de la Mata of France, has concerted with Three or Four of the principal Ministers of that Country a Schen-" the Object of which is the total Overthrow of the English Interests in India; that he was sensit " the Force which France could herfelf bring against our Settlements would prove infusficient for " great an Undertaking, and had therefore thought it necessary to the Completion of his Views-66 begin by intriguing with the Country Powers, and by endeavouring to fecure them in the Interest of France in Opposition to those of Britain; that for this Purpose he was resolved to send "Person to India with full Powers, in the Character of Agent; and likewise to send out Person " who in the Information are called Des Exerceurs, to discipline the Natives of India; and a to, " fiderable Quantity of Arms and Military Stores. The Perfon who was nominated to this Office " was deferibed to me as one who had before been in India: He was to go to Pondicherry first, by " to assume no public Character, that he might not be subject to the Suspicions of the English; is furnished with Letters from the Court of France to all the Country Princes of any Note " India, to be used at his own Discretion; he likewise carries out Presents of considerable Value "which he is to distribute as he may judge necessary. The Substance of his Instructions is " follows: To treat with fuch of the Country Powers as he may have Reason to think will mo " readily affift the Views of France, and to form Alliances with them in the Name of the King (" France; to endeavour to persuade the Country Powers to fall upon the English Settlements; a " he is authorized to promife fuch as will accede to his Propotal, the warmest Support of his Nata " fecretly, till Hoftilities are actually commenced, and then openly: He is warned however in I "Instructions, that France is not to take the Lead in the War, but is to come in as an Assista " only. The Person from whom, I learnt these Particulars knew for certain that the Agent saik from Marfeilles in the Beginning of April last, but was unacquainted with his Name, and unal " to inform me for certain what Road he had followed to India, but feemed to be of Opinion in. " he must have passed over to Alexandria, in the Intention of embarking at Suez for India.

"Having informed you of what I venture to fay may be relied on as authentic, it will not be misplaced." &c.

If we had no other Proof of the Authenticity of the Information contained in this Letter, but agreeing so exactly in all the material Facts with the Intelligence transmitted to us from Poona, the Paper I have already mentioned, and in the Letters of Mr. Farmer and Mr. Madgett, entered Consultation the 26th January, I should hold it to be incontrovertible.

The fame Circumstances brought from Europe, and traced in the Capital of the Maratta Empire, upon the same Subject, must be Facts; the Authenticity of Mr. Elliott's Information does no however, singly depend even upon this strong Ground; he takes upon him in his Letter to pronount it to be authentic, and he has communicated to me, as he would have done to Sir Action Claverum had he been alive, which Mr. Elliott thought he was when he drew up the Letter, as will appear from the Terms of it, the Grounds upon which he makes the Declaration; and I now declare the he has not in the smallest Degree stated the Authenticity of his Information more forcibly than he warranted from the Nature of it. It is not therefore in support of Mr. Elliott's Letter, that I make the Comparison between the Intelligence discovered in Europe and at Poona; but it is to examine he tar we should give Credit to those Parts of Mr. Madgett's Letter, which are not corroborated is Mr. Elliott's. If the Parts of his Letter which admitted of Proof are alcertained by that Proof being obtained, we are I think bound to believe that the other Parts of it are equally authentic, support of which we are sensible no Proof could be obtained. The following is an Extract of he Letter:

"I have heard it repeatedly mentioned by different Gentlemen who were there, that there we fome written Inflrument, to one Side of which Nanah fwore by the Cow, and the other Side Mon fieur St. Lubin fwore by the Holy Evangelift; that Nanah, further, kept the Book Monsieur St. Lubin fwore on."

Mr. Farmer in his Letter to Mr. Hornby, an Extract of which is here entered, uses the following Words on the same Subject:

"They all perfectly agree in the Circumstances of the Summons given to attend at Nanah's witness the I reaty. Nanah was sworn by his Bramin, and St. Lubin by his Padre, and Nanah keps the Book."

From the following Extract of our Letter to Bombay, under Date the 20th of October, which is confiderably before the Letters from Mr. Farmer and Mr. Madgett were received by us, it will appear what was the unanimous Opinion of the Board upon the Subject of the French Intrigues. The Words with a Black Stroke under them are in Mr. Francis's Hand Writing. I know not why the a great additional Weight of Evidence, brought before the Board fince that Period, should have made him change his Mind upon this important Subject.

"The Paper of Intelligence obtained by Mr. Mostyn from a Person lately in the Service of Monsteur St. Lubin, and enclosed in your Letter of the 2d of August, has left no room to doubt of the Commission with which he is charged from the Court of France; and the secret Conference which he has been admitted to hold with the Poona Government, too strongly indicate that the manufactural mental admitted to Negociations of a hostile Nature to the Company. Monsteur St. Lubis remains still at the Maratta Court, and may possibly by this Time have entered into Engagements with the Pathwa of a dangerous Tendency to the Company's Establishments; at such a Crisis, therefore, every Circumstance is of Confequence, and we are under great Anxiety to learn the · · Progress of his Negociations.'

I delivered in to the Board on the 2d of February 1778, Extracts from the Persian Correspondence.

The Evidence contained in those Letters appears to me to amount to Proof.

Saccaram Babboo the first Minister, and whose Name is One of the Two affixed to the Treaty, tells us, that Monsieur St. Lubin is come to Poona with the Character of Minister on the Part of the King of France; that he brought a Letter from his Royal Master to the Pundit Putdhaun (that is to the Peshwa) that Friendship is the Object of his Negociation. This Letter is from the first Mini-ster, and established incontrovertibly the Character in which Monsieur St. Lubin came to India. It cannot then be afferted that St. Lubin is an Adventurer. The Nabob of Arcot's Vackeel details to his Master what passed between the French Agent and the Maratta Minister. The whole Letter is worthy of the utmost Attention, but I shall here quote only the following Words:

" Succaram Pundit then faid (to St Lubin) I will appoint some Person to negociate your Business

The same Vackeel mentions the Chevalier St. Lubin's Desire, that 10,000 Sepoys should be raised to be disciplined; the Aumil of Guyaca var mentions the same Circumstance. It must be observed how exactly this agrees with the Information brought by Mr. Elliott from Europe, who fays, "That for this Purpose he (Monsieur Sartine) resolved to send a Person with full Powers to India, in the Character of Agent; and likewife to fend out Persons who in the Information are called Des Exerceurs, to discipline the Natives of India." I will here, for the sake of bringing the whole Subject into one Point of View, introduce an Extract of Mr. Madgett's Letter which has been before quoted.

" Military Stores, 15,000 Musquets, rejected from the King's Service, were spared to him at a " very low Price from the King's Stores, by Means of the Influence of Monsieur de Sartine; Cloth of different Sortments and Colours, with a Quantity proper for Facing, formed also a Part of the 66 Cargo, which, I frequently heard Monsieur de St. Lubin mention, was to clothe the Troops that " might be raifed in India for the Purpose of the Alliance: Having perhaps forgot it in the Owner's " Cargo, he perfuaded an Officer in the Ship to get made and bring out a confiderable Quantity of Buttons; the Device of the Buttons was given by Monsieur de St. Lubin; it is a Fleur de Lys in a Crescent, which probably Monsieur de St. Lubin imagined to be the Maratta Standard, and had therefore intended it as emblematic of the Alliance."

The Audil of Guyacawar writes from Poona upon the Subject of the French Agent, "The Expences are great; how should he be able to make such Presents of himself? From these Circum-

'44 stances it is evident that he is no Impostor."

In Mr. Elliott's Letter are the following Words, " He likewise carries out Presents of considerable Value, which he is to distribute as he may judge necessary."

Dewagur Pundit, the Duan of Moodajee Booflah, writes to me, that an experienced Ambaffador is arrived from France, &c.

In a Letter from Mr. Lewis to the Governor of Bombay, which is recorded in our Consultation the 16th February, we find, that Chokees were placed upon the English Factory; and that none of the English Resident's People could stir without being attended with One or Two; and that the Insolence of the Chokees was carried so far as to have ill treated a Shopkeeper who served the Factory with the common Necessaries of Life: The only Satisfaction which the Durbar would give for an Indignity greater than ever was borne by any Nation, was a Declaration that Nanah Furnesse wanted all Europeans to leave Poona, and that if the English must have a Vackeel there, he thought a Carkoon was enough; we are informed nevertheless, that Monsieur de St. Lubin was closeted with Nannah Furnesse for Three Hours on the same Day.

The Governor and Council of Bombay in their Instructions to Mr. Mostyn, entered in the same Confultation, direct him to obtain a fatisfactory Explanation of the Indignity offered to the Company in the Person of their Resident; and to declare to the Durbar, that if they continue to treat their Refident with the fame Indignity in future, it will be confidered as a Breach of the Treaty, &c.

Mr. Mostyn informs us in his Letter of the 19th January, that he was promised an Answer to his Complaints in I wo Days; on the 13th of January, that he has not only received no Answer to his Complaints, but the Chokies are continued on the Factory.

In Answer to all this, I am told that I take a Fact for granted without Proof: I have stated my Proofs, and I think they are clear and decided, and unless we could fend a Commission to Poona to take the Evidence of the confidential Officers of the Maratta Government, I know not how stronger Proofs could be obtained, and I do not conceive, that upon a political Question stronger could be required. I will quote the Words used by Mr. Francis in a Minute which he circulated on the last December last, from which it will appear what his Opinions were at that Time of the French Defigns.

"In the present Situation of public Affairs, and with the Opinion entertained by every Member of this Board, that the French are meditating Defigns against some Part of the Company's Possessions

" in India, I think we cannot be too watchful in observing their Motions, and taking early Precau. tions against any Attempts they may possibly have in View; whether such Attempts be likely to suc. ceed or not, at this Time every new Appearance on their Part is a just Object of Suspicion."

In the Minute to which I mean this as a Reply, he shews, pretty clearly, that he does not to totally differ with me in Opinion as he would appear to do; for he apologizes for the Protection given by the Marattas to the French. The Apology which he makes for them is, that our Conduct in the Protection of Ragoba has authorized them to feek for Safety in the Arms of our natural Enemy. We do not then differ in the Fact; we only differ in the Causes which gave Rite to the Connection. I shall not now enter into an Argument with Mr. Francis upon the Rectitude of Measures which are past. It will be here sufficient to say, that the Court of Directors made Raggiba's personal Safety an indispensable Condition of their Approbation of the Treaty. It will scarcely be denied, that should he be delivered up to the Ministers, or driven naked and defenceless from under the Protection of the British Flag, his Life must fall a Sacrifice to such Injustice. The Conveyance of Ragonaut Row to Bengal by Sea, has already been under the Consideration of the Board, and proved to be impracticable. Mr. Francis, I cannot doubt, though he has introduced this Sub. ject by Way of Argument, would shudder at the Thought of delivering over a Man, to whom the British Faith has once been pledged, to certain Death. He says, nevertheless, that the true Way to defeat the FrenchViews, is to give the Marattas a solid Proof of our Friendship by dismissing Ragoba. The Connection which he supposes to be formed between the French and the Marattas, and which he makes the Ground-work of this Proposal, might possibly be dissolved by adopting it; but is it should not be dissolved, we should, by an untimely Act of Submission, contrary to Hospitality, contrary to the Instructions of our Superiors, and contrary to Policy, give additional Strength to that Power which has been proved to be in Combination with our natural Enemies, the French. The personal Sasety of Ragoba was an implied Article of the Treaty; no Member of this Board will, I apprehend, stain the British Faith with so soul a Reproach as to suppose it was not: II, however, it was not, the Decision of the Court of Directors has made it so. The Article of the Treaty which relates to his personal Residence, is incompatible with his personal Safety; for n was stipulated, that he should reside in the Heart of the Maratta Dominions. Mr. Francis may argue on this Question, as he has on another, that there is no Proof that his Life would not be fale in the Place allotted for his Residence. I must leave the Decision of this Question to the Convict on which every Man will feel upon it in his own Breast; and shall only say, that should we try the Experiment, and the Proof afterwards come, it must be sealed in Blood. Mr. Fran cis feems to dwell upon an Expression used in the Presace to the Instructions to Bombay. He says, that to make use of such Esforts as our Means will assord, and as the Treaty will allow, is a Contradiction in Sense without faving Appearances. I am forry he should think it worth while to play with Words when deliberating upon the most important Questions which can colve before this Board. It is torturing Words to make them convey a Meaning which they do not suply. The Efforts which our Means will afford must be directed by future Events, by Neccssity, or by Policy. They may be productive of War; but they may be productive of Harmony between the English and Maratta Government: If they should be hostile, it must be upon the Principle of no Treat; of Friendship and Peace existing. The Treaty might allow us to demand the Payment of Twelve Lacks of Rupees for the Expences of the War; it might not however follow, that our The Treaty might allow us to demand the Payment of -Means would allow us to make use of such Efforts as might enable us to enforce the Payment of our Due.

I shall here reply to that Part of Mr. Francis's Minute which alludes to the Fifth Instruction in the Letter to Bombay, because it is connected with the Subject of which I am now treating. The Impression meant to be conveyed by it is, that not having originally approved the Treasy of Poorunder, I was resolved to break it at all Events. Mr. Francis says, that all the late Measures originated from the Resolution of the 2d February; and upon the Truth of this Fact, he appears to rest his Proof of my Determination on a Breach of Faith.

I should draw this Minute to an unwarrantable Length were I to quote all the Passages from my Minutes, prior to that Date which clearly disprove the Fact afferted: I am loth to suppose that Mr. Francis has made this the Ground-work of his Attack upon my Measures, in Hopes that the Papers, which are upon Record, are too voluminous to be read. In Answer to what he has said on that Subject, particularly to these Words, "The first Ground failing, another must be assumed," I quote the following Extracts from my Minute entered in Consultation the 26th January, which was prose to the Receipt of the Letter on which the Resolutions of the 2d February were founded.

"That I may not appear to have drawn too forcible a Conclusion from the late Transactions between the Ministers and the Chevalier St. Lubin, I beg Leave to call the Recollection of the Board to a " Paper delivered to them by Mr. Elliott on the 1st of October last. From the Comparison of the " Intelligence contained in that Paper, and brought immediately from Europe, with the Information " obtained by Mr. Mostyn and Mr. Lewis at Poona, and their exact Agreement in the most essential " Points, I think it appears beyond a Doubt, that the French Agent there is entrusted with a Plan " which has for its Object the Subversion of the British Influence in India: We are in actual Treaty " of Friendthip with the ruling Administration of the Maratta State; and our Treaty was formed at " a Time when they were engaged in a War with the Company; from which they were released by "the Treaty which we granted them, and in the Profecution of which, had it continued, they multiple them to have have fallen. The Treaty was concluded by an Officer of Rank, deputed immediately from this Government; and the Attention of every Prince and Chief in Hindostan was turned upon this first Negociation of the British Power under the Direction of a general Government: It is disgraceful to us, that the Government at Poona should in any Situation, pay more Attention, and shew more Countenance to an Agent of the natural and known Enemy of our Country than to ours; but when we are informed, that the French Ministry have formed a Plan of an offensive Alliance with the Maratta State; when we are informed that an Agent of the French Ministry has been received at Poona, has been treated with the greatest Confidence and Marks of Distinction, while our own is difregarded; that he has received from them the Grant of a Port of Trade within Twenty Miles of Bombay itself; has exchanged mutual Engagements with them, of which his Part is to supply them with Arms and a Military Force; and even the common News-papers relate these I ransactions of universal Notoriety; what Conclusions are we, who are immediately concerned in them, to form from them? Are we to regard them as the allowable Machinations of political Intrigue, and quietly permit them to operate to their last Essect, if the Marattas commit no overt Act of Hostility, or direct Breach of the Treaty? Or shall we consider the Preparations to a War as declaratory of an intended Breach of Treaty, and take such Measures as the Necessity of such a Situation demands for enturing and confirming the Treaty, and giving it that Vigour which it yet confessed wants? Or, if that should prove impracticable, even to prevent the Designs of our Enemies, by openly counteracting and opposing them?

That a Remonstrance be made to the Ministers against the Countenance afforded by them to the Chevaher St. Lubin, against the Engagements we understand have been formed with him, and against the Grant of the Port of Chowl, made as we understand to him, or to the French Nation through him; that though we do not insist on any positive Right to demand his Dismission, nor the Exclusion of the French from the Port of Chowl, yet as we have a Right to require a Knowledge of the Intentions of the Ministers in regard to these Points, so far as they respect the Treaty of Peace substituting between the Maratta State and the British Government in India, a clear and satisfactory Explanation be demanded of their Intentions; and that a Declaration be made to them, that we shall take such Measures accordingly as Prudence shall dictate for the future Sasety of the Company's Interests and Possessions committed to our Charge."

I should apologize for the extreme Length of this Minute, and for the Number of Quotations have been under the Necessity of making from our Records, with which every Member of the loard must be supposed to be acquainted, but the hasty Manner in which Mr. Francis accuses me of introducing supposed Facts, as usual, without Proof; and the Assertion which he makes, that he Causes of Complaint, on which the Letter urges a Quarrel, are trisling and exaggerated; and hat the Facts it refers to are clearly disapproved, or taken for granted without Evidence, has forced no in my own Defence to disprove the Assertions of Mr. Francis.

Let Mr. Fancis and Mr. Wheler weigh the Force of Evidence upon which the Proof of the Committon between the French and Marattas is founded. Should they hereafter fee the Armies and Fleets of France in Alliance with the Marattas, the Offspring of the prefent Intrigues, and their proposed naction, triumphing over the English Settlements in the Western Parts of India, it would be a lad Excute to their Country and to themselves, to say, "We had no Proof that it would be so."

I am well aware of the innumerable Causes which may arise between this Time and the Period ntended for the Execution of this Plan, to prevent its being executed at all; had I the same Consistion that the Plan would be carried into Execution, as I have that it exists, I should not have proposed that Troops should be sent to reinforce our Settlement at Bombay, but I should have proposed, that English Armies from Calpee and Bombay should have met at Poona. I do not therefore set upon the Conviction that the French will send out Armies to India for the Purpose of effecting our Overthrow; I acknowledge the Chapter of Accidents to be open, and that it is a voluminous one. I am convinced however that when Monsieur St. Lubin was dispatched from France, t was the Intention of that Government to back his Negociations by Force; and, as far as human Foresight can lead us, we have every Reason to think that the French Administration will do every Thing they intended, for St. Lubin's Negociations appear to have been much more successful than their most sanguine Expectations could have permitted them to hope. The Line I have taken in Conjunction with Mr. Barwell is strictly consistent with these Principles; we tell the Ministers, that I they do not give us a clear and satisfactory Explanation of their Intentions, we shall take such Measures accordingly as Prudence shall dictate, &c.

This Declaration does not in any Shape commit us. Prudence may dictate us the Necessity of reinforcing our Settlement at Bombay, and no more. Such a Declaration may however alarm the Administration at Poona, and make them act with more good Faith towards those with whom they are in Alliance; the Requisition for Permission that our Troops shall pass through their Country, will give this Declaration additional Weight; and I think it is more than probable, that should Nanah Furnese, the Patron of the French, still wish to support the Views of that Nation, he will be checked by Succaram Baboo, and his other Colleagues in Office. This leads me to answer the Part of Mr. Francis's Minute, where he asks, What is meant to be done should the Marattas refuse a Passage to our Troops through their Country? Tuture Events must decide this Question; the Detachment is not yet marched; when it does match it may take another Road, or march but a Part of the Way. It is no Declaration of War to ask a free Passage for our Troops, from one of our Set-Red. VI.

tlements to another; and I will never give my Consent to a Declaration of War, or to any Act which is equal to it, against the Marattas, whilst they maintain their Raith to us, or whilst we are not obliged to act in our own Defence. The Advantages of our military Preparations must at all Events be acknowledged. If the Detachment reaches Bombay, it secures that Settlement against every Effort with which the French and Maratta Intrigues appear to be piegnant. If it should stop in the Country of the Rajah of Berar, Poona will be between an English Army at Bombay and another in Berar. Its March may be suspended, or it may be rendered wholly unnecessary, by Advices received from Bombay, that the Members of that Presidency have of themselves effected the Purposes for which it was formed, either before the Detachment has made a considerable Progress, or possibly before it has even moved from the Ground of its first Station. But even in these Cases it may have been productive of some Advantage by the Considence excited in our Friends, and by the Impression which the Rumour of so powerful a Reinforcement may have made on the Minds of a weak, unconstitutional, and divided Ministry; which abandoning all its Hopes in the French Alliance, may chuse, on any Terms, to solicit ours as their only Resource; or to yield into them Hands, for the Condition of personal Safety, a Power which they are unable to retain.

Hands, for the Condition of personal Sasety, a Power which they are unable to retain.

I shall now endeavour to prove my Third Proposition, that the Treaty of Poorunder passed on the 1st March 1777 is not yet executed; which will at the same Time answer the only Part of Mr.

Francis's Minute which remains unanswered.

The first Proof which is produced in that Minute in support of the Opinion, that the Treaty is executed, is, that we are in Possession of Salsette, and the Maratta Share of the City and Purgunnah of Broach.

It would be strange indeed if we were not: We were in Possession of them when the Treaty was concluded, and nothing but Force could have wrested them from us; and that Force must have been greater than the whole Maratta Empire, unsupported by an European Alliance, could have brought against us. This is not a very striking Instance to produce of the Maratta good Faith.

It is stipulated in the Treaty that Salsette and the other Islands should remain in our Possession. The only Way by which this Condition of the Treaty could be accomplished was by Silence and Acquiescence; but the Treaty was scarcely signed when the Ministers reclaimed those Cessions, and have since repeated the Requisition not as a Point of Option but of Right, with an Intimation too strongly implied to be misunderstood, that at a proper Time they would use Force to recover it; yet Mr. Francis instances this as One Condition of the Treaty which has been accomplished: Surely it has not.

The 5th Atticle of the Treaty entitles us to a Country of Three complete Lacks of Rupees, &c. &c. This Article is not executed; and Mr. Francis acknowledges it, for he fays, "The complete Execution of the Treaty has only been retarded by a Dispute about the literal Meaning of the Kaumil Jumma, &c." Mr. Francis says, "That in our Letter of the 18th August, we declared that we understood the Term to mean a Gross Revenue;" which he thinks decides the Dispute against us: By no Means; Mr. Francis has mistaken or forgotten the Point in Dispute. It is not a Gross Revenue of Three Lacks which the Minister offers, for that we should have accepted, but Lands which stand rated in the Books at a Revenue of Three Lacks. Our Instructions to the Presidency of Bombay upon this Article in the Letter quoted by Mr. Francis, are strictly consonant to those which we have now given, as will appear from the Perusal of both.

Mr. Francis asks, "Is it meant that we should go to War? &c." The Instructions direct the Council of Bombay to ascertain the Right; if we are wrong to relinquish our Demands, if we are right to insist on our Right; and if not admitted to declare it a Breach of Treaty. It is extraordinary that if upon Proof it appears that we have Rights, that we should relinquish those Rights because they are controverted by the Marattas. It is not very consistent with the Honour of this Government to yield at so critical a Time to the Dictates of an Ally, the Terms of whose Alliance are not yet compleated. To declare it will be a Breach of Treaty is not a Declaration of War, but it is a Declaration that we have a Right to go to War, and will I have no Doubt be sufficient to secure us our Right, unless the Marattas shall be supported by an European Ally.

Though I am not fond of commenting, I cannot help taking Notice of a Word used by Mr. Francis, in the Part of his Minute which alludes to the Execution of the 5th Article of the Treaty. He says, "The complete Execution of the 5th Article of the Treaty has only been retarded by a Dispute about the literal Meaning of the Words Kaumil Jumma." Any one not acquainted with the Subject would infer from this Expression that the Execution of the Treaty was delayed, till by looking into a Dictionary we could ascertain the Meaning of a Word. The Treaty has been concluded upwards of Two Years, and this Article by Mr. Francis's Confession is not yet accomplished. How long would he permit it to remain so?

He says, " We retain Chickley, Corial, and several other Places, and enjoy the Revenue thereof

" as Pledges till the Sunnuds for the Country of Three Lacks can be made out."

We do not hold the Places he mentions as a Pledge: They are the Cessions made to us by Futty Sing, and are our Property, as will be seen in my Answer to Mr. Francis's Objection to the Third Instruction.

The 6th Article of the Treaty is equally unaccomplished. The Marattas agree to pay us Six Lacks within Six Months of the Date of the Treaty, and Six Lacks within Two Years of the fance Date, which last Period expired on the First of last Month.

PENDIX, Nº 41.

Mr. Francis appears to object to the Instructions proposed for enforcing the Execution of this rticle, upon a Reliance that they will not be read by those who read his Objections. To conall his Objection with the Instructions is the shortest, but I am sure the most conclusive of all eplies to his Observation.

Instruction.

2d. " We direct that you demand immediate Payment of the Sum of Twelve Lacks of Rupees, due by the Sixth Article of the Treaty, or of so much of it as still remains unpaid; and that the Purgunnah of Jambooseer be thereupon restored to the Ministers, unless you shall have accepted of the same as an Assignment under such Engagements as shall have absolved them from the literal Performance of that Article, and those Engagements have been fulfilled on their Part; and if they shall refuse to comply with the Demands so made to them, that you declare their Refusal to be a Breach of the Treaty."

Observation.

" The Second Instruction orders a peremptory " Demand of the Twelve Lacks which the Ma-" rattas confented to pay us towards the Expences " of the War. Is it meant that we shall renew " the War for the immediate Payment of this " whole Sum, while the Revenues of Jambooseer " are mortgaged to us for the gradual Liquidation

It will scarcely be denied, that a temporary Mortgage of an open Country from one Nation to ther, is not equal to ready Money, which was our original Agreement. War would mutually ask us from all our Engagements, and the mortgaged Country would be as much theirs as ours; a Sum of Money in our own Treasury would be indisputably our own. I leave others, less uniffed in their Opinions than my Opponent, to judge from this Minute of the Security we have,

At Peace will long exist between the English and Maratta Governments.

The Decision that Futty Sing had a Right to make the Cessions he made to us, contained in the hird Instruction, is likely, Mr. Francis says, to make the Establishment of a lasting Peace im-Mible.

To our Letter of the 18th August I refer for a Reply to this Objection; it was a Letter written the unanimous Consent of the Board, and the Line with a black Stroke under it, is in the Hand riting of Mr. Francis. An attentive Reader will perceive, that the Line to which I allude to forms e most forcible Part of the Argument in favour of our retaining the Cessions, as it is meant to ove that Futty Sing's Evidence did not make against our Right.

We enclose for your Information Copies and Translations of a Letter written by Futty Sing, in reply to a Reference made to him by Colonel Upton on the Subject of his Right to alienate any Territories dependent on him, and of Sunnuds granted at divers Times to the Guicawars. This Letter from Futty Sing, though it evades a politive and direct Answer to the Point in question, feems to disavow any Right in him to alienate these Possessions; but the Concerns which he has in the Question makes his personal Evidence very suspicious (especially in the present Instance, in which it is opposed to his own personal Act) since whatever is relinquished by the Company will revert to him.

By the Tenure on which all Jagheery Possessions are held, we doubt whether any Part of them can be legally alienated for ever by the Jagheerdar, but we are not sufficiently informed if the Lands possessed by the Guicawar Family are of this Nature. The Answer to the 7th Request, contained in the 4th Sunnud, seems to allow of a Right in them to dispose of their own Districts in any Manner they pleafed, without obtaining the special Concurrence of the Paishwa.

" The Request and Answer are as follow:

7th Request. I shall commence War against the independent Moguls who have Establishments in my Share, and recover my Possessions from them at my own Expence; let not the Government concern itself with them.

Answer. Should you take any Measures with respect to those Districts which are your own Share, the Government has no Concern in it.

Agreed accordingly.

Although the Inference which we draw from this Passage is not conclusive, yet we think it sufficient to justify you in retaining Possession of the Districts ceded by Futty Sing, until clear Proof shall be afforded by him or by the Minister, that he had no Right to make those Cessions. The Detention of the Country for a few Months longer, supposing it should at last be restored to Futty Sing, will be no Breach of the Treaty on our Part, as long as any material Articles of it remain

I have now I think answered every Thing advanced in Opposition to the late Instructions to

Mr. Francis and Mr. Wheler may perhaps consider themselves as little responsible for Voices, ich as the Voices of a Minority, are not effectual. Mr. Barwell and myself are in different Situations.

APPENDIX, Nº 41.

Situations. I could wish to have been joined by every Member of the Board on this Occasion, because I think Unanimity would add Vigour to our distant Measures; and I hold them responsible for whatever Effects may be produced by their Opposition.

Mr. Francis—1 beg Leave to offer a few fhort Observations on the preceding Minute: They are meant for Explanation only, and not to continue the Argument at a Point of Time when Argument ment is ufelefs.

1. With respect to the supposed Connection between the Marattas and the French, and which is said to aim at our Ruin and Extirpation, the Governor General asserts, that we do not differ in the Fast, for that I have admitted "that our Conduct in the Protection of Ragoba has authorized them to feek "for Safety in the Aims of our natural Enemies." The Words in my former Minute, from which this Conclusion is drawn, are as follows, "While the Pretender to their Government is supported by us, we give them too much Cause for looking to France for Assistance. The present Measures, it carried into Execution, will leave them without a Choice." I submit to Judgment, whether these Words have Relation to Events which I expect to follow from the System we are now pursuing, or to Events which have already taken place?

2. The Passage quoted from my Minute of the 21st of December related to the Number of French Ships at that Time at Chandernagore, and to the Necessity of guarding this Country against the Designs which that Appearance seemed to indicate. I have uniformly and repeatedly declared my Opinion, that Bengal is not in a State of Defence; and I have this Reason, in addition to every other for opposing a Resolution, which not only tends to provoke a War without Necessity, but insmediately weakens us in that Quarter, where all is at stake, and where our chief Strength should be collected.

3. When I proposed that Ragoba should be dismissed from Bombay, I never meant, and Mr. Hallings knows it well, that he should be delivered up a Sacrifice to his Enemies; he has no Right to suppose that I have departed from the Opinion, in which the Board was unanimous on the 18th of August last, when the Question concerning the Provision to be made for Ragoba's personal Safety, was thoroughly discussed, and our Sentiments united thereupon; I desire to be understood to adhere to the Terms of our Letter of the 18th of August, to the Council of Bombay on this Subject.

4. The Words of our Letter of that Date, and of the 20th of October, which the Governor General states to be in my Hand-writing, were intended to correct and qualify other Expressions in the Secretary's original Draught, which appeared to me too strong. I deem it highly irregular and uncandid to attribute to me exclusively or particularly, any Language or Opinions, which the Board, by their unanimous Concurrence and Assent, have adopted and made their own: To obtain that Concurrence in question, something, I believe, was given up on both Sides. Since however the Governor General has quoted the Correction as it stands in my Writing, it is proper that the original Draught may be compared with those which I substituted in the room of them.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 15th April 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Esquires.

The Governor General delivers in the following Minute in Reply to Mr. Francis's of the 10th instant; and desires that it may be sent round to the Members of the Board for their Perusal.

Ar. Francis-

10th April 1778.

I beg Leave to offer a few short Observations on the preceding Minute; they are meant for Explanation only, and not to continue the Argument ta Point of Time when Argument is useless.

rst. With Respect to the supposed Connection etween the Marattas and the French, and which said to aim at our Ruin and Extirpation, the sovernor General afferts that, we do not differ in he Fast, for that I have admitted "That our Conduct in the Protection of Ragoba has authorized them to seek for Safety in the Arms of our natural Enemy." The Words in my former Minute from which this Conclusion is drawn, he as follow: "While the Pretender to their Gowernment is supported by us, we give them too much Cause for looking to France for Assistance: The present Measures, if carried into Execution, will leave them without a Choice." Submit to your Judgment, whether these Words twe Relation to Events, which I expect to follow om the System we are now pursuing, or to yents which have already taken Place?

2d. The Passage quoted from my Minute of e 21st of December, related to the Number of rench Ships at that Time at Chandernagore, and the Necessity of guarding this Country against a Designs which that Appearance seemed to interest. I have uniformly and repeatedly declared y Opinion, that Bengal is not in a State of Dence; and I have this Reason in Addition to very others for opposing a Resolution which not the tends to provoke a War without Necessity, it immediately weakens us in that Quarter here all is at stake, and where our chief Strength ould be collected.

Governor General-

My Reply to Mr. Francis's Observations, dated the 10th Instant, on my Minute of the 6th, shall be very short; and to avoid the Embarrassiment of Quotations, I shall here insert his Observations at large with my own upon them in the opposite Column.

The Words quoted by Mr. Francis from his Minute have certainly, in the plain and obvious Construction of them, a Relation to Events which have already taken place fince the Afylum granted to Ragoba, which I understand to be intended by the Words "While the Pretender to " their Government is supported by us," is of a Date as old as the Treaty, and of course the Consequence inferred from it by Mr. Francis, must allude to the past, not to the future. Whether the Protection granted to Ragoba was confistent with good Faith, or contrary to it, is not now the Question. I have afferted as a Fact, that the Ministers had looked to France for Assistance, and Mr. Francis not denying the Fact, has barely affigned a Reason for it; I am therefore justified in faying, that we do not differ in the Fast.

2d. The whole Tenor of Mr. Francis's Minute of the 1st (not the 21st) December, was intended to prove, that the French had Defigns against our Possessions in India. The Circumstance which at that Time attracted his Attention, and which he thought indicated fuch Defigns, was the Number of French Ships lying at Chandernagore: It was my Opinion delivered then, and formed many Years before Mr. Francis came into the Country, that either the French would never attempt the Invasion of Bengal by Sea, or if they did they must immediately fail in it, in consequence of the natural Difficulties which, independent of other Causes, would oppose it. In Opposition to Mr. Francis's present Opinion, I eleclare it to be mine, that Bengal is now in a better State of Desence than it ever has been since the English were interested in its Safety; that its best Defence against the French is to render their Defigns abortive before their Execution; and that if they do exist, as Mr. Francis himself supposes, it is a better Policy "to provoke the War, to use his Words, if such must be the Consequence of our present Measures, than to wait till they are ripe for Action, and have every Engine prepared that can ensure their Success against us.

But I prefume it is now no longer necelfary to dwell on this Argument. However doubtful the Supposition of the French Engagements with the present Rulers of the Maratia State were at the Commencement of this Contest, or even when Mr. Francis wrote the Minute before me, that Supposition is now reduced to a Certainty, if any Evidence can make it so. It is long since I acquainted the Board with the Intention of Monsieur Bellcombe to visit the Malabar Coast, and verbally since of his actual Departure from Pondicherry. The last Letter from the Presidency of Bombay, dated the 8th of March, confirms this Report, and expresses their Opinion in Terms to which I think Mr. Francis himself will now subscribe, that the Design of Monsieur Bellcombe "is not merely to supervise a "Settlement of so little Importance as Myhie, which, they hear, is the avowed Motive; but is rather occasioned by the Negociations of Monsieur de St. Lubin."

M m confirms

With the Duplicate of the same Dispatches I received a Letter from Mr. Hornby, of a later Date, expressing the same Apprehension; and adding, that he had just heard a Captain in the Portuguese Service say, "that the Governor of Goa had written to him, that he expected Mon- fieur Bellcombe there."

To these Authorities I shall add that of Mr. Rumbold, on the following Extract of a Letter, which I have received from him, dated the 23d of March. "Monsieur Bellcombe embarked fome Time ago with One hundred Europeans, fome Artillery, and a Quantity of Stores on a Frigate. We have since heard of their Arrival at Mahé, on the Malabar Coast. Before he left Pondicherry, he wrote the Nabob, that having received Orders from his Court to visit all the Garrisons in India belonging to his most Christian Majesty, he was entering upon that Service, and would be absent from Pondicherry about Five Months; it is not improbable but he intends some Assistance to; the Marattas."

It is not without Hesitation that I make this Use of a private Communication; but it appears to me so conclusive of the Designs which have been long imputed to the French, that I have thought I could not with Propriety withhold it from the Knowledge of the Board, for whose Information, and not for the Maintenance of an Argument, I have given it a Place in this Minute. What may be the real Object of Monsieur Bellcombe will be better shewn by the Event, which cannot be very remote, than by any Reasoning upon Appearances; but these will at least justify the present Conclusion, that if a War should ensue, we cannot have provoked it by any Acts subsequent to them, and I have only advanced to meet it.

3d. When I proposed that Ragoba should be dismissed from Bombay, I never meant, and Mr. Hastings knows it well, that he should be delivered up a Sacrifice to his Enemies: He has no Right to suppose that I have departed from the Opinion, in which the Board was unanimous on the 18th of August last, when the Question concerning the Provision to be made for Ragoba's personal Safety was thoroughly discussed, and our Sentiments united thereupon. I desire to be understood to adhere to the Terms of our Letter of the 18th of August to the Council at Bombay on this Subject.

3d. To difmifs Ragoba from Bombay without Provision made for his personal Safety, to difinis him with fuch a Provision only made for his Safety as cannot avail him, and to deliver him up a Sacrifice to his Enemies, are in my Sense of them Propositions of synonymous Import. I had proved in a former Minute, that One of the Provisions, suggested in our Letter of the 18th August, to the Council of Bombay, for the Safety of Ragoba, was totally impracticable; of the other, that is the Faith of Toccajee Holcar and Madajee Sindia pledged for his fafe Passage through their Territories, no Trial had been made; and Mr. Francis must allow that it was at least capable of valid Objections, but without having deigned to make any other Reply to my Proofs, except a Trait of Ridicule, by which he affected to represent this Government as precipitately refolving on a War with the united Provinces of France and the Maratta Empire in Defence of the religious Scruples of

PPENDIX, Nº 41.

Ragonaut Row. If I have treated this as equivalent to a Proposition made for the Sacrifice of Ragoba to his Enemies, for I do not know the precise Words of my Minute, I must still abide by the same Construction of it.

4th. The Words of our Letter of that Date, d of the 20th October, which the Governor neral states to be in my Hand Writing, were ended to correct and qualify other Expressions the Secretary's original Draft which appeared me too strong. I deem it highly irregular and candid to attribute to me, exclusively or partidarly, any Language or Opinions which the ard by their unanimous Concurrence and Affent we adopted and made their own. To obtain t Concurrence in the Instance in question, someng I believe was given up on both Sides. Since vever the Governor General has quoted the rection as it stands in my Writing, it is pro-that the Words in the original Draft may be pared with those which I substituted in the on of them.

4th. Mr. Francis is too liberal in the Use which he makes of the Words "Candour and Regularity." After having in the preceding Paragraph quoted for the Third or Fourth Time my Opinion, as it was included in the Letter written to Bombay en the 18th of August last, he has no Right to charge me in such strong Terms with want of Candour and Regularity in quoting his Opinions, as included in our Letter of the 18th and 20th of October. It was not my Intention to attribute those Opinions to Mr. Francis exclusively, but to shew that they were not the Sentiments of a Majority in Opposition to his; for which Purpose I appealed to his Hand Writing in the Draft of the Letter. That these were his Opinions at that Time he does not deny, nor do I contend for more. The Quotations of the original Drafts do not contain the Evidence for which they feem to have been intended, since the First Drast, and his Corrections of it, are in Sense the same; the 1st Instance being no more than the Change of a fingle Word for a Periphrasis, I own of more Precision, and perhaps of Elegance; and the latter of the Words probably for possibly, and Alliance for Engagements. Bengal Secret Consultations, 27th April 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Efquires. Philip Francis, Edw Wheler,

The Governor General's Minute, recorded in the Consultation of the 15th Instant, having been culated agreeable to his Defire, Mr. Francis wrote the following in Reply to it; a Copy of which s sent a Number in the Resolution's Packet.

I will not continue to argue a Question on which I have already submitted to Judgment. If the rent of the present Measures should ever force an Enquiry into the Origin and Motives of them; Merit of those Persons, who have promoted or opposed them, will not be tried by nice verbal stinctions, or by torturing particular Expressions in Debate to a Sense inconsistent with the general inciples, avowed Opinions, and uniform Conduct of those who use them. The Inquiry will mence at the Source of the Measures in question. The Part unanimously taken by this Council when the first Instead of the Measures are the source of the Measures and the source of the Measures are the source of the Measures and the source of the Measures and Measures are the source of the source of the the first Instance, that is when the Treaty between Ragoba and the Presidency of Bombay was st communicated to us, will be compared with the Ideas which have since been adopted by some embers of the Board on the same Subject, and with the Measures lately resolved on and now in tecution. A careful Review of our Debates will lead to a decisive Judgment on that Point, which it is most material to the Governor General to establish on folid Grounds; viz. That the Evidence on which it has been refolved to fend One Fourth of our whole military Fstablishment from the Frontiers of Oude to Bombay, is direct, authentic, and material. Much Pains have been taken to collect it, and very high Colourings industriously given, as I think, to Facts of little Moment There must be a Diffress for Evidence when Recourse is had to private Letters, especially in a Cale where, if the Intelligence contained in them had been thought of Confequence, it would naturally have been communicated to us through the regular Channel. Mr. Rumbold tells Mr. Hastings, "that Monsieur Bellcombe had embarked from Pondicherry with One hundred Euro. Feans, and some Artillery and Stores, and that it is not improbable but he intends some Assistance to the Marattas." And Mr. Hornby says, "that he had just heard a Captain in the Post tugueze Service say, that Monsicur Bellcombe was expected at Goa." Neither the Facts nor the Evidence are worth disputing; nor do I think it effectial to our Safety to ascertain the Destination of an Armament of One hundred Men. It is probable enough that some low French Agents have been intriguing with the Marattas, and it is not impossible that they may have had Hopes given them of being allowed an Ellablishment on that Coast. Such Establishment, however, has not yet been granted them, nor would it ever if good Faith on our Part were preserved to the Maratta, They can have no Motive for introducing the French into their Country, but to protect themselves against that Spirit of Conquest which prevails in our Councils, and which they see is never to be fatisfied.

The Governor General has quoted Part of the last I etter from the Presidency of Bombay, dated the 8th March, to shew that the Design of Monsieur B. Ilcombe is occasioned by the Negociations of Monsieur St. Lubin. What his Defigns may be I know not, but I believe it would be very link in his Power to injure us, if it appeared by our Conduct to the Marattas that we were fincerely disposed to keep the Peace with them. There is another Passage in the above Letter which I must beg Leave to point out to the Attention of the Court of Directors, as it shews with what Eagernes Evidence is fought for in support of particular Views, and how readily any Evidence, with that Tendency, is accepted.

On the 23d February Mr. Hallings afferted at the Board, that it was notorious the French were in Possession of Choul. It it were so, they must have had Possession Six Weeks at least before the Intelligence of the Fact could have reached us, that is about the Middle of January; yet on the 8th March the Presidency of Bombay tells us, "they much fear Monsieur Bellcombe's Visit will be fol" lowed by the French taking Possession of Choul."

Whatever Difference of Opinion may now exist between the Governor General and me on the Subject of our Connection with the Marattas, and the Conduct we have observed to them, there certainly have been Times in which we were agreed. There was a Time when he thought * " the "Measures adopted by the Presidency of Bombay had a Tendency to a very extensive and indefinite " Scene of Troubles, and that their Conduct was unscasonable, impolitic, unsuft, and unauthorized." It is also not very long ago fince he thought + " that there was no Reason to doubt, that the Presence of Ragoba at Bombay would continue to be an infuperable Bar to the Completion of the Treaty " concluded with the Maratta Government, and that no fincere Cordiality and good Universtanding " could be established with them, as long as he should appear to derive Encouragement and Support" " from the English."

If the Governor General departs from these Opinions I am not bound to follow him; if he adheres to them, we are agreed. In either Case he is bound to prove, that the Measures he now pursues are not built on those which he has heretofore folemnly condemned.

(Signed) P. Francis.

The above Minute having been circulated, the Governor General wrote the following in confequence; a Copy of which was also sent a Number in the Resolution's Packet.

I still adhere to the Opinions delivered by me on the 31st May 1775, and on the 18th of August 1777; they have no Relation, at least none apparent to me, to the prefent Argument. It is not neceffary that we should withhold our Support of the Company's Interests under Charge of the Presidency of Bombay, because we had Occasion to censure their Conduct in the Year 1775, or because Expedients were recommended by us in the Month of August 1777 for the Removal of Ragoba from Bombay, and for a Provision for his personal Safety as the Means of it. This is all that I think it requisite to add, in Reply to the Minute last written by Mr. Francis. For the rest I rely on the growing Evidence of Facts, on the Events yet depending and perhaps not very remote, and on the superior Knowledge of the French Designs which is possessed by those who are to be the ultimate Judges of our Conduct.

Extrast of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 6th April 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Efquires. Edward Wheler,

THE Governor General lays before the Board the following Drafts, which he has prepared, of Instructions to Colonel Leslie, and of a Letter to the President and Council of Bombay, for their onsideration and Approval:

Draft of Instructions to Colonel Leslie.

Ift. Having thought proper to invest you with the Command of the Troops destined to rein-fift. Having thought proper to invest you to proceed with the same under your Charge, by the bree the Presidency of Bombay, we direct you to proceed with the same under your Charge, by the oft convenient and practicable Route to Bombay, or to such other Place as you shall be directed to the President and Council of that Presidency. We judge the Road through Bundlecund and the trovince of Berar the most eligible, on account of our Connection with the Raja of Berar; and reprimend it preferably to any other, unless his Answers to the Letters which have been written to him y our President for that Purpose, shall express a Disinclination to allow a Passage to the Detachment hrough his Territories; in which Case your own Judgment, and the Opportunities of nearer Enpuiry, will best enable you to chuse your own Road. You will make it your first Care to reconcile he Chier of the Country through which it may lie, to your March; but if he shall refuse his Assent, we uthorize you to prosecute it, even against Opposition; observing the Rules hereinafter prescribed br fuch Cases, if ever they shall happen.

2d. From the Day on which you shall begin your March, you will obey all Orders which you shall ceive from the President and Council of Bombay, except such as shall be contrary to these Inructions.

3d. Our President informs us, that on the 4th of February last he wrote to Mr. Hornby, requesting in to engeavour to obtain from Mahadajee Sindia and Tucoojee Holcar, Passports for the March a Detrehment through their Territories, and their Orders for supplying it with Provisions, in the after that a Detachment being sent, and ordered to take that Route. A Letter to the same Essect as been since written by our President to Moodajee Boosla, the Chief of Berar, a Translation of mich we enclose for your Information. We recommend it to your Attention to take every Opporunity that shall offer in the Course of your March, for cultivating a good Understanding with these thiefs, particularly the last me moned; and we authorize you to make use of any Expedient which ou shall judge essentially necessary for ensuring your safe Conduct and Supplies of Provisions for your petachment; provided they shall not have a Tendency to infringe the Treaty existing between the Petachment; provided they shall not have a Tendency to infringe the Treaty existing between the resent Ministers of the Maratta State and this Government, or involve this Government in suture ingagements. For your fuller Guidance on this Subject, we enclose you a Copy of the Treaty of corunder, and you must make it the Ground-work of your Negociations in the Course of your larch. It is needless to require your Attention to the State and Interests of the petty Chiefs, whose offsessions lie near your Line of March; they may be of much Service to you in supplying you with trovisions, and facilitating your Progress, from their natural Enmity to the Marattas, and Fear of their lower.

4th. We recommend to you to observe the strictest Attention to the Sasety of the Inhabitants, and their Property, on your March; and that the most exemplary Punishment be insticted on all Periods detected in marauding, or Acts of personal Violence to the People.

sth. We enjoin you to use the greatest Circumspection in avoiding every Act which may, by Construction, be imputed to you as hostile to the particular States through which you pass, contrary to the Treaty subsiding between the Maratta Ministers and our Government. You not suffer yourself to be diverted from the Prosecution of your March, by any new Object, wever plaufible, except only for the Safety or Subfiftence of your Troops, indifpenfably requirg it. You are to be careful, on arriving near any new Frontier, to observe the Form of send-to the Chief of the District a Declaration of your pacific Intentions, a Demand of Permission pass through his Country, and a Request for the necessary Passports and Assistance of Provisions; if after such Precautions your March shall be impeded or opposed by Force, you are to reit the same Declarations to the Leaders in Command of the Forces prepared to oppole you, warn-REP. VI.

ing them not to commence a War by a causeless Attack. So positively is your Attention demanded to prevent any possible Imputation of Blame being thrown on your Conduct, that you will not be authorized in acting offensively, even should the Governor and Council of Bombay require it, unless they shall have first declared that there is War, and shall point out to you whom you are to regard as Friends and whom as Enemis.

6th. We defire that you will advise the President and Council of Bombay of your Progress as frequently as pullible, whether you have any other Occurrence of Moment to communicate or not; for even fuch Information will be of itself not only fatisfactory, but of the greatest Con. fequence.

We cannot prescribe the Time of your March; but require you to begin it as soon as 7th. you shall be fully provided for it.

To Bombay.

We have already written to you in Duplicate, under Date the 23d February. You will there find our Sentiments at large, on the Subject of the Reinforcement of Troops, which have been ordered to march to your Side of India, with full Inflructions for your Conduct in the Services in. tended to be effected by them.

From the high Opinion we entertain of the Experience and Abilities of Colonel Matthew Leflic, we have been induced to appoint him to the Command of this Detachment; and as we have every Reason to rely on his Activity, Skill, and good Conduct for the Success of the Expedition, if the Operations of the Army are left to his Judgment, we hope, and earneftly entreat, that he may not be superieded in the Command, unless the Exigency of the Service should at any Time make it absolutely necessary for you to employ the Whole of your European Force, in conjunction with the Troops of this Prefidency, and to give the Command to an Officer of Superior Rank.

We have given Instructions to Colonel Leslie for his Guidance in every Occurrence that may happen; a Copy of which we enclose: For the rest, we must leave it to you to furnish him with fuch Orders from Time to Time, as the Nature of the Service may require. The Juccessful Liftie of the present Undertaking must necessarily depend, in a great Measure, on a full and unreserved Communication or Intelligence with Colonel Leslie; we therefore recommend it to you to send him the earliest Advices of every Circumstance that may serve either to guide him in his March, or in the Execution of any Service that may be necessary for him to perform.

We are, &c.

Mr. Francis—I object to the Orders for the March of the Detachment, because I conceive it will not be possible for them to begin their March before the End of this Month, and because the periodical Rains, as I am informed, will be fet in long before they can arrive at the Place of their Deflination: As for the rest, I am of Opinion, that the pacific Declarations contained in Colonel Lesses Instructions, will have little Weight in the Minds of the Powers of India, against the hostile Act c: forcing a Paffage through their Country without their Confent.

Mr. Wheler-Having already objected to the Armament preparing for Bombay, I shall only add for the Reasons assigned by Mr. Francis, that I likewise object to the March of the Troops.

Mr. Barwell approves of the Drafts of the Letters above entered.

Governor General-It was a very early Subject of my Enquiry to know to what Inconveniencies our Troops would be expoted by marching in the Rains, which at first occurred to me as an insur mountable Obffacle: I have every Reafon to believe, and am confirmed in this Opinion by that of Colonel Leflic, that the Ramy Season, so far from proving an Objection, will rather facilitate the March and prove a Relief to the Troops, which will fuffer more from the Excels in Heats, and from Drought in the elevated and open Plains, through which they will probably pass, than by the Ramy Seaton, whenever it shall overtake them, as it certainly will; possibly too they will be less exposed to the Attacks of Cavalry in the Rains; and in respect to Health, our own Records afford us one Inflance, and I believe more, of our Sepoys, and even European Infantry, recovering from a State of Sickness by a March begun in the very Height of the Rains, as was the Case in the last Campaign of Colonel Champion.

Agreed, That the above Letters be accordingly written, and immediately dispatched.

Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council in Bengal to the Court of Directors, dated Secret Dep 20th March 1778.

Par. 2. THE Negociations lately proposed by a Party of the Ministers at Poona to the President and Council of Bombay, for the Restoration of Ragoba to the principal Authority in the Durbar, of which we have already advised you, appear by the subsequent Letters we have received rom that Quarter to be entirely laid aside, at least for the present, as Moraba Furnese, One of the Principals mentioned in it, but apparently the only oftenfible Person concerned, had insisted on carying on the Buliness with the Prelidency of Bombay in his own Name folely; and was informed by hem, that they could not agree to take any Part in the Affairs of the Maratta State, unless expressly blicated by the Members of that State with whom the Treaty was concluded; which made it necestry that Siccaram Baboo, whose Name was included in the original Overture, should join with him a formal Requisition for the Affistance of the English: Moraba Furnese soon after this quitted cona, with Intention, as he reported, of proceeding on a religious Duty to Pundapore; and we we heard nothing farther of the Matter in Agitation with him.

3. We have nevertheless continued to carry into Execution the Resolutions which we formed on the ultimo, for the Aid and Support of the Bombay Presidency, as the Contentions among the Miniers at Poona still substit with unabated Violence; and the Confusion likely to prevail in that Governent as well from the repeated Defeats of the Maratta Army under Hurry Punt by Hyder Ally's crees, as from the probable Increase of their intestine Divisions, may we think assort Opportunities the President and Council at Bombay, aided as they will be by a respectable Force, and ample Reparces, to interpose with such Advantages as will be of the most essential Consequence to the Commy's Interests, and which if neglected might add new Strength to their Enemies, and possibly hazard e Safety if not the very Existence of that Settlement. We cannot help making these Reslections hen we see the alarming Steps which the French have been taking to secure an Influence and Conpation in the Maratta Government, and obtain a Port fo close to Bombay as Choul is, and when we fo fee the Encouragement which they have met with. Their Intrigues at this Juncture can only formed with a hostile Intention to the English, and if attended with Success which there is every fason to suppose, an uninterrupted Continuance of them would effectually secure; we think they of the most dangerous Consequences to the Company's Possessions in India.

4. From these Premises it is evident that no Time ought to be lost in taking every fair Ad-tage that may offer to frustrate the Designs of the French in their Infancy, and to secure a manent Peace with the Marattas without openly opposing or counteracting the Schemes of the ench, which will be avoided by the Plan we have adopted; as the Object of our declared Pursuit posort of Connection with them, we have therefore completed the extraordinary Supply we colved to tend of Ten Lacks to the Presidency of Bombay, which we have the Pleasure to acquaint was remitted by Bills of Exchange, at the advantageous Rate of 100 Bombay Rupees for 90 Sicca, we have ordered a Force confifting of Six Battalions of Brigade Sepoys and One Company of nae Artillery to assemble under the Command of Colonel Leslie at Calpee; they will have Orders march directly to Bombay, or to fuch other Place as they may be directed to by that Presidency support them, in case of any Attack made immediately upon your Possessions, or in any Operawhich good Policy may lead them to engage in, for the Relief of that Part of the Maratta evernment with which we are in Treaty, or for commanding and enforcing the due Execution of Articles of the Treaty, which to this Day remain unaccomplished.

We have taken every Precaution that appears necessary to secure a safe Passage, and a constant poly of Provisions and Stores for the Use of this Detachment in its Route to Bombay, by Letters such have been written to the different Chiefs, through whose Countries it must pass; and we have mmended the fame to the President and Council at Bombay, under whose Orders and Guidance hall place the commanding Officer, from the Day on which he shall march; we have also directed Resident at the Vizier's Court to reserve Ten Lacks of Rupees in Gold for the Disbursements of Expedition.

'ar. 4. The Detachment of Six Battalions prepared for the Reinforcement of the Presidency of abay, is now under Orders to march to that Place, by the Route of Bundelcundoand Berar, as hope from the friendly Intercourse which has long subfished with the Chiefs of those Districts, it will meet with no Impediment in traverling their Countries.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 11th May 1778.

PRESENT, The Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, President,

Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Efquires. Edward Wheler,

RECEIVED the following Letter from Bombay:

Gentlemen. Mr. Mostyn has already advised you of the Revolution that has taken place in the Poons Government. Though on this important Occasion we carnellly wish to fend you the most perfect and distinct Account of the Measures we meant to pursue, yet such is the Uncertainty of our Situation, that we have come to no further Refolution than to order all the Troops we can possibly spare, to be held in Readiness to accompany Ragoba to Poona, the Moment Matters are advanced to that Stage as to render such a Measure proper. An Agent from Moraba had arrived here before his Master had got Possession of Poona, who only signified in general Terms Moraba's Desire that no Time should be lost in fending Ragoba to join his Party, but without making Proposals of any Kind, either to him or us; neither have any yet been made to Mr. Mostyn.

According to our Advices Sacaram Bappoo, the Chief Minister, has joined Moraba; but we are forry to add, that a Compromise is likely to be effected between the Party of Nana Furnese, upon their becoming Security for the Safety of his Person and Treasures from Ragoba's Resentment.

The Approbation you were pleated to give our Plan for conducting Ragoba to Poona, was in a high Degree granifying to us, as our Propotal proceeded from the most firm Conviction, that our acceeding to the Overtures which had been made was the only Relource left us for accomplishing those important Objects we had in view. It is an unfortunate Circumstance, that whilst we through the Want of Powers wete unable to take a Part, Ragoba's Friends have found their dwn Power Inflicient to procure them Succels without our Affistance, as we may not be able to procure the Terms we should have had a Right to demand, had our Interference been more timely. Rowever, you may be affured, Gentlemen, we shall make the best Stipulations we possibly can for the All vantage of the Company, in which we shall be guided by your late Instructions, and our Treaty with Ragoba.

Whatever may be the other Consequences of this Revolution, we hope at any Rate it will defeat the Deligns of the French, on which Point we inflantly gave proper Instructions.

Morsieur Bellcombe arrived at Mahé the 3d ultimo, with the Brilliant of 64 Guns, and the Sartine, the Ship that was at Choul Iast Season. They both failed to the Northward on the 10th and 11th, and it was faid they were bound to Choul. Sir Edward Vernon failed from hence the 10th, with the Rippon, Coventry, and Seahorfe, and we expect will fall in with, and will accompany, the French Ships up the Coast.

The Force Montieur Bellcombe brought with him confifted, as we hear, of 300 Europeans which he landed at Mahé, and received on Board 140 of the Garrison: We are doubtful whether he has proceeded up the Coast or remained at Mahé.

Upon an attentive Examination into the State of our Force, we find we shall only be able to detach from the Prefidency 300 European Infantry, Rank and File, Two Companies of Artillery, 2,000 Sepoys, and 500 Lascars.

We shall send you further Advices the Moment we can write with more Precision. We have been honoured with your Letters of the 16th and 18th February, but have not yet received the new Cypher. Since writing thus far, your Three Letters of the 26th February have come to Hand. We are, with Respect, Bombay Castle, 5th April 1778.

Gentlemen, (Signed) Wim Hornby,

&c. &c. Council.

This Letter having arrived on the 9th Inflant, it was immediately circulated for the Information of the Board; the following Motion was delivered trereupon by Mr. Francis, and the Opinions of the other Members taken as follow it. Vide Appendix, No 45. APPENDIX

D I X, No 45. E N

Minute of Mr. Francis, the 11th May 1778.

R. Francis—As this Letter leaves us no Room to doubt that a Revolution has taken place in the Poona Government, and as the Re-establishment of Ragoba, by whatever Means it may been effected, must immediately defeat the Designs attributed to the French, and put an End Negociations which they may have entered into with Nanah Furnesse, and the Party opposed agoba, I conceive that the Expedition under Colonel Leslie can no longer be necessary, even on Principles on which it was undertaken. No Pretence is left for marching an Army acrofs India, to counteract any real Operations, or supposed Schemes of the French on the Malabar Coast, when the Party which they were to affift, and without whose Assistance in return no Designs of their own could promise the most distant Possibility of Success, is itself overset.

Lor these Reasons I submit my Opinion to the Board, that immediate Orders should be dispatched colonel Lellie to suspend the March of the Detachment under his Command, or, if they have marched, to return forthwith to Calper, or fuch Station in the Nabob of Oude's Dominions se Colonel Leslie may think most convenient.

Mr. Wheler-I concur with Mr. Francis in submitting my Opinion to the Board, that immediate Orders should be dispatched to Colonel Lessie to suspend the March of the Detachment under his Command; or, it already marched, to return forthwith to Calpee, or fuch other Station in the Nabob of Qude's Dominions, as Colonel Lessie may think most convenient.

Governor General—I do not agree to Mr. Francis's Motion, as I think it would be highly impolitic and imprudent to suspend the Progress of the Expedition on such sight Grounds. The Detachment me easily return when we know with Certainty that the Company's Affairs on the other Side of India are in such a State of Security as not to require its Aid. If it should otherwise happen, its Afficiance would arrive too late, if it was now recalled, and it should in such an Emergency be again ordered on Service.

Besides we are not yet informed that the Revolution has been effected. We scarcely know the firth Movements of it, and should be liable to the Imputation of Levity and Precipitancy, were we much weak Grounds to annul a Measure of such Importance in its Design, its Consequences, and and are all Notoriety.

In furnized that Mr. Francis should still attempt to discredit the Supposition of the French are at Poona. Does he really regard the Letters and Presents delivered to the Peshwa from King of France, by the Chevalier St. Lubin; the written Engagements declared by Mr. Mostyn we been interchanged by St. Lubin and Nanch Engagements declared by Mr. Mostyn we been interchanged by St. Lubin and Nanah Furnesse; the extraordinary Visit made by Monsieur combe to that Coast, and irreconcileable with any other Motive, as Facts of a doubtful Nature?

In Judgment they appear to bear the certain Demonstration of Engagements actually formed, ature for Execution; and I should deserve to be deprived with Ignominy of the Office which if I neglected to use such Means as were in my Power to deseate mem.

pon this Occasion, I must take Notice of a very striking Evidence afforded us in the Letter now the Administration at Poona.

the Sartine, the Vessel said to have accompanied Monsieur Bellecombe in his Expedition to the Ma-

Coast, is the same that brought Monsieur St. Lubin from France.

the Narrative delivered by Mr. Madgett to Mr. Lewis, it is faid that the Sartine was dispatched china on the 24th of August. The Manner in which this is related, proves evidently that Madgett himself imposed upon in this Conclusion of her Destination, since he introduces it not as a political but merely as a Fact, connected with other Circumstances, which were intended to fix a large against Monsieur St. Lubin of having embezzled the Cargo, and defrauded his Owners. now find, that inflead of making a Voyage to China, the Sartine went directly to Pondicherry, returned with Monsieur Bellecombe to the same Coast, if not the same Port, which she quitted. this Circumstance affords more than a presumptive Proof that Monsieur St. Lubin had imparted the that's of his Negociations to Monsieur Bellecombe; that he had solicited Monsieur Bellecombe to fulfil Engagements which he had formed, and sent the Sartine to Pondicherry for that Purpose; that fleur Bellecombe had adopted the Design, and had in compliance with it employed the Sartine in porting the Men and Stores promifed by St. Lubin's Engagements, and himself gone in Person of the Negociation.

Chall take this Occasion to offer a few Remarks on the Intelligence now received from Bombay, ch I think may throw some Lights on the State of the Maratta Government, as it appears to have circumstanced at the Time in which the Letter was written, and may convince the Board of the effity of profecuting with Vigour the Measures which we have begun, until the Designs of them

he President and Council of Bombay inform us, that " an Agent from Moraba had been sent to ombay to notify in general Terms Moraba's Desire, that no Time should be lost in sending Raip. VI.

APPENDIX, Nº 45

"goba to join his Party; but without making Proposals of any Kind either to him or them, and that he neither had any been yet made to Mr. Mostyn;" and that "a Compromise was likely to be effected between the Party and Nana Furneese." This they mention with Regret, and add, "that it is an unfortunate Circumstance that Ragoba's Friends had found their own Strength sufficient " to procure them Success without our Assistance."

I rather regard all these as fortunate Circumstances, if a proper Advantage be made of them, and the following are my Reasons for this Conclusion.

Ragoba, naturally suspicious and timid, as I am told he is, can never trust his Interests and Person to the Discretion of his new Partizans; Men who were lately his most inveterate Enemies, and who even in their former Connection with him betrayed him. He will have had more Cause than the Government of Bombay to be alarmed at an Invitation made to him, to put himself into their Hands without any Stipulation or Proposal, either for his personal Sasety or for the Share which he was to expect in the public Administration. Nor could he be better pleased with the Compromite made with Nana Furneese, when in Addition to the personal Disassection which he has ever borne to Ragoba in a more eminent Degree than the rest, and from which he will have departed only from the Motive of urgent Necessity, possesses the Support of Hurry Punt Furkia, the Commander in Chief of the Forces, and Engagements with the French Nation, which if they are ever carried into Effect will give him an absolute and irresistible Command of the Maratta State.

With such Reasons to distrust the Party which has recalled him to the chief Administration of Assairs he must strongly feel the opposite Necessity of trusting to the Protection of the Government of Bombay as his only and sure Resource: That Government has espoused his Cause with a Zeal for exceeding that which a political Principle alone would have excited, a Zeal heightened by common Disappointment, and a long personal Communication of the same Regrets, Apprehensions, and Hopes.

Such being his Situation, I cannot suppose that he will consent to move from Bombay without an English Military Force, nor perhaps under any future Situation of his Affairs, however properous, to part with it while those are in Power to whose Friendship he may think he can trust.

The Presidency of Bombay have a Right to require Conditions of equal Advantage for that which they bestow. These are not likely to be unreasonable, and whatever they may be he is not in a Condition to refuse them.

The Union of Nana Furneese with the Party must inevitably produce this good Effect. It will indispose every other Member of the Administration to the French Alliance, by which if it takes Place, he alone will be a Gainer. Had he fallen in the Contention, it is not improbable that his Adversaries would have taken up the Negociation where he left it, and one great, if not the only real Benefit expected from the Revolution, would have been lost to us. In a Word, I repeat that this Accommodation must prove an Advantage. It completes a System of disjointed and discordant Parts, which the Government of Bombay may hold together, but no other Power can; or by withdrawing their Grasp, let it fall to Pieces, and erect any other that they please in the room of it.

But to enable them to support the Character which I have assigned them in this important Scene, they must possess the Means both of surmounting all immediate Obstacles to Ragoba's Elevation, and of maintaining him in the Possession of it, until his Authority shall be thoroughly confirmed by the Suppression of every Party capable of opposing it. The same Means, and the same Opposition tunity will equally serve for the Advancement and Security of the Company's Interests, which, as their primary Concern, I cannot suppose will be neglected. For the first of these Ends, the Force which they tell us they propose to send will be sufficient; it will preserve the Ascendant of Ragoba over his Associates, and quiet his Apprehensions with respect to their Fidelity: But it may prove an inadequate Provision for suture Contingencies. The Reinforcement which we have prepared for them, will render their Strength equal to any Service: I have no Doubt of its having already produced some Effect; for if we reslect upon the Languor which followed the first Overtures of the Confederacy, and the sudden Execution of their Design, in the same Instant of Time in which the Knowledge of the Armament formed by this Government must have reached the confederated Party, we must attribute the former to a Dissidence in their own Strength, and the latter to the Confidence excited by their expected Aid; which though not immediately intended for them, was professedly calculated to counteract the Designs of our common Adversary.

If in the Crisis of such a Project we were to recall the Detachment, it might alarm our Friends and inspire their Enemies, who in Effect are our's, with the Hope of succeeding in any Attempts to subservert all that has been already effected. By a Perseverance we shall be sure of maintaining the Ground which we may have gained; and it it should be found necessary to let the Detachment proceed to subsect the Detachment proceed to subsect the commanding every Point which we can wish for the Company. On the Whole, I repease because I think it conclusive of the present Argument, that if the Services of the Detachment shall not be wanted, nothing will have been lost by its having marched, and it may be easily recalled; but if it should be now withdrawn, and its Aid should be hereafter required, it will be too late to afford it.

All the Difficulties which seemed at first to oppose the Measure have gradually disappeared: The Apprehension of having the whole Force of an Empire to contend with is removed by the late Morements at Poona; and the Difficulty of substitting an Army in so long a Route is removed by the Offer of Supplies, and of every Assistance, made by Moodajee Booslah, the only Power lying between the Point of its Departure, and the Confines of Poona. After such Pains taken to obtain fuch Advantages ought not to be lightly abandoned. Even the Credit of our Government. Measure which has attracted the Attention and Expectation of all Indostan, demands the Proseon of it.

Warren Hastings. (Signed)

Ir. Francis-The Letter from Bombay begins with these Words: " Mr. Mostyn has already dvised you of the Revolution that has taken place in the Poona Government." I consider this Fact, and I draw the same Conclusion from it with the President and Council of Bombay, that tever may be the other Consequences of this Revolution, they hope at any rate it will defeat the gns of the French.

It is not of Moment to the present Question, whether I relinquish or adhere to my First Opinion of fie Designs, because I suppose an Event to have happened, which admitting such Designs to have steed, necessarily descats the Essect of them. If the Board do not believe the Fact, they will of the continue the Expedition on the Principles on which it was undertaken: If they do believe [12] cannot comprehend how we should be liable to an Imputation of Levity or Precipitancy in pending the Execution of a Measure which an unforeseen Event has made unnecessary Governor General—It matters not what Interpretation the President and Council of Bombay have upon Mr. Mollyn's Letter to this Government, fince it is a Fact that Mr. Mostyn's Letter does fay that a Revolution had actually taken place in the Poona Government: It says only, that ree only of the Confederacy had joined their Forces, amounting to Thirty thousand Horse and it; that they expected to be joined by Succaram Baboo at the Village of Courey; that Fifty in the City of Poona by Moraba Furnese, to affift at a Proclamation made the Name of Ragoba; and that Nana Furnele, with an Army of 5000 Men, was encamped at Foot of the Hill of Proonder, and had summoned all his Friends and Adherents to join him. Less are the only essential Facts contained in Mr. Mostyn's Letter, and certainly do not amount to mecided Revolution; neither can I confider it as much more advanced by the loofe Intelligence intained in the Letter from the Presidency of Bombay, that a Compromise was likely to be effected tween the Party and Nana Furnese. From what I know of the Situation, Interests, and Conctions of the different Parties, I am convinced, that without the Support of an English Force it ill never be accomplished: It is not necessary in this Place to detail my Reasons; it is sufficient only have shewn, that the Work, though begun with every Prospect of Success, was very far from ing accomplished at the Period of which we are speaking, and of course that the Measure in pestion is not rendered unnecessary, as Mr. Francis has stated.

Mr. Barwell—I do not think the Reasons assigned by Mr. Francis will warrant an instant Assent whis Proposition: I shall have no Objection to acquiesce in it as soon as the great political Measure is been secured, which was the Object of the Expedition projected to Bombay by this Governent.

The Majority of the Board being against Mr. Francis's Motion, it is resolved in the Negative.

ECEIVED the following Letters from Fort Saint George:

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We have the Honour to enclose you a Copy of a Letter just received from Bombay, with a Copy answer, for your Information.

In consequence of your Letter to us of the 4th of February, we ordered the Number of Troops equested by the Gentlemen at Bombay to be in Readiness to march if it should be thought necessar in a further Application from them; but the Season is now so far advanced, that it would be imposible for them to reach Anjengo in Time to embark before the Monsoon breaks on the Malabar Coast: We propose therefore to hold them still here in Readiness to proceed to Bombay the First favourable Opportunity, should the Gentlemen there continue to be in want of them, and the Situation of Affairs will enable us to dispense with this Force: We shall in the mean Time be obliged to you for fuch Information as you may think proper to afford us, regarding the Affistance which you propose yielding from Bengal, and the Designs you may have further formed in consequence of the present State of the Government at Poona.

In your Letter of the 4th February you acknowledged the Receipt of our's dated the 16th January and promifed us your Sentiments upon it shortly; we hope in consequence, that you will be please to favour us with them as foon as possible.

To the Honourable Thomas Rumbold, Efquire, &c.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letter of the 13th February, and beg Leave to congratulate Mr. Rumbol on the Appointment to the Government of your Prefidency.

The Pattamars dispatched from Madras the First of March arrived here without any Packet fig. you; but as several of the private Letters which they brought concur in the Intelligence, that you ha ordered a Body of Forces to the Affillance of this Prefidency, in confequence of the Requilition w. made in our Letter of the 12th December, we can only impute our not having heard from you, to your Packet having been intercepted by the Marattas; the Pattamars having informed us the Packet of Letters was stopt and opened near Poona.

As the Seaton is to far advanced as not to allow of our waiting for more particular Advice from you, we have judged it expedient to give immediate Orders for a sufficient Number of Vessels proceeding to Anjengo to being up the Troopse which according to our Accounts confilt of 200 European Infantry, 50 Artillery, and a Battalion of Sepoys; and we hope we shall not be disappointed in our Expectations, that our Vessels will find them at that Place ready for Embarkation.

We have thought it necessary to apprize the Commanding Officer at Palamcotta of our Intentions, and we beg Leave to enclose a Copy of our Letter to him for your Notice.

Mr. Mostyn has advised you of the Revolution which has happened in the Maratta Government; and in consequence thereof we have judged it necessary to collect all the Force we possibly can to accompany Ragoba to Poona.

Sir Edward Vernon, in his Passage down the Coast having fell in with the Brilliante and another French Ship, which from the Intelligence we had received we had before suggested to him werecoming with a Design to form a Settlement at Choul, a Maratta Port close to the Mouth of our Harbour, he has again returned hither in order to prevent their Scheme taking Effect; and we hope and trust, that in consequence of the late Revolution we shall be able totally to destroy the French Influence at the Court of Poona, an Object of the utmost Importance to the Honourable Company. To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, &c.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

We are much concerned to observe, by your Letter of the 8th instant, that our's to you of the 25th January had miscarried. We now transmit a Duplicate, by which you will perceive, that from the Posture of Affairs at that Time we thought ourselves under the Necessary of declining an immediate Compliance with your Request for to large a Body of Troops as 250 Europeans and a Battalion of Sepoys, to be affembled at Palamcottah for the Purpole of marching to your Affiffance. This Miscarriage of our Letter gives us the more Concern, as you have been led to fend Vessels to Anjengo, in the Idea that the Troops had been collected at Palamcottah as you defired, and were ready to march to Anjengo for Embarkation.

We affure you, Gentlemen, that we paid every Attention to your Request, and should have been happy if the Situation of Affairs here had permitted us to comply with it in the Extent you wished; but circumstanced as we then were, the Measure appeared too unsafe and imprudent to be adopted: However, upon hearing from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, that their Sanction and Affiltance would be given to your Proceedings, and upon their opening and recommending the Design more fully to us, we then determined, notwithstanding the incomplete State of our Establishment, to order the Troops you had before requested to hold themselves in Readiness to march They are now under these Orders; but as the Season is too far advanced to send them to Anjengo, we shall keep them in Readiness to proceed to your Assistance the first Opportunity that offers, if your, absolute Want of them should continue, and no material Change should happen here in the mean Time: But we must observe to you, that the Number of our Europeans fir for Duty is to all and disproportionate, that we deem it unsafe, even in the most favourable Times, to detach any rt of them upon so distant a Service; and we wish therefore that Sepoys only may be required, as can with much less Difficulty replace their Loss.

Private Advices from Bengal mention, that the Detachment ordered from thence were to winter at orah, and afterwards proceed on their March.

The following Minutes having been delivered on the 16th inflant on Papers circulated from the filitary Department, are ordered to be recorded in this Place.

In Circulation, 16th May 1778, Three Letters from Colonel Leslie, dated 26th of April, 1st and 3d May.

Governor General—I have to propose submitting the Requests in Colonel Lessie's Letters to the shiftderation of the Commander in Chief, and his Opinion required on the Propriety of complying

Mr. Barwell—I acquiesce to Colonel Leslie's Propositions, as far as they may be judged proper the Commander in Chief.

Mr. Francis—I must acquiesce in the above Proposal, if it be unalterably determined that the trachment shall proceed; but I should imagine the Letters received this Day from Mr. Mostyn de Fort Saint George would naturally induce the Board to suspend their March, at least until the ins are over, or until some direct and positive Intelligence shall be received of the Designs imted to the French, and some overt Act of their's tending to carry such Designs into Execution. hatever these may have been, the Presidency of Bombay, in their Letter of the 8th of last Month that of Fort Saint George, say, "that they hope and trust, that in consequence of the late Revolution they shall be able totally to destroy the French Insluence at the Court of Poona."

This Influence, if we may believe Mr. Mostyn, could not at any Time have been very consideble, notwithstanding any Reports to the contrary industriously circulated by a low French Agent, hose infamous Character is too well known in India to entitle him to the smallest Degree of Credit. r. Mostyn, in his Letter of the 19th April, says, "that when the Poona Durbar demanded of him, Whether he had written to us on the Subject of their having given a Port to the French, and appointed Monsieur St. Lubin to the Command of their Artillery, and whether to his Knowledge it was so? he replied, that he had not informed us thereof, neither did know that any thing had been yet done for the French."

As this is the Case, and as we know with Certainty that in November last there was no Expectation a Rupture between the Two Crowns in Europe, I trust the Board will at least suspend the Exe-tion of a Measure evidently tending to a Rupture with France, and sounded either on Facts which pear to have been grossly misrepresented, or on the Supposition of Designs which, if they ever fifted, are descated without our Interposition.

Governor General—I must request Mr. Francis's Permission to transfer the above Minute to the cret Department, to which the Subject properly belongs.

Mr. Francis-Agreed: The other Letters from Mr. Auriol came to me at the same Time, and I tote on this Paper by Mittake.

th May 1778.

Robert Kyd, Secretary.

The Governor General—I cannot discover any thing either in the Letter from Fort Saint George, in Mr. Mostyn's, which ought to induce us to recall the Detachment, or to suspend its Operations; the contrary, the whole Tenor of the Letter proves the Necessity of its proceeding.

Whatever Hopes the President and Council of Bombay may have entertained of the Effects of the evolution, neither was the Revolution accomplished at the Time in which their Letter was written, r was the French Influence in any apparent Degree lessened by their Prospect of it: Notwithstanding r. Mostyn's Remonstrances, and the Promise made to him by the Ministers on the 10th of April, at the Chevalier St. Lubin should be dismissed from Poona, it is certain that he was not gone on e 10th.

Mr. Francis has quoted a Part of Mr. Mostyn's Reply to the Ministers, to which I shall add the emainder, and leave it to the impartial Readers of these Papers to form their own Conclusions

"But that from Monsieur St. Lubin's being permitted to remain here, notwithstanding you had been informed of the Promises made me by the Durbar, that he should be dispatched as latt Decera, together with the Assurances which Monsieur St. Lubin had given to all the French Settlements, that they had delivered Choul into his Hands, and that the French Flag was actually flying there; you, Gentlemen, might with very great Propriety imagine such was absolutely the Case. I then desired they would inform me what were the real Intentions of the Durbar with respect to the French: When Succaram Babboo replied, That they had the dispatching Monsieur St. Lubin REP. VI. " under

PENDIX, N° 46.

" under Consideration: And I have since received Assurances from Moraba, that this Many should be settled agreeable to our Wishes."

Neither to the Sufpicions thus pointedly expressed by Mr. Mostyn, nor to the direct Questing put to them in my Letters, have the Ministers made any Reply, except an Assurance given to M Mostyn, that they had the dispatching of St. Lubin under Consideration, and that this Man should be settled agreeably to our Wishes. Not to deny a direct and formal Charge, preferred those who have a Right to a Reply, is to admit it.

I have no Authority for the Belief, much less do I know with Certainty, that in November 1 there was no Expectation of a Rupture between the Two Crowns in Europe. But why is this in po'ed? Neither is the Defign which has been attributed to Monfieur St. Lubin connected with fu an Event; nor can a Provision made by this Government, to flrengthen one of its Dependencies, any Respect tend to it. Monsieur St. Lubin may bring Men and Arms to Poona, and disciplinal the Mattita Army; our Detachment may traverse the whole Empire of Indostan; and Peace between Great Britain, and France continue uninterrupted, and infentible of such all Movements.

In the Opinion which I delivered on a former Motion made by Mr. Francis for recalling the I tachment, I objected to the Grounds of it as erroncous, and I intimated my Belief that the Attachment, ment, which Hurry Punt Furkia, the Commander in Chief of the Maratta Forces, was known to b to Nana Furneis, would prevent a Reconciliation from being effected between Nana Furneis and k gonath Row. A Circumflance obscurely related by Mr. Moslyn, corroborates this Opinion, and affin but too much Reason for the Sufpicions that Nana Furnets in the Refusal to accept of the profice Terms of Accommodation, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and in the Defire which he has shewn to retire to the River Killing, and the River Killing Station of Hurry Punt Furkia, still looked to that Chief for Protection. I am informed and by & Authority, that the Maratta General juddenly marched towards Poona on the first Intelligence of t projected Revolution, and was followed by the Army of Nizam Ally Cawn, with the fame Defign.

I understand of preventing or defeating it.

As it will not be exacted from me to act upon Conclusions drawn from Premises which I do to allow; and as the Refolution which has been taken to fend a powerful Military Aid to the Picfi! of Bombay was founded on a supposed Necessity of guarding the Company's Interests in that to ter against impending Dangers; while those Dangers exist or appear to exist, it will be my Duty of sistently to support and profecute the Measure undertaken at my Instance. These Dangers original from the Intrigues of Nana Furness, the executive Ruler of the Maratta State, and the Cheval St. Lubin, a proclaimed Minister of the Crown of France. Mr. Francis affirms that the Ground of this Apprehension are all distipated by a Revolution which by the Expulsion of Nana Furness now the Government has at once disabled him and annihilated the French Influence in the Maratta Count cils; and therefore he infifts on the Repeal or Sulpenfion of the intended Aid, as no longer necessary even on the Grounds on which it was proposed to be given.

These are not Mr. Francis's Words, for I have not his Minute at this Time before me, but that contain his Sense, and I hope not discoloured in the Expression.

To this a fummary View of the State of the contending Parties, as it is described by our latest Advices, will be a complete Answer.

Ragonaut Row, the intended Chief of the new Administration, had not left Bombay nor was hile foon to leave it: His Friends at Proonder had proclaimed a Change of Government, but had neul refolved on the Form of it nor prevailed on their late Competitor, even with all the Terrors what are the ufual Attendants of new Dominion, to participate it with them. The French Minister we mained undiflurbed at the Capital, and Two powerful Armies were marching to the Relief of Note Furnels. Such was the Revolution which is now flated as a Proof that our political. Affairs at Box bay are in a State of Quiet and Security, and as a Reason for repealing the Measures which have been adopted for those Ends.

Edward Wheler. (Signed) Scen.

Mr. Francis-I am not folicitous to refute Opinions that differ from mine, when the Meafure they relate to are unalterably determined. My Reply to the preceding Minute is intended for (1) own Juftification, and to fatisfy the Court of Directors, that if I perfit in a Conduct opposed to the decided Sente of the Majority, it is not from Oblimacy or Passion, but that I have some Reason of my Side, and that I am not fo ill-advited as to endeavour to support any Opinion by appealing to Ear dence which proves directly against me.

It is faid that when the last Letter from Bombay was written, the Revolution at Poona was a accomplished; that the French Influence was not yet lessened by the Prospect of it, and that Monnes

St. Lubin was not dismissed on the 19th April.

The Presidency of Bombay, in their Letter to Fort Saint George of the 28th, say, "Mr. Moslyn has advised you of the Revolution which has happened in the Maratta Government". That they were preparing to accompany Ragoba to Poona with all the Force they could collect, and that " in confe quence of the late Revolution they hope and trust they shall be as le totally to defroy the French In "fluence there." It appears by Mr. Mollyn's Letter of the 19th, that the Marattas had not delivered Choul to the French, nor engaged Monsieur St. Lubin in their Service; in this State of Things to kens immaterial to any effential Interest of our's, whether Monneur St. I ubin continues at Poona or not-7 L

A P P E N D I X, Nº 46.

In stating the Facts, with the direct Evidence that belongs to them, I meet the Governor General's regument on his own Principles: I admit of a Supposition destitute of all Foundation, that the resent Expedition was undertaken to essed a Revolution in the Maratta Government, consequently hat there is a Necessity for its proceeding until such Revolution is accomplished; I allow it to be prosed, that the Prevalence of French Instituence at the Court of a neutral Power would warrant our vading then Country and taking Possession of their Capital, and that as long as a French Minister permitted to reside their overminated to the Conclusions drawn from them, the Governor General still bound to descend the Principles on which they are formed: They are such as I do not think cessary to dispute: Those which I projets, and have steadily endeavoured to pursue, are taken from a highest Authority, and rounded, as I b lieve, upon true Policy, on Justice, and right Reason: to preserve the Peace of India; to make the Safety of Bengal the principal Object of all our Deberations; never to employ the Company's Forces in distant Expeditions; and in all our Treaties the Country Powers to take Care that they be so framed, as neither in recliately or eventually, possible, to e-gage the Company in any Disputes between those Powers. It is not for us to exaline the Wistom or Weakness of a system established on such Authority; it is our Duty to conform it.

The Distance of Time is sufficient to assure us, that in November last the Peace between the Two owns was not interrupted. A private Letter from Constantinople, dated in December, and which ry Body here has seen, takes Notice, that at that Time there was no Expectation of a Rupture h France or Spain. The March of an English Army across India in Time of profound Peace, Measure too extraordinary not to attract the Attention of the French Government and excite r Suspicious: Appearances may perhaps lead them to conjecture, that the real Object of the Existion is only the Plunder of Poona, now supposed to be the richest City in India, but it will nish them with Reasons sufficient to charge us with disturbing the Peace of India; to impute Dens to us in which their own Security may be concerned; and to justify their taking Part in a Quarrel ich we alone have created. When a Suspicion alone that the French are carrying on Intrigues to Prejudice of our Interest at Poona is supposed to warrant the March of an Army across India to interact their Designs, we cannot without manifest Inconsistency assume that the March of this lamp gives them no Ground of Umbrage or Alarm, or that it has no Tendency to interrupt the tace between the two Nations.

apprehend, that by engaging in them we are laying the Foundation of a general War in India, ch cannot fail of extending to Europe. The French and English have usually began Hostilities is Country as Auxiniaries to some of the native Powers, but they soon become Principals. If Defence and Security of our present Acquisitions were not at all Times the only Object we ought have in view, this certainly is not a Scason for provoking a Rupture with France: Every Measure Prudence and Moderation declate ought to be taken to avoid it. If our political Affairs at Bomare not in a State of Queet and Scawity, it depends on that Presidency to provide for their own try, by diengaging themselves from Quartels in which the Company's Interests are not conceined; when they tell us, that they are collecting all the Force they possibly can to accompany Rag ba to Poona, buld be the grassific Repairach to them not to conclude, that neither Bombay nor any of the impany's Possisions are in Danger of being invaded in the Absence of the Army established for it Defence.

If they deceive us in affecting that a Revolution has happened in the Maratta Government; if it

If they deceive us in afferting that a Revolution has happened in the Maratta Government; if it true that the French Munifler remains undiffinded at the Capital, and that Two powerful Armies, whose Existence we have never been informed, are marching to the Assistance of Nana Furnese, does not follow that an Expedition, which never had a Revolution for its Object, should not be intermanded until that Revolution be compleated. It does not follow that we have a Right to the han Army to Poons, because the Manister of a Crown with which His Majesty is at Peace, remitted to remain these undisturbed; or that it would not be our wifest Policy to suffer the impositors for the Maratta Government (if such Competition still subsists) to decide their internal arrels, or to waste their Strength against each other without our Interposition.

APPENDIX, N° 47.

Extrast of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 1st June 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Esquires.

THE following Minute from the Governor General was fent in fince the last Council, and cit culated. The Minutes entered after it were returned upon it.

Governor General—By imputing Principles for the Purpose of reslecting on them, and by ne peating Facts which have been denied, and Opinions which have been disputed, without any Notic taken of the preceding Reasonings upon them, a very short and simple Question may be drawn of to an endless Length, and the original Subject lost in the Changes which are rung upon it.

I do not allow the Principles which Mr. Francis has imputed to me, and has been pleafed to he he admits: Of course it is unnecessary to reply to his Inferences from them.

Mr. Francis still persists in affirming, that a Revolution has been accomplished at Poona, be which Ragoba has been restored to the chief Administration of the Maratta State, the French Institute destroyed, and the Designs of St. Lubin descated; to this I refer for a Reply to the Replacentained in my last Minute on this Subject, and to Time, the best Arbiter in such a Contest.

In Mr Francis's Minute of the 16th Initant, he faid, that "we know with Certainty that "November last there was no Expectation of a Rupture between the Two Crowns in Europe To this I replied in my Minute of the 20th Instant. He now repeats the same Insinuation; is what Purpose I can only conjecture: The same Reply will serve for both.

If the March of an English Army through a Tract of Country far remote from any Possessions the French, is likely to serve as a Pretext for interrupting the Peace between the Two Nations, I this it full as likely that the same Effect may be inferred from any other given Act of our Government. The simple Operation of the Revenue, whether for the Alleviation or Encrease of the public Taxes, may be construed to aim at the Ruin of the French Commerce in this Country: The Cantonments at Barrapo. may give Umbrage by their Vicinity to Ghiretty; and the unufual Assemblage of our Forces the Neighbourhood of the European Settlements may be attributed to a Defign of plunders Chandernagore; yet the Acts of Government ought not to be suspended, because such arbitrate Constructions might be put upon them; neither ought we to withhold the Assistance which the le terests of our common Masters require at their Presidency of Bombay, because there is a Possibility that the French may take an unreasonable Offence at it. It is sufficient that we neither commit nor even afford the slightest Shew of committing, any Act of Hossility against them, unless t arm ourselves against any Hossilities which they may hereafter commit, may be termed such: By to remain quiet and passive, and to abstain from the necessary Precautions of Self-Preservation, by cause hostile Designs have been imputed to the French, and therefore every such Precaution not point at them as its Object, would be to adopt a Principle of humble Forbearance, of which have never yet read a fingle Example in the British History; and which, for the national Honour, hope will never appear in the latest Annals of it. If in these Reflections I have misconstrued M Francis's Words, I have unwillingly wronged him; and therefore, for his Vindication and my ow I will here fubjoin them.

"When a Suspicion alone that the French are carrying on Intrigues to the Prejudice of our letterests at Poona, is supposed to warrant the March of an Army across India to counteract the Designs, we cannot, without manifest Inconsistency, affirm, that the March of this Army gives them no Ground of Umbrage or Alarm, or that it has no Tendency to interrupt the Peace between the Two Nations."

Mr. Francis has introduced Four Quotations from the Company's Orders to justify his Opposite to the present Measures; of these Quotations One only appears to me to be in point. To this, and to the others, if they are supposed to imply a Prohibition to fend a Military Aid to the Presidency of Bombay, I shall oppose the following Extract from their Commands of the 5th February 1777, which as the most recent of course supersede all Orders of a prior Date, in those Points in which the disagree.

"His (Ragoba's) Pretensions to the supreme Authority, either in his own Right or as Guarding to the Infant Peshwa, appear to us better sounded than those of his Competitors, and therefore the Conditions of the Treaty of Poona have not been strictly suffilled on the Part of the Maratta

44 and if from any Circumstances you shall deem it expedient, we shall have no Objection to an distinct with Ragoba, on the Terms agreed upon between him and the Governor and Counciled

" hance with Ragoda, on the Terms agreed upon between him and the Governor and Counting Bombay."

A P P E N D I X, Nº 47.-48 and 49.

To obviate the Inference which may be naturally suggested by this Quotation, I think it proper to erve that an Alliance with Ragoba is not the Object of the Measures which have been lately extraken by this Government for the Support of the Presidency of Bombay. Their declared sect is to give Security and Permanency to the Peace of that Settlement. It has fortunately pened that while we were in the Pursuit of this Object Ragoba was offered to us as an Instructurally, the Company have warranted us to accept him as such, and he is the most likely to prove stual of any that we could have chosen: We have accepted him, and while his Agency shall necessary to the above End, and can be employed with a facred Observance of every other papement. I hope we shall continue to employ it.

ragement, I hope we shall continue to employ it.

As the Grounds and Design of the late Measures which have been so violently contested by strancis and Wheler, have been explained in the sullest Detail in my Minutes of the 22d buary, 2d February, and 6th April; I hope I may have Leave to refer to these for a suller and re authentic Comprehension of the Subject, and even for the Correction of any Inaccuracies to ich in these looser Debates I may have madvertently fallen; for such I suspect.

(Signed) Warren Hastings.

Mr. Francis—On the preceding Minute I shall only observe, that when I affert any thing as the I constantly give the Evidence from which I draw my Conclusion. Affertions so supported are gratuitous. It seems the Object of the Expedition is to give Security and Permanence to the Peace ombay. Besides that Bombay has never been attacked, the Description of the Measure is defecting Point of Accuracy and Precision, and gives no clear determinate Idea of the Thing intended. In general Declarations may easily be accommodated to any Event, or any Purpose. It is protected the Court of Directors should know that Monsieur Beslecombe, on whose Visit to the French telements on the Malabar Coast such violent Stress was laid, as if the most alarming Designs were to inferred and the most formidable Consequences to be expected from it, is returned quietly to indicherry. I have this Fact from Captain Panton.

(Signed) P. Francis.

Governor General—It was not my Intention in these loose Debates, to describe the Design of the Measures with the Accuracy and Precision of formal Instructions, but merely to state their generand essential Object. For a minuter Detail I have referred to my former Minutes which were itten for that End.

presume that the Fact which Mr. Francis relates on the Authority of Captain Panton, was red to him with many other Circumstances which had a Relation to the Designs which were independent to Monsseur Bellecombe, and it is possible that the Sum of their Evidence may amount to a of of it. I hope that Mr. Francis will in Candour add all the Information which he has received his Subject from Captain Panton.

Ar. Francis—Captain Panton did not mention any other Particulars to me. The Conclusion I nt to draw from the Fact was, that admitting the French to have entertained Hopes of obling from the Marattas an Establishment on the Malabar Coast, and to have formed a Plan for tring it, such Hopes and Designs must now be disappointed.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, 21st May 1778.

HE following Minutes were delivered upon the Drast of a Letter prepared by Order of the Governor General, in Answer to a Letter from Fort Saint George, and laid before the Board their Approbation:

Mr. Francis—Letters of this great Importance ought to be debated in Council, where the imbers of the Board may receive Information, if they want it, and any Doubts that may occur them may be cleared up.

think the Refusal of a Supply of Money to the Presidency of Fort Saint George, who tell they have none in their Treatury, nor any Controll over the Resources of the Carnatic," is peremptory and unqualissed; especially considering the unexampled Profusion with which we supplied Bombay. The Reasons for which it is supposed that a Remittance to Madras may Q q be made at any Time, and with less Difficulty in Time of War than Peace, appear to me specul, tive and uncertain; nor do I see any Necessity for assigning such Reasons.

As for continuing the March of the Detachment to Bombay, I have re-considered the Subjectivith the utmost Attention, and in every Point of View, and must own I am unable to discover tolerable Pretence, much less a solid Argument, for pursuing that Measure, even on the Principle on which it was undertaken.

A Refolution to fend fo confiderable a Portion of the Force established for the Defence of the Provinces, to the other Side of India, will never appear warrantable in the Eyes of the Court. Directors on any Ground but that of clear irresistable Necessity, unless they should have departed from their own most solemn and deliberate Declarations and Orders on this Subject. In the Letter of the 15th December 1775, Par. 4, they say, "We disapprove all such distant Expedition as may eventually carry our Forces to any Situation too remote to admit of their speedy and say Return to the Protection of our own Provinces, in case of Emergency."

In our original Instructions they direct us, in all our Deliberations and Resolutions, to make it Sasety and Prosperity of Bengal our principal Object. I state these Orders, out of many to the suffect, that the Board may have an Opportunity of considering, before it be too late, whether be possible to reconcile the present Measures to those Principles of Policy which the Court of Directors have so strongly and urgently inculcated for the particular Guidance of this Govern

(Signed) P. Francis.

Mr. Wheler—I subscribe to the Opinion of Mr. Francis, on the Answer proposed by the Govern

General to the Letter received from Fort Saint George.

Governor General—I desire that the Secretary will acquaint Mr. Francis if it is his Desire that Meeting of the Board shall be held to take into further Consideration the Letter proposed to written to Fort Saint George; I shall have no Objection to the Council assembling To-morror Morning for that Purpose. The Secretary accordingly wrote to Mr. Francis, in Conformity to the Governor General's Minute.

The Governor General having proposed an Addition to the Letter to Fort Saint George, it we circulated, and the Opinions of the Board, which are entered after it, were delivered thereon.

Governor General—I beg Leave to recommend an additional Clause to the Letter proposed to be written to the President and Council of Fort Saint George, to the following Effect: That if the should see a Prospect of a Continuance of the Troubles at Poona, we recommend to them to a semble a Force near the Northern Frontier of the Carnatic, for the Purpose of affording either direct Assistance to the Presidency of Bombay, or a Diversion in their Favour, in any Way which they may judge most advisable.

(Signed) Warren Hastings.

I disapprove of the above Clause to the Letter proposed to be written to the President and Cound of Fort Saint George, both because I apprehend the Military Establishment of that Presidency already too much weakened by the Draft of the Detachment now under Orders for Bombay, admit of a Second Equipment; and likewise, because I am of Opinion that our Interference in the Troubles of Poona was founded in bad Policy, consequently, the further we engage the more withall involve the Affairs of the Company.

(Signed) Edward Wheler.

The Military Establishment of the Carnatic, including the Nabob's disciplined Troops, is equato that of Bengal, though the Territory which it has to defend is scarce equal to a Tenth Part of that which is guarded by the latter.

The Detachment now under Orders for Bombay cannot accomplish its original Destination before the Month of November; it is of course not likely to proceed at all.

(Signed) Warren Hastings.

Mr. Francis—I have heard of no Troubles yet at Poona, but if any have existed there, the last Revolution must have put an End to them; neither have I heard that Bombay was likely to be attacked, consequently can see no Occasion for sending them Assistance. The Presidency of that Settlement do not seem to think Bombay in any Danger, when by their last Letter we find that they were going to march the principal Part of their Force to Poona. I disapprove of the Motion so these Reasons, and because I think it rather too arbitrary and inconsistent to resuse the Presidency of Fort Saint George a Supply of Money, when they tell us they have not a Rupee in their Treasury and in the same Letter to order them to assemble a Force upon their Frontiers, and perhaps to march into the Maratta Country, which we know it is impossible for them to do without Money.

It feems to be forgotten, that all the Military Operations now in Agitation must be executed in the Midit of the Rains.

(Signed) P. Francis.

I agree to the Governor General's Motion.

APPENDIX, Nº 48 and 49.

Governor General—To Mr. Francis's Minute I reply, that it has been supposed that the Island of sombay was in Danger of immediate Invasion; that it will be too late to make remote Propositions or the Assistance of that Settlement when it is engaged in actual Hostilities; that Mr. Mostyn's last cetter, and the other Advices from that Quarter, afford us every Reason to expect a Scene of great Troubles at Poona; that our Application to the Presidency of Fort Saint George is not an Order, for have we a Right to write to them on such a Subject with the Style of Command; that by delining to send them an immediate Supply of Money, we have not precluded them from every Hope of such Assistance; and that when our own Means and Exigencies will admit, and their Occasions require it, I shall readily agree to relieve them.

I am forry Mr. Francis should suppose me so inattentive to the Service which I have recommended, as not to have considered whether the Season of the Year would admit of its Execution. I have in a former Minute declared, that I regarded the rainy Season as favourable to the Expedition conducted by Colonel Lessie: In the Carnatic it does not commence till the Month of November.

(Signed) Warren Hastings.

The above Addition having been agreed to by a Majority of the Board, and added to the Letter to Fort Saint George, it was signed and dispatched.

The Secretary lays before the Board the following Letter, which he received from Mr. Francis in Reply to his Notification of the Governor General's Offer of affembling a Council to take into further Consideration the Letter to Fort Saint George:

To J. P. Auriol, Esquire, &c.

Having already delivered my Opinion on the proposed Letter to Fort Saint George, and on the Addition since made to it by the Governor General, and having no new Matter before me, I have now no Ground for making it my particular Desire that a Council should be summoned for re-considering the Subject. I beg you will return my most respectful Thanks to the Governor for the Offer contained in your Letter.

own extraordinary Occasions. Add to this Consideration the present Season of the Year in which the Collections are entirely at a Stand, and it will appear that we shall meet with some Difficulty in defracting our own ordinary Expences; neither do the President and Council of Fort Saint George require a pecuniary Aid to relieve their actual Wants, but only to serve as a Fund to answer the Exigencia of a War. To me it appears that such a Fund will be as safe and as effectual in our Hands as in their, but if it shall be the Opinion of the Board that at this Time there is a Probability that the Presidency of Fort Saint George may be pressed for Means beyond their ordinary Resources, I shall very readily join in appropriating a Sum for that Purpose, and in fixing a Period for advancing it either by Bills, or if these cannot be obtained, by Remittances in Specie; in the mean Time I recommend to the Consideration of the Board the Advice offered to that Presidency in our Letter of the 7th April 1777, as it points out the natural and reasonable Means of enlarging their own Resources, without unnestessarily exhausting the Currency of this Country, and I desire that it may be entered after this Manute. I shall here leave the Subject thus at large, either to be determined at this Meeting of the Board; or, as it appears to me of too much Importance for so precipitate a Decision, to be more delimberately considered, and the Opinions of the Board taken upon it in the Interval between our Meetings.

"It appears from the general Tenor as well as the particular Paffages of the Nabob's Letters, that he is greatly indebted to British Subjects in the Service of the Company, or residing at Madres under their Protection. We have strong Grounds to conclude that he may have granted to these Creditors, Tuncaws or Assignments of the Revenues of the Carnatic, in the same Manner as he had formerly mortgaged to them the Collections of Tanjore. We cannot avoid expressing our Disapprobation of this Act, if it has really taken place, because it must evidently tend to lessen the Power of the Carnatic, by depriving it of its Resources, and thereby expose it to the Danger of foreign Invasion. In this Case therefore we recommend to you, to require in Form of the Nabob, that he resume all such Grants; that he deliver to you an Account of his Debts contracted with the Subjects of Great Britain, and suspend the Liquidation of them until he shall have fully discharged those due to the Company, or until you may be surnished with Instructions from the Court of Directors respecting the Demands of his private Creditors, as it is possible that such Instructions may speedily be received in Answer to the Reference which you made to them on this Subject in the Course of the last Year."

Mr. Francis—The Letter to Fort Saint George upon the Whole amounts to a politive Refulal of their Request; the following Expression appeared to me too harsh and peremptory, "To these Considerations we must add, that we shall not think ourselves warranted, even under the most pressing Situation of your Affairs, to offer our Relief, if it shall appear to us that you have the Means of it left in your own Hands unapplied." Either the Means herein alluded to could never be in their own Hands, or their Affairs could not be in the most pressing Situation.

When the Draft of the Letter was fent round, the State of our Treasury now presented to the Board was not before me, nor is it mentioned or alluded to among the Reasons assigned for not granting the Supply requested of us; if it had I should have thought it unanswerable, because as I deem the Preservation and Security of Bengal of all others the most important Object of Consideration to the Company, I should never have approved of supplying the Wants of the other Presidencies out of the Treasury of this Government, already so nearly exhausted; on the same Principle I should have endeavoured to discourage every Enterprize likely to be attended with extraordinary Expences, particularly the present Expedition to Poona. I consider the Morey in the new Fort as a Resource against a possible Invasion of these Provinces, and not to be employed for any other Service but their immediate Defence; deducting this Sum, and the others already appropriated from the Balance in our Treasury, it appears that we are going to maintain a War on the other Side of India, or Military Operations at least in Point of Expence equivalent to a War, with an unappropriated Surplus in our Treasury of Three Lacks and a Half, and which from the Season of the Year we are so little likely to encrease, that we shall meet with some Dissibility in our ordinary Expences. In this Situation of our Affairs I certainly shall not be for fending Supplies of Money either to Madras or Bombay, and I would assign the true Reasons of our Conduct to those Presidencies.

Governor General-The State of our Two principal Treasuries is presented to the Board every Monday Morning, and a daily Report I understand to be constantly made to every Member of the Board: It was to these Treasuries only that my Minute alludes, as it is from these only that Remittances could be made to the other Presidencies; but Mr. Francis has carried his Conclusions far beyond mine, and greatly misunderstood me if he supposes that I mean to represent the Company's Resources as exhausted. The State of our Treasuries at the Presidency has ever been at its lowest Ebb in the Three first Months of the Year; but this does not prove that our Resources are exhausted; a fair State of the Company's Resources can only be seen in the collective Sum of all their Treasuries, and the Estimate of their growing Resources and Disbursements. The Cash in the principal Treasuries may be diminished by Means which proportionably augment that of the Provincial, as is actually the Case in the Twelve Lacks of Rupees lately ordered to be granted to the Board of Trade at the Presidency, in Exchange of the provincial Assignments formerly made to them. The general State of the Company's Treasuries will make a Number in the Packet; and compared with that sent Home the last Year near the same Period of Time, will better shew than any Argument, the Ability of this Government to support all its Expences, whether external or internal.

A P P E N D I X, Nº 48 and 49. Nº 50 and 51.

Mr. Barwell-When I approved the Draft of the Letter to Fort Saint George, I did not decline to the Supply required by the Gentlemen of Fort Saint George from any Idea of the Inability of Government to give it, but because I did not know, and do not at this present Moment know, er what Circumstances the extraordinary Demand we have from that Presidency was made; their burces were the same the preceding Year, and the Year preceding that, and proved a sufficient id for defraying the Expenses of their Government. I know of no extraordinary Charges to th the Presidency of Fort Saint George has been subjected during this present Year, nor do the sident and Council state any Deficiency in their ordinary Funds; I therefore cannot suppose there ny very pressing Call, or that there can be any real Necessity for impoverishing the Bengal assury to supply that of Madras; besides, at this Season of the Year, we have not the Means reassured Relies to the Carlot.

ransporting Bullion to the Coast. Ar. Wheler-I consider the Request of the Governor and Council of Fort Saint George, of a ply of Money from this Settlement, rather to arife from the Apprehension of some sudden regency requiring an I ncrease of their Expences, which their Treasury was in no Degree pre-ted to answer, than from any Augmentation of their Establishment: Under these Circumstances I ged it reasonable to comply with their Request, not being furnished at that Time with an exact ged it reasonable to comply with their Request, not being furnished at that Time with an exact ged it reasonable to comply with their Request, not being furnished at that Time with an exact ged of our own Treasury, which I am now well convinced will not admit of. In a mercantile we many Reasons may be assigned in favour of an annual Supply to that Presidency; the only I shall offer to the Board at present is, that every Cargo from Fort Saint George to Europe, is fold by the Company, nearly doubles its original Cost and Charges, which are supposed to render them ent, which we are increasing daily in most of the Articles which are supposed to render them hable, upon an Average lose upwards of 30 per Cent.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Rich^d Barwell, Esquires. Philip Francis, Edw Wheler, your Commands of the 9th March you are pleased to direct me to reserve in my Hands the Sum of Ten Lacks of Rupees, for the Pay and Expence of the Detachment ordered to be in adiness to march to Bombay, and to wait your further Orders for transmitting the same to the tachment. In consequence of these Instructions, I immediately prepared that Sum, converting much of it as I possibly could into Gold Specie, and packed it up in Readiness to be forwarded the shortest Intimation from the Honourable Board: But not receiving such Intimation, and learnfrom Colonel Leflic that his final Instructions and Orders of March had been transmitted to , I conclude that some Accident must have befallen the Orders which the Honourable Board me on this Head, or that they may not have adverted to the Injunction they gave me to wait fir further Commands. I have therefore, in Compliance with the most pressing Requisitions of fronel Lestie, taken upon me to forward to him the Sum of Twelve Lacks of Rupees (upwards Three Lacks and Thirty thousand whereof are in Gold Mohurs) which the Honourable Board perceive from a Copy of the Colonel's Estimate herewith enclosed, was deemed necessary for the vice.

The Charge of the Nabob's Rassaulah was necessarily included in Colonel Leslie's Estimate, as the e of his Excellency's Finances and Refources rendered it impossible for me to have attained imdiately the requisite Advance from any other Funds than those I am at present in Possession of. ope however in the Course of the Year, to re-claim a considerable Part of this Sum, which for present I have been obliged to the Vizier's Debt with the Honourable Company, from the ads originally assigned for the Maintenance of Abdul-nahman Cawn's Ressaulah. For the further Information of the Honourable Board, I beg Leave to submit to their Perusal

The Paymaster of this Detachment (Mr. Cator) is not yet arrived, as he has been delayed Sickness, and I think it is probable has Orders to receive the Treasure from you, but has neglect in his Indisposition to transmit the Order to you or to me; upon this Supposition I have sent and press to him, to desire, if he has such an Order, to transmit it to me immediately; and as I la not any Money to defray the Expence of the current Service, I am to request that you will ple to remit me, as foon as possible, some Lacks of Rupees, or fend me Credit for such Sums as In want for the current Service, led it should suffer by Delay for the Want of it, which I shall he myself accountable to you for, till such Time as you may receive the necessary Orders from Board, immediately from themselves, or through Mr. Cator.

I have advised the Government with this Circumstance of Delay, and of my having made:

Requisition to you, lest the Service should suffer before their Orders can arrive.

I have been favoured with your Letter of the 24th Instant on the Morning of the 27th, previo to which, on the Night of the 25th, Mr. Chandler arrived here, as did Almais Ally Cawn on Morning of the 26th.

I am extremely obliged to you for your Attention in fending Mr. Chandler to this Place, order to fee that the Vizier's Injunctions and your own are duly executed by Almafs Ally Cawn, which I hope the Service will be furthered, and all Obstacles removed that have hitherto retact it; and I hope, by this Interpolition, that the Supplies I have demanded, which are very trib to the Abilities of the Country, will be speedily and effectually supplied, in order that I may be my March without Lois of Time.

I must refer you to Mr. Chandler for the Progress we have made with Almais for your fund

Information.

In my Letter of Yesterday I informed you of the Circumstances of the Delay in the Supply of Treasure. I now enclose you an Estimate of what I think will be wanting for the current Expeof One Month, which, you will observe, amounts to One Lack Seventy thousand Rupees; the fore I do suppose that not less than Thirty thousand will be necessary for Contingencies, or i-Two Lacks will be barely fufficient, exclusive of the First Expence of Supply; as the Government have thought that Six Months ought to be provided, Twelve Lacks will be necessary, while hope will be fent to me as foon as possible.

Camp, near Corah, 29th April 1778.

I am, &c. (Signed) Math Leflic.

The Paymaster of my Detachment (Mr. Cator) being arrived, and having no other Orders the to join me, I prefume the Governor General and Council thought my Order for your fending # Sum of Money destined for the Expence of my Expedition, sufficient for your doing to; and they have put the Paymaster entirely under my Controll alone, I suppose it was not confistent? Order should be sent to him to receive it, or in the Hurry of Businels the necessary Orders to your fending it have been forgot; let this be how it will, the Service must suffer if the Treasure not sent immediately. I therefore must repeat my Request to you, that a Sum, amounting is Twelve Lacks of Sicca Rupees be fent me with all Expedition, for which I will grant my R. ceipts, and become accountable to you.

We have received your Letters of the 30th ultimo, and 1st, 6th, and 8th instant.
Instead of complying with the Assurances which have been made by Mr. D. Barwell to Fyzala Cawn, think it will answer the same Purpose to address a Letter to him, confirming the Obligation of Government to abide by the Guarantee of the Treaty concluded by the Vizier with him, which have engaged in by our Authority, and the Governor General will write to him accordingly. We authorize you to receive the Amount of the Obligation which Fyzala Cawn has delivered to

The Barwell for One Lack of Rupees, as a complimentary Mark of his Respect and Attention to the mpany for the Part they have taken in his Concerns.

We think it proper to express our Approbation of the Conduct of Mr. Daniel Barwell in the ansaction of the Business on which you have deputed him to Fyzala Cawn, and we direct that he epare and transmit to us through you an Account of the Expences which he has incurred by this expedition.

Having considered the earnest Requisition of Colonel Leslie for Twelve Lacks of Rupees, with Estimate which he transmitted you of the Monthly Disbursements of his Detachment, we conat to his retaining the additional Two Lacks with which you have supplied him, as we are nvinced that the Extraordinary Charge of the Cavalry, which was not provided for in the First timate of the Expence, will require that Sum to defray it; but we must nevertheless signify to Disapprobation of your having taken upon yourself to exceed our original Orders on this Subject thout previously applying for our Permission. R E A D a Letter from Colonel Leslie, dated 14th March 1778.

To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General and Council.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I have been favoured with your Resolutions of the 23d ultimo, through the Commander in Chi and I cheerfully embrace the Honour you conferred upon me, in the Command of so considerable Part of the Honourable Company's Troops; and the Considence and Reliance you have placed me demands my utmost Grautude: I am very sensible of this Mark of your Favour, which it were the confidence and the Confidence and Reliance you have placed me demands my utmost Grautude: I am very sensible of this Mark of your Favour, which it were the confidence and the Confidence and the Confidence and Reliance you have placed me demands my utmost Grautude: I am very sensible of this Mark of your Favour, which it were the confidence and the Confidence and be my Duty to descree.

I shall proceed with all Diligence to collect together the Equipment of this Expedition, and hope with the Power you have intrusted me, to be able to proceed upon it in due Time, and that it may answer the Purpole you intend. I beg Leave to suggest to you that it will be absolutely necessary it be attended with a Corps of Cavalry, in order to escort my Stores and Supplies, and preserve my Baggage and Bazaars from Insult, and the frequent Alarms that are given on Marches of this Kindby a straggling Cavalry Enemy, as well as to preserve my Communication and Correspondence. I am therefore to request you will permit me to take the First Regiment of Cavalry (now here) with me on this Service, which I statter myself you will approve. I have ordered it in Readiness and to proceed with me to Calpee, where I hope to receive your Approbation.

The Artillery you have appointed to this Command is very respectable, and I do not apprehend the Golundaze Company from this Brigade sufficient to conduct it probably. You are pleased to add Four Officers from the First Company to join it, and I must request you will add Twenty-five a Thirty European Attillery Men, with some Serjeants, and One hundred Lascars from the First Company, that this Artillery and the Magazines may be properly conducted; and if you please to indule me with a Company of Fifty Men from the First Regiment, as a Guard to the Whole, it will give a the necessary Respect, and I hope you will see the Necessity of this, and concur in my Request.

the necessary Respect, and I hope you will see the Necessity of this, and concur in my Request.

As you have not been pleased to take Notice of any attendant Staff, I presume you will have modification to my taking my present with me, which I request your Concurrence in. And as this Service will require every Aid, I must request the Favour you will please to order Lieutenant Frith, the present Brigade Major of the temporary Brigade, to join this Detachment as Brigade Major, which it must necessarily have, and that another Ossicer be ordered to do his Duty here till his Return; I shall take the Liberty to take him along with me to Korah, where I hope to receive your Approbation.

I presume you will think a Commissary of Musters necessary to ascertain every Thing you are

I presume you will think a Commissary of Musters necessary to ascertain every Thing you are pleased to require: A Judge Advocate also you may think requisite; and I must request your Power for assembling general Courts Martial on Europeans, and to qualify any Person to act as Judge Advocate; I request also you will please to appoint some additional Surgeons, which are absolutely necessary for us. I must endeavour to procure what Medicines I can from the First Brigade.

I must request also your Instructions and Orders relative to the necessary Supply of Money, and you will gratify me by putting it under the Direction of Mr. Leslie (my present Secretary) as Paymaster, and I will become answerable for him. I have taken the necessary Steps for procuring the Draft and Carriage Cattle that may be wanted, by sending to Korah, Calpee, and Bundlecund, to provide them, as also to secure my Supplies of Provisions, which I have no Doubt I shall be able to essect, but wish your Request to the Rajah of Bundlecund to give all the Assistance in his Power. There being no Carriage Cattle here attached to the Golundazes, I have requested Lieutenant Colonel Wilding to procure what Number may be wanted at Allahabad, to be fent to Suragepore; and that nothing may be wanting on my Part, I propose setting out this Night for Lucknow, to settle with Mr. Middleton what may be wanting on his Part or the Vizier's, and to comply with your Instructions relative to the Artenal there, which I shall report to you.

The Vizier not having a Twelve Pounder fit for the Service we are going upon, I have wrote to Lieutenant Colonel Upton to dispatch with all Expedition Two Twelve Pounders from Chunar, and if Cattle can be provided I hope they will be brought up by Captain McPherson.

I shall hope for your general Instructions to proceed; and have the Honour to be, with the highest Respect, Camp, Futty Gurr, 14th March 1778.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
Your most obedient humble Servant,
Matt* Leslie.

Governor General-It is with much Reluctance that we consent to any further Drafts from our Troops stationed in the Nabob Vizier's Dominions; but if you shall judge it indispensably necessary join the 1st Regiment of Cavalry, or any Part of it, to your Detachment, we authorize you to it, but we rather recommend that you apply to the Nabob for a Party of his Cavalry to attend ou on this Service.

We cannot confent to your Request that 25 Artillery Men and a Company of Europeans be added your Detachment, though we are convinced that they would prove an Addition of great Strength it. We consent to your taking Lieutenant Frith as your Brigade Major.

The other Requisitions contained in your Letter have been already answered by our Public Orders ready iffued.

Mr. Francis-I think, that before we consent to the detaching of a Regiment of Cavalry in Adition to the Troops already ordered to this Service, we ought to be furnished with the Commander Chief's Opinion, whether such Detachment of Cavalry can be spared with Sasety from the Defence

f the great Line of Frontier which we have now to defend?

Governor General—I believe I already know General Stibbert's Opinion: It was in Deference to that no Mention was made of Cavalry in the first proposed Arrangement; but as Colonel Leslie ill be responsible for the Execution of the Service, and as the preserable Object in my Opinion is ie Interest of the Enterprize, not the Defence of the Nabob's Dominions, which will be eventually etter defended by it than a much larger Force acting at Home, I am of Opinion, that the difetionary Power which I have proposed in the above Draft of the Letter to be written to him in eply to his, should be given to him. I have too great a Respect for General Stibbert, to ask his dvice on a Point on which I myself formed a determined Opinion.

Mr. Wheler-I agree to the Draft of the Letter to Colonel Leslie, relying upon the Foresight and atention of the Governor General to the Safety and Security of the Frontiers.

Mr. Barwell agrees to the Draft.

Refolved, That a Letter be accordingly written to Colone Leslie.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, 8th June 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President. Varren Francis, Richard Barwell, Esquires. Edward Wheler, EAD the following Letter from Colonel Leslie:

Gentlemen.

Although I have been arrived in this Neighbourhood some Days, I have delayed writing to u until I should have crossed the First Division of my Detachment over the Jumma. Pursuant to your Directions every Means in my Power were used to reconcile the Chiefs holds the Districts between Culpee and Bundelcund to my March, and I received Affurances of their illingness and ready Assistance of Provisions. They also sent a Vackeel to me for my Orders, I to receive my Declarations of Peace and Protection to the Inhabitants on my March; but

: Kellidar of the Fort waved acquiescing to my Application for the Aid of his Boats, and inscated in all his Actions the Hostility of his Intentions.

Many Attempts and Threats were used to intimidate my Workmen at the Boats I had been ble to collect, and at the Instant their Vackeel was in my Camp, they commenced direct Acts of dostility, and absolutely fired at my People employed at the Boats, which was retorted on them by the Guard placed for their Protection. In the Afternoon they returned to the same Attempts, and the Officer then thought it necessary to punish them more effectually, and fired a few Rounds from wo 6 Pounders that had been ordered there to cover the landing of the Troops. This obliged hem to retreat with the Loss of some Men; some Gabions that were thrown up before the Party at he Boats entirely secured them from the Effects of their Shot.

I had told the Vackeel my Intention of crossing as Yesterday, but he was very solicitous for my claying another Day, and expressed his Master's Wish that I would cross the River at 16 Coss higher I could not accede to either. The First was incompatible with the Declaration I had made, aving already delayed my Passage of the River, with the Expectation of seeing the Vackeel, who onfirmed to me the Promises I had received from the Chiefs Ballajee and Gungadur, and the latter as leading me far out of my Way, and therefore not to be complied with.

I explained these Objections to the Vacked, and repeated my Professions of Amity and Protection to the Country. And he left me on the Pledge of Peace to give the requisite Injunctions to the Kellidar's Troops, and to send the Boats, seemingly satisfied, and promised to seturn to me in the Evening. This he did not perform, and the declared Hostility the Marattas had shewn at the Gaut, gave me Reason to expect some Opposition. Yesterday Morning at Day-break the Troops reached the Gaut, consisting of Three Battahons and their Guns. And on the First Embarkation being formed on the opposite Beach, the Troops that had been collected at Culpee began to assemble. Colonical Goddard immediately dispatched a Messenger to their Chief, with a Desire to pass unmoulessed; and was defined to come on. However, before One Battahon was quite formed, their Horsemen began a distant Fire with their Matchlocks, and sinding no immediate Resistance, their Insolence was so great as to draw very near the Troops in single Men to molest them, by which Means Two Sepoys were slightly wounded. The Security of the People then required a Resistance, and the Two Guns placed for covering the Landing, with a small Battery I had posted for the Support of the Troops, in possessing themselves of the Post they were to occupy, discharged a few Shot amongst them which did Execution.

The Detachment marched from the Beach, and met with no Opposition, the Maratta Troops retreating before them the whole Way to the Village, from whence they wheeled off through some rugged Ground to a Plain about a Mile inland from the Fort. Colonel Goddard had detached Major Fullarton, with Four Grenadier Companies, to his Left, to prevent any Surprize in the Rear of his Detachment from the high Grounds, with Directions for their joining at the Village, but the Road being much interfected through the deep broken Ground, he was led near a Mile from the Extremity of the Village, almost intercepting the Retreat of the Troops from the Fort; at this Time the Parties that had gone off with their Baggage and Effects to a Post about Three Coss on the Jellalpoor Road, were returning in Search of Plunder, and to aid in harrassing our Troops, collected here to the Number of about 1,200 Men, they attacked the Grenadiers with some Suttrenalls and Rockets, and pressed them so hard, that the 4th Battalion, with Two Guns, immediately marched from the Village to their Rehef; and the 7th Battalion was ordered to follow. On the Junction of the 4th Battalion, a sew Rounds decided the Contest, and the Enemy retreated to Etowrah, the Place where they had carried their Effects. It was too far in the Day, and the Troops too much harrassed by being a long Time under Arms, to think of pursuing them, and the Detachment returned to the Bank of the River, taking up their Post between the Village and the Fort. The Fort they sound evacuated; Colonel Goddard therefore possessed it immediately. In this Attack a sew Grenadiers were wounded, but none dangerously.

I have been thus particular to point out to you, Gentlemen, that the Steps I have purfued, and the Endeavours I used to obtain the Acquiescence of the Chiefs Ballajce and Gungadur, were confonant to your Orders, and such as will obtain your Approbation; and that the jealous Disaffection of the Maratta Chiefs alone has produced this first Hostility. I do also assure you, that I will yet strive to secure their peaceable Admission of my March. The Fort of Culpee is an excellent Hostage; this, together with the Knowledge they now have that your Troops will not patiently bear an Insult, may effect their ready Acquiescence.

bear an Infult, may effect their ready Acquiescence.

Another Vackeel from Ballajee is with me, who denies that the Opposition has been made by Authority, and solicits Friendship from me: On proper Pledges I will grant it; but the Decent they have already used, will not admit of my placing too much Considence in their Protessions.

I have the Pleasure to acquaint you, that the Officers and Troops behaved with the greatest Alacrity, at the same Time they observed the strictest Discipline and Regularity.

Camp near Culpec, May 20th, 1778. I have, &c. (Signed) Matt Leslie.

The Governor General lays before the Board the following Draft of an Answer to the above Letter, for their Approbation:

We have received your Letter, dated the 20th ultimo.

It affords us great Satisfaction, and adds to the Confidence which we before reposed in your Conduct, to observe the Attention which you have shewn to our Instruction in your Endeavours to conciliate the Maratta Chiefs to the March of your Detachment, and in your Forbearance to retaliate their Hostilities until the Safety of your Party made it necessary to repel them.

We do not regret the Opposition which you have met with, since it has afforded you an Occasion of proving the Sincerity of our Professions, and the Marattas to be the Aggressors in this early Act of Hostility; at the same Time that the ill Success which attended it cannot have failed to make an Impression which we hope will discourage them in their future Attacks, for such we ought to expect, nor can we doubt that this was made by Authority, though disavowed by their Principals. We have less Apprehension of their open Hostilities than of their Treachery, and therefore although jough you inform us that you shall not place too much Considence in their Professions; yet think it necessary to repeat the Caution, and to recommend that you do not suffer yourself by Appearances to relax from it.

We defire that you will advise Mr. Mostyn, the Company's Resident on the Part of the Governt of Bombay at Poona, of your Proceedings, and of all such Occurrences as may require his lanation of them to the Government at Poona, or the Interposition of its Authority to prevent like Attempts in others to interrupt the Course of your March.

We are, &c.

Ar. Francis—The Opposition made by the Marattas to Colonel Leslie's Passage over the Jumma, me, I confess, an unexpected Event. I understood that great Reliance had been placed on the mn Promises given us by the Maratta Chiefs of their pacific Disposition, and of their Resolution only to permit the Detachment to march quietly through their Country, but even to give them ry possible Assistance: At any rate I did not expect that they would have discovered a hostile Inion to us until the Detachment was engaged further in their Country. As we at present know t we have to trust to, and as it feems to be agreed that we ought to expect that they will do every g in their Power to interrupt the March of the Army, it is my Opinion that we ought not to mpt to proceed any further, at least until the Rains are over. I think that we hazard the Safety that Army, on which perhaps the Safety of Bengal and of the whole British Empire in India may end, by attempting to force a Passage from one Side of India to the other at this unfavourable fon of the Year, and in the Face of an Enemy determined to oppose it. The Marattas have it heir Power to distress, harrass, and perhaps ruin any Army that enters into their Country in these sumflances, without ever coming to an Engagement. I wish the Opinion of Military Men to be in, whether it be probable that Colonel Leslie's Army under these Disticulties can make good lassage from Calpee to Bombay, or how it is possible for them to ensure the necessary Supplies Forage and Provisions during so long a March in the Rains, if the Marattas are determined to do y thing they can to distress him? On these Principles I cannot approve of the proposed Letter, pt that Part of it which recommends extraordinary Caution, which undoubtedly ought to be rved if the Expedition is to be continued.

Ir. Wheler—I agree with Mr. Francis, particularly in that Part of his Minute which recommends taking of Military Opinions upon the present State of the Army under the Command of Colonel he Draft of the Letter to Colonel Leslie being approved; greed, That it be written and dispatched accordingly.

Governor General-During a former Period, in which my Voice was excluded from an Influence the Resolutions of the Board, I made it a Rule, from which I never deviated, to assist and support ery Measure of the Council after it had received the Sanction of the concurrent Opinions of a hjority of its Members, although passed in Opposition to my Opinion. It was a Duty which I ed to the Service, nor has even the Change of Influence ever induced me to depart from it: But fasures which I deemed the most pernicious to the Service having been allowed to take their Essect, ave supported them, and I do support them even to this Hour. I have a Right to complain of the strary Conduct of Mr. Francis in particular, and of Mr. Wheler who has invariably joined with him, in ding every Measure of Government, originally undertaken against their Opinions, with unremitted position. This is I believe the Fifth Time, if not more, that Mr. Francis has urged the Recall the Detachment, after having thrown upon me and Mr. Barwell the entire Responsibility of its ipointment. I should not feel so sensibly as I do the Authority of Two Members of the Adminioration. tration, which ought to be applied folely to the Promotion of the Company's Interests and the ectual Prosecution of the regular Acts of Government, thus employed to impede and counteract m, if their Objections were derived from a studied Knowledge of the Subjects, how erroneous ver the Conclusions from them might be: But it is my hard Lot to contend with either Milinfortion or Misrepresentation; for I will venture to say, that there is not a Syllable of Mr. Francis's nute that is not built upon wrong Grounds of Fact. I will examine every Part of it in the Order which it was dictated. The Minute begins with these Words: "The Opposition made by the Marattas to Colonel Leslie's Passage over the Jumma, is to me I confess an unexpected Event. I understood that great Reliance had been placed on the solemn Promises given us by the Maratta Chiefs of their pacific Disposition, and of their Resolution not only to permit the Detachment to march quietly through their Country, but even to give them every possible Assistance." No such claration of the folemn Promifes thus given by the Maratta Chiefs appears on any Part of our cords, nor can I conceive why this Affertion is so pointedly made, unless it be to suggest the nger of a March of the Detachment through a Country united under One Government, and coming all its Powers to destroy it from the Banks of the Jumma to Bombay. I can say for myielf, t I never entertained the same Assurance of the pacific Disposition of the Chiefs of the Paishwa's proceed with the Words of the Minute. "At any rate I did not expect that they would have listovered a hostile Intention to us until the Detachment was engaged further in their Country. As we at present know what we have to trust to, and as it seems to be agreed that we expect that hey will do every thing in their Power to interrupt the March of the Army, it is my Opinion that we ought not to attempt to proceed any further, at least not until the Rains are over. I think the we hazard the Safety of that Army, on which perhaps the Safety of Bengal and of the whole British Empire in India may depend, by attempting to force a Passage from one Side of India to of the other at this unfavourable Seafon of the Year, and in the Face of an Enemy determined to 46 oppose it. The Marattas have it in their Power to diffress, harrass, and perhaps rum any Ain. 46 that enters into their Country in these Circumstances, without ever coming to an Engagement I lament that fuch alarming Declarations cannot be confined to our Records; and I lament the date gerous Consequences to which the Company's Interests must be exposed, both here and at Home, such a Denunciation pronounced by a Member of this Administration, and of universal Ruin to the British Empire, from the Effects of a partial Measure, which was unfortunately undertaken without his Concurrence. A very short Reply will be sufficient to dissipate such ill-grounded Apprehensies The Districts which depend on the Chiefs who have commenced the first Hostilities against the Is, tachment, extend but to a short Distance from Calpee; Three or Four Days, or at most a Wes. will be sufficient for it to reach the Borders of Bundlecund, a Country neither subject to the Gov. ment of the Marattas, nor likely to be influenced by their Example; from Bundlecund the Rough will lie through the District of Bopaul, which is under the Government of a Patan Chief, acknow ledging no other Submillion to the Maratta State than the Payment of the Chout. I am not Mage? of the exact Geography of this Country, but I can affirm that this District includes so narrow Space, that it is neither mentioned in our Maps, nor known at this Distance but to Persons who has occasionally passed through it. The rest of the Way, to the Borders of Candeish, and of the Countries which are contiguous to Poona, lies in the Dominions of Moodajee Boota, who is at it Time the most powerful of the Chiefs who bear the Maratta Name, who holds his Possessions in h own Right, and independent of the Government of the Paithwa, even by the Confession of the Members of that Administration: From him I have received the warmest Assurances of Assistance and even Invitations, repeated to Colonel Leflie as well as to myfelf, for the March of the Detach ment into his Country. The Knowledge which I have acquired of his political Interests and Object If the Safety of our Detachment has is a Warrant yet stronger for my Confidence in his Fidelity been thus far feculed, I think there is little Danger from the Opposition it may meet with in the Re mainder of its Progress except the Events of a War, should a War be the Consequence, which r Defiance of the most guarded Precautions of human Prudence must ever be in some Degree fortutous; yet it is my Opinion, that this Undertaking is as little liable to adverse Consequences as an Expedition that has ever yet been set on Foot by any one of the English Governments in India, and I am willing to stake my Reputation on the Event of it. Twice is the rainy Season repeated in the Minute as an Objection; the same Objection has been before Twice made by Mr. Francis, and von fully answered. It is hard to exact from me repeated Answers to the same Objections, without a Argument urged to support them: I shall content myself with appealing to my former Reply which is contained in my Minute of

To proceed in the Words of Mr. Francis's Minute, "I wish the Opinion of Military Men to be taken, whether it be probable that Colonel Leslie's Army, under these Distinctions, can make good its Passage from Culpee to Bombay, or how it is possible for them to ensure the necessary supplies of Forage and Provisions, during so long a March in the Rains, if the Maiates are determined to do every Thing they can to distress him?" I do not desire to consult Opinions on a Measure already determined; but to state the Question in the Terms propose would be to deceive those to whom it was put into salse Opinions, the necessary Consequences of salse Premises. The Minute concludes in the following Words: "On these Principles I cannow approve of the proposed Letter, except that Part of it which recommends extraordinary Caution, which undoubtedly ought to be observed if the Expedition is to be continued." The Question before the Board is, Whether a Letter shall be written to Colonel Leslie, consisting of Two distinct Points? The First is an Approbation of his past Conduct; the Second, a Caution to beward of Treachery. The Reply given by Two of the Members, applies only to the last Point included the Question, with a total Silence on the First; while the Debates of the Board have been introduced, and consumed the whole Time of the Morning, on a Subject totally foreign from both.

It may fuit the System adopted, whatever that be, by the dissenting Members of this Councle to continue the same Means which have been used to this Time, to defeat the Measures which have been adopted against their Consent. I declare in this Place my unalterable Determination to prosecute it to the utmost of my Power to its Conclusion.

Mr. Francis—What Rules of Conduct Mr. Hastings may have prescribed to himself, in former Times, is not a Question I am concerned in. My Conduct, I trust, will want no Apology, as long as it is guided by my own Sense of what my Duty demands of me, though it should not correspond with his Example. Neither do I know, nor do I mean to enquire, what those Measures are, which, though taken by the late Majority in Opposition to his Opinion, and though of a Nature the most pernicious to the Company's Service, he continues to support; but this I do know, that all our Measures were approved of by the Company, and none of them so strongly as those which received the greatest Opposition at this Board.

Admitting the Rule alluded to by the Governor to be a good one, I conceive it does not ftrictly apply to the present Question. In proposing to stop the March of the Detachment, I do not properly retard or embarrass the Execution of a Measure already resolved on, while all Circumstances continue the same. I propose a new Measure on the Ground of a new and unexpected went. With respect to the constant Opposition which I am charged with having heretosore given this Measure, I avow the Fact, and am glad to see it established by Testimony that cannot be isputed. In referring to the pacific Declarations of the Maratta Chiefs, I spoke from a strong Impession of my Memory, which I believe has not missed me. Moodaice Boosla repeatedly proiles to furnish the Army with all Necessaries, and to conduct them with Security through his erritories. I did understand that Ballajee and Gungadur had given us Assurances to the same feet. Their Letters to Colonel Leslie are full of amicable Professions, which were continued to m by their Vackeels in his Camp, even to the Time when their Troops were attacking his admed Parties. He now says, "that the jealous Disassection of the Maratta Chiefs alone has produced this first Hostility." I for my own Part see no Reason why all those Chiefs should not a on the same Principles. Their general Interest I conceive must be to prevent a foreign orce from penetrating into their Country, under any Pretences whatsoever. What the particular and of Moodaire Bhoosa may be is uncertain, the Proceedings of the other Chiefs single product of Moodaire Bhoosa may be is uncertain, the Proceedings of the other Chiefs single product of Moodaire Bhoosa may be is uncertain, the Proceedings of the other Chiefs single product of the other chief single product of the other chief single p onduct of Moodajee Bhoosla may be is uncertain; the Proceedings of the other Chiefs give us Cause to sely on his good Faith or pacific Intentions. I for mytelf place no Confidence in My Objection to the March of the Army, on account of the Rainy Season, does not now and on the same Ground on which it was first urged; it was confined to that Consideration only, and on the same Ground on which it was first urged; it was confined to that Consideration only, is now united with that of a Military Opposition; either of these Difficulties singly might perhaps furmounted. It now appears that we have both to contend with.

I have no Apprehension that my Opinions given at this Board will reach the Marattas, or will we any Fffect upon the Operations in the Field. They are easy and obvious Conclusions from the known to every Body. If I am singular in drawing such Conclusions, my Opinion, though it tall be universally known, can produce no Effect. I consess that I did not attend to the Forlity of approving Colonel Lesse's Conduct, which I should not have objected to: My Mind was do with Objects of more Consequence. To the concluding Sentence of the Governor's Minute, hall content myself with saying, that I neither have formed a System of personal Interest, nor I able to devise one, which could be promoted or retarded by stopping the present Expedition; there am I peremptory in saying, that I shall, at all Times and in all Circumstances, oppose it the utmost of my Power, because a State of Facts may exist, to which I may be compelled the utmost of my Power, because a State of Facts may exist, to which I may be compelled Necessity to accommodate my Conduct.

The Governor General—I will not lengthen a Debate, which originally arose from a Subject to hich it does not regularly belong, and has run into others yet more foreign from it; but there is Point which demands my Reply.

The Point which demands my Reply.

The complained of the unfair Application which Mr. Francis has made of the general and equipped Term of Maratra? which in the only Sanfa is will have in his International Terms. Term "Maratta," which in the only Sense it will bear in his Inferences, means only that Part of Maratta Government which acknowledges the Sovereignty and immediate Authority of the wa and his Ministers; but the Facts from which these Inferences are deduced relate to a Variety Powers and Interests, which are entirely separated from the Paishwa's Government, and which Fir original Dependance on it has even converted by a necessary Consequence into an Opposition to The greatest Part, at least Two Thirds of the Line proposed for the March of the Detachment, ongs to Powers that acknowledge no Obedience to the Maratta State properly so called; that of indlecund does not bear even the Maratta Name; yet it will be impossible for any uninformed Perto read Mr. Francis's Minutes, even the latter, though dictated after he had been reminded of essential Distinction, without concluding from them that the whole Country, lying between the fent Station of the Detachment and its Termination at Bombay, was occupied by One Power, that Power ready to act uniformly against the Detachment in every Stage of its Progress.

The Promises given by Moodajee Bhoosla will not warrant the Supposition with which Mr. Francis gins his First Minute, and on which he expresses his Disappointment, since this Chief, though a founded in the general Maratta Name, is not a Dependent of the Maratta Government; neither the Assurances given by the Chiefs, Ballajee and Gunga Dur, justify Mr. Francis's Expectations a pacific Conduct in the Maratta Chiefs, since their Names were never mentioned before, and ey are now only mentioned to shew that neither their Conduct or Intentions were pacific.

Yet one Word more: It would lead me into a Discussion too pointed and too personal, were I reply to the latter Part of the preceding Minute, in which Mr. Francis is pleased to say that he is able to divine One System which could be promoted or retarded by stopping the present Expedin: To this I shall briefly answer, that the Disgrace of those who planned the present Expedition; irreparable Loss of the Credit of this Government; and a perpetual Distruct in all its future Acts, clusive of the Forfeiture of the Advantages for which it was originally concerted, would be the inlible Consequence of stopping the present Expedition. It would ill become me to connect such insequences with a supposed System of Party, how obvious soever the Transition may be, and insert warranted by universal Practice, from the Deseat of those who have the Conduct of Affairs the Triumph of their Opponents: A constant Series of Opposition may likewise produce the constant series of the product of the product of the constant series of the product of the constant series of the product of the constant series of the consta ffect of stamping on the Authors of public Measures the Opprobrium of every Failure of Success thich may at any Time attend them, at the same Time that its public and popular Influence essenially tends to prevent their Success.

N° 55.

The Governor General lays before the Board the following Drast of a Letter, which he propose with their Approbation, to write to the Paishwa and his Ministers; and he further proposes, the Copies of it, and of the Letter just received from Colonel Leslie, be transmitted to Mr. Mosses that he be informed of the Directions given to Colonel Leslie, to advise him of his Proceedings, as of all Occurrences that may require his Explanation of them to the Poona Government, on his Application to that Government for the Interposition of its Authority to prevent any Impediment to the March of the Detachment; that he be also desired to correspond with Colonel Leslie, and to inform him of any Circumstances that he may deem it useful for him to be acquainted with.

I some Time ago informed you of my Design to dispatch a Body of Troops from hence to strengther the Garrison of Bombay, and requested that in consideration of the Friendship and Treaty subsisting between you and the Company, which it was my Determination strictly to abide by, you would give Orders to all your Chiefs in the several Districts through which the March of the Troops lay, for their unmolested Passage, and to supply them with such Assistance as they should stand in need of Notwithstanding which, I learn from Colonel Leslie the Commander of the Detachment, that being arrived on the Banks of the Jumna he halted, and wrote Letters to Ballajee and Gunga Dur, the Chiefs of the Diffricts lying between their River and Bundlecund, under your Authority, affining them of his pacific Intentions, and requelling Permission for the March of the Detachment through their Territory: In answer to which he received Assurances of Friendship and Assistance, which wis confirmed to him by the Arrival of a Vackeel on their Part; that he in confequence prepared to cross with his Army, but before the First Division were fairly embarked, a Party of Horse came down and fired on them, and on their Arrival on the opposite Bank they were opposed by a Body of 1200 Horse, with the Kelladar of Culpee at their Head. On this the Commander of the Division sent a Message to the Kelladar to defire he might pals unmolested; and receiving an Answer to come on, accordingly advanced, but was fired on at a Diffance, which he in confequence of the Orders he had received, declined returning; emboldened by which the Hoife advanced their Attack to near the Troops that several being wounded, it became necessary for their own Safety to make a vigorous Oppolition, which was not effected without the Lois of many Lives before the Affailants were put to the Flight; and our Officers finding the Fort of Culpee evacuated, took Possession of it as a Pledge of their future good Behaviour. I am convinced that these Acts of Hostilities must have been employed without Authority from you or the Ministers of your Government, because of the Treaty which sub. fifts between you and the Company. The Presidency of Bombay is situated at such a Distance from this, that any Reinforcement which is fent them must necessarily pass through a Variety of Districts subject to different Chiefs; and whatever Conduct might be expected from Strangers with whom the Company have no Connection, it could never be expected from you with whom they are on Terms of Friendship. Necessity required that the Troops should be sent, and they must either pass through Part of your Country, or not go at all: I was therefore remediless, but the most strict Injunctions were given to the Commander, to observe the most friendly Conduct and regular Discipline in his March, which I am fatisfied he will literally comply with.

I do not mean to demand Satisfaction for what is past, as those of your People who were the Aggressors have received the Punishment due to their Temerity; but I am to request that you will without Delay issue such positive Injunctions to all the Ossicers of your Government as may effectually prevent any Thing of the like Nature in future.

(To Siccaram and Ballajee Pundit, of the fame Tenor.)

The Board approving of the above Letters, agreed that the Governor General be requested to order them to be written in Perlian, and that they be forwarded in the following Letter to Mr. Mostvn:

Sir,

Colonel Lessie who commands the Detachment ordered to proceed to Bombay having met with Opposition in crossing the Jumna at Culpee, we enclose a Copy of his Letter to us on this Occasion, and of a Letter which has in consequence been written by the Governor General to the Paishwa, that you may be prepared to answer any Remonstrances that may be made to you by the Poona Government on that Subject.

We have directed Colonel Lessie to advise you of his Proceedings, and of all Occurrences that may either require your Explanation of them to the Maratta Government, or an Application for the Authority of that Government, to prevent his meeting with any further Impediment in the Course of his March through their Dominions: We also request that you will be regular in corresponding with Colonel Lessie, and that you will apprize him of any Circumstances which you may deem it useful for him to be informed of.

to him the Propriety of his not quitting Poona without some adequate Commission; but our Sentisments were conveyed to him in such a Manner, as to leave it to his Differentian to act in this Point as he might judge most good for the Service, and we have in a late Letter given him a still more explicit Permission.

The Assurance they have given of breaking off their Connections with the French, of which you have been advised by Mr. Mostyn, make us willing to hope that the First and grand Object of these Measures we have proposed to you may be accomplished by this Resolution; but as Monsieur St. Lubin is not yet dismissed from Poona, we shall not relax in our Vigilance, or suffer ourselves to be lulled into Security by Promises which are not confirmed by their Actions; however, still we can judge with more Certainty of their Disposition; the Opinion we have formed on the present Situation of Assars, and of our Desire to save the Honourable Company from the heavy Expences, and their Troops from the Danger and Dissibilities of a March from your Provinces to this Side of India, have led us to send an Order to the Officer in Command of the Forces you have been pleased to order to our Assistance, not to advance any further, until he may again hear from us.

It is proper you should be acquainted, that when we came to this Resolution, we had Expectations of a Reinforcement from Madras, which were indeed formed upon private Advices; but the Pattamers which brought these Letters, having been slopped near Poona, and their Packets opened, we concluded the public Advices from that Presidency had been intercepted, and gave the more Credit to the Private.

Also that Messer and Stackhouse did not concur with us in this Resolution, which they were of Opinion was not warrantable by any Change in our Situation, either with respect to the Designs of the French, the Conduct of the Poona Government, or our own Military Resources.

Sir Edward Vernon, after leaving this Place, fell in with the French Ships the Brilliant and the Sartine, and immediately returned to the Northward, taking his Station off Choul, with a Refo. lution to prevent the French from landing any Troops there; he continued cruizing off that Port till the 18th, when the French Ships not making their Appearance, he proceeded to the other Coast.

We esteem it incumbent on us to send Sir Edward Vernon a Letter of Thanks for his Conduct on this Occasion, in which he displayed so pointed an Attention to the Interest and Welfare of the Honourable Company.

We have fince learned that Monsieur Bellecombe himself remained at Mahé, and that the Brillians proceeded to Mangalore, where several Artillery Officers, Two hundred Men, and a large Quantity of Military Stores, were landed for the Service of the Nabob Hyder Ally; and the Ship after Siz Edward Vernon was out of Sight to the Northward of her, returned to Mahé, to carry Monsieur Bellecombe back to Pondicherry. The Sartine is gone to Goa River, where she may probably remain during the Monsion; and it is there said the French were deterred from proceeding to Choul by the Appearance of our Squadron, and supposing that War was declared, and perhaps by the News of the Revolution of Poona; but we have learned that the Captain, who was at Choul, has ordered her up thither (to Choul.)

Received the following Letter from Poona:

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I did myself the Honour of addressing you last under the 19th ultimo; on the 25th I received a Letter from the Honourable the Governor General, inclosing Three for the Durbar, and acquainting me with your Determination to send a Reinforcement of Troops to Bombay. As I apprehended the March of so large a Body of Forces through the Maratta Dominions might greatly alarm the Durbar, I thought it necessary to fend Mr. Lewis to Camp, not only to present the Letters, but also to explain the Cause of our Apprehensions, from the Connection between Nana and Monsieur St. Lubin, and to apply for the necessary Passports for the free Passage of these Troops, and their being supplied with a friendly Buzar. He accordingly set out the 28th ultimo, and returned the 4th Instant, when he delivered me the Minutes of his Proceedings; to the enclosed Copy of which I beg Leave to refer you, from which your Honour, &c. may perceive, that no Dependance can be had on what the Durbar jointly, or the Ministers individually, say; for notwithstanding their so publicly dispatching me, of which they also advised the Presidency of Bombay, and Moraba's Assurances to Mr. Lewis, they have not to my Knowledge taken one Step towards compleating that Business

I cannot account for Moraba's evalive Behaviour respecting the Dustucks, in any other Manner than the Hopes he entertains of the Troops not marching until the Governor General shall have received the Durbar's Answers, agreeable to what he declared their Vackeel had written, or that they will be recalled in consequence of the late Change in this Government; however to leave him as little room as possible for further Evasions, under the 5th Instant I wrote Moraba a Letter, des manding a decifive Answer, in Writing, and declaring him accountable for any ill Consequences which may happen from the Want of the Dustucks. But I am forry to inform you, that notwithstanding this, and several Messages I have since sent him, I have not been able to procure an Notwithstanding Moraba's Afsertions to Mr. Lewis, Monsieur St. Lubin has not yet been to Proondur, though it is faid he is now sent for; but from the equivocating Conduct of the Durbar, both before and fince Moraba has had the executive Authority, it is a Doubt with me whether they will dispatch him, or even if they do, whether he will leave Poona, as from the Latencis of the Season, he will have it in his Power to delay the Time till the Rains set in, when he will make the Plea of its being impossible for him to go any where.

In consequence of Hurry Punt's Retreat to Miretz, Hyder has lately taken Two small Forts, named Copalice and Behadurburrah, and was by the last Accounts attacking the Fort of Danvar, about Thirty Coss to the Southward, after the Reduction of which it is supposed he will attack the latter Place, particularly should the Reports of Hurry Punt's being on his March from thence to Proondur, by Orders from the Durbar, be true.

The enclosed Packet to your Address was received Yesterday, in Duplicate from the Presidency of Bombay. On the 9th I received a Letter from the Chief of Masulipatam, dated the 22d April, enclosing a Packet for Bombay, from your Honour, &c. which was forwarded immediately.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 22d June 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell,] Esquires. Philip Francis, Edward Wheler,

Mr. Lewis's Journal of his Deputation to the Maratta Camp.

Camp near Curreet, April 1778. ARRIVED at Morabah's Camp about Five o'Clock P. M. I immediately fent to inform Morabah thereof, requesting to know when I should wait on him. He promised to give me a Meeting Taciday, at Night; but in the Evening fent me Word he could not fee me until To-morrow.

On Account of some particular religious Ceremonies Morabah was engaged in, this being a Holiday, I had not an Opportunity of feeing him until Seven o'Clock P. M. I found there Chintoo Wittul and Gopal Naique Tumbuckur. After delivering the Letters from the Governor General, agreeable to Mr. Moslyn's Orders, I explained their Contents, when Morabah asked me, whom we had to fear? I told him, that in consequence of the Governor General and Council being advised of the Treaty with Monsieur St. Lubin, they had Cause to imagine some evil Designs were intended against the Company's Settlements on the Weslern Side of India; he immediately answered, that there was no Treaty between this Government and that Gentleman: I replied, that I sincerely believed there was not; but that I was convinced there was one subsisting between Nanah and him, the Contents of which we had the greatest Reason to suppose were greatly to our Prejudice, and that it was in consequence of this Treaty that the Troops mentioned in the Governor General's Letters, were coming to the Assistance of Bombay, I therefore requested the necessary Dustucks for their freely passing through any Part of the Maratta Dominions they might have Occasion to come to, as well as their being properly supplied with a friendly Buzar. Morabah confessed a Knowledge of the Treaty between Nanah and Monsieur St. Lubin, but said, he could not give me an Answer with respect to the Dustucks I required, until after the Durbar met To-morrow: He then asked me how many Battalions were coming? I replied I could not tell the exact Number, but supposed about Three or Four. I then told him that the Governor and Council at Bombay had written to Mr. Mostyn, that they thought it very extraordinary the Durbar should not have explained themselves with respect to the Bufiness they had requested he would accompany Tumbuckur to Bombay upon, and reminded him of the trifling Occasion they tent him upon in August last; I added that the Governor and Council would not approve of a Member of their Board being fent upon every trivial Errand, and therefore requested Morabah would inform me what the Durbar had to say to Mr. Mostyn, or if he did not thuse to explain himself to me, to let me know if he would order Tumbuckur to acquaint Mr. Mostyn with the Particulars before he set out? Morabah replied, that he would speak to me on this Business before he dispatched me. I then told him that it would appear very extraordinary to the Governor and Council, after what had passed with Morabah on the 9th, and at Nanah's Tent on the 10th Instant, all which Mr. Mostyn had written to Bombay, that Tumbuckur had not yet set out; the Reason of which I requested he would inform me; to this Morabah made no Reply.

This Afternoon Morabah went to Sacaram Bapoo at Bury, where were also Nanah and Crustrow Belob; what passed between them I cannot learn, but a Hircarrah whom I sent there informs me, that Nanah on his going away said to Morabah, he might bring Dadah Saib to Poona, but he requested Morabah would take Care he did him no Harm. However I look on this as a mere Blind, as I am informed Morabah has told Tookajee Holkar that he does intend bringing Ragoba to Poona before Decera, and has requested Holkar would fend for Anundy Bhoy and her Child immediately, and let the latter live with the young Peshwa in the Fort; to which Holkar replied, that he had nothing to say to Savoy Badjeerow, (meaning Ragoba's Son,) but infissed on Dadah Saib's being brought directly. The public Reason given for the Meeting between Morabah and Sacaram, was the Beirad Rajah and Havaldar of the Matchy, coming down to pay their Compliments to Morabah; it is true they did come down, and the Hircarrah informs me that after Nanah returned to his Camp Morabah gave the Beil Bundah to the Rajah and Havaldar, and their People, in the Name of Ragoba, that they should not permit any one to go into either Fort without his Permission.

I am also informed that Ragooputrow, Nairoo Sunker's Son, who is encamped with Holkar, has declared to him that unless he will force the Durbar to bring Ragobah immediately into Government, he will march into the Conkan with his Troops, amounting to about Four thousand Men.

This Afternoon Saccaram Bapoo paid a Visit to Tookajee Holkar, from whence he came to the Pageda, in the Tope of which Morabah is encamped, and about Four o'Clock set off on his Journey to Ninygam, a Village about Six Coss on this Side Settera, in order it is said to be married.

I have been informed from feveral Perfons, that Morabah by the Advice of Bapoo, has now laid afide all Thoughts of bringing Ragoba into Government. Buchabah Preondur particularly, on the 29th ultimo, fent a Meffage acquainting me that Sacaram and Morabah had totally broken the Agreement made with him and Holkar, and were refolved that Ragoba fhould not come to Poona, but that he and Holkar was determined on bringing him, and wished much the English would affift them. And at a Visit I paid Buchabah this Evening, he faid he could not give me a private Meeting on the Subject as he had Spies on him, but requested I would represent to Mr. Mostlyn he had already sent me, and that whatever we might have to say on the Business may pass through the Person who acts as my Linguist.

Not having heard any Thing from Morabah these Three Days, in the Evening I fent the Linguish defiring to know when he intended dispatching me, as Mr. Mostyn would be very definous of fending the Durbae's Reply regarding the Dustuck to the Governor General; when Morabah said he would certainly fend for and dispatch me before Ten o'Clock in the Moraba.

I fent again at Noon to Morabah to afk, when he would dispatch me? he replied, that as Mr. Mostyn had so often spoke to the Durbar with respect to dispatching Monsieur St. Lubie, they had fent for him in order to give him his Dispatches, after which they would dispatch Mr. Mostyn to Bombay. About 6 P. M. Morabah fent a Meffage, defiring my Attendance at the Durbar; I accordingly went, and found there Crustrow Belob, Chintoo Wittul, and Gopaul Maique Tumbucker. Motabalt told me, that as the Letters from the Governor General mentioned the Troops he was fending to Bombay to be on account of the French being here, he had fent Monfieur St. Lubin in order to give him his Dispatches; and requested to know it in such Case we should still want the Dustucks I asked for at last Visit, or whether the Troops would be prevented proceeding? I anfwered, that according to the Governor General's Letter to Mr. Mostyn, the Troops would now have been near Twenty Days on their March, and that of courfe the Duftucks would be necoffary to prevent any Disputes on the Road; to which he answered, that the Durbar's Vackeel had written them, the Governor General had told him the Troops would not march until the Durbar's Antwees were received. I replied, that this was contrary to what the Governor General had written to Mr. Mostyn, but that perhaps they might be stopped, should the News of the Change in Government, which Mr. Mostyn had dispatched the Day after it happened, reach Calcutta in Time; but as this was very uncertain, I repeated my Request for the Dustucks being delivered me to prevent any bad Confequence which might happen for the Want of them. Cruftiow Belob then took up the Dircourse, and mentioned again the Letters they had received from the Governor General respecting Choulbeing given to the French, and Monfieur St. Lubin having the Command of the Tope Connah, and made fome trifling Excules for Monsieur St. Lubin slaying here to long; he allowed that some Kind of Promites had been made that Gentleman, but faid that they were given only with a Defign to amuse him. I replied, that the Durbar best knew their own Reasons for detaining him, but that after the many Equivocations they had been guilty of, until he arrived at some French or English Settlement, we could not believe they really meant to send him away; and that Mr. Mostyn had already replied to the other Points. Morabah then said, that the Durbar had hitherto acted very improperly in making so many Evasions about him, from which the English had an undoubted Right to suspect something was intended against them, but I might however depend Monsieur St. Lubin

should be dispatched in Two or Three Days: To which I observed, that we expected no less from him, and that it would convince he meant to preferve the Friendship which had to long subfifted between this Durbar and the English. Morabah then said, that the Durbar really intended to have dispatched Mr. Mostyn and Tumbuckur at the Time they mentioned, but that something had intervened which prevented it. I replied, that the Durbar should have settled every Point before they fent for Mr. Mostyn in such a Hurry to Camp; that it was not treating the Forglish in a proper Manner, making their Resident run backwards and forwards upon every trisling Occasion, and it was what they would not suffer. Morabah immediately replied, that the real Cause of Mr. Mothyn's Detention was a Letter he had received from Ragoba, defiring that Tumbuckur might not be difpatched for some Days; that Dadoo Punt arrived this Day from Bombay with Letters from Dadah Sahib, which would require a few Days to confider of; and that then the Durbar would positively fend Mr. Mostyn to Bombay. He then asked me if I thought it would be proper he should write a Letter to the Governor, accounting for this long Delay? I told him, that he undoubtedly ought to have done it before, in order to remove any bad Opinion the Governor and Council might entertain from this trifling Behaviour of the Durbar. Morabah then faid, he would write, and fend it to Mr. Mostyn to be forwarded, as well as the Answer to the Governor General's Letter. I repeated my Request for the Dustucks, but he studiously avoided giving me a Reply. After my Return from the Durbar I fent the Linguist to Morabah, to know whether he would grant the Dustucks I had applied for; when he replied, that he was obliged to go to Jefury To-morrow, where he should remain I wo Days, but that on his Return he would consider of it, and send his Answer to Mr. Mottyn.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 22d June 1778.

Received the following Letter from Colonel Leslie:

Gentlemen,

I did myself the Honour of addressing you on the 30th ultimo, transmitting to you a Copy of a Letter received from the Honourable President and Council of Bombay.

The Day before Yeilerday I advanced with the principal Part of the Troops that form this Detachment, with Intention to take post on the Banks of the Betowah River, leaving Part of the Park of Artillery, the Magazine, and One Battalion of Sepoys, at Kalpee.

Yesterday Expresses arrived at my Camp from the Resident at Poona, covering Orders under Date the 4th of May, that were dispatched in Quadruplicate from the Presidency of Bombay, which require the Prosecution of my Mach towards that Quarter, in Countermand of their former Orders of the 22d April. Their original Letter I now do myself the Pleasure to lay beautiful together with the Resident Mr. Mostyn's Letters of Advice, which accompanied it from Poona. To contequence of these Instructions, I have dispatched Orders to the Ossicer commanding at Kalpee to Join my Detachment with the Magazine and Troops under his Charge, and shall want his Junction on the Bank of the Betowah, from whence I shall proceed on my Route through Bundlecund with all possible Expedition.

I am forry to inform you, that the Backwardness which the Maratta Chiefs have shewn to the Performance of the Engagements they have entered into with me, make me dubious of their real Intentions. This Circumstance will in some Shape protract my March; but you may be affured that I shall not be diverted from my direct Route through these Districts by any Resentment of their Duplicity, however their Conduct may merit it, more than the Security of my Detachment may absolutely

I have dispatched Cossids in Acknowledgment of the Letters I have received from Poona and Bombay, and shall be punctually attentive to their Desire of being frequently informed of my Advance.

Head Quarters, Meer Gawa, 5th June 1778.

I have, &c. (Signed) Matt* Leslie,

To the Officer at Calpee, in Command of the Troops under Orders for Bombay.

Sir,
I wrote you under the 3d Instant, enclosing a Letter from the Presidency of Bombay. This is purposely to give Order to a Letter in Quadruplicate from the same Place, which is dispatched by different Rootes, as I am uncertain what Road you mean to take; I shall therefore be obliged liged to you to inform me as foon as possible, that I may be enabled to place Dawk Hircarrahs between this Place and you. The Men who will deliver you these Letters are any of them able to inform you of the best and shortest Roads towards Poona. Agreeable to the Orders I have received both from Bengal and Bombay, I am using my Endeavours to procure the necessary Passports for your free Passage through the Maratta Dominions. I have not yet a determinate Answer from the Durbar with respect to them, but hope in a sew Days to be able to inform you with more Precision; however, it will be necessary to be strictly on your Guard, and to avoid as much as lays in your Power, the giving any Cause of Complaint; though, from the distracted state of this Government, and the Dissentions amongst the Heads, I do not believe they will dare to oppose your March. You may depend I shall keep you advised of every material Occurrence necessary for your Knowledge, as soon as I know where to address you.

Poona, the 11th May 1778. I am, &c. (Signed) T' Mostyn.

Governor General and Council; and that you give us the most constant and punctual Advice of your Motions, and the Route you pursue, that we may do all in our Power to provide for the Wants, and facilitate the March, of the Army.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, 22d June 1778!

Received the following Letter from Bombay:

Gentlemen.

We have the Honour to forward a Triplicate of our last Letter, dated the 2d Instant, fince when we have received your Letter of the 23d of March.

We have not fince received any further Advices from the Resident at Poona, nor taken your Letter into sull Consideration; and we only dispatch this to acquaint you, that we have taken off the Restraint we had laid on the March of the Troops from Calpee, and directed the commanding Officer to advance towards this Side, agreeable to the Orders he has received from you.

We shall do all in our Power to facilitate his March, and to procure a safe and unmolested Passage for the Army, and write to you with all possible Precision, the Moment we have taken our Refolutions.

From the friendly Intercourse that has appeared for some Time past to subsit between the French and Hyder Ally Cawn, of which we gave an Instance in our last Letter, we think it would be a very proper Measure to keep a Resident at his Durbar, to endeavour to penetrate and counterast their Schemes; we therefore request to know if you approve this Measure, to which we presume the Nabob can have no reasonable Objection, as we are assured both the French and Dutch maintain Residents at his Court.

Having hitherto obtained no Satisfaction from the Durbar for the Concerned in the Aurora, not-withstanding our repeated Representations, and the Letter from the Governor General, we have fixed the Amount of their Loss as a Claim upon the Revenues of Jambooseer, after the Company's Demands on account the Twelve Lacks and the Country of Three Lacks are made good; and have resolved to retain that Purgunnah until the Sum due to the Sufferers is discharged with Interest; our Proceedings, and the Papers now transmitted by a Sea Conveyance to Madras, will shew the Care we took to examine and ascertain the Claims, and to do all possible Justice to the Poona Government; and we doubt not you will approve the Method we have taken to obtain Satisfaction for the Merchants, whom it is our Duty to protect.

It is with much Concern we acquaint you, that by the London Gazette of the 16th December, just received from Bussora, we learn that General Burgoyne with his whole Army, consisting of 3,500 Fighting Men, was compelled to surrender to General Gates on the 14th of October, on Condition of being transported to England from Boston, and not to serve again in America during the War.

General Howe remains in Possession of Philadelphia, with which Place the Fleet have in vain endea-voured to open a Communication, and Three of our Ships have been destroyed in the Attempt, viz. the Augusta of 64 Guns, the Roebuck of 44, and the Merlin of 16. General Washington was encamped within a sew Miles from Philadelphia, and the Congress had removed to Lancaster: General Clinton with a small Army had proceeded up the River of New York, and had met with some Success.

The Council at Bussora have acquainted us that about the latter End of January, Two French Gentlemen arrived at Grain, from Surat in their Way to Aleppo, and not chusing to wait for the Caravan, just preparing to set out from the former Place, had come to Bussora, from whence they had proceeded by Water to Hilla: "They gave out that one of them was Writer to the French Chief at "Surat, and the other a Military Officer; and that they were proceeding to Europe with Letters to the French Ministry regarding a new Settlement that had been lately made by their Nation at "Choul." We doubt not these are the individual Persons mentioned in our Letter of the 12th December; but the Council at Bussora add, that through their Impatience they had taken a Route which did not promise much Expedition.

Ordered, That the Enclosures in the above Letter be entered after the Consultation.

Mr. Francis delivers in the following Minute:

Mr. Francis—As a formal Motion from me on the Subject of the preceding Letters would only be productive of useless Debate, I shall content myself with laying my Opinion before the Board, leaving it to their Confideration to adopt any Part of it they may think proper. These Letters bring new Matter, and of course a new Question before us. On the Second of May, the Presidency of Bombay inform us, that the Opinion they had formed of the prefent Situation, added to other Confiderations, had induced them to flop the March of the Detachment. In Two Days they fuddenly change their Resolution without affigning any Reason for it, and order the Detachment to proceed. By this extraordinary Omission, I think they have failed very much in the Respect they owe to this Government, and in their Duty to the Company. If they act capriciously and without Reason, common Prudence dictates to us that we ought not to leave our Army under fuch Direction: If they have Reasons for this Change of System, strong enough to superfied the Arguments on which their first Resolution was founded, (which, considering the Shortness of the Interval, and that no Event of any Moment had happened in that Time, is hardly conceivable) they defignedly leave us in the Dark with respect to the Motives of their Conduct; and make it impossible for us to act in Concert, or in Confidence with them. I can place no Reliance in the Wisdom of Men, whose Councils, in the Determination of the most important Questions, appear to sluctuate without Plan, Principle, or Object; much less can I think it fare or honourable to co-operate in the Support of Men who affectedly conceal the Motives of their Actions from us, though it be one of their principal Duties to explain those Motives to us. Either Way it is my Opinion, that we ought not to fusion to the Detachment to proceed, until we are informed what Change of Circumstances has induced the Presidency of Bombay to revoke their Resolution of the 2d May; that Resolution we know was taken on solid Ground, because their Reasons for it were explained. We ought to be equally fatisfied that the Reasons for revoking it are powerful enough to justify the Change: It would but ill become the Dignity of the Supreme Council of India to follow blindly the Caprices of a fubordinate Government, nor perhaps would it be quite confillent with our Safety, confidering that the Prefidency of Bombay, even in this last Act, endeavour to fix the Responsibility of it upon us. They do not take it upon themselves to justify the March of the Detachment as an Act of their own: they say only that they have taken off the Restriction under which they had laid the commanding Officer, and directed him to advance, agreeable to the Orders he had received from us; we then are constituted the Authors of the Measure, and must be answerable for the Event.

On what Grounds they have proceeded I know not, but their own Letter states a lack to us which they ought to have compared with the actual Circumstances of Colonel Lesla's Army, and which I think should have deterred them from exposing it to a similar Event. In the same Breath they order the Detachment to continue its March across India, forgetting every thing they had said of the Dangers and Dissiputies of such a March; and tell us a British Army, attempting a Passage through North America, had been obliged to capitulate. It may be Folly to draw Omens from Misfortunes; but it is equally Want of Wildom not to suffer Example and Experience to have any Weight with us. Independant of this particular Consideration, I would wish the Board to consider, whether the unfortunate Events in America ought not to have a general Influence upon our Measures here; whether this be a Scason for hazarding offensive Operations of any Kind; and, whether Policy and Prudence do not plainly dictate to us, that while the Nation is to deeply engaged and pressed on one Side, with every Thing to apprehend from the Designs of France and Spain on the other, we should stand on our Desence, and not weaken or divide the Force on which the Sassety of Bengal may depend.

A P P E N D I X, N° 58-63 and 64.

Governor General—Whether Mr. Francis's Minute is delivered as a Motion, or merely as Reflections upon the Measures now before us, it equally claims the Consideration of the Board. Mr. Francis is consistent with his Conduct in repeating his Instances for the Recall of the Detachment; I am equally consistent in proposing, that the Measure which has been so deliberately resolved on shall be prosecuted, since no new Circumstances have intervened to induce me to change my Opinion; nor has Mr. Francis urged one new Argument in support of his, except the Defeat of General Burgoyne in America; to which I hope he does not expect an Answer. The Reasons gives by the President and Council of Bombay, in their Letter of the 2d May, for suspending the March of the Detachment, were grounded on Circumstances of which they were not competent Judges: The Expence, the Danger, the Responsibility, were ours. In effect, these do not appear to me to have been the Reasons; we shall probably be informed of them with their promised Letter, containing their Resolutions; but it is of little Moment to the present Question, what were the Motives for their Conduct, either in suspending the March of the Detachment or in directing the Prosecution of it. The original Measure is ours, and all our Resolutions concerning it ought to proceed from our own Knowledge of the Circumstances which have any Relation to it.

I hope that our Affairs in America are not in the desperate Situation in which they are described to be; but I see no Connection between them and the Concerns of this Government, much less can I agree, that with such superior Advantages as we possels over every Power which can oppose us, we should act merely on the Defensive; and abruptly stop the Operation, of a Measure of such Importance to the National Interests, and to the National Safety, .. that in which we have now decidedly engaged, with the Eyes of all India turned upon it: On the contrary, if it be really true that the British Arms and Influence have suffered so severe a Check in the Western World, it is more incumbent on those who are charged with the Interests of Great Britain in the East, to exert themselves for the Retrieval of the National Lois. We have the Means in our Power, and if they are not frustra ed by our own Diffensions, I trust that the Event of this Expedition will yield every Advantage for the Attainment of which it was undertaken. It is not long fince one of the many Motions which have been made for the Recall of the Detachment, was supported by an Argument drawn from the Certainty that there was no Probability of a War with France; and the Designs attributed to the French in this Quarter of the World were treated as chimerical and ground eis: Now we are told, that the Nation is deeply engaged and pressed on one Side with every thing to apprehend from the Designs of France and Spain; on the other, the Conclusion drawn from this State of Appearances is, That we should stand on our Defence, and not weaken or divide the Force on which the State of Bengal may depend. The Conclusion which I should araw from such Premites is the very Reverse; not that we should act upon the Defensive, and wait till the Designs of our Enemies are ripe, and they have chosen their own Time to carry them into Execution, but that we should provide for the Safety of Bengal, by obviating the impending Dangers, and by rendering their Attempts abortive, before the Time destined for their Birth

Mr. Francis—As I do not mean to enter further into the general Argument, I shall only observe that the new Matter which I think these Letters bring before us, arises in Part from the profound Silence of the Bombay Council on the Motives of a positive Resolution: When nothing is said in Support of the Assimative of any Question, that Circumstan e alone is sufficient to justify the Negative.

My Language and Opinion, with respect to the Designs of France, and the Policy to be observed by this Government, will be found invariably the same. I do indeed believe that the Schemes imputed to them of Alliances with the Marattas, and of hostile Projects on the Malabar Coast, were chimerical; their Connections with Hyder Ally shew at least that they have taken a very different Turn: But I have constantly urged the Necessity of arming in Bengal, and standing in a Posture of Security and Desence here, without provoking a Quarrel with France, as long as it could be avoided, because I am instructed by the Company, and convinced by my own Judgment, that we ought to make the Sasety and Preservation of Bengal our principal Object.—As I find there are no public Letters before the Board, to inform us of the particular Circumstances that attended Colonel Lesses March on the First Day from Calpee, I beg Leave to lay before the Board an Extract of a private Letter from Camp, to which I gave Credit, and which I think deserves our Consideration: I understand there are many private Letters in Town which give the same Accounts:

"On their First Day's March from Calpee, by the little Care that was taken to provide proper Guides they lost their Road; and although the Ground they proposed to encamp upon was but Eight Coss from Calpee, yet they were Eleven Hours on the Road, from Midnight till Eleven o'Clock; during this Time they marched above 30 Miles, over a burning fandy Plain, without a Drop of Water; between Three and Four hundred Sepoys and Followers of the Camp died raying mad with Thirst.

"Captain Crawford, One of the best and bravest Military Characters in India, died that Day, according to the Opinion of the Doctors, for Want of a Draught of simple Water; he died mad after Two Hours Illness; Colonel Parker, Major Fullarton, Captain Ashe, Captain Shoners, and about Ten Subalterns, were dangerously ill."

Governor General—May I ask Mr. Francis the Name of the Writer of this Letter, since it is delivered as authentic?

Mr. Francis—I have stated it to be a private Letter, consequently cannot mention the Writer's Name; nor would I have introduced it at all, if there had been any public Letter from Colonel Leslic, stating the Circumstances that attended his March: I do not find that he has even reported the Death of Captain Crawford; but I can assure the Board with Certainty that there are many Letters in this Town to the same Essect.

Governor General—Of the Death of Captain Crawford I received Advice from Colonel Leslie, written at the same Time with his public Letter to the Board; and confounding one Letter with the other, did believe till this Instant that it was mentioned in his public Letter; I have not the Letter by me, but will fend it, or an Extract of it, that it may be entered in this Place. I believe that the Troops must have suffered from the Heat and Want of Water on the Road; I did in effect fore-tell it in a Minute dictated at this Board; but I believe that the anonymous Extracts produced by Mr. Francis is a gross Exaggeration, and calculated more to conciliate the Favour of the Person to whom it was probably addressed, than to convey a strict Relation of the Truth.

- "I will address you again To-morrow; I have sent the requisite Orders for the Magazine to join me from Calpee, and can assure you I shall do my utmost to get on, though we have at present to struggle with a most inclement Season.
- "I have had the Misfortune to lose Captain James Crawford, who commanded the 4th Battalion of Sepoys, by a most violent Fever which carried him off in less than Two Hours; his private Character, and acknowledged Abilities in his Profession, are not unknown to you.
- "I bear more than my Share in the universal Regret and Grief at this Accident, not only by the " Loss the Service in general sustains, but the present Expedition in particular.

"I have the Honour to be,
"Dear Sir,
"Your faithful humble Servant, (Signed) "Matt" Lesse."

I now return to Mr. Francis's last Minute. I cannot agree with Mr. Francis, in terming the Silence of the Presidency of Bombay, new Matter for a Question depending solely on our own Resolutions; but whatever Weight this Argument may have on one Side, it is equally counterpossed on the other, and leaves us just where we were with respect to the Motives of our own Actions. They were silent on the Causes which induced them to suspend the March of the Detachment: They were silent on their Motives for repealing this Suspension; and I for my own Part am better pleased with the Solicitude they have shewn, to make Colonel Lessie acquainted with their last Intentions, than if they had waited; and of course, unnecessarily impeded the Service, for the tedious official Formalities of a public Letter, detailing all their Reasons.

If Mr. Francis does indeed still believe, that the Schemes imputed to the French of Alliances with the Marattas, and of hostile Projects on the Malabar Coast were chimerical, I would beg Leave to ask him, but do not insist on his Answer, Whether he believes the Character assumed by the Chevalier St. Lubin of a Minister from the Court of France to be false? and whether the Attestations of it by Siccaram Baboo, and Nana Furnese, the Ministers of the Maratta State, and the formal Notification made by them to this Government, that the Chevalier St. Lubin had delivered Letters and Prefents from the King of France, were false, and for what Purpose this Collusion was concerted? If it be admitted, that the Chevalier St. Lubin is Minister from the Court of France to that of Poona, What is the Object of his long Residence? and what was the Object of his Mission? When the Conclusion which I have drawn from each Appearance, and which has been ecchoed by all the World, is pronounced chimerical, I have a Right to require that some other be set up in its stead. Much Stress has been laid on a former Assertion made by me, respecting the supposed Grant to St. Lubin of the Port of Choul. I had but repeated what I knew to be on our Records; but could not immediately turn to the Passages which related to it; and I trusted to Time, the best Discoverer of Truth, to justify the Opinion which I founded upon them. I now beg Leave, in this Place, to quote the following Passage of a Letter from Fort St. George, dated 16th January last, which mentions the Grant of the Port of Choul as a Fact of undoubted Notoriety. "With respect to any Connections which may have been formed by the " Maratta State, we can only speak from Conjecture. It seems probable that some Engagements " may be in Agitation, or perhaps concluded between that State and the Soubah; and they have lately we believe maintained a close Correspondence with the French; as appears from the "Proceedings of Monsieur St. Lubin at Poona, and the Grant which they have given to the French at Choul on the Malabar Coast, of which you have lately been advited." I never supposed that a public Grant or Sunnud had been executed for this Purpose. This would not have fuited the Policy of either Party. The present Use of the Port, and the Promise of it in Property, was all that the Chevalier St. Lubin could desire, until his Designs were ripe for Execution. I believe most simply, that such a Promise was made him by the ruling Member of the Administration; nay, I have been informed, and by an Authority which (though I think myself not at Liberty to mention it) merits my entire Credit of it, that St. Lubin did make a Purchase of a Church standing near the Shore, for the Purpose of establishing a present Store-house, and of converting it, with the Ground around it, to a Fortress hereafter. I shall now produce the last and most conclusive Evidence of the Reality of the Engagements, executed between Nana Furnese and the Chevalier St. Lubin, and even of the Design to grant the Property of the Port of Choul to the latter. It is extracted from Mr. Lewis's Diary. I shall insert the Passage at large, and desire that the Parts to which I allude may be marked by a Line drawn underneath.

" Wednesday 20th April. On account 🍑 some particular religious Ceremonies Moraba was engaged " in, this being a Holiday, I had not an Opportunity of seeing him until 7 o'Clock, P. M. I found there Chintoo Wittul and Gopaul Naique Tumbuckur. After delivering the Letters from the Governor "General agreeably to Mr. Mostyn's Orders, I explained their Contents, when Moraba asked me, whom " we had to fear? I told him that in contequence of the Governor General and Council being ad-" vited of the Treaty with Monsieur St. Lubin, they had Caufe to imagine some evil Deligns were intended against the Company's Settlements on the Western Side of India. He immediately, answered, That there was no Treaty between this Government and that Gentleman. I replied, that I if fincerely believed there was not; but that I was convinced there was One lubfilling between Nana " and him, the Contents of which we had the greatest Reason to suppose were greatly to our Prejuet dice; and that it was in confequence of this Treaty that the Troops mentioned in the Governor General's Letter were coming to the Assistance of Bombay. I therefore requested the necessary " Dustucks for their treely passing through any Part of the Maratta Dominions they might have Oc-" casion to come to, as well as their being properly supplied with a friendly Buzar. Moraba confessed a " Knowledge of the Treaty between Nana and Monsieur St. Lubin; but said he could not give me " an Answer with respect to the Dustucks I required, until after the Durbar met To-morrow.
" Sunday 3d May about 6 P. M. Moraba sent a Message desiring my Attendance at the Durbar. " I accordingly went and found there Crustrow Belol, Chintoo Wittal, and Gopaul Naique Trum-" buckar. Moraba told me that as the Letters from the Governor General mentioned the Troops he " was fending to Bombay to be on Account of the French being here, he had fent for Monsieur St. " Lubin, in order to give him his Dispatches, and requested to know if in such Case we should still " want the Dustucks I asked for at my last Visit, or whether the Troops would be prevented pro-" ceeding? I answered, that according to the Governor General's Letter to Mr. Moslyn, the Troops " would have been near Twenty Days on their March, and that of course the Duftucks would " be necessary to prevent any Disputes on the Road; to which he observed, that the Durbar's Vackcel " had written them, that the Governor General had told him the Troops would not march until the "Durbar's Answers were received. I replied, that this was contrary to what the Governor General 46 had written to Mr. Mostyn, but perhaps they might be stopped should the News of the Change " in Government, which Mr. Mostyn had dispatched the Day after it happened, reach Calcutta in " Time; but as this was very uncertain I repeated my Request for the Duslucks being delivered to " me, to prevent any bad Consequences which might happen from the Want of them. Crustrow " Beloll then took up the Discourse, and mentioned again the Letters they had received from the Governor General, respecting Choul being given to the French, and Monsieur St. Lubin having the Command of the Tost Counah, and made some trisling Excuses for Monsieur St. Lubin staying " here so long; he allowed that some Kind of Promises had been made that Gottleman, but faid they " were given only with a Defign to amufe him. I replied, that the Durbar best knew their own Rea-" fons for detaining him; but that after the many Equivocations they had been guilty of, until he " arrived at some French or English Settlement, we could not believe that they really meant to send " him away; and that Mr. Mostyn had already replied to the other Points. Moraba then said, that the Durbar had hitherto acted very improperly in making fo many Evafions about him, from which the English had an undoubted Right to suspect something was intended against them; but I might • however depend Monfieur St. Lubin should be dispatched in Two or Three Days.

Mr. Francis—My private Belief is not stated as an Argument that ought to weigh with the Board, but merely to clear the Consistency of my own Conduct and Opinion, in Answer to an Objection urged against it. In many of our late Debates I have formally admitted the Possibility of the Schemes and Negociations said to be carrying on between the French and the Marattas, but at the same Time have contended that all such Schemes and Negociations have tetally failed of Success. The Fact beyond all Question is, that the French at this Day are not in Possession of Choul; and I presume it will not be disputed that they are engaged in Connections with Hyder Ally, who is at War with the Marattas, and that they have furnished him with Military Assistance.

With respect to Monsieur St. Lubin, he is an Agent of so low an Order, and a Person of a Character so infamous in India, that I cannot believe he was ever intrusted with a Letter from the King of France. What his Designs have been, or what Instructions he may have received from his Employers, I know not: It is sufficient, for the Support of every Argument in which I have taken a Part on this Subject, that his Hopes, whatever they were, have been disappointed, and that his Designs are actually defeated.

Governor General—As Mr. Francis has shifted the Grounds of the Question, I am not bound to continue the Argument, but in Answer to One Passage only which is directly applied to the present Subject of Debate. As Mr. Francis is now pleased to say, that he cannot believe that he was ever entrusted with a Letter from the King of France, I beg Leave to enter here for the Third Time the strongest Proof which a Fact of that Nature can admit, the Declaration to which I have before alluded of the Ministers themselves, in the following Extracts of their Letters to me. With respect to the French Connections with Hyder Ally, those I admit, and shall hereafter explain, as well as the Inconsistency imputed to what I alledged on this Subject in the Minutes delivered by me on the 11th June.

P P E N D I X, N° 58-63 and 64. N° 59 and 61.

Monsieur Le Chevalier de St. Lubin, on the Part of the King of France, lately arrived on board Extra03 of Lete Ship on this Coast, and landed at Rio Dunda belonging to the Government; from whence he transferon Dunda belonging to the Government; from whence he transferon Dunda belonging to the Government. mitted a Letter to Seremunt Row Sahib Row Pundit Purdhan, containing a Request of Audience to treat with him, which if granted, they would wait on him and fully explain to him the Subjects of their Mission. As Friendship has subsisted from Time immemorial between the French Nation and the illustrious Family of Seremunt Sahib, and moreover in Compliance with the Duties of Hospitality, an Order for their Approach was fent from the Presence. When the aforesaid Gentleman arrives, the Subjects of their Negociation will be explained."

"I some time ago wrote you Information of the Approach of a Person deputed by the King of France to this Quarter. Monsieur Chevalier de St. Lubin has lately been honoured with an Audience of the Pundit Purdhan Peshwa Sahib, of strengthening and confirming the ancient Friendship which sublisted between the Two Nations, and he also spoke on the Subject of their ancient Intimacy and Connection."

" As the rainy Season was set in violently, Mr. Le Chevalier has been delayed on this Account. The Duties of Hospitality, both to Friends and Strangers, are incumbent on Chiefs of high Rank.'

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, 11th June 1778.

THE Governor General—I forbear in this Place to comment upon the preceding Letters; I suppose that the Orders for head a P. C. pole that the Orders fent by the President and Council of Bombay to Colonel Leslie must have been received; but as it is possible that they may have been intercepted, I propose that a Letter be written to Colonel Leslie, informing him of the Substance of this Order, and confirming it by an Order from this Board; but that he be directed to complete the Preparations which he has been making for the Equipment of his Detachment, and that he hold himself in Readiness to march on immediate Warning.

Mr. Wheler—I feel myself very much averse to throwing any Difficulty or Embarrassinent upon the Subject now before the Board.

The Question as it stands I can approve of in Part, but without some further Explanation, I sear I cannot entirely accede to it; the First Part of the Letter, advising Colonel Leslie of the Substance of the Bombay Letter, and the Confirmation of this Board, is acceded to, and likewife that he be directed to complete the Preparation which he has been making for the Equipment of his Detachment, as I have Reason to fear he is very ill provided and prepared for so long and hazardous a March: As to the last Part, " that he hold it in Readiness to march on immediate Warning," I do not consent to it, unless the Order shall previously receive the Sanction of this Board; I likewise think it should be ascertained, whether Colonel Leslie should with his Army recross the Jumna, or if not, where and how he is to dispose of it during the approaching Rains.

Mr. Francis-Confidering the Nature of the Advices received Yesterday from Bombay, I own I had not the least Doubt that the present extraordinary Council was summoned with a View to countermand the Expedition, and to recall our Forces to the Defence of our own Dominions. The Prefidency of Bombay tell us, " that the Opinion they had formed on the present Situation of Affairs. " and their Defire to fave the Company from the heavy Expence, and their Troops from the Dan-" gers and Difficulties of a March from our Provinces to that Side of India, had led them to put " a Stop to the March of the Army." After fuch a Rebuss as this from the Government, in support of whose Projects these extraordinary Steps have been taken here, and after so plain a Declaration from them, that they will not take any Part in the Responsibility of a Measure so expensive, so dangerous, and so difficult, I confess I had no Thought that any Idea of persevering in the Execution of such a Measure could still prevail at this Board. I was in Hopes that nothing would be required of me To-day, but to join as I should have done, heartily in approving the Reversal of Measures, which I had constantly opposed and condemned; the Motion by no Means answers my Expectations or comes Home to my Opinion.

I think we should immediately fend Orders to Colonel Leslie to recross the Jumna, and to station his Troops in such Places as may be most convenient and most casily made for their Reception during the Rains; I can never agree to their halting on the other Side of the River; if it be in an Enemy's Country, the Army must be exposed to many of the Dangers and Difficulties which would attend their March, and probably be forced into Acts of Hollihty, which may produce a general War. If it be REP. VI.

meant meant that they shall quarter in the Territories of the Raja of Bundlecund, I suppose it may be done without Danger, but it must be attended with the Ruin of his Country, at the same Time that our Army is detained from the Defence of our own Frontier. It is in vain for me to fay more on a Subject which has been so often discussed; I must leave it to the Majority to decide as they think proper. One Circumstance only I think it necessary to point out to the Attention of the Court of Directors. We have been hitherto told that the French were engaging in dangerous Negociation. with the Marattas, and this Fact has often been pressed upon the Board as a Reason for the Part w have taken in their Affairs: It now appears by the Letter from Bombay, that Monsieur Bellecombe had sent a Ship of War to Mangalore, where several Artillery Officers, Two hundred Men, and a large Quantity of Military Stores, are landed for the Service of the Nabob Hyder Ally. But Hyder Ally is at War with the Marattas, and has lately obtained some Advantages over them; it is impossible then that any Intrigues between the French and the Marattas can have taken Effect if ever they existed. The Conclusions therefore drawn from that supposed Fact fall to the Ground, and it we act confistently with our Reasonings, the Measures built on those Conclusions must fall with them.

Mr. Barwell—It seems to be the Sentiments of Mr. Wheler and Mr. Francis, that the Detachment should continue embodied and remain under the Command of Colonel Leslie. The only Proposition contained in either of the Votes, that appears at all to militate against the Orders proposed by the Governor General, is that the Troops shall be directed to re-cross the Jumna. Considering the Policy that renders it necessary to continue the Detachment embodied, I see no Reason for restricting the Officer in Command of it from chusing that Station for the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command of the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troops he may in his Judging the Officer in Command the Troop ment conceive best calculated either to facilitate his Progress, or to enable him to return to the Provinces. From the Time that has elapsed in preparing this Force, the Readiness in which it is to be kept to march at a Minute's Warning, is equally calculated for Offence and Desence, and whilst it is not advanced to a greater Distance than Thirty or Forty Coss from the Frontier of Oude, or Raja Cheyt Sing's Dominions, I will venture to affirm that our Powers of Defence are greatly increated. In giving my Opinion for the proposed Order to Colonel Leslie, I do not think it elsential to go back into the Policy that gave Rise to the Armament at Calpee, though I think it necessary to propose an Addition to the Quotation made from the Bombay Letter by Mr. Francis, following the Words "landed for the Service of the Nabob Hyder Ally;" " and the Ship, after "Sir Edward Vernon was out of Sight to the Northward of her, returned to Mahé, to carry Mon-"fieur Bellecombe back to Pondicherry. The Sartine is gone into Goa River, where she probably may remain during the Monsoon; and it is there said, that the French were deterred from pro-" ceeding to Choul by the Appearance of our Squadron, and supposing that War was declared, " and perhaps by the News of the Revolution at Poona, but we have learnt that the Captain who was at Choul, has ordered her up thither (to Choul)."

Mr. Francis—I have not made myself understood. My Opinion is, that the Expedition should be absolutely countermanded, and Colonel Lessie's present Command of course dissolved as soon as he has quartered his Troops on this Side the Jumna, in the best Manner the Scason will permit, after the Rains, the several Detachments of which his Army is composed, ought to be remanded to their former Stations.

Governor General-If I had thought it necessary to have replied minutely to the Objections which have been made to this Question, Mr. Barwell has precluded me, by anticipating all that I could have faid upon the Subject; but there is an Observation which Mr. Francis has introduced, and expressed as it is, to be foreign from the Question of which I am compelled to take Notice, by the solemn Reference which he has made of it to the Court of Directors. Mr. Francis has faid, " One Circumstance only I think it necessary to point out to the Attention of the Court of Di-" rectors; we have been hitherto told, that the French were engaging in dangerous Negociations with the Marattas, and this Fact has often been pressed upon the Board as a Reason for the 46 Part we have taken in their Affairs: It now appears, by the Letter from Bombay, that Monsieur 66 Bellecombe had fent a Ship of War to Mangalore, where feveral Artillery Officers, Two hundred "Men, and a large Quantity of Military Stores, were landed for the Service of the Nabob Hyder Mr. Barwell has properly added the Context of this Quotation, and thereby restored it to the proper Sense implied and intended by both. By this Method of selecting partial Passages, and by an artificial Application or Combination of them, of which I have too frequently had Occasion to complain in the Contest in which I have been unfortunately involved with Mr. Francis, it is in his Power not only to pervert the original Meaning of the Text, but to draw any Conclusions he pleates from them, however opposite to the Sentiments of those who wrote them. fession of Materials, received through Channels too remote for the Possibility of their having been suggested by the Knowledge of what has happened on the other Side of India, by which I learn that the Destination of the Troops, which were landed from the Brilliante at Mangalore, were for Choul. The additional Sentence of the Bombay Letter, which Mr. Barwell has defired to be inferted, may serve in Part to explain the apparent Inconsistency of Troops intended for the Service of the Marattas, being converted to that of the Enemies, nor will it be difficult to comprehend the Cause of so sudden a Change in the Conduct of Monsieur Bellecombe, on the Difficulties presented to him, if we suppose him to have been reluctantly compelled into the Support of a System formed independent of his Authority, and that his own Inclinations led him to prefer another Alliance, which I have Reason to believe was the Case.

Mr. Francis-I beg Leave to fay that my Argument is not answered; I state it as a Fact, which is not disputed, that the French have lately sent Military Assistance to Hyder Ally, who is at War with the Marattas: From this undiffuted Fact I conclude that, even admitting any Negociations whatsoever to have been carried on between the French and the Marattas at a former Period, and even admitting the private Information to which the Governor General refers to be authentic (though to this Board it could be no Evidence before it was mentioned) still it is true, that the French have now aken part with Hyder Ally; of course we have nothing to sear from those dangerous Intrigues, which, to save Time and Argument, I will admit to have taken Place between them and the Marattas, nor any Reason to persevere in the Execution of Measures, which were adopted with a professed View to counteract those Intrigues. This Argument I take to be strict, and in Point; I submit to Judgment, whether it is answered by general Complaints of unfair Quotations, which considering that the Letter quoted is before the Board, and will be before the Court of Directors, would be not less injudicious than they would be unfair.

Governor General-I will answer Mr. Francis's Argument in the Manner in which he requires; still complaining, as I have a Right to complain, of the partial Selection of Facts for the Purpose of maintaining his Opinion. It is true that the President and Council of Bombay write, that they had learnt that the Brilliante proceeded to Mangalore, where several Artillery Officers, Two hundred Men, and a large Quantity of Military Stores, were landed for the Service of the Nabob Hyder Ally: They do not affert this for a Fact, nor do they affert that the Report, which they thus repeat to us, went further than the Landing of the Troops, and the simple Intention of employing them for the Service of Hyder Ally; in Effect, this Intelligence confifts only of conjectural Conclusions from an unascertained Fact: To this obscure Intelligence, and to this vague Inference drawn from it, I desire Leave to oppose the following Extract from Mr. Moltyn's Letter, containing the Recital of an authenticated Fact, admitting but of One Conclusion, namely, that the Chevalier St. Lubin, the public and avowed Minister of the Court of France, was still retained at Poona in Desiance of all the Remonstrances of our Agent there, and of the President and Council of Bombay, and that the same Countenance was shewn him by the Members of the new Administration as he had before received from the ruling Members of the former Government; hence I conclude, in Opposition to Mr. Francis's Conclusion, that we have yet stronger Grounds than ever, both for the Conviction of the French Intrigues with the Maratta State, and for the Fear of their Consequences. "Notwithstanding Moraba's Affertions to Mr. Lewis, Monsieur St. Lubin has not yet been to Proonder, though it is faid he is " now fent for; but from the equivocating Conduct of the Durbar, both before and fince Moraba has had the executive Authority, it is a Doubt with me whether they will dispatch him, or even if they do, whether he will leave Poona, as from the Lateness of the Season he will have it in his Power to delay the Time until the Rains set in, when he will make the Plea of its being impossible for him to go any where.

Mr. Francis-I did understand from the Governor General's preceding Minute, that the Facts had

Bengal Secret Consultations, 11th June 1778.

Refolved, That the following Letters be written to Colonel Leslie, to Bombay, and to Mr. Moityn.

By a Letter which we have received from the President and Council of Bombay, under Date the 2d May, we are informed, that the Affurances given by the new Ministers at Poona, of their breaking off the Connection with the French, had made the President and Council willing to hope that the first and grand Object of the Measures thus proposed to us, might be accomplished by the late Revolution in the Government of Poona; but as Monsieur St. Lubin had not been dismissed, and they were uncertain whether the new Ministry were sincere in their Promises, they did not mean to be relax in their Vigilance towards the Intentions of that Government; however, until they could judge with more Certainty of their Disposition, the Opinion which the President and Council had formed of the present Situation of Assairs, and their Desire to save the Company from the heavy Expence and our Troops from the Dangers and Difficulties of a March from these Provinces to the Weit Side of India, had induced them to fend you an Order not to advance any further until you should hear again from them.

We conclude, that ere this you have received their Orders, and put a Stop to the March of the Detachment in confequence; but lest they should have been intercepted, or by some Accident prevented from reaching you, we think it proper to confirm them, by directing them to halt accordingly, until you shall receive further Orders on the Subject from the President and Council at Bombay or from us; but you will nevertheless continue the Preparations which you have been making for the Equipment of the Detachment under your Command, until they shall be completed: And we further direct, that you hold it in Readiness to march on immediate Warning.

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letter of the 2d ultimo.

Lest the Orders which you inform us you have fent to Colonel Leslie, should have been intercepted, or by any Accident prevented from reaching him, we have confirmed them by Injunctions to halt with the Detachment under his Command where he now is, on the other Side of the Jumna but to hold himself in Readiness to continue his March on immediate Notice.

We are, &c.

We have this Day received your Duplicate Letter of the 12th ultimo, enclosing one from the Prefident and Council of Bombay, dated the 2d of the fame Month.

For Want of the Copy of Mr. Lewis's Proceedings, which are faid to be enclosed in your Letter, we are much at a Loss to comprehend the Facts which you allude to; but we observe, with great Concern upon the Whole, that the new Ministers, by a dilatory and evasive Conduct, have already furnished Grounds to distrust the Sincerity of the Intentions which they had protested to you; we therefore wait with Impatience for more clear and decifive Advices of their Proceedings, and we request you will not delay to acquaint us with them by every Opportunity.

In consequence of the Letter from the President and Council of Bombay, wherein they inform us that they had thought it proper to fend. Orders to Colonel Leflic, not to advance any further with the De. tachment under his Command, until they should be able to judge with more Certainty of the Disposition of the new Government, and to furnish him with Instructions for his Conduct; we have confirmed these Orders, by directing him to halt accordingly where he now is, but to hold him.

felf in Readiness to continue his March on immediate Notice.

Letter from Bombay.

Gentlemen,

ENCLOSED we have the Honour to forward a Triplicate of our last Address, dated the 20th instant.

Having fince received some material Advices from Mr. Mostyn, we now forward Copies thereof by a Ship bound to Madras, the Conveyance by Sea being at this Season the most expeditious.

We also enclose Copies of Two French Letters which lately fell into our Hands: They are from the Commander of the French Snow, mentioned in our Letter of the 20th January to have arrived at Choul, and having been put on board a Vessel at Damaun, of whose Destination he was ignorant, came into our Possession, after having been carried to Bussorah and back again. As you will now have these Letters before you, it is needless for us to make any Comments.

The Resident at Tellicherry has lately advised us, that he has received certain Information that the Number of Men landed at Mangalore from the Brilliante was only 12 Artillery, 12 Infantry, and

One Officer, instead of Two hundred Men as before advised.

We have received the new Cypher from Captain Roddam; and are, with Refpect, &c.

RECEIVED the following Letter from Colonel Leflie:

Gentlemen,

I had the Honour to address you on the 20th instant, with the Information of the First Division of this Detachment having passed the Jumna; the Park of Artillery, Magazine, Stores, &c. with Two Battahons of the 2d Division and the Nabob's Cavalry, crossed a few Days following; and I have been delayed commencing my March from Calpee by the Negociations the Maratta Chiefs have been carrying on with me for the Re-establishment of Peace. This Day I have received their sinal Acquickence to my free Passage through their Country, and their promised Aid of Provisions; for their faithful Performance of which I am to be attended by a Person of Rank, and to retain Possision of the Fort of Calpee, so long as it may be necessary for the Convenience of my Communication with these Provinces.

The Terms upon which these Matters are adjusted are contained in the enclosed Paper, which I now lay before you, and shall be happy if in this Endeavour to effect the Spirit of your Instructions

I may merit your Approbation.

It was my Intention to have advanced a Part of the Troops To morrow Morning; but an Express Letter, which I have received by this Day's Post from the Honourable the President and Council of Bombay, and transmitted by your Resident at Benares, positively forbids my Advance, as unnecessary in the present State of Assairs at Poona, and directing me to wait their further Orders. Under Cover I have the Honour to lay before you a Copy of their Letter. Your Instructions, requiring my strict Comphance with the Orders of the President and Council of Bombay on my crossing the summa, entirely prohibits my taking any Measures upon the Presumption of what may be your Senincents on the present Occasion; but as the Situation of Calpee will not admit of my taking Post here so long as it may be before I receive their promised Instructions, I shall extend my Front to the Banks of the Betowa River, about 10 Coss on the Road to Chatterpore, in which Situation I hall be most conveniently situated for putting in Execution any Orders you may please to honour me with, and I shall be ready to pursue my March if the Presidency of Bombay should require it. I essembly Advance thus far from Calpee necessary to support the Appearance of my Progress, that the Chief of Berar may not conclude himself neglected, and I shall address him to this Purport: The presumptions of this District will also be convinced by this Step, that their Efforts have not in any Shape tended to retard the March of the Detachment. I earnestly solicit your Directions for my Conduct in this Situation of Assairs, and whatever Orders I may receive in the Interim from the slombay Presidency shall be complied with, and immediate Notice thereof transmitted to you.

I have the Honour, &c. &c.

Translation of a Letter from Colonel Mattw Leslie to Gangadhur Pundit; dated the 27th May 1778.

Upon my Approach to Calpee I wrote to you and your Brother Balagce, informing you that I should proceed to the Southward through your Country; that I had no hostile Intentions towards you; that I should be careful in preventing my Troops and their Followers from committing Depredations or molesting the Inhabitants during my March through your Country; that I required your friendly Assistance in supplying me with Grain, and such other Necessaries as I might require of you for the Service of my Camp; and that whatever Necessaries I might be supplied with, I would pay a proper Price for them.

In your Answers to my Letters, you express the highest Respect for the English, likewise your Inclination to encrease that Friendship which you had before established with them; and you seemed happy that this Event would afford you an Opportunity of evincing your Readiness to oblige the English Government.

After such very friendly Expressions and Assurances, I little expected the Reception of an Enemy on crossing my Troops at Kulpee Gaut: As I have already given you my Sentiments very fully on Rep. VI.

APPENDIX, Nº62.

the Conduct of your People towards me, I judge a Repetition unnecessary; but as you have folicited me to make you acquainted with such Circumstances as I may deem material for my Service, I d_0 therefore stipulate the following Articles:

1st. That my Troops are to have a free and unmolested Passage through your Country.

2d. That you will cause the Troops to be supplied with Provisions and other Necessaries, ring their March through your Country; for which a proper Price shall be given.

3d. That the Communication to and from my Camp be kept open and protected, and that you afford every Affistance required of you on this Subject.

4th. As your People of your own Accord did evacuate the Town and Fort of Kulpee, I am now in Possession of both; I therefore judge it expedient to retain the Fort by placing a small Guard in it, as a Security for the Performance of your Promises to me; I likewise require a Man of Credit, Respect, and of your Considence, who shall proceed with me; and if upon my Arrival at Chatterpost I shall have experienced the Effects of your friendly Intentions and Readiness to give me Assistance, I shall then direct the Return of your Friend, and order the Guard to be withdrawn from the Post, and you put in Possession of it.

5th. That no Bodies of your Troops are at any Time to appear near my Line of March; if the do, I shall conclude that their Intentions are hostile.

These are my Demands, and as I cannot doubt your good Intentions towards the Welfare of your Country, I should suppose you will immediately comply with them. I once more affure you that my Intentions towards you and your Country are most friendly, and I shall be attentive in preventing my Troops and their Followers from committing the smallest Irregularities during my March through your Country: I want not the Assistance of Troops, as I have no hostile Intentions towards any one.

Resolved, that the following Letter be written to Colonel Leslie:

Sir,

We have received your Letter of the 30th ultimo.

We approve of the Intention you express to move the Detachment to the Banks of the Betown River for the Purpose of encamping them. We leave the Choice of the Ground in that Situation to your Judgment, but forbid you to advance any further than the Line on which you propose to encamp, till you receive Orders to that Essect.

We also think it necessary to forbid the Application of the Treasure constituting the Military Chest for the Expedition, which was sent to you from Lucknow, to the Pay or any other Expenses of the Detachment, until you shall receive Orders either from the Presidency and Council of Bombay or from us, to continue your March; but in the mean Time you will cause the Disbursements of the Paymaster to be made from the usual Supplies, which the Resident at the Nabob's Court has been directed regularly to furnish you with.

We are, &c.

Fort William, 15th June 1778.

Agreed, That the following Letter be written to Mr. Middleton:

Sir.

Having ordered Colonel Leslie with the Detachment under his Command to halt on the Banks of the River Betowa till further Orders, we think it proper that the Treasure constituting the Military Chest for the intended Expedition, should be reserved unapplied till he may find it necessary to proceed; we therefore direct that you continue to furnish the regular and necessary Supplies for the Parand Expences of this Corps during the Continuance of its Stay in that Place.

We have received your Letter of the 29th ultimo.

We are, &c.

APPENDIX

A P P E N D I X, Nº 65 and 66.

Bengal Secret Consultations, dated 29th June 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

RECEIVED the following Letter from Bombay:

Gentlemen,

We have been favoured with your Letter of the 6th ultimo, enclosing Copy of your Instructions to Colonel Leslie.

Our Letters of the 2d and 9th Instant have been already forwarded in Duplicate.

In the First of these Letters we acquainted you of having directed the Commander of the Bengal Detachment not to advance without further Advice from us; and in the latter, of our having taken off that Restraint, and directed him to move forward agreeable to his Instructions from you.

When the late Change was effected in the Poona Government, we at first entertained Hopes it would be followed by all the good Consequences our proposed Measures were intended to produce, but we more particularly depended that the French Influence at the Maratta Court would be destroyed by that Event: for these and the other Reasons mentioned in our Letter of the 2d Instant, we judged it best to stop the March of the Bengal Detachment till we could form a more certain Judgment of the Disposition of the Administration.

Having indulged these Hopes as far as Probability will warrant, we think we can no longer in Prudence take our Measures upon such Expectations; and your Letter of the 23d March more sully explaining your Views, and giving us Authority to demand proper Explanations from the Durbar on certain Points, we then judged it expedient to order the Bengal Detachment to advance; which, from the Nature of your Orders prior to that Letter, we did not think could answer any End adequate to the Expence and Danger of the March, for we beg Leave to observe, that after the Plan for Ragoba had miscarried, it was impossible for us to deseat the Designs of the French, and not to break the Treaty of Poona.

Every Letter we have received from Poona fince the Revolution, and the uniform Tenor of the Conduct of the new Administration, evidently prove that they still mean to continue the same Line of evalive Conduct so long pursued by that Government; we doubt not but your Advices from Mr. Moslyn will have impressed you with the same Opinion. Though the executive Power is transferred from Nanah to Moraba, the former is still in Office, and a Member of the Durbar; the latter, as tar as we can judge, seems inclined to tread in the Footsteps of his Predecessor, and unwilling to part with any Share of his Power to Ragoba, may seek to secure the Whole to himself by the same Means. Monsteur St. Lubin is still permitted to remain at Poona, although his Dismission was the first Object of our Instructions to Mr. Moslyn, after the Change in the Administration took place, and he received every Satisfaction on that Head that Promises could give, so long ago as the 10th of last March. Notwithstanding the Request then made in public Durbar to Mr. Moslyn, to accompany their Agent to Bombay, with Proposals respecting Ragoba, we find by his latest Advices, that they have been only tristing with him, nor have they to his Knowledge yet taken one Step towards settling that Business, though the Scason is now so late. The Treaty still remains on the same Footing on which it has stood these Two Years past, not has the new Government taken any Measure whatever for sulfilling the unexecuted Articles.

Such being the Situation of Affairs, we could not, with your Orders before us, wait any longer in Expectation of Proposals from Poona; we have therefore given Mr. Mostyn Instructions to the following Purport, being exactly agreeable to the Directions contained in your Letters of the 23d of March.

First. We have directed him in the Name of this Government, and under your Authority, to call upon the new Administration to declare expressly whether they consider the Maratta State as bound by the Treaty of Poona, and to pledge their own Faith to it.

Secondly. We have directed him, agreeable to the faid Treaty, to demand immediate Possession of a Country of Three compleat Lacks of Rupees, near or adjoining to Broach in the Manner stipulated by the Fifth Article, and in case the Ministers shall refuse to comply with this Demand, we further directed him to declare their Refusal to be a Violation of the Treaty.

It is necessary to observe that we directed Mr. Mostyn to signify to the Ministers at the Time he made his Demands, that we were willing to receive, in full Completion of the 5th Article, a Country

that will produce to the Company Three Lacks of Rupees a Year in the groß Revenue, without any Allowance being made for the Charges of Collection.

Thirdly. We have directed him to acquaint the Ministers that we have Orders from you to keep Possession of the Countries ceded to the Honourable Company by Futty Sing, since they have failed in producing the Proofs required by the Treaty, that Futty Sing Guicawar did not possess Power ory Authority to make fuch Cellions.

Fourth. We directed him to make a proper Remonstrance, agreeable to the Terms of your Letter, against the Countenance associated to the Chevalier St. Lubin, against his being permitted to continue at Poona, notwithstanding the Promises we have received since the late Change in the Government, and to demand from them a clear and satisfactory Explanation of their Intentions with respect to the French; declaring to them, that the Governor General and Council will take such Measures as Prudence shall dictate for the suture Sasety of the Company's Interest and Possessions committed to their Charge.

In this Place we think it our Duty to request to be informed what Measures you propose to pursue, in case their Answer on this Occasion should not prove fatisfactory, or their future Conduct should give us Reason for Apprehension, as our being surnished with timely Instructions may be of the utmost Importance.

Fifthly. As we have experienced fo much Equivocation and Delay in the Conduct of the Poona Government, we thought it necessary, in Addition to the Points laid down by you, to direct Mr. Mostyn to deliver his Demands in Writing; and at the same Time to acquaint the Ministers, that we expected an immediate and explicit Answer likewise in Writing; but that if such an Answer was not returned within Fourteen Days from the Time of the Delivery of our Demands, we should consider any surther Evasion or Delay as a Resulal, and take our Measures accordingly.

The Settlement made by Colonel Upton respecting Jambooseer having been agreed to by us, rendered it unnecessary to make the Second of the Demands enjoined in your Letter. You will please to bear in mind, that our Claim on Jambooseer has been increased by the surther Demands for an Equivalent for the Loss the Company have sustained by the Delay of the Ministers in making over the Country of Three Lacks, and for Restitution of the Loss sustained by the Merchants concerned in the Aurora, which we have fixed as Charges on the Revenues of that Province.

The Resolutions we have taken, will put the Conduct of the new Administration to a clear Test; and their Answer will enable us to form a Judgment of the Footing we are to be on with that Government.

The Answer Mr. Mostyn has received from the Durbar to his Application for Passports and Supplies for the Bengal Detachment, amounting to a Denial, we gave him Directions, which he had anticipated, to make a direct Application for that Purpose to Tookajee Holkar himself, and to Mhadjee Scindy; to both of whom the President has likewise written, and given them the Assurances directed in your Letter. Mr. Lewis's Report, transmitted to you by Mr. Mostyn, will place the Conduct of the Durbar on this Point in a clear Light, and give you a further Idea of their Views and Intentions. In a Letter just received, he further acquaints us, that being uncertain which Route the Army would take, whether by the Road of Ugein and Indoor, or through the Toll Bopall Country, which lies upon the Nerbudda, to the Eastward of the two former, and is the Road generally taken by the Pattamars, he had, in order to provide as much as possible for our Troops having an unmolested March, written to the Nabob of that Country, and had been assured by his Vackeel at Poona, that there was not the least Doubt of the Nabob readily complying with his Request.

We have acquainted Colonel Leslie with our Proceedings respecting the Passports, and directed Mr. Mostyn to communicate constantly with him. We have also, with a further View of expediting his March, directed Colonel Leslie to correspond with Mr. Mostyn, and shall ourselves give him every Intelligence and Advice that can be of Service.

We beg Leave to suggest to you, that if on any future Occasion it should be necessary to supply us with a Reinforcement of Troops, the easiest and best Method would be to tend Troops Inther directly from Madras, which can be replaced from your Ettablishment if necessary.

Mr. Moslyn has been instructed to obtain, if possible, a Copy of the Engagement entered into by Nana Furnele with the Chevalier St. Lubin, and a Knowledge of the Measures which may have been taken for its Execution. The Intelligence transmitted in our last Letter, adds much Strength to our Suspicions, that a Grant has been given or promised them for the Port of Choul.

The Route by Mazulipatam appearing to be the most expeditious for the Conveyance of Advices, we beg Leave to recommend to you to transmit your original Letters through that

Nº 66.

Bengal Secret Confultations, 29th June 1778.

Acceived the following Letter from Mr. Moslyn:

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

My last Respects waited on you under the 12th Instant. On the 13th I received an Answer to the Letter. I therein informed you I had written to Moraba, on the Subject of Passports for the Troops you are sending to Bombay, telling me, that as these Troops are coming on Account of the French, he had sent for Monsieur St. Lubin, in order to dispatch him; after which he says, the sees no Necessity for the Troops continuing their March, or for his granting Dustucks. Although this Letter is no direct Reply to my Request, I could not but consider it as a Refusal; however, to avoid if possible all future Altercation on this Business, I thought it my Duty to write Moraba a Second Letter, desiring he would re-consider the Matter, and again declaring him answerable for any ill Consequences which might ensue from his Resusal; telling him, as the Troops had undoubtedly begun their Match, I had not Authority to countermand them, nor would the Want of Passports stop their Proceedings. To this I received Moraba's Answer on the 16th, referring me to his last.

Finding from Moraba's Answer that there was no Prospect of obtaining Passports from the Durbar, and as the March of our Troops may probably lay through Madjee and Tookajee Holkar's Countries, I embraced the Opportunity of a Person I could trust going to Scindy, to write him a Letter, requesting he would favour me with Orders to his Officers for our Forces having a free Passage through Ugein, as well as their being supplied with a friendly Buzar; and that no Time might be lost in conveying them, I enclosed Scindy a Letter to the commanding Officer of our Troops, which I requested he would forward with the above Orders. I did intend to have made a like Application to Holkar as soon as I could find a proper Channel through which to apply to him, being apprehensive a direct Application might have given Offence to this Durbar; however my Superiors having lately directed me to make immediate Application both to Scindy and Holcar for Passports, I wrote the latter under the 24th Instant, and am in hourly Expectation of receiving Answers from each: It being uncertain which Route our Troops will take, whether by the Road of Ugein, Indoor, or through the Toll Bhopall Country, which lays upon the Nuibedah to the Eastward of the Two former, and is the Road our Pattamars generally take; to provide therefore as much as possible for our Troops having an unmolested March, I have written a Letter to the Nabob of that Place, which I prevailed on his Vackeel here to forward with one from himself, requesting, in case they take that Route, he will grant them a free Passage, and afford them every Assistance in his Power; which the Vackeel assures me, he makes no doubt his Master will readily comply with.

On the 13th Monficur St. Lubin went to Camp, and the next Day had a Meeting with Moraba, who then told him, that as the English had taken amis his staying here so long, it was necessary he should go away for a Time; but that he might depend this should not occasion any Difference in the Friendship between the French and this Government. On the 17th in the Afternoon, Morabah, Buchabah, Chintoo Wittul, and Crustrow Belol, paid Monsieur St. Lubin a Visit at his Tent; and after flaying with him about Half an Hour returned to Morabah's Tent, whither Monfieur St. Lubin followed them shortly after, and stand with them some Hours. Morabah then made him a Present, and dispatched him. On the 20th Nanah came down from the Fort, where he has refided some Time pall, to pay a Visit to Sacarum Bapoo at Bury, when they fent for Monsieur St. Lubin, in order to take Leave; and he accordingly waited on them: Notwithstanding these Appearances of Monsieur St. Lubin being dispatched, it is beyond a Doubt with me, that he has no real Intentions of leaving Poona, or at least if he does, that he will speedily return; and that the Durbar are in Hopes, by publickly dispatching him, to lull us into a Belief of their good Intentions, whilst they have Recourse to the French for Assistance, a Poor for which has already been opened by Monsieur St. Lubin's Negociations with Nanah, and which have been lately taken up by Morabah, as your Honour, &c. will please to observe by the enclosed Copy and Translate of a Letter I have received from a Person at Camp, who, from the Knowledge I have of him, I do not think would deceive me: The Intelligence contained in this Letter of Morabah's Transactions with Monsieur St. Lubin, has been fince confirmed by Two Persons, whose Employs in the Government Service are such as to afford them frequent Opportunities of knowing what paffes.

Conformable to my Superiors Orders I shall deliver a Remonstrance to the Durbar on the Subject of the French, and make a Demand for the immediate Compliance of the Treaty of Proondur, as soon as they can be properly translated into the Maratta Language. I have already acquainted you, Gentlemen, that I am assured the French have not got a Grant for the Port of Choul; but by the Report of Mr. Lewis's Proceedings at Camp, forwarded in my Address of the 12th, it appears, that Crustrow Belol confessed before him at the Durbar, a Promise thereof had been made Monsieur St. Lubin; and I am convinced the French will not only get that, but much more, the Moment the French can assord the promised Assistance. Although I have latherto failed in my Endeavours to obtain a Copy of the Engagements entered into Letween Nanah Furnese and Monsieur St. Lubin, Rep. VI.

Nº 65 and 66. PENDIX.

I have lately been fortunate enough to procure the enclosed Copies of some Letters written by the latter to the Viceroy of Goa and the Governor of Damaun, which prove, that he had made forme Agreements of the Kind. I am not acquainted with any Steps having been taken by the Durbar for the carrying this Scheme into Execution, excepting Monsieur St. Lubin being permitted to temain here, in direct Violation of the most solemn Assurances to us that he should be sent away, and the present Conduct of the Durbar.

On the 27th I received a Note from a Person at Camp, informing me, that in consequence of the Troops coming from Bengal, and a Report of Hyder's Army marching this Way, the Durbar had determined on fending Chintoo Wittul and Gopal Naique Tumbuckur to meet me, and request 1 would proceed to Bombay. They accordingly visited me Yesterday, and informed me they were sells purposely to request I would accompany the former on the Business the Durbar had already spoken to me about. I replied, that I did not see any Necessity for my going, unless the Durbar would explain themselves, which was now become the more necessary from the evalive Manner they had hitherto acted in this Affair. To this they gave me the same Answer the Durbar had before done that it was to affure Ragoba they were his fincere Friends. I immediately replied, that I confidered their present Request as a mere Finesse, intended only to stop the March of the Troops we expected from Bengal, and to gain Time; for had they been fincere, the Durbar would long fince have will patched me on this Business, and sent Monsseur St. Lubin away, but that I was convinced, from the extraordinary Attention Morabah and the Durbar had paid him, the former had taken up Nanah's Plan, and entered into some Engagements with the French. This they positively denied, though they acknowledged Monsieur St. Lubin had made a Tender thereof to Morabah, who told him, that as long as this Government continued in Friendship with the English they would not enter into an Alliance with any other European Nation, and that Morabah had absolutely dispatched him. I told them, that I considered his being publicly dispatched as done with a View to blind us, and perhaps some others; but that I was possessed of what I deemed a sufficient Proof of my Allegation, producing the enclosed Copy of a Letter written by Monsieur St. Lubin to the Viceroy of Goa, under the 26th April, which I had a few Hours before luckily procured. They answered, it was very possible Monsieur St. Lubin might have written in that Manner; but they said, they defied me to produce any Writing from the Durbar: Upon which I observed, that it was the Art of this Durbar not to give any thing under their Hands, that they might have an Opportunity of denying their own Words. It was therefore for this Reason, before I would give Credit to Monsieur St. Lubin being finally dispatched, or my Promise to accompany Chintoo Wittul to Bombay, that I insisted on the Durbar giving me a Writing, with their Sicca affixed, declaring they had not at prefent, nor would in future have, so long as they continued in Friendship with the English, any Treaty with the French. nor suffer them to trade in any of the Maratta Ports, being exactly conformable to the Promises made me by Sacaram Bapoo when I was dispatched by the Durbar to Bombay in August last: This they promifed to deliver me, together with a Letter for the President, accounting for my being detained so long here; and requested I would send the Linguist with Tumbuckur to Camp to bring them. The Linguist accordingly set off this Morning; and if he returns in Time with the above Paper, I shall accompany Chintoo Wittul, who leaves Poona To-morrow, otherwise will follow him as soon as I receive the Paper.

From the Information contained in the Letter from Camp, mentioned in the foregoing Paragraph, it appears to me that this sudden Embassy has been set on foot in consequence of Hyder's Army advancing this Way fince Hurry Punt's Retreat, and our Forces coming from Bengal, by which they judge we are determined to be no longer trifled with, and that they are in Hopes thereby to amule us until the Rains set in, which will cause a Delay of Four or Five Months, by which Time, if ever, they suppose Monsieur St. Lubin can perform his Promites. That the Durbar have already shewn their Willingness to enter into Engagements with the French, highly prejudicial to our Honourable Employers Interest, all Accounts I have received agree; and though I do not imagine it will be m Monsieur St. Lubin's Power to comply fully with his Engagements, yet it is possible the French may be able to bring such a Force as to give them the superior Influence in this Durbar, the dangerous Consequences of which are too plain to need my pointing out.

Madjee Scindy is come from Rimutpore to Javer, a Village within Eight Coss of Proondur. You will already have perceived, Gentlemen, from Mr. Lewis's Report, that Holkar had been very urgent with Morabah to keep his Engagement for bringing Ragoba into Government; he still continues pressing Morabah on this Subject, in which, from the best Information I can procure, Scindy heartily concurs; and it appears to me that these Two Maratta Officers are by no Means satisfied with the present Conduct of the Durbar. Hurry Punt has been for some Time past near Pundapore.

Since writing the above I have received a Letter from Madjee Scindy, informing me that he has forwarded my Letter to the commanding Officer of our Troops, with an Order to his own Officers for their free Passage through his Country, and that he had forwarded another to me by one of his own Hircarrahs; the latter however is not yet come to Hand.

Translate of a Letter from a Person at Proondur; dated the 21st Rabellacor, and received the 19th
May 1778.

At Noon I received your Note by Shahjee, and observed the Contents thereof. Morabah has had Two Councils regarding the French. He sold Monsieur St. Lubin, that he had made an Agreement with Nanah to being 2000 Europeans within Fifteen Months, which he has not yet complied with; but that if it is in his Power to fulfil that Engagement, Morabah desired he would send for them with Ammunition, so as to be here before the Battalions can arrive from Calcutta; which Monsieur St. Lubin has agreed to, and dispatched a Letter express to his Place.

The Contents of the Letter wrote by the Durbar to Bengal, are as follows: "Colonel Upton concluded a Treaty between our Two Governments; where then is the Necessity of your fending Troops into my Country? If it is on account of Monsieur St. Lubin remaining here, I have, in Consideration of our Friendship, dispatched him; and you may depend, I never will do any thing that shall injure you. The French brought Goods here to sell, which is the Reassion of their staying so long; but he now intends to go away, and I have accordingly given him Leave: I therefore wish you would recall your Forces, and prevent a Breach in our Friendship. I hope you will pay no Attention to what the Bombay Gentlemen may have alsered written, or shall hereaster write you on this Subject. With respect to Ragoba, I have determined to bring him here; but as Hurry Punt is coming hither with a large Force, it is necessary he should be consulted on it; for should Ragoba be brought without his Concurrence, it will probably create some Disturbances. He will soon be here; and I shall satisfy the Troops that are with him; after which Ragoba shall be sent for. I desire you will write to the Bombay Gentlemen, not to make any Disturbances."

The following is the Contents of a Letter written by this Durbar to Europe: "There is Friendif thip fublifting between our Governments; befides, a Treaty was concluded with the Gentlemen of Bengal, of which you are acquainted, and with which I am complying. Notwithstanding this, the Bengal Gentlemen are sending their Forces in my Country, which will make a Difference in our Friendship. This is not right; I therefore hope you will send positive Orders, both to Bengal and Bombay, on this Subject."

The following is the Contents of a Letter from the Durbar to the Nabob: "The English are fending Forces from Bengal with bad Intentions: Should they make any Disturbances, I shall fend for your Forces; and hope you will assist me with your Army. The English also intend to bring Ragoba by Force, which will cause a Dispute with them; therefore, in Consideration of our Friendship, it is necessary you should attend with your whole Army."

Monsieur St. Lubin is dispatched, and Morabah wants him to go away, in order to hasten the Troops he has promised; but he says, he will remain here, and send a Man with Letters for him. This they are at present considering about.

A true Copy of the Translate.

Minute of Mr. Francis.

It feems to me that the following Paragraph in the Letter from Bombay will require particular Confideration: "In this Place we think it our Duty to request to be informed what Measures you propose to pursue in case their Answer on this Occasion should not prove satisfactory, or their future Conduct should give no Reason for Apprehension; as our being furnished with timely Instructions may be of the utmost Importance;" and I wait to hear the Governor General's Sentiments upon it. There is another Part of the Letter in which I would beg Leave to propose a Paragraph in Reply: "We beg Leave to suggest to you, that if on any future Occasion it should be necessary to supply us with a Reinforcement of Troops, the easiest and best Method would be to send Troops hither directly from Madras, which can be replaced from your Establishment if necessary." On the 2d February I submitted my Opinion to the Board on this Point in the following Words: "Supposing it a Point determined by the Majority, that a Reinforcement of Troops should be sent to Bombay, I think it had better go from the Coast, and if necessary be replaced from hence, than directly from Bengal to Bombay; on this Principle, I yield to the Proposition." On the 23d February, I again urged this Opinion in the following Words: "If a Reinforcement must be sent to Bombay, I beg Leave to repeat my Opinion, that it may be spared with more Safety, and proceed with greater Expedition from Fort Saint George." I would now propose, that we should tell the Presidency of Bombay, that we are convinced of the Propriety of their Opinions in this Particular, and conformably to their Advice, if any future Occasion in the Proposition of the Propriety of their Opinions in this Particular, and conformably to their Advice, if any future Occasion is any future Occasion.

casion should make it indispensably necessary to send them a Reinforcement of Troops, they shall be sent directly from Madras, and not from this Place. I do not mean this Motion to be taken into Consideration now, but defer it till the Answer to the Letter shall be proposed.

onel Leslie, th June. READ the following Letter from Colonel Leslie:

Gentlemen,
In my former Letters I had the Honour to acquaint you, that I deemed the Possession of the Fort of Calpee necessary, both for securing my Communication with the Kora Province, and ensuring the Accomplishments of the Engagements the Maratta Chiefs of these Districts had entered into with me. With this View I solicited the Orders of the Officer commanding the temporary Brigade, that I might employ such Part of the Battalion of Sepoys, commanded by Captain Rawsserne, which was stationed in the Neighbourhood of Toonga, as this Service might require. He accordingly put Captain Rawsserne under my Command, and I have directed that Officer to take post at Kalpee, with such Part of his Battalion as are not required with the Aumil, and to want there my further Orders. I shall detain him there no longer than I may conceive the Possession of the Fort necessary to the Service of the Expedition; and I hope to receive your Concurrence to this Measure.

I am forry to inform you of the Demife of Captain James Crawford, who commanded the 4th Battalion of Sepoys, who expired fuddenly, the 3d Inflant, of a violent Fever. His Character and Abilities as an Officer make him a fevere Lofs to the Service in general, and to this Expedition in particular.

Head Quarters, Jelallpore, 9th June 1778. I have the Honour, &c. &c. (Signed) Matt Leslie.

The Governor General—As it appears from the Postscript of a duplicate Letter received from Mr. Mostyn, that he had "received the Pastport from Madajee Scindia, which should be immaginately forwarded to Colonel Lessie," and as it is possible that Colonel Lessie may chuse the Route of Malva, which appertains to the Jagheers of Madajee Scindia and Tuckajee Holkar, I must beg Leave to move, that possitive Orders be sent to Colonel Lessie, to much through the Province of Berar, and on no Account to take any other Road, unless he shall receive a direct and express Resustant from Moodajee Boosla, the Chief of Berar, to admit the Detachment within his Territories. As that Chief may be more fasely trusted than any other Power, lying between this and the other Side of India, on account of the long and friendly Intercourse which has substituted between his Family and this Government, and the Detachment will continue during a considerable Part of its Progress, within the Reach of our Orders for its Recal in case of Necessity, by its Line of March in that Route inclining to the Borders of Bengal, until it shall have reached the Center of Berar; but if it should have proceeded by the Way of Malva it may be difficult to recall it before it shall have marched too far; this will be better understood by an Inspection of the Map than by Words: As an additional Motive for the Proposition, it is to be observed, that on the first Application to Moodajee Boosla, for Permission to the Army to march through his Country, he not only expressed an instant Compliance, but wook Letters immediately to Colonel Lessie inviting him to come by the Way of his Country, and fent a Pessi erson of Consequence with a Military Escort to the Banks of the Nurbudda, which are the Borders f his Dominions, to receive and conduct the Detachment. With Madajee Scinda this Government as had no Connection, and he has been always repretented as a Partizan of Nana Furnete, which may ender his Offers futpicious, although I have lately received a Letter from him, being the First that he has written to me fince I have been in this Government, containing Protessions and Overtures of Friendship.

Agreed to the Governor General's Motion : And, Refolved, That the following Letter be immediately written to Colonel Leflie.

To Colonel Leflie.

Sir,

By a Letter which we have just received from Mr. Mostyn, we understand that he has procured and transmitted to you a Passport for the Detachment under your Command, to proceed through the Dominions of Madajee Scindia: As it is possible that this Circumstance may have induced you to prefer the Route of Malva to that of Berar, we think it necessary to give you positive Injunctions to bursue your March through the Province of Berar, and by no Means to follow any other Road, unless you shall receive a direct and positive Results from Moodajee Boossa, the Chief of that District, to admit the Troops within his Territories, which, from the long and friendly Intercourse sublifting between us, and from the Intention of Comphiance expressed in Letters from him, we cannot suppose will be the Case.

We are, &c.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 7th July 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Haftings, Governor General, Prefident, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Edward Wheler,

The Board think it proper, before they proceed any further in the Consideration of this Business, to annul the Letter to Colonel Lesse prepared Yesterday and now laid before them for Signature, and to direct him, on the Grounds of the Information now received, to proceed with the Detachment under his Command to Berar, a Country on his Road to Bombay, which is at the fame Time contiguous to Bengal, and convenient for the Return of the Troops, if it should appear expedient to recall them for the Defence of the Provinces. The following Letters are therefore written to Colonel Leflie, and ordered to be dispatched to him this Evening by Express Pattamars.

Extrati of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 9th July 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Edward Wheler, Esquires.

THE Governor General delivers in the following Minute: I state the War with France as a Fact of undoubted Certainty. It is the Part of this Government to confider in what Manner it is likely to affect the British Possessions in India, and to provide accordingly for their Security. This must comprize and limit all our Operations. In the View of this opening Scene, the relative Conditions of the Parties engaged in it will merit our first Attention, and cannot fail to engage it by the striking Contrast which appears between them; and I mention Rep. VI.

APPENDIX.

tron it because I think it an effectial Point in the Consideration of our first and perhaps our first Mealures.

Great as the Power is which the British Nation has acquired in India, compared with that of Rival, its general Line of Action is and must be purely defensive: It can gain, the French is to hing. Even the Capture of Pondicherry, and of the other Possessions of the French, will yield politive Advantage to the English, although it will deprive the French of their Instruments of Atten and thereby effect our own Safety.

From this Point therefore all our Conclusions must originate, and all our Measures be so laid a obviate or to oppose the probable Designs of our Enemies. Their first Attempts will be a great or to oppose the probable Designs of our Enemies.

Bombay or Fort Saint George; Bengal will be their laft, at least their distant Object.

The Presidency of Fort Saint George possesses in itself the complete Means of D. sence: W can add nothing to them but in the Fileds of our political Arrangements: We have already yello it a large Supply of Treasure: It requires no other pictent Aid.

Bombay requires every Thing. Weak in itself and intangled rather than strengthened by its ? lipated Possessions on the Continent, it can only detend itelf against a direct Invasion, and to the is perhaps equal if it has to contend with the French alone; but this is unlikely. The last Adv from Poona contain such Evidence is the Event idelf must soon refute or realize, of an Enga ... actually made by the French Minister there, to bring a large Military Force to Poona, profet . , defigned to act with that Government against Ragoba, who at that Time relided at Bombay under the English Protection.

In effect this is the obvious Policy which the French ought to adopt if they feek to regain the Influence in India, and it is no longer to be doubted that they have adopted it. They have beild, an ancient Claim to the Alliance of Nizam Ally, which belides is enfured by their accidental Umoa in a common Caule, the Defence of the ruling Administration at Poona; of which his Letters to Mr.

Rumbold and the Nabob of Arcot afford an undoubted Proof.

It is then certain that the French mean to establish a firm Interest at Poona. It is probable that they will effect it. The Confequences may be the Attack of Bombay, or without it the Re-union c. the vast Powers of the Maratta State under its prefent Government, strengthened by so formidable as Alliance and a prædatory War, brought by their united Forces into the Dominions of our Ally the Nabeb of Owde, or even into the Heart of our own.

To guard against fuch Consequences ought, in my Opinion, to be our first Object, both see the immediate Defence of Bombay, and the future Security of Bengal. We cannot fend Success. directly to Bombay. If Bombay should be attacked by the French, unsupported by a Marata Alliance, I have already faid, that I hope its prefent Force is equal to its Defence; but it it flows. be attacked, or in certain Danger of being attacked by the French and Marattas in Alliance, an C tensive War must be undertaken in Desence of Bombay.

The Detachment under Colonel Lessie may be employed in this Service. It can be spared with out Danger to Bengal, which is fecure from a present Invasion, and can soon be replaced; but it confills of a Force too inconfiderable to engage lingly in fuch a Contest, unless it can be affished by an Ally equal in Power, or to nearly equal to that of the Pethiwa, as to give our united Strenger a Degree of Superiority over the Combination to which it would be opposed; the Undertaking wild is be too hazardous. Moodajee Boofla, the Chief of Bear, answers to this Description. His Fismily has always borne a confiderable Rank among the Powers of India. The Father, Pagego subjected the Provinces of Bengal to the Chout, under the Government of the most able the that ever ruled them. His elder Brother, Jannoagee, attacked and burnt the City of Peona, at a Time when the Power of the Peshwa far exceeded its present State, and the Maratta Constitute excepting Berar, was undivided. His Dominions extend from the Sea Coast of Oriffa, and from the Western Borders of Bengal to the Neighbourhood of Aurengabad. His Revenue, though not proportionate to their Magnitude, is confiderable; and his flanding Forces are numerous, exclusive of the Militia, which in all the Maratia States is always ready to join their regular Armics when they take the Field. While the Contest prevailed between Ragonaut Row and the Minister ! Party, Moodajce fided with the former; his Brother with the latter. This Conduct drew on him the Refentment of the Munflers, who, as foon as they were freed by the Interpolition of this Go vernment from the Dread of their great Competitor, encouraged and supported the Nabob Nizma Ally Cawn in an Invalion of his Country, which at that Time had not yet recovered from the Dif tractions occasioned by the Contention between the Two Brothers. On this Occasion he was glad to purchate a Peace of Nizam Ally Cawn, with the Lofs of fome Forts of Confequence, the Remembrance of which he still retains, with a Determination to avail himself of the first Opportunity to is claim them.

As the Provinces which are now united under the Government of Berar, are a conflictational Part of the Maratta Empire, a natural Emmity must ever fublish between those who possess the Sovereign Authority, and the Rulers of Berar; the former looking to the Recovery of their unalienable Rights, the latter jealous of their Independency: Thus Moodajee may be confidered as the certain Enemy of the Peshwa into whatever Hands the sluctuating State of the Parties at Poona may throw his Admisnistration; but a late Event has given Moodajee Pretensions to a Rank even more clevated than that of the Peshwa. I need not inform this Board that the Power which the Peshwa's have possessed for about Forty Years path, is an Uturpation on the Sovereign Authority veiled by the Constitution in the Rajah; Raja Saboo, the last who retained it, having no Children, adopted Moodajce Boossa, and as

am informed, designed him for his Successor; but Ballajee the Peshwa, or Prime Minister, had the Art to deprive Moodajee of the Benefit of the intention, and to transfer the Inheritance to Ram Raja, who was also an adopted Son of Raja Saboo, and an Infant at his Death. Ragoogee, the Father of Moodajee, inflantly marched to Poona with a formidable Army, and by a Negociation of a Day obtained, for a Surrender of his Son's actual Pretentions, a large Accession of Territory, and other Advantages, still referving a future Claim to the Rajaship, and refusing to commit himself by any formal Deed in an Acknowledgment of the Title of Ram Raja. From that Time the Grandeur of his Family may be dated. Ragojee continued to authenticate all his public Acts by the Name of Saboo Raja, and on the Seals which have been affixed to all the Letters which I have received from Shabajee Boosla, and even since his Death from his Brother Moodajee, they are stilled the Vass of Saboo Rajah. I know not with Certainty what are Moodajee's present Views. Ram Raja died in December laft, and the Succession is either still vacant, or but lately silled; Moodajee's Rights are still in Force, and unquestionably superior to any other.

I must suspend the Thread of this Narrative to relate a Transaction which beings it nearer to the Concerns of this Government. An Alliance with the Boofla Family has been long its Object, and confiderable Advances were made to the Attainment of it in the Administration or Lord Clive. In the latter End of the Year 1773 Shabajee Boofla fent a Vackeel to me with Letters, containing general Professions of Attachment, but expressed with such Warmth as induced me to aim at a formal Connection with him. Finding the Vackeel an intelligent Man, I sent him back summed with a Plan for that Purpose. Unfortunately, Shabajee fell by the Hands of his Brother a little before the Vackeel's Return, and the Negociation dropped; but Moodajee himself from after adopting his Brother's Line, again deputed the fame Vackeel to Calcutta; but many Caufes, which it i on sociffary to enumerate, prevented me from improving the Disposition of this Chief. A conflict latercourfe of Letters, and in fome Degree confidential, has been kept up between u. On a false Rumour of the Death of Ramrajs, forefeeing the Use which might be made of this new Diversion to the Maratti Policy, I employed the Agency of the Vackeel to excite the Ambition of Mood get to afpire to the fovereign Authority; which fuch an Event, then probable at Kafl, from the infir in State of the Raja, and the Diffractions at Poona, feemed to prefent to him, and I intimated the fine Advice in a Letter which I wrote at the fame Time to Dewangur Pundit, the Minister of Mose bee Boofla, and the Man whose Counsels have long guided the Assaurs of that Government. While these Letters were on their Way the Raja died. No Antwers were given, for the Purport required none; but every Letter fince received from Moodajee and his Dewan has repeatedly and urgently prefled the Difmission of the Vackeel, for the Purpose, as expressed, of communicating with him on some Affairs of the greatest Importance. The Vackeel is at this Time with Colonel Leslie

From these Facts, it will appear that Moodajee Boosla is by Interest and Inclination likely to join in an Alliance with this Government, and that Two Advantages may be offered to him as the Inducements to it. The First is the Support of his Pretensions to the sovereign Power, the Second, the Recovery of the Captures made on his Dominions by Nizam Ally. On our Parts, we shall possess a powerful Barrier on our Frontier, an Alliance which may counterbalance, and if properly employed, may totally overthrow the present Power of the Maratta State, and give us a lasting Ascendant in its Operations, and for ever dissipate all the Designs which the French have at this Time to wifely and hitherto fuccessfully concerted for their Aggrandizement and our Destruction. A more fortunate Concurrence of Circumstances could scarcely have been conceived than those which appear of theinfelves to draw the Two States of Berar and Bengal into a decided and lafting Union by the powerful Bonds of common Interest and common Danger. The Poona Government is the natural Enemy of Moodajee. It is ours by their Connection with our natural and declared Enemy the French. Nizam Ally for the same Reason is the decided Adversary of both; and the Contiguity of our respective Territories in the wildest and least valuable Parts of both, and of course the least subject to Competition and Incroachment, renders their Union important and essential to the Strength of both.

On these Grounds I recommend that a Company's Civil Servant be immediately deputed to Moodajee Boofla with full Powers to form a Treaty of Alliance between that Chief and the Company on the Terms herein above flated. These may be hereafter detailed in his Instructions.

The Governor General—It was my Intention, had the Time permitted it, to have extended the above Minute into other Details, immediately required for the internal Defence of these Provinces. I can now only state those which are most urgent in short Propositions. The Reasons, if recessary, may be given feparately.

First, I propose that Three additional Battalions of Sepoys be immediately formed upon the Plan recommended by General Subbert.

Secondly, That Raja Cheyt Sing be required in Form to contribute his Share of the Burthen of the present War, by consenting to the Establishment of Three regular Battalions of Sepoys, to be raifed and muntained at his Expence.

Thirdly, That the Militia Corps be re-established for the Defence of the City of Calcutta; and for this Purpose, if it shall be found necessary bereafter, I would further recommend, that the Conmissioner of Law Suite, with the Assistance of the Company's Attorney and Standing Council, be instructed to prepare a Pill for its legal Incorporation.

Fourthly, That the Mafter Attendant be directed to confult foure of the most able Seamen of this Port upon the Means of forming such an Addition to our Marine Establishment as may be most effectual for the Communication of immediate Intelligence of the Approach of an Everny's Fleet or Engle Ships of War, and for cutting away the Buoys, and ufing fuch other Precautions as may be necessary to puaroing this Port and its Commerce against the Eslects of a Surprize.

Fitthly, That the Openion of the Chief Engineer be also taken with respect to the other Means, which may be reced by to prevent or impede the Progress of an Enemy by the Entrance of the

Sixthly, That the Commander in Chief be requested to furnish the Board with such a general Plan of Desence as he wall juege necessary, in Addition to the present Disposition of our Army, and in the Supposition to take Detachment now employed under Colonel Leslie may not return for a Length of Time 1010 the Provinces; and to attend the Board with it when prepared.

Seventily, The Propositions with which I shall now conclude I offer with much Dissidence and Hefitation: it is a blea the constant Subject of my Thoughts since our last Meeting; and thought now incline to recon mend it, I fee the Objections to it in a ftrong Light, as added perhaps to the which may be fregetled by other Members of the Board may induce me to change it; but I will briefly flate it. The War having been notified to us, though not by Authority, yet confirmed le Evidence of such Strength as to amount to a Degree of Certainty next to absolute, shall we proceed upon it as upon the Grounds of a War declared and notified in all its Forms? or shall we wait the Confirmation of it, which it is probable we may not receive for this Month or Six Weeks yet in come? The Confequence of our Determination on this Question, if in the Affirmative, will be in. flantly to detach a Military Force to guard the Approaches of Chandernagore, to demand the Sur. render of that Town, and to appoint Commissacies to take Possission of the public Stores, Shippin, and private Effects of the Inhabitants. This combined Question I propose for the Determination of the Board.

The First Question being considered is agreed to. Ordered, That the Secretary to the Militor Department do prepare and lay before the Board an Estimate of the Expence of the above Augmentation, and of that which will arise from the Increase of Men to the present Establishment lately ordered in the Military Department.

The Second Queflion confidered.

Mr. Francis-On the Supposition that the Detachment now employed under Colorel Lessie will not return for a Length of Time into the Provinces, I acquiefce in the Proposal relative to R a Cheyt Sing; but I think he should be informed, that this additional Charge will not be imposed in him beyond the Continuance of the prefent War.

The Governor General-The Qualification proposed by Mr. Francis, is conforant to my Intent in the Question, and is implied in it; I should have no Objection to its being expicted in an advational Claufe: That our Refolution upon this Subject may be unanimous, I agreed to add to to Question the following Words, "and to be disbanded at the End of the War;" but perceiving the the Difference in our Opinions upon the Subject airles not from a Disagreement respecting the Requisition simply considered by itself, but from a different Understanding of the Right of the Company, to exact under any Pressure of Assairs more than the Sum stipulated by the Sunnud granted to Cheyt Sing, and the Pubbooleat given by him in Return, I must adhere to the Question as it sland, wishing to avoid the Question of Right; if however we cannot agree upon this Point, still I would wish to have the Requisition made in the Words of the Question, and leave the Decision of suture Right to our Superiors.

Wir. Wheler-Wishing to avoid the Question of Right, I acquiesce in the Motion; but I think it should be qualified in the Manner proposed by Mr. Francis.

Mr. Barwell—An Acquisition of Revenue and Military Force I suppose to have been annexed to the Grant of the Zemindarry of Benarcs and Gauzipore to the Company; any Military Establishment, independant of the English Administration, in the Heart of the Company's Dominions, may, in the Time of Danger, be turned against those Interests which under another Policy it would prote a I have long regarded the Military Establishment of Benares under the Rajah's native Officers, and not subject to the Discipline, Command, and Regulation, of our own Battalions, as a Defect: I therefore most heartily agree to the present Proposal for Three disciplined Battalions to be kept up, and paid by, the Rajah; and fincerely hope the Company will direct, that the whole Force of Berand and Gauzipore under the Zemindar be placed upon the fame Footing as the regular Military l'orce of the Prefidency.

The Governor General-I agree to the Question in the original Terms of it, deeming it a Rieli inherent in every Government to impose such Assessments as it judges extended for the common Secvice and Protection of all its Subjects, and we are not precluded from it is any Agreement sublishing between the Raja and this Government.

Refolved, That Raja Cheyt Sing be required in Form to contribute his Share of the Burthen of the prefent War, by the Establishment of Three regular Battalions of Sepoys, to be railed and many tained at his Expence; and the Governor General is requested to write to him to that Effect.

The Board agree to the Third Quellion.

To the Fourth agreed. Orders are accordingly issued by the Secretary. Agreed to the Fifth. Agreed to the Fifth.

To the Sixth agreed.

ENDIX, A P PNº 60.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 11th July 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Besquires. Edward Wheler,

M. Francis-In Addition to the Resolutions already taken, and in Reply to the Governor General's Motion introduced Yesterday, I shall state my Opinion of the farther Measures which we ought to pursue in the present Juncture, as briefly and as clearly as possible; declaring at the same Time that I do not mean either to support my own Opinion, or to oppose that of any other Member, by a Controversy, which at this I ime can have no good Effect.

1st. I am unalterably of Opinion that the Detachment under Colonel Leslie should be immediately recalled within the Provinces, because I think that the Security of Bengal is the first and most effential of all Objects to this Government: As such the Company have invariably considered it. I will quote one Passage, out of a Multitude that might be found in the Letters from the Court of Directors, to shew how strongly they have inculcated this Object, and made it the Basis of their whole political System in India. In a Letter to Fort Saint George, dated the 17th March 1769, they say, "The Preservation of our present Instuence in the Bengal Provinces is the great "Object of our Attention. All political Connections in the rest of India are only important as they " may affect us there.

" Every Accession of Influence or Possession elsewhere, which by dividing our Troops may prevent " the Exertion of our whole Force, in case we should be attacked in that Quarter, is hazarding a " Substance for a Shadow."

Admitting a Supposition, that the first Attempts of the French may be made in another Part of India, which can only be Matter of Conjecture, still I think we are bound, by every Rule of Policy and Prudence, to make our principal Preparations of Defence in that Quarter where our most esfential Interests are at stake. Considering the extensive Frontier we have now to guard, I cannot think that Bengal is in a State of Defence, much less of Security, while the Force under Colonel Leslie is engaged in any distant Operations.

2d. I think the Presidency of Bombay should be directed to make some Concessions to the Ministerial Party at Poona, and to endeavour to come to an Accommodation with them as foon as possible. If we were to relinquish every one of the Points which have been in Dispute between us fince the Conclusion of the Treaty, we should neither give up any Thing that originally belonged to us, nor indeed any Thing that is worth our keeping. Territorial Acquisitions on that Side of India, are inconsistent with the Company's true Interest, and no less contrary to their avowed fundamental Policy. When we see that even their favourite Acquisition of Salsette is attended with an Annual Loss of 1,40,849 Rupees; that is, that the Expences of maintaining the different Establishments there exceed the Revenues of the Island by so great a Sum; we ought, I think, to be deterred by this decisive Experiment from wishing to gain more in that Part of India, or even to keep a great Part of what we have gained.

By pursuing even now a Plan of Moderation with the Marattas, we shall probably take the most effectual Courle for defeating the Designs of the French, and inducing the Marattas to relinquish any Engagements they may have formed with them. To introduce a European Army, either French or English, into their Country, can never be a Measure of Choice with the Poona Government, much less can they be urged by any thing but Necessity to make their Country the Seat of War.

At the same Time that we send these Instructions to Bombay, I think that at all Events it might be advisable to fend them a Reinforcement of Two or Three Battalions of Sepoys, but they should go from Madras, and be replaced from hence if necessary. The whole Force of Bombay, in my Opinion, should be employed upon a defensive Plan only, to which with the above Reinforcement it will be adequate; that is, to the Defence of Bombay, Salsette, and the Islands and Poss immediately adjacent; for as to the Acquisitions of Territory made by the late Treaty, in the supposed Case of their being attacked by the united Force of the French and of the Marattas, I would not think of defending them. For this Opinion I cannot assign a stronger Reason than that with which the Governor's Minute furnishes me; viz. that "Bombay is weak in itself, and entangled rather than " strengthened by its dissipated Possessions on the Continent, and that it can only defend itself against " a direct Invasion."

3d. If by undertaking an offensive War in Defence of Bombayit be meant to continue the March of Colonel Leslie's Detachment from our Frontier to Poona, I am entirely against it. I need not REP. VI. 3 C repeat repeat the Reaf ns I have so often urged for this Opinion, but I will state one which has not yet been mentioned: Admitting that the French may have intended to begin their Operations on the Malaba Coast, it is not unlikely that, when they shall have heard of our having stripped Bengal of so considerable a Part of its Defence, they may suddenly turn their Views this Way: At all Events I do formal mithout Danger to Bengal not think that Detachment can be spared without Danger to Bengal.

If a Treaty of Peace and Alliance can be formed with Moodajce Boofla, on the ufual Terms, a having the fame Friends and the fame Enemies (which we may interpret and use hereafter as we think fit) fome Advantage may be made of it; but I cannot think that his Friendship, or that of any Mit ratta Chief, is worth purchasing at the Expence of such Engagements as are proposed to be office to him; viz. "to support his Pretensions to this sovereign Power of the Maiatta State, and the Recovery of the Captures made on his Dominions by Nizam Ally." I know not whither such Engagements may lead the Company's Arms, or how long they may implicate us in the political Contests of the Country Powers. Our general Line of Action is and must be purely detensive: The Instructions we have given to the Presidency of Fort Saint George to cultivate the Friendship of Hyder Ally are formed on this Principle, and it makes Part of the Company's fundamental Policy, repeatedly inculcated in their Instructions to their Servants, to avoid becoming Parties in any Disputes between the Powers of India. On One particular Occasion they have gone so far as to say, that this Rage for Negociations, Treaties, and Alliances, has private Advantage more for its Obstantial Powers.

(Signed) P. F.

The Governor General-I should be very unwilling to answer the above Minute under the painful Impression which it has laid upon my Mind, and indeed I hope it will be altogether unnecessary, as it confifts (excepting one diffinct Proposition) of Points of mere Controverly, upon which every thing has already been faid that can be faid on both Sides of the Question; and it is yet my fincere and anxious Hope, that whatever Differences of Opinion may subsist on Subjects long agitated, or which may not respect the new State of our Assairs, our Resolutions respecting every Measure for the Defence of the national Possessions in India may be unanimous, and our Measures posses that Degree of Vigour and Confishency, which they can only derive from a cordial, a temperate, and a confidential Communication of Opinions. One fingle Observation I shall make upon Mr. Francis's Minute, because it applies to the essential Part of his Objections; namely, That the Measure which I have proposed is formed on Grounds purely defensive: Though it should lead to offensive Operations, its Objects are the immediate Preservation of Bengal, and the Protection of these the most valuable Parts of the British Possessions in India from an Invasion not very distant, if we confine all our Operations within the Boundaries of our Dominions and of our Ally the Nabob of Owde. There is One Proposition contained in Mr. Francis's Minute which will merit the Consideration of the Board; and although I fear that it is too late, fince the Engagements between the Administration at Poona and the French Minister have been carried to too great Lengths to admit of their retracting on either Side, it may yet be given in Instruction to the Presidency of Bombay, but it ought not to be the Motive for a Suspension of any single Measure which will be necessary for the Support of the general Interests of the Company committed to our Charge, on the Supposition that these Engagements have already taken place. I beg Leave to add One more Observation, suggested by Mr. Francis's Minute, and encouraged by the candid Declaration with which it is introduced. It is undoubtedly the Duty of every Member of this Board to contribute his Sentiments on all Affairs, but more especially on fuch as those at present under our Consideration; but I presume to offer it as my Opinion, that it is equally the Duty of every Member of the Board to afford his utmost Assistance to the Execution and Success of every Measure that has ever been adopted, although originally passed against his Judgment, and to prosecute it with the same Ardour as if it had received his primary Concurrence I hope it is needless to pursue this Subject: I will leave Mr. Francis the Advantage of an undisputed Ground in the many Objections forcibly stated in his Minute, rather than contribute to disturb the Temper of our Councils by a Debate which can produce no good Effect but that of perional Vindi-

Now give me Leave to recall the Attention of the Board to the Subject regularly before it. The Question in brief is, Shall Negociations be undertaken for a Treaty of Alliance with the Rajah of Berar? An Affirmative or Negative is all that is now necessary. The Conditions of this Alliance will be the proper Subject of a future Debate, and will be contained in the Instructions to be given to the Person who will be employed in the Commission for conducting the Negociation. I shall prepare them without Delay.

Mr. Wheler—I think it absolutely necessary, before I give my Affirmative or Negative, that I should know the Extent and Nature of the Treaty, which the Governor General proposes to form with the Rajah of Berar, and I am the more desirous of an Explanation on this Head from the Question being now stripped of that Introduction which preceded it in the Governor's former Motion, and which I fear I cannot affent to.

Mr. Francis—I agree with Mr. Wheler.

Mr. Barwell-I agree to the Proposition. When the Objects of the Treaty come under Consider deration,

P P E N D I X, Nº 69, 70.

deration, I shall give my Affirmative only to such Points as may be advantageous and useful to this Government.

Resolved, that Negociations be undertaken for a Treaty of Alliance with Moodajee Boosla, the Rajah of Berar.

The Governor General—I beg Leave to recommend Mr. Alexander Kynynnround Elliott to be employed on this Commission. Independently of the personal Considence of which from long Experience I think him worthy, I have made choice of Mr. Elliott for this Service, on account of his intimate Knowledge of the political State of this Government, in relation to the other Powers of the Country; having given him, under the prescribed Oath of Secrecy, an early and continued Access to the Official Records of this Department, and employed him in an especial Manner in all my Communications with the Government of Berar, fince his Return to Bengal. I flatter myself that his general Abilities, and the Qualifications which he possesses for a Trust of this Kind, will not need my Recommendation of him to the Members of this Board.

Refolved, that Mr. Elliott be accordingly appointed the Minister and public Agent of this Government at the Court of Moodajce Boolla, Rajah of Berar, for the Purpose of negociating a Treaty of Alliance with that Chief.

D I Χ,

Bengal Secret Confultations, the 18th July 1778.

. THE Governor General lays before the Board Instructions for Mr. Elliott, which are as follow;

Copy of Instructions to Mr. Alexander K. Elliott.

We hereby appoint you our Agent and Minister, and invest you with full Powers to negociate and to conclude a Treaty with Moodajee Boosla, the Rajah of Berar, or the Rajah for the Time being; and that you may be completely enabled to accomplish our Intentions in this Commission, we give you the following Instructions, leaving it to your Discretion to effect them in any Mode which your Judgment, formed on the actual State of that Government, and the Intelligence which you shall receive concerning the neighbouring States, and from the Presidency of Bombay, shall suggest; and to agree to fuch other Conditions as are not expressed in these Instructions, but shall be conformable to their general Tenor, or not contrary to them; and you are to observe this Distinction in the Articles of Agreement which you shall conclude with the Rajah of Berar; viz. That although all are to be, and we hereby declare that they shall be, immediately binding on this Government, and on every other of the Company's Prefidencies, yet such as are in their Nature permanent must be referred to us for their Confirmation; but fuch as are intended for prefent or temporary Purpofes, are to be carried into Execution without waiting for our Sanction, and shall be equally binding as if they had received our specific Ratification.

First, It is our first Defire to establish a perpetual Alliance with the Government of Berar on the Terms of mutual Defence: To accomplish such a Connection, it must be constituted on Principles of mutual Interest and mutual Confidence; these Principles you must make the Ground-work of your Negociation in every Part and Stage of it, taking especial Care that the Demand for our Affishance, and its Duration, shall be optional in the Ruler of Berar; that it may be instantly yielded, and that the Provision made for it be so guarded as to preclude the Dependants of this Government, to whose Conduct the Execution of this Part of the Treaty may be committed, from acquiring an undue Influence, or exercifing any Kind of Authority in the Countries belonging to our Ally.

On the Principles thus premised the following Stipulations may be formed:
11. That there shall be a perpetual Alliance of Friendship between the English East India Company and the Rajah of Berar and his Successors, each Party solemnly engaging to regard the Friends of the one as the Friends of the other, and the Enemies of the one as the Enemies of the other; and that this Condition shall subsist independantly of all others in this Treaty:

2d. That a certain Force, consisting of Battalions of Sepoys, to which may be added a Corps of Native Artillery, be flationed in some convenient Place within our own Frontier, and in the Neighbourhood of his, to be always ready for instant Motion on a Requisition in Writing from him, and for any Military Service which he may prescribe within the Line of his Dominions, but not to pass beyond it.

That for the Maintenance of this Corps a Monthly Subfidy be fixed, equal to their probable Expence; that is to fay, for each Battalion of Sepoys in Quarters 10,000 Rupees per Month, and in the Field 13,000 Rupees; and for a Company of native Attillery in Quarters 4,000 Rupees, in the Field 5,000 Rupees; that fuch regular and affured Funds shall be affigned for the Subsidy 13 may prevent future Ditagreements on this Subject, and not leave it in his Power to withhold it.

That each Party shall be at Liberty to cancel this Engagement whenever it shall be judged inconvenient to their respective Interests, or incompatible with their Means, or to propose a Reduction of the Ferce, but not of the proportionate Rate of Subsidy for the Remainder, giving One Year's previous Notice.

3dly. That if at any Time it shall be necessary to require the Assistance of a Body of Cavalry for the Defence of Bengal, the Raja shall engage to assort the same within Two Months after the Requisition made to him for any Force not exceeding 10,000 Florie of the fixed Establishment of his Sircar; their Pay, Discipline, and internal Command to remain subject to their own Oslicers, but the general Command subject to the Oslicer commanding the English Forces acting in junction with them; their Pay to be defrayed by the Company at a stipulated Rate for each Rank, from the Day on which they shall enter the Borders of Bengal, until the Time requisite for their Departure from the same, estimated by daily Marches of Five Cost from the Day of their Dissission. In the Clause respecting this Article, Care must be taken to distinguish the Cavalry of the Regular and passes excluded from composing any Part of the slipulated Aid; their Occupation, and all their Operation, consisting solely in Plunder. Although this Article is proposed to complete the System of reciprocal Defence, yet if the Raja shall object to it, we do not regard it as an indispensable Clause, but you may make a Merit of receding from our Claim to it.

Such are our Ideas of the general Limitations which should be prescribed for a desensive Alliance, and we direct you to make them the Subject of your First Propositions, allowing you to change of qualify, or add to them, in any Manner which in the Course of your Negociation you shall judge fitting; provided such Alterations be shriftly consonant to the Principles which we have dictated at effectial to it.

When you shall have mutually agreed on the Plan of proposed Treaty, you must transmit it to us for our Confirmation or Correction, according to the Diffinction which we have laid down in the introductory Part of these Instructions.

Second. But as it may be necessary to enter upon an immediate Train of active and offensive Operations with the Assistance of Moodajee Boosla, if it can be obtained, we shall proceed to give you such Instructions as may be proper for that Essect; first explaining the Object of our Views, and stating the Grounds of our Expectations from Moodajee Boosla.

By confecutive Intelligence received from the Prefidency of Bombay, and from their Minister at the Court of Poona, it appears that the Chevalier St. Lubin, an Agent deputed from the Court of France, has entered into an Engagement with the ruling Members of the Maratta State, to bring a large European Force, and a Proportion of Military Stores to Poona, to be employed in their Service, or, as we may conclude, in promoting the reciprocal Advantages of the French and Maratta Nations.

War having been lately declared between Great Britain and France, it is not to be doubted, that the Presidency of Bombay will feel the first Essects of this Combination; the Capture of that Place by the French, and the Recovery of the Island of Salfette, and the Diffricts possessed by the Government of Bombay on the Continent, rendering fuch an Enterprize equally effectual to the Interests and Views of both. We conceive also, that although such may be their immediate Defign, and we are warned by the Court of Directors to expect, that the first Attempt of the French will be on Bombay, yet we believe, that the Principle of their Union looks to Defigns of much greater Confequence, though yet remote, and may affect the Peace and Safety of these Provinces. An early Apprehention of these Effects induced us to authorize the President and Council of Bombay to carry into Execution a Plan which was proposed to them in the Month of December last, by a Party formed among the Principal Members of the Maratta Government, to exclude Nana Furnels from the Chief Authority which he then possessed, and to restore Ragonaut Row to the Place which he formerly held in the Administration: And for the fame Purpose, the Detachment under Colonel Lesse, which is now on its March towards Berar, was formed. The Design failed: A Change was effected by Means in which neither the Prefidency of Bombay nor Ragonaut Row had any Share. Nana Furness was diverted of Authority; but was foon afterwards re-admitted into the Administration, which has fince confifted of Saccaram Babboo, Moraba Furness, and Nanah Furness. These Ministers appear to have been all united in the Resolution of opposing the Pretentions of Ragionaut Row. He has now no Party left among the Marattas with whole Aid he could venture to after them; nor under any Circumstances could that Prefidency now afford him their Affiftance, without departing from the immediate Care of their own Safety. Thus deprived of the Refource on which we depended in the Partizans of Ragonaut Row, deeming it indispensably necessary to prevent, or to counteract the Designs which may have bee. projected by the Ministers and the French in their Alliance, and too hazardous to allow the Detachment to proceed on its first Dellination without the Support of a Powerful Alliance; we are therefore defirous of joining our Forces and our Interests with those of Moodajee Boosla, for effecting that Purpose, or others more conducive to the Ends of it.

Our Reatons for giving this Preference to Moodaje Boofla, and our Expectations of finding him well disposed to enter heartily into our Views, are briefly these: His Dominions he between Bengal and the Dependencies of the Pelliwa, and builder on both: A natural Jeabuty has ever fublisted between his Family and the Government of Poona. This has been heightened into a confirmed Animosity by Acts of mutual Violence. He has strong Pretensions, if not an absolute legal Right to the Succession of the Rauje or Sovereign Authority of the Maratta State, vacant by the Death of the late Ram Raja; and the Nabob Nizam Ally Cawn, who has always been connected with the French, and is now in close Union with the Ministers of Poona, is from his Situation the natural Enemy of the Government of Berar, and personally that of Moodajee.

Although we have no Doubts either of the Engagements which are faid to exell between the Ministers of Poona and the Chevalier St. Lubin, or of the Inability of the Presidency of Bombay to engage in any new Undertaking for the Restoration of Ragonaut Row; yet these are Facts on which we wish you to obtain the most certain Knowledge, as you must be guided entirely by them in the Line of your Negociations.

As there is a constant Intercourse between the Courts of Naugpore and Poona, you will not find it difficult to learn the actual State of Assairs at the latter; and that you may be less liable to Disappointment or Deception, we shall give Directions to Mr. Mostyn to keep up a constant Correspondence with you, and to inform you of the most secret Transactions of that Administration during your Continuance at Naugpore.

If from his Advices or the Information you can collect on the Spot, you are affured that the Prefidency of Bombay have not entered into any new Engagements, either with Ragonaur Row or any other Party among the Marattas, which may clash with the Tenor of the following Instructions; if you shall at the same Time understand either that a French Force is actually arrived at Poona, or is expected, or that the Chevalier St. Lubin is still there; or it you are convinced from other Circumstances of the Existence of the Engagements which we suppose to have been formed between him and the Ministers, or even if no Circumstance shall have come to your Knowledge that may afford you Caufe to doubt it; in these Cases we authorize you to make in Offer to Moodajee Boofla, to unite with him in a direct and open War with the Ministerial Party at Poona; and we give you a full and absolute Discretion to concert with him such a Plan for conducting the same as you shall judge most conducive to the Ends which we propose from it, and to which your whole Attention must be directed; namely, to defeat the Combination of the French and Marattas, to prevent the latter from affilting the French in their Defigns on Bombay; and further, if it can be effected, to establish such an Interest and Connection between our Government and that of the Marattas, as may enture the future Support and Affishance of the Maratta State against the French, or any other Power that may be in Enmity with us.

But if you shall have Reason to believe that the Presidency of Bombay have commenced any Negociation or entered into any Engagements either for the firm Establishment of Peace with the Poona Ministry, or for the Restoration of Ragonaut Row, or for any other Purpose which may prove incompatible with the Operations which we have above authorized; you will in such Case suspend your Negociations until you shall have received authentic Information, either from Mr. Mostyn or the Presidency of Bombay, of the Nature of the Engagements either projected or executed by them; and you will so conduct yourself as to conform to their Measures if you can consistently with the prior Attention which you will give to our Views; or at least not to engage in any oftensive Plan which shall be contrary to that of the Presidency of Bombay. Remembering that a defensive Alliance with Moodajee Boesla being the permanent Object of your Commission, you are to suffer no Consideration whatever to divert you from that Object but the Refusal or Inability of Moodajee Boosla to accede to it, or the Sasety of Bombay rendering it impracticable.

You are to observe that the Treaty at present substituing between the Company and the Peshwa, even admitted to be in its sullest Force, can by no Construction affect our Connection with the Government of Berar, which we not only regard as possessed of a sovereign and independant Power in Fact, but we have a Right to deem it such with the Poona Government from the Testimony of the Ministers themselves, who on a Requisition made by Colonel Upton on the Part of this Government; that Moodajee Boosla should subscribe to the Treaty, excused themselves by declaring in effect though not in expicts Terms, that they had no Right or Power to compel him.

And it you shall receive any Assurances from the Presidency of Bombay, or from Mr. Mostyn, that the Engagements between the French and the Ministers are dissolved, and that the latter do not entertain any Designs hostile to the Possessions of the East India Company, you must in that Case regard the Treaty between the Company and the Peshwa as possessing full Force, and abstain from any positive Engagement with Moodajee Boosla which may be contrary to it; but this, as we have already observed, must not prevent you from concluding any Engagement with him of a describe Kind, or even of an offensive, with respect to other Powers or States who are not under their Subjection: Even in the Case thus supposed, it will be no Breach of our Faith with them to agree to station an English Force near the Western Borders of Berar; and we even recommend it as a Guard upon their Fidelity, and as a ready Means of counteracting any Attemps which they may make in Violation of it.

Having described the Ends which we propose to derive to the Company from an offensive Alliance with Moodajce Boosia, we shall next proceed to those which he may reasonably expect in Return; for we cannot suppose that he will hazard the Peace of his own Government without Prospect of some Advantage adequate to the Risque, nor could we rely equally on his Engagements unless his Interest, Rep. VI.

by being involved in them, were made a Pledge for his Sincerity and Zeal in the Performance of

The Points which appear to us the most likely to excite his Ambition, are the Assertion of his Pretensions to the Inheritance of Ram Raja, and the Recovery of the Conquests which have been made from his Country by Nizam Ally.

The latter is a more distant Object, and at this Moment appears to us foreign from our present Interests: You may receive any Propositions which he may make to you upon this Subject; you may treat upon them; but you must refer them to us for Conclusion, unless he shall require it as an indispensable Condition of his forwarding our Views in the Western Part of India, and even in that Case your Engagements must be confined to the Places originally appertaining to the Government of Berar, and wiested from it since the Death of Iannove. We are not unaware at the same Time of the Probability of our being called upon immediately to oppose the French in the Dominions of Nizam Ally, should he openly and avowedly join the French, or should he join the Ministerial Party at Poona in declared Alliance with the French.

We authorize you to agree to such Terms as may be proposed by the Rajah of Berar, if you shall be persuaded that the Execution of them will tend to the Accomplishment of our Views in Opposition to the Schemes and Interests of our Enemies the French, and in such Case you are authorized to fulfil your Part of the Agreement without waiting for our Sanction.

With respect to the former, if from the State of Moodajee's Forces, his Resources and Connections, compared with those of the Ministers of Poona, you shall be clearly of Opinion that the Chances of Success are considerably on his Side, and he shall require our Assistance in the Undertaking; we empower and direct you to enter into an express Treaty to that Effect.

The Conditions which may be required for our Participation in an Enterprize of such Magnitude must of Necessity be left to your Judgment, both in the Choice and Mode of securing them. Our immediate Ends will be effectually answered by it, if it is attended with no other Effect than the Exclusion of the French Influence from the Maratta State, and the Introduction of our own in its Stead. But the positive Advantages, if it succeeds, will be all on his Side, and these will therefore, at least entitle us to some Return, besides the Provision esfected by it, of Security from future Contingencies.

The Reimbursement of our Charges in this Expedition, from its Commencement to the Period of its Return, to our own Frontier, or of a Sum supposed equivalent to them, ought to be made the first Stipulation.

The Confirmation of the Cessions made to the Presidency of Bombay by Ragonaut Row and Futty Sing Gaycwar, and to this Government, by the Peshwa in the Treaty of Poorundur, may be demanded.

On this Subject you will receive as Instructions, whatever may be written to you by the President and Council of Bombay, but exercise your Ducretion in the Execution of them. In the mean Time the Secretary will furnish you with Extracts of such Parts of our Letters to the Presidency of Bombay as have a Relation to this Subject, and from them you will take the general Line of your Conduct respecting it.

On this Side India we desire no Accession of Territory, but shall prefer the Improvement of our Connection with Moodajee Boosla on the Footing propoled in the first Part of these Instructions to any other Stipulations.

As foon as you have agreed to the Plan of Military Operations to be undertaken by our Forces in Alliance with those of Moodajee Boosla, you will give due Notice thereof to Colonel Leslie, or the Officer who shall be in the Command of the Detachment now under his Orders, that he may carry his Part of it into Execution. To this Effect Orders will be written to Colonel Leslie, who has our present Directions to continue his March till he shall have entered the Province of Berar, and to remain there; you will also give immediate Advice to the Presidency of Bombay of the Treaty when concluded, transmitting Extracts of such Parts as have any Relation to them, or a Copy of the Whole, unless it shall contain any Matters which may require immediate Secrecy.

We think it proper to caution you against encouraging any Proposals from Moodajee, to take a Part in any Designs which he may entertain to the Prejudice of his Brother Bimbajee, and against any Interference in the Competitions of his Family.

To obviate any Misconception of the Extent of your Commission, we think it proper to explain that we do not mean to continue it to the Person of Moodajee Boossa, nor to the local Jurisdiction of Berar; but that it extends to his Successor in the Event of his Death, or any Change in his Government before or during the Course of your Negociation, and to the Government dependant on him or his Successors under any Change or Augmentation of it.

You will correspond with Colonel Lessie, or the Officer in command of the Detachment now under his Charge, concerting with him such Measures as you may think necessary for the Successof your Negociation, or the Safety of the Company's Possession, and consulting him on any Points of Information which you may require concerting the State of the Company's possession which you may require concerting the State of the Company's possession which you may require concerting the State of the Company's possession which you may require concerting the State of the Company's possession which you may require concerting the State of the Company's possession which you may be stated the Company's possession which you may be stated to the Company's possession which you may be stated to the Company's possession which you may the stated to the Company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company's possession which you may the stated to the company that you want to the company the stated to the company that you want to the company the stated to the company that you want to the company that you of Information which you may require concerning the State of the Country he may pass through, or the Views, Forces, and Circumstances of the different Chiefs who govern it.

(Signed) Governor General and Council.

Mr. Francis's Minute on the Instructions to Mr. Elliott.

Fort William, 15th August 1778. Mr. Francis-Having already declared my entire Concurrence in one general Principle laid adown by the Governor; viz. "that notwithstanding the Superiority of the British Force in India, its general Line of Action is and must be purely defensive;" and having repeatedly stated to the Board my Opinion of the Wisdom of those Instructions which the Court of Directors have constantly given us, and which we ought to consider as the Basis of the British Policy in India; viz. "to make the Desence and Security of Bengal at all Times the principal Object of our Care; never to employ the Company's Forces on diffant Expeditions; and never to engage the Company in Disputes between the Country Powers, but to leave those Powers to be a Check upon one another, without our Interference;" I cannot but express the strongest Disapprobation of a Plan which has for its Object a Union of Forces and Interests with one of the Indian States against another, and which, in order to engage the former to unite in a direct and open War against the other, proposes to engage the Company's Arms in an Enterprize of no less Magnitude and Extent than the Attainment of the Sovereignty of the Maratta State for our Ally, and the Recovery of any Conquetts heretofore made by the Soubah of the Decan over the Rajah of Berar. I confider the proposed Treaty as not only subversive of all the general Principles of Policy which ought to direct this Government, but as highly dangerous and inexpedient in itself at all Times, and more especially at the present Crisis, at a Time when our whole Force is wanted for the Desence of the Company's Possessions, to which Object alone I conceive it is or may easily be made adequate. I will never consent to send any Part of it upon distant Expeditions, far from the Protection of our Frontiers, for to employ it in supporting any Projects or Interests in which we have no Concern; Desence alone should be our Object. With respect to Bengal and Fort Saint George, we have nothing to fear, if we make a proper Use of the Means in our Possession, and apply them steadily to wise and attainable Purposes; that is, if we do not suffer the First to be divided, and the Second to be wasted in support of Projects in which distant Shadows are pursued at the Expence of solid and substantial Interest. With respect to Bombay, which it is said cannot now afford Ragoba their Affistunce without departing from the immediate Care of their own Safety, the true and only Way of putting that Place in a Posture of Defence, is to send them a Reinforcement from Madras, and they tell us so themselves. As for Colonel Leslie's Detachment, I very much fear they will never derive any Affistance from it.

These Remarks and Objections are of a general Nature. I come now to the particular Instructions proposed for Mr. Elliott, and shall consider them in the Order in which they stand.

I object to the Powers proposed in the Preamble to be given to Mr. Elliott; and whereas his Commission proposes to have Two Objects, I cannot help expressing my Surprize, that our Sanction to him should be thought necessary for coming to a Conclusion with the Rajah of Berar, upon that which is by far the least hazardous and exceptionable of the Two Measures, I mean the Defensive Treaty, but that he should be allowed to follow his own Judgment in concluding and carrying into Execution the Terms of our Offensive Alliance, for the Support of Enterprizes of uncommon Magnitude and Extent, without waiting for our Sanction. Against all such absolute and discretionary Powers I hereby most solemnly protest, and I declare, that I shall never deem this Government bound by any Agreement entered into by him in the Execution of his present Commission, without the previous Knowledge and Approbation of this Board.

1. I object to the defensive Treaty on the Terms proposed, because I think our present Frontier is as much as we are able to defend, and will not admit of our subjecting any Part of our Force to march beyond it at the Requisition of the Rajah of Berar; because, without passing the most distant Limits of his Dominions, such Requisition may carry our Army into the Heart of Indostan, at a vast Distance from Bengal, and to a Situation too remote to admit of their safe and speedy Return to the Protection of our own Provinces in case of Emergency; because, on the other Hand, I never can approve of our calling in Ten thousand Maratta Horse, in any Case, to the Defence of Bengal, being thoroughly convinced that such Allics would only distress and ruin the Country, and never do us real Service against an Enemy; and lastly, because I have no Idea, that if Moodajee Boosla has a Ray of Understanding, and resease on the satal Consequences which the Nabob of Owde has experienced from his Connections with this Government, and which took their Origin from a Treaty of Subsidy, he will ever suffer an English Army to establish themselves in this Country under any Pretences whatseever.

2. The Plan of an offensive Union with Moodajee Boosla seems to be founded on a Supposition that Ragoba has no Party left, and that the Presidency of Bombay have or will abandon him. On my Principles it is immaterial whether this Supposition be well founded or not, because I think it highly impolitic to implicate ourselves in the Supposit of either of these Persons, but is very material to the Success of the Plan now proposed that no Mislake should be made in this Matter. I do not believe that the Prefidency of Bombay will cafily relinquish their Connections with Ragoba; in the thould not, it is worth confidering what our Situation may be, and what Appearance our Cone will have in the Eyes of the World. In the First Instance, we have a Treaty with the Peshwa, who we break or renounce in Favour of Ragoba: We authorize the Prefidency of Bombay to execute a Plan for restoring him to the Administration, and we send a Detachment of Troops across Indiago Support that Plan. The present Measure supposes a Third Distribution of Power, and a Third Const. petitor for it, to be supported by our Alliance; and it is not impossible, that while this Government is uniting its Forces and Interests with those of Moodajee Boosla on one Side of India, the President of Bombay may be equally engaged on the other in executing the Plan which we have already at thorized in Conjunction with Ragoba.

All these Difficulties and Inconveniences are supposed to be obviated by the conditional is structions given to Mr. Elliott, and the Confidence reposed in his Caution and Prudence. I here not question the personal Qualifications of any Individual, when the Trust proposed to be vesses in him is such as I would repose in no Man. The Cases, in which he is authorized to unite west Moodajee Boofla, in a direct and open War against the Ministerial Party at Poona, with full acabsolute Discretion to concert the Plan of Operations with him, are to depend on Mr. Ellien Knowledge, or on his Pertuation of the Existence of many Facts, concerning which it is very possible he may be misinformed; but the Consequences of a Mistake, either in point of Judgara or Information, may be fatal.

I do not pretend to know what the Nature of Moodajce Boofla's Pretentions may be to the Sur. cession of the Ram Raja. It is a Question of no Sort of Importance to this Government, unld, we voluntarily involve ourselves in it. But if it were possible for me to entertain an Idea o. c. gaging the Company's Arms in the Support of such Pretentions, the Precipitation with which to Conclusion of such an Engagement is pressed, and the implicit Considence proposed to be Place in Mr. Elliott's fole Judgment and Discretion to decide upon Measures which may affect the va-Existence of the British Power in India, would be sufficient to deter me from giving any Countenance to the Measure. I should be guilty of a Breach of Trust, if in an Instance of this Magni tude, I confented to furrender the Powers of this Government to the Diferetion of any Individual To that Part of the Instructions, therefore, in which we are " to impower and direct Mr. Elhott to " enter into an express Treaty for supporting Moodajee Boosla's Pretensions, if he shall be circus " of Opinion that the Chances of Success are considerably on his Side; and to leave the Conditions & " our Participation in an Enterprize of fuch Megnitude in Mr. Elhot's Judgment, both in the Choice and Mode of securing them;" I shall only say, that I believe such a Trust was never yet re posed in a public Minister; and that I shall never consider myself as a Party to any Terms concluded without my Knowledge.

The Second Condition relative to our Assistance against Nizam Ally, is at first stated as a Subject of Negociation, to be referred to us for Conclusion; but it is presently added, " unless " Moodajee Boossa shall require it as an indispensable Condition, &c." that is, in Fssect, we tie and unbind Mr. Elliott in the fame Breath. In the End, we authorize him to agree to such Terms as may be proposed by the Rajah on this Point, if he (Mr Elliott) shall be persuaded, that the Execution of them will tend to the Accomplishment of our Views; and in such Case, he is authorized to fulfil his Part of the Agreement, without waiting for our Sanction.

The First Proposition tends to lead the Company's Arms into the Heart of Indosan against the Marratta State, in the Support of Moodajee Boosla's Pretensions to the Succession of the Ram Raja. The Second may carry them into the Decan, in support of his Claims against Nizan Ally; and in both Cases, the Decision is referred to the sole Judgment and Discretion of Mr. Elliott. In my Opinion, both the Object and the Means need only to be stated to ensure these Condemnation.

After fuch an extraordinary Delegation of Powers to Mr. Elliott, it does not feem that farther Explanations were necessary to obviate any Misconception of the Extent of his Commission. The last Article, however, banishes every Idea of Limitation in this Respect; neither the Death of the Prince, with whom he is fent to treat, and on whose personal Views and Disposition toward. us, great Strefs has heretofore been laid, nor any Change in the Government, is to affect the Fac cution of the Plan. The Treaty is to be executed with his Successor, whosoever he may be, perhaps a Minor, perhaps an Ufurper, perhaps a Man hostile to the English Interest; and it a to extend to the Government dependant on him, under any Change or Augmentation of it; that is, we conclude our Treaty with a Prince, who either may not have Half the Territory now possessed by Moodajee Boofla, or who may have extended his Dominion to the other Side of India. In the latter Case, it would be prudent at least to specify, in the desensive Treaty, what those Limit should be, which the Company's Troops are not to pass, and within which the Rajah of Bera may employ them on any Military Service he thinks proper.

Mr. Wheler—The Minute now before the Board, and on which I am called to deliver my Opinion, was received by me in Circulation at Nine last Night, and I am abfolitely required to give my Opinion a Subject of this great Magnitude before Ten this Morning: Thus circumstanced, I believe it cannot be expected that I should enter into a full Discussion of the various Articles which compose the Governor's Minute before us; but that it will be sufficient for me to declare my general Sentiments on the whole Question; reserving to myself the Right of a fuller Discussion, should I find it specessary hereafter.

But I must here observe, that Mr. Francis has expressed himself so ably and fully upon the Subject, that little more is necessary for me than to concur with him most heartily in his Dissent and Protest, and likewise in the several Opinions delivered by him upon the Propositions contained in the Governor's Minute.

I am entirely against all distant Expeditions and Connections, as contrary to the Company's Instructions, their fundamental Policy, and particularly inexpedient at this Time.

I join heartily with Mr. Francis, in thinking that our whole Force ought to be retained here for the Defence of our own Territory and those of our Ally the Nabob of Oude; and that this so far from being diminished by Detachments should be materially encreased on this Emergency. I have a very unfavourable Opinion of entering into Alliances with Maratta Princes, which they usually maintain no longer than it is for their own Interest.

I am against the Detachment under Colonel Lessie advancing further into the Maratta Territory, least they either meet with some fatal Disaster, or we should be unable to procure their Return, when we may want them for the Defence of Bengal,

I am at a Lois to conceive how we shall be able to sulfil Stipulations with Moodajee Boosla for forwarding his Pretensions either to the Dignity of Peshwa, or on the Dominions said to be taken from him by Nizam Ally; how our Army is to act, or be supplied at that Distance, or what good Effect such Measures are to produce, either for the Desence of Bengal or Bombay, other than of driving those States, from Apprehensions of our ambitious Views, entirely into the Arms of the French, and compelling them to form a general Alliance for extirpating us from Indostan. What will then avail our Alliance with the Rajah of Berar? how are we to depend on his Faith; or to get back our Detachment, when it will be most material to us?

For my Part I apprehend the most melancholy Consequences: With these Impressions it will not be wondered if I here enter my Dissent and Protest against the Expedition, the Treaty now proposed, and the Powers proposed to be given to Mr. Elliott, to bind this Government in Measures, which I deem neither wise nor expedient, and which it is highly probable we may hereaster be unable to fulfil, and thereby add our present proposed Ally to the Number of our Enemies.

Mr. Barwell's Opinion on the Instructions to Mr. Elliott.

Mr. Barwell—I agree to the Instructions as they now stand: The Arguments opposed to the Policy that has dictated the intended Treaty with Moodajee Boosla do not in my Opinion weaken the Grounds on which it has been regulated. The Defence of Bengal is no less an Object of it than the Defence of the Western Possessions of the Company on the Peninsula. The Objections urged to the Powers delegated to our Ambassador I conceive are fully answered by a Reference to the Map, at the Instant the Reader shall reason on the Means by which it is proposed to effect the Sasety of the Company's Possessions. The Time and Opportunity would be lost by a Reference, in participating the Responsibility annexed to a Measure of such a Magnitude. I disclaim every other Rule for my Judgment but the very Object Mr. Francis himself proposes. We differ as to the Means; I adopt such as in my Opinion will prove most efficacious; he, such as he conceives better calculated to the Security of those Interests we have mutually in View.

APPENDIX,

REP. VI.

A P P E N D I X, N° 71.

Bengal Secret Consultations, 18th July 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Esquires.

THE Governor General having prepared Instructions for Mr. Elliott, on his Deputation to Berat, now lays them before the Board.

Mr. Wheler, Mr. Francis, and Mr. Barwell, deliver in their Opinions on this Subject.

The Governor General delivers in the following Minute:

The present Crisis calls for Action not for Debate. I think it improper to waste my Time, or to consume that of the Board in the latter, when it can be better employed, and when I know that no Argument will avail. Whenever I shall find it necessary to reply to the Objections and Protess of Messes. Francis and Wheler, I shall address myself to higher Powers. I shall therefore now pro.

ceed to fuch other Propositions as I think necessary for the Conclusion of this Business.

In the First Place, I move, That the Office Drafts of the Instructions, after they are written fair for Mr. Elliott, be sealed and authenticated, in any Manner that the Board may think proper, and deposited in some secret and secure Place; and that they be not entered in the Consultations, until Mr. Elliott shall have concluded his Negociations, or shall have made such a Progress in them as may make a longer Concealment unnecessary. The same Caution was observed with the Instructions which were delivered to me by the late Council, in the Year 1773. When I was deputed from them to treat with the late Vizier at Benares, the Effect was answerable to the Intention; the Subject of my Negociation remained a prosound Secret, not only to the Time of my Interview with the Vizier, but from the private Manner in which it was conducted, it was unknown, and scarcely surmised, till the Conclusion of the Treaty of course divulged it. I own I do not expect the same Caution on the present Occasion, for I am sorry to add, that the Subject of Mr. Elliott's Commission is already known; yet it may have this good Consequence, that what now only passes as a Report, wanting that Authentication which the original Documents, though but in Possession of a few, would give them, may still continue a Report, and either die away, or be little heeded. If the Board approve of this Motion, it will be equally proper, that the Minutes which have been delivered upon the Subject of the Instructions be also kept back from our Records deposited with them. Copies may not withstanding be taken, to be sent to the Court of Directors by the first and subsequent Dispatches.

and Colonel Lestie, to inform them that Mr. Elliott is deputed to the Rajah of Berar, to treat with him on the Part of this Government; to request that the President and Council of Bombay will advise Mr. Elliott of all Occurrences in which the political Interests of the Company, or of that Presidency in particular, are concerned; and to instruct him upon any Points respecting his Negociation, which either their own Situation and Circumstances may suggest, or on which he shall request their Advice. That to prevent any Opposition of Measures, they refrain from any Engagements that may be hostile to the actual Administration at Poona; except such as shall be necessary for the Desence of their own Possessins, until they shall have received our further Information, concerning the particular Object and Designs of the present Negociation, should it be found necessary to require their Cooperation with them; and that Mr. Mossyn may have their Directions to correspond with Mr. Elliott, and to inform him constantly of the State of Assairs at Poona, both such as respect the Concerns of that Presidency with the Maratta State, and the Views, Connections, and Strength of the different Parties at Poona: That our Letter to Mr. Mossyn require from him the same Communication. That Colonel Lessie be required to conform to such Engagements as shall be concluded in our Name with Moodajee Boosla, and as respect the Forces under his Command.

The Governor General's First Proposition being resolved in the Assirmative; the Instructions to Mic Elliott, and the Minute thereon, are accordingly sealed up and deposited in the Secretary's Office.

Mr. Wheler acquiefces to the Second Proposition.

Mr. Francis-If the Treaty be concluded Colonel Leslie must conform to it.

Mr. Barwell agrees to the Second Proposition.

The Second Proposition being resolved in the Assirmative; the following Letters are written to the Presidency of Bombay, Mr. Mostyn, and to Colonel Lessie:

E N D I P

To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Council at Bombay.

Gentlemen,

Upon a mature and full Confideration of the different Views and Connections of the Country Powers of Alm lostan, we think that an Alliance with Moodajce Boosla, the Raja of Berar, may be utended with the greatest Utility in providing for the Defence of the Company's Possessions in the present War; we have therefore deputed Mr. A. K. Elhott with full Instructions to negociate and conclude a Treaty with that Chief: We request that you will correspond with Mr. Elliott; advise him of any Occurrences that may affect the general political Interest of the Company's Settlements, ind of your's in particular; and instruct him upon any Points respecting his Negociation, which either your own Situation and Circumstances shall suggest, or on which he may apply to you for Information and Advice.

The Success of the Measures we have entrusted to Mr. Elliott must depend in a great Measure upon their prefent Secrecy; he will however notify to you fuch Articles as he may agree to with the Raja; in the mean Time to prevent any Steps of a contrary Tendency on your Part, we request that you will refrain from forming any Engagements of a Nature hostile to the actual Administration at Poona, excepting such as may appear absolutely necessary for the Defence of your own Possessions.

We also request that Mr. Mostyn may be enjoined to communicate to him constantly the State of Affairs at Poona, both fuch as concern the Interests of your Presidency with the Marattas, and the Views, Connections, and Strength of the different Parties in that Government.

Fort William,

We are, &c.

the 18th July 1778.

P. S. Both Colonel Leslie and Captain Elliott are possessed of Copies of the small Cypher B, formed in 1755.

To Thomas Mostyn, Esquire.

Sir.

Having thought it necessary to depute Mr. A. K. Elliott to Naguipore, to treat with Moodajee Boosla, the Chief of Berar, on certain Points which we deem essential to the Welfare of the Company's Settlements in India, we request that you will correspond with him, and communicate to him, from Time to Time, a particular State of the Affairs and Transactions at Poona, both as far as they concern the immediate Interests of the Company, and the Views, Connections, and Strength of the different Parties in the Maratta Government.

Fort William, the 18th July 1778. We are, &c.

To Colonel Leslie.

Having thought it necessary to depute Mr. A. K. Elliott to treat with Moodajee Boosla, the Rajah of Berar, on certain Points which we deem essential to the Welfare of the Company's Possessions in India, we direct that you correspond with him on such Subjects as may be necessary for his Information, as well with respect to the Views, Connections, and Forces of the several Chiefs who govern the Countries through which you may or have passed, as to their different Situations and Circum-stances; and that you conform to such Articles and Engagements as he may conclude on Behalf of this Government with Moodajee Boosla, as far as they may respect the Forces under your Command.

We are, &c.

Mr. Francis-I agree with the Governor General, that this is a Time to act, and that none should be wasted in Debate. Mr. Wheler's Minute and mine have occasioned no other Delay than what was necessary for reading them. There are Two Points however, of which no Notice is taken in the Instructions, and which I think should be provided for; I submit them to the Governor's Confideration as they occur to me.

The First is, that Mr. Elliott is not instructed to correspond with Colonel Leslie, or to concert any Mealures whatever with him; yet Cales may occur in which Colonel Lessie's Opinion, as well with respect to the State of the Country he has passed through, and the Views and Forces of the different Princes who govern that Country, as to the actual Situation and Circumstances of his own Army, may be very necessary for Mr. Elliott's Information and Guidance in the Conduct of his Ne-

The Second is, That no Provision is made for a Case, which, whether probable os not, deserves Consideration, as the Consequences of it may materially affect the Success of Mr. Elliott's Negociations: I mean the Possibility that Colonel Lessie's March should have been stopped either by direct Opposition, or any other unforeseen Dissiculties; or that he may have received a Check in

PPENDIX, Nº 71.

"tempting to cross the Cane River. In his Letter of the 24th June, he informs us, "that he is " not at present able to say what Part they will take, whether they mean to oppose his March or " not; their Forces are collected between Chatterpore and Pannah, on the Banks of the Kaine "River, where Anrood Sing's Forces, with Ballajee and Beffa Pundit, have taken Poft," we cannot be absolutely certain of the Event. It is possible at least that some Mischance may have happened, and fuch a Possibility ought to be provided for.

The Governor General—The first Proposition I think very proper; although it comes within the Line of his Instructions, I have no Objection to its being made a specific Part of them. I think it unnecessary to make any Provision in the Instructions for the Case supposed in the latter Part of Mr.

Francis's Minute: it is included in the former.

Mr. Wheler-I agree to the First; and as the Second is a Precaution which cannot be attended with any Inconvenience by being inferted in Mr. Elliott's Instructions, I see no Objection to its making a Part of them.

Mr. Barwell—I think both these Points included in the Instructions, and the Repetition of them unnecessary.

Agreed, That the First Part of Mr. Francis's Minute be added to Mr. Elliott's Instructions.

The 20th of July the Governor General moves, That Mr. Elliott's Appointment be notified to the ly 1778. Presidency of Fort St. George; that they consider whatever Intelligence he may transmit to them as the authentic Intelligence of a Public Minister; and that they correspond with Mr. Elliott, informing him of any Events which relate to Peace or War, but particularly of any Changes in their political Situation with Nizam ul Mulk.

* Colonel Upton's Allowances were fettled by the Governor General and Council as follows, viz.

His Pay as Lieutenant Colonel per Ann. 12,000 Double Batta as Lieutenant Colonel -2,920 40 Rupees per Day, or per Annum 500 Rupees per Month for Servants, Sta-14,600 tionary, and every other incidental Charge not particularly specified 6,000 Rupees per Month for a Moonshie 1,200 Sonaut Rupces 36,720 Batta 11 per Cent. 4,039 Total of Colonel Upton's Allowances per Annum while on his Embaffy CR* 40,759 tions, and also to Mr. Elliott's Credentials, which are dated 20th July 1778.

The Governor General moves, That Mr. Elliott draw the same fixed Allowances as Colonel Upton*, Lieutenant Colonel's Pay and double full Batta fixed Salary, Contingencies, including Moonshies, Servants, &c. That Mr. Farquhar attend Mr. Elliott as Affistant, and be allowed Captain's Pay and Double The Governor General supposes, that the whole Expence of Mr. Elliott's Deputation, exclusive of the necessary Presents, will not much exceed his personal Allowances, as above stated, and those of his Affistant; that he has every Reason to believe that Mr. Elliott will be attended from Cuttack to Naigpore by a Troop of the Rajah of Berar's Cavalry; but should this not be the Case, he proposes that Mr. Elliott be authorized to difburse such Sums as may appear to him reasonable in procuring a Military Escort. The Board agree to the Governor's Mo-

Letter of Credence to Mr. Alexander Elliott; written the 20th of July 1778.

To Alexander Elliott, Esquire.

Whereas an Intercourse of Friendship has long subsisted between this Government and that of Berar, and it is our Desire, and we believe it to be that of Modajce Bhoosila, the Rajah or Chief for the Time being of Berar, to confirm and perpetuate the same by a formal Treaty of Alliance, We the Governor General and Council, in virtue of the Powers velled in us by the King and Parliament of Great Britain, and by the English East India Company, to direct and controul the political Affairs of all the Company's Settlements in India, relying on your Fidelity, Prudence, and Integrity, have deputed you to proceed to Naigpore, or to such other Place where the Rajah shall reside, and to negociate and conclude with Maha Rajah Modajee Bhoofila, or the true Rajah for the Time being of the Province of Berar and its Dependencies, a Treaty of Peace and Friendship between him and his Heirs and Successors on the one Part, and the English East India Company on the other, on fuch Terms as shall be for the mutual Benefit, Honour, and Satisfaction of both Parties; and we hereby give you full Powers to that Effect, declaring that we will ratify and confirm whatever shall be to concluded by you in our Names, and on our Behalf, according to the Instructions with which we have furnished you for that Purpose.

Given in Fort William, under our Hands and the Seal of the Company, this 20th of July 1778, in the Year of our Lord, or 24th of Jumma See Assance 1192 Hejeree.

E N D I Χ,

Extrast of a Letter from the Governor General and Council in Bengal, to the Court of Direstors, dated 171b August 1778.

Par. 5. WITH such circumstantial Evidence before us we thought that no Time should be lost in Secret Departproceeding upon it as Fact, and therefore agreed to take such immediate Measures as we udged necessary for the Security of your Possessions committed to our Charge. We ordered Cosonel Leslie with his Detachment to halt when he should arrive within the District of Berar, and to wait there for further Orders: We wrote to the Presidency of Fort Saint George, recommending it to them to affemble a fufficient Force in the Neighbourhood of Pondicherry with all possible Expedition, to be ready to invest that Place the Moment that a Confirmation of the News thould arrive: We advised them to open a Negociation with the Nabob Hyder Ally, who lately had made repeated Applications to their Prefident to folicit an Alliance with the Company: We ordered the Balance of Cash which had accumulated in the Hands of our Resident at Owde to be immediately sent down to the Prefidency; and called for fuch Accounts as might enable us to determine the State of our immediate Resources.

- 6. At the ensuing Meeting of the Council the Governor General proposed a Plan for an Alliance with Moodajee Boofla, the Rajah of Berar, a powerful Chief, with whom a friendly Intercoufe had long subsisted, and who on many Occasions had manifested a Disposition uniformly amicable to the Company: As the Plan is particular and worthy of your Attention, we beg Leave to refer to it, and to the Minutes which have been entered upon it; contenting ourfelves in this Place with informing you that we have accordingly appointed Mr. Alexander Elliott with full Powers and Instructions to negociate and conclude a Treaty of Alliance with Moodajee Boofla. As the Success of Mr. Elliott's Endeavours must be governed in some Measure by the Secrecy in which the Powers of Concession confided in him are preferved, we have thought it necessary for the present to keep his Instructions from our Records; a Copy however, with the Minutes upon them, is made a feparate Number in the Packet for your Information.
- 26. The Situation of Affairs in the North West Quarter is nearly as follows: Colonel Leslie, with the Detachment under his Command, notwithstanding the Promiles of Friendship which were delivered to him from Balajee, and the other Maratta Chiefs possessing the Districts about Calpee, met with some slight Oppolition from their Troops in crossing the Jumna. They retired before the advanced Party when they had landed, and after fome Skirmishes retreated, leaving the Fort of Calpee evacuated. which Colonel Leflic in confequence took Possession of. He then continued his March without further Molestation till his Arrival at Chatterpore, where he was obliged to halt-for the Purpose of repairing his Gun Carriages, which had been a good deal shaken by the Badness of the Roads.
- 27. When the Detachment had been some Days at Chatterpore, the above Chief continued to manifest the same Spirit of Jealousy and Opposition which he had at first discovered, by joining with the inferior Rajahs to throw every Obstruction and Annoyance in the Way that he could accomplish. He published the strongest Prohibition to the Inhabitants to furnish Grain or any Kind of Retrashment to the Troops; harraffed their foraging Parties; intercepted their Provisions, and drove away their Cattle. In this State of Affairs, Colonel Leftie received Intelligence of the unfortunate End of Captain Munro, who was cut off in his Way to join the Detachment; he therefore resolved, from these combined Outrages, to attack the principal Station of the Enemy at the Fort of Mow, about Three Coss West of his Encampment, where they had about 600 Cavalry, and 2,000 Matchlock-men, with a Train of Eleven Pieces of Cannon. Lieutenant Colonel Goddard was accordingly dispatched with Three Battalions and a Body of Horse; and after having forced his Way through some Breaches in the Wall of Circumvallation, he engaged and drove the Enemy out of the Fort, The dispersed Parties have since withdrawn to Rajegur, on the Banks of the River Kain, where Balajee having affembled his Men, still declares his Intention to oppose the Progress of our Troops.
- 28. By our last Advices, per Northington, you were fully informed of the Change in the Government at Poona, by the Reversion of the principal Direction of Affairs from the Hands of Nana Furnecse to those of Moraba Furnecse; of the different Invitations which Moraba had given to Ragoba; and of his Proposal to charge Mr. Mostyn with Powers to conduct that Chief to Poona. After having amused our Resident for some Time with reiterated Promises and Protractions, it evidently appeared, that the Professions he made were calculated merely to deceive; while the real Object of his Intentions was nothing more than to establish his own Authority in the Gocernment.
- .9. Mr. Mostyn, after waiting a considerable Time for the proposed Overtures to be made to cagoba, and despairing of them at length, from the Infincerity of the Ministers, and their apsarent Adoption of Nana's Systems, which were unfavourable to the English, formally made the son ands of them which were enjoined by our Letter to the President and Council of Bombay, REP. VI.

APPENDIX, Nº 72.

under Date the 23d March. He repeatedly solicited their Answer to each separate Article: but inessectually, till many Days after the Time limited in his Requisition had elapsed.

30. About this Time another Revolution took Effect in the Administration at Poona. Nana Furneese, by a considerable Sum of Money, which he engaged to pay to Madajee Scindia and Tuccojee Holcar, having gained those Chiefs over to his Assistance, wrested the Government again from the Hands of Moraba; who, finding his Influence and Power thus failing him, applied in earnest, as we understand, in concert with the principal Persons who adhered to him (among which Number the Name of Tuccojee appears, notwithstanding he had been induced by a pecuniary Consideration, to seem to side with Nana, and is represented, in Conjunction with Madajee Scindia, in Person, to have compelled Moraba to surrender the Sicca, which was the Ensign of his Office, to Nana Furneese) to Mr. Mostyn, offering precise Terms to six Ragoba in the Place of Regent, if the Presidency of Bombay would agree to bring him with the Company's Forces to join their Party; and delivering at the same Time, under the Seal of the Peshwa, satisfactory Assurances in Reply to the Demands which had been insisted upon by Mr. Mostyn, for the Accomplishment of the Treaty.

31. We have just received, express, Advices from the Select Committee at Bombay, dated 25th July, of which we fend a Copy in the Packet, containing their Proceedings on the above Proposals, which Mr. Mostyn, being duly authorized by the Party, had delivered to them in Person; also other Answers to the Resident's Demands, which Nana Furnese, upon re-assuming the Government at Poona, had caused to be given to Mr. Lewis, after Mr. Mottyn's Departure.

32. These are pronounced by the Select Committee to be vague, evalive, unsatisfactory, and amounting to a Refusal, aggravated by a Comparison with Moraba's Answers. They therefore, in virtue of the Authority given by our Letter of the 23d March, proceeded to declare the Answers of Nana a Violation of the Treaty; and on these Grounds, urged by Nana's avowed Predilection for the French, the Prospect of inevitable War with that Nation, and the Means which they would posses, conjointly with the Marattas, to cut off the Supplies required by the Island of Bombay from the Continent, they proceeded to consider and attend to the Ossers made in favour of Ragoba. In consequence of which they have resolved to pursue the most practicable Way of placing him in the Regency of Poona, by Means of their own Forces, aided by Colonel Leslie's Detachment, and supported by the Party and Troops of Moraba and Tuccojee, if the Advices which they may receive from Europe, or from us, before they can begin their Operations in September, shall not render a different Plan of Measures expedient.

33. The general Transactions of this Government with the Nabob of Owde being of such a Nature as not to require Secrecy, and the Businel's of War furnishing additional Matter for our private Department, we have transferred our Correspondence with the Resident at Owde, and various other Subjects, to the public Records; and shall only mention in this Place, that the Nabob having confented to Captain Osborne's Plan, for raising a Battalion of Sepoys for the Protection of the Douah, which we recommended to him, Captain Osborne is accordingly employed in forming this Corps.

34. Nudjiff Cawn having made Peace with the Seicks, is again defirous of receiving Major Hannay as an Agent from this Government; and has addressed the Governor General, requesting that he may be permitted to repair to his Court. We have in consequence directed the Major to visit Nudjiff Cawn, with the Vizier's Consent, and to report to us any Proposals which he may have to offer to our Confideration.

35. We have this Day taken into Confideration the Advices from the Select Committee of Bombay, mentioned in the foregoing Part of this Letter; and have approved of their Refolutions, under certain Provisoes, which will appear in the Extract of our Proceedings, enclosed a Number in the Packet.

Persian Correspondence; received 20th May 1778.

From Modajee Bhosila; received 24th May 1778.

YOUR agreeable Letter under Date the 3d of Rubbee-ul-awal reached me on the 27th of the same Month (26th April) and afforded me the greatest Pleasure. You write that you have appointed to the Command of the Detachment destined for the Reinforcement of Bombay, Colonel Lessie, an Officer of Abilities, Experience, and approved Bravery, and one who is possibled of your entire Confidence, and have directed him to correspond with me; that he will accordingly apply to me on every Occasion where he may stand in need of Assistance and Support, which may probably frequently happen; and you request that regarding his Letters in the same Light as if written by yourself I will afford him every Degree of Assistance he may require, and consider him as every Way worthy of my entire Confidence, and that I will always reckon you as my most warm and sincere Friend. An invariable Regard to the Duties of Friendship is highly commendable and praiseworthy, and I have accordingly replied to your several Letters on this Subject in the same Manner which Friendship dictated, and hope that my repeated Letters have fasely reached you. It is near Twenty Days since trusty Agents have been dispatched from this to the Nurbudder where they wait the Arrival of Colonel Lessie, and for the greater Security I have written to that Gentleman to give him Information of my Agents being in waiting for him there. As the Veil which separated us is now removed, and we are so intimately connected with each other, I have regarded whatever you have written me as proceeding from the Dictates of Friendship, and your Wants I regard as my own. You will therefore send him in full Considence, and on his Arrival on the Banks of the Nurbudder he will find every Kind of Assistance and Support from my Envoys, both with respect to Provisions and other Necessaries as well as Instructions for his Route. I have not yet heard from Colonel Lessie; as soon as I do, I shall return him a fatisfactory Answer.

From Modajee Bhofila; received 4th July 1778.

I have been favoured with your agreeable Letter in Reply to Two of mine, and expressing your Pleasure at the Proofs of my steady Friendship in my ready Compliance with your Request, respecting a free Passage for your Troops, in having deputed a trusty Person to meet them on the Banks of the Nurbudder, and invited the Commander to advance with Considence and Security; and adding, that, by the Bleffing of God, the greatest Advantages will be derived to our respective States by our intimate Union; also, that you have, agreeably to my Desire, directed Beneram Pundit to repair to the Commander of the Forces, and accompany him, and doubt not of his Compliance. This Letter reached me on the 4th of Jummadee-ul-awul, 3d of April, and made me very happy by its Contents. Your many friendly Letters, respecting the Dispatch of your Forces to Bombay, which are filled with Professions of the most sincere and perfect Friendship, and of the inutual Advantages which will accrue therefrom to our respective States, have taken such deep Root in my Mind, that I am not only perfectly convinced of them, but entertain even still greater Expectations from so intimate an Union. With respect to the Intrigues and Connection of the Poona Ministers with the French, and their Estrangement from the English, you observe, that Ilthough you do not implicitly credit all the various Reports you have received on this Subject, yet t is the Duty of a Ruler of a State to be always on his Guard, and prepared against every Event, and that my Remarks on this Subject were very just and proper. The Matter stands thus: It has been the invariable Practice of my Family steadily to pursue a Friendship once contracted, and to ict with the greatest Candour, and to give such Friend every necessary Piece of Intelligence which omes to our Knowledge; this, by the Bleffing of God, you have already had, and will have still urther Proofs of. The good Faith and Integrity of the English Nation is also become a Proverb, nd are most firmly impressed on my Mind, they are clearly proved to me by the intimate and uneserved Communications which you make in the Course of the Correspondence which has been stablished between us; God, who penetrates the Secrets of the Heart, knows the Sincerity of this Declaration, which is fufficient.

Whilst my Son, and my Minister Dewagur Pundit, were at Poorunder, all that they saw there has afterwards communicated to you by the latter. In your first Letter on this Subject, you write hat the Poona Ministers had received the French Vackeel, and granted him the Port of Choul lunder, and a Topekana, and estranged themselves from you, and formed Connections with the Inemies of the King of England; and that it was incumbent on you to guard against their Degns; I therefore, with a View of discovering their real Intentions, wrote Letters, in which I ightly alluded to these Matters, and now send you, for your Instruction, the Substance of the aishwa's Reply to me and Luckmun Vackeel. You must likewise have received continual Advices from that Quarter, and will receive further. The Peishwa informs me likewise, that he has written to Calcutta Assurances of his sleady Adherence to the Treaty, and Information of his having given the French Vackeel his Dismission: This Letter, if it has reached you, will also give you further Information.

The Whole to be deduced from this is, that it is found Policy, and the Duty of the Ruler of a State, to attend to all the Advices he receives; to fearch into the Truth of them; and to take his Measures on whatever is proved true; keeping himself constantly on his Guard, and prepared against every Event. You are blessed with Wisdom and Experience; it is therefore unnecessary for me to dwell on such Subjects to you. I have written Two or Three different Letters to Colonel Lessie, and have received a Letter from him, accompanying One from you. My Agents have been waiting near Two Months on the Banks of the Nurbudder, in Expectation of the Arrival of the Forces: I do not yet know if they have crossed the Jummun. As the rainy Season is at Hand, and they have a long March before them, and have not yet arrived on this Side the Jummun, I request you will inform the if they are to advance or not, that I may give Instructions to my Agents accordingly. I am much pleased that you have, agreeable to my Desire, sent Beneram to join the Detachment; it was highly proper.

I have not replied to the Peishwa's Letter, but shall do it in whatever Manner you intimate to me.

I wait your Reply, which I beg may be expeditious.

Knowing me ever anxious for your Welfare, favour me with frequent Accounts of your Health, Views, and the State of Affairs, which will be the Means of encreasing our Friendship.

Enclosure in the above.

Copy of a Letter in the Hindoo Language from the Peishwa to Maha Rajah Modajee Bhosila and Luckmun Row Vackeel; received at Naigpore the 5th of Jummadec-ul-Awul, 4th of April 1778.

The Particulars respecting the French are as follows:

This is a powerful State, and every Power is desirous of sending Ambassadors to cultivate its Friendship and seek its Connection. To refuse Admittance to the Ambassadors of the French Monarch, or other Powers charged with Propositions of Friendship from their Master, would be highly improper, and not to hear their Representations would be inconsistent with the Credit and Dignity of the State. It is the Duty of the Ruler of a State to make himself acquainted with the Affairs of every Stranger; for which Purpose it was necessary to admit the French Vackeel to an Audience, and he was treated in a Manner becoming the Dignity of this State.

When a Treaty of Friendship and Union has been established with the English, so that no Shadow of Difference remains, to break this Connection for the Sake of an Alliance with the French would not only be a Proof of the greatest Folly, but would be totally unprositable. The Report of the Grant of a Fort to the French, and Topekanna to their Ambassador, is entirely groundless; the Matter is this: When the French Vacked arrived, he brought with him Merchandize, and by my Permission landed them at Readunda; Part of them he sold there, and Part at Poona and Poorunder.

At what Period have the French shewn themselves, or what great Action have they performed, to induce any one to seek their Friendship or Connection? and for what Purpose should a Fort and Topekanna be entrulted to them? I have given them neither one nor the other; I have of my own Accord given the French Vackeel his Dismission to his own Country; his Stay is folely to collect the Amount of the Merchandize he has sold; it would be improper forcibly to drive him away; but I understand he will shortly depart: It is therefore improper that the English Chiefs should form any Suspicions of this Quarter on that Account, and I am convinced they will not give Way to any such; I have not nor will ever deviate a Hair's Breadth from the Duties of Friendship to them. You will therefore (this is addressed to the Vackeel) represent this Matter in a clear Light to the Rajah, and cause him to write Letters, explaining it satisfactorily, to Calcutta; I have likewise written to Calcutta on this Subject to remove all Doubts which may have arisen: Should this Matter be represented differently by any News Writer, you will pay no Degree of Credit to it.

From Dewagur Pundit: Received 6th July 1778.

I have been honoured in an happy Hour with your gracious Letter, which afforded me the greatest Satisfaction, and by its Contents gave great Pleature to the Rajah. The sending Beneram Pundit to accompany the Commander of the Detachment was highly proper; the great and mutual Advantages, which will naturally be produced by the unreserved Communication of your mutual Sentiments in the Correspondence which has been established between you and the Rajah, by which your Friendship will be carried to the highest Pitch, will appear at a proper Opportunity. The Substance of a Letter from the Paishwa to my Master and Luckman Row is sent for your Information: For further Paisticulars permit me to refer you to my Master's Letter.

To Maha Raja Modajee Bhoofila: Written 24th July.

I have already written you a full Account of the Affairs of this Quarter, and of my Delign to depute Mr. Elliott to conclude a perpetual Treaty of Friendship and Alliance between you and the Company, on such Terms as may be for the mutual Benesit, Honour, and Satisfaction of both Parties. That Gentleman took Leave of me on the 20th Instant, or 24th of Rubbee-assance, and begun his Journey to Naigpore, where he will have the Pleasure of delivering you this Letter. I have already written you so fully on the Abilities, Prudence, and Worth of this Gentleman, who possess my entire Esteem and Considence, that it is needless to enlarge on the Subject. I shall therefore only repeat, that nothing has passed between you and me, either by Letters or through Beneram Pundit, but what he is informed of, and that he has full Power from this Government to negociate and conclude a perpetual Treaty of Alliance with you, in such Manner that whatever he concludes in our Name and on our Parts we will ratify and consists.

I request that you will regard him as myself, and pay equal Attention to whatever he shall represent to you, and treat him with every Mark of Honour and Regard.

To Dewagur Pundit: D.

Containing the Substance of the above Letter, with this Addition: I rely on you that you will exert yourself to warmly with your Master as to ensure a fortunate Issue to the Negociations entrusted to Mr. Elliott, which will be productive of the most advantageous Consequences to both States; I am too well acquainted with the Wisdom of the Maha Rajah's Government and of your Administration to propose any Thing which will not add to the Power of the Maha Rajah, and to the Reputation of his Ministers.

To Modajee Bhoofila: Written 27th July.

I have already written you repeatedly on the Subject of my Defign to depute Mr. Elliott to conclude a Treaty of perpetual Friendship and Alliance between you and the Company.

That Gentleman took Leave of me the 20th Instant, 24th of Rubbee-assaunil, and as he means to proceed with the greatest Expedition, I doubt not but you, agreeable to my Request, will use every Means in your Power to prevent any Delay or Obstructions to his Journey. I hope he will arrive almost as soon as you receive this Letter.

He is a Gentleman of my own House, and particularly attached to me, and of great Abilities: he possesses my entire Considence, and is invested with the fullest Powers from this Government, which has the Control of all the English Possessions and Forces in India, to conclude a firm Treaty with you in our Name and on our Behalf, and whatever he shall so conclude we will confirm and ratify.

I therefore request that you will regard him in the same Light as myself, and pay equal Attention to whatever he shall represent to you, as if it had proceeded from my own Mouth.

The Advantages to be mutually derived from so intimate an Union as I propose to form with you, will be evident to you who are possessed of the greatest Judgment and Penetration; and I doubt not but you will enter warmly into the Proposals which will be made to you by Mr. Elliott, and conclude with him a Treaty on so firm a Basis as may continue to our latest Posterity.

From the Nabob Nizam ul Dowla to the Governor. No Date; received 21st June 1778.

Am given to understand, that the Gentlemen at Bengal have wrote to you to prepare Warlike Stores, &c. in order to assist Ragonaut Row; and that you are accordingly making Preparations for that Purpose. When the Company at Madras have entered into a solemn Treaty with me, that where-ever my Enemies are, their's shall be also; what Consistency is there in their giving their Assistance to Ragonaut Row, my professed Enemy? Either the Gentlemen of Bengal are not acquainted with the Engagements of those at Madras, or if they are, they suppose that these Engagements are those of the Company at Madras, and not of the Company of Bengal; Which of these Two am I left to suppose? If you have not already acquainted them with the Treaty which Rep. VI.

subsists between us, you ought to do it now, but if the Gentlemen at Bengal in supporting Ragonaut Row are determined to make War with the Pundit Purdhaun Madherow, I shall be obliged, in consideration of the Treaty subsisting between him and me, to give him every possible Assistance on my Part.

You, Sir, will be pleased to communicate these Particulars to the Governor of Bengal, and ac.

quaint me with the Refult of it. What shall I say more?

From the Nabob Nizam Ally Khan: Received 23d July 1778.

When a Merchant of Bengal formerly came here with Rarities, and curious Productions of that Quarter, I discoursed with him on the Treaty which subsisted between me and Row Pundit Purdhaun, Madho Narain Row, of the deceitful Murder of Narrain Row by Ragonaut Row, his Expedition against me, the War which ensued, his subsequent Deseat, and the Renewal of my Engagements on the firmest Basis with Pundit Purdhaun; all which Particulars I enlarged upon to the said Merchant, that he might give you a minute Detail of them, which I doubt not he did. Some Time ago, when Colonel Upton quitted Poorunder, and returned by the Route of Hyderabad, he paid me a Visit: I took the Opportunity of discoursing largely with him of the bad Faith and invincible Villainy of Ragonaut Row, and of the Renewal of the Treaty between me and Pundit Purdhaun, and shewed him the Treaty which the Governor of Madras had contracted with me, of which (if you are desirous of it) I will send you a Copy for your Inspection. The Treaty I allude to declares, that my Enemies are the Company's, and the Company's Enemies mine; that the Company shall not protect the Enemies of my Government, and in like Manner, I shall not protect the Enemies of theirs; I therefore asked Colonel Upton, "whilst such a Treaty subsists, what is the Motive of giving Refuge to Ragonaut Row, the inveterate Enemy of my Government, and labouring at his Establishment?"—Colonel Upton replied, "The King of England, who has fent out a Company to Bengal (Council I suppose he means) did it solely with this View, that they might sully inform themselves of all the Treaties which had been contracted with every Power, and comply with the Terms of them."

It feems that the Nazim of Bengal is unacquainted with this Treaty, as I have received repeated Advice that the Design of establishing Ragonaut Row is again taken up, and that he is levying Armies: What can be the Design of this I cannot fully penetrate. When it is clearly expressed in the Treaty, that the Enemies of my Government are the Enemies of the Company, and the Enemies of the Company my Enemies, to what can I attribute this Design, except your Ignorance that such Treaty exists, or by supposing that the Treaty being made by the Company at Madras, is not binding on the Company at Bombay: One or other of these Suppositions I must abide by. My Meaning in what I have above written is this; that if you have any Quarrel with Pundit Purdhaun, on any other Account than that of Ragonaut Row, it matters not to me, I have nothing to do with it; but if you engage in Hostilities with Pundit Purdhaun on Account of Ragonaut Row, as I am inviolable in my Engagements, and am bound by a firm Treaty to Pundit Purdhaun in case Ragonaut Row makes War on him, it becomes my indispensable Duty, in consequence of such Engagement, to give my Assistance to Row Pundit Purdhaun: You will in such Case refer to the Treaty I have before alluded to. It was necessary to intimate these Particulars to you, and I have accordingly done so.

Should you ask, Why did the Rulers at Poona receive a French Vackeel? the Answer is this: After the Departure of Colonel Upton, and his Arrival with you, fresh Advices were received, that Preparations were making at Bombay to bring back Ragonaut Row. In the mean Time a French Vackeel arriving at Poona, in consequence of the Reports which prevailed universally that Ragonaut Row was again becoming formidable, the Poona Ministers detained him with them, arguing thus: If the Peace established by Colonel Upton is preserved, it is well; in case it should be broken, it is political to have the French Vackeel. On these Grounds they detained him, notwithstanding which, when I heard it I wrote to them in the strongest Terms, on the Impropriety of their keeping a French Vackeel with them, and they accordingly gave him his Disnission, and I doubt not he is already set off.

To the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah: Written 24th July.

YOUR friendly Letter arrived in a fortunate Hour, and made me happy by its Contents. You write— [Here follows a Repetition of the Substance of this Letter.]

The Fact is this: It is now more than a Year since an Agent from the Court of France arrived at

A P P E N D I X, N° 75, 76.

Poona, and commenced a Negociation with the Ministers there, for the Formation of an Alliance between the French and the Marattas; nearly about the same Time we were informed, by authentic Advices from England, that the King of France had formed the Plan of an Alliance with the Marattas, for the Purpole of affifting him in his Hostilities against the English, and we have since received a certain Knowledge, that Engagements have actually been executed between the Ministers of Poona and the French Agent, in confideration of which the latter is to bring a Force of Europeans and Military Stores to Poona; and this Engagement subsists, notwithstanding the Friendship which was contracted between the Maratta State and the Company, and notwithstanding the Changes which have taken place in that Administration; of this I repeat that I have a certain Knowledge: In the mean Time War has been declared between the English Nation and the French. The Fore-knowledge of all these Circumstances induced me to prepare a Force to be sent to Bombay, not for the Support of Ragonaut Row, to whom this Government is under no Engagement, nor to make War with the Ministers with whom we are in Friendship, but in Conformity to the Duties incumbent on this Government, charged with the Care and Protection of all the English Possessions in India, for the Purpose of securing the Presidency of Bombay, which is now exposed to a War with our declared Enemies the French, and may be also involved in one with the Marattas, for such are their apparent Defigns. If these Defigns really exist, we shall certainly oppose them with all our Power; and the Ministers, by making themselves our Enemies, are also yours, and by Treaty you are bound to oppose them as such, not to take a Part with them: If, on the contrary, the Designs attributed to them have been erroneously furmised, or they, refraining from the Dictates of Finnity and bad Faith, should relinquish them, we shall undertake nothing prejudicial to their Interests, but our Friendship and the successful Operation of our Arms will eventually prove a Benefit to them. The Sum of all I have said is this: We are the Friends of the Peishwa and of the Ministers of Poona, and shall continue whilst they are our Friends; we shall be their Enemies, if they compel us to be such by becoming our Enemies; and you, by the Treaty which you have quoted, and the Precepts which you have prescribed for my Conduct, will remain their Friend, or become their Enemy, from the same Caufes.

As I wish to preserve inviolable the Friendship and Engagements which subsist between you and the Company, I have thought proper to give you this Explanation of my Conduct, and have no Doubt but you, actuated by the same Motives, will adopt such Measures as may tend to the Confirmation and daily Increase of our Friendship, which must be attended with the greatest mutual Advantages.

Knowing me ever anxious for your Welfare, let me frequently have the Pleasure to hear from you.

From Nizam ul Dowlah: Received 28th January 1779.

Have received the Letter you did me the Favour to write, and perfectly understand the Contents of what you say in Reply to my former Letter, as well as on the Subject of your Determination to preserve the Faith of former Treaties; your having no Intention to support Ragonaut Row, or Wish to engage in Hostilities with the Poona Ministers.

The good Faith I have found in the Company exceeds what I have experienced from any other Power, and imagining that you might not be acquainted with all the Treaties executed by the Company, I formerly wrote you full Information on that Head, and God be praifed you are steady and firm in your Adherence to former Treaties! With respect to what you write on the Subject of Ragonaut Row, the Conduct you have pursued is such as the Faith of Treaty required.

I formerly in the strongest Terms desired the Poona Ministers not to give Encouragement to the French Vackeel: They are now assumed of their Conduct, and have not the least Idea of connecting themselves with the French; but should the least Symptom of such a Design be proved on them, I will give immediate Information to you, and withdraw myself from my Engagements with them; you, may be perfectly assured of this.

Let me frequently have the Pleasure to hear from you the Events and Occurrences of that Quarter.

Nº 1. Copy of a Letter from Balajee Jennarjam to Nizam ul Dowlah.

THE Disturbances on Foot owe their Rise to certain Persons who set Justice at Desiance, and have invited Dada from Bombay; but your facred Mind may be perfectly satisfied that they will effect nothing, for Siccaram Baboo is joined with me: I hope that when I require Troops from you, you will dispatch Zusser ul Dowlah Bahadre to this Quarter with the greatest Expedition, and that your Highness will repair in Person to Aurungabad, and canton there; that awed and terrified by your Vicinitude, no Person may be able to get Head; the ambitious English will not effect any Thing: We shall manage the English by Means of the French, whose Vackeel is with us, with whom we have entered into a Treaty. After the present Disturbances are quelled, we shall call in his Troops, and act in the most vigorous Manner, to be a suture Example to others. You will learn further Particulars from the Arzee of Kishen Row Billal. I have nothing to add but Assurances of my Respect.

Intelligence from the Decan; received the 23d of June 1778.

RAGONAUT Row, before he began his March from Bombay, dispatched Ummajee Mahadat to Hyder Naig, informing him, that the English of Bombay were of his Party; and that, it he wished to promote his Interest, he would march from the Jungbudder, and join him; and by Means of their united Force, his Assairs would be satisfactorily concluded. Hyder Naig replied, That he was then engaged in a War, but that as soon as it was at an End, he would attend to his Interests. Ummajee Mahadoa is still with him, (3d of Rubbee Assance, 1st May.)

Siccaram Pundit, Nanna Purnavecle, &c. have written to Hurry Pundit Purdkea and Sindia It appears that they can do nothing without the Concurrence of Hurry Pundit Purdkea, who is become very powerful, having near 60,000 Horse with him, exclusive of the Force under Sindia and Dhousa. Nanna Purnavecse and Hurry Pundit are in their Hearts united in the Design to keep the Government in the Hands of Mhadoo Row, the Son of Narrain Row, and to give the Dewanny to Bajee Row, the Son of Ragonaut Row, an Infant of Three Years old, with Moraba Purnavecse for his Naib, and to leave the Administration in the Hands of Ragonaut Row, until Madho Row and Bajee Row arrive at the Age of Maturity; but that he shall conduct the Business with the Advice of Nanna Purnavecse and Siccaram Pundit, to keep up an Union amongst the several Chiefs, and to transact the Business on the former Plan.

War having been declared between the Courts of Great Britain and France, by the former on the 18th of March, or 18th of Suffer, and by the latter on the 30th of March, or 18th of Rubbee-ul-awal 1192, Hejerce, I am to request of you, in my own Name and that of the Board, as a Subject of the Company, bound to promote their Interest on every Occasion, to contribute your Share of the Burden of the present War, which will equally affect your Interest and ours. It has been determined by the Board, that an Establishment of Three regular Battalions of Scroys, to be commanded by British Officers, be raised and maintained at your Expence, and employed on such Service as the Situation of Assars may require. I have no Doubt but, regarding this Measure equally conducive to your own and the Company's Interest, you will with the greatest Readiness comply; and I hope you will intimate your Consent without Delay.

I have been honoured by the Receipt of your gracious Letter, communicating the Intelligence of a War having broke out between the Courts of Great Britain and France; and defiring me to take on myself a Share of the Burden of Expence. I have been favoured with your Letter, intimating your Consent to the Requisition made to you by this Government as a Subject of the Company, to bear a Part of the Expence of the present War: I am pleased with your ready Comphance; of this indeed I could have no Doubt, as your Interest is equally concerned with the Company's in the Success of it. The Expence of keeping up Three regular Battalions has been calculated, and found to amount to Five Lacks of Rupees per Annum, at which Rate your annual Subsidy has been accordingly fixed; I am therefore to desire in the Name of this Government, that you will pay immediately to Mr. Thomas Graham the Sum of Five Lacks of Muchledar Rupees. Thus you will perform your Duty to the Company, and secure their Favour and Support.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs, Enclosed I have the Honour to transmit you my Accounts for the Hindoo Month of Faugun, or from the 12th February to the 13th March 1778, English Stile, agreeably to the accompanying List.

Lucknow, 4th April 1778. I have, &c. (Signed)

Nath! Middleton,

Resident at the Vizier's Court.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
I have been duly honoured with your Commands of the 9th March; and have the Pleasure to acquaint you, that after being fully afford by Mr. Barwell of Fyzoola Cawn's neither keeping appropriately considerable Force, holding improper Correspondence or Connections, or appearing in any Respect to have violated the Engagements he entered into in his Treaty with the late Nabob Sujah ill Dowla, I communicated to the Vizier the Honourable Board's Permission to me to guarantee on the Part of the Honourable Company, the Treaty sublisting between him and Fyzoola Cawn; provided his Excellency should give his Concurrence to that Permission

The Nabob having approved of the Purposes of Mr. Barwell's Mission, and being assured from

The Nabob having approved of the Purpoies of Mr. Barwell's Mission, and being assured from his Report, and other concurrent Circumstances, that Fyzoola Cawn's Conduct furnished no Grounds of of Accusation by which he could be justified in an Infringement of the Rights confirmed to him by Treaty, readily and without Hesitation consented to a Renewal of the Treaty under Guarantee of the Honourable Company only, fignifying his Expectations that fome complimentary Present, conformable to constant Cuttom, and suitable to his Rank, should be made him by Fyzoola Cawn on the Delivery of the Khelaut: As I could not entertain a Doubt from Fyzoola Cawn's Anxiety for the Completion of this Business under the Sanction of the Honourable Board, but that he would of his own Accord be ready to shew the Vizier such Marks of Gratitude and Respect as would manifest his due Consideration of the great Obligation conferred on him, I prefumed to affure his Excellency he might certainly expect to receive on the Occasion an Acknowledgment not disparaging to his Rank and Dignity, nor betraying in Fyzoola Cawn a delicient Sense of the Benefits he derived from an Alliance with his Excellency. From what I was able to discover in my Conversation with the Vizier, I have Reason to believe he looks not to any Sum which could be confidered as a pecuniary Acquifition, but confines his Expectations merely to such complimentary Nuzzers as are usually offered in Token of Respect by a subordinate to a superior Power on similar Occasions: I have therefore taken upon me to desire Mr. Barwell to represent this Matter in its proper Light to Fyzoola Cawn; and I have no Doubt but that Chief's Concurrence in whatever may be reasonable and proper, will close the Negociation in a Manner entirely fatisfactory to the Vizier.

I have the Honour to enclose for your Perusal Copies of the Vizier's Treaty with Fyzoola Cawn, and of the Obligation which I have entered into in consequence of the Authority you were pleased to delegate to me on the Part of the Honourable Company; and for your more particular Information. I must also beg Leave to trouble you with a complete Transcript of my Correspondence with Mr. Barwell on the Subject of his Mission, commencing with my original Instructions, which I hope will meet with the Honourable Board's Approbation.

In Obedience to your Commands I have referved a Sum in my Hands amounting to Ten Lacks of Rupees, for the Use of the Detachment under Orders of March for Bombay, which I am converting as fast as I possibly can into Gold Mohurs; but so small is the Circulation of Gold Currency in these Parts. and so much is it the Practice among Men of Property to hoard it up, as Riches easily concealed, that I am afraid I shall not be able to procure any considerable Amount within the Time it may be wanted. The Honourable Board however will please to rest assured that no Endeavours or Assiduity on my Part shall be wanting to secure as large a Sum as possible; as Gold Coinage, from the Facility of Carriage, must be infinitely preferable to Silver Specie, which would be extremely bulky and difficult of Conveyance.

The Refervation of fo confiderable a Sum for the Service of the Bombay Detachment has necessarily frustrated my Intention of making the Honourable Board an immediate Remittance; however as the Season of the heavy Collections is now arrived, and the Harvest to all Appearance a very promiling one, I flatter mylelf I shall shortly have replenished my Treasury, so as to admit of my carrying my former Intention into Effect, leaving a Sufficiency for the Exigencies of the Current Service.

I have, &c. Nath! Middleton.

E N D I Χ,

From Nejif Khan; received 10th August 1778.

A Long Space of Time has elapsed since I have had the Pleasure to hear from you, which gives the greatest Pain to a Heart which abounds with Affection for you, and to which the News of your Welfare would communicate the greatest Pleasure. I hope from your sincere Regard for me, that you will number me amongst your most zealous Friends, and will frequently make me happy by your Letters.

In the Course of last Year you were kindly pleased to dispatch Major Hannay, to strengthen and confirm the Ties between us. The Wars in which I was then engaged with Zabita Khan, the Seiks and Marattas, would not admit of my dismissing a certain Person, or of my inviting Major Hannay to come to me and acting agreeably to the Pleasure of the English Chiefs. From these Events the Negociations commenced last Year were suspended.

As I am defirous at all Times and on all Occasions to comply with the Will of the illustrious Chiefs, to which I will never act contrary, I request that you will now give Directions to Major Hannay to repair to me without Delay. God willing, on his Arrival, every Thing shall be done agreeable to the Will of the illustrious Chiefs. My Zeal and Attachment to the Company is firmly rooted in my Heart. Your Excellency may be fully affured that I will never take any Step which may be difagreeable to the illustrious Chiefs; and if the Circumstances and particular Occurrences of the Times, all the Particulars of which are well known to you, necessarily caused a Delay in my Compliance with the Wishes of the illustrious Chiefs, you must not impute it to me as a Fault. I am with my whole Heart and Soul attached to the Company, from whom I have also Expectations of great Advantages. How can it then be supposed that I would act in such a Manner as to dethrey them? Your Excellency may rely on this with the most implicit Confidence, and fend Major Hannay, when every thing shall be conducted agreeably to your Wishes.

Knowing the entirely attached to you, I hope that till I have the Happiness of a Meeting with you, you will favour me with frequent Letters and Commissions, which will be the Cause of the greated Joy to me.

Intelligence of Transactions at the Royal Durbar, from the 1st of Rujjub to the 4th, or from the 26th to the 29th of July; received the 20th August.

A News-paper was presented from the Camp of Nejif Cooley Khan, mentioning, that the faid Khan had taken from the Fort of Shaheepore several Pieces of Artillery, and a Magazine of Grain, and had distributed the latter amongst his Schoys; that having given the Fort into the Charge of one of his Creatures, an Afghan, he marched from thence with Afrascal Khan, against the Fort of Kaesur, where the Sons of Chatter Jaut reside, who not being able to oppose him, commenced a Negociation for the Payment of a further Tribute, which is not yet concluded.

An Arzie was then presented from the Nabob Mujed-ul-Dowlah, setting forth, that the Nabob Zoolfikar-ul-Dowlah had conceived a Hatred to him, and was coming to the Prefence with a Deter. mination to profecute his evil Intentions against him; that this Circumstance, joined to the Clamours of the Sepoys and the Servants of the Mohul, had placed him in the most alarming Situation. His Man jesty having peruled it, replied, the Servants of the Mohul, &c. will undoubtedly intitt on the Pay. ment of their Dues, and with respect to his Accusation of the Nabob Zoolsikar-ul-Dowlah, why does he act in fuch Manner as to draw on himself his Harred and Resentment, he points himself out as the Object of his Vengeance; we are therefore remediless. At this Instant News was brought that the Sepoys had furrounded the House of the Nabob Mujed-ul-Dowlah in a clamorous Manner, on which his Majesty sent a Message to Litasut Ally Khan, to go and appeale the Disturbance; soon aster which an Arzie was prefented from the Nabob Mujed-ul-Dowlah, that Litatut Ally Khan had quelled the Disturbance, but that he had no Money in his Hands from whence to pay them their Arrears, and that notwithstanding he had made the most pressing Instances to the Jewellers to lend Money on the Royal Jewels to receive them in Pawn, agreeable to his Majesty's Directions for raining Money for defraying the Expence of the Nuptials of the Princesses, they had absolutely refused to lend any Money on them. His Majesty having read it, said, It is plain that Mujed-ul-Dowla's evil Day is arrived. Hissum-ul Dowlah made Attempts of the same Nature, and met with the Chastisement of his Demerits. Mujed-ul Dowlah has acted treacherously, and embezzled the Income of the Provinces, and when having no other Resource we ordered our Jewels to be deposited and Money raised on them, he has contrived to frustrate his Intent. It is plain from this that he designs to run himfelf after the Example of Hiffum-ul-Dowlah.

Intelligence of Mujed-ul-Dowlah.

At a Muster taken of the Sepoys there were great Clamours for their Arrears, and many of the Najceb Sepoys infifted on immediate Payment from Rosse Khan their Chief, over whom they placed a Guard. The Nabob being alarmed stationed Guards at his House, with Orders to oppose and chastise any of the Nejub Sepoys who should attempt to enter; on hearing this a Party of them went and attacked the House and penetrated to the Burradery; in this Dilemma the Nabob sent to Litafut Ally Khan, who came and appealed the Rioters with a Promife of full Payment in Three Months, and the Distribution of 16,000 Rupees amongst them in Part of their Arrears.

Untajee and Babojee Holcar have excused their not repairing to the Presence immediately, having their Hands full of Business, and promised to go as soon as they have Leisure; this is a great Disappointment to Mujed-ul-Dowlah, who told their Vackeel that if they came before the Arrival of Nejif Khan they might obtain what they pleased, but after that Event their coming would be needless:

Goolloo, the Eunuch, brought more Jewels from his Majesty, with a Message to Mujed ul Dowlah to borrow 30,000 Rupees on those and the former Jewels, and to deposit them with the Lender. The Nabob lent for Jewellers, and again pressed them to lend Money on them; but they would on no Account consent, saying they would never agree to receive the Royal Jewels in Pawn; that they had much rather be banished the City.

The Nabob Nejif Khan set out from Deeg for Ackberabad on the 3d of Rujjub, 28th of July, and arrived there on the 5th of Rujjub, or 30th July.

stelligence of the Nabob Asoph ul Dowlah, from the 5th to the 8th of Rujjub, from 30th of July to the 2d of August.

The Nabob is highly displeased against Hossein Reza Khan and Hyder Khan: Mr. Middleton oke to him in their Favour, and was answered by the Nabob, "These Two unfaithful Wretches eve ruined both my Family and my Dominions; speak not in their Favour." The Nabob then dicted Meaun Ulmaus to appoint Officers of his own, and fend them into the Districts under his harge, and to pay a Nuzzir of 10 Lacks of Rupees, and he would appoint him to the Niabut in e room of Hossein Reza Khan. Meaun Ulmaus half consented, but it is not yet certain what will the Event.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor Oeneral, President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Esquires. Edward Wheler, EAD the following Letters from Colonel Leslie:

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I beg Leave to transmit you herewith a Duplicate of my Address to you of the 13th instant; since at Period little Alteration has happened in this Quarter.

The Troops of Anroad Sing, alarmed by the Swelling of the Kaine from the heavy Rains that ey have posted themselves between the Pass of Moncaow and the Bed of the River, having thrown Entrenchments with strong Breast Works along the opposite Bank, to defend the Passage of the Ever. The Rajah himself is there with his principal Ministers and Officers, and Himself as the passage of the contract of the Rajah himself is there with his principal Ministers and Officers, and Himself as the passage of the contract of the Rajah himself is there with his principal Ministers and Officers, and Himself as the passage of the contract of the Rajah himself is the passage of the contract of the Rajah himself is the passage of the contract of the Rajah himself is the passage of the Rajah himself is the Rajah himself the Chief Sirdar at Mhow, has joined him with most of his Troops. By all Accounts they are great Consternation at the ill Success of their treacherous Designs. Their Troops are much disartened by the Loss they suffered at Mhow, and are much disgusted at their being kept in the Field aring this Season, labouring under the Want of Provisions and of Cash: They have even declared bey will not stand an Attack of our Troops, whatever their Chiefs may wish to undertake.

Ballajee is, I am informed, making Preparations to receive me on the Sagur Route; and I have had y certain Intelligence, that a Freebooter, formerly in the Service of Janoojee, is on his March to Ballajee with a Body of near 5,000 Cavalry.

Yesterday Evening I received an Express from Mr. Boddam, Chief of Surat, covering a Letter rom the Bombay Presidency. They contain News of a most interesting Nature to the Company's Affairs; and lest any Delay should happen in the Consequence of this Intelligence immediately to Calcutta, I deemed it necessary to transmit Copies of them to the Honourable the Governor General, by an express Cossid last Night. Authenticated Copies of these Letters I now do myself the Honour

o lay before the Board.

My Train of Carriages have undergone a thorough Repair during my Stay here, and I am asing all Speed in compleating my Deficiencies of Draft and Carriage Cattle. A very few Days will enable me to protecute my March, I hope, as I now only wait the collecting the small Stock of Grain to attend my Camp; which Precaution appears absolutely necessary by the Steps Ballajee taking to obstruct my Advance, and the Junction of these Troops will afford him a greater Op-rtunity of attempting it. You may depend on my utmost Attention to the Wish expressed in Bombay Presidency's Letter in using all Expedition; and every Faculty of mine shall be exerted, effect as speedy an Advance as can be made through a Tract of Country yet but little known, d the Delays I must expect to encounter at this Season of the Year, by the Swelling of the iny Nullas and Rivers, which this Country abounds with.

Letter from the Governor General and Council.

Received at Bombay, 27th Sept. 1778. Sel. Conf.

Gentlemen, WE have received your Letters, dated the 25th ultimo, by the Terrible.

That no Time may be lost in conveying our Sentiments to you, we send this by different Routes, to acquaint you, that we approve your Resolution of the 21st July, and authorize your assist Ragoba with a Military Force, to conduct him to Poona, and to establish him in the Regent there, on the following express Provisions:

First. That it do not interfere with any Engagement formed with Moodajee Bouncello by Mis

Elliott, and previous Notice to you by him.

Second. That your latest Advices from Europe shall be equal to an Assurance, that the Force required for this Service may be spared, without endangering the Safety of Bombay, in the Event a French Invasion.

Third. That the Engagement you may form with Ragoba himself, or Moraba and his Associated be not contrary to those concluded with Moodajee by Mr. Elliott, and noticed to you; nor of a hollis Tendency to the Government of Berar.

We are,

Gentlemen,

Your most obedient Servants, Fort William, 17th August 1778.

Extract of Secret Letter from Bombay: Dated 14th March 1778; received in London 29th July 1778.

Par. 2. ENCLOSED is Duplicate of our Address by that Ship * in the Secret Department. We *The Hawk therein fully mentioned the Overtures which had been made to us through Mr. Lewis, for the Assistance of the Company to carry Ragoba to Poona, and our Reasons for not proceeding further in the Business.

3. We have fince had the Satisfaction of receiving the most complete Sanction and Approbation of the Governor General and Council, to the Plan and Principle upon which we had determined to proceed; which that you may the more clearly comprehend, we enclose a Copy of our Minutes, and of the Letter and Resolutions of the Governor General and Council in consequence.

4. The Failure of this promifing Scheme may in a great Measure be ascribed to the Distrust entertained by Ragoba's Friends, of our Want of Power to fulfil our Engagements. Moraba's Words to Mr. Lewis were "If we enter into Business, let us go through it heartily; let there be no Excuse on the Part of the Governor and Council afterwards, that they have received Orders to make a Peace, as they did before." This Objection may be now entirely removed, if the Party are sincere in the Attachment they have professed for Ragoba, and are really desirous of the Company's Assistance to conduct him to Poona. We therefore transmitted to Mr. Mostyn, on the 10th Instant, a Copy of the Resolutions of the Governor General and Council, and have not heard from him since.

5. The Necessity of taking some Measures to anticipate the Designs of the French, and to counteract the Party in the Poona Government, inimical to the Company, appears every Day more imminent. The Governor General and Council's Approbation is too much confined to the particular Plan proposed to hem, without giving us any more general Latitude to act as Circumstances might require, which we had very strongly pressed them to do; so that at last we may be obliged either to hazard the Consequences of acting without Authority from them, or passively behold the very Existence of the Company endangered, without making an Effort to preserve it.

10. From Mr. Mostyn's Advices there appears little or no Prospect of the disputed Articles of the

did not think it safe or prudent to spare the Whole or any Part of the Force we had wrote for; because, as they say, the present Posture of Affairs gives them Reason to apprehend a War with France, and their Establishment was incomplete and insufficient for the Desence of the Possessing to the Nabob, the Company, and the Rajah of Tanjore, whom they had taken lately under their Protection; because the unfinished State of the Fortistications there and at Tanjore would render it unsafe to detach any Part of the Force stationed for their Security, even was their Establishment complete.

PRESENT,

The Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President, and Governor,
The W. John Carnac, Esquire, Daniel Draper,
Nath. Stackhouse, W^m Ashburner,
Andrew Ramsay.

Honourable Sir,

ADDRESSED you early Yesterday Morning, and this is purposely to advise you of the Revolution I have so long expected. About Noon Morabah accompanied by Chintoo Wittul and Iarro, Sunker's Son, with about 10,000 Horse, came and encamped on the other Side of the River, nd immediately sent 50 Horse into Town, 25 of which went to the Palace, and the rest, through II the Streets, directing the Inhabitants in Ragoba's Name to open their Shops, and not to run way, on Pain of Punishment, for they had nothing to fear; the Appearance of so large a Force, without without knowing who they were, had put the Town into the utmost Confusion, and every Body was moving off as fast as possible; at 1 o'Clock Morabah came into Town, and went directly to the Palace to pay his Respects to Perwettybah, who immediately invested him with the Sirapan of Duan, and presented him with the Mutalick, Sicea, Cataree, Nobut, and Terrce Putca; Morabah after removing all the old Chowkies out of the Palace, and placing his own People, also putting a Chowkie on the House of Nana's Duan, and receiving the Compliments of Vissagee Punt Beney, Sadassew Ramchunder, and Janabah, the Governor of the Town, being the only People of Consequence left. returned accompanied by them to his Tent on the other Side of the River. This Letter would have been dispatched in the Evening, but having sent my Man to Morabah with Compliments of Con. gratulation, and to learn what further Steps he intended to take, I waited for his Return. He is this Moment come, and gives me the following Particulars: On his Arrival at Morabah's Tent lie found Morabah with Butchaba Pronder and Chintoo Wittul, were gone to meet Holcar, who is come and encamped about Three Coss off; that Sacram had left Pronder and reached Cowree about Six Coss distant, and would join Morabah in the Morning; that the Whole of their Forces now here amounted to 30,000; this Intelligence I have had confirmed by other Hands, with the Addition, that Crust Row Belal and Mhada Row Jada Roi, were both coming. On Morabah's Return from Holcar, my Man met him, but had only Time to give my Compliments, when Morabah desired him to stay; that he must go to his Victuals, having eat nothing all Day, come 15 Coss in the Morning, and been bufy ever fince; my Man waited until near 11 o'Clock, and finding he did not come out, fent to defire to speak to him; he was sent for, but there was such a Concourse of People to pay their Respects, that Morabah could only return his Compliments, and request I would send him again in the Morning. I am also informed, that after all the Party is met they intend to march to Pronder; it may therefore be some Days before I see Merabah, unless he sends for me; in which Case I shall not hesitate going, as Sacram and in short the whole of the Government except Nannah, are here. I do suppose, they will determine soon to send some Persons of Consequence to Bombay to settle Matters and to attend Ragoba if he comes; in which Case it is probable they will defire me to accompany them, therefore to fave Time I should be glad to have your Direction, on this Point. I am forry to find the Party are likely to fucceed fo eafily, for I fee no Resource Nannah has but to come into Morabah's Terms, or to fly into one of his Forts, which are Logur and Perletgur, but the latter is by most judged to be the Place; should Nannah condescend to make up Matters, I fear it may induce the Party to comply wholly with Ragoba's Treaty; and should Ragoba refuse to accept of their Invitation on any other Terms, Morabah and his Party may look upon themselves as absolved from the Oath they gave to Ragoba, which is the Reason of their having made this Effort, and think no more of them. Our Confideration feems now to be, whether it would not be more advantageous for the Company to recede fomething, and thereby fix Ragoba in the Government with a Body of our Troops, and remain in strict Friendship with the Maratta State, and consequently entirely shut out our natural Enemies the French, and all other Europeans, than by perfifting in a full Compliance of the Treaty, have Ragoba thrown upon our Hands without any further Prospect; at Variance with this Government, leave all Hopes of any suture Advantage from them even by the present Treaty, than what we are in absolute Possession of, and give them an Opening to admit the French or any other Power they please. This is only conjectural, and what has occurred to me may be the Case; for I cannot tell what may be their ultimate Refolutions on this Head until I talk with them.

The Revolution has fet the French Captain at Liberty to come here; I faw him this Evening, and he tells me he has received a Letter from Monsieur Picott, dated Myhie the 29th Januari, informing him that his Ship would leave Pondicherry the 5th February, in Company with the Brilliante; that Monsieur Bellcombe was on board the latter, and purpoles proceeding in her up the Coast as high as Surat, where he intends staying the Rains. I know not what may be his Views, but by the Time he reaches Myhie he will have full Knowledge of Lubin's Conduct and Character here, not only from the Officer of the Vessel he sent up, but also from a Black Spy who talks French, he fent here in the Character of a Merchant, and who found Means to get to live with Lubin, by which Means he got at all his Proceedings. He also learnt from the Captain every Thing respecting him, and what passed between the Durbar and Lubin. Lubin at last heard this Man often visited the Captain, and suspecting his Errand, acquainted Nannah therewith, who directly ordered him to be watched and if possible seized; in consequence the Fellow was one Day pursued, but got off by running into the Captain's House and desired to be secreted; this raised the Captain's Curiofity, and he questioned the Man particularly; when he candidly confessed his Errand, and that he was employed by Bellcombe, who having heard various Reports concerning Lubin and the Captain, fent him to know the Truth, and that he was ordered to meet Bellcombe at Myhie; the Man further told the Captain he came to Poona in Company with Two Madras Pattamars bound to Bombay, who promised to call on him in their Way back; one of these Pattamars was seized, tupposing him to be the Man, but Nannah finding his Mistake only kept him one Night, and next Morning sent him with a Guard out of Town, to prevent his making a Complaint to me; this Assas happened about Twelve Days ago. These Circumstances, with the Views of the Alteration in the Government, will I hope induce Bellcombe to lay afide his Scheme of coming up to Surat. Monfieur Lubin has already met with some Disgrace by Morabah's taking away the Elephant lent him to carry his Colours; and I flatter myself he will soon be glad to quit Poona, unless detained by the Captain, who has Thoughts of complaining to Morabah for Money owing to him by Lubin and get him made a Prisoner; if the Captain cannot do this, he is in Hopes Bellcombe, who is Relation to Belfond the Owner of the Sartine, will stop at Choul and demand of the Government that Lubin be delivered up to him. I will use my Endeavours that Lubin be sent way before this can happen, otherwise it may lead to an Intercourse by no Means for our Interest.

As I do not intend to address you publicly us til I have talked with Morabah or Saccaram Bappoo, or somebody for them, I beg you will be pleased to lay before the Board such Parts of this Letter as you may judge necessary and proper.

Poona, the 27th March, One o'Clock, Morning. I am very respectfully, Honourable Sir, Your most obedient Servant, Tho' Mostyn.

The following Letter to Mr. Mostyn was immediately figned and dispatched from the Council Table.

The President has laid before us your Letter dated the 27th, at One in the Morning.

In the present unsettled State of the new Government, and until we receive more particular Advices from you, we cannot give any precise Directions for your Conduct; but as you are well acquainted with our Views and Sentiments, we do hereby empower you to act as you may think most confiftent with those Views and the Interest of the Honourable Company, until we can give you more particular Instructions.

As it will be of the utmost Importance to effect the Dismission of Monsieur Lubin from Poona before the Arrival of Monfieur Bellcombe, you will use your utmost Address to effect this Point; but in fuch a Manner as not to appear too anxious about it, which the new Government might endeavour to take Advantage of.

PRESENT,

The Honourable William Hornby, Efquire, President and Governor, The W. John Carnac, Esquire, Daniel Draper, Nath. Stackhouse, Will" Ashburner, Andrew Ramfay.

READ the Letter received Yesterday, from the Governor General and Council, &c.

If the French should now succeed in getting an Establishment at Choul, the Consequence must rest entirely with the Governor General and Council, as we have done every thing in our Power to defeat their Defigns; not only by our repeated Representations at the Court of Poona, and our Application to Sir Edward Vernon, but by the Reference we made to the Governor General and Council, whether we should not pursue more active Measures, to prevent the Execution of a Plan so replete with Dangers to the Company's Possessions. Their Answer, now before us, consines our Efforts to an Appeal to the Maratta Government; and If that should fail of Success, the Conequences, as we faid before, must rest with them.

The President lays before us, a Letter to him from Mr. Mostyn, as entered hereaster; by which e find there was to be a Meeting of the principal Members of the new Government about the th or 5th of this Month, when we may expect to receive Proposals respecting Ragoba, and be at ore Certainty with regard to their Intentions, until when we cannot come to any direct Re-full Confirmation of the Grants made by Ragoba; it will be Time enough hereafter to relax in our Demands, if we should find it necessary.

The President acquainting us that Ragoba expresses much Impatience to go over to the Comment, and talks of setting off in a few Days, a Deputation must be sent, to represent to him the Impropriety of such Precipitation, and that Matters are not yet arrived at such a Stage, as to mit of his quitting Bombay with Prudence or Decorum; no Forces having yet marched from Pcc to meet him, nor any Person of Consequence come to invite him. They must also observe to him, will be proper to settle some Terms previous to his Departure, and receive what Offers he man make on the Occasion.

Mestrs. Carnac and Ramsay are appointed a Committee for that Purpose, through whom 6.

Intercourse with Ragoba must be conducted till Matters are settled.

Mr. James Sibbald is to act as Interpreter to the Committee, after being previously sworn Secrety.

Adjourned.

Honourable Sir,

My last Respects were dated the 28th, and informed you Morabah, with the whole Army, ... marched to Cowree to meet Sacram. Yesterday Morning they all proceeded to Currut River 1. Front, and about Two Coss from Pronder, and this Night at Eleven o'Clock, to my very great Mortification, I am from several Hands assured all Matters are accommodated; but in was Manner, they all are or chuse to appear ignorant, except a Carcoon belonging to Tombacker, who was directed to inform me of all that passed. He sends me Word, a Man from Tombacket arrived this Afternoon, and acquaints him, Nanah has agreed to every thing Morabah proposed R. garding Ragoba; but insisted Sacram and Morabah should stand Security that his Life should be tafe; that they were all to meet, and a general Reconciliation to take place this Afternoon, and To-morrow Afternoon the Child would be brought down to receive the Compliments of Moraba (who has never feen him) and of the other Ministers and Officers; and for this Porpose, Moraha To-day sent to Town for some Jewels and Clothes to present him; and in Three or Four Donaster, he expected they would all come to Poona. He further says, that Sacram wanted to apartic, the state of the same to the Manual to the same to point People to the different Offices now, but Morabah desired it might be deferred until Ragola came, when he would appoint whom he pleased. If this Man's Information is true, which I shall know To-morrow Night or next Morning, I do not expect to hear any thing from the until they come to Poona.

At Nine o'Clock this Evening I was honoured with your's and the Board's Command of the 29th. Be affured, Sir, I will exert every Nerve for the Benefit of my Employers. I am perfeetly convinced of the Importance and Utility Bassein would be to us; but I very much fear this Government will not, on any Consideration, be brought to relinquish it; and we mult wait and watch for a future Opportunity to accomplish this Point. The disholical Scheme a Nanah to introduce the French, the most destrustive one surely that could have been thought on for us, has totally changed our System of Politics; and it seems to me best at present, if we cannot do as we will, to do as well as we can; therefore I have been thinking, if we cannot do better, to endeavour to get Jambooseer made over in Perpetuity, in lieu of all Demands we have upon this Government, both for the Company on account of the late War, and for the Merchant Losses, and get rid of this endless Source of Dispute; as much more as we can for our Expences and Trouble on account of Ragoba fince the War, and Security in Hand for any Troops we may affect Ragoba with; for they have not Money to give us. All this I mean exclusive of Uptonia Treaty: I mention these Particulars, that no Time may be loft when I come to talk with Monager I mention these Particulars, that no Time may be loft when I come to talk with Monager I mention these Particulars, that no Time may be loft when I come to talk with Monager I mention these Particulars, that no Time may be loft when I come to talk with Monager I mention these Particulars, that no Time may be loft when I come to talk with Monager I mention these Particulars, that no Time may be loft when I come to talk with Monager I mention these Particulars, that no Time may be loft when I come to talk with Monager I mention these particulars are the particulars.

bah, and wish to be favoured with your Sentiments on this Head.

I would wish that you would not permit Ragoba to come over, until I have talked and settled Mat ters with Morabah; but the Objection should appear to come from Ragoba, which he can with great Propriety make, by observing, that no one of sufficient Consequence was come over to accompany him; and I know no Force is yet come down to receive him. I am also pretty clear Morabah (if le can be believed) will not take any further Steps in this Business, without acquainting us; nor does to expect Ragoba will come over, without proper People being fent to receive him, or that he will true himself without a Body of our Troops to accompany him the whole Way, and I think to remain. I judge Two Battalions and a Train. As to Dada Punt, he wishes to distinguish himself; but Tombacker told me he was only sent with the Letters, and no Doubt he may be directed to sound the Ground, and possibly ordered to wait and come with Ragoba, but who I hope will not be in too great a Hurry; if he is, our Business may be ruined. I hope in a few Days to give you all Particulars, and think the Whole may be accomplished in a little more than a Month. I will take Care the necessary Orders are given for Bullocks, &c. I know not well what to do with the Chickley, &c. Purgunnahs: I could wish to have them deferred being settled for the present, as I know Morabit and Holkar mean to place Govind Row in the Guzerat Country. Possibly some lucky Citeumitaries may turn up from the Change, or that Ragoba will have Influence enough with Govind Row, to let us keep them.

You may depend I will use every Endeavour for the Knight's being dispatched, and with the ne ceffary Precaution. Morabah, the Day he marched for Cowree, removed the old Guard, and placed one of his own, with Orders not to suffer any thing to be carried out of the Garden where he lives, but not to prevent his going about where he pleates. I hear he is keeping People at his own Expence; but this I believe is to protect himself against the Captain, who swears Vengeance against signed the following Letter to the Resident at the Durbar:

The President has laid before us your Letter, dated the 31st March; in consequence of which we think it necessary to direct that you do not at present give the Durbar any Hopes that we will recede in the least Degree from the Stipulations made for the Company, in the Treaty with Ragoba. It will be foon enough to relax from our Demands fonie Time hence, if we should find the fame neceffary.

We do not doubt your Diligence or Address; but our Anxiety on account of the French leads us to repeat our Directions, that you exert yourself to the very utmost to defeat their Designs. The Conduct of the new Members of the Durbar on this Occasion will be a Criterion to us to judge of their

ECEIVED the following Letter from Mr. Mostyn at Poona:

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

My last Respects were dated the 6th, and early this Morning I was favoured with your Commands

On the 8th I received a Letter from the Durbar, fealed with the Maratta Sicca, requesting I would repair to his Camp with all possible Expedition; I accordingly arrived the same Evening. Yesterday Afternoon I had a Meeting with Morabah, when he informed, that the Reason for the Durbar sending for me, was to request I would accompany Gopul Naigue Tumbacker, who they were going to fend to Bombay with Proposals regarding Ragoba; to which I replied, I thought it was proper the Durbar should inform your Honour, &c. thereof in Writing; which he promised should be done. This Afternoon Morabah sent to request I would meet him at Saccram Bappoo's Tent; accordingly, short Time after he had passed I set out, but before I had reached Saccram's Camp they had gone to Nannah's Encampment close to Pronder Hill, whither Tumbacker defired I would also go. On any Arrival Nannah received me in the Public Tent, where he desired I would wait a few Minutes, The Durbar were in Council. In a fhort Time I was introduced, when I found the Durbar Bembled in Form, viz. Butchaba Pronder, Sacram Bappoo, Morabah Furneese, Nannah Furneese, Fust Row Belil, Nuda Row Sadá Roi, Gopal Naigue Tumbacker, Buchaba's Brother, and Crust ow's Sorl. After the usual Compliments, Sacram began the Conversation by saying, that the urbar had formerly requested I would go to Bombay on some Business for them, and they now made the Durbar were in Council. In a short Time I was introduced, when I found the Durbar Request I would accompany a Person they were going to send to Bombay on the Business which Mobals had already acquainted me with; to which I made the same Answer as I had done to Morabah, when they delivered me the enclosed Letter for the Honourable the President, referring me to Morabah for further Particulars on this Business. Sacram then said, that the Durbar had received Letter from the Governor General, mentioning his having been informed that this Government is given a Port to the French, and appointed Monsieur St. Lubin to the Charge of the Tope Korta, here; he therefore asked me, if to my Knowledge such was the Case? I replied, that no such Conficunts and Council, sinding the Durbar, notwithstanding their tokemin Promises to dispatch us last Decta and Council, sinding the Durbar, notwithstanding their tokemin Promises to dispatch us last Decta had detained him until this Time, should believe such was the Case. I then desired they would be form me what were their real Motives with respect to the French; when Sacram replied, that the then had under Consideration the dispatching Monsieur St. Lubin. I have also received Assurance from Morabah, both Yesterday and this Evening, since his Return to his Tent, that this Point should be settled as we wish.

I shall strictly obey your Commands, with respect to not giving the Durbar any Hopes of you Honour, &c. receding in the least from the Treaty entered into with Ragoba; indeed, I have even endeavoured to instill this Idea into the Minds of the Ministers, and have always recommended, at the most eligible Method, their sending a proper Person to settle Assars both with your Honour, &c and Ragoba at Bombay; which you will please to observe by the foregoing I have essected, and hope my Conduct will meet with your Approbation.

APPENDIX, N° 90.

Bombay Secret Consultations, the 16th April 1778.

RECEIVED the following Letter from Mr. Mostyn.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I have been honoured with your Commands of the 8th Inflant.

Before the Receipt of your Letter, a Pair of Pattamars, dispatched from the Presidency of Madra on the 3d, acquainted me that they had been stopped at Baramooty, and sent from thence to Mora bah, who had ordered them to me. I immediately sent the Linguist to represent to him that this was the Second Time our Pattamars had been stopped since the late Change in Government, and requested he would prevent the like in future; to which he replied, that he was extremely forty it had so happened, but that he having given Orders to stop all Letters, to prevent an improper Correspondence from the other Party, and his having forgot in the Hurry of Business to except English Letters, to Chowkies had of course intercepted them; he had however issued the necessary Orders for our Pattamar's passing freely. The Pattamars, your Honour, &c. mention to have been stopped at Baramooty, came to me at Poona; I asked them particularly if any Letters had been taken out of the Packet? when they declaring there had not, and that only the Wax-cloth Covering had been opened, I directed them to proceed to Bombay; however on the 12th Instant, in conformity to your Orders at a Meeting I had with Morabah, I made a Second Representation to him, and asked him if he had taken any Letters from those Pattamars? when he repeated his Assurances of the foregoing Day, and declared he had not taken any Letter, nor did he know of any one else doing so.

The Durbar having been much engaged for some Days past, I had not an Opportunity of meeting with Tumbacker until this Morning, when he affured me, that he should be invested with full Powers to settle both with your Honour, &c. and Ragoba; that a full Durbar is to be held To-morrow for his final Instructions and Dispatch; that he is to leave this Place To-morrow Night, and after staying a Day or Two at most at Poona, shall proceed with all Expedition to the Presidency by the Way of l'annah, in order to avoid going in a Boat.

I am, very respectfully, Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

Bombay Secret Consultations, the 20th April 1778.

Received the following Letter from the Resident at Poona.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I addressed you last on the 14th Instant, and not having heard any Thing from Morabah concerning Fumbacker's leaving the Camp, notwithstanding his Assurances that he should do so as the next Evening, on the 16th at Night I sent to request Morabah would inform me the Reason thereof; when he replied, that Matters were not fully adjusted with the Durbar; but that they were all to meet the ext Morning at his Tent, and defined I would meet them. Accordingly Yesterday, about Eleven 'Clock, I waited on the Durbar, where I sound assembled Butchaba, Morabah, Chintoo Wittal, 'ookojee Holcar, Narroo Punt, (Holcar's Duan) Dadoo Punt Pootness, Gopal Naigue Tumbacker, and one of Holkar's principal Officers. Morabah began the Discourse by telling me, that every lody present requested I would shew Ragoba they consistend the Agreement formerly made with interest and to desire that he would not believe what any malicious Persons might write to the contrary.

The Durbar not mentioning any Thing of empowering Tumbacker to fettle Terms with your Honour, &c. agreeable to what he had affured me on the 14th; I endeavouted to found the Intentions of the Durbar with respect to what they meant to do for the Company, by observing to them that there had been Two Treaties entered into, and the other by Colonel Upton, with the late Durbar; when Morabah replied, that this Point would be easily settled after Dada Sahib's Arrival at Poona; and indeed this Method, which I hope will meet with your Approval, will in the present Situation of Assairs, I am of Opinion, be most for the Interest of my Employers, as well as Ragoba's Credit, who I make no doubt will for his own Honour consider the Treaty made with him as the only legal one: It is true he may perhaps at First be under such Restrictions as not to be able immediately to comply therewith; yet if he acts with Prudence, and endeavours to conciliate the Minds of the Ministers, and convince those who have been in the Opposition that he means faithfully to observe any Agreement he shall make now for the Sasety of their Persons and Property, I make no doubt he may in a short Time have the uncontrolled Management of Assairs.

No Notice being taken at the above Meeting with the Durbar of Tumbacker's Departure, I sent he Linguist to defire he would inform me when he was to set off; he replied, that he did not suppose t would be until Morabah's Man, Daddoo Punt, who arrived from Bombay in the Morning, and was mmediately returning thither, should either return to Camp, or write to them; but that he would end me Word as soon as he could speak with Certainty. The Arrival of Daddoo Punt explains in ome Shape the Durbar's Reason for detaining me so long, he having brought a Letter with him from Ragoba, and I apprehend some Terms to be settled with his Friends here, to which he is carrying heir Answers.

In the Evening I took my Leave of Morabah, when he delivered me a Letter to be presented o the Honourable the President on my Arrival.

Poona, 8th April 1278. — I am with Respect,
I Ionourable Sir, and Gentlemen,
Your most obedient Servant,
Tho Mostyn.

Extract of Secret Letter from Bombay: Dated 26th April 1778; received in London 21st December 1778.

- 2. THE several Letters from Mr. Mostyn, entered in our Ship Diary since the Departure of the Hawke, will inform you of his Proceedings, and all material Occurrences at Poona, till the 29th ultimo; when the President received Advice from him of a Revolution which had taken place in that Government on the 26th.
- 3. On that Day Morabah Furneese and his Party, after having marched from their different Stations, met and encamped close to Poona, which they immediately took Possession of, and without any Opposition or Bloodshed, removed the Guards placed by Nannah Furneese at the Palace, and other Officers of Government, making Proclamation in the Name of Ragoba for restoring Peace and good Order in the City.
- 4. Morabah, after having affumed the Office of Duan, and made his Arrangements at Poona, proceeded to have an Interview with Sacaram Bappoo, the late Chief Minister, with whose Concurrence Rep. VI.

he appears to have proceeded from the Beginning, as you will recollect Morabah made use of his Name in his First Overtures to us, and they have acted in concert ever since.

5. Nannah Furneese, the other Minister, after hesitating for some Time what Conduct to pursue, we are assured has agreed to all the Terms Morabah has proposed respecting Ragoba, on Condition that Morabah and Saccaram would be Security for his personal Safety.

6. The Confederacy having thus accomplished their Purpote without our Affistance, and having no further Opposition to expect from Nannah Furneese, preserved a long and most mysterious Silence with regard to their Intentions towards Ragoba. Morabah had indeed, a few Days before he took Possession of Poona, sent an Agent to Ragoba, to press him to join the Party without a Moment's Delay, but did not make any Proposals of any Kind either to him or us.

7. It was not till the 10th of this Month that Mr. Mostyn was desired to meet the Durbar, when he was acquainted they were going to fend Gopal Naigue Tumbacker (who is a Person of Confideration) to Bombay, with Proposals regarding Ragoba, and a Request made to him to accompany this Person. We were in daily Expectation of their Arrival till the 20th, when we received Advice from Mr. Mostyn, that the Durbar had not yet given Gopal his final Instructions, and it seemed even then very uncertain when he would set out, though they professed Sentiments of great Respect and Regard towards Ragoba.

8. We can draw no very favourable Conclusions from this dilatory Conduct of the Durbar; and as we do not think it consistent that the Company's Resident should come to Bombay upon every Requisition from the Durbar, before he is satisfied such a Measure is really necessary, or may be attended with Benefit to the Company's Affairs, we have expressed our Wishes to Mr. Moslyn, but in such a Manner as not to lay an absolute Restraint upon him, that he should not quit Poona before he is convinced his coming here will answer some Business of Importance; and we have observed to him, that he may with great Propriety demand from the Durbar, before he sets out, the Nature of the Business they want to intrust to him, that he may judge whether it is of sufficient Consequence to require his Presence here. The Recollection of the tristing Proposals they committed to him on his last Journey to Bombay makes this Precaution the more necessary.

9. In this uncertain Situation are Affairs at present: We can neither write or determine any thing

sacaram Bappoo's extreme Caution, were prevented from taking a Part, Morabah and his Party have found their own Strength sufficient to gain their Point without our Assistance. We did, as advised in our Address by the Cormorant, do all we could to remove their Scruples the Moment we received the Sanction and Approbation of the Governor General and Council to our Plan, and Morabah promised to give us the desired Instrument, under the Hand of Sacram Bappoo, the Chief Munister, without whose express Solicitation we were prohibited from engaging in their Scheme; and are not without Suspicion, that when the Confederacy found they might be certain of our Assistance in case of Necessity, they resolved to make Trial if they could do without it; and unhappily they have met with Success.

or whether they will admit him to any Share at all. Their Fears for the Stability of their Government to long as Ragoba remains with us, and the Demonstrations we have given of our Attachment to him, are now his best Security, and we still hope will lead them to offer consistent Terms to him. All that we can write about the Terms for the Company must be mere Conjecture, though we have instructed Mr. Mostyn not to give the Durbar the least Hopes we will recede from Ragoba's Treaty. We can only assure you, that we will endeavour to procure the most advantageous ones we possibly can; and we firmly believe, if Ragoba is admitted to a sufficient Instuence in the Government, he will consirm his former Grants made by the Treaty of Surat.

12. Immediately on receiving Advice of the Revolution, we gave Orders for our Forces and Military Apparatus to be held in Readiness, to accompany Ragoba to Poona, the Moment Matters are advanced to that Stage.

13. Ragoba is extremely fanguine on the Occasion, and betrays so much Impatience to move towards Poona, that we find it necessary to send Messrs. Carnac and Ramsay, as a Deputation from us, to expossulate with him on the Precipitancy of his Conduct, and to endeavour to moderate his Impatience. Their Conferences with him are recorded; to which we beg Leave to refer you.

22. Two of Ragoba's principal Domestics having applied to us for a Loan of Rupecs 15,000, we complied with their Request, as they stand high in his Confidence, and might be of Service to the Company, in the Turn Affairs were then likely to take.

23. Ragoba, at one of his Conferences with Messis. Carnac and Ramiay, took Occasion to express his Wishes, that when he was reinstated at Poona, the Company would afford him their Assistance to recover the large and valuable Territories dismembered from the Maratta Dominions, during the Weakness of the late Administration, by Grants to the Nizam and other Powers. He was acquainted, we could give no Answer to such a Proposition; and it is at his particular Desire we mention this Matter to you, and request your Orders and Sentiments on the Subject.

24. Having hitherto received no Satisfaction from the Durbar to the Sufferers by the Wreck Aurora, notwithstanding our repeated Representations, we have fixed the Amount of their Loss as a

Claim

Laim upon the Revenues of Jambooseer, after the Company's Demands on Account the Twelve Lacks, and the Country of Three Lacks, are made good; and have resolved not to restore the Perjumph till the Sum due to the Sufferers is discharged, with Interest. Our Proceedings will shew the Care we took to examine and ascertain the Amount for which the Poona Government was aniverable, according to Treaty, with all possible Justice to both Parties; and we doubt not you will approve the Method we have taken to obtain Satisfaction for Merchants trading under your Prolection.

25. The Governor General and Council, in pursuance of their Resolution for supplying us with soney to support the Engagements they concluded we should form in favour of Ragoba, have relitted us Bills to the Amount of Nine Lacks and a Half out of Ten Lacks, the proposed Supply; that if Matters at Poona turn out to our Wishes, we shall leave a sufficient Command of Money to assert the Purpose.

PRESENT,

The Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor,
The W. John Carnac, Esquire, D. Draper,
Nathaniel Stackhouse, Will^m Ashburner,
Andrew Ramsay.

ONSIDERING the Station Mr. Mostyn holds at Poona, we think it is not consistent that he should come to Bombay upon every Intimation from the Ministers of such a Desire, unless he lift statisfied that such a Measure is necessary, or may be of Benesit to the Honourable Company's fairs. In the present Case we do not wish Mr. Mostyn should quit Poona before he is convinced this coming here will answer some Purpose of Consequence; and we think he may with very great opricty demand from the Durbar before he sets out, the Nature of the Business they now want to ensure to him, that he may judge whether it is of sufficient Importance to require his Presence here. Is Precaution appears the more necessary from the Recollection of the trissing Proposals they computed to him on his last Journey to Bombay; though we do not mean by the above to restrain Mr. Mostyn from acting in this Point as he may judge most for the Honourable Company's Interest. From the present Signation of Assairs, we do not think there is any Prospect of our having Occation for the Bengal Troops this Scason; and therefore in order to save the heavy Expence that will be

From the present Situation of Assairs, we do not think there is any Prospect of our having Occafor for the Bengal Troops this Scason; and therefore in order to save the heavy Expence that will be incurred by their marching forward, it is agreed to write to the Commanding Officer at Culpee to regian there till he hears further from us.

Mcsfrs. Draper and Stackhouse are clearly of Opinion that the Governor General and Council having been induced, by our Advices of the 7th of December last, to order a Body of Troops to the Assistance of this Presidency, and they do not think our Situation is so much altered either with respect to the Marattas, the probable Designs of the French upon Choul, or our own Military Resources, as to justify the countermanding the March of these Troops; they do not therefore concur in the above Resolution, which will throw the whole Responsibility upon us in case of Accidents. Another Reason for their Opinion is, that it seems very uncertain whether any Reinforcement will be sent from Madras, no public Advices having been yet received of any such Intention in the President and Council, though a public Pattamar arrived last Night.

The Majority hereupon esteem it necessary to observe further in Vindication of their Resolution, that the Dissipation of the March from Culpee to Bombay are so great as to make the Attempt next to impracticable, and they would not upon any Account expose the Company's Troops to such Dangers thout the most absolute and imminent Necessity. Besides, it is totally out of our Power to procure implies of Provisions for them on the March, or Passes from the different Powers through whose countries they must come, as desired by the Governor General and Council. The Majority allow that estimates they must come, as desired by the Governor General and Council. The Majority allow that estimates they must come, as desired by have in a great Measure been led to that Resolution by our dvices, but at the same Time their Apprehensions of a French War must have been a further increment to them to order so considerable a Body of Troops, which by our Advices from Europe of a uch later Date than they could have at Bengal, we do not see any Reason to apprehend: And fresore the Majority think the subjecting the Honourable Company to so heavy an Expence would unavoidably attend the March of the Bengal Troops, would not be warrantable.

Bombay Selett Confultations, 22d April 1778.

The Subject of a Conference between the Committee and Ragoba, 10th April 1778.

The Committee acquainted Ragoba, That for material Reasons the Board would wish him to postpone his Intentions of moving to Mahim on Monday next, unless he was very much bent up a to doing. They informed him, that the Honourable the Prefident had just received a Letter from Mr. Mostyn, of the 8th Instant, advising, that he was that Evening to have an Interview with Moraba, who had Propositions to make on the Part of the Ministry, and tha, until the Refulca the Conference was known, he could wish that no fresh Steps should be taken either by Ragoba c the Board. Ragoba replied, that he did not regard deferring his Intentions of moving a few Day would the Board but positively fix upon a Time for his March; and hoped that the Refult of the Interview with Moraba would occasion no material Alterations in the Resolutions of the Board, he well knew that unless the English would declare in the most open Manner their Determinated to support him in his just Rights, and take some immediate Steps to convince the present Faction at Broach of such our Intentions, that even those who had already declared in his Favour, would begin to waver through Diead of Resentment from the other Party; and he would affure the Boat that the Propositions they would receive would be very unbecoming his Dignity to accept. The Committee assured him he might rely upon the Friendship of the Company, and in having that Support in all his just and legal Rights and Pretensions; but that at the same I me the Board though it advisable to wait the Overtures that might be expected in consequence of the aforesaid Inteview. With this he appeared fatisfied; but expressed a Wish of moving on Monday next to a Spa of Ground near the Mount, provided the Board approved of it. The Committee acquainted him that the Board by no Means wished to put any Restraint upon his Inclinations, and would make known to them his Defire in this Particular. He took Occasion to mention his earnest Defire of length the Company in Possession of the Places Ripulated for in his late Treaty with them; and observed that his principal Motive for wishing to march by the Way of Callian was, that Vistagee Punt would most probably be thereby induced to make an early Acknowledgment of Obedience to his Govern ment, when he meant to embrace the Opportunity of putting the Company in Possession of Basson He also expresses a Desire of seeing a Statement of his Accounts with the Company, as he was acquainted with the Expences and Charges incurred by the Assistance of their Troops in the let Service; as also of the Collections made from the Purgunnahs affigned over to the Company. The Committee acquainted him his Request should be complied with, and then took their Leave, assuing him, that the Moment any fresh Advices arrived from Mr. Mostyn, that they should be made known to him.

To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor, &c. Members of Select Committee at Bombay.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

Y last Respects were dated the 17th Instant.

By a Hircarrah whom I keep at Camp, I learn that Morabah, Buchabah, Chintoo Vittel, and Crustrow Belol, on the 17th in the Asternoon, paid Monsieur St. Lubin a Visit, and the shorts.

APPENDIX, Nº94.

shortly after their Return to Morabah's Tent, Monsieur St. Lubin followed them, where he staid until Eight o'Clock, when Morabah made him a Present; that on the 20th Nanah came down from the Matchy to pay Succaram a Visit at Bury, when they sent for Monsieur St. Lubin to take Leave, and accordingly waited on them. Notwithstanding these Appearances of Monsieur St. Lubin being dispatched, it is still a Doubt with me whether he will leave Poona, but even if he does, it will only be in order to lull us into a Belief of the good Intentions of this Durbar, whilst they have Recourse to the French for Assistance, a Door for which has already been opened by Monsieur St. Lubin's Negociations with Nanah, and which have been lately taken up by Morabah; as you will please to observe by the enclosed Copy and Translate of a Letter I have received from a Person at Proonder, who, from the Knowledge I have of him, I do not think would deceive me; but as he is not in the Government's Service, and might possibly be deceived by the Person from whom he received his Intelligence, therefore, though this Letter was received the 19th, it containing Matters of such Importance I thought it proper to wait until I could receive a Constitution thereof from some other Quarter, that the Loss of a few Days would not be attended with so much Prejudice as a Misrepresentation.

From a Perion, whose Employ in the Government's Service is such as to give him frequent Opportunities of knowing what passes, I have received Information that when Crustrow Belol was last in Town, it was agreed between him and Monsieur St. Lubin to make the same Proposal to Morabah as he had formerly done to Nanah with respect to the French assisting him; that in consequence thereof Crustrow went first to Proonder in order to prepare Morabah; and that Monsieur St. Lubin on his first Visit accordingly made the Proposal, when Morabah replied, He would consider of it; but that in the mean Time receiving Intelligence from Moodajee Bouncello of our Troops coming from Bengal being near Naugpore, Morabah dispatched Monsieur St. Lubin at his Second Visit.

I am informed by a Man, who fays he is a Doctor in Scindy's Employ, but has for some Time past resided in Poona, that Senhor Norronho a few Days ago wrote a Letter to the Person who transacts his Business in Poona, acquainting him of his having received Information from Crustrow Belol, that Monsieur St. Lubin had engaged with Morabah to bring Five hundred Europeans hither in Forty Days, and that Morabah had promised him, Lubin, the Command of the Tost Counah. The Man farther added, that in consequence of this Promise, Monsieur St. Lubin had inveigled away almost all Norronho's People, by advancing them from Fifteen to Twenty Rupees a Man, and promifing to make good the Arrears of Pay due to them, but at the same Time ordered them to remain quiet in Poona, until he should call for them; however, that Senhor Norronho getting Intelligence of this Transaction, has, by paying out of his own Pocket the Arrears due to them from Government, induced all his People to return to his Service, and they accordingly went to him at Proonder on the 21st. This Man further tells me, that Eight Europeans, who have lately deserted from our Service, entered into that of Monsieur St. Lubin on the 20th, that he has Two Men, one a French Man named Le Bourchadiez, who came from Mahé, the other a Portugueze, at Bombay, purposely to entice our Europeans to defert, and that these People sent them to Panwell in Two Boats, which Monsieur St. Lubin has provided for that Purpose, and which are constantly employed between that Place and Bombay. It will undoubtedly appear somewhat strange that Crustrow Belol, who is Monsieur St. Lubin's Agent, should give the Information above-mentioned to Senhor Norronho; it is therefore necessary, in order to explain this Point, to inform your Honour, &c. that as Crustrow was the Person who brought Norronho from the Mogul's into this Government's Service, he has always confidered him as immediately under his Protection.

I have thought it necessary to be thus particular in mentioning the different Accounts I have received of Morabah's Transactions with Monsieur St. Lubin, and the Honours paid the latter so far superior to any they have ever shewn the English, in order that you may, Gentlemen, be better enabled to judge of the Probability of his having formed a Connection so highly prejudicial to our Honourable Employers Interests. I am convinced of the Impossibility of the French supplying Two thousand Men; but at the same Time I think it is very probable that they may have it in their Power to send Five hundred at least, as soon as the Season will admit: At any rate, all Accounts agree, that the new Administration have entered into some Engagements with the French very dangerous to our Existence on this Side India.

On the 22d, I received your Commands of the 16th; and, conformable to your Directions, immediately forwarded the Letters enclosed therein for Colonel Leslie, with one from myself, by different Routes.

The Remonstrance and Demands you have been pleased to order me to make to the Durbar, is drawn out, and shall be sent as soon as it can be properly translated into the Gentoo Language. I have already acquainted you, Gentlemen, that I am assured the French have not got a Grant of Choul; but that Promise thereof was made to Monsseur St. Lubin, appears from Crustrow Belol's Confession at the Durbar before Mr. Lewis; and I am convinced they will not only get that, but much more, the Moment they can afford the Assistance Monsseur St. Lubin has promised. I have used every possible Means to obtain a Copy of the Engagement entered into between Nanasi and Monsseur St. Lubin; but as no other Person than those Two, with the Linguist the latter, were employed in drawing it up, it is totally impossible; nor do I know of any teps having been taken for the carrying it into Execution, excepting Monsseur St. Lubin being trmitted to remain here, in direct Violation of the most solemn Assurances to us, that he should Rep. On the 23d, one of the Pattamars dispatched by the Honourable the President with Letters to Holkar and Scindy, came and informed me that they had all been feized at Culvern, immediately on their crossing Tanna River, and carried to Billapore, the Subadar of which Place fent them to one Dandaker, the Officer commanding the Troops at Gallican, who dispatched Three of the Pattamars under Charge of Two of his own Sepoys with the Letters to Morabah, detaining the other a Day longer; and after plundering him of the Trifle he had, being Five Rupees, told him he might go about his Business, when the Man made the best of his Way to me. I have acquainted Holkar of this Circumstance, desiring he would apply to Morabah for the Letters. I have likewise written to Morabah, expressing my Surprise at this Conduct, desiring, should he not have delivered the Letters, that he would fend them to me.

Monsieur St. Lubin returned from Proondur last Night, being supplied by Morabah with Twenty. five Peons, Two Jassoods, and Four Camels, which it is given out are to attend him as far as Translate of a Letter from a Person at Proondur; dated the 21st Rabellacar, and received the 19th May

At Noon I received your Note by Shirhjee, and observed the Contents thereof. Morabah had had Two Councils regarding the French. He told Monsieur St. Lubin, he had made an Agreement with Nanah to bring 2,000 Europeans within Fifteen Months, which he had not yet complete with; but that if it is in his Power to fulfil that Engagement, Morabah desired he would send for a them with Ammunition, so as to be here before the Battalions can arrive from Calcutta; which Monheur St. Lubin agreed to, and dispatched a Letter express to his Place.

Monsieur St. Lubin is dispatched, and Morabah wants him to go away in order to hasten the Troops he has promised; but he says he will remain here and send a Man with Letters for them; this they are at present considering about.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I late last Night received the Secretary's Letter of the 22d, and shall obey your Orders for for warding the Packets to the Governor General and Council.

After closing my last Address to your Honour, &c. I received a Note from Morabah, enclosing Three Letters for the Governor General, being Answers to those delivered by Mr. Lewis, which he requests I will forward.

This Morning I received a Note from Proondur, acquainting me, that in consequence of our Troops from Bengal advancing, and a Report of Hyder's Army marching this Way, Morabah Sacaram and Holkar had a Consultation; when they determined on sending Chintoo Wittul and Gopal Naigue Tumbuckur to meet me: The latter arrived this Morning, and the former was to leave Proondur about Noon. This Evening Gopal Naigue fent a Message, desiring I would send the Linguist to him; who on his Return informed me that he confirmed the Note so far that they will meet me To morrow, to request I will accompany Chintoo Wittul to Bombay with Proposals respecting Ragoba: You may depend, Gentlemen, I shall advise you of the Particulars of the Conversation as early as possible.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Mostyn to the President; dated Poona the 26th May, and read in Council the 2d of June.

The Remonstrance the Board have been pleased to direct me to make to the Durbar I could wish had not been sent; I have advised them it shall be delivered as soon as translated; but for the following Reasons I intend to detain it until I can be favoured with your Answer to this Letter: First, Because the Durbar to pursue their present Plan of amusing you and gaining Time to carry their Views respecting the French into Execution, will undoubtedly promise to comply therewith: Secondly, Because it entirely debars us from all further Expectation either for ourselves or Ragoba, and we may be saddled with him as long as he lives: Thirdly, Because the Durbar are amongst themselves much divided; Holkar urging them to bring Ragoba, in which Scindy will most likely concur; and also seeing us determined to be no longer trifled with, should they be inclined to make any Offers worth our Acceptance, this Remonstrance will certainly put a Stop to them.

Lastly, Because the Time fixed for the Durbar to deliver their Answer, and by the Time it can be transmitted to you, the Rains will be set in, therefore the Delay of a few Days can be of no material Consequence, in case you should still think it proper to be delivered. Therefore I flatter myself you will approve my Conduct, and speedily savour me with your Commands on it. Excuse me, Sir, for having given my Sentiments thus freely, and I beg Leave to intreat you will put a favourable Construction on them; my only Wish being, that you should be informed of every Thing that can be of any Use in your Deliberations upon this important Matter. Scindy is advanced within Twelve Coss of Proonder; I hourly expect an Answer from him and Holkar regarding the Districts; your Letters to them you will perceive by the public Address are stopt and carried to Morabah; I have wrote both Morabah and Holkar about it. By a Note from Proonder this Evening, I am informed the Durbar have Intelligence that the Bengal Forces are on the Banks of the Nerbedah, and taking the Road for Brampore, but as I have had repeated Reports of this I don't give entire Credit to their being advanced to far, as I think I should have heard from them by this Time if they were. From Butchaba I learn to Night that the Durbar has wrote to Moodajec Bouncello, to defire the Officer of our Troops in a friendly Manner to return; if he will not, then to endeavour to make him by Force, and should be want any Assistance to advise them (the Durbar) but I am under no Apprehensions on his Account, as I hear he stands well with the Bengal Gentlemen. The only Danger I think to be apprehended for the Army is their Want of Provisions, from their having no Horse with them to forage.

To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire.

Honourable Sir,

Agreeable to what I wrote you last Night, this Morning both Tombiker and Chintoo Wittul waited on me, when they informed me they were fent on purpose to request I would accompany Chintoo Wittul to Bombay, with some Proposals to Ragoba; I made the same Objections I had done to the Durbar before, that I did not fee any Necessity for my going unless the Durbar would explain them. felves, particularly after the evalive Manner they have behaved with respect to this Business. They made me the same Answer the Durbar had done, that it was to affure Ragoba of their good Intentions towards him. I told them that I confidered this all Finesse, only intended to gain Time and gop our Troops from Bengal advancing, for had they been fincere the Durbar would long fince have dispatched me, and sent away Monsieur St. Lubin, but that I was convinced from the extraordinary Attention Morabah and the Durbar had paid him, the former had taken up Nana's Plan, and entered into the same Engagement with Monsieur St. Lubin. This they positively denied, though they acknowledged Lubin had made the Tender to Morabah, who replied, as long as they were in Friendship with the English this Government would not enter into any Alliance with any other European Nation, and that he, Morabah, had absolutely dispatched him. I replied, that it was very true, Monsieur St. Lubin had been publicly dispatched, but it was only with a View to blind us, and perhaps others; however, that I had in my Possession what I esteemed as a sufficient Proof of my Allegation; and produced Copy of a Letter written by Monsieur St. Lubin to the Captain General of Goa, by Monfieur De Sauty, which I luckily this Morning procured. They answered it was possible Monsieur St. Lubin might have written in that Manner, but denied my being able to produce any Writing from the Durbar: Upon which I observed it was the Art of this Durbar not to give any Thing under their Hands, that they might have an Opportunity of denying it, and that it was for this Reason, before I could give Credit to their having finally dispatched Monsieur St. Lubin, on a Promise to proceed to Bombay with Chintoo Wittul, that I insisted on a Writing from the Durbar with their Seal affixed, to the following Effect; "That in order to satisfy the English Company, they declared they had not at prefent, nor would have so long as they continued in Friendship with the English, any Treaty with the French, or fuffer the French to trade in any of their Ports," being exactly conformable to the Promifes made me by Saccaram Bappo, Nanah Furnese, Madah Roe Jadee Roe, and Byto Punt, when I was dispatched to Bombay in August last. This they promised to deliver me, with a Letter for the Prefident, accounting for the Durbar's having kept me here fo long; and rerequested quested I would send the Linguist in Company with Tumbicker, who returns this Evening to Carrie to bring them, which I consented to. Chintoo Wittul informed me he should set off on the 30th If the Linguist returns with the above Papers in Time I shall accompany him, otherwise will tollow as soon as I receive them, agreeable to the Permission the Board have already given me. Inclosed 1 a Copy of the Letter from Lubin to the Captain General of Goa, mentioned above; Mr. Lewis being taken ill, and I having been much employed in seeing a Number of People To-day, I take the Libert to request you will favour me in laying the above before the Board.

Chintoo Wittul informs me he shall be Four Days in going to Panwell, where he will wait Two Days for me, by which Time I hope you will order a proper Boat to carry him over.

I have not been able to procure the written Intelligence from B - To-day, but he has pro mised to send it me in the Morning.

Letter from Bombay to Bengal.

Since closing our Letter of the 31st ultimo we have received further Advices from Mr. Moslyn Copies of which, and of the Correspondence between Monsieur de St. Lubin and the Portuguch Governments of Goa and Damaun, now wait on you.

By his last Letter to the Captain General at Goa, written long after the late Change in the Poon Government, it is indisputably evident that Nana's Engagements with the French have been taken up by the new Administration.

Upon the Inspection of these Letters, we resolved to make a Representation to the following Essel to the Governors of Goa and Damaun:

"That we have Reason to believe Schemes are concerting between the French and the Poor. Government, which have for their Objects the Annoyance and Detriment of the British Nation

" but that, from the Alliance and good Harmony fo happily subsisting between His Most Faithin and His Britannic Majesty, we have every Reason to hope, and shall rely, that the Portuguese will not in any Shape interfere or take any Measure that may promote the Success of the Frence Schemes, which in the End would prove equally subversive of the Portuguese Instuence in India."

You will observe Mr. Mostyn's Reasons for deferring to make his Demands on the Durbar, and our Orders to him to abide by his former Instructions, which we doubt not you will approve. Any Offers the Durbar may now make to Ragoba can only be intended to gain more Time, and the more important Objects we have in View cannot be put to the Hazard upon the niere Thopes of Advantage to him.

We have no certain Accounts of the Bengal Detachment; Reports at Poona fay it has reached the Nerbudda: We have however thought it necessary that the commanding Officer should have timely Instructions whither to direct his March; and as Surat, in point of Situation, Accommodation, and every other Respect, appeared to us the most eligible Place, we have resolved to send Instructions to Colonel Leslie to direct his March to that City, unless from Circumstances he should think it expedient, or it should prove more convenient to him to proceed to Broach; in which Case we have given him a discretional Power for that Purpose.

The Chiefs of Surat and Broach will be directed to spare no Expence to open a Correspondent with Colonel Lessie, and to afford him all possible Assistance to expedite his March.

Ordered, That the Letters from Bombay lie for Consideration.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 17th August 178.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General; President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Edward Wheler, RECEIVED the following Letters from Mr. Mostyn, and from Mr. Lewis his Deputy, Poona.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I did myself the Honour of addressing you last under the 29th May, and the next Day forwards the Passport and Order from Madjee Scindia, therein-mentioned, to Colonel Leslie.

My Linguist having written me from Camp, that Morabah did not seem inclined to deliver the Writing respecting the French, which he was sent in Company with Gopal Naigue Tumbuckur receive, but that Morabah said, if he did give it, I must likewise give one, certifying that delivering this Government were those of the English; I directed him to acquaint Morabah, the what he demanded was unnecessary, it being already settled by Treaty, and that the one I demanded related merely to the French, who were not thought of when the late Treaty was made ordering him at the same Time to make another Application, and if Morabah resused, or made as Evasion, to return to me without Loss of Time; he accordingly arrived here the 3d, but I am sor to inform your Honour, &c. without the Writing; and though Morabah told him he would forwat to me either as that Day or the next, I have not heard any thing surther about it, nor do I have the Durbar have any Intentions of delivering it.

APPÈNDIX, Nº 97.

In consequence of a Letter from the President of Bombay, Madjee Scindy on the 3d sent me another Dustuck and Order to his Officers for the free Passage of our Troops through his Country, which have also been forwarded to Colonel Lessie. I have not yet received any from Tookajee Holkar, though I have still Hopes thereof.

On the 5th in the Evening Saccaram Bapoo had a Meeting with Madjee Scindy, as had Hurry Punt, who is arrived from Pundapore, the same Night, and the next Day Morabah likewise met him. Yesterday I received a Letter from Camp, informing me that Madjee Scindy and Hurry Punt arrived Proondur the Day before, when they paid a Visit to the Peshwa, who came down from the Fort for that Purpole, at which were also present Sacaram Bapoo, Nanah Furnese, Crustrow Belol, and Madahrow Jahdahroi: From Buchabah, Morabah, and Holkar, not attending, it appears to me that Party is formed by the former against the latter: It is not yet in my Power to say how Affairs will urn out, but it is possible the executive Part of Government may again revert to Nanah; though I magine it will require some Time before it can be carried into Execution, and that it will not be decided without Bloodshed.

Notwithstanding the Assurances from the Durbar that Monsieur St. Lubin was dispatched, he is fill permitted to remain here, and within these sew Days has pleaded Sickness in order to delay

Time until the Rains set in.

The enclosed is Copy of the Paper I have delivered to the Durbar in consequence of my Superior's Orders.

Poona, the 10th June 1778.

I am, &c. &c. T' Mostyn. (Signed)

To the Ministers of the Poona Durbar.

It is now upwards of Two Years since Colonel Upton concluded a Treaty with you, and yet nothing has been done on your Part towards the accomplishing it; I am therefore directed by the Governor and Council of Bombay, and under the Authority of the Governor General and Council, to rall on you, in the Name and Behalf of the Honourable Company, for explicit Answers to the following Articles:

First. I demand to know, whether you consider the Maratta State as bound by the Treaty made at Proondur by Colonel Upton, and whether you will pledge your own Faith to the due Obiervance thereof?

Agreeable to the faid Treaty I demand immediate Possession of a Country of Three Lacks of Rupees, near or adjoining to Broach, in the Manner stipulated by the Fifth Article, by Thich we mean Three Lacks Groß Revenue, that is, without any Allowance for Charges.

Third. I am also directed by the Governor and Council of Bombay to acquaint you that the Governor General and Council have directed them to keep Possession of the Countries ceded to the Honourable Company by Futty Sing Guicawar, fince you have failed in producing the Proofs required, that Futty Sing Guicawar did not possess Power or Authority to make such Cossions, and that they will accordingly keep Possession of those Countries.

Fourth. I have made frequent Remonstrances to the Durbar on the Impropriety of their Conduct the country and in the found of consider as a sufficient Answer, and therefore do now, in consequence of Orders from the Governor and Council of Bombay, demand of you a clear and fatisfactory Explanation of your Intentions with respect to the French; that is, whether in future you mean to admit any of their Ships into your Ports, or have any further Connections with them? declaring to you that the Governor General and Council will take fuch Measures accordingly as Prudence shall dictate for the future Safety of the Company's Interests and Possessions commuted to their Care.

Fifth. As the Honourable Company have fullained a Lofs of Two Years Revenue by your Delay in making over the Country of Three Lacks, conformable to the Treaty made with Colonel Upton, and you have failed in making good to the Merchants concerned in the Ship Aurora, the Lots they fultained by that Ship, amounting to R' 1,97,705. 3. 84. with Interest from the 27th August 1776, being the Date of Colonel Upton's Letter, advising you had agreed to restore the Ship and Cargo; 1 am directed by the Governor and Council of Bombay to inform you they will charge the Amount of these Two Atticles to the Revenues of Jambooseer, and that when the Sum, for which it was origi-

Ily mortgaged, with these Two Assignments, are paid off, they will be ready to restore the said organish to you.

We having experienced so much Equivocation and Delay in all your Proceedings, I am ordered to you this in Writing, to which I have figred my Name and fixed the Company's Scal, and dend from you an explicit Antwer likewise in Writing with your Sieca affixed thereto; which, if not me in Fourteen Days from the Date hereof, the Governor and Council will consider any further Mion or Delay as a Refusal. Dated in Poona this 4th Day of June 1778.

APPENDIX, Nº97.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

My last Respects waited on your Honour, &c. under the 10th instant.

In the Evening after I had dispatched the above Address, I received Intelligence that Madajce Scindia, having sent 5,000 Men to escort him, Nanah had sled to him, conveying with him his own People, amounting to about 2,000 Men and his Bazar, &c.; that Nanah, soon after his Arrival at Scindia's Camp, wrote to Morabah, requiring him to deliver over the Sicca Cuttary and Jerry Putkey, which the latter refused complying with; and that several of Morabah's inferior Officers had received Notes from Nanah, ordering them to attend him; but that they, so far from obeying these Orders, had all declared their Resolution to stand by Morabah.

On the 20th, one of my own Hircarrahs informed me, that it was reported in Morabah's Camp, Nanah had promised Nine Lacks of Rupees each to Holkar and Scindia, Five Lacks of which was immediately paid to either, and the Remainder was to be paid as the next Day; in consequence of which, Holkar, who was encamped in the Rear of Morabah, advanced to his Front, and Scindia, who was the Front of the other Party, also advanced; and these Two Officers joining, now form One Camp between Morabah and Nanah. What may be the real Motives for this Junction, I cannot pretend to say, though I make no Doubt they have some Scheme in Agitation against some of the Ministers.

On the 12th at Noon, I received a Letter from Morabah, defiring that I would fend him a Copy of the Papers regarding the French; the one delivered by my Linguist having been missaid, and at the fame Time earnestly requesting I would go to him at Camp. To this I replied, that having delivered the Durbar a Paper on the 4th, in which every Thing necessary was mentioned, and to which a plain and direct Answer would be expected in the Time limited, the Paper he requested was of no Consequence: I at the same Time excused myself from waiting on him, for the Reasons I had formerly given him through Gopaul Naigue Tumbuckur; but told him, if he had any thing varicular to offer, and would deliver it in Writing, I would forward it to Bombay, and obtain a him an Answer as soon as possible. The Reasons here alluded to, were the evasive and trissing. Treatment, both myfelf and Mr. Lewis had met with at the different Times we went to Camp, and the extraordinary Attention paid by the Durbar to Monsieur St. Lubin; but I was more particularly larly led to evade going, by a Letter I had received that Morning from a Person in Scindia's Camp. informing me, that Nanah either had written or would write me, to request I would go to him; and being convinced from the Situation the Government is in, that the Parties in general would take for 6 granted, the English would support whichever I should visit, it appeared of too much Consequence for me to decide. Having received the Letter from Nanah, I immediately addressed my Superior. requesting their Orders on the Subject; in the mean Time excusing myself in the politest Masse, to Nanah. On the 22d, I was favoured with my Superior's Answer, dated the 18th, wherein the tay, they think no Objection could lay against my visiting Morabah, as the Minister with who I have lately transacted all Business in Behalf of the Maratta State, without any Reservences

On the 17th I received another Letter from Morabah, expressing his Concern that I did not well be on him, he having some particular Business to speak to me about, which he said he had sent a Ma to explain to me. The Man told me he was empowered to promife an immediate Compliance will the Paper I delivered the 4th; for which Purpose Sunnuds should be accordingly instantly given to [6] the Country of Three Lacks, and the other Articles agreed to in every Donas, and to defire that the would bring over Ragoba with our Forces. I replied, that it was not in my Power to give an Ar fwer to this Request; but if they were fincere in this Application, Morabah and his Party ought a lose no Time in writing to the Presidency of Bombay. I added, that in case of Compliance it would be expected that the Treaty made with Ragoba should be adhered to: To which the Man replict that neither Morabah nor any of his Party would make mention of the Treaty; for as it had been made by their Master, it rested entirely with Ragoba to act therein as he thought fit. On the 21 1 the Man returned to me, bringing with him Letters from Morabah and Bucheba to the Honoursh the Prefident and me, Answers to the Paper I delivered the 4th, and Dustucks for the free Passes of the Forces you are fending to Bombay through the Maratta Dominions; but there being forces Alteration necessary in the Answers to the Articles, I proposed to the Man his returning with total to Camp, and observed to him, that as the above Letters mentioned Holcar being joined with the it would be better if he also wrote: Upon which the Man consented to return, and defired my Line guift might accompany him to fee the Papers were properly drawn out. The Interpreter according let out the 23d, and returned the 26th in the Evening, when he informed that Morabah had con tented to every Point of the Articles which he had feen the Sicca affixed to, as also to the Sumuli for the Country of Three Lacks; that Holear had also written Letters, in which he declares her? firmly attached to Morabah, and agrees to whatever they do, and expresses his earnest Desire that a will affill with our Forces in bringing Ragoba hither; and that though these Papers and Letters were all fealed in his Presence, neither Morabah nor Holcar chose to trust them with the Interpreter to bus down, as the Government they faid would in a few Days be entirely in Nannah's Hands, by whom People the Gauts between this and Proonder were already fo strictly watched, that not a Man could pass without being stripped and searched, which indeed happened to the Interpreter; but they added as it had been agreed by the Parties that Morabah should retire to the Village of Bhole, about 10 Com to the Northward of Poona, for which Place he should pass through the Town in Two or The Days, he would take that Opportunity of fending these Papers and Letters to me by one of his one ople. The Interpreter further tells me, that on the 25th Moraba and Buchaba paid Holear a fit; that Scindy in the mean Time coming in, the Two Officers retired to a private Room, where, er confulting some Time, they sent for the Two Brachmans, when they told Moraba he must deliver the Sicca Cuttary and Jerry Putkey to Nanah; which Moraba refused, faying, that as he had ceived them from Perwetty Bhoy he should return them to her.

On the 25th Madarow Jadary, who came into Town the Day before, fent me a Letter from Nanah, in the Name of the Peshwa, which referred me to Madarow for some Circumstances he was believed to tell me, and desired I would go to his Camp. Upon my sending to Madarow to know that these Circumstances were, and what Nanah had to say to me that he required my Attendance, mentioned the Excuse I sent to Nanah, as already recited in the former Part of this Letter, that boo and Nanah thought it very extraordinary my delivering a Letter directed to all the Peshwa Mitters with the Company's Seal attived at the Top and that the Munisters only wanted to talk with me Iters with the Company's Seal affixed at the Top, and that the Ministers only wanted to talk with me the Subject thereof. I have therefore written to the Peshwa in Reply, that as we found so much wasion and Prevarication in his Ministers ever fince the late Treaty, it was absolutely necessary every hing should be done in Writing: I had therefore on the 4th Instant delivered certain Articles, not a ætter, to which I had figned my Name and affixed the Company's Seal, to shew that their Aniwer inst have both the Sicca and Mortab affixed thereto, and to which, agreeable to the Orders I reived from my Superiors, I had demanded a plain and politive Answer in Fourteen Days from that fate; but notwithstanding they had exceeded that Time by Ten Days, I had not yet received one; not that, as it would therefore only be losing Time to talk about the Articles, not having it in my 'ower to fay any thing until I received the Minister's Answers, I hoped the Peshwa would excuse my attendance; adding, if the Ministers had any thing particular to say, I requested they would give me in Writing, when if I found it material enough I would readily wait on them.

On the 12th I received Passports from Tuckojee Holear for the free Passage of our Troops arough his Country, which were forwarded the next Day to Colonel Leflie, and on the 22d also for-arded him the Duffuck from the Durbar mentioned above.

Having procured Copies of a Letter Nana has lately written to the Nizam, and of a Pass he sivered to Monsieur St. Lubin, when that Gentleman visited him under Pretence of taking Leave the 20th ultimo, I now enclose Copy of them for your Notice, and which as they have been exlained to me, shew Nana's real Views with respect to Ragoba, the English, and the French; but pt being able to get them properly translated here, I am under the Necessity of sorwarding their

All Roads being stopt by Nana's People, who have strict Orders to seize all Letters, I have writ-this on Country Paper for the greater Convenience of Conveyance, and its great Safety.

Moraba passed the Town Yesterday, and in his Way sent me the Letters, &c. agreeable to what is pentioned above, with a Paper containing fundry Articles to be fettled between his Party and Rago-tal which he requests the Board's Mediation in. The whole Party having requested I will go to Bombay on this Occasion, and I having my Superiors Permission for so doing, whenever I may find it necessary, I shall accordingly proceed thither as soon as I possibly can without giving Umbrage to the present Administration.

Read the following Letters from Bombay:

Gentlemen.

We enclose Duplicates of our Letters of the 31st ultimo, and 3d and 12th Instant, and likewise another Copy of Mr. Baldwin's Letter.

Colonel Leslie has advised us of his having arrived opposite to Kalpey the 14th ultimo, and of his Intention to profecute his March in a few Days. We do not apprehend he can reach this Coast until after the Rains, but as his early Arrival will be of the utmost Importance, we shall direct him to expedite his March as much as possible. Mr. Mostyn has succeeded in obtaining Passports from Tookajee Holcar as well as Mhadajee Scindy, which he has transmitted to Colonel Leslie.

We find, by Mr. Mostyn's Advices, that a Party is now formed against Moraba, and that it is possible the executive Part of Government may again revert to Nanah, though not without Opposition. Both Parties have defired an Interview with Mr. Mostyn, who on that Occasion referring to for Instructions, we thought, that as Moraba held the Sicca, and was the acting Minister with nom he had lately transacted all Business on the Part of the Maratta State, there would be an Imppriety in his visiting Nanah, and that it might have a bad Effect; whereas no Objection could against his visiting Moraba, whenever he might sind it necessary, without any Regard to their ty Disputes. On the 19th, the Term we have limited for receiving the Durbar's Answer will sire.

As the Presence of His Majesty's Squadron at this Place might be our Preservation in case of an ack, and it can be of little Service, and is only exposed to Danger from a superior Fleet, on the aft of Coromandel, we now write to Sir Edward Vernon, by a Vessel express, desiring he will immediately 3 () immediately

Enclosed is a General Return of our Forces for last Month.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 17th August 1778.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Mostyn to the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire.

Honourable Sir,

The foregoing is Copy of my Address under the 17th, which unfortunately was seized near to Top of the Gotts, and carried to Logur, and the Letter fent to Nanah. I hope to recover it is opened, otherwife it will irritate him exceedingly. When I dispatched it, I knew not that the Chowkies extended far beyond the Town; but Jassods are now spread all over the Country, or in all the Bye Roads. Mr. Farmer dispatched a Pair of Pattamars Yesterday; they proceeded and as the Gotts in the Night, but finding every Avenue guarded, they were obliged to secrete his Lette and One returned this Evening to acquaint us thereof. I am also informed, that Five Pair of 6-Pattamars, with One from Chintoo Wittul, and another belonging to Naro Sunker, who were comfrom Bombay, were all stopped on the Gotts; One Man only belonging to us got off; but the Lea are all carried to Logur, from whence they will be sent to Nanah. These Impediments will make Correspondence tedious, not only from the Necessity of every thing being wrote in Cypher, but Pattamars will also be obliged to go much round about, and can only travel by Night. Let me a quest, Sir, your Letters may be made up as round as possible, and that you will fend them by: Poona Pattamars, and I will venture my Life they will come fafe, though perhaps take a little in-Time.

I can add nothing but what the public Address will inform you, for it is past my Power Ogs. what are the real Intentions of Scindia and Holkar; every thing feems to depend upon them. The ever, I do not believe Morabah's Affairs are fo desperate as the Junto make them; if they were. would not remain quiet at Proondur, nor his Family in Poona. I am rather inclined to think for thing is intended against the other Party; but the better to blind them into a Belief of Security Tookajee and Scindia permit them to go on. From the general Letter you will learn how the ferent Armies are lituated. I cannot think they can long remain in this State; and I have Ho-Monacjee Ponercah, and Badjee Punt Burba, who are hourly expected, will turn the Table in Fav. of Morabah; and I think Scindia's Scheme, in moving from Sacaram and Nana, is to afford the Officers an Opportunity to attack them. I have just now received a Chit, informing me, that the M. from Morabah, who was to have come Two Days ago, will be with me this Night; therefore pure me to request your speedy Determination, with respect to my proceeding to Bombay. The putter into Cypher, and copying the Letter to the Committee, has taken up to much Time, it could not a ready last Night; I was therefore obliged to keep it until now. The remain Papers enclosed to be Board are in a Character: Mr. Farmer could not take upon him to translate, and I was afraid to to them with any one elfe. I think they are incontestable Proofs of Nana's Intentions; and it below us seriously to determine to frustrate them. I hope you will soon have a fair Opportunity. I see with much Respect, Poona, the 21st June 1778. Honourable Sir, Your most obedient humble Servant, (Signed) Thomas Mostyn.

P. S. The Man is arrived, and I make no Doubt Matters will be fettled in Two Days, agreed to what is mentioned under the 17th. If you lose this Opportunity, I have no Hopes of any o hereafter joining you, or making any more Offers.

Bombay Secret Consultations, the 17th of June 1778.

The President and Council of Bombay wrote to the Court of Directors as follows: viz.

- " On the 26th of March a Change was effected in the Administration at Poona by Morabah I " neefe, who, without Opposition or Bloodshed, took Possession of that City, assumed the execusion
- " Power from Nanah Furnecse, and appeared to act in all Affairs of Government in concert with
- " Saccaram Bappoo; they had so taken their Measures, as to impress, we may say, a general Delic
- " that this Revolution was intended in favour of Ragoba.
- " We for some Time entertained Hopes that this Change would be followed with the most is Extract of Bombay Secret Confultations, the 6th July 1778.

RECEIVED the following Letter from the Resident at Poona.

Poonsh,

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

My last Respects were dated the 29th ultimo: The same Evening I received another Letter from Nanah, requiring my Attendance at Camp in the Name of the Peshwa; as also one from Mhadjac Scindia, telling me that he understood there was some Difference between the Durbar and us with respect to the late Treaty, he would get it settled, and therefore requested I would go to him; to the former I have made the same Reply as formerly advised, and to the latter, that I should be very happy to meet him; but as this could not be done without disgusting the Ministers whom I had some certain Reasons resused. I hoped he would excuse me for the present.

Yesterday I received in the Evening a Note from Kestorow, the Son of Mhaderow Jaderow, the questing I would send the Linguist to him as he had something to say; the Linguist according a went, when Kestorow told him, that as Morabah had got Possession of the Articles I delivered to the thing, that I did not understand this Behaviour, being certain that the Paper is in Namah's Pessession, if not, it was very extraordinary that he did not apply for a Second Copy, when he desired I would go to Camp purposely to talk on these Articles on the 25th ultimo, or that Mhaderow a Visit he paid me the 27th, should not have asked for a Copy, but on the contrary repeated the Articles to me verbatim, and pressed me to go to Camp, to talk upon them; and that it therefore appearing perfectly clear to me, the Durbar so far from meaning to give an Answer, only wanted trisle with me, and by obtaining another Copy, have it in their Power to say they did not receive the Articles until the 2d Instant, when they would expect a forther Time of Fourteen Days to answer; I could not comply with their Request; to this, Kessorow replied in Writing, that in Consideration of our Friendship, I ought to deliver the Copy in question.

From the above Message I make no Doubt it will appear clear to your Honour, &c. that the Dur-

From the above Meffage I make no Doubt it will appear clear to your Honour, &c. that the Dubbar have no real Intention of replying to that Paper; and as I have received every necessary Passand Credential from the other Party for settling our Demands and bringing Ragoba into Consecutor, with which they have earnestly requested I will proceed to the Presidency, and lay before the Honorable Board for your final Determination, I judge it necessary to comply with their Request, and intend setting out as soon as I can receive the proper Dustucks, which I hope will be in a sew Dasand was in hopes of receiving an Answer from the present Durbar to the Paper delivered the at

I was in hopes of receiving an Answer from the present Durbar to the Paper delivered the struction, which would have afforded me an Opportunity of leaving Poona under Pretence of laws them before you, without giving the least to suspect the real Motive of my Journey; but have disappointed therein, I have been under the Necessity, as the only Means less to prevent Suspicional making use of your Honour, &c.'s Name by writing to the Peshiwa, it is by your Order, I proceed.

I am informed that Holcar and Scindia are pressing Nanah for the Balance of the Money prom a them as mentioned in my Address of the 20th ultimo, which Nanah is endeavouring to evade saying that he has no Money with him, but will come to Poona to raise it. To this, however, is Officers object, and insist on its being paid there; Nanah has in consequence fent for all the States both Bramins and Guzarattees, to Proonder, but I understand they have agreed amongst themselves not to lend a Rupee, and it is imagined this will bring on a steff Dispute.

Monsieur St. Lubin left this Place the 9th instant, with an Intent as it is publicly given ortal proceeding to Damaun, though I am privately assured that he will not go further than Damandowhere I suppose he will remain until Nanah is satisfied whether he can comply with his Engagements.

Poona, 3d July 1778. I am, very respectfully,
I Ionourable Sir, and Gentlemen,
Your most obedient Servant,
Thomas Moltyn.

A P P E N D I Χ,

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Mostyn, dated 27th June 1778.

the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor, &c. Select Committee Bombay.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

N the 22d Instant I was honoured with your Commands of the 18th.

On the 21st, the Man mentioned in my last to be sent by Morabah, returned to me with ters from Morabah and Butchebah both to the Fionourable the Prefident and me, with the LEP. VI.

Answer to the Paper I delivered the 4th, and Dustucks for the free Passage of our Troops coming from Bengal through the Maratta Dominions. The Letters from Morabah and Butchebah were to request we would bring over Ragobah with our Forces, and to affure that Holcar was strictly joined with them; but there being some Alterations necessary in the Answer to the Paper, and not having received any Letter from Holcar on the Subject, which I told the Man was likewife abfolutely necessary, he agreed to return to Morabah, at the same Time desiring that my Linguist might accompany him to fee that the Papers were drawn out in a proper Manner, to receive the State nuds for the Country of Three Lacks, and Letters from Holcar to the Honourable the Prefident and myfelf, which I confented to. The Linguist accordingly fet out on the 23d, and returned had Night, when he informed me that Morabah had agreed to the Articles in every Point, which he had feen properly fealed, as also the Sunnuds for the Country of Three Lacks, and Letters from Holcar to the Honourable the President. That Holcar had also written the Letters declaring Le is firmly attached to Morabah and Butchebah, and that whatever they do he agrees to, and expressing his earnest Desire to bring Ragobah here; that Morabah had drawn up fundry Articles which he withes to have fettled between his Party and Ragobah, through the Mediation of your Honour, &c. and that though these Papers were all sealed, neither Morabah or Holcar chose to trust their with the Linguist to bring down, as the Government would in Two Days be in the Hands of Nannah, by whose People they were so strictly watched that not a Man could pass without he ing flopped and fearched, which indeed happened to the Linguist; but faid as it had been agreed between the Parties that Morabah should reside at the Village of Bhole, about Ten Coss North ward of Poona, for which Place he should pass through the Town on Sunday, he would take that Opportunity of see ding these Papers to me by one of his own People. Morabah requested, that the utmost Secrecy might be observed, until Matters were entirely adjusted, and we began to act; and faid, that he would acquaint us when he and Holcar were ready to co-operate with us but could not now take upon himself to fay the exact Number of Troops he could join to with. The Linguist further tells me, that the Day before Yesterday Morabah and Butchebi. visited Holcar; that whilst they were with him, Scindia came in, when the Two Officers relined to a private Tent; that after confulting some Time, they sent for the others, and told Morebash, that he must give up the Sicca Cuttary and Jury Purkey to Nanah; which he refused, saying that as he had received them from Perwetty Roy, he should return them to her. The Linguist also fays, he heard at Camp that Badjee Punt Burwah and Monackjee Phaneria hearing of the Junction of Holcar and Scindia, imagined that Morabah was left entirely to himself; and fearing that the Kistnah would fill so much by the Rains, as to prevent their Retreat, they had halfily retired to the Southern Bank of that River, from whence they are plundering the Country round.

On the 25th Mhaderow Jaderow, who came into Town the Day before, defired I would fend a Man to him, as he had fomething particular to fay. I complied therewith by fending my Genter Writer, to whom he delivered the following Message; viz. That when I came from Bombay he ich a Jassood to pay his Compliments to me, who I said was not a proper Person; that some Time ag I delivered a Letter, directed to all the Ministers of the Peshwa, with the Company's Seal affixed a the Top, at which Nannah and Bappoo were much furprized, but that he had excused this to them, by telling them I was unacquainted with their Method of affixing Seals; that the Peshwa had laid fent me a Letter, defiring I would go to Camp, but instead of answering it in the Manner I should have done, I had written an Answer to Ballajee Janourdeen (alias Nannah) that I should not swithout Orders from Bombay, which they thought very extraordinary, as there could be no Objection to my Vackeel attending the Government; that Nannah Bappoo and Madajee Scindia having ordered him to prefent their Compliments to me, and defire my Attendance at their Camp, he had reprefented to them that it was necessary they should write a Letter to me on the Subject, which the have accordingly done; he now fent it to me, requesting I would take into Consideration and hx Day for going to them, when he would accompany me. This Letter, written in the Name of the Peshwa, and sealed with the Muttalic Sicca, mentions, that Mhaderow will acquaint me with for Circumflances, and defires I would accompany him to Camp. As I supposed the Circumstances lealluded to were no other than the Message above recited from Maderow Jaderow I sent him to following Reply: That I could not confider a Jaffood as a proper Perion to meet me on my in Arrival (which was the Case when I came here in March 1777) particularly as I was convinced to Durbar knew better from their Behaviour to Monsieur St. Lubin; that so many People being in Po defiion of the Muttalic Sicca, it was impossible for me to know from whom Letters fealed therew came; if therefore there was not some fixed Rule for my Conduct, I might attend upon any Ohie possessed thereof, who might chuse to write me in the Peshwa's Name; and as Morabah was Person to whom the Durbar last referred me for transacting Business with the Government, I did : confider myself at Liberty to obey the Summons mentioned by Maderow; that the Durbar have ever fince the late Treaty acted in so evalive a Manner, it was become absolutely necessary to vi every thing in Writing, which was the Reason of my delivering the Paper the 4th instant; that was not a Letter, but certain Articles to which I figned my Name and fixed the Company's Seal, will be shew them that their Answer must have both the Sicca and Mortab affixed thereto; and with respect to to the Seal being at the Top of that Paper, and my Name at the Bottom, I observed to him that his was exactly conformable to their own Method of affixing the Sicca at Top and the Mo. tab at Bottom and not through Ignerance of their Customs, as he pretends to fay. As the Circumstances mentioned by Mhaderow appeared to me too trifling to need my Attendance at Camp, I this Morning feat and other Message to him, desiring to know if he had any further Particulars to inform me of, and what Lit was Namuah want d to talk to me on; telling him, if only on the Articles, it was unnecessary, because they explained themselves, and I was directed to demand an Answer in a certain Time, which had now been exceeded Eight Days; but if Nannah had any other particular Business, I defined he would deliver it in Writing; when, if it appeared of Confederate fusficient, I would immediately wait on him: To which Mhaderow replied, that he had no further Particulars to inform me of, and that the Business Nannah wanted me for was to talk on the Articles and the Increase of our Friendship.

This more fully points out their View in tending for me to be nothing more than to delay Time, and to evade giving an Answer to the Paper in Writing; and as from the Excess of Time your Honour, c.c. may judge it a Refusal, I have thought it most prudent to evade going, and from Experience I am convinced it is the only Method of drawing any thing from them in Writing. Nannah having again got the Power of Government, I make no Doubt but the same, if not greater Obstructions, will be thrown on our Communication with the Town as formerly, which will of course render my tuture Intelligence very imperfect.

The Letter mentioned in my last to have been stopped by Nannah, has in consequence of my Application been returned to me unopened; as have also a large Packet coming from Madras for Bombay, which was immediately forwarded by a Pair of Pattamars, those from Madras being taken Alack and unable to proceed; and a Packet with the Honourable Company's Scal for the Captain General at Goa, with feveral private Letters from that Place; which were all immediately forwarded.

I am informed that Nannah has lately fent an Order to Monsieur St. Lubin to leave Poona, and that he has in confequence been supplied with Camels, Bullocks, &c. for his Baggage, and a Guard; but he now pleads, that his Linguist being at Nannah's Camp, he cannot fet out until his Return. Notwithstanding Nannah has given this Order, I am convinced it is only done with a View to blind us; for where can he go at this Season of the Year?

The Dustucks mentioned in the former Part of this Letter, were forwarded to Colonel Leslie on Poona. ... 27th June 1778. I am, very respectfully. Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen, Your most obedient Servant, Thos Mostyn.

E D I Χ,

Bengal Secret Consultations, 17th August 1778.

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

Onformably to what Mr. Mostyn wrote under the 30th ultimo, he proceeded to the Presidency Conformably to what ivir, iviously whose under the 30st and a few Hours after he had set out, a Government's Carcoon came to the Factory, the 6th instant; a few Hours after he had set out, a Government's Carcoon came to the Factory, with the Durbar's Ar wers to the Paper delivered the 4th ultimo; but on finding Mr. Mostyn was gone, refused to deliver them, saying, he had received positive Orders to follow him, and deliver them into his own Hands; however, the next Evening he returned, telling me he had received fresh Orders from his Master to deliver them to me. The Original I have forwarded to Bombay, and now enclose Copy of Translate for your Observation.

Your Commands of the 8th, and Duplicate of those of the 11th June, have been received, the former on the 9th and the latter on the 11th inflant; immediately on Receipt of the first, I wrote a Letter to the Peshwa, requesting to know how I should convey that from the Honourable the Governor General to him; and on the 18th received an Answer, desiring I would fend it to Proondur, which I have accordingly done, with another from myself, requesting, as the readiest Way to prevent all Disputes between your Troops and those belonging to this Government they may meet with on their March, that he would send me a Dustuck for their free Passage through the Maratta Dominions, which I would forward to Colonel Leffic; but Nanah Furnese being now the only Minister, I cannot say I have the least Hopes of this Request being complied with, as he views the March of these Troops with a very jealous Eye. It is necessary to observe here, Gentlemen, that in the Month of January last, the Honourable the President of Bombay forwarded a Letter from the Peshwa to me, with Directions to deliver it myself, but both Nanah Furnese and Saccaram Bapoo refused receiving it, unless I sent it through the Hands of the Two People appointed to transact the English Business with the Durbar; and that at the Time of the Receipt of the Honourable the Governor General's Letter, one of these People was at Nanah's Camp, and the other laid he was to ill as to be unable to transact Business; in order therefore to avoid all Disputes on this Head, and to prevent my receiving a Second Insult, I judged it the best Method to write the Peshwa as before recited, and hope it will meet with your Approbation. The Copy of my Proceedings, mentioned by your Honour, &c. to be wanting, was forwarded in the original Packets the 12th May, via Benares.

On the 1st Monsieur St. Lubin left Poona, with an Intent, it is publicly given out, of proceed ing to Damaun, but Mr. Mostyn received private Assurances that he would not proceed any iun ther than Damaun, where it is imagined he will remain until Nanah sees whether he is able to be form his Engagements.

On the 10th Madjee Scindy, at the Request of Nanah Furnese, sent Two thousand Men to the Va lage of Bhole, to seize Morabah, and the next Day they arrived, and encamped with him on a Plant about a Mile without the Town. Nanah and Scinday not agreeing what shall be done with him Morabah still remains encamped, guarded by Three hundred Horse, the rest having rejoiner Scindy.

A Person in Scindy's Camp informs me, that Holcar has been obliged to deliver up his Duar and Two of his Officers, to Nanah; that Nanah and Scindy have appointed another Man to be Holkar's Duan; and that every one, whether Brahmins or Officers, who joined Morabah, had but seized, and considerable Fines demanded from them; amongst the rest is Buchabah Proondur.

From the best Intelligene I have been able to procure, I learn that Saccaram Bappoo has not but in the least consulted on the late Transactions; and I am even affured, that it is Madjee Scind, Intention shortly to seize and confine him; in which Case I much doubt whether Scindy's Ambung will not lead him to take the Government entirely into his own Hands.

I am, &c. &c. Wm Lewis.

Translation of the Poona Durbar's Replies to the Paper delivered by Mr. Mostyn on the 4th Ju received the 7th July.

A Treaty was made between the Circar and the English, to which they affixed their Scales the English ought to keep it faithfully, and the Circar will do the same.

Second. Conformable to what is written in the 5th Article of the Treaty, I have offered you. Country, but you would not fettle and take it. There is no Agreement to give you a Gross Read nue of Three Lacks, according to the Treaty. You may fettle and take it To-day, and the Circuit will settle and deliver it. The Delay is on your Part, not on the Circar's.

Third. It is mentioned in the Treaty, that when Proofs shall be produced, under Futty Sing Hand, that he has no Power to give away any Country; the English would deliver up Chickly, & Country. Futty Sing sent Two Letters, directed to Colonel Upton; also Copy of the Peshwo Sunnud, with his Seal, which were delivered to Colonel Upon, shewing that this Power is not well the Guicawar, but with the Peshwa. A Receipt for the said Letters and Papers was taken freig Colonel Upton, with his Seal affixed thereto, which is in the Possession of the Circar. Conformable to the Treaty, Chickly, &c. Purgunnah ought to be restored to the Circar. What you now who being contrary to the Treaty, is very extraordinary, and much surprizes me.

Fourth. There is no Agreement between Monsieur St. Lubin and this Government.

Fifth. You would not receive the Country of Three Lacks, agreeable to the Treaty; if you will now receive the Country, I have this to observe about the Two Years Arrease of the Revenues: You must debit the Amount of the Collections that have been made these Two Years from that Country, and whatever Collections have been made in the Purgunnahs of Chickley, &c. must remain deposited with the English: And further, that, according to what is written in the Treaty, you must deduct the Value of the Chickley, &c. Purgunnahs; and whatever may be the Difference, either on the Side or other, shall be paid. I do not perfectly understand what you have wrote about the Ship. have fent to call you, and after your Arrival I shall talk with you, conformable to what I have written to Colonel Upton.

ECEIVED a Letter from Mr. Lewis at Poona.

Lewis, Mr. Willm. Letter

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

My last Respects were dated the 11th Instant: The same Night I received Information, that Mohad been seized by Two thousand Men belonging to Scindy; and that they were encamped the him on the Plain close to the Town, from whence they were to proceed next Day to Poorunder. Last he still remains upon the Plain, guarded by Three hundred Horse only, the rest being returned Camp.

By Messages I have lately received from a Man at Camp, I learn that Holcar has been obliged to eliver up his Duan; and that every one, whether Bramins or Officers, who joined Morabah, have een seized, and considerable Fines demanded from them: Amongst the rest are Vissajee Punt and lutchebah Proondur; the latter was taken the 14th Instant. The same Person Yesterday sent me Vord, that Nannah had the Day before ordered a Body of Men to surround our Factory; and that cindy getting Notice thereof, immediately sent to him to desist, which Nannah was obliged to comply with.

Thave not received an Answer from the Peshwa, to the Letter I wrote, informing him of my aying received one for him from the Governor General and Council, as mentioned in my last Address. have not therefore yet been able to deliver it; indeed, at present there does not appear to be any roper Government. Nannah, it is true, has the Name, but Scindy is in fact the Minister, for the string dates not do any thing without his Permission; Sacaram is not even consulted; and I was old Yesterday, that it is Scindy's Intention to confine him in a very short Time; in which Case I nake no Doubt he will go a Step further, and by also consising Nannah, seize the Government.

I am, very respectfully,

Bombay Select Consultations, the 21st July 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor, John Carnac, Esquire, Colonel Charles Egerton, Daniel Draper, Esquire.

THIS Meeting being appointed to take into Confideration the Situation of Affairs with the Reference being made to Mr. Mostyn in the several Letters from Moraba, Butcheba, and Towns jee Holcar, and it being also judged necessary to consult him on some other Points before we take Resolutions on the Papers before us, he is now summoned to attend the Committee.

Mr. Mostyn attending accordingly, and being made acquainted with the Cause of his being ha moned, delivered himself to the following Purport:

He refers to his former Letters and to the Papers he brought from Poona, for an Explanation of Views of Morabah and his Party, which are in short to place Ragoba in the Government as Regulation on this express Condition, that the Sicca shall continue in the Name of the Peshwa Mhaderow Name of and with some other Restrictions which they consider necessary for their own Safety and Comme in Office, and for the internal Peace and good Order of the Government: These Restriction doubts not will also appear to us, from a Knowledge of Ragoba, to be both just and requisite particularly enforces to our Attention, that these Papers were regularly executed under the Suduring the Time Morabah was the acknowledged Minister, though the Change in Favour of Notes Furnecie took place immediately after. With respect to Nanah's Views and Intentions, he doubted they must be very apparent to the Committee, from the whole Tenor of his Conduct ever finces. Treaty of Poorunder; and that his Answer now before us, to the Paper of Demands, will prove yond Contradiction that he never means to comply with that Treaty: That his Defigns with 10 to the French will appear obvious upon a Review of the Advices from Poona, and more partiby the Paper he delivered to Monsieur St. Lubin the Day he had his Audience of Leave; Co which have been already transmitted to the Committee and to the Governor General and Course

E N D 1 X, N° 104, 105, and 106.

Mr. Mostyn then proceeds, That on an attentive Survey of the different Parties at Poona, their Views nd Intentions with respect to us, the French, and Ragoba, there appears to him no Alternative but take Part with Moraba; and that it should be done without the smallest Delay, considering the resent Situation of Assures with France, for should we be attacked at this Place in the Course of the Yar, and the executive Power of the Maratta State remain in the present Hands, there is not a both but the French will receive every Assistance in the Power of Nanah to give, will we shall be infined in our own Settlements, and deprived of every Supply whatever from the Continent.

Should we determine upon taking Part with Moraba, Mr. Mostyn thinks it necessary to observe to , that at present the greatest Part of the Maratta Forces are assembled on Poorunder Plains; but at they must necessarily separate in all next Month, on Account of the Rains and the Want of Forage, d the Necessity of Nanah's sending the Forces immediately depending on him to oppose the Progress Hyder, whole Army is now actually investing Meritz: That the usual Time for their again affemling is about Dellera, or the Beginning of October, when it generally takes up near Two Months before they are collected; but of the Motions of the Armies, Morabah can bell keep Mr. Lewis tell informed, who may also be directed to be attentive thereto himself. If the Army should disperse he supposes it will, he recommends the Beginning of September for the Commencement of our Operations, of which Moraba also should have Advice that he may be ready to co-operate.

To facilitate our Measures, and prevent as far as may be all Opposition, Placards might be issued in proper Time by Ragoba, declaring his Intentions are to continue the Sicca in the Boy's Name, and to preferve the Peshwa Government without doing Injury to any one who does not oppose his just Defigns, or fly; commanding all Officers to join him, and furnmoning the Ministers to attend him:

To give the greater Weight the Honourable Company's Seal may be affixed thereto.

Mr. Mostyn having concluded what he had to say, the following Questions are put to him by the Question. What Service can be rendered by Morabah, Butchebah, and Holcar, equivalent to the Queltion. What Service can be rendered by Noncessions they demand on the Part of Ragoba?

Answer. He doubts not they will be able to affift him with a Body of Thirty thousand Horse; and that having Chiefs or to much Power and Influence to co-operate with us in our Plan for refloring Ragobah, and openly espousing his Cause, will ensure a speedy and successful listic; whereas it would otherwise be more difficult and take up much Time: He further signifies his Belief, that if we proceed in concert with the above Chiefs, Mhadjee Scindia will not oppose Ragoba, or separate himself from Tookajee Holkar.

Question. It Nanah Furneese remains in the chief Management of the Maratta State during so long a Minority, what are the Confequences reasonably to be apprehended?

Answer. Every Injury to the Company it can be in his Power to offer, and an Association with the French for their Annoyance and Destruction.

Question. What are his Reasons for believing the Paper delivered by Nannah to Monsicur St.

Answer. He procured them by Means of the Vackeel of the Rajah of Toll Bhopall, who obtained them from the Pharanovees, or Persian Writer to the Government, to whom he pays an Annual Pension of Rupees 5,000 for Intelligence: Their Contents were afterwards in Part confirmed by the Gentoo Writer to the Government. Mr. Mostyn desires these Circumstances may be kept in-*lolably fecret, as the Partes would certainly lofe their Lives if any Discovery was made that this information was obtained from them.

Mr. Mostyn was also particularly questioned respecting the Country about Poona, and the Roads and Passes between that Place and Bombay. He says, that Rajematchy is the only one of the Passes defended by a Fort; that the others have no other Obstacles but what are raised by Nature; and that the principal one, called Bhore Gaut, may be approached by Water, within the Distance of Six Coss, and may be eafily fecured, by advancing a fingle Battalion, with light Field Pieces, the Ground being fuch that the Maratta Horse cannot act, if sany Opposition should be intended; but so little Difficulty does he apprehend, that he would have no Objection to accompany the Battalion hunfelf.

He is defired, with the Affistance of fuch Charts as he may have, and some capable Person out of the Engineer's Office, to frame the best Map he can of the Country Fifty Coss round Poona; and having given us very clear and distinct Information on the several Subjects proposed to him, he is permitted to withdraw,

Nº 105.

The Committee then proceeded to the Confideration of the Durbar's Answers to the Paper of De-Las presented by Mr. Moslyn, and transmitted by Mr. Lewis, since Nanah Furneese resumed his ace in the Administration.

These Answers having been carefully compared with the Demands, and considered with the utmost eliberation; Resolved, by an unanimous Vote, That the Answers are in the highest Degree vague, evalive, and unfatisfectory, and amount to a Refusal, which is aggravated on a Comparison with the Answers given by the preceeding Administration, as per N° 11.

Resolved, unanimously, That we are authorized, by the Letter from the Governor General and Council, dated the 23d of March, to declare the Durbar's Answers to be a Violation on their Part of the Ficaty of Foorunder, and that confequently we are freed from all Obligation laid on us by the Treaty, and at full Liberty to purfue whatever Measures we may deem expedient and fare, for the Subversion of a Party in that Government, connected with the French in Schemes hostile to the Company, and for establishing an Administration at Poona with which we can maintain a secure and permanent Alliance.

Refolved unanimously, That the Situation of Public Affairs in Europe, and the Restoration of Nanah Fur reele to the executive Power of Government at Poona, render it a Case of inditpensally Necessity that Measures should be taken with all possible Expedition to essent these Two Points.

Resolved unanimously, That for the Accomplishment of these Purposes we pursue the next practicable Meafures for placing Ragoba in the Regency at Poona, with this special Proviso, ψ_{ij} the Government and Sicca be conducted in the Name of the Peshwa during his Minority, and that tendered on his attaining the legal Age.

The Measures to be pursued being next discussed, the Articles proposed by Morabah and he Party are considered; when it is agreed, That it will be proper and requisite to make, equitable and secure Terms for them with Ragoba, but that it will be better to settle the Articles respecting the internal Management of the Government when Ragoba is established at Poona. The Articlest specting the Disputes between the Guicawars will be determined with more Propriety by Ra ... and Morabah, without our Interference; and that respecting the Recovery of the Territories to 1 by different Powers during the late Troubles, might lead us into Measures totally inconsistent will our Plan, and repugnant to Treaties formed by other Prefidencies.

Upon the most attentive Consideration of every Circumstance, the most safe Plan, the most premising of Success, and the least liable to Disappointment, appears to be;

To affure Morabah and the Party, of our good Disposition towards them; that we shall head join in the proposed Plan; and that they may depend on our paying the utmost Regard to 🤄 Interest and Pretensions in whatever Engagements we may make with Ragoba, provided they are their Part faithfully perform their Promises:

To revoke our Orders to Colonel Leslie, for marching the Army into Quarters at Squat and Broach, and to direct him to move to the Southward, quitting the Guzerat Country, and for fuing the most eligible Route to the Town of Juneir, about 30 Miles to the N. E. of Poona, near to a Fort in the Interest of Moraba, distinguished in Jestines's Map by the Name of Zinch He must be directed in his March to avoid approaching Aurungabad or Part of the Nizam's to minions, and rather to take the Brampore Road, and through the Gauntry of Buglana. By a Time he approaches Ziner we can fend him Orders either to act in Profection of our Plan, by k curing the Passes and effecting a Junction with our Force and Ragoba, or to proceed on to Bombly according as our Advices from Europe may render expedient, which, about the Beginning of Sotember, when it will be proper to begin our Operations, we may expect to receive, to a very the Date, by the Way of Sucz; and by that Time we may also obtain the Sentiments of the Goverst General and Council:

To direct Mr. Lewis to fend us constant and punctual Advice of the Motion of the Moste Armies.

To recommend to the Governments of Bengal and Madras, to demand of Mhodajee Bource?

and the Nizam to observe a strict Neutrality at least, if they will not assist Ragoba:

To proceed in our Preparations, without communicating our Refolutions to Ragoba, till My of are more ripe; and in the Terms to be made with him for the Company, to look to nothing had a than the Performance of the Treaty of Surat, the total Exclusion of the French, and the 🚉 ment of our Expences.

These several Heads of our Plan are all unanimously agreed to, and the Secretary is directed as mediately to prepare the necessary Advices agreeable thereto.

To Colonel Leslie.

Sir.

THE Honourable the Court of Directors having been pleased to invest us as a Sclect Committee, with full Powers for conducting all Political and Military Operations, you will in future eceive all Instructions from us, and are to address your Correspondence accordingly.

Since the Letter from the Board of the 19th ultimo, we have received your Letters of the 6th

We hope you have already effected a Passage over the Nerbuddah; for the Situation of Assairs such, that instead of continuing your March through the Guzerat Province to Surat or Broach, we now find it expedient to direct, that you proceed more foutherly, and purfue the most cligible Route to the Town of Juneer, about Thirty Miles to the North east of Poona, and near to the Fort distinguished in Jesser's Map by the Name of Ziner. By taking this Course, you will find the Weather more moderate, and the Road more practicable than in the Guzerat Province; but we would recommend to you to avoid approaching Aurungabad, or any Part of the Nizam's Dominions; and rather to take the Brampore Road, and through the Country of Buglawa.

Exclusive of the Dustucks already sent from Tookajee Holkar and Mhadjee Scindy, Mr. Mostyn has lately forwarded to you Passports from the Poona Durbar; so that we hope you will have an unmolested March through the Whole of the Maratta Territories; but you are nevertheless to be criftly on your Guard.

The Chief of Surat and Mr. Lewis at Poona will have Orders to fend you the best Information they can obtain respecting the Road you are now directed to take; and we shall send you "Forther Instructions as you approach, or as we may see necessary.

We shall rely on your advising us frequently of your Progress; and are,

The 31st of July 1778, the Select Committee at Bombay wrote to the Court as follow:

" M1. Mostyn arrived here from Poona the 12th Instant, with Letters from Morabah, Butcheba,

" gained the chief Place in the Administration, and deprived Moraba of his Office and the Sicca. "A few Days after Mr. Mostyn had quitted Poona, and after Nannah had refumed the the

" cutive Part of Government, another and a very different Reply to our Demands was fent to Mr. & " Lewis by the Durbar, and by him transmitted to us, of which a Copy is now enclosed.

" By this Second Revolution at Poona, and the Prospect of an approaching War with France 44 Affairs were brought to such a State that it became absolutely necessary for us to take the mon

" speedy and decisive Resolutions for our Conduct; and after proper Translations had been made " of the Papers brought by Mr. Mostyn, and Colonel Egerton, who had not hitherto affisted at our " Secret Confultations, had referred to the Records to inform himself fully on the Subject; we on the " 21st Instant, after full Consideration of every necessary Circumstance, unanimously agreed to the " following Refolutions, which we think it proper to convey to you in the most expeditious More " ner.

" That the Answers delivered by the Durbar since Nannah Furnecse resumed the Administration " are in the highest Degree vague, evalive, and unfatisfactory, and amount to a Refusal; which

"That we are authorized by the Letter from the Governor General and Council, dated the 24

" to purfue whatever Measures we may deem expedient and safe, for the Subversion of a Party " that Government, connected with the French in Schemes hostile to the Company, and for cliab

" That the Situation of Public Affairs in Europe, and the Restoration of Nannah Furneese to the " executive Power of Government at Poona, renders it a Case of indisputable Necessity that Ma 3" " fures should be taken with all possible Expedition to effect those Two Points."

" That for the Accomplishment of these Purposes, we pursue the most practicable Measures in " placing Ragoba in the Regency at Poona with this special Proviso, that the Government and Sate

" At this Scalon of the Year it is impossible for us to take any Steps in Prosecution of these Reb " lucions, further than making the occeffary Preparations. In the Beginning of September, when the " will be the proper Time to commence our Operations, we may expect to receive Advices to " Europe to a very late Date, by the Way of Suez, by which we shall be able to judge how to " may be prudent to detach any Part of our Force from Bombay, and in the mean Time we have

" fent Order to Colonel Lessie to march with the Army under his Command to a Place called

" Zinn, about 30 Cols to the N. E. of Poona, instead of proceeding to Surat or Broach, as below " ordered. That Officer, by Advices just received, dated the 3d of this Month, was then advanced

" no further than Chatterpore in the Bundlecund Country, at no great Distance from Coulpy:

"that the Order we have given him, cannot give any further Alarm to the Poona Ministers, our Plan is ripe for Execution, and our Forces ready to act on this Side in Conjunction

" Moraba and his Party had engaged to join Ragoba with all their Forces, as foon as he had passed the Ghauts; but we cannot place much Dependance upon them, at least for any immediate Affistance, as Nanah Furneese upon Suspicion of their Designs, has seized and confined most of this Party, and even secured the Persons of Moraba and Bucheba themselves; yet so much is the Poona Government weakened by the intestine Divisions which have so long subsisted, that we is hope we shall be able to effect our Point without much Disticulty, even if Moraba should not be able to join us; and we doubt not when it is seen that we openly espouse Ragoba's Cause, but many principal Maratta Officers will declare for him, as his Claim and Family are in general * favoured by them, and Nanah's oppressive Government detested.

"In the Terms to be made with Ragoba for the Company, we propose to look to nothing further than the Performance of the Treaty of Surat, the total Exclusion of the French, and the Payment of our Expences."

The 29th of December 1778, the Select Committee addressed the Court as follows, viz. "Our Address of the 31st of July will have informed you how Matters then stood with the Poona Government. In pursuance of the Resolutions then communicated, we on the 12th of October, on the Motion of Mr. Carnac, gave Orders for proceeding forthwith in the Execution of our Plan for reftoring Ragoba. The Limits of an over-land Address will not permit us to enter into a Detail of the several Circumstances of our Preparations and Negociation, which will be communicated by the first Sea Conveyance. It will be sufficient to acquaint you, that on the 25th ultimo, we concluded a Treaty with Ragoba, by which the Honourable Company were bound to affift him with a Body of 4,000 Men to conduct him to Poona, and to place him in the 44 Regency of the Maratta Government during the Minority of the Infant Pelhwa."

We have the Honour to enclose a Copy of the Treaty, and of the Manifesto, published when our Forces landed on the Continent, which we hope will be approved of by you; and we beg Leave nost heartily to congratulate you on the Prospect of retrieving those valuable Acquisitions lost by the Treaty of Poorunder, and of restoring such a Government at Poona as will greatly contribute the general Security of your Possessions in India.

It is remarked as extraordinary in the Governor General and Council having kept us fo much in he Dark, respecting the Object of their Negociation with Moodajee Bouncello, and the Nature of he Commission they have given to Mr. Elliott, especially when it appears by their Letters, the Incrests of this Presidency may be to considerably affected thereby.

Bengal Secret Consultations, 28th September 1778.

READ the following Letter from Mr. Lewis at Poona:

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I did myself the Honour of addressing you last, under the 20th ultimo.

Nanah Furneese having made Madjee Scindy a Present of Three Lacks of Rupees, in order to duce him to consent to Morabah's being sent a Prisoner to Amdanagur, it had the desired Essess for on the 24th July, Scindy removed his People, giving Morabah into Charge of Five hundred Itorse, and Two hundred Foot, belonging to Nanah, who set off with him the same Evening to the above Place. It was at one Time determined on sending Buchabah Proonder Prisoner to Portabgue close to Pundapore; but Scindy afterwards objected thereto, as it belongs to Nanah, and propose his being sent to Solahpore, on the Kistna; but Nanah being apprehensive that Hyder's Troops would release him, it was finally determined on confining him in Chundur, close to Settora; but on he being sent there, the Kelledar resuled to take him in, alledging that Buchabah was as much his Malle as either Sacaram or Nanah: He has therefore at last been sent to Wundun, a Fort close to the beion mentioned, belonging to Bhimrow Pansee.

Nanah Furneese, Sacaram Bapoo, Madjee Scindy, Tookajee Holcar, Hurry Punt, and Pursohra Bhow, have all lately come from Proondur, and encamped on the Plain just without the Town, will their Forces, amounting in the Whole to about Twelve thousand Men; and I am affuled, that with a few Days the Durbars have been confulting how they shall oppose Colonel Leslie's March, but as much puzzled what Officer to send; for Sacaram and Nanah, being mutually assaid of each othe will not consent to Scindy's going, as they consider him as the Umpire between them. Hurry Pu has declared his Refolution of not stirring from hence without the Ministers, who are afraid to tot Holcar with a Command; and Purseram Bhow must return to Meritz, Hyder's Army being encampe on the other Side of the Kistna, with a determined Resolution of attacking it as soon as the Sealid opens. However, in order to do all in their Power to prevent Colonel Lessie's advancing, they have fent private Orders to the different Rajahs and Officers through whose Districts the Colonel will be obliged to march, to use every Endeavour, without coming to Action, to harrass him, and preven his proceeding; particularly recommending the his receiving Supplies of Provisions at the same Time telling them, should they find their Efforts to oblige him to retreat ineffectual, the are to deny having Authority from this Government for the Oppolition they may make, which the Durbar will likewise do, in case of a Complaint of their Behaviour from your Honour, &c. I have already acquainted Colonel Leslie with these Orders, and recommended to him not to trust any Proffers of Service from Madjee Scindy's Officers; being apprehensive, from his general Character for Deceit, that he may have given the like Orders.

I am also informed, that the Durbar, in order the more securely to carry on the above Scheme, have determined on sending a Person of Consequence to Bombay, with Proposals to Ragobah; though, as far as I can learn, they are to be nearly the same as those sent by Mr. Mostyn last Year.

Enclosed I have the Honour to forward Three Letters from the Durbar, in Answer to those from the Honourable the Governor General, received with your Commands of the 8th June; and beg Leave to observe, Gentlemen, that I have not received an Answer to the Application I made for a Dustuck for the free Passage of your Troops through the Maratta Dominions, as mentioned in my last Address.

Poona, the 6th August 1778.

I am very respectfully, &c.

Extract of Bombay Select Confultations, the 12th October 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor, John Catnac, Esquire, Colonel Charles Egerton, Daniel Draper, Esquire.

HE Committee being assembled, Mr. Carnac delivers in the following Minute:

Mr. Carnac is forty to observe, that " although we had by an unanimous Vete pronounced the Treaty of Poorunder to have been infringed in almost every Article, not a single Step has yet been taken in Protecution of our Refolution of the 21ft July, and to avail ourselves of the Opportunity afforded by the Distractions in the Bramin Ministry, to exclude Nanah from any Share in the Peshwa Government, who, ever fince he has had the Lead thereat, has been inceffantly plotting Mischief against us, and to invest in his room, during the Minority of the Peshwa, Ragonaut Row with the chief Admin flration of the Maratta State, to which he has the fairest Claim, and whose Fretensions good Policy requires us to support, on account of the close Connections we have had with him, and of his known favourable Disposition towards us. The Times will not allow of further Delay; and if we do not foon openly espouse the Cause of Ragonaut Row, there is great Danger that the happy Moment for establishing his Authority, so essential to our Welfare, will be irrecoverably lost. It is not to be doubted that the French have been invited to Choul by Nanah, and should be be joined by Four or Five hundred Men of that Nation (which it may be expected will be the Case) it is to be apprehended he will with their Aid acquire such a Preponderancy in the Government, as to be able to bassle our utmost Essorts, and perhaps to usurp the Dignity of Peshwa. The Degree of Power Nanah actually possesses is a considerable, that is the be • fuffered to retain it, the most serious Evils must ensue to the Company from his avowed Enmity to the English, and the French will be admitted to the exclusive Trade and Intercourse with the Marattas, which by a timely Exertion we might have fecured, and without which our Possessions on 4 this Side of India are feareely worth our holding. Mr. Carnae entertaining these Sentiments, is ng inclined to behave we were warranted, by the most urgent Plea of Necessity in Behalf of the Company's to give our most strenuous Assistance to Ragonath Row, for procuring him the Office of the consideration independently of the Governor General and Council; how much more then must be to set incumbent upon us so to do, when we have their express Sanction of the Meafure; especially as 11 the present State of Astairs there is no Risque likely to be incurred by The Settlement, during the short Time the Troops may be supposed to be employed in effecting withis Service? We do not conceive we ought to be deterred from our Purpose, as it has been arsigued we should, by the Paragraph in the Governor General and Council's Letter to us, dated 17th * August, respecting any Engagements formed with Moodajee Bouncello by Mr. Elliott, and previous Notice to us given. By a strict Attention to the Words and to the Context, nothing more se feems to be meant, than that we should enter into no final Engagements with Ragonath Row, which may be contrarged such as shall be concluded with, or of a hostile Tendency to the Government of Berar. If the Letter is to be understood as containing a Direction that we are ab-Councily to undertake nothing till we have Advices from Mr. Elliott of the Nature, Progress, and Refult of his Commission with the Bouncello, it would be tantamount to a Prohibition of the Expedition we had meditated, and which they have approved, by suspending it to so distant a Period as to leave us little or no Hopes of Succeis.

It will be proper here to remark that there is no Reason to believe Moraba's Party is so depressed but that, in Conjunction with the other Favourers of Ragoba, they may render us material Service in the Execution of our Plan; however, at all Events Mr. Carnac deems it our indispensable Duty to use every Endeavour to anticipate, if possible, the French in so important a Point, as the having the prevailing Influence at the Maratta Durbar.

"Our Conduct must appear strangely inconsistent to our Honourable Employers, if, after having for earnestly and repeatedly lamented to them, as we have done, our Misfortune in being precluded by the controlling Power of the Bengal Government, from taking Advantage of these lucky Circumstances which have occurred, we should now remain wholly mastive, when that Government has given us a full Latitude to act, and has provided us with the necessary Resources to do it with Vigour and Effect."

The Subject of this Minute being taken into Confideration, it is thought necessary, before we come any Resolution, to consult Mr. Mostyn on some Points; who attending accordingly, the Subject of bate was communicated, and the necessary Papers read to him, he delivers himself as follows:

the Poona Government, it evidently appears to me the fooner it is undertaken the better; the Rep. VI.

Bombay Selett Consultations the 19th October 1778.

M. Draper acquaints us he will deliver in his Reasons in Writing for dissenting to the above Resolution.

At a Select Committee; Present, as in the preceding one.

Mr. Draper now lays before us his Reasons in Writing for dissenting to our Resolution mediately conducting Ragoba to Poona, as entered at Length after this Consultation.

A P P E N D I X, Nº 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, and 117.

'To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor, &c. Select Committee at Bombay.

" Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

"I am concerned that after concurring with your Honour, &c. not only in the Resolutions of the 21st of July, but with the Board at large in every other since the 10th December last, for conducting Ragonath Row to Poona in quality of Regent, I should think it my indispensable Duty, from the Difference of Circumstances since the sirst-mentioned Period, to differ to the Resolution you came to the 12th Instant for doing it at this Juncture, and which I have been further induced to from thinking it a Medure, all Circumstances considered, the most important which has ever been agitated at this Presidency, and for the following Reasons.

"First. Because of the express Conditions contained in the Governor General and Council's Letter of the 17th August.

" Secondly, Because of the Restraint Moraba, Bucheba, and their Adherents, still appear to be under.

"Thirdly, Because of the remote Distance of Colonel Leslie's very considerable Reinforcement.

. "Fourthly, Because of the very great Deficiency in our European Force, to the last Estab-! Issued by the Honourable Company.

"As to the First Point, Because though the Governor General and Council have approved the Plan of the 21st July, it is only on the following express Conditions:

"That it do not interfere with any Engagement formed with Moodajee Bouncello, and previous Notice to you by him.

" On this it must be observed, that we have not yet received a single Line from that Gentleman; but may though expect it, conformable to the Governor General and Council's Letter of the 13th July, wherein they tell us, that Mr. Elliott would fend us fuch Articles as he might agree to with the Rajah; that in the mean Time, to prevent any Step of a contrary Tendency on our Part, they requested we would retrain from forming any Engagements of a Nature hollile to the Government at Poona, except fuch as may appear absolutely necessary for the Defence of our Possessions. Mr. Mostyn remarks in his Minute, delivered the 12th Instant, that he does not apprehend any Engagement we may have with Ragonath Row, can interfere with the Treaty Mr. Elliott may • enter into with Moodajee, except that of placing him in the Rajaship, which possibly may be • the very Object they may have in View; as we have had Reason to think, from what the Governor and Council have communicated to us, that it is a Negociation of a very extensive Nature, and meant to comprehend the Company's general Interests. Mr. Mostyn, to prevent their and our Freaty cashing, proposes, that an Article may be inserted in ours to provide against it; but I refer it to your Honour, &c. whether, confidently with the Secrecy the Governor General Frand Council have enjoined us in this Refpect, and much lefs without exciting the Jealoufy of the Maratta Government, any fuch Article could be proposed? The Words contained in the latter Part, are so very express and significant, and so much ensorted by being repeated in the * Third, that I cannot adopt any other than their literal Meaning, especially as by doing it, the whole political System the Governor General and Council may intend to establish, may be entirely unhanged.

" Second Condition, That our latest Advices from Europe shall be equal to an Assurance, that the Force required for executing the Plan of the 21st July, may be spared without endangering the Safety of Bombay in the Event of a French Invalion .-- Your Honour, &c. will I hope excute my differing with you on this Point, as I know of no fuch Advices; on the contrary, you will give me Leave to remark, that the general Tenor of the Honourable Company's Commands this Seafon, flrongly inculcate our merely attending to our own Defence, without intimating the leaft. Idea that they expect we should be able to undertake any offenfive Acadore. The Governor General and Council have certainly been equally attentive to our Defence; as they, near a Twelvemonth ago, recommended our withdrawing our Europeans from the Subordinates, which has accordingly been done; and your Honour, &c. are Tentiole, that in their Letter of the 11th July, they even recommended our evacuating Tannah, and the other Forts on Salfette for the Jame Purpose; and with respect to our affishing in the proposed Reduction of Mylie, ordered us to do it in a Manner confishent with our Safety; which, they added, must be particularly attended to. I am in Hopes we shall not be attacked by the French the current Season; but it is no more than Hope; and so far am I from concurring with your Honour, &c. that a fufficient Force for the intended Service can be spared Ifrom Bombay, without endangering the Salety of it in the Event of a French Invalion, that apprenend we thall have few more than the Bandarees and miterable Militia to depend on; or as to recalling any Part of the deftined Force, after it has left the Island; in case of uch an Event, I think it cannot, in common Prudence, be trufled to.

Mr. Matyn in his Minute, delivered the 12th inftant, feems very preffing for our embracing the refent Juneture; but if I mistake not, he has been equally to fince the 10th December last, and I to Chage it must have cleaped him, that on the 21st July, in Answer to the first Question put to import your Hollar, &c. he replied, that he judged Moraba, Bucheba, and Tookajee Holkar,

" might affift us with 30,000 Horse: Such a considerable Assistance, considering that the Two " former are under Restraint, and the latter greatly suspected, I think cannot now be reasonably ex-" pected; in which Cate, according to Mr. Mostyn's Opinion at that Time, the Service will be " come more difficult and tedious; which is corroborated by the 4th Article of the Treaty pr. posed by Moraba and Maheputt Row Trimbuck, even on the Supposition of the above mentioned Affillance, viz. "The English Army that will accompany Dada Sahab shall remain as long 45 we may have occasion for it, and be dismissed when we may think proper, to which you will wake " no Objection;" also to Part of the 10th Article, viz. "If the Undertaking should take up Tire you will afford fuch an Encrease of Men and Stores as may be necessary to accomplish it, which after the main Body is gone, I apprehend we should be much at a Loss to make good."

Third Condition. That the Engagement you may form with Ragonath Row himself, or " Moraba and his Affociates, be not contrary to those concluded with Moodajee by Mr. Flarts " and noticed to you, nor of a hostile Tendency to the Government of Berar .- Having fully re-" marked on the first Condition, to which this is similar, I have only to allow that it would be easy to 44 avoid entering into any Agreement with Ragonath Row or Moraba, of a hostile Tendency 44 the Government of Beiar, but for the Objections noticed under the first Condition. "Regarding the Second Point, Because it as pears by a Letter received from Mr. Lewis, a km Days after transmitting our Plan of the 21st July to the Governor General and Council, that they  were then only acquainted that Moraba and Buchebah were feized and confined by Nanah I urrecy 46 and that their Adherents, whether Bramins or Officers, had been feized, and confiderable Fines in " manded of them; also that Tookajee Holkar had been much difgraced by the Appointment of " a Duan contrary to his Inclination, which the Governor General and Council could not be approx of for some Time after the 17th August, nor of their subsequent Alteration of Confinence, " otherwise that they might not have approved the Plan in the Manner they have done: And as a " Mr. Moftyn's Remark, that Holkar with feveral other Maratta Officers, now Adherents of Moral, "will conclude that your Honour, &c. have quite given up the Caute of Ragonath Row and with under the Necessity of taking Part with Nanah Furnesse, I imagine it may be easily obviated by giving them Intimation to the contrary. 'With respect to the other Point, Because it was resolved the 21st July, and Orders sector " Colonel Leflie the Day following, to bend his March to Junieer, about 30 Miles N. F. of Poor, by which Time we could order him to act either in Profecution of the Plan, by fecuring the Palage " and effecting a Junction of our Forces and Ragonath Row, or to proceed on to Bombay, acces-" ing as our Advices from Europe might render it expedient.—But it feems that your Honour, h. (-" as well as Mr. Mostyn, are now of a different Opinion, notwithstanding that the Colonel ma " last Letter from Rajee Ghur, dated the 25th of August, assures us that he shall be attentive to h " Alteration we had thought it expedient to direct in his Route from the Nabedah, and notwithfland " that his Destination hither is in consequence of an urgent Representation of a Want of Assistant " for this very Service. " Fourthly. Because, although I am not acquainted with the exact Deficiency in our Europe " Force, I am sensible that it is a lamentable one, compared with the last Establishment ordered the Honourable Company in April 1775, of 312 Artillery and 1200 Infantry, and indeed it care is " be better described than in our Letter of the 8th ultimo to Sir Edward Vernon; and I beg look to remind your Honour, &c. that when you proposed conditioning Ragonath Row to Poon.

"December last, you judged it absolutely necessary to request the President and Council at both " Saint George to hold in Readinels a very confiderable Body of European Artillery and Island " with a Battalion of Sepoys to repair hither to affift in our then intended Operations, and we had " fince that Period received no Reinforcement of Europeans, but what has been recalled from ... " Subordinates. "But notwithstanding the foregoing Reasons, which have induced me to differ from your Hours &c. Resolution of the 12th Instant, I beg Leave to assure you I am too well convinced of the N " ceffity of removing Nanah from the Administration of Affairs in the Maratta Government, of " reinstating Ragonath Row in Quality of Regent, for the Welfare of this Prefidency, and three " tain Advantages we may expect to reap from it, in confequence of the Treaty concluded at Suc " not to concur in it, whenever it can confiftently and fecurely be done; and which it appears that •• may be effected with more Propriety, and a much greater Probability of Success, in about to " Months, as we may by that Time hope the Refolutions, with respect to Mr. Elhott's Negocials " may be removed, that Colonel Lessie may arrive at the Destination ordered him in July, and the " the Honourable Company's expected Ships, as also the Squadron, may then be with us; but " any rate, I most fincerely wish the Plan your Honour, &c. have adopted, may be attended and " all imaginable Success. " Being with Respect, Bombay, tóth October 1778. "Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

"Your most obedient and most humble Servant,

Extrast from a Confultation held the 26th Ostober.

Present the same as the foregoing.

In Reply to the Reasons alledged by Mr. Draper, for diffenting from the Resolution of the Committee under the 12th Instant, the other Members who concurred therein have only to observe, that in their Opinion the Success of the Measures determined upon, the absolute Necessity whereof Mr. Draper admits, depend upon its being immediately undertaken; and the Execution will become much more difficult, if not altogether impracticable, by being suspended to so distant a Period as that Gentleman proposes: It is certain that very advantageous Offers have been made by Nanah through Monsieur St. Lubin to the French Nation, in order to engage their Assistance in Support of his usurped Authority; and if a Junction of their Forces with him be once effected, they will acquire so predominant an Influence at the Poona Durbar as will occasion a perpetual Warfare between the Marattas and us, whereby the Company's Policifions on the Western Side of India must be rendered insecure and unprofitable; they therefore deem themselves bound in Duty to their Honourable Masters to prevent (if possible) an Accident so ruinous to their Interests, by a timely Interposition of the only Resource that is left, namely to take Advantage of the present Divisions amongst the Bramin Ministers, to establish Ragonath Row in the Regency, and to assist him with as considerable a Part of our Force as we can spare for that Purpose Although it is near Two Months since we had the sirst Advice from the Go-Although it is near Two Months since we had the sirst Advice from the Gowernor General and Council, of their having deputed Mr. Elliott on an important Embassy to the Government of Berar, we have as yet no Information whatever of or from him, and it is hard to guess when we may; but it is no way likely the Degree of Support we mean to give Ragonath Row can be at all affected by any Negociation that may be concluded with Moodajee Bouncello, for even supposing it should be recommended to him to affert his Pretensions to the Rajaship of Sattara, and that he should in consequence assume that Dignity, it is most probable he would continue the Husht Prandaun Government, taking Care to reduce them to their original Subjection to the Rajah; and the Sovereignty being in the Person of Moodajee, who is in Friendship with the Bengal Administration, it would perhaps be more for the general Interest, that the Husht Prandaun, a Council of Eight, hould be dependant.

The Secretary now lays before us a Draft of the Letter from Ragoba to the principal Maratta Officers to be circulated on his landing on the Continent; which being approved, is ordered to be explained to Ragoba, and approved by him a proper Number of Copies must be made in the country Language, and the Company's Seal and Ragoba's private Seal affixed thereto.

Prefent as before.

As we hope the Forces will be ready to move the next Spring, about the 20th of the Month, it is thought necessary to fix the Method of carrying our Plan into Execution; and as the Appointment of a Committee is thought best suited for the Purpose, the President proposes, that Messes. 12c, Egerton, and Mostyn, should be the Committee appointed; and they are appointed accord-he faid Committee will consider of the further Arrangements necessary for the intended Service, wait upon Ragoba to communicate our Intentions to him, and the Conditions to be previously plated with him; in which they must enjoin him to observe the utmost Secrecy.

The President acquaints us, That he has summoned this Meeting at the Desire of Colonel Egerton; who acquaints us, that having through Misapprehension assented to the Appointment of the Committee to accompany the Army to Poona, he now withdraws his Assent, and Dissents thereto, for which he explains his Reasons in Writing as follow:

- " A Committee having been appointed a few Days ago, of Mr. Carnac, myself, and Mr. Moslyn. to treat with Ragoba, as I conceived, for the immediate Transaction of Business on this Island " I gave my Consent thereto; but having since discovered by Accident, that it is the Intention of "the faid Committee to accompany me in that Capacity on the intended Expedition; I defire to k_{now} if that was the Honourable the Governor's Defign, when he made the Propotal for forming it at
- " the Board; and should that be the Case, to declare, that I find myself necessitated not only to " withdraw my Assent to the Measure, but even to enter my Protest against it, for the following " Reasons:

- " First, Because I deem it diametrically opposite to the Intentions of the Honourable the Court of " Directors.
- "Secondly, Because it is morally impossione any recoveration can take proceed with the which the commanding Officer, with the Poona Ambassador (who will of course proceed with the which the commanding Officer, with the Poona Ambassador (who will of course proceed with the which the Covernor and " Secondly, Because it is morally impossible any Negociation can take place on the Road, on

" Select Committee.

- "Thirdly, Because it appears very clearly, from the Commands of the Honourable Directors of " the 10th April last, received per Ship Caranja, Paragraph the 3d, that in the commanding Officers
- "Absence, the Select Committee is to consist till his Return, of the Honourable the Governor, the Second and Fourth in Council. This can, I think, bear only one Interpretation, viz. that the

" Persons abovementioned, and not a Part of them, are competent to act in that Capacity."

After the Discussion of this Matter, the President puts the following Question, in which Messis. Carnac and Egerton decline voting:

Whether Two Members of this Committee can be detached from the Presidency at the same Time, upon any temporary Service? and whether the Two remaining Members are, in their Ab fence, competent to form a Committee?

Mr. Draper votes in the Negative on this Question, being of Opinion it is the Company's Meaning that none of the Civil Members of the Committee should be detached from the Presidency when the commanding Officer will likewise be absent, as it would occasion the same Inconvenience they have guarded against in the Paragraph respecting the commanding Officer.

The President is of Opinion, that from the last Paragraph, in Calculate Great Emergency, as in the present, Two Members may be absent, or even he himself, if the Service should require it; and that the Remainder can form a Committee in the Absence of the other Two.

The Question being therefore determined in the Affirmative by the President's casting Vote, it is the Resolution of the Committee, That the remaining Two Members, in the Absence of the other Two, are competent to form a Select Committee; and therefore our former Appointment of the Committee to accompany Ragoba stands confirmed.

Mr. Carnac delivers in his Opinion on the general Question proposed at our last Meeting, 2

- "It having been judged highly necessary, that our utmost Endeavours should be exerted to essent the Removal of the present Ministers of the Infant Peshwa, who are avowedly and invertently
- " hostile to us, and to place the chief Administration of Assairs in the Hands of Ragonath Row, appointed for the Purpose; and as there can scarcely be any other political Business of equal Importance, he thinks One of the Civil Members of the Secret Committee ought to be nominated for that Service. He does not conceive that the temporary Absence of One of the Civil Members, during the Space of Time that may be required for the Accomplishment of the Business we are now about to undertake, can be construed into a Vacancy, or that the Powers of the Secret Committee are to be suspended during the Absence of such Members."

When Mr. Draper acquaints us, that he likewise apprehended, from our Minute of the 4th Nonber, that the Object of the Committee's Appointment was only confined to settle the Arrangeats of Ragoba, previous to his quitting the Island, and was not meant to accompany the Army to na, as he thought the Committee for that Purpose was hereafter to be appointed; he also begs we to observe, that in the Opinion he gave on the 7th Instant, he did not mean to imply that Committee was not competent to transact Business in the Sickness or accidental Absence of Two the Members, but only that it was not according to the Meaning of the Company's Orders, the Arrangethat the Object of the Company's Orders, the Members should be detached from the Presidency on any temporary Service.

18th November 1778.

At a Committee; all Present.

Colonel Egerton now delivers the following Minute, in Reply to Mr. Carnac's, entered under te 11th Instant.

Colone: Egerton entirely agrees with Mr. Carnac, that the placing the chief Administration of e Poona Government in the Hands of Ragoba, is a Matter of such important Concern to the onourable Company, that it ought by no Means to be entrusted to the Management of any One modelling; and therefore most heartily acquiesces in the Appointment of a Committee for modelling the Business on the Spot, before any Steps were taken publicly and avowedly for his Support; and when it may be effected and ratified with the Sanction and Approbation of the Select Committee, nothing more can remain to be done, but to effect their Orders by the due and vigorous Exertion of the Military Power; for which Purpose he statters himself the Honourable Directors deem the Services of the Committee needless.

The Colonel's Objection was solely to the Deviation from the Honourable Directors plain order, that in the Absence of the commanding Officer the Select Committee is to consist of the conourable the Governor, the Second and Fourth in Council; he therefore wishes you seriously consider beforehand, what disagreeable Consequences such a Deviation will be liable to, parallarly in the present Case, when it may be thought unnecessary, as any unforeseen Occurrences in a Couple of Days be communicated to the Select Committee, whose Powers should not be subject to the smallest Shadow of Cavil or Dispute."

having been explained to him by the Committee, he at first made some Exceptions against it, articularly to that Clause respecting his carrying on the Government as Regent only during the Mility, and the Sicca being continued in the Peshwa's Name. After the proper Arguments on the Oction had been urged by the Committee, and afterwards by Mr. Mostyn, his Objections appeared to ide and he seemed very ready to agree to the Terms, on Condition we would lend him Three its of Rupees, and indulge him in some other Articles of warlike Stores; but having expressed a te that the Letter might be left with him for further Consideration, it was accordingly left with and to our great Surprize it was returned Yesterday to the President, accompanied with a Paper liming sundry Alterations of a very material Nature, which he proposed should be made therein. Mr. Carnac lays before us a Report of the Committee's Conference with Ragoba in confequence of the Resolution of our last Meeting; and further acquaints us, that Ragoba had at last agreed to wave his Demand for having it stipulated in the Treaty, that if the Child should be proved spurious he, Ragoba, should be declared Peshwa; and had put his Sicca to the Circular Letter as dia in out by the Secretary, after a few Alterations of no material Confequence, on Condition that we would engage to represent to the Honourable Company, in the strongest Terms, his most solemn De Irration that the Child is supposititious, and that he can produce the real Father and Mother, and also that he will point out to them the entreme Injustice of his being obliged to hold the Government in the Name of such suppositious Child, and that he will request to receive their explicit Orders by the rliest Conveyance, how we are to proceed in case he should produce unquestionable Proots of his legation, and whether they will permit him then to assume the Government in his Name, which on fuch Proof will be his undoubted Right. That Ragoba further requested it might be mentioned to the Honourable Company, that in case the Child should prove to be really the Son of Narrain Row, he wished in such case an equal Partition might be made of the Government and Country, agreeable to what he fays is the Gentoo Law.

Ragoba's Relation of the Transaction between him and Mr. Shaw, respecting the Grant of Ahmood, trated in the Committee's Conference, being next confidered, the Broach Records are referred to, where cannot discover any Trace of the Promise Ragoba mentions, but on the contrary, it appears by the Proceedings of the Chief and Council, under the 8th June 1775, that the Cession of Ahmood was a voluntary Gift from Ragoba to the Flonourable Company, and that the Grant passed through the Right to expect from us the Performance of the Promife faid to be made by Mr. Shaw on that the transfer on the tank but that we will confent to receive the Cession of Ahmood on the same Terms he has the Hansood, namely, as a Mark of the Regard to the Honourable Company; and mention it to them in that Light.

As a Supply of Money will be absolutely necessary to enable Ragoba to proceed; Resolved, That Loan be made him of Three Lacks of Rupees; which the State of our Treatury at Bombay and Surat will enable us to make without Inconvenience, and the Scafon for Collection now

The Secretary, by the President's Order sent round the following Note to the Members; on which they gave their Opinions subjoined to the Note.

To the Worshipful John Carnac, Esquire, &c. Members of the Select Committee.

Gentlemen,

The 16th Article of the proposed Treaty, as settled Yesterday by the Committee, appearing to the President, on further Reslection, to be a greater Concession than the Gentlemen at Bengal at by Law entitled to, and not only unnecessary in this Case, but a Precedent which may be very dan. a greater to the Influence and Dignity of this Presidency; he has therefore ordered me to new model of the Influence and Dignity of this Presidency. this Article, and I have the Honour to fend it round for your Opinion.

Thursday, 19th November 1778. I am, with Respect, Gentlemen, &c. &c. Edward Ravenscroft, Sect

I conceive the Act of Parliament obliges us to submit the supposed Treaty to the Control of the Governor General and Council; and therefore prefer the Arti le approved of Yesterday to that now proposed to be substituted for it.

Janiel Draper.

I in a great Measure agree with the President; however, as our Determination of this Matter may be attended with ferious Confequences, I think it should be fairly debated in the Committee; and a after hearing a full Discussion of the Arguments in favour of the several Opinions, we shall be better able to resolve.

John Carnac.

I have this Moment received the Act; and therefore will not delay giving my Opinion; viz. That in this whole Affair, we are bound to proceed with the Sanction and Approbation of the Su preme Council, which is already obtained for our private Justification; but it is needless to make any public Mention thereof in the Treaty.

Charles Egerton.

The 16th Article of the proposed Treaty being now re-considered, the Act of Parliament is re-rized to; wherein we find it laid down, "That it shall not be lawful for any President and Council, &c. to make any Orders for commencing Hothlities, or declaring or making War, against any Indian Princes or Powers, without the Confent and Approbation of the Governor General and Indian Princes or Powers, without the Coment and Expression of the Islamful for us to do and Council first had and obtained." It therefore certainly follows, that it is lawful for us to do and Council first had and Approbation, which is the erform the Things aforefaid, when we have obtained such Consent and Approbation, which is the resent Case: And the proposed Article appears the more unnecessary and superstuous, after the Recutal the First Article, that we have proceeded with the Sanction and Approbation of the Governor Geneand Council. Such a Stipulation must create much Distrust and Doubt in Regoba; and certain we te, that it would entirely destroy the Consequence and Dignity of this Government in the Eyes of the country Powers, and be attended with many bad Consequences to the Company's Interests; for after e have proclaimed in our Negociation, that we have obtained the Confent of the Governor General d Council, which is necessary to be done, as their controlling Power is univertally known, if, then we come to the Point, we declare that we have no Authority to conclude a final Engagement, what trifling Light must we appear, and what Power will waste Time in treating with us? Re-lived, therefore, for the above Reasons, and those recorded in our Proceedings under the 9th Inand because we have adhered strictly to the Principles upon which we obtained the Sanction of he Governor General and Council, That the 16th Article of the proposed Treaty, as it now stands, highly improper and unnecessary; and that the following be substituted in lieu thereof, which will provide equally well against our Treaty interfering with the Engagement Mr. Elliott may form with Moodajee Bouncello, and which was our fole Object in the Article as first drawn out.

Amended Article. If any Article of the present Treaty should interfere with any Engagement formed by the Governor General and Council, not yet known to the Governor and Select Committee of Bombay, such Article may be' able to be altered or amended, as may be necessary.

22d November 1778.

At a Committee; all Piefent but Mr. Draper, indisposed.

Mesirs. Carnac and Egerton, Mr. Draper being indisposed, met in the President's Chamber, who hill continues very indifferent; when Mr. Mostyn reports that he had a Conference with Ragoba, on the Subject of the proposed Treaty, who objected to several Parts thereof, and promed to send some of his People this Morning to meet Messrs. Carnae, Egerton, and Moslyn, in order the more fully explain his Objections.

If the final Execution of the Treaty should take up more Time than we expect, Ragoba must be defired in the mean Time to put his Sicca to fome of the Letters to be fent over with Captain Stewart's Party, which we before agreed is to embark this Evening.

Immediately on the Committee's breaking up, Mestrs, Carnac, Egerton, and Mostyn, had a Meeting with Four Agents from Ragoba, with whom they had a tedious Conference of upwards of Four Hours, which ended without any Thing conclusive being settled. The principal Objections made by the Agents were, Firth, to the Article providing for the Security of the Child's Person; in which they want to have specified, the Place of his Residence, the Persons Names who were to have the Charge of him, and also the Fort wherein he might be kept, should he be under Ragoba's Orders. Secondly, To the Article respecting Moraba, &c. which they wanted to have altered in such Manner to leave him entirely dependant on Ragoba's Pleasure, and to be considered by him in the Distribution of the Ossices, as he might think their Services might merit. Thirdly, They insisted an Exprefs Article should be inserted, stipulating that the Select Committee should not in any Shape interfere in fettling the internal Government.

The Agents declaring they had no Power to relax from these Demands, and Messis. Carnac, Egerton, and Mostyn's Arguments being ineffectual, the Conference broke up

The Poona Committee particularly defired the Agents to get-fome of the Circular Letters, figned by Ragoba, to be fent with Captain Stewart's Party; and the Company's Linguist waited on him for that Purpose, but Ragoba refused to fign the Circular Letter till he executed the Treaty.

The Committee fend a Message to Ragoba, desiring him to meet them at 10 o'Clock To-morrow Morning; which he agrees to.

At 11 P. M. Captain Stewart's Division, having embarked in the Afternoon, weighed with the ide, and stood over to the Apta River.

At a Committee; all the Members Present.

Ragoba now meets the Committee according to Appointment, when, after a Conference of near been Hours, he agreed to execute the Treaty, with some small Alterations which were made at his wen Hours, he agreed to execute the freaty, with folic final Letters this Evening.

Previous to his taking Leave, he requested the intended Loan might be enlarged from Three Four Lacks of Rupees, pleading, as he had obliged us in the Affair of Ahmood, he had a Post to expect that Favour; which being a very just Plea, it is agreed to grant his Request, and cannot doubt but the Honourable Company will approve the Loan, considering the valuable Acquisition we shall gain from them by the Treaty.

Ragoba desiring that the Treaty, when fair copied, may be sent to him to execute, the Secretary is ordered to get it ready with all Expedition, when it will be sent to him by a Deputation.

Nº 124.

Ragoba then took his Leave of the Committee with the usual Ceremonies.

The Second Division of the Troops, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Cay, proceeded to Bellapore.

Ragoba returned Six of the Circular Letters, executed under his Sicca, which were immediately countersealed with the Company's Seal, and Four of them sent over to Captain Stewart.

Colonel Charles Egerton proceeded in the Yatch to Billapore.

The Committee met in the Prefident's Chamber, and executed the Treaty, which in the Even ing was sent to Ragoba by Mr. Mostyn.

The Committee, except Colonel Egerton, with the Army, affer bied in the President's Chamber, Mr. Mostyn reports, That Ragoba, notwithstanding his Promise at the Mark of with the Committee, after the Treaty had been fully canvassed, and every Article particularly explained to him, so refused to sign it, unless an Addition was made to the Third, more fully providing for the Charge of the Child's Person, in case Perwettyboy should decline the Offer; and that he likewise objected to the Article ceding over the Autgoms, alledging, that they were not anciently annexed to the District of Salsette, and insisting, that the Value of this Cession should be ascertained, and not to exceed a certain Sum.

As we much wish to remove all Doubts from Ragoba, and to give him Satisfaction, so far a we consistently can; Resolved, That we consent to the following Additions being made to the consent to puted Articles:

To the 3d. " In case Perwettyboy should refuse to undertake the Charge, the Child shall be " put under the Care of any of his Relations by the Mother's Side."

To the 6th. "But although the Governor and Select Committee have even understood that the

"Autgoms made a Part of the Island of Salsette, yet if the contrary should be made plainly to a " pear, they will give up their Claim."

But as we have experienced so much Evasion and Delay on the Part of Ragoba; Resolved, This the following Mcsage be fent to him, if he should not agree to the Treaty with the above Additions:

- "That we are determined not to permit of any further Additions being made in the Treaty.
- That if he refused to execute it in its present Form, we shall drop all Connection with him, and take Possession of the Government at Poona, in the Name of the Peshwa, and carry it on in his
- " Name, until we receive Orders from Bengal whom to appoint Regent; and that in the mean
- "Time we shall not permit of his continuing such a Number of armed Men on the Island, but

" shall insist on their being immediately dismissed."

Nº 125.

27th November 1778.

At a Committee, PRESENT;

The Honourable the President and Mr. Carnac, Colonel Egerton being with the Army, and Mr. Draper indisposed.

MR. Mostyn reports that Ragoba is not satisfied with the Addition made to the 3d Article, and wanted to have it stipulated, that in case the Persons specified therein should decline the Charge the Child should then be put under the Charge of such Persons as may be agreeable to him (Ragobi) and to the Select Committee.

Nº 125, 126. PPENDIX,

As the dangerous Tendency of this Clause is obvious, by giving Ragoba an absolute Negative in the Choice of Guardians for the Child, and we cannot be too guarded in every Stipulation that regards ts Safety; it is relelved at all Hazards to reject the proposed Addition: But still, as we are very anxious to have the Treaty concluded, and unwilling it should be known at Poona that any Disagreements subsist between us and Ragoba; it is agreed to consent to the following Addition being made to the 3d Article, which is the furthest we can go to satisfy Ragoba: And in this Place we judge it proper in Justice to him to declare, that we firmly believe the many Objections he has raised to the 3d Article do not proceed from any evil Defigns against the Child, but occasioned entirely by his Fears that we should place the Child under the Charge of Moraba, or some or the great Officer, which would give them too great an Ascendancy; for if any of them should have the Child in their Hands they will in fact have the Government.

Further Addition to the 3d.

" But in case all these should decline the Trust, the Child shall then be disposed of in such Manner as may be deemed most advisable for his Security, and for the Honour of the contracting Partics."

Mr. Mostyn acquaints us that he delivered the Message to Ragoba agreed to Yesterday, as he still hoped the Matter would be accommodated, which is approved.

In the Afternoon Mr. Sibbald, the Company's Interpreter, was sent out to Ragoba with the proposed Addition to the Article; which after much Argument he agreed to, and the necessary Alterations having been made to the Treaty, Ragoba put his Sicca to it this Night.

The Treaty with Ragoba as Rally settled and executed is as follows.

As it feems probable that the Enemies of Ragonath Row, if they mean to act with Vigour, should advance a Body of Men into the Conkan, as well to distress us for Provisions on our March, by curting off our Communication with Panwell, as to endeavour to seize the Person of Ragonath Row, whom shey may have heard has not yet joined our Army, we think it requisite to apprize him of this Intelligence, and defire that he will immediately move forwards to the Army at Campoly. It is also accessary that Colonel Egerton should be acquainted with the Receipt of this Intelligence, and to lirect Lieutenant Harvey at Panwell to be on his Guard, and to have Boats ready for shipping off any Stores at a Moment's Warning.

From John Carnac, Esquire, to Ragonath Row.

I received your Message last Night, acquainting me, that some of your heavy Cannon being still ehind, you should not be able to leave Chowke this Day, and requested I would therefore remain t Colipore till you could join me.

If the Enemies of Ragonath Row mean to oppose him with Vigour, it seems probable that they should advance a Body of Men into the Conkan; and therefore they have thought it inquisite to appuse you of this Intelligence having been received, that you may take such Measures a consequence as may appear to you expedient.

They further direct me to inform you, that they mean to proceed from hence this Day, towards Campoly; and that they hope to be able to join you, with Ragonath Row, To-morrow or next Par

Colipore, 13th December 1778. I am, Sir, Your most obedient Servant, W. G. Farmer, Secretary to the Council, Hull, 13th December 1778.

At Six in the Evening arrived at a Tope near the Village of Hull, about 3 Miles from Carry 5. The Inhabitants of the Village all fled.

No Answer being yet received from Ragonath Row to the Letter addressed him by Mr. Can . and, contrary to our Hopes, no Appearance of his advancing this Evening neater to our Army et : Colonel Egerton, the following Reflections occur on the Retardment that feems fludroufly to be been made of his Junction with our Forces. There is no Point which his Enemies have 1948 dioufly aimed at as to possess themselves of his Person, for many evident Motives. In the Site which Nanah Furnecze appears to be, to us it feems probable, that he would ittempt this as hald and most certain Refource for retaining the Government, and for defeating the Hopes of the Poj that may be formed in favour of Ragonath Row. It feems beyond a Doubt, that he received tain Intelligence of every Thing that paffes relative to Ragoba, and perhaps some of the Perford his Confidence may be engaged with Nanah Furneeze to embrace any Opportunity to some of carry him off. It must be owned, that if the Conduct of Ragonath Row has been regulated by Roll treacherous Advisers, it concurs firongly with other Circumstances, to warrant the Supposition of a Design is formed for seizing him. He was first led to Callian; from thence to the Fort of Purb where he remained 4 Days. When he came down, he promised to leave his heavy Bangage held. him, and proceed directly to our Army. This was almost a Proposal of his own. The next Date fent Word, that one of his heavy Cannon being retarded, he should remain at Chowke a Day long is and now, notwithflanding the Advice that was this Day fent him, he still remains at Chowke, will is at least 11 Miles from our Army at Campoly, a Distance that renders it impracticable to and a timely Aid, should any Design be formed by his Enemies to pessels themselves of his iche These several Circumstances concurring with the Advice received at Noon, of the March of a Bod of Men on Monday last towards the Conkan, render it our Duty to take the best Means in of Power for effectually fecuring the Person of Ragonath Row, whose Seizure would be equally graceful, distressing, and disadvantageous to us, in the present State of our Connections with the This may be done, we apprehend, by advancing a further Guard instantly for his Protection, if acquainting him instantly with our Apprehensions and our Intentions to advance this Guard. 12.3 therefore resolved to send Mr. W. G. Farmer directly to Colonel Egerton at Campoly, to that of Ideas to him, and recommend it to him, to order a further Guard or not less than 300 S. pove, to be immediately advanced to Chowke, for the Protection of Ragoba. A Meffage was also tent to Rago nath Row as above stared.

At 10 at Night Mr. Farmer returned from Campoly, and informed us, that having a quality Colonel Egerton fully with our Opinions, as above fet forth, the Colonel returned for Artiver.

APPENDIX, Nº 127.

he Army was but just come to its Ground, and that it would be harrassing the Men too much to harch them back 10 or 11 Miles to Chowke; that he apprehended the Guard now with Ragonath low was sufficient for the Security of his Person, and if it was not thought sufficient, it would be such easier for Messrs. Carnac and Mostyn to advance the Guard with them, than to send one from he Army.

No Answer being yet received from Ragoba to the Letter sent him Yesterday, Mr. Sibbald was Monday, 14th, ant about 9 A. M. to represent suitably to him our Apprehensions of what might possibly be the besigns of his Enemies; and to engage farther to him our Wishes, that he would essectually secure is Person by advancing nearer to our Army.

Received the following Letter at 9 A. M.:

To W. G. Farmer, Esquire, Secretary to the Committee appointed to accompany Ragonath Row.

I am directed by Colonel Egerton to acquaint you, that he has received your Letter of this Date, and that he is much obliged to Messer. Carnac and Mostyn for the Intelligence they have not him. He thinks there is nothing to be apprehended from any Opposition the Enemies of Lagonath Row may attempt against him in the Conkan; but he will however take such Measures n consequence as to him shall appear necessary.

The Colonel is very glad to hear he may so shortly expect the Pleasure of seeing Ragobah and Messrs. Carnac and Mostyn, at Campoly.

Campoly, 13th December 1778. I am, Sir,
Your obedient humble Servant,

M. Murray, Secretary to Colonel Egerton, Commander in Chief.

At about 10 A. M. an Answer was received from Ragonath Row to the Letter written him resterday, of which the following is a Translate:

To John Carnac, Esquire.

After Compliments:

You sent me a Letter, in which you mention News being received of the March of the Hotse, and recommend me to move on to Campoly. I also got Intelligence that their Horse was come to the Gautt; but now they are gone back: Should they perhance come down, I will seize them; there is nothing to fear. I have great Trouble to get Bullocks and People for my Cannon and Baggage; but I will use my best Endeavours, and To-morrow or Tuesday will arrive at Campoly: You will please to send me 300 Men. Why should I write more?

13th December:

At about Six in the Evening Mr. Sibbald returned from Ragonath Row, and brought an Answer in Substance the same as the foregoing Letter. He further expressed himself much obliged for the Attention shewn to his Safety; and though, by the Detachment with him and his own Guards, he apprehended no Danger, yet if convenient he would farther wish to have the Force sent him proposed by Mr. Carnac. Mr. Sibbald had persuaded him to advance beyond Colipore; as he is how within about a Mile from hence, it does not appear requisite to advance any further Guard for his Protection.

At about Eight this Evening the following Letters were received, under Cover, to Mr. W. Lewis, from the Camp at Campoly:

To William Lewis, Esquire, at Poona.

Addressed the Honourable the Select Committee as follows:

To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President, &c. Select Committee, Bombay,

Gentlemen,

The Occasion of the present Dispatch is to forward you a Letter from Colonel Goddard, test 1 under Cover to the Resident at Poona; as a Letter he writes at the same Time to Mr. Lewis informs us generally of the Contents of his Dispatch to you, and as we have not your express Permilion to open Letters directed to you, we have forborn to take that Liberty at prefent, but beg Leaven lubmit to you the Propriety of having this Permission in future, as a speedy Knowledge of the Contents of Advices both from the Governor General and Council, and from Colonel Goddard, may hereafter be very important to us in our Negociations.

We have also thought fit to forward to you without Loss of Time, Copy of a Lettter from Dadage Adowice at Poona to Captain Stewart; because as it seems this Mr. W. Bolts means shortly to proceed to Bombay, you will be able to judge of the Danger of admitting to an English Por a Man who under neutral Colours appears to be immediately connected with our most danger ous Enemies, both in Europe and this Country: The Mode in which this Intelligence was obtained by Dadajee Adowjee appears to be through Thomas Barnes, an Englishman, who has been long in the Service of the Poona Government, and is usually employed by them to explain intercepted ?

Letters written by Europeans.

Although we arrived at Panwell to long ago as the 8th Instant, yet owing to the various Delays of Ragonath Row, whom we wished to keep as near to us as possible, we have not yet joined Colonel Egerton: As these Delays have in no Shape we believe retarded the March of the Army, they cannot have had any material Confequence; but as the Appearance of Ragonath Row above the Gautts mult tend to encourage his Partizans, and to expedite the Accomplishment of what the Committee have in charge, by inducing those Partizans either to join him or to act openly and decisively in his Favour, we have never cealed to urge to him the Propriety of proceeding expeditiously; and having one brought him to content to leave his Cannon and heavy Baggage to come on at Leiture, we hope in a Day or Two to be able to advite you of his being at Condolah.

The 13th Instant we received Intelligence of the March of 1500 Horse and 3000 Foor from Poona towards the Conkan. If the Enemies of Ragonath Row mean to act vigouroully it feemed to us they would endeavour to intercept our Communication with Bombay, as well in the Hope of diffreshing us by cutting off our Supplies of Provisions and Stores, as perhaps with a View to attempt some thing against the Perion of Ragonath Row, whom they must have known went first to Callian and afterwards up to the Fort of Purbule; we therefore advited Colonel Egerton of the Receipt of this Intelligence, and have perfuaded Ragonath Row to advance nearer to our Army: There has yet been no

Advice of these Troops having entered the Conkan; on the contrary, it appears to us by a Letter Yesterday from Ragonath Row, that they had advanced to the Gautt, but retired again.

Dadajee Adowice also writes to Mr. Lewis under the 11th Instant, that Sacaram and Nanah have Tuessay, 13th dispatched one Amrut Row to Sattarah, with Orders to proclaim a new Rajah, and to procure from him a Succa to Mhadoo Row Narrain.

Hull, One Coss from Campoly, 15th December 1778.

We are with Respect, Gentlemen,

Your most obedient Servants, Jnº Carnac, Tho' Mostyn.

P. S. We are just advised that Two 6 Pounders were Yesterday got up the Gautts by Hand, and are now with the Detachment at Condolah under Captain Stewart.

Campoly, 15th December 1778.

At Six in the Evening arrived at the Camp at Campoly: The Secretary to the Committee fent the following Summons to Colonel Egerton and Mr. Mostyn:

To Colonel Charles Egerton, and Thomas Mostyn, Esquire.

Gentlemen, I am directed by Mr. Carnac to request you will please to meet him at his Tent To-morrow at Ten Clock, in order to open and peruse a Packet from the Honourable the Scleet Committee of Bombay, addressed to John Carnac, Eiquire, Colonel Charles Egerton, and Thomas Mostyn, Esquire, the Committee proceeding to Poona.

Camp at Campoly, 15th December 1778. I am, with Respect, Gentlemen, Your most obedient humble Servant, W. G. Farmer. Secretary to the Committee?

Received a Letter from Dadajee Adowjce at Poona to Captain Stewart, dated the 14th Instant, forwarding one from the Nabob of Tall Bopaal to Mr. Lewis, which he could not read; but that he had learned that Colonel Goddard was arrived at Tall Bopaal, and had flaid there Eight Days; that the 13th Instant a new Rajah was proclaimed at Sattarah, but that the Sicca was not yet arrived; that some Person had desired him to acquaint Mr. Lewis that Ragojee Angria, who was a Relation of Scindia's and entirely devoted to the Ministers, intended to offer Ragoba 1000 Horse for his Service, with a View to betray him.
The Letter from the Nabob of Tall Bopaal mentioned the Arrival of the Bengal Army in the District of Bopaal, and that agreeable to what had been written him, he (the Nabob) should furnish the Colonel with Grain, and afford him any other friendly Aid in his Power.

In consequence of the Contents of the Letter received Yesterday from Dadajee Adowjee, Mr. Car- Wednesday, 1666 nac at Nine A. M. sent Mr. Sibbald to Ragoba, to advise him of the Intelligence received relative to the treacherous Designs of Angria; to caution him against those Designs; and to advise him to advance nearer to our Army.

> W^m Hornby, Jn• Carnac, D. Draper.

Edwd Ravenscroft, Secretary to the Select Committee.

To John Carnac, Esquire, Colonel Charles Egerton, and Thomas Mostyn, Esquire.

Gentlemen.

You are well informed of the several Steps that have led to the Conclusion of a new Treaty with Ragonath Row, by which the Honourable Company are bound to affift him with a Body of Force, to conduct him to Poona, and to place him in the Regency of the Maratta Empire.

As the Welfare, and we may almost fay the Existence, of this Presidency, will depend on the Success of the Measure we have embarked in, we have thought it proper to commit to you the Execution of our Plan; and you are appointed a Committee, and by the accompanying Commission vested with the necessary Powers to concert and conduct all Political and Military Operations in the Course of this Expedition; relying upon your Zeal, Address, and Judgment, to bring the Business to a speedy seems. and happy Conclusion.

Upon Receipt hereof Meffrs. Carnac and Mostyn are to proceed with all convenient Expedition to Panwell, where the Army intended for this Service is now encamped, under the Command of Colonel Ragobah proceeds by the Way of Tannah; and as foon as he has joined the Army, we direct that you urge him to march without Loss of Time to Poona, a Measure which we trust will be effected with little Difficulty or Opposition, as the Passage of the Ghauts is already secured by Captain Stewart's Division; and we have strong Reasons to believe that a very general Disposition prevails amongst the Maratta Officers and People in favour of Ragobah and his Pretensions.

You will not fail strongly to inculcate to Ragobah the Necessity of his making himself Master of Poona without a Moment's Loss of Time, and take the utmost Care to keep him steady to this Points which ought to be and must be his first Object; for according to the Treaty we are only bound to put him in Possession of Poona, and to place him in the Regency of the Maratta Empire; and it is equally for his Interest and the Company's, that it should be accomplished in the most expeditious Man-

PPENDIX. Nº 127.

We shall deliver to you herewith a Number of circular Letters under Ragobah's Sicca and the Conta pany's Seal, and a Translation thereof for your Notice: These are to be sent to the principal Officers, and dispersed over the Country, that our Intentions in bringing over Ragobah may be made known to all Ranks of People; and if after this Declaration your March should be opposed by the Poona Ministers, or their Adherents, we hereby authorize you to repel Force by Force, and to conduct Ragobah to Poona against all Opposition.

It Overtures should be made on the March to Poona by any of the Maratta Chiefs or Ministers, you will affilt Ragobah with your best Advice, and promote to the utmost of your Power any Accommodation that you may judge favourable to our Views, which are to connect Ragobah with Men of Influence and Estimation in their own Country, and well inclined to the Honourable Company; and in this Light we must regard Moraba Furneese, Tookajee Holcar, and Butcheba Pronder, in the oremost Rank.

We flatter ourselves that from the Experience Ragobah has had of our Attachment, and his Confidence in your Judgment and Regard to his Interest, that he will pay great Attention to your Advice pon all Occasions; and the better to secure your Influence, we recommend to you to cultivate his ood Opinion by every confiftent Method: We are likewife very earnest in our Injunctions, that you fe every Means in your Power to conciliate the Minds of the People in general to the English, and the Undertaking we are engaged in; for which Purpose no Violence must be offered to the Persons pr Property of those who remain quiet in their Habitations, and every Act that can give Offence to the religious Scruples of the Gentoos must be carefully avoided.

After Ragoba is put in Possession of Poona, you are to see him placed in the Regency, and the Sicca put into his Hands, with all the utual Forms and Ceremonies, and upon the Terms stipulated in the 2d Article, from which we cannot admit the Inallest Deviation: Our Part of the Treaty will then be performed; but here will begin a Task, in which the utmost Delicacy and Judgment will the necessary on your Parts, to secure on a firm and permanent Footing the Advantages by which 💓 were attracted to this Expedition, and on which the Safety of this Prefidency will fo much depend; namely, the entire Subvertion of the Party in the French Interest, and filling the Offices of Trust ander the Poona Government with Perfons well disposed towards the Honourable Company.

By the Copy of our Treaty with Ragoba, now put into your Hands, you will fee the Limitations Twe are under with regard to our Interference, in the Appointment or Nomination of the Officers of Government. You are well acquainted how much Ragoba's Jealoufy was excited by our Supulastions in favour of Morabah Furneeze, Butcheba Pronder, and Tookajee Holear, which you will fee duly performed; and for the rest, it must be your Rule, by a Line of judicious Conduct, to make the Persons you approve of, the Men of Ragobah's own Choice. We could wish, and we imagine, Morabah will expect to be Ragobah's Dewan, though it is not improbable that Ragobah may for some Time at least conduct the executive Part of Government himself, but this is entering upon Matter to much depending upon future Circumstances, that we shall wave saying any Thing further st present, as we shall have sufficient Time to give you more explicit Instructions when we are better informed.

It will be particularly requifite that Ragobah should, as foon as possible, place the Forts in the Conkan, and upon the Sca Coast, under the Charge of Persons we can depend upon for Obedience to his Orders, and that will oppose the Admission of the French into any Part of the Maratta Domipions; on which Head you must desire Ragobah to give them immediate and particular Instructions, ccording to the Terms of the Treaty.

The personal Safety of the young Peshwa is a Point wherein our own Reputation and the Tonour of the Nation are so deeply concerned, that we give it you in Charge, with the most im-plicit Considence of having our Intentions faithfully executed, and that every Precaution be taken your Prudence can fuggest, or the Treaty will warrant, to prevent any Possibility of Injury happening to him.

The other Parts of the Treaty that will rest with you to see executed, are to receive from Ragobah the Monthly Stipend for the Payment of the Forces, and the Sunnuds under the Peshwa's Seal, for feveral Places ceded to the Honourable Company, which we shall rely on your Care to see menctually performed as foon as Ragobah's Circumstances will permit.

As it is highly proper that this Garrison, considering the State of Assairs with France, should be in respectable Situation, we recommend it to you, and hereby give you a discretional Power, to return Bombay such Part of the Forces as you may think can be spared, whenever you may judge the bjects of this Expedition are brought to fuch a Point as to admit of the Force being leftened with we recommend and enjoin as a Point very effential to the Success of this Expedition, that the utoft Harmony and good Understanding be observed among yourselves; and in order to avoid all istakes or Milconceptions, we think it proper to describe the following Line between the Powers the Committee and the Commanding Officer, which must be strictly observed by both.

All political Intercourse with Ragobah must be confined entirely to the Committee, who are to we the fole Management of all Matters of Negociation.

The Execution of the general Plan of the Expedition, being as before mentioned entrolled to the mmittee, it is our Intention and Order that the Decision and Determination on Points that may pear to them conducive to the Accomplishment thereof, shall rest folely with the Committee, and commanding Officer hereby enjoined punctually to comply with all Requisitions made to him in riting by the Committee on all such Points.

REP. VÍ.

A P P E N D I X, Nº 127.

Extract of Secret Letter from Bombay to the Court of Directors, dated 29th December 1778.

UR Addiefs of the 31st of July will have informed you how Matters then stood with the Poond Government. In purioance of the Refolutions then communicated, we, on the 12th of Gober, on the Motion of Mr. Cainac, gave Orders for proceeding forthwith in the Execution of our Plan for reflecting Ragobah. The Limits of an overland Addiefs will not permit us to enter into a Detail of the feveral Circumflances of our Preparations and Negociations, which will be communicated by the first Sca Coavey nee; it will be sufficient to acquaint you, that on the 25th ultimo we concluded a Treaty with Ragobah, by which the Flonourable Company were bound to affift him with a Body of 4000 Men, to conduct him to Poona, and to place him in the Regency of the Miratta Government, Markowalda Lorentz Pelhas.

We have the I conour to enclose a Copy of the Treaty, and of the Manifesto published when our Forces landed on the Continent, which we hope will be approved by you; and we beg Leave most theartly to congratulate you on the Prospect of retrieving those valuable Acquisitions lost by the Treaty of Poorunder, and of restoring such a Government at Poona as will greatly contribute to the general Security of your Possessions in India.

According to the Plan we had concerted, a Detachment of Grenadier Sepoys was fent off the 22d of last Month, under the Command of Captain Stewart, who fortunately secured the Passage of the Ghauts without Opposition on the 25th, and took Post there; the Remainder of the Forces left Bombay the 23d, and took Pessession of the Fort of Bellapore, which guards the Entrance of Panwell River, where they were joined by Colonel Egerton, who took on him the Chief Command of the Army.

The Force detached on this Service confifts of 172 Artillery, 549 European Infantry, and 2689 Sepoys, all Officers included, together with 500 Artillery Latears; which we truft, all Circumflances confidered, will be able to bring the Bufinels to a happy Conclusion.

By our latest Intelligence from the Army, we find them, on the 26th of this Month, at Captain Stewart's Post at Condilish, on the Summit of the Gauts. They have hitherto met with no Opposition; but we are advised that the Ministers are assembling an Army to oppose their March, when they make their Appearance about the Gauts.

Ragobah left Bombay a few Days after our Forces, and is now with them, and a small Body of his own Troops, at Condilah. We hear he is already joined by a Party of Horse; and we slatter ourselves, that when he is a little farther advanced, a Number of the principal Maratta Officers will declare in his Favour.

The Management of the Expedition, and the Settlement of the Government at Poona, is entrufted to a Committee, confifting of Meffrs. Carnac, Figerton, and Mostyn, who are entrusted to conduct Ragobah to Poona with all possible Expedition, and to place him in the Regency, on the Terms mentioned in the Treaty. They are then instructed to use their utmost Judgment and Address in settling the Government upon a firm and permanent Footing, and essetting the Subversion of the Party in the French Interest, and filling the Offices of Trust with Persons well disposed towards the Honourable Company.

We have the most sanguine Hopes of a happy Issue to this Undertaking, as we have strong Reasons to believe a very general Disposition prevails amongst the Maratta Officers and People in Favour of Ragobah, and of his Pretentions; and the Fall of Pondicherry must damp the Expectations of Nannah Furneese, of Assistance from the French. The Approach of the Bengal Detachment with also greatly distract the Efforts of that Party, in the same Degree that it will give Encouragement to the Friends of Ragobah; and if the Enterprize should prove more difficult than we expected, we shall be able, with their Assistance, to overcome all Opposition.

Extract of Bombay Select Confultations, September 5th 1778.

SIGNED the following Letter to Sir Edward Vernon.

To Sir Edward Vernon, Knight, Commodore, and Commander in Chief of His Majesty's State of the East Indies.

Sir.

We were extremely concerned to observe by your Letter of the 15th July, that the Necessity on the first you so forcibly as it did us, of the Squadron's being removed immediately to this Plan, which, on the Supposition of a War with the French Nation, is most likely to be the first Object their Operations in India.

As you have taken the Letter from the Prefidency at Madras, as the Ground for your Determinated of continuing on the Coast of Coromandel, we think it material to state to you in Reply our Ready for being of Opinion that the Squadron could render more important Service to the Nation, and the Company, by making Bombay its present Station; and if they appear to you of sufficient Weight to occasion an Alteration in your Sentiments, we cannot doubt but you will still company with our former Request.

The most favourable and probable Opportunity for the French to attack Bombay, will be undoubtedly early in the Commencement of a War, before the Arrival of a British Flect in head sufficiently powerful to contend with them at Sea, and whilst we have no other Resources for Detect than our own Garrison; such is exactly our present Situation, if the War is commenced, with dia further disadvantageous Circumstance, that our Force confists almost wholly of Sepoys, though we have drained every European we possibly could from our subordinate Settlements.

Thus circumstanced, if the French proceed upon a Plan of Surprize, and proportion their Amament to our Garrison, the Strength of which must be pretty well known to them, the Presence of Heat Majesly's Squadron under your Command, even in its present Force, might be the Means of previous an Attack, but it cannot possibly be denied that it would in any Case be greatly instrumentally repelling it; and the Number of Men which could be landed from the Ships would be of the mainportant Service in the Desence of our Works, and prove the Preservation of the Place, especial when it is considered, as before observed, that our Force in Europeans is very small.

The Governor and Council at Madras are pleased to allow, if we rightly comprehend their Mode ing, that it is probable the French will early form a Design upon Bombay, before they proceed to what is conceived to be their main Object in case of War, namely, a powerful Attack upon the Company's Possessing at Madras or Bengal, which they add would be rendered much more distinct and hazardous by proceeding with respect to Bombay upon any other Plan; it therefore certainly tollows, that the Safety of this Place, which is of so much Consequence in itself, and so effectial to the Security of the Company's other valuable Possessins, should be the First Object of Attention, in Presence we think to the Annoyance of the Enemy's Possessins.

We will allow the Protection your Squadron will afford to the Company's Shipping on the Coall, to be an Argument of much Weight in Support of your Resolution, but still we hope you will think the Safety of this Settlement a superior Consideration.

We hope we shall stand excused for expressing our Apprehensions for the Sasety of His Majest's Squadron if you persist in your present Resolution; for as we are informed by the Secret Committee of the Court of Directors, that the Three Ships of the Line for Madras would not sail before the Beginning of August, we think it very possible, before they can arrive in India, the French may obtain so decided a Superiority by Sea as to make your Continuance on the Coast extremely hazardous, and Bombay the more eligible Situation, where we expect a Ship of 64 Guns, which we are not formed by the same Authority was to convoy the Company's Shipping to this Profidency.

formed by the same Authority was to convoy the Company's Shipping to this Presidency.

We have the Honour to enclose Two Packets, received from England by the Way of Bussora on the 3d of this Month; and are, with Respect, Campoly, 16th December 1778.

Wednelday]

THIS Day received the following Letter from Colonel Goddard, directed to Mr. Lewis at Poona, and forwarded from thence by Dadajee Advioffee:

William Lewis, Esquire.

Since my last of the 12th Instant, from within Four Coss of Seronge, I have been favoured with both yours of the 9th October and 1st November, written in Cypher. As the Figures do not in any respect correspond with those of the Cypher transmitted me by the Select Committee, I have not been able to discover the Meaning of your Letters; I must wait therefore for a Key to them, till I receive the Cypher composed by the Honourable the Supreme Board, which I expect in a few Days, and which I am led to believe will answer to the Figure of your Letters.

I have the Pleasure to enclose you a Letter for the Honourable Scleet Committee, informing them of my Arrival at Bhopal. from which Place I propole marching To-morrow Morning towards the Nerbuddah, and croffing near the Gauts of Hussengabad, distant about 18 Cols. I have acquainted them with the treacherous Conduct of Ballajee, and the ineffectual Attempts made by him in conjunction with the Troops belonging to the Bilfah Chief, to carry off the Baggage, and cut off the Supplies of Provisions.

They have also used their Endeavours, by Threats and Menaces, to prevail upon the Nawab Mahomet Huat Ghawn to concur in their Views of preventing our Paffage across the Nerbuddah, which athey affirm to be in Obedience to the Orders of the Peshwa Purdhan Maderow.

Hitherto I have experienced the most friendly Behaviour from the Nawab, and if he adheres to his Engagements of supplying me with Grain, &c. I shall have every Reason to be satisfied with his Conduct. I shall write you again soon; and remain, Nov. 26th, 1778, Camp at Bhopal.

Your most obedient humble Servant, Tho' Goddard.

Receive l'alfo at the same Time a Letter from Dadaja Adowja at Poona, to Captain Stewart, dated the 13th Initant; in which he mentions the Receipt of Two Letters from Colonel Goddard, One for Mr. Carnac and One for Mr. Lewis, both which he then forwarded. That by the Reports at Poona, Scindia and Holcar had taken an Oath to act with the Ministers; Nanah having further prevailed upon Scindia, by a Piesent of Three Lacks, that Mhadjee Scindia was first to go against the English Troops, and if he was worsted, Holear was to aid him; that on the 11th Instant Nanah had dispatched Bhimrow Ponsia, and Ramchund Gunneils, with some Guns, to Fullegaon: That the Minifters were defirous to try their Success in an Engagement with us; and if they were defeated, it was then to be left to Saccaram to make the best Peace he could with us: That Nanah Furncese was for dispatching Troops through the different Gauts into the Conkan. For the Information of the Committee, Mr. Lewis delivered different Letters received by him fince his Departure from Poona; One from Colonel Goddard, dated Camp near Rimlassy, October 31st 1778, received at Bombay 1ft December 1778.

To Wm Lewis, Esquire, Resident at Poona.

Inclosed I have the Pleasure to transmit you a Letter for the Honourable the Governor and School Committee at Bombay, which I request you will forward to them with all Expedition. Nothing very material has occurred fince my last of the 4th Instant, which I hope has arrived fafe; it contained Accounts of the Death of Colonel Leflie, and of my Intention to proceed on my March from Raje Chur, which I did on the 8th in the Morning; and am now near Rimlassy, a Town belenging to Ballajee, about 12 Coss from Gunge Berondah, which you will find laid down in Mr. Smith's Route about the same Distance from Bilrah, by which Road I mean to march.

A Vackeel, named Ragoo Ram, Yesterday waited upon me from the Poona Dutbar, with a Letter in the Name of the young reigning Peshwa Pundit Purdhan Mhadoo Row; which, after mentioning the Friendship existing between himself and the English, and expressing a Surprize at the Hostilities committed at Kalpy, requests to be informed of my Intentions in marching through the Maratta Empire. In Reply to this I have told him, that in Obedience to the Orders of my M. ilers I am marching from one English Settlement to another; and that my Wish and Object is to preserve Peace and Amity with every State and Chief I may meet with on my Route. I have explained to him the Conduct of Gungahder at Kalpy, which drew upon him the English Arms, and of that Foruse having been again restored to him, as a Proof of our friendly and pacific Views. I conceive the Embassy must have been sent unknown to you from Poona, having before received no Intimation it; and I-learn the Vackeel left Poona near Two Months ago. This however must have been smuch about the Time of your last Letter, which is dated September 2d. I hope soon to hear from you, and beg you will communicate to me any Circumstance you can relative to the Poona Durly, by which my Operations may be possibly effected.

Camp near Rimlassy, October 31st, 1778 Sir, Your obedient humble Servant, Tho' Goddaid, Different Letters from Dadajee Adowjee, dated 27th and 29th November, and 2d Deceptor ber 1778.

At about Noon Mr. Sibbald returned with a Meffage from Dada Saheb to Mr. Carnac, thud, him for his friendly Caution; that he thought he had nothing to apprehend from Ragojee Anny who had prefented him with an Elephant and 25 Horfe; that he should advance, and enemy within a Mile of us.

At a Committee; PRESENT, John Carnac, Esquire, Colonel Charles Egerton. Mr. Mostyn ind sposed, Read, and approved, the Minutes of the last Committee.

Colonel Charles Egerton now delivers in to the Committee the following Minute:

"The Commission granted to the Committee appointed to attend Ragobi to Poona, bearing Distable Bombay Castle, December 5th, 1778, being in my Opinion highly contradictory to a Paragraphia the Instructions accompanying the said Commission, and repugnant to the military Powers vested me as Commander of the Forces of the Presidency of Bombay, and now in the Field, I do messive frequency protest against publishing the same at present in General Orders.

"I do also protest against this Commission resting military Authority, and also to the Mode which it was granted; together with many Articles of the Instructions appertaining to the faid Ca mission, for such Reasons as I shall hereafter exhibit at a more reasonable Opportunity."

For the foregoing Realous the Colonel is of Opinion, that the Commission should not at pass to published in General Orders to the Army; and farther, that according to the Letter of the Colon appearang the Committee, he holds any Meeting incomplete and informal variable the Proof every Member, and therefore the Order issued to him in consequence of the Resolution potents the last Meeting of Mr. Carnac and himself, was in his Opinion of no Validay, till be shall be received farther Instructions from his Superiors at Bombay, or till the Recovery of Mr. Mothynyamits him to attend in Committee.

Mr. Carnac is of Opinion, that the Sickness of one of the Members of the Committee distriction him to attend, does by no Means render the Proceedings of the other invalid. According to a general Rules of the Company's Service, a Majority of any Board can form a legal Meeting of the that therefore the Colonel was bound to have obeyed the Requisition tent to him in confequence of the Refolution passed at this last Meeting; however, being unwilling to enter into any Ducurs of the Subject, he consents to refer the Matter to the Judgment of our Superiors at Bombay, and therefore proposes that the Minutes of the last Committee, relative to the publishing the Commission, to there with the Minutes now made, should be instantly forwarded, with an Address to our Superior requesting their instant Decision on these several Points, as, according to the Opinion contents and the Colonel, it seems to him (Mr. Carnae) of no Utility to meet again in Committee; and that course the Business committed in Charge to them must remain at a Stand till such Decision of the Sungariant very doubtful, and at best not likely to be for some Days.

The Colonel concurs in Opinion with Mr. Carnac, relative to the transmitting, with an iodate Address to our Superiors, the Minutes he makes mention of; but differs in Opinion with he i as to his general Conclusion; for though he (Col. Egerton) thinks sit to insult that the Point which intendiately relates to himself, viz. the Publication in General Orders of the Commission to the Arms under his Command, should be discussed in a full Committee, yet he is far from thinking that this Proposal can give any Impediment to the Conduct of Assairs committed in Charge to the Committee, as Mr. Carnac and himself can meet, deliberate, conduct, and give find Answers to kagoba relative to those Affairs.

Mr. Carnac observing that from the Accounts of the Surgeons there is great room to apprehends Mr. Mostyn may not recover, thinks it requisite to observe to our Superiors the very great Lot Company company will fustain at this critical Juncture by his Death, and how much it may probably impede the Execution of the material Points they have in Charge, both from the Want of local Knowledge, d particular Ability and Acquaintance Mr. Mostyn possesses in Maratta Assars; and because that oft of the Engagements formed at Poona were immediately formed with him; and that the Persons treated with, looking immediately to him, may now be backward in making fresh Overtures to the committee. To which the Colonel concurs.

Mr. Stibbald now lays before the Committee a Paper, as entered hereafter, containing Intelligence intmitted from Ragoba, with which he was made acquainted by Naro Gopal and Trimbuck allerow. With respect to his Proposal of hiving a Body of Men from Bombay, we are sensible at from the State of the Garnson it is impossible to accede to it.

Mr. Carnac lays before the Committee the following Minute:

As the speedy Arrival of the Army upon the Ghauts, and their being pushed forwards as quickly possible, is very effential to the easier Accomplishment of the Service on which the Army is now ployed, the Enemy having thereby so much the less Time to prepare and collect themselves; and Four Troops have been hitherto but very flow in their Progress, they having disembarked at Pan-ok 25 Days ago, and yet are little more than the same Number of Miles distant from it, it is much be regretted that a more expeditious Mode had not been found out for conveying to the Top of Ghauts the Ordnance Stores and Baggage, than the one at prefent purfued. It appears to Mr. Sirnac, that much Labour, Time, and a confiderable Expence, are unnecessarily wasted in the making 1 Carriage Road up the Gaut; and that with the fame Number of People now employed for this Purpose, every Thing intended to be casted up might have been carried up by H and with more Zafe, Security from Ascident, and Dispatch; and from the Conversation he has had with many on he Subject, he is inclined to believe this to be the general Opinion. The Commander of Attillery ias actually passed some of his Guns beyond the Road constructed by Major Snaith, and by a Route vide of it, which may be adduced as a Testimony that this Part of the new-made Road at least was vholly needlefs."

As an Answer to Mr. Carnac's Minute might be productive of Altercation and Argument, the Colonel defers saying any Thing on the Subject till he has an OI portunity of having his Conduct stoperly forutinized by his Superiors at Bombay.

(Adjourned.)

John Carnac, Cha Egerten.

Campoly, 20th December, 1778.

Sunl. y, 20th.

This Morning Ragoba fent Naroo Gopal and Trimbuck Ballerow to Mr. Carnac, to inform him of the following Intelligence he had just received from the Enemy's Camp:

That the Ministerial Forces, under the Command of Bhim Row Ponfia, Badjee Punt Josey, and Guneish Punt, consisting of 10,000 Horse, 15 Pieces of Cannon, and a large Number of Bhondaurs, were encamped at Wurgaon, 3 Coss on this Side Tullagaong, in order to harrass our Troops and obstruct their March, so soon as they might make their Appearance above the Ghauts; and that a Body of 5,000 Horse were ordered to proceed down Kursora Gaut, with an Intent to cut off our Communication with Panwell.

That Nanah Furnceze, Saccaram Bapoo, Madjee Scindia, and Tookajee Holcar, were encamped near Poona with 5,000 Horse; but whether they meant to join the main Body at Wurgaon, was not yet known.

Ragoba defined the above Perfons to acquaint Mr. Carnac, that he fubmitted it to his Confideration, Whether it would not be advilable to have a Detachment of Sepoys, with 2 Guns, fent from Bombay, to be kept below the Gauts, in order to protect our Convoys of Provisions, and to keep the Communication open with Panwell?

Ragoba is confident that the Ministerial Party have adopted the above Plan, as they make no Scruple to declare that it is the only likely Mode of harrafting and diffreshing the English Troops; being unequal to an actual Engagement with fuch a Body of Forces as we have now in the Field.

Dispatched the following Address to the Honourable the Scle & Committee at Bombay.

MonJay, 2 3

To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President, &c. Select Committee at Bombay.

Gentlemen,

on the 15th Instant Messieurs Carnac and Mostyn arrived at this Place, and on the Evening of Day, Mr. Carnac directed the Secretary to the Committee to defire the Attendance of Colonel erton and Mr. Mostyn at his (Mr. Carnac's) Tent on the following Day, in order to open a Packet you, directed to Mr. Carnac, Colonel Egerton, and Mr. Mostyn. The latter Gentleman being chifposed, the Meeting was held by Mr. Carnac and Colonel Egetton only.

Mr

A P P E N D I X, Nº 130.

Mr. Moftyn being ibll indifpoied, those Two Gentlemen only again met this Day, conformable Summons acht by Mr. Camac, when it was agreed immediately to transmit the Whole of both is Proceedings for your Consideration. From the Nature of the Doubts and Questions that $h_{\rm ave}$ you will no Doubt perceive the Necessity of favouring us with your Decisions as speedily and placetty as possible, as, from the Nature of the Service, and the Accidents common to all $M_{\rm hole}$ may frequently happen that only Two of the Members can attend in Committee.

The Particulars of the Intelligence received from Ragoba are, That the Ministerial Forces, the Command of Bhim Row Ponsia, Badjee Punt Josey, and Gunnels Punt, confising of Lea Host, 15 Pieces of Cannon, and a large Number of Bhondaars, were encauped at Wu edge, Cots on this Side Tullagaon, in order to harrass our Troops, and obstruct their March so log they might make their Appearance above the Gaut; and that a Body of 5,000 Horse were one to proceed down Kursora Gaut, with an Intent to cut off our Communication with Panwell 1 Nanah Furneeze, Sacciram Bappoo, Mhadjee Scindia, and Hurry Punt, were encamped. Poona with about 5,000 Horse; but whether they meant to join the main Body at Wuigton, not yet known.

Ragoba fays he is confident the ministerial Party have adopted the above Plan, as they true Scruple to declare, that it is the only likely Method of harrasting and diffresting the English Ito being unequal to an actual Engagement with such a Body of Forces as we have now in the Field he therefore directed the Persons whom he fent with this Intelligence to acquaint the Committee, he submitted it to their Confideration, Whether it would not be advitable to have a Decay may Sepoys sent with Two Guns from Bombay, to be kept below the Caut, in order to protect our voys of Provisions, and to keep the Communication open with Panwell?

The above Intelligence from Ragoba generally corresponds with the Contents of a Letters from Dadajee Adowjee, at Poona, except that he mentions the Ministernalists were determined gage us, and that Holkar had engaged to affall them; which latter Circumstance we hope a will prove untitue. If the Ministernalists mean to act with Vigour, it feems to us probable to adopt the Plan mentioned by Ragoba.

For these Two Days past, Ragonath Row has been encamped close to us: He had determinate proceeded up the Cocinda Gaut, and had absolutely marched for that Purpose; but, have the Consequences of his being widely separated from us, and from the whole Tenor of his Coulately, having Reason to apprehend that treacherous Designs were formed relative to the South his Person, Mr. Sibbald was deputed by Mr. Carnae to represent to him the Apprehensions tained, and the unnecessary Risque he at best exposed himself to, by proceeding up another whilst we had one open, and guarded by our own Troops. He paid due Attention to the skill tentations; and this Night, at Midnight, being a lucky Hour, he has determined to march existent to Condolah.

extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council; dated the 15th October 1778, and received the 18th December following, per Terrible.

We advised you in our last of the Appointment of Mr. Elliot to the Court of Moodajee Bouncello, the Rajah of Berar, with Instructions to negociate and conclude a Treaty of Alliance with that Chief; but we are forry to inform you of the Demise of Mr. Elliot, in his Way to Naguipore, at a Place called Sarungur. The Rajah having expressed great Satisfaction at the Overtures which we made for a Connection with him by this Deputation, and being, as we have every Reason to believe, firm in his Attachment to the English, we conclude, as soon as he hears of the unfortunate Event of Mr. Elliot's Death, that he will take an active Part in prosecuting the intended Negociation, either by deputing a proper Minister to us on his Part, or by foliciting our Assiance on such Terms as may prove a general Advantage to the Company's Possessions. For these Reasons, we do not mean to appoint any one to succeed Mr. Elliot, until our Assiers from the Rajah shall enable us to determine on the Expediency of that Measure.

We have thought it incumbent on us to remove Colonel Lessie from the Command of the Detachment of Forces which was ordered to march for the Support and Assistance of your Presidency, on Account of the little Progress it had made under him; as we understand he was advanced no further than Paggur on the 25th ultime, and of his manifest Disobedience also of our positive Orders, in forming and concluding a Treaty of perpetual Peace and Friendship, in the Name of the Company, with the Rijahs Gomaun and Comaun Sing, Chiefs of a Part of the Bundelcund District.

Colonel Thomas Goddard is now appointed to the chief Command of these Troops, and we have order him to prosecute his March, without further Loss of Time, into Berar, where on his Arrival ne will apply to Moodajee Bouncello; and if that Chief shall agree to join him with a sufficient Body or Forces for the Purpose, he is to continue his Route in Conjunction with them; but if he shall not have received any fresh Directions for his March, or if the Rajah shall decline or result to grant him his Assistance, we have then vested in him a discretionary Power to suspend his Proceedings.

If the Plan which you had refolved to adopt and to carry into Execution in September, for the Restoration of Ragoba, and which you notified to us in your Letter of the 25th July, flill substill; or if you shall have forned any other for the same End, consistently with the Terms prescribed for our Assent to that Measure; or if you shall judge a strong Reinforcement immediately and indispensably accessary to ensure the Safety of Bombay against a French Invasion, and shall deem it requisite or advisable in either of these Cases, to command the Detachment at all Hazards to proceed further towards Bombay, even without the Junction of the Troops of any Power in Alliance with us; you will in such Cases, and such only, require Colonel Goddard to advance with it; but in all other Cases you will give him Notice of your Intentions, and leave him to act under our Directions.

A true Extract.

Edward Ravenscroft, Secretary to the Select Committee.

To Colonel Goddard.

The Governor General and Council have advised us of their Resolution to have removed Colonel Lestle, before they heard of his Death, and of their having appointed you to the chief Command of the Detachment of Forces ordered for the Support of this Presidency. They have also apprized us of the Orders they have given for your Conduct on your Arrival in the Berar Country. We contratulate you on this Mark of Distinction conferred on you by the Governor General and Council; and though we hope this will meet you well advanced on your March, in consequence of our Letters of the 13th November and 6th Instant; yet to prevent all Disappointment, and that you may not be any Loss in your Proceedings, we judge it proper to repeat to you, that our Forces shave actually taken the Field, in Prosecution of the Plan communicated to the Governor General and Council, or the Restoration of Ragoba, and that we deem it requisite and advisable that the Army under your command stould move forwards towards Bombay. We therefore hereby require you to advance Ren. VI.

It is worthy Observation, that by the Accounts taken this Day, either in or after the Attal and on Captain Stewart's Poll at Condolah, it appears that the Body of Men which made this Y: field went to Corindah Gaut, where they were purposely dispatched to seize the Person of Renath Row, whose Intentions to proceed up that Gaut his Enemies at Poona had been we advifed.

I wrote you the 26th from Bhopall, fince which Time I have croffed the Nerbuddah, at Hustong abad, and am encamped on the South Bank of it.

Not having been favoured with any Letter from you of a later Date than the 21st July, I am in daily Hopes of receiving one, informing me of many Circumilances highly necessary at this Time to determine the Meafures proper to be purfued, and the Plan of my future Operations.

It appears from every Intelligence I can obtain, that the Peishwa and his Ministers have tolen the Alarm, and are affembling Troops in every Quarter to oppole my March, conceiving, that the Intention of it is to affiit your Government in advancing the Pretentions of Ragoba. It becomes therefore expedient that some vigorous Steps be immediately taken to counteract their Deligns and caute a Diversion from different Quarters, in order to prevent their aftembling their whole Force, which I am apt to believe will be strengthened by that of the Nizam, against me.

I Larn that Hyder Ally is in the Field with a large Army; and how far his Views mont concur or his Motions be made to co operate with ours, you must be best able to determ or. I am perforaded that every necessary Precaution will have been used by you; but their not being communicated to me deprives me in a great Measure of the Opportunity a Knowledge of them would turnish for regulating my future Operations.

I shall hat a few Days in this Place in determining the Route, which I expect will be by Bur-hampore, and in the intervening Time I hope to be able to prevail on Moodajee Bouncello, the Rajah of Berne, to join me with a Body of Troops, by which Means the Inconveniences I might otherwil I specience respecting the Supplies of Provisions may be obviated.

I hope also to be favoured with Letters from you during my Stay here, and as foon as I have fixed upon any Route from this Place, I will fend oil a Dispatch informing you of it.

I think it proper to acquaint you, that Two Letters received within this Month from Mr. Lewis at Poola, being written in Cypher different from the one you fent me through Mr. Boddam, I have not been able to understand their Contents.

I have the Honour to be, with the greatest Respect,

Camp, near Haffiagabad, on the South Side of the Nerbuddah, December 6th 1778.

Gentlemen, Your most obedient humble Servant, Tho' Goddard.

Received at the same Time, a Letter from Dadajee Adowjce at Poona, dated the 23d Inflant. mentioning, That he now lends Letters received from Colonel Goddard's Army; that 5 Days before he had tent 2 Madras Packets with 4 Pr of Pattamars; that Mhadoo Row Jadoofey acquainted bim North Furnecze would not fuller any English Vacked there, or have any thing to do with the English; that the Agent to the Nabob of Tall Boppal informed him he had asked Holkar whether he meant to observe his Word passed to Mr. Mostyn? who faid, he should till Death.

On Welnesday last the Troops marched from Condolah to Mount Snarl; on Thursday, from Wester, a Mount Snarl to Dungergaon Plain; on Monday, from Dungergaon Plain to Corla, where Captain Steware was unfortunately killed by a Cannon Shot; proceeded from Corlah on the Wednelday following to Mondhurna Plain.

Mondhurna Plain, 6th January 1773

At a Committee; PRESENT,

John Carnac, Efquire, Colonel Charles Egerton.

Colonel Egetton now represents to the Committee, that having borne up as long as he could ginst an Illusts with which he has now for some Time past been afflicted, he at length finds him If under the difagreeable Necessity of acquainting the Committee, that the Surgeon Major is of Opinion, that the Fatiques of a Campaign co-operating with his Indilposition certainly endangers is Life, and that at any rate he cannot hope to have the requifite Strength to attend properly the many Avocations of the Commander in Chief; for these Reasons he requests Permission to relign the Command to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, and proceed immediately to Bombay, χ_0 is agreed to.

The Committee taking into Confideration the Necessity of having an able and experienced G ficer to command the Army now in the Field in case of Accidents to Lieutenant Colonel Cockbeck think proper to recommend it to the Commander in Chief, to appoint Major Dagon of the $A_{L^{\infty}}$ tellery, to act as Lieutenant Colonel till the Pleasure of the Honourable the Select Committee Bombay shall be known; and that it shall further be recommended to our Superiors, to continue G Appointment.

The Departure of Colonel Egerton, the unfortunate Lofs of Lieutenant Colonel Cay, and a Captain James Stewart, the First wounded and returned to Bombay, and the latter killed, and a Prospect there is that the present Service may be much more severe, and of much longer Continuance than was expected, render it very expedient that the Army should be supplied with a many Officers of Experience as can be spared from Bombay; and it is therefore resolved to recommend it to the Honourable the Select Committee, to send up Major Hopkins, Captains Easter and Jameson, to join the Army as soon as possibly can be done with Safety to them.

We reflect with some Concern, on the Difference between the Expectations we were flattered with on our Arrival at the Top of the Gauts, and the actual State of Affairs. We were given to hope, that immediately on the Appearance there of the Standard of Ragonath Row, Holcar and many other Chiefs of Rank and Respect would join him with a numerous Body of Horle; and there was every Reason to hope we might have terminated speedily the Object of our Commillion Inflead of these reputable Partizans, none but a few Mercenaries have yet joined us; and Rays nath Row, in a Meffage Yeflerday by Mr. Sibbald, gave us plainly to underfland be had been & ceived; that unlefs we could convince his Friends of their Safety in joining us by the speedy Date of his Enemies, he had no Hope of being joined by any one; and that our Situation would reprove worse than better as we advanced towards Poona, by being cut off from all Commence tion with the Conkan, from whence we may now be supplied with Provisions and Stores. I Mode adopted by the Enemy, of retiting before us, and ravaging the Country, feems to render a Reasoning apparently just; but we still hope as we advance towards Poona, Holear, on which Junction there may be some Dependance, will be enabled and encouraged to keep firm to the Pomises he has given us through the late Mr. Moslyn. It is further observable, there is too me Reason to apprehend that Ragonath Row, trusting to subdue every one by our Arms, has a only neglected the fit Means to conciliate the respectable Chiefs to his Cause, but has acted in had. Manner as will naturally tend to unite them against him. The Grounds of this Suspicion are then The Agent of Moraba in our Camp, informed Mr. Lewis, that he had learnt from his Make that Ragoba, instead of taking the proper Means for his Release from Ahmednague, had seed. fent Directions to the Killedar not to release Morabah till he got positive Orders from home his Arrival at Poona. This is in direct Violation of his Agreements with us, and could the Lat be clearly proved, it would have been fo fignified to him.

Refolved. That we do immediately acquaint our Superiors at Bombay with the foregoing, the they may fend requifite Orders, in case it should appear that the Extent of our Military Operation in the Cause of Ragoba may be very indefinite and uncertain: At any rate afforce them, that the present we see no Prospect of their terminating on our Arrival at Poona, which, by their Institute.

tions to us, they feem most considerally to expect.

By the Death of Mr. Moslyn and the Departure of Colonel Egerton, the Powers of this Committee may seem suspended for the present: It is however recommended to Mr. Carnac to contact still to act when it may be requisite, till explicit Orders may arrive from our Superiors at Bombay. Adjourned.

John Carnac, Charles Egerton.

To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President, &c. Select Committee, Bombay.

Gentlemen,

On the 25th ultimo we received your Commands of the 24th.

We are forry to acquaint you, that this Day Colonel Charles Egerton represented to us in Committee, That having borne up as long as he could against an Illness with which he has been for some Time past afflicted, he at length found himself under the Necessity of acquainting the Committee, that the Surgeon Major is of Opinion that the Fatigues of a Campaign co-operating with his Indisposition, would certainly endanger his Life; and that at any rate he cannot soon hope to have the requisite Strength to attend properly to the many Avocations of the Commander in Chief in the Field; for which Reasons he requested Permission to resign the Command of the Army to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, and proceed immediately to Bombay; which being complied with, in now accordingly proceeds.

Taking into Confideration the Necessity of having an able and experienced Officer to command the Army now in the Field in case of Accidents to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, we thought it idvitable to recommend it to the Commander in Chief to appoint Major Gaspar Dagon, of the Army rollers,

Nº 130. PPENDIX,

May, to all as Lieutenant Colonel till your Pleasure shall be known; and having by this Means seruned as the as in usiles, a fit Commander on the Event above flated, we hope for your Approval on the Occasion, and that you will be pleased to direct this Appointment to be continued.

To Return of Colonel Egerton, the unfortunate I of or Lieutenant Colonel Cay and Captain But, at, the fermer wounded and returned to Bombay, and the latter killed, together with the rest, the fermer wounded and returned to Bombay, and the latter killed, together with the rest, of at the present Service may be much more severe and of longer Duration than was t and enjected, render it very expedient that the Army should be supplied with as many Odicers of experience to can be spared from Bombay, having first had Reference to the Opinion of the Commander in Chief, we therefore take the Liberty to recommend, that you will be pleafed immediately one : Mojor Hopkins, Captain Eames, and Captain Jameson, to proceed to Bhore Gaut, in order to 10 in the Army, in case it shall appear to them practicable with any Degree of Safety; regarding has they will be furnished with fuch Information as we can fend to them, and proper Guides lent to nect them at the Gaut.

It is with some Concern we must now acquaint you with the Difference between the Expectations ewere stateted with on our Arrival at the Top of the Gauts, and the actual State of Assaus. We There given to hope, that immediately on the Appearance there of the Standard of Ragonath Row, Holear and many other Chiefs of Rank and Respect were to join him with a numerous Body of Herse. With these, in case of Resistance from his Adversaries, we might at least have been able to have secured Provisions and Forage from this Country; and there was every Reason to hope that we might speedily have terminated the Object of our Commission. Instead of these reputable Partitions none but a few Mercenanes have yet joined us; and Ragonath Row Yesterday, in a Message by Mr. Sibbaid, gave us plainly to understand he had been deceived; that unless we could convince his Friends of their Safety in joining us, by the speedy Defeat of his Enemies, he had no Hope of being joined by any one; and that our Situation would rather prove worle than better as we advanced towards Pown, by being cut off from all Communication from the Conkan, from whence we may now be togglise I with Provisions and Stores. The Mode adopted by the Enemy of retiring before us, and ravacin, the Country, feems to render his Realoning apparently just; but we still hope, as we advance to ards Poona, Holear, on whose Junction there may perhaps be some Dependance, will be enabled a a encouraged to keep firm to the Promites he made us through the late Mr. Mostyn. We must revolve elegate to you, there is but too much Reason to apprehend that Ragonath Row, trusting to holder very one by our Arms, has not only neglected the fit Measures to conciliate the respectable Chiefs to be. Cauf , but has acted in such a Manner as will naturally tend to unite them against him. The Cas rads of this Suspicion are these: The Agent of Moraba Furneeze in our Camp, informed Mr. Lewis, that he had learnt from his Master that Ragoba, instead of taking the proper Measures for his Release from Ahmednague, had fecretly fent Directions to the Killedar not to release him (Moraba tal he got further politive Orders from him on his Arrival at Poona. very andennate and uncertain; and we are forry to affure you, that at prefent we fee no Prospect of then tereme ting on our Arrival at Poona, which, from your Inflructions to us, you from most considently to move expected. By the Death of Mr. Moslyn and the Departure of Colonel Figureon, the Powers of this Committee may feem suspended: It has however been recommended to Mr. Carnac to act as Occasions may require in the leveral Points entrulled to us, till explicit Orders may arrive from you, which Mr.

Carnac requeits may be as speedily as possible. The Army marched this Morning from the Village of Kofla. During the March, the Guns of the Enemy opened on our Line from the Wood of Mondhurna in our Front; and a large Party of Horse seemed included either to take us in Flank, or to enter in our Rear among the Baggage. They were however prevented from both, driven from the Wood of Mondhurna into the Plain below. Our Army still advancing, drove them from a Height near the Ridoramy, which we now possess. This Party fent to harrals us, we are informed is commanded by Bhim Row Ponfia, and may confift of about 5000 Horse and Seven Guns. We have the Pleasure to inform you, that both Officers and Men behaved on this, and all Occasions, with the greatest Chearfulness and Intrepidity. We are, with Respect,

Gentlemen,

Camp, near the Indorainy, 6th January 1779.

Your most obedient humble Servants,

Jnº Carnac, Ch. Egerton.

P. S. After writing the above, Colonel Egerton, who had fet off for Bombay, was obliged to return, on the Receipt of certain Intelligence from the Officer at the Pass at Condolah, that a large Party of Horse were in the Conkan, some of which he could perceive at Campoly. On this Account Colonel Horse were in the Conkan, some of which he could perceive at Campoly. On this Account Colonel Horse with the Army; his Return however makes no Egerton is compelled to proceed for some Time with the Army; his Return however makes no account to the foregoing with record to the Command of the Army, which still re-Phange in the Purport of the foregoing with regard to the Command of the Army, which still re-

> At a Committee; PRESENT, John Carnac, Efquire, Colonel Charles Egerton.

Read, and approved, the Minutes of our last Committee.

The Apprehensions expressed in the Minutes of our last Meeting seem verified now beyond Doubt. So far from any Person of Consequence having yet joined Ragoba, Holkar, the only of from whom there appeared the least Assurance of Support to his Cause, is now in Arms against a and joined with Scindia and other Chiefs, whose Guns have been firing on our Camp, and who will now before us with a large Army. The Burning of the large and populous Town of Tollegson with confirms our Suspicion, and the general Information we daily receive from all Sides, of their interaction Mode of Procedure, viz. by the Destruction of the Country, by harrassing us, and cutting us off in all Supplies of Provisions. In short, there appears to be a general Determination to oppose the Bilds. lifhment of Ragoba with that Degree of Authority, which from his confident Affurances of clients, Support, and from the Representations of the late Mr. Mostyn, the Honourable the Select Communications have been led to engage for.

This Disappointment in our Expectations opens to us a S ene very widely different from that we had in View at our first setting out from Bombay. From the open Divisions amongst the Brahm, in and from politive Engagements with the Party in Oppolition to Nanah Furnecze, we were give most considently to expect immediate and effectual Aid, if we once openly and declaredly ented on Measures for the Subversion of his Government, a general reputed Indisposition to that Govern ment amongst the Maratta Officers and People also afforded good Grounds of Expectation for else. tual Aid: The Words of our Instructions warrant these Suppositions: From all which it we concluded that the March to Poona would be attended with little Difficulty or Opposition; the little Time would be employed in Military Operations; and that our great Difficulty would not in reducing the Maratta Officers to Obedience, and placing the Government of the Country was Ragoba, but in fettling the different Pretentions of these Chiefs, and bringing Ragoba to join his Government from Men on whom he might depend for effecting the great Object of this Li pedition, namely, the entire Subversion of the Party in the French Interest. After having thus one ducted him to Poona and settled his Government, there remained only to receive the Sunnucles. the Grants that were to form the Rewards of our Aid, and the monthly Stipend for the Expens of our Army. It feems never to have been doubted that all this would have been effected, and a Army returned to Bombay Time enough for its Defence.

Initead of this definite and limited Scheme, it appears to us that we are engaged in an indefinite Scene of Military Operations, without any Refources but our own, against the most respectable Chiefs of the Maratta Empire, and against an Enemy with whom we cannot hope to bring Matas to the only Issue from which we can obtain reasonable Assurance of Success; viz. the Trial of Arms. We must repeat that we are confirmed by the Destruction of Tullagaon, as to their intended Mode of Procedure, a Mode which must infallibly force us back in a short Time to Bombay with s out reaping the least Benefit in any one Point, both from the great Exertions and Expence of the Governor General and the Government of Bombay. It is requisite here also to observe, that from every Information we can obtain from Deserters, Prisoners, and others, it is determined to have Chemswer, a Town still more large and populous than Tullagaon, and that Measures are also taken even for the Destruction of Poona, so bent are those now in Opposition to Ragonath Ros to avail themfelves of every possible. Means in their Power, in order to fruitrate the Plan we are now proceeding on in Conjunction with him,

From all these Circumstances it appears to us, that the Plan of establishing Ragonath Row even but in the Regency of the Maratta Empire, without the immediate Co-operation of a respect able Party in that State, is impracticable, with any Probability of Success; and having decided the Point in our own Minds, the present State of our Army with respect to Provisions, and the total Improbability of a Supply, render it necessary to turn our Attention immediately towards the Mean of compassing, as well as in us lies, the main Object which led towards our Engagements with Regoba, the Deteat of the Defigns of the French.

From every Experience we have had of the Marattas, and particularly in this Business, it applies clear to us, that the Tie of their own Interest is the only one to be depended on. From all the life Mr. Mostyn's Advices, and from every Information we can obtain, it appears that Saccaram Punds and Nanah Furnceze, though at Times apparently united, have each been aiming, though by different Modes, to tecure to themselves the effectual Power in the Poona Durbar. As Nanah, from several Circumstances, seems peculiarly to look to the French, and is indeed the very Man whole Subvertion is the Object we now aim at, we are of course precluded forming any Connection with him: !: there fore appears to us, that Saccaram Pundit is the only Man with whom we can hope to form the Fire gagement cements that must lead to our main Object; Moraba Furneeze and Butcheba Pronder, the Two flors mentioned in our Instructions, being at present imprisoned, and, as far as we can perceive, olly incapable of affording us any effectual Aid, whatever their Interests may incline them to.

The Two next Persons who strike our Attention, are the Jaghirdars Holkar and Scindia, whose oops form the chief Force of our Enemies, and whose Decisions, if favourable to us, must, to all pearance, enable us effectually and speedily to crush the Powers of Nanah Furneeze and his Party, aring the Divisions amongst the Brahmins, we are given to understand, they have made great Actions to their Jaghires; and was the Poona Durbar once in Power to enforce their Demands, they hald probably insist on the Restitution of these, as well as the Arrears due from them for the untry they hold. These are Considerations that must ever influence them to prevent the uncondinal Restoration of such Power amongst the Brahmins; and therefore it seems they are naturally led oppose the Establishment of Ragoba, which great Line of Interest seems on the Trial now to increase them both, notwithstanding any Promises or Writings they may have given, relative to a notion with Ragoba.

The Mode of securing these several Persons and their Partizans, appears to us as follows: To

The Mode of fecuring these several Persons and their Partizans, appears to us as follows: To sure them that we mean the Government shall go on in the Name of Mhadoo Row Narrain, leaving by to Ragoba the Naibship, as in the Time of the Minority of Mhadoo Row; to assure Saccaram the Duanship, of our Support to him in the real Powers of it, and of the Aid of our Army, in Conjunction with Scindia and Holkar, against Nanah Furneeze; to offer to the Two Jaghire Daars out Guarantee, securing to them their Jaghires, free from all Demands for Arrears from the Poona Durbar.

Agreed therefore, that Mr. Sibbald, who was defired to be prefent at this Meeting, should acquaint Ragoba, in a suitable Manner, with our Sentiments relative to the Cause we are embarked in—To remind him we have been led into this distressed State by too great a Rehance on his Promises and Affurances, relative to a plentiful Supply of Provisions when we got above the Gauts, and to the Junction of Tookajeee Holkar, which he acquainted Mr. Sibbald on the 22d ultimo, he was consident would be in Eight Days—That the single Circumstance of having now but sufficient Provisions to conduct our Army back into the Conkan, added to the total Impossibility of procuring a Supply in a Country laid waste all round us, must infallibly force us to retire, which would be the total Ruin of his Cause possibly for ever—That the only probable Mode to remove this Distress was to make immediate Overtures of Accommodation to Scindia, and to Holcar, and to Saccaram, which must be done by committing to us the Power of negociating for him, fignifying to these different Persons his Consent to any Agreements we might conclude for him—That we see no Alternative between this and an instant Retreat to Condolah; and that, unless he consents to it, our Army must perforce immediately retire, in order to prevent a total Distress from the utter Want of Provisions—That we must leave to him the Mode of opening this Negociation; and that during the Course of it, we should be guided as much by his Advice and Interest as we consistently could.

Adjourned.

John Carnac, Charles Egerton.

Tullagaon, 10th January, 1779. Sunday, 10th

At a Committee; PRESENT, John Carnac, Esquire, Colonel Charles Egerton.

Read, and approved, the Minutes of our last Committee.

Mr. Sibbald now delivers in Writing his Report of his Conference held Yesterday with Ragonath Row, which is entered hereaster.

The Committuy, Mr. Holmes, being fent for, and asked, How long he can depend for a Certainty on supplying the Army with Provisions? informs the Committee, From his Stock now in Hand, which is all he can depend on, he can supply the Army till the 28th inclusive, barring the Accidents which on our further Advance into the Country we may expect, having met with some Loss on our March of Yesterday: And the Commander in Chief, Colonel Cockburn, being called on, further acquaints the Committee, that without a Body of Horse he thinks it impossible, as we advance further into the open Country, to secure our Baggage from the numerous Cavalry, and that of course the Provisions are equally exposed with the rest of it.

Ut on duly weighing these Circumstances, it appears clearly that the Prediction Ragonath Row mentioned in our Proceedings of the 6th Instant, relative to the Multiplication of our Distress as advance forward, are now certainly verified; and that even should we proceed to Poona during the Course of any Negociation that might be opened, the Army would most probably be reduced to beh Distress as would compel us into any Terms the Party we might treat with should think fit to pose upon us, for it is certainly not presumable that they would fail to avail themselves of a Circumstance so signally favourable as our total Dependance on them for Provisions, which they must ery foon perceive.

With

With respect to the consident Assertion of Ragoba relative to the Junction of Holcar, supplying our Army with Provisions for some Days from this Place, we must observe from the formation of Mr. Holmes, who has examined into the Probability of this with his own by Ragoba, whatever he may be led to believe by the People about him, must be so totally discussed in the support that what Grand in the support shall be supported in the support of the support shall be supported in the support of the support shall be supported in the support of the support shall be supported in the support of the support of the support shall be supported in the support of the support of the supported in the support of t this Point of Supply that there is no Dependance on him. It appears that what Grain the I could not carry off from the Plunder of this Place, they have feattered in the Streets, and nates pernicious seeds fo as to render it almost wholly useless. As to the Junction of Holear, is almost wholly useless. wholly imprudent to fuffer ourselves to be led into a Scene of Diffress by this so long $p_{10,r_{1}}^{TT}$ Hope; but as from the Report of the Commander of Artillery it appears requifite to remaining Day longer, we may make a Virtue of this Necessity by a Compliance with his Request, and Lane Time acquaint him it we are now deceived, this Compliance he must feel to be the last n_{e_1} Poslibly give into; and faither, to do as much as in us less towards fulfilling the Hope he entertain. the Junction of Holear: It is refolved, immediately to write that Chief a fuitable Letter, temporal him of his Promite made to Mr. Moftyn, and expressing our Serprize, that instead of Juning a us he appears now in league with our Enemies, and acting hostilely against us; as we mean to be Ragoba to fulfil all the Promifes and Engagements which had been made him relative 🧓 Jaghire.

Mr. Lewis prefents to the Committee a Paper, containing Information relative to the body of Troops belonging to Moraba Furneeze into the Conkan. On this we mail observe, however useful this Body might be, it does not appear to us that this Cocumilance can essent relieve our prefent main Difficulty, which confifts in the total Improbability of any further Supples Provisions but through the Conkan.

Upon due Consideration of every Circumstance, it is resolved instantly to send off Copies of Minutes of Yesterday's and this Day's Consultation, for the Information of our Superiors at Bonda And unless the Army of Tookajee Holcar does join us conformable to the Associated as the Army of Tookajee Holcar does join us conformable to the Associated as the English it is farther resolved, however displeasing the Circumstance may be, to secure effectually the Paration of our Army, by falling back so far from this Place as is requisite to secure our Common tion with the Conkan, and that the Commander of the Army must be instantly acquainted with our Fesolution, in order that he may have Time to concert the requisite Means for putting a Execution.

As to the Troops of Moraba, faid to be below the Gauts, they will be of infinite Service conducting our Supplies of Provisions through the Conkan, and therefore the Officers who is mand them must be directed by the Agent of Moraba Furneeze to remain at Campoly till here crives further Directions from him. Mr. Frazer must be immediately acquainted with the Circle state of these Troops being friendly to us, but directed not to suffer them to ascend through the Pass be commands till further Orders.

Adjourned.

John Carnac. Charles Egence.

Mr. Sibbald this Evening waited upon Ragoba by the Committee's Directions, to make known. him the Resolutions of this Day, which he delivered to the following Effect: That Ragoba multifenfible that when the Governor and Select Committee first engaged, by Treaty, to support him a place him in the Regency of the Maratta Empire, that they were induced thereto by the Albusta's of being joined by a confiderable Body of Troops belonging to Holcar, and other Maratta Chang who had entered into Engagements with the late Mr. Mostyn to this Effect, and which Associate had been repeatedly confirmed to the Committee by Ragoba himfelf, at their different Meer's fince leaving Bombay, till within these Two Days past; but that he himself now allowed Mato were fo fenfibly altered, that he did not expect to be joined by any one, unless a Defeat could be give to the Ministerial Army now in our Fronts, which by their Mode of Proceeding, in retreating in " advanced, appeared impracticable: I hat he must therefore allow that we are greatly deceived at disappointed in his Affurances and Representation; and that so far from having any Friends in the For pire, that the whole Empire was in Arms against him, and Holear amongst the rest, who was the P.F. for he feemed to have the most Dependence upon: That it was with Concern the Committee observe that they had too good Reason to believe that there subsisted a total Want of Considerce of the Part of the Maratta Chiefs in his Promifes and Affurances; and that no Negociation would the be fet on Foot with them, unless commenced by us. In this Situation of Affairs (as he was at quainted we had only 16 Days Provision for the Army) the Committee faw an absolute Necessity if taking fuch Measures as appeared to them eligible, without further Dependance on him, and had therefore fent to advise him, that they were determined, in the Name of the English Company, " invite Holear, Scindia, and Saccaram, to a Conference, and upon their shewing an Inclination to jost the English in the present Business, that we would guarantee to them their respective Jaghires, toes ther with all their other Pretentions, as Officers of the Maratta State.—After deliberating some That upon the Subject of the Committee's Meffage, he allowed that their Reasons for their Determinations were just; that he certainly did give us the strongest Assurances of being joined by a large Dody & Troops, in which he had found himfelf deceived: He allowed that Holkar appeared in Action has against him, and that he had this Day I wo Guns string upon our Camp, but that conformable to his Affurance flurances all their Shot had fallen short. He however earnestly requested the Committee would der for One Day writing to any of the Maratta Chiefs but Holcar, as he expected in the Course of o-morrow a Vackeel from Scindia, which a Letter from the Committee might probably prevent, as e would from thence infer that we began to despair of Success, which would of course encourage whole of the Ministerial Party to hold out. Mr. Sibbald observes to him, that the Loss of a say would be a Matter of no great Consideration, had we any Prospect of meeting with Supplies of rovisions for our Army; but as that was not the Case, we had not an Hour to lose. To this he relied, that the Care of supplying the Army with Provisions was his, and that he would furnish the commissary from this Town with a sufficient Quantity for some Days, and that we should get more the next Village.

We addressed you on the 6th instant, and now send a Duplicate of that Address.

On the 7th in the Morning the Army moved from the Plain below Mondhurna to Carculla, on the 3th from Carculla to Wargoan, and on the 9th from Wargaon to this Place, where we were given expect they had affembled their whole Force, and were determined to make a Stand and oppose Cour Advance; the Event however has proved to us their Determination of adhering to their Plan of burning the Towns, ravaging the Country, harraffing us, and cutting off our Supplies of Provi-fions. We are informed, that on Friday last the 8th, about Noon, this Town was given up first to be plundered, and on the Evening of that Day it was fet on Fire. We found it Yeste day in Flames as we entered, which was with fo little Opposition, that we are convinced they do not mean to hazard an Engagement with us, but under some manifest Disadvantage on our Side. The Mode they have invariably pursued is a very distant Cannonade, and by Movements with their Horse, harraffing our Men by constantly engaging our Attention on every Side.

For the Sake of Expedition, we determined to fend you immediately Copies of the Minutes of our Confultations when met in Committee Yesterday and To-day, which will fully inform you of our Situation and Intentions. The Committee met to confider on the following Report from Mr. Sibbald:

That Ragonath Row had told him, that finding the Necessity of gaining over Scindia to his Party, he had Three Days ago written him a Letter, fignifying to him, that though the Ministers had confederated against his Government, and were destroying the State, yet it was ill in him and Holcar, the Two ancient Officers of the Circar, to abet them; that he wished to end every Thing amicably with them, and therefore offered them his Friendship; and that if Scindia would fend Two Persons to talk with him, whom he named, he trusted by their Means to accommodate all Differences: That he must not think he made this Overture from any Sense of an Inability to oppose his Exemies, as he held himself equal to it by the Aid of the Europeans only, but that these Europeans, in taking REP. Addressed the Honourable the Select Committee at Bombay, in the following Letter.

To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President, &c. Select Committee, Bombay.

Agreeable to what was written to you under the 9th Inflant from Tullegaon, we fell back with the Army to this Place on Yesterday Morning; and the Enemy having by some Means got Intelligence of our moving, attacked us on the March before Day-light, which they continued with great Vigour until 2 o'Clock in the Afternoon. Their numerous Bodies of Cavalry rendered it impossible to protect our Baggage, a Part of which consequently sell into their Hands, as the commanding Officer fore-told would be the Case; and it is with Concern we acquaint you, that in the Course of the very long Attack our People Yesterday tustained, we suffered some Loss, the Particulars of which shall be hereafter transmitted. In Justice to our Troops, both Europeans and Sepoys, we have the Pleasure to acquaint you, that they behaved with the utmost Intrepidity and Alacrity during the whole Attack.

We shall continue our March to Condolah with all possible Expedition, in the Pursuit of which we expect to be much harraffed; but to render our Baggage as little troublesome as possible, and our Body as compact as Circumflances will admit, the Commanding Officer means to reduce every Part of the Baggage that is not absolutely necessary.

Letter to the Peshwa.

Ditto from Ditto, in Answer.

Ditto to Ditto, at Night.

This Morning Mr. Farmer was fent to the Maratta Camp to propose an Accommodation, which Thursday, rath, we judged might be brought about by Ragoba's going over to Scindia, which he seemed determined to do, rather than run the Risk of another Day's March with our Army, as he declared his Fears of its proving fatal both to him and us, fo great an Idea does he feem to entertain of the Enemy's Strength. We directed Mr. Farmer to deliver the following Meffage to the Durbar "that having had Affurances given us, that the Establishment of Ragoba in the Regency of the Maratta Empire, was a Measure much wished for by many of the Sirdars of the Maratta Sircar, as well as by the Country in general, we had confented to conduct him with an English Army for that Purpose; but contrary to our Hopes and Expectations, we found his Establishment opposed by the choic Empire: That we had seen with infinite Concern the Country laid waste and destroyed at Approach, which being so very contrary to our Intentions by espousing the Cause of Ragoba, we were determined to be the Occasion of no further Desolation, and were therefore resolved narch back with the Army to Bombay: That after this Declaration, we expected all Hostilities id cease, and by so doing, Peace and Friendship would be established between the English and Maratta State; if on the other Hand should we experience the least Act of Hostility on our , we should consider it as a Declaration of War against the English Nation."

Gentlemen.

I was conducted to the Topa High Hill, where I was prefented to Mhadja Scindia, Nana II neeze, and Hurry Punt Furkia, as to the Durbar, and delivered them your Letter. After many Exclamations, our coming thus uninvited, and representing the great Charges and Lois their State had fuffalls by the Aid given to Ragoba, their final Answer is this, That if we wish to remain at Peace was them, Ragonath Row must be delivered up, and then we may return quietly; otherwise, we had as we please. I write surrounded with People, not permitted to go down to my Chest for Palankeen brought up, and I am to wait your final Answer and hardly permitted to have my Palankeen brought up, and I am to wait your final Answer. garding which, I dare not venture any Opinion.

The Purport of the Note received from Mr. Farmer, written in Cyphers.

They are fully informed of your State. I fee no Remedy, but either to give Scindia to under ftand, through Ragoba, that you shall push on with him in your Hand at all Perils, or to treat so them whilst you have him, which must still be on their own Terms. Of Provision there are no Hope

As Ragoba has already intimated his Intentions of delivering himself up to Scindia mich than run the Risk of marching with our Army, and has in Consequence carried on a Correspondent with Scindia for Two Days past, we think in the present Situation of Affairs it is most advisable write to Mr. Farmer, that all Difficulty of Accommodation is removed by Ragobah's Defign or go over to Scindia; and that we expect in confequence the proper Securities from the Durbar tor... proceeding unmolested on our March.

Sent off the following Letter to Mr. Farmer at Ten o'Clock this Morning.

This Morning Mr. Farmer's Servant returned with the following Letter dispatched last Night.

To John Carnac, Esquire, and Colonel Charles Egerton.

Gentlemen,

I waited on the Top of the Hill where the Durbar fat till near Sunfet, when I received you and having fent to acquaint Hurry Punt Furkia with an Answer being come, he conducted me Nanah Furncese: I there told them, That the Difficulty which I apprehended was removed, by Determination of Ragoba to surrender himself to Madjee Scindia; and I now imagined the Difficulty would proceed a surrender himself to Madjee Scindia; would preserve the Friendship of the English Nation, by suffering our Army to return quiets Bon.bay. Nanah Furneeze faid, as we had broken the Treaty concluded by Colonel Upton, bell out Army mount are made and as we had broken the Treaty concluded by Colonel Upton, bell out Army mount are made and the second property of the second property o our Army moved we must agree to remain as we were by our Treaty formed with the late let Nanah. I observed, that in the Morning the only Difficulty that was started was relative to Ref who had smoothed it by consenting to surrender himself; that I desired at once an explicit Authority of not Host and applicable that I desired at once an explicit Authority of not Host and applicable to the surrender himself; that I desired at once an explicit Authority of not Host and applicable to the surrender himself; that I desired at once an explicit Authority of not Host and Authority of Not Host a whether or not Hostages would be given for the March of the Army to Bombay, if Ragona prrender himself? They then faid they must consult Madjee Scindia. I then withdrew; and after remoter nimiter: I ney then iaid they mult confult Madice Scindia. I then withdrew; and after inie Time Hurry Pundit came again to me, and told me I might go to my Tent To-night, and at an Answer would be delivered to me in the Morning; but I insisted on a clear and positive Anser instantly to that Question relative to Hostages for our proceeding unmolested, if Dada Saheb as permitted to surrender himself to Scindia. Hurry Punt went back, and I was soon after introaced to a Durbar, where Madjee Scindia entirely presided. Hurry Punt was there, and other Peras whom I did not know. After their the Rosense which I many and the Many and the Perhs whom I did not know. After flating the Business which I came on this Morning, which related by to the Two Questions, whether they would suffer us to proceed peaceably to Bombay? or, bether they would declare what, by moletling us? and reminding him of the Objection relative to Person of Ragoba being removed, by his voluntary Consent to surrender himself, I defined an policit Answer. He said, that as to the Surrender of Ragoba, it mattered little; that we must set the Consent with the Magnetic State the Consents her Consents have been applied to the surrender of Ragoba. new Treaty with the Maratta State, the One made by Colonel Upton being entirely broke by the essent Invasion of their Country. In a sew Words, they seem to me to seel themselves in the tuation with respect to us, which the Turkish Vizier self himself in with respect to Peter the Isl, the Time the Empress Catherine fent in her Jewels to the Vizier. I date not speal, any plainer; pt by then Language you may judge what they think: In any Situation whatever, they could not pak in a higher Tom. The Refult of my Convertation with Seindia was just this, that whether ere was Peace or War, it was equal to him; but that having broken the Treaty made with Colonel pton, we must now on the Spot set about forming a new one, to serve as a suture Guice between e Maratta State and the English. I told him, that my Bulmess at first related only to the Two pints, of their permitting us to proceed peaceably, or not; that I had then further to define an explit Answer relative to the wilful Surrender of the Perlon of Rayoba. To both which he replied, that sclusive of this, a Peace must now be settled betweet the Maratra State and the English on the Spot. hat I had no Directions about this; but I would communicate to you this No between he faid, and stan Answer To morrow Morning. Although my Heart is full, yet I must restrain my Pen; n i ire I by any Means, in so nice a Case, offer any Mark to guide you by. I beg a specify Answer to is, and remain with Respect,

> Your oledient humble Servant, W. G. Farmer.

P. S. I waited on the Hill where the Durbar met till past 7; and where I was then led, and how conducted, the Bearer will inform you. I am afraid no good leffect will come from my Deputation, though I risk my Lite: By what with Want of Food, and Watching, I am satigued to Death; so you will excuse my writing. 11 o'Clock, 14th January.

, Colonel Cockburn being called upon by the Committee to give his Opinion in Writing, relative to the Practicability of marching back the Army to Bombay, delivers in the following:

Being called upon for my Opinion on the Possibility of making a Retreat to Bombay, I must declare that I think the same utterly impracticable. Our Troops are already much harrasted and dispirited from the Necessity we were under of retiring from Tullegaon; and were we to Iuslam another Attack from the Maratta Army, I am of Opinion the Troops would not stand it; and that consequently the whole Army, with its numerous Followers, would be cut to Pieces. But the Distance from Panwell being about Forty-sive Miles, it is not the Attack of One Day we should have to suftain, as I think, were it possible to move from hence, that we could not gain that Place in Twenty Days; and it is therefore chimerical to the last Degree to suppose that our small Army could support themselves from the daily Attacks they would be certain of for to long a Period. I therefore cannot charge myself to condust the Army under these Circumstances to Bombay; and Humanity must prompt some other Method than an Attempt to retire in the Face of the whole Strength of the Maratta Empire with such a Handrul of Men, who must in such Case be facrificed.

W" Cockburn.

Camp, at Wurgaon, 15th January 1779.

We observe with Concern, that the Enemy appear too sensible of our present very disagreeable Situation from the dictatorial Strain in which they now deliver themselves. It is however necessary, we think, to advise Mr. Farmer that we have no Powers to enter into or conclude any Treaties, such Powers being lodged solely with the Governor General and Council of Bengal; but if the Durwell will abide by their first Proposal, we are ready to agree to it on our Parts.

To Mr. William Gamul Farmer.

Ve received your Letter of last Night only an Hour ago, the Harcarrahs having been detained smo-Accident. In Answer to which you must acquaint the Durbar, that they demand what have no Power to agree to, the entering into and concluding Treaties being folely confined to Governor General and Council of Calcutta, to whom therefore they must tend their Vackeels, only Power lest to us, is the giving up the Cause and Person of Ragonath Row, which done, are, VI.

no Doubt that Peace and Friendship will then subsist between us from henceforwards.

You must inform them, should we enter into any Treaty we should only deceive them, having no fuch Powers; we therefore defire they will immediately acquaint us, whether upon our abiding by the Conditions first proposed, of delivering up Ragoba, they will comply on their Parts by fuffering us to march unmolested to Bombay, and for which Purpose to give us the necessary Securities.

Wurgaon, 15th January 1779. We are, Sir,
Your most obedient Servants,
Jn° Ca Inº Carnac, Ch. Egerton,

As we have good Reason to believe, that a Gentleman being sent from us to Madjee Scindia, is more likely to produce an Accommodation than a Deputation to the Durbar in general;

Resolved, immediately to dispatch Mr. Thomas Holmes, who has offered himself for that Park pose; and to give him full Powers to settle with the Durbah for the peaceable Return of the Army to Bombay, on fuch Conditions as he may be able to obtain, fince it is the Opinion of the Commander in Chief that a Retreat is impracticable.

At Noon To-day received the following Letter from Mr. Farmer, dated this Morning, which is is now unnecessary to answer, as Mr. Holmes is dispatched with full Powers.

To John Carnac, Efquire, and Colonel Charles Egerton.

Gentlemen.

I am this Inflant arrived at the Durbar, where your Letter was delivered to me by $\Lambda_{\rm but}$ Bawn, on the Part of Mhadjee Scindy: As reprefenting the Durbar, he defired to be informed of the Contents; when I explained what you faid relative to the want of Powers, and defired an ex, lier Answer relative to the single Proposition, whether on the Delivery of Ragoba, Securities would be given for our safe and unmolested Arrival at Bombay? He observed in Answer, That it was had not Powers to make new Treaties, he wished to see by what Powers you broke that make by Colonel Upton, by the Aid given to Ragoba, and defired an explicit Answer, whether or an it was by virtue of any direct Authority from the Governor General and Council, that if it was be defired to see that Authority, in order that he might look to them about it. I told him, this was forcign to the Buliness, and that I requested the explicit Answer mentioned in your Letter; but ttill he infifts first knowing by what Authority you acted, because, if you acted on your own Authority you must answer it, and make a new Agreement. A true Translation of your Letter was demanded, and I was given to understand, that if I did not give one, there were People in the Camp who understood English. I am rather forry for it, because your own Declarations seem to preclude all peaceable Arrangements. After much Talk, I brought the Matter to this Point, That a respect to what was past, we expected every Thing to be forgot in consequence of our returning back; that Dada Sahab had cost us many Lacks of Rupees; that all we had now left or ha was his Person; that I defired to know, whether on the Delivery of his Person, our Army should g be permitted to proceed quietly to Bombay without further Dispute, and whether Securities would be given for that Purpose? the Answer I received is plainly this, That Dada Saheb may be furrendered, or not, as we please; but till a new Treaty is made between the English and the Maratta State, our Army must remain where it is unbecause quence.

Maratta Camp, 15th January 1779. Gentlemen, Your most obedient oft obegine humble Servant, W. G. Farmer.

This Night about 10 o'Clock Mr. Holmes returned from the Maratta Camp, and advices we that he has settled Matters with Mhadjee Scindia, and the rest of the Durbar, for the peaceable Return of the Army to Bombay on the only Conditions they would hear of, and which are included as connect foil to fill to fill to make the day of fill to fill as cannot fail to fill us with the deepest Concern, being humiliating in the highest Degree, and which nothing but the avowed Opinion and Declaration of the principal Officers, as to the liver of officers, as to the liver of officers over Present and liver of officers. practicability of effecting our Retreat, could justify our acceding to. We must however objects that Madajee Scindia and the whole Durbar, cannot plead Ignorance of our want of Powers to the state of clude fuch a Treaty as they have now prescribed to us; they having demanded both a tree Explanation and Translation of our Letter of Yesterday to Mr. Farmer, wherein we expend during him to acquaint them, that we have no little during the second of the secon direct him to acquaint them, that we have no Powers to enter into any Treaty whatever the were we to pretend such Powers, we should be only deceiving them, so they have evidently compelled us to enter into a Treaty, they were apprized we had no Powers to agree to.

This Evening Messes. Farmer and Holmes returned from the Maratta Camp, with Scindia's Vackeels, in order for their having an Interview with us, and to see the Treaty entered into duly executed; if which a Translate is hereafter entered, as also of a separate Article in Favour of Mhadajee Scindia, which Messes. Farmer and Holmes advise us they were obliged to consent to.

Franslation of the Articles of Agreement between Scremunt Mhaderow Narrain, Pundit Purdhan, on one Part, and the English Company on the other Part.

In the Time of the late Scremunt Pundit Purdhan Mhadoo Row Bullol, Matters went on paceably; fince then, the English obtained Possession of several Places belonging to the Sircar, such the Islands of Salfette and Ouram, Jambooseer, and the Mahaals and Purgunnahs of Broach, both plonging to the Sircar and the Guicawar; and the English gave their Aid to Ragonath Row Dada sheb. Upon which, War having commenced, Colonel John Upton came from Calcutta with full owers, and made an Agreement; and according to that Agreement Matters were to go on between e Company and the Maratta Sircar. But on the Side of the English this Agreement was not adhered they having given Aid to Ragonath Row, and making Preparations for War, mounted the auts, invaded the Districts of the Maratta Sircar, and began to make Hostilities; upon which the Brear also prepared for War. At the District of Wurgaon, near Indonny Tulligarn, Mr. John Carisc and Colonel Charles Egerton, of the Select Committee of Bombay, being fully empowered, did lepute Mr. Thomas Holmes and Mr. Farmer. Further, from the Beginning there was a Friendship netween the Sircar and the English; which being interrupted, Colonel John Upton made an Agreenent, according to which Treaty Matters did not proceed, and therefore that Treaty is annihilated; nd in the same Manner, and on the same Footing, as the English and the Sircar were in the Time the late Mhadoo Row, in that Manner are they now to remain, the Aid and Cause of Ragoba to given up, no Protection to be afforded him, nor any Aid to be afforded to the Enemies of the Fratta Sircar. The Islands of Salictte and Ouram, and the other Islands and Places, as Jambooseer d the Mhaals of Broach, formerly belonging to the Maratta Sircar, and the Guicawar, such as hickly, Veriow, &c. were taken Possession of; these we give up, and agree to go on and remain s we were in the Time of the late Peshwah Mhauoo Row Bullol. Upon which this Agreement is nade with the Sircar. That in the Time of the late Mhadoo Row Bullol Pundit Purdhan, Matters rent on peaceably; and fince then different Places belonging to the Sircar, fuch as the Islands of affette and Ouram, and other Islands, and further Jambooseer and other Mahaals, and the Aumils of broach, belonging to the Sircar and to the Guicawar, the English got Possession of; these must be blivered back to the Sircar, and no Aid or Protection must in future be assorded to Ragonath Row, to any of the Enemies of the Sircar. In this Manner do we faithfully promife to perform; and the Part of the Sircar good Faith is also to be observed. Ragonath Row Dada Saheb was with the by his own free Consent committed himself, with all his Effects, to the Care of Tookajee colcar and Madjee Scindy. The English Army with us is now at Wurgaon: It must be permitted proceed, with all its Effects and Appurtenances, to Bombay; and as Security for this on the Part the Sircar, Two Persons will proceed, belonging to each of the Sirdars, by Name Nazo Guncish hd Wissajee Samash, Ballanow Govind and Rana Cawn, to conduct the Army to Bombay; and for Purpose Troops shall be sent with you, or not, as you please. The English Army that is with shall not offer any Molestation to any Person on the Road. The Antrewede and Bundlecund Proinces, and their Sardars, being always under the Sircar, no Damage is to be done to them; and the inglish Army from Calcutta having crossed the Nerbuddah, is now at Hussengabad: It is not to be ermitted to proceed forwards, but is to be fent back to Calcutta; and on the Road no Molestation t to be given to any one. The before-mentioned Agreement is formed by the Mediation of Tookajee Holcar and Madjee Scindy, and according to it Matters are in future to proceed, without any Kind f Failure. This we pledge the English Faith to observe; and the Sircar is also to observe it. No Lid or Protection is to be afforded to the French.

Your obedient humble Servants, In Camer

Campoly, 19 January 1779. Ch. Fgenor

The Letter which we mention in the foregoing to have written Colonel Goddard under the 1.31 Inflant, is not entered upon our Diary, as Mr. Farmer carried the original Letter with han to the Maratta Camp, and it escaped him to leave a Copy. The Purport however was to advise Colors Goddard that the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing to him last, as to constitute the Face of Things was so materially altered since writing the same since we have the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the same since which we will be successful to the fion our marching back to Bombay, and that in consequence of an Agreement entered into less with the Maratta State, we now directed him to march back with the Army under his Comme of

Wednesday,

This Evening arrived a Pair of Hircarrahs with the following Letter from the Honourable to Select Committee:

To John Carnac, Esquire, and Colonel Charles Egerton.

We have received your Letter of the 6th Instant, and having fully considered your Representative of the State of Affairs, we are of Opinion, that the best and most effectual Way to improve you own Situation, and to induce Ragoba's Friends to declare openly in his Favour, will be for our Active and Management of Manageme to advance with Vigour and Expedition towards Poona; and we accordingly now fend Instructions that Effect to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, to whom we find Colonel Egerton has delivered over the Command. Colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the present the product of the Colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health, and the Death of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the colonel Egerton's bad State of Health of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the Colonel Egerton's bad State of Health of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the Colonel Egerton's bad State of Health of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the Colonel Egerton's bad State of Health of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the Colonel Egerton's bad State of Health of Mr. Mostyn, rendering the Colonel Egerton's necessary to make a new Arrangement in the Poona Committee, we have resolved to appoint Laces nant Colonel Cockburn and Mr. James Sibbald to supply the Places of the aforesaid Gentlemen in the Committee, with the tame Powers and Inthructions as given to the former Committee, by our Committee, bearing Date the 5th of last Month; and hereby appoint John Canhard Esquire, Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, and Mr. James Sibbald, to be a Committee according for the Hies and Purposes mentioned in our faid Committee. for the Ules and Purpoles mentioned in our faid Commission and Letter of Instructions; observed nevertheless, that this Appointment is not a sale of the commission and Letter of Instructions; observed the Health of the commission of the commission and the commission of the commissi nevertheless, that this Appointment is not to take place unless Colonel Egerton's bad State of Health and Letter or Intructions, of Health and Letter of pould still continue to disqualify him for public Business, or oblige him to return to Bombay; in eiger of which Cases Mr. Carnac is to act jointly with the above named Gentlemen in Manner aforesid, and this Letter will be to them a sufficient Warrant. Our Appointment of Major Dagon to the Rank of Lieutenant Colonel, has anticipated your Application on that Subject; but we cannot onsent to send to the Army the other Officers you mention. The President has written very plainly to agoba our Sentiments respecting the Circumstances mentioned in your Letter; and we think a very ood Method to bring the Matter to a Proof would be for you to desire Ragoba to deliver to Mobah Furneeze's Vackeel an Order to the Killadar Ahmadorasut for his Release, and to open the ommunication through the Conkan, by affording Relief to the Port at the Head of the Gauts, which are much surprized, has been left destitute of all Kinds of Supplies. We have determined on adding a Detachment of a Company of Europeans, Three of Sepoys, with Two Field Pieces, and Party of Artillery Men, under the Command of Captain Richard Eames, to clear the Roads between Panwell and Campoly of the Maratta Horse, which we learn are hovering in those Parts, and convoy a Supply of Provisions to that Port. The Party is to be a separate Command, and not to be considered as belonging to the Army now above the Gauts.

We have just received a Letter from the Governor General and Council, of which we shall send fou a Copy when the Roads are open. The Contents in short are, That they have given Colonel Goddard full Powers to conclude a Treaty with Moodajee Bouncello, for which Reason they think it incessary to revoke the Controul they had given us over that Detachment, though they observe their latention is not to withdraw the Services of the Detachment entirely from the Support of any Mealures we might have formed in Reliance of such Support, if those Measures shall not prove incompatible with the Instructions given to Colonel Goddard, and with the Engagements he may form in consequence. We shall however immediately describe our present Situation to Colonel Goddard, who on the 22d ultimo was still at Hussengabad, and press him to march towards Poona.

16th January 1779.

The Pattamars dispatched with this Letter baving returned, it is necessary to acquaint you, that Lieutenant Fraser has abandoned his Post at Condolah, and which it is reported is now in Possession of the Enemy.

The following Letter to Colonel Cockburn was enclosed in the foregoing one to the Com-

To Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn.

Sir,

As we find Colonel Egerton has been obliged by bad Health to refign to you the chief Command of the Army, we judge it proper to observe to you, that from the Representation we have received of the State of Affairs, it appears very necessary the Army should advance with the utmost rigour and Expedition towards Poona, in order to give Spirits to Ragoba's Friends, and secure rovisions for our own Troops; we shall therefore trust to your Activity and Zeal for the Service, that no Time be lost in moving forwards, or Measure neglected to distress and frustrate the Attempts the Enemy.

Chowke, 21st January 1779.

At Half past Five this Morning, the Army marched from Campoly, and came to their Ground

Thursday, and the Chowke at One o'Clock.

Received on the Road the following Letter from Mr. Farmer:

To John Carnac, Esquire, and Colonel Charles Egerton.

Gentlemen,

The Durbar have appointed on their Part Gunneish Hurry, and Tookajee Holcar and Mhadjee teindia on their Part Apajee Savajee, to see the different Articles in the late Agreement performed; hey bring with them the requisite Letters from your Durbar and from these Sudars; and they farher desire one from me to introduce them to you, and signify their being the Persons to appointed.

In the Articles of Durbar Expences, which formed Part of the late Stipulation for the unmolested March of the Army to Bombay, it was settled, that a Thousand Rupees should be paid to Chubars, &c. belonging to the Durbar of Mhadjee Scindia, and the like Sum to the Durbar Servants f Nanah Furneeze; you will please to pay the whole Amount immediately to Apajee Savajee, who Rep. responsible to them; and for the other Sums settled for such Service, I could wish the Notes should it possible be returned to me.

Madjee Scindia fent Yeslerday to acquaint me, that as he was Security to the Durbar for the due Performance of the late Supulations, he desired that Mr. Stewart and I would accompany him wherever he went. The Change is very agreeable to me in every Shape, as he treats us with great Civility and Attention; and the cultivating a proper Connexion with him seems to me the only Mode to retrieve the fast Sacrifices we have been compelled to make in capitulating for the safe and unmolested Return of our Army to Bombay. Whatever he may have to propose I believe will be through Applies Savajee, who seems to possess much of his Considence, and to whom I would therefore venture to propose a particular Attention should be shewn, keeping every Thing that he may propose or mention a Secret from the Agent of the Durbar.

I could with that a Pr of Pattamars should be sent me as soon as possible to dispatch with any

Advices I may have to fend. I am, with Respect,

Gentlemen,
Your most obedient humble Servant,
W. G. Farmer.

Fiiday, 22d.

This Morning Mr. Carnac and Colonel Egerton took their Leave of the Army, and fet out for Panwell, where they arrived about Noon, and reached Bombay the fame Evening.

It eleaped us to notice under the 16th Inflant, that we found the prevailing Cuflom of giving Prefents amongst the Officers and others of the Durbar, was not to be dispensed with, and that their Expectations were very considerable; we however settled this Charge by Means of Appajee Savaice, for the Sum of 41,000 Rupees to be paid to him on his Arrival at Bombay; and he made himsely answerable to the Dependents of the Durbar for this Amount.

Report from Lieutenant Richardson to Colonel Egerton, as noticed in Committee under 11th Instant.

Sir,

Agreeable to your Defire I fend you the Information that I received last Night on examining Two Men that Ragoba had fent to Tookajee Holcar. They told me there was no Hope of his joining us till we had beat the Ministerial Army; that Holcar declared himself thoroughly acquainted with our Situation; that our Force did not exceed Four Battalions, and with that Number we could never expect to reduce the Maratta Empire; that his Force added to ours would give us very little more Weight; that by joining Ragoba he niked every Thing, without the smallest Prospect of Advantage to himself: Therefore all that he could promite was to be neutral; and though he might be obliged to bring his Troops into the Field, yet he engaged that they should not tight against Ragoba. I have further to inform you, that in a private Conversation with Ragoba, Two Days ago, he told me he had deceived the Governor, in the Hopes he had given of People joining him; but that he had been deceived himself, and that he was assumed of it, as he now found he had been led into an Error by salte Promites.

I am,

William Richardson.

Bombay, 22d January 1779. Minutes of the Confultation held by the Poona Committee at Wurgaon, the 15th January, which Colonel Egerton dilayows and protefts against; and to authenticate which Mr. Carnac has brought the Evidence of Mr. Sibbald the Secretary, Colonel Hartley, and Mr. Holmes, as per their Letter-forwarded in the Packet.

Camp at Wurgaon, 15th January 1779.

At a Committee; PRESENT,

John Carnac, Esquire, Colonel Charles Egetton.

The Committee now meet to take into their ferious Confideration the Measures necessary to be immediately pursued to extricate the Army from its present very critical Situation, surrounded as it is by the whole Strength of the Empire, and with only about Ten Days Provisions in Camp.

It is judged necessary to have the Opinion of Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, now in Command of the Army, as to the Practicability of effecting our Retreat to Bombay: Who is accordingly called in-

Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn delivers in his written Opinion as entered hereafter.

Colonel Fgerton's Opinion being also required, declares his Sentiments are the same as those of Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn; that a Retreat in our present Situation is impracticable; and if attempted, the Consequences must be the Loss of the whole Army.

M-,

PFENDIX,

Mr. Carnac is fo confident the Army is fufficiently numerous, and fo well provided with Artillery, as to be able to force their Way back against all Opposition, if the Officers and Men will do their Duty; that there is no Doubt with him, the Attempt ought to be made at all Events, rather than jubmit to the Ferms preferibed by the Locary, by which we have no Authority to bind our Employers; and for his own Part, he collecte would much fooner run his Share of the Rifk than that they should be complied with . However, as Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn have given it as their politive Opinions that the Proops will not fland, and confequently must be cut to Pieces, Mr. Carnac dares not take toon brinfelf fingly to prefs a Retreat, which it is pronounced will be inevitably attended with Corlean ares that cannot fail endangering the Prefervation of the Settlement; he therefore, however reluceantly and contrary to his own Sentiments, finds himself obliged to concur in the Acceptance of whatever Conditions can be obtained. Allowing therefore that the Opinions of Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn to be well-tounded (in which we are given to understand many Onicers of the Army concur) there feems to be no other Resource left, but to a cept of such Conditions as can be obtained from the Enemy.

Adjourned.

For Colonel Cockburn's Opinion, vide before.

Letter from the Presidency of Bombay to the Court of Directors; dated 27th March 1779.

To the Honourable the Secret Committee, &c. &c.

Gentlemen,

1. We had the Honour to addrefs you the 29th December, by the Way of Buffora; and on the 8th of Iast Month Colo el Capper arrived by that Route with your Commands dated 31st August.

- 2. It gave us infinite Satisfaction to find by your faid Commands, that our Vigilance respecting the Transfections of the French has met with your Approbation; and we flatter ourselves that you will do equal Juilice to the Motives on which we undertook the late Expedition in favour of Ragonaut Row, which, we are deeply concerned to acquaint you, has been brought to a most unsuccessful Conclusion.
- 3. This Dispatch is intended to convey to you, in the quickest Manner possible, an Account, sufficiently circumitantial, of the or fortunate Affair, accompanied with every necessary Paper, to enable you to form a Judgment of the Conduct of the concerned in this Expedition, and of our prefent
- 4. The Letters from the Board in their Secret Department, dated the 17th of June and 8th of July, and our Letter of the 31st of that Month, Transcripts of all which are in this Packet, will inform you of the Steps which more immediately led to the Relolution we formed on the 21st of July, to puriue all practicable Meatures, with the utmost Expedition, for placing Ragoba in the Regency at Poona; and under is" I we now transinit a Copy at length of our Proceedings on that Day, in order the more fully to explain the Grounds upon which we acted.

5. Surjoined to the Minutes of the 21st July, is a Copy of the Answer delivered by the Poona Durbar, upon Nanah Putnere bring reinflated in the Administration, to the Paper of Demands prefented by Mr. Moslyn, as mentioned in the Letter above referred to, dated 17th June.

6. The field Letter we received from Mr. Levis at Poona, after we had taken our Resolutions, advifed us that Moraba had been feized by Madjee Scindia, and that Took ijee Holear had been obliged to deliver up his Duan, and Two of his Officers, to Namah, who together with Sciedia had appointed another Duan for Holear, and that every one, whether Brannin or Officer, who had joined Moraba, had also been kazed, and amongst the rest Bucheba Pronder; Scindia was soon after induced, by a Prefent of Three Lacks of Rupees from Nannah, to deliver Moraba into his Charge, who immediately fent him Prifoner into the Fort of Ashinednagur; and Buchebah was likewise confined in another Fort belonging to Nannah.

7. On the 1st of July Moni! St. Lubin left Poons, and proceeded to Damain, where it was given out he intended to remain, until Nannah discovered whether he was able to fulfil his Engagements, and where we understand he now is.

8. Our Advices from Poona at this Juncture tended to perfuade us that Nannah Furneze and Madjee Scindia had the chief Direction of the Government, and that Saccaram Bappoo was not confulted, but even kept under a Degree of Confinement. Scindia's Influence appeared the most predominant; and it was furmifed that he had Views to the Enlargement of his own Fower at Poona, independent of Nannah, or of Saccaram Bappoo.

9. We were foon ofter given to understand, that the Poona Durbar had not only refused to grant Duftucks for the Passage of the Bengal Detachment, but sent Orders to the different Officers through whose Districts Colonel Lessie would be obliged to pass, to use every Endeavour to molest and harrais him in his March; and the Army at Poona was then faid to consist of about 12,000 Meh, which was to be difmissed in a sew Days, with Orders to assemble again at Deura, or about the Beginning of October, as they could not procure Provender for their Cattle at that Scason of the Year.

10. Colonel

to. Colonel Lessie appearing to make but a flow Progress in his March, we wrote to him in the most pressing Manner to advance as quick as possible, assuring him that the early Arrival of the Army under his Command would be of the utmost Importance to the honourable Company's Affairs.

Powers to fettle Affairs with the English, and promised to fend a Person to Bombay for that Purpole, who accordingly did arrive some Time afterwards; but, as the President lately acquainted us, he did not open himself on the Business for which he was said to be deputed, thinking perhaps that our Connection with Ragoba did not fuit his Mafter's Views.

12. Mr. Lewis alto advited, that the Durbar, in order to amuse us, intended sending a Person of Consequence with Proposals to Ragoba; and the President, at our Meeting on the 15th August, reported that Proposals had been made to him verbally, by an Agent for Nannah Furneze, to bring Ragoba into the Government nearly on the same Terms as proposed by Moraba and his Party, which will appear by the Papers annexed to our Proceedings of the 21st of July; but as we had Reason to suspect that every Proposal from that Quarter was infidious, and only meant to amuse u, we returned for Answer to the Agent, that we could not give his Proposals any Consideration, unless they came before us authenticated under the Sicca of Nannah himself; after which we had no faither Overtures on the Part of Nannah Furneze.

13. On the 16th of August we received Advice from Mr. I ewis, that he was informed from very good Authority, that it had been determined by Nannah and Scindia to fend Two principal Officers to oppose Colonel Lessie's March; and that Nannah had sent to recall Mont. St. Lubin from Damaun, where he had resided since the Beginning of July, giving out that he intended employed him against Hyder. We immediately sent this Intelligence to Colonel Lessie, that he might be pared to take his Measures with the proper Caution and Vigour; and the Chief of Sorat advised up under the 9th of September, that Chokeys had been placed on the Brampore and Ugien Roads, in order to intercept all Letters.

14. Under the 8th September Mr. Lewis advised the President, that he had been informed by the Nabob of Arcot's Vackeel, that the Killedar of Ahmednagur Fort, in which Moraba was confined, had not only refused complying with an Order from Nannah for delivering that Fort to Seindia, but had seized some Treasure to a great Amount belonging to Nannah, and declared he assed in Behalf of Ragoba. The Vackeel further added, that though Moraba was not absolutely Master of the Killa, yet he and the Killedar understood one another perfectly; and that it was entirely by the Advice of the former the latter had asted. Mr. Lewis closes his Letter with these Words: "Not a Man is yet come in, and the sew who remained here belonging to Hurry Punt's Army are so very importunate for their Arrears of Pay, that the poor Man is afraid of stirring out of Flouse." In a Letter to us, dated 24th September, he says, "Purlo Ram Bose is still here, not being able to raise a Man for "Want of Money, which the Government is either unable or unwilling to advance him."

15. In the last mentioned Letter, Mr. Lewis acquaints us, that on 20th September, a Frenchman arrived at Poona, with Letters for Nannah, but notwithstanding his utmost Endeavours, he could not learn until the Night before the Date of his Letter, who the Frenchman was, or from whence he came; when he was informed it was Monsieur Le Roy from Surat. This was one of the Gentlemen mentioned in the Secret Letter of the 15th January 1778, to have been landed on Choul from Pondicherry, and he now brought Letters to Nannah from Monsieur St. Lubin, with whom he had a Meeting at Damaun, and from Monsieur Briancourt, the French Consul at Surat; the Contents of which Mr. Lewis learnt were to desire Nannah not to listen to any Terms of Accommodation with the English, at least for One Month, as he made no Doubt the Assistance promifed by Monsieur St. Lubin would arrive by that Time.

16. On the 27th August we received the first Advice from the Governor General and Council, of their having deputed Mr. Elhot to the Court of Moodajee Boosla, the Rajah of Berar, with fell Instructions to negociate and conclude a Treaty with that Chief, acquainting us no farther with the Object of their intended Treaty, than expressing their Opinion in general Terms, that an Alliance with him might be attended with the greatest Utility, in providing for the Desence of the Honourable Company's Possessions in the present War. They desired us to correspond with Mr. Elhot, and to advise him of any Occurrences that may effect the general political Interests of the Company's Settlements and of our own in particular, telling us, that the Success of the Measures entrusted to Mr. Elliot, must in a great Measure depend upon their present Secrecy; that he would however send us such Articles as he might agree to with the Raja, and in the mean Time, to prevent any Step of a contrary Tendency on our Part, they request we would refrain from forming any Engagement of a Nature hostile to the Government at Poona, except such as might appear absolutely necessary for the Desence of our own Possessions.

17. From the very general Information the Governor General and Council gave us of their projected Alliance with Moodajee Boofla, we could not form any Judgment in what Manner this Prefidency might be affected thereby, nor did it strike us that we could receive either Injury of Benefit from the Raja of Berar, unless he should affert his Claim to the Rajaship of the Maratta Empire, to which he has some Pretentions, and restore the ancient Form of the Maratta Government. We did not pretend to judge what Advantage a Connection with him might afford to your Bengal Provinces to which his Country is contiguous, but so far as we might venture an Optinion, we conceived them so little liable to Danger, that an Alliance with Moodajee Boosla merchine.

for their Security, so far as he could contribute to it, which appeared by their Letter to be the Object of Mr. Elliot's Deputation, did not feem to be a Consideration equivalent to the Injury your general Interest would sustain, were we to sorego the Prosecution of the Plan resolved on the 21ft July.

18. These were the Sentiments we expressed on the 31st August, when this Letter came under Consideration; and as we were then every Day in Expectation of Advices from Europe by the Way of Suez, which would place us at a Certainty with respect to the War with France, we did not think it proper to take any decisive Resolution for the Prosecution of the intended Measures, though the Necessity thereof still continued to strike us in the most forcible Manner.

19. On the 9th September Mr. William Moore arrived from Suez, having left London 16th June, and Marfelles the 2d July. By him we received Intelligence next to a Certainty, that the Count D'Estaing's Squadron was gone to America, and that Admiral Byron had failed in Pursuit of him, nor had we any Reason to apprehend the French intended sending any Armament to India this Scafin.

20. On the 27th following we received a Letter from the Governor General and Council, dated 17th August, in which they acquainted us, That they had approved our Resolution of the 21st July, and authorized us to assist Ragoba with a military Force to conduct him to Poona, and to establish him in the Regency there, on the following express Provisions:

First, That it do not interfere with any Engagement formed with Moodajee Boosla by Mr. Elliot, and previous Notice to us given.

Second, That our latest Advices from Europe shall be equal to an Assurance that the Force required for this Service may be spared without endangering the Safety of Bombay, in the Event of a French Invasion.

Third, That the Engagement we might form with Ragoba himself or Moraba, and his Associates, be not contrary to those concluded with Moodajee by Mr. Elliot, and noticed to us, nor of a hostile Fendency to the Government of Berar.

- 21. On the 30th, we received Advice from Colonel Leslie, that he had on the 15th August Icst Chatterpore, or Chunderpore as it is called in the Maps, where he had remained on Account of the heavy Rains since 3d July, in order to proceed on his March to the Nerbuddah, and after Two Days March had arrived at Raje Gur, from whence he dated his Letter the 25th August. By this Letter it appeared he had had a slight Skirmish with the Troops of one of the Bundella Chiefs, but was in Treaty for a Pacification, and at the same Time taking Measures for crossing a River between him and the Enemy, that if drawn to that Extremity, he might by dispersing them secure his March from further Molestation.
- 22. We have now brought our Detail down to the 12th October, and Matters were circumstanced as stated in the foregoing Sheets, when Mr. Carnac delivered in a Minute, urging the Danger of losing any further Time, and pressing us immediately to undertake the Measures resolved on under the 21st July.
- 23. Before we came to any Refolution on Mr Carnac's Minute, we thought it necessary to take the Advice of Mr. Mostyn in some Points; and that Gentleman being accordingly consulted, gave it strongly as his Opinion, that if we did intend to take any Measures in Favour of Ragoba, the sooner they were undertaken the better, the less Opposition we should meet with, and therefore the greater Certainty of Success; of which indeed, he said, he had not in his own Mind the least Doubt; and upon the Whole he said he did not conceive there could offer a more favourable Crisis than the present; for which he fully explained his Reasons, as will appear by our Proceedings on that Day.

24. After full Confideration of all Circumstances, it was resolved by the Majority of the Committee, Mr. Draper only differing thereto, forthwith to carry into Execution the Plan agreed to under the 21st July, for conducting Ragoba to Poona, and placing him in the Regency there, during the Minority of the young Peshwa; and that the necessary Measures for that Purpose be undertaken as foon as pollible.

- 25. That you may have our whole Proceedings on this Subject before you in as small a Compass as possible, we now fend in the Packet a Copy of our Minutes from the 12th October to the Time the Army left Bombay, and the Treaty was executed by Ragoba, collected in One Paper, under N° 2.
- 26. Mr. Draper's Reasons for not concurring in the Resolution for immediately putting our Plan into Execution, will appear at Length in the Paper mentioned in the preceding Paragraph.
- 27. Our whole Proceedings previous to the Army's leaving Bombay being comprized in that Paper, it appears unnecessary to repeat them here; and we chearfully submit them to your Candour and Judgment.
- 28. For our future Guidance we must request your Opinion and Instructions on the Point debated at our Meeting of the 7th November, whether Two Members of the Committee can be detached from the Presidency at the same Time, upon any temporary Service; and whether the Two remaining Members are in their Absence competent to form a Select Committee.
- 29. Every Argument that was advanced on either Side of the Question is contained in the Extract from our Proceedings.

39. JInder Nº 3, we transmit a Copy of the Treaty as executed by Ragoba.

31. To avoid swelling the Extract of our Proceedings, we fend in a separate Number, Copy of a Letter from the Executors of the late Mr. Will Shaw, on the Subject of the Loan to Ragoba, with our Minutes thereon; and we are persuaded, that when you restect how we were circumstanced with Rep. VI.

Ragoba at the Time, and the flattering Prospect then opening to the Company, you will approve our Determination to discharge the Debt, and not to suffer him to be embarrassed with Demands from the Executors at such a Juncture.

32. Ragoba having afterwards stated his Account with Mr. Shaw's Estate in a different Manner from the Executors, we sent his Statement to them, and demanded them to refund the Overplus according thereto. In Reply to which we received another Letter from them, controverting Ragoba's Statement, and supporting their own. A Copy thereof is annexed to the other Letter. And Ragoba departing a few Days afterwards to join the Army, we had not Time to obtain from him the necessary Proofs, even if he had any to produce, which we much doubt.

33. We hope and trust likewise that, considering how Aslans were then situated, you will approve the Loan of Four Lacks of Rupees, which it was absolutely necessary to make to Ragoba, to enable him to make the necessary Preparations for the Expedition. We also thought it for the Good of the Service to make a further Loan of Rupees 15,000 to Two principal Officers of Ragoba's, to whom we acquainted you, in our Address by the York, we made a Loan of the like Sum when the Resolution in March 1778 took place.

34. We beg Leave to mention that Ragoba's Jewels deposited on executing the Treaty of Surat, are still in our Possession at Bombay.

35. Our Address, 29th December, of which a Triplicate is now inclosed, informed you briefly of the Progress of the Army to that Time; however, to bring their Operations before you in One Point of View, we will begin our Account from the Day the Forces lett Rombay.

Point of View, we will begin our Account from the Day the Forces left Bombay. 36. Captain James Stuart, who had been previously sent to Poona to make him

36. Captain James Stuart, who had been previously sent to Poona to make himself acquainted with the Roads and Passes, embarked from this Place the 22d November, with a Detachment of Grenadier Sepoys and some Light Artillery, as mentioned in the Extract of our Proceedings, and proceeding up Apta River by a Route different from what was taken by the Remainder of the Army, secured the Passage of the Ghauts, and took Post on the Summit of Condella the 25th following, the 3d Day from his leaving Bombay, where he was to remain till joined by the Army.

37. The Remainder of the Forces left Bombay the 23d, and were followed the next Day by Colonel Egerton, who took on him the chief Command. After fecuring the Fort of Bellapore, which commands the Entrance of Panwell River, the Army proceeded to Panwell, where it arrived the 25th.

38. To prevent, as far as we could, any Diminution from the Strength of the Army, the Fort of Bellapore was foon afterwards garrifoned from Bombay.

39. The Army remained at Panwell the 25th November to the 4th December, waiting the Arrival of their Stotes, Provision, Oxen, &c. and employed in clearing the Road in Front for their Advance. On the 4th they began their March, and on the 13th arrived at Campoly, at the Foot of the Gauts. Here they were joined by Messrs. Carnac and Mostyn, who, with Colonel Egytton, formed a Committee for the general Conduct of the Expedition, and the Settlement of the Government at Poona. Their Commission and Instructions are entered at Length in their Diary now transmitted.

40. Mr. Mostyn only remained a few Days at Campoly, when he was obliged to return to Bombay by a violent Diforder, which put an End to his Life on the First of January. In him you lost a very faithful, valuable Servant; but it was an inexpressible Missorture to be deprived of his Services just at the very Time when they were so particularly requisite for the Accomplishment of a Plan which he had been so very instrumental in bringing to bear.

41. At a Meeting of the Poona Committee held at Campoly on the 26th December, Mr. Carnac delivered in a Minute, remarking on the flow Progress hitherto made by the Army, and the Time lost by making a Carriage Road up the Gauts, instead of carrying up the Stores by Hand. This Minute will appear under its proper Date in the Poona Diary; and with the other Papers hereaster mentioned, we transmit a Copy of Colonel Egerton's Reply, delivered fince his Return, and of a Letter from the Commandant of Artillery, and the other Papers on the same subject, which we beg Leave to submit to your Judgment.

42. At length, on 23d December, the Troops and Artillery were got up to Condilla, at the Top of the Gaut, but some further Time was employed in bringing up the Commissary's Stores, and com-pleating the Provisions to a Stock for 25 Days.

43. Till this Time there had been no Appearance of an Enemy, but on the 22d they made a trifling and unfuccessful Attack on a small Party of Ragoba's Sepoys, which with Three of his Guns had been posted in Front of Captain Stewart's Detachment. They were however beat off by Ragoba's People, with the Assistance only of Two of our Artillery Officers to point their Guns. Captain Stewart judged that the Number of the Enemy exceeded Ten thousand Horse and Foot.

44. From this Time the Enemy daily cannonaded our Camp at a Diffance, with a very triffing Effect till the 31st, when, after they had withdrawn their Guns, a small Party concealed in a Gully threw some Rockets, one of which mortally wounded Lieutenant Colonel Cay, who died at Bombay the 14th January.

45. After several small Movements towards the Edge of the Plain, the Army, equipped with a Stock of Provisions for 25 Days, began the March for Poona on the 4th January, having left a fortised Post at the Head of the Gauts to secure the Pass, under the Command of Lieutenant Frager. On the same Day they met with a very heavy Loss by the Death of Capaun Stuart, who was a most active, gallant, and judicious Officer, and possessed of the true Military Spirit.

46. On the 5th the Army halted.

47. On the 6th the Army refumed its March, and in the Profecution thereof the Guns of the Enemy opened on the Line from a Wood in Front, and a large Party of Horse teemed inclined either to take them in Flank or Rear; they were however prevented from both, driven from the Wood into the Plain, and afterwards from an Eminence which our Troops took Possession of.

This Party fent to harrals them the Committee were informed was commanded by Bhim Row Ponfia, and might confitt of 5000 Horle, with Seven Guns.

- as he could against an Illness with which he had been for some Time past afflicted, he found himself under the Necessity of acquainting them, that the Surgeon Major was of Opinion, that the Fatigues of a Campugn co-operating with his Indiposition would certainly endanger his Life; and that at any rate he could not soon hope to have the requisite Strength to attend properly to the many Avocations of a Commander in Chief in the Field; for which Reasons he requested Permission to resign the Command of the Army to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, and to proceed immediately to Bombay. He accordingly did set off, but was obliged to return us on the Receipt of Intelligence that a large Party of the Frienry's Horse were in the Conkan; the temporary Command of the Army however remained with Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, though Colonel Egerton continued to act as a Member of the Poona Committee.
- 49. It was at this Time judged necessary to promote Major Dagon of the Artillery to the Rank of Lieutenant Colonel, in order to provide a fit Officer to hold the Second Command of the Army, or to succeed to the chief Command, in case of Accidents to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn.
- 50. The Poona Committee at the same Meeting expressed their Disappointments on the Difference between the Expectations they were flattered with on their Arrival at the Top of the Gauts, and the actual State of Astars. Instead of Holk ir and many other Chiefs of Rank and Respect, who it was hoped would have joined them with a numerous Body of Horse immediately on the Appearance there of the Standard of Ragoba, none but a few Mercenaries had yet come in, and Ragoba in a Message to the Committee gave them plainly to understand that he had been deceived, that unless they could convince his Friends of their Safety in joining him by the speedy Defeat of his Enemies, he had no Hope of being joined by any one, and that their Situation would rather prove worse than better as they advanced towards Poona, by being cut off from all Communication with the Conkan, from whence they could then be supplied with Provisions and Stores.
- 51. Though the Mode adopted by the Enemy of retiring before our Army, and laying waste the Country, seemed to render Ragoba's Reasoning apparently just, the Committee still hoped that as they advanced towards Poona, Holcar, on whose Junction there might be some Dependance, would be enabled and encouraged to keep firm to the Promises he had made through the late Mr. Mostyn; and they further observed, there was too much Reason to apprehend that Ragoba, trusting to subdue every one by our Arms, had not only neglected the fit Means to conciliate the respectable Chiefs to his Cause, but had acted in such a Manner as would naturally tend to unite them against him; in Proof of which they adduced an Information given by the Agent of Moraba then in our Camp, that Ragoba had secretly sent Directions to the Killedar of Ahmednagur, not to release Moraba till he got further positive Orders from him on his Arrival at Poona.

52. The Army continued to advance till the 9th January, when it arrived at Pellagom, a confiderable Town about 18 Miles from the Summit of the Gauts, and 16 Miles from Poona. Tellagon was burnt and abandoned before our Troops arrived: and here they found a very numerous Army affembled to oppose them, under the Orders of the Ministers Saccaram and Nannah, Madjee Scindia, Lookagee Holkar, and other principal Officers.

53. The Committee finding fo general an Opposition to Ragoba, and no Hopes of being joined by any considerable Chief, were of Opposion that the Plan of establishing Ragoba in the Regency of the Maratta Empire would be impracticable, without the immediate Co-operation of a respectable Party in that State; and considering likewise the total Improbability of procuring any further Supply of Provisions, or even of securing their own Stock as they advanced, came to the Resolution to tall back with the Army so far as might be requisite to secure their Communication with the Conkan, or the Country below the Gauts. The Measure taken by the Committee, previous to and in Consequence of this Resolution and Situation of the Army at the Time, are fully described in their Proceedings under the 9th, 10th, and 11th January, to which we beg Leave to refer.

54. At this Place the Committee received Information that a Body of Horle belonging to Moraba had marched into the Conkan to join Ragoba.

55. The Army accordingly began to fall back on the Night of the 11th; and the Enemy having by some Means got Intelligence of their moving, attacked them on the Mirch before Day-light, which they continued with great Vigour until I our o'Clock in the Asternoon, before our Troops could make their Retreat good to Burragom or Wargaum, which they effected at last with much Difficulty and Danger. The Committee's Account of the Astion is entered on their Diary under the 13th January; and Colonel Cockburn's is transmitted with the Copies of his other Letters during the Service under N° 9. Both Accounts agree that a Part of the Baggage fell into the Enemy's Hands, and that the Troops during the whole Attack behaved with the greatest Intrepidity. The Particulars of the Lots sustained in the Action will appear by the Return annexed to Licutenant Colonel Cockburn's Letter; and in killed, wounded, and missing, of Artislery, Infantry, and Sepoys, and Artislery Lascars, amounted to 362.

56. Some straggling Sepoys and Lascars having escaped from the Action to the Head of the Gauts, brought the most dreadful Accounts of the entire Destruction of the whole Army; upon which Lieutenant Fraser immediately abandoned his Post. We had the same alarming Accounts, which filled us for fome Days with great Apprehenfions.

57. On the 13th, the Day after the Action, the following Minute appears in the Committee's

Diary:

- " At a Committee held to deliberate relative to Overtures for the peaceable Return of the " Army to Bombay .-- No Minutes taken, being in a fevere Cannonade, and a Number of " Pertons flanding round.
- " Letter to the Pailhwa, fent by Ram Sing.

" D" from D', in Reply. " D" to D', at Night."

58. These imperfect Entries the Committee afterwards explained were owing to their Separation from their Secretary, Mr. Farmer.

59. On the 14th Mr. Farmer was fent to the Maratta Camp to propose an Accommodation, which the Committee judged might be brought about by Ragoba's going over to Scindia, which he feemed determined to do, rather than run the Risk of another Day's March. The Message sent to the Durbar by Mr. Farmer will appear at length on the Poona Committee's Diary.

60 The Answer given by the Durbar to Mr. Farmer's Message was simply this: " That if we " wished to remain at Peace with them, Ragonaut Row must be delivered up, and then we may re" turn quietly, otherwife we might do as we pleafe."

61. The Committee wrote to Mr. Farmer in Reply, That all Difficulty of Accommodation wa, removed by Ragoba's Delign of going over to Madjee Scindia, and that they expected in confequence proper Securities from the Durbar for proceeding unmolested on their March.

62. On the 15th appears a Letter from Mr. Farmer, containing the Refult of his Conference with the Durbar, on his making known Ragoba's Determination of going over to Madjee Scindia. Their Language then was, that exclusive of this, a new Treaty must be made on the Spot between the English and the Maratta State, the one made by Colonel Upton being entirely broke by the Invalion of their Country. Mr. Farmer in a few Words conveys a very expressive Idea of the Sente entertained by the Durbar of the Advantage at which they held our Army. "They feem to " Icel themselves (he says) in that Situation with respect to us, which the Turkish Vizier selt himself " in with respect to Peter the 1st, at the Time the Empress Catherine sent in her Jewels to the " Vizier."

63. On the same Day is entered an Opinion, subscribed by Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn then in Command of the Army, with respect to the Practicability of making good their Retreat, which he describes as utterly impossible. He concludes with these Words, "I therefore cannot charge " myself to conduct the Army under these Circumstances to Bombay, and Humanity must prompt " some other Method than an Attempt to retire in the Face of the whole Strength of the Maratta " Empire, with such an Handful of Men, who must in such Case be facrificed."

64. The Committee directed Mr. Farmer to acquaint the Durbar, in Answer to the further Condition they infifted on, that they demanded what the Committee had no Powers to agree to, the entering into, and concluding Treaties being folely confined to the Governor General and Council; that the only Power left them was to give up the Cause and Person of Ragoba, which done, must certainly put an End to all Disputes between the English and Maratta State. The Committee further delited Mr. Farmer to inform the Durbar, that should they enter into any Treaty they should only deceive them, having no fuch Powers.

65. All their Applications having been hitherto directed to the Durbar in general, it appeared to the Committee that a Gentleman being fent to Madjee Scindia would be more likely to produce an Accommodation, and Mr. Holmes the Commissary was accordingly deputed with full Powers to fettle for the peaceable Return of the Army to Bombay.

66. In the mean Time the Committee's Letter was delivered to Mr. Farmer in the Durbar, by Apajee Bhow, on the Part of Madjee Scindia: As representing the Durbar, he defired to be informed of the Contents; when Mr. Farmer explained what the Committee had faid relative to want of Powers, and defined an Answer to the single Proposition, Whether on the Delivery of Ragoba, Securities would be given for the fafe and unmolefted Return of the Army to Bombay. After further Argument on the Subject, the Durbar still insisted that a new Treaty should be made, and demanded a true Translation of the Committee's Letter, at the same Time giving Mr. Farmer to underfland, that if he did not comply, there were People in the Camp who underflood English. Mr. Farmer appeared concerned at this, because the Committee's Declaration feemed to preclude all peaceable Arrangements; but however the Durbar still continue to inful that ull a new Treaty was made the English Army must remain where it was.

67. Late in the Evening of the 15th, Mr. Holmes returned from the Maratta Camp, and reported, that he had fettled Matters with Madjee Scindia and the rest of the Durbar, for the peaceable Return of the Army to Bombay, on the only Terms they would hear of, which in short were the Surrender of all the Possessions under this Presidency, acquired since the Reign of Madarow, and the Retro ression of the Bengal Army. The Committee however remarked in their Diary, that Madjee Scindia and the whole Durbar could not plead Ignorance of their want of Powers to conclude fuch a Treaty, they having demanded both a true Explanation and Translation of their Letter to Mr. Farmer, in which they to itrongly disclaimed all such Power.

A. P. P. E. N. D. I. X. Nº 130.

68. Under the 16th is entered a Translation of the Treaty, as also of a separate Article in Favour Madjee Scindia, which Messes. Farmer and Holmes advised the Committee they were obliged to onlent to. A Copy of the Treaty, and of the separate Article, is also transmitted in the Packet, inder Nº 42.

69. Mr. Carnac has minuted on our Proceedings, that having fince his Return perused the Transmon of the Treaty and separate Article, he finds them conceived in such Terms, that he should ceranly have objected thereto at the Time of Signature, had they been literally explained to him; but nat he only understood the Contents in general Terms, and indeed was the more indifferent as to the articular Wording of them, as he always bore in his Mind the Idea that they were of no Validity, nd would never be ratified by our Superiors.

70. Mr. Farmer and Lieutenant Charles Stewart were left with Madjee Scindia as Hostages for the erformance of the Agreement with him.

71. The Committee delivered to Madjee Scindia's Vackeel, a Letter addressed to Colonel Goddard, which does not appear in the Diary, Mr. Farmer not having kept a Copy: The Purport however was to advise him, that the Face of Things was to materially altered fince their writing to him last, as to occasion their marching back to Bombay; and that in consequence of an Agreement entered into by them with the Marattas, they directed him to march back with the Army unfer his Command to Bengal. This Letter was dated the 16th January. On the 19th the Committee advised Colonel Goddard, that upon Recollection not thinking themselves authorized to give the Order contained in heir Letter of the 16th, he was to pay no Regard thereto.

72. On the 17th Mr. Farmer returned to the Maratta Camp with the Papers executed, and a Prefent of a Horie for Madjee Scindia. He came back to our Camp about Noon with a Party of Horfe, who were to accompany the Army to Panwell. The Army accordingly began their March on the 17th in the Afternoon, and in Seven Days reached Panwell, from who ice they were transported to Banibay.

73. The Select Committee then at Bombey, beg to take Notice in this Place, that the Refolution for recreating, the Difficulties the Army was brought into, and the Negociation commenced in confequence, were transacted and concluded before we had any knowledge thereof, the Communication with the Army being floot by the Enemy.

74. The Poona Committee on making the Agreement found themselves under a Necessity, in Compliance with the Cuil im of the East, to make Presents amongst the Officers of the Durbar, to the Amount of Rupecs 41,000, for which Notes were given.

75. Under the 20th Junuary are entered on the Poona Committee's Drary the Orders we gave under the 11th, on being apprized of their Situation and Prospects when they arrived at Mondhurna Plain, as defembed there a under the 6th; which Orders, owing to the Stoppings of the Roads, did not reach them till the Army was on its Return.

76. Before the Committee arrived at Panwell, they received a Letter from Mr Farmer, adviling, that Madjee Scindia had acquainted him, that as he (Madjee Scindia) was Security to the Durbar for the due Performance of the late Supulations, he defired that Mr. Farmer and Lieutenant Stewart would accompany him wherever he went; and Mr. Farmer added, the Charge was very agreeable in every Respect, as he treated them with great Civility and Attention.

77. We have now brought the Account of this Expedition to a Conclusion; in which we have confined ourselves to a more Narrative of Pacts, as stated in the Committee's Diary and Colonel Egerton's Letters to the Prefident, avoiding an Opinion, or entering into Particulars more than necessary to connect our Account, and give you a general Idea of the Matters represented. Any Judgment offered by us might be imputed to the Feelings naturally ariling from the Dilappointment of a Scheme which we had promoted with to much Zeal, and by the Event of which we, Mr. Draper excepted on Account of his Diffent, are ourselves hable to be affected; and it has for these Reasons appeared the most equitable and impartial Method to fend only a general Statement to you and to the Sovernor General and Council, accompanied with every Voucher that can tend to illustrate the Subject, and make your Information as compleat as possible, leaving to you to form your own Judgment from the Materials before you, to what Caufes the Failure of the Expedition is to be attributed, and on whom Cenfure ought to fall.

78. In purfuance of this Plan we shall lay before you in Order, the several Letters and Papers that have been delivered in relative to this Expedition, the Particulars of which will be mentioned in the Sequel of this Address, is many of them are connected with Matters not yet mentioned, which have taken place fince the Expedition.

79. In the 21st Paragraph our Advices, brought down to the 30th September, left Colonel Leslie at Rajegur the 25th August, and, as we then thought, preparing to continue his March. We had no further Accounts of the Bengal Army till the 28th October, when we received a Letter from Colonel Goddard, dated the 4th of that Month; by which we observed with Concern that the Army still remained at Rajegur. Colonel Goddard therein advised, that Colonel Leslie had died on the preceding Day; and that the Command having thereby devolved on him, he should march from that Place in Three or Four Days. In our Reply to this Letter, dated the 13th November, we repeated the Directions before given to Colonel Leslie, for the Army to march towards Poona with all poslible Expedition; at the same Time giving to understand that his early Arrival might be very essential to the Success of the important Scheme we had then in Agitation. By his next Letter, dated the 31il October, and received the 30th November, we found him advanced to Kemlassy, on the Road to the Nerbudda; Rep. VI. (II)

Nerbudda; and after the Treaty had been concluded, and our Forces had actually landed of the Continent, we then more fully explained our Plan, and again urged him to pursue his Mage with all possible Expedition.

80. On the 18th December, whilst our Army lay at the Foot of the Ghauts, we received Advices from Lieutenant Colonel Goddard in Twenty-two Days, dated at Bopaul, within 18 Coss of the Nerbudda which he hoped to cross in Five or Six Days, and in Two Days more to enter the Territories of the Berar Rajah.

81. The same Day we received a Letter from the Governor General and Council, dated the 15th October, adviting us of their having removed Colonel Lessie from the Command, on Account of the little Progress the Detachment had made under him, and of his manifest Disobedience of the positive Order, in concluding a Treaty with Two Chiefs of the Bundelcund Country; that they has appointed Colonel Goddard to the chief Command, and ordered him to profecute his March without further Loss of Time into Berar, where, on his Arrival, he was to apply to Moodajce Boossa, and a that Chief should agree to join him with a sufficient Body of Forces for the Purpose, he was to online his Route in Conjunction with them, and to obey all Orders he might receive from a but if he should not have received any fresh Directions for his March, and if the Rajah should decline or refuse to grant his Assistance, they had then vested in Colonel Goddard a discretionary Power to suspend his Proceedings.

82. The Governor General and Council to our great Satisfaction added, that if the Plan we had refolved in July to carry into Execution in September, for the Refloration of Ragoba, still substited, or if we should have formed any other for the same End, consistently with the Terms which they had prescribed for their Assent to that Measure; or if we should judge a strong Reinforcement mediately and indispensably necessary to insure the Safety of Bombay against a French Invasion; and thould deem it requisite and advisable in either of those Cases to command the Detachment at all Hazards to proceed further towards Bombay, even without a Junction of the Troops of any Power in Alliance with the Company; they gave us the Power in such Cases, and in such only, to require Colonel Goddard to advance, but in all others, to give him Notice of our Intentions, and to least him to act under their Directions.

83. They likewise acquainted us of the Death of Mr. Elliot, and that as the Rajah had expressed great Satisfaction at the Overtures made for a Connection with him, by that Deputation they concluded he would take an active Part in profecuting the intended Negociation, either by deputing a proper Minister to them on his Part, or by soliciting an Alliance on such Terms, a might prove a general Advantage to the Company's Possessions; for these Reasons, they did not mean to appoint any Person to succeed Mr. Elliot, until their Advices from the Raja should or able them to determine on the Expediency of the Measure.

84. Upon Receipt of this Letter, though we concluded that Colonel Goddard having by the Time received fresh Instructions from us, would according to the Clause in his Orders from Beagal continue to advance to this Coast, yet, to prevent all Disappointment, and that he might be at no Lois in his Proceedings, we immediately acquainted him in the Terms of the Letter from Bengal, that we deemed it requisite and advisable the Detachment under his Command should move forwards towards Bombay; and therefore directed him to advance according to his formed Orders, even without a Junction of the Troops of any Power in Alliance with the Honourable Company; hoping, that the Movement of our Forces would facilitate his March in the lame Pegree that the Advance of his Detachment would lessen the Opposition to our Forces.

85. On the 28th December we had the Pleafure to receive a Letter from Colonel Goddard, dated the 6th, adviting of his having croffed the Nerbudda, and his being encamped at Huffergabad on the South Bank of that River. He acquainted us, that he should halt there a fee Days to determine his future Route, and that in the intervening Time, he hoped to be able to prevail on Moodajee Bootla to join him with a Body of Troops, by which Means the Inconseniences he might otherwise expect, respecting his Supplies of Provisions, would be obviated.

86. In these Letters, Colonel Goddard further urged the Expediency of immediately taking fome vigorous Measures to counteract the Opposition of the Ministers to his March, and to cause a Diversion in order to prevent their employing their whole Force against him, which he was as to believe would be strengthened with that of the Nizam.

87. The March of our Forces had already anticipated his Wishes in that Respect; and on Reservence to our Proceedings of the 12th October you will please to observe, that the facilitating the March of the Bengal Detachment was a strong Consideration with us for immediately undertaking the Expedition. Matters now wore rather a pleasing Aspect; our Troops had just ascended that Chauts, and we had Reason to expect that Colonel Goddard would soon make good his March and that every Step both Armies advanced, would be a mutual Advantage to both, by dividing the Fisherts of the Enemy.

83. We have already acquainted you how fatally we have been disappointed in the Hopes we entertained from the Advance of our Troops; and Colonel Goddard received Advice of the Mitcarriags of our Army a short Time before we had been put under such Restrictions, that we began to be apprehensive he would lote the Advantage of the Exertion we had made, and that we should exen be entirely deprived of the Services of his Detachment, at least for this Season; for on the 10th Januar) we received a Letter from the Governor General and Council, dated the 23d November, referring to a Letter of the 10th of that Month, which we have never yet received, wherein they had informed us of their having vested Colonel Goddard with full Powers to conclude a Treaty with Moodajee Boosla, the Rajah of Berar, on the Grounds of their Instructions to the late Mr. Elliott; a Copy of which was said to be enclosed, but which has likewise never come to Hand, so that we are to this Moment totally uninformed as to the particular Points of the intended Alliance with that Chief. But the Governor General and Council acquainted us, that the Event of that Negociation was likely to cause a very speedy and essential Change in the Designs and Operations of the Detachment; and as the Plan which they had chosen to supply the Place of that originally recommended by us, rendered it necessary that they should retain in their own Hands the Means of essecting it, they therefore revoked the Power which they had given us in their Letter of the 15th October, and should direct the commanding Ossicer of the Detachment to obey only such Orders as he might hereaster receive from them. This Letter was transmitted by Colonel Goddard, who advised that he should regulate his Conduct accordingly.

89. They further acquainted us, that although the Circumstances into which they had been thrown by the Failure of the Plan for which the Detachment was originally formed, had rendered it necessary to make that Alteration in the Controll and Direction of it, their Intention was not entirely to withdraw the Services of the Detachment from the Support of any Measures we might have formed in Rehance on them, if such Measures should not prove incompatible with the Instructions given to Colonel Goddard, and with the Engagements which he might conclude in consequence of them; that they should therefore leave him still subject to our Instructions under those Provisions; and they requested we would communicate to them such Points as we might judge proper to be included in the Operations to be concerted with the Rajah of Berar.

90. We have recited at Longth the Letter from the Governor General and Council, and when our Situation at the Time is confidered, you may eafily conceive the Perplexity we were thrown into by the Intelligence it conveyed to us; we had then just received the Advices from the Army entered in the Poona Committee's Diary under the 6th January, when Affairs above the Ghauts feemed not to wear an Appearance as we had expected, and the Affifance of the Bengal Detachment, on which we had always depended, appeared absolutely necessary on that Account; exclusive of this Consideration, we reflected that there was only an Interval of little more than Four Months left him to perform his March before the Montoon would fet in, and that it was highly proper he fhould teach this Coast before that Time, in order to secure Bombay in case of an Attack by the French at the Opening of the Seafon, which it might be out of his Power to perform if any confiderable. Time was employed in the Negociations. Uninformed as we were as to the Object thereof, or of the Plan faid to be fubflituted in heu of our, we could not judge what Points it might be necessary to include respecting this Prefidency in the Alliance to be concluded with Moodajee Boofla; all we could do in fuch a Situation was to explain to Colonel Goddard our Views in the Engagement we had formed with Ragoba, and to fend him a Copy of the Treaty, that he might judge how far our Measures were compatible with his Inflinctions from Bengal; and we at the same Time strongly urged to him the Neceffity of his advancing to this Coast as soon as possible, explaining the Difficulties we should be under in case he should not think himself at Liberty to comply with our Requisition.

91. We think it proper to transmit Copies of the Letters we wrote on this Occasion to Colonel Goddard and to the Governor General and Council, which wait on you under N° 5; and lest we should be disappointed in the Arrival of the Bengal Detachment, we defired the Gentlemen at Madras in such Case to give us a Latitude to detain a Part of the Forces destined for the Expedition against Mahé, after that Service should be brought to an Issue.

92. On the 21st January we again found this Detachment returning to its former Defination, Colonel Goddard informing us, under the 3d, from his Camp at Hussengabad, that the Rajah of Berar wished at present to delay the Business that was to have been concluded with him, urging, that our Forces having taken the Field obliged him to wait for Answers from the Governor General and Council to Letters he had wrote them, before he could take any further Steps: That in this Situation he had resolved to march with all Expedition towards Zenor, by the Way of Brampore; but that it would be a Week before he could commence his March, as he was waiting for the Arrival of some Moncy from Naigpore to pay his Army, then Two Months in Aricars.

93. At this Time we knew no more of the Situation of Affairs above the Ghauts, than that there had been an Action, in which we had suffered some Loss; and that the Army was on the Return to Bombay, after some very disagreeable Compromise; and as in such Circumstances it might be improper and dangerous for Colonel Goddard to proceed to Zenor, and we concluded from his Letter he was then actually on the March, we resolved to send him immediate Orders to direct his Course to Surat; which Order we repeated on the 3d February. By Colonel Goddard's subsequent Letters, we learnt that he had left the Nerbudda the 17th January, and after a March of Eleven Days, exclusive of Three he had halted, Two of which were on account of the Illness and Death of Lieutenant Colonel Fortnom, arrived in the Neighbourhood of Brampore the 30th January, on which Day he received the Letter from the Poona Committee dated the 19th, revoking their Orders of the 16th; which Letter, though delivered to Midjee Scindia, had not then reached Colonel Goddard, which is a remarkable Circumstance, considering that Madjee Scindia, if he had been anxious for the quick Diipatch, could have conveyed the Letter to the Army in less than Half the Time employed by our Patamars. Colonel Goddard left Brampore on the 6th February, and on the 8th received the Letter from the Poona Committee, dated the 16th January, with one from the Durbar to the same Effect; and proceeding without Interruption or Intermission, arrived at Surat the 25th February, after a

APPENDIX, No 130.

March performed with wonderful Rapidity from the Time of his leaving the Nerbudda, through a Tract of Country almost unknown, and not less in Extent than 500 Miles; and for which much Merit is due to Colonel Goddard.

94. We trust to your Candour and attentive Consideration of all Circumstances relative to this Detachment, that you will not, drawing your Conclusion from the Event, impute Error or Temerity is us in undertaking the Expedition before its Arrival. We had beheld its flow Progress, and the CAR structions it met with under Colonel Lesse, and could foresee the increased Dangers and Dissidering to would have to encounter in the Passage through the Maratta Dominions, which, considering to Temper of the Durbar, might be termed a hostile Country. We therefore judged, and we concease with good Reason, that by sending our Forces into the Field, we should facilitate the Approach Colonel Goddard. We hope it will still be allowed, that this Measure did at least produce that a Essection in the Bengal Army, whose Arrival has insured Safety to our Possessions, and put us in a Colonel to act as Circumstances may render necessary. At the same Time, in Justice to Colonel Concentration, we must observe, that he made the proper Use of the Advantage given him, and by his sign of Activity, did not allow the Finemy Time to take Measures for giving him any material Interruption even it such had been their Intention, after the Convention of Worgaum.

95. If our Army had been found unequal fingle to the Accomplithment of the Undertaline of had engaged in, and not sufficiently formidable, whether with respect to Numbers or the Vigens of Operations, to give Confidence to the Partizans of Ragoba to declare openly in his Favour, we read could entertain a Doubt but that it would be able to keep the Field against any Country Enemy, a which Opinion, we are pertuaded, we shall have the Suffrage of all Perfons convertant in Indexessive; and a Space less than a Month from the Conclusion of their Operations would have be recoived fooddard to near, that the Finemy must have divided their Force, Poena being nearly to same Distance from Brampore as Sujat; and a Junétion once effected, the Expedition might have been brought to a happy Islue.

96. It is impossible to say whether Colonel Goddard could have made his Way through so Experiment of Country adverse to his March, had it not been for the Diversion made by our Troop of took up the whole Attention of the Frience, but this being a Matter not decided by Experiment, we shall submit to your Judgment,

97. Had we been apprized in Time that the Negociation with Moodajee was to affect the Opertions of the Bengal Detachment, or that in the intended Alhance with him was comprehended a Plaa to fupply the Place of the one originally recommended by us, and to aniwer the fame Purpofes; we certainly flooded not have profecuted our Plan for the Refloration of Ragoba, and thereby have avoided the Confesion inteparable from a complicate Scheme, when so great a Diffance lays between the Parties. But we appeal to you, whether from the Letters from Bengal of the 17th of August and 15th October, we had any Reason to entertain such an Idea of the Negociation with Moodajee? on the contrary, in the last of these I etters the Governor General and Council, after they knew of the Restraint land on Moraba, and the Members of his Party, gave us Reason to conclude, that they is depended on us for the Accomplishment of those grand Objects we both had in View, by their gives us the Controll over Colonel Goddard's Detachment, whether the Plan formed in July existed, we whether we had formed any other for the same End, consistently with Terms they had prescribed for their Assent."

98. We never viewed the Negociation with the Rajah of Berar in a Light fo intimately affecting this Prefidency, till the Receipt of the Letter from Bengal on the 10th January, and then it was to late for us to retract; and as we could not conceive it to be very material to the Company, whether the fame Purpofe was effected by an Alliance with Moodajee Boofla, or by a Connection with Ragonath Row, we immediately urged Colonel Goddard to advance to the Support of our Meanure in Favour of Ragoba, which he faw the Propriety of complying with; Moodajee having made a Plea therefrom to protract the intended Negociation with him. With respect to the political Section of Moodajee, Colonel Goddard observed, that he did not think him partial to the Cause of Ragonauc Row, but he was convinced he was amicably inclined to the English.

99. We shall now proceed to a Detail of our Proceedings after the Return of the Troops from the Expedition.

their Seats, the Diary of the Poona Committee was laid before us, and read through with Attention the Courte of which Colonel Egetton made fundry Remarks, as noticed in the Copy of our Preceedings on that Day, and in particular protefled against and disavowed the Minutes of a Meetin noticed in the Diary to have been held by the Poona Committee on the 15th January, alledging, that to the best of his Knowledge no Meeting was held on that Day. The several Papers delivered is respecting this Point are in the Packet; and when the Perusal of the Diary was sinisfied, the Presidential before us a Minute, stating generally, that the Causes of the Failure of the Expedition might be Marter of future Consideration, but that no Time ought to be lost in determining on the Means recessary for supporting, and retrieving our Assars; for which Purpose he meant soon to desire ancides Meeting, when he hoped to be able to propose some Plan of Conduct for extricating us from the Difficulties of our present Situation. In this Minute, after giving due Prasse to the Braves and Merit of our Proops on the late Service, who he doubted not, under proper Conduct, would be fully sufficient to secure your Possessions under this Presidency against all Attempts of the most some Jable Country Enemy. He proceeded to shew the Necessity of keeping up the gallant Spain of a ramy, which could not be done without distinguishing those whose Behaviour had done them below, and marking the Men who had been wanting in their Duty, and whose Example could be tail of corrupting our Military Establishment in all its Branches. He noticed the Milbehaviour Three Subaltern Officers who were to be tried by a General Court Martial; but observed he did be think an Example made of them sufficient, and that he had accordingly intimated to Colonel gerton on his Arrival, that his Condust, as well as Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn's, as Officers, apeared to him so far impeached, that he judged it would be proper for them both to decline acting any Military Character. That Colonel Egerton having thought proper to insist on taking the command of the Garrison, unless a formal Charge was delivered against him; the President did then cliver in a formal Charge against him, and against Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, for refusing to harge themselves with conducting the Army from Worgaum to Bombay; grounding the Accusation in the written Opinion subtribed by Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, in which Colonel Egerton did in the fame Day declare (and again at this Meeting) he entirely concurred.

101. The Prefident then giving it as his fixed Opinion, that nothing could juffify Officers in their station for giving in such an Opinion of the Troops under their Command but an open Mutiny in he Army, declared he would not confent to their continuing in the Command. That their own orders of Thanks to the Troops for their Behaviour on the 12th, sufficiently shewed how totally rold of Foundation the Opinion was, "That our Troops would not stand a single Attack;" yet hat the fatal Influence and Infection of fuch Opinions, when adopted and avowed by the Superiors n Command, were well known, and would not fuffer us to wonder if Sentiments of the like Kind did gain some Ground under such a Sanction. That this however could not be admitted as an Extenuation, such less as a Justification of the Conduct of Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, nd was besides a Circumstance to big with Danger, that they could not be allowed to support their xtraordinary and unfoldier-like way of thinking, by the Authority of the inferior Officers. Thus ircumflanced, the Prefident observes he should think himfelf justified in moving for suspending both hole Officers from the Service; but that they might prevent that Extremity, if they choic to decline ll Military Duty, till their Conduct, together with the rest of the late Transactions, had been stated o Bengal, and the Opinion and Advice of the Governor General and Council with regard to them zere received. The Prefident acquainted us his Intention was to be guided by the Sentiments they night express as to the Propriety of continuing Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn n the Service, or the Expediency of difmiffing them from it.

102. If they did not chule to accept this Proposal, the President moved, that they might both e immediately suspended the Service.

103. It was agreed this Minute should lie on the Table; and at our next Meeting on the 1st of Sebruary, the President acquainted us, that Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn ad declined all Millitary Duty till our further Orders; and he then defired the Sense of the Committee might be taken, whether according to your Commands, Colonel Egerton was entitled to hold his Seat in the Select Committee, since he had relinquished all military Command?

104. It was voted by the Majority and refolved accordingly, that Colonel Egerton had no Right, and was not to be confidered as a Member of the Select Committee, until he might refume the Exercise of his Office as Commander in Chief; and he in consequence was superseded.

105. A Copy of our Proceedings on that Day is transmitted in the Packer, wherein is flated at Length the Opinion of each Member on the Question of Colonel Egerton's Right to his Seat in the Committee; and we also transmit a Copy at Length, of the Governor's Minute, and of the Correspondence between him and Colonel Egerton, in the Interval between our Meetings of the 29th of January and the 1st of February, and of the General Order given out in consequence; which it is necessary to recommend to your Attention, as Colonel Egerton has since denied his having accepted the Alternative offered him by the President.

106. Colonel Egerton has wrote us several Letters on the Subject, and infissing upon resuming the Command of the Army; but we continued in our Resolution not to admit of his retracting, or of his taking the Command, until we received the Sentiments of the Governor General and Council on his Conduct.

107. A Copy of his Letters, and of our Answers in their proper Order, is transmitted in the Packet, allo of a Protest he thought proper to deliver, and a Minute made by the President, in consequence, with an Address from the Colonel to you, and a Copy of his Address to the Governor General and Council; all of which, agreeable to our before-mentioned Resolution, we beg Leave to submit to your Judgment.

108. Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn having delivered in a Letter relative to his own Conduct on the late Service, a Copy thereof is transmitted in the Packet with the other Papers, the Particulars of which will be mentioned in the Sequel.

The Predicament in which Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn now stand, and the Death of Lieutenant Colonel Cay, rendered it a Case of indispensable Necessity to make some immediate Arrangement for the Command of the Army; Lieutenant Colonel Nelson, the Chief Engineer, as the senior Officer on the Establishment, received the Command of the Garrison, when Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn declined all Military Duty, and Lieutenant Colonel Dagon held the Command of the Artillery, but we had no Field Officer for the Command of the Infantry Establishment, in whose Abilities or Experience we had sufficient Confidence to in-Rep. VI.

trust so important a Charge at a Time like this. We had before, whilst the Army was in the Field, when Colonel Egerton gave up the Command to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, been under the Necessity of appointing Major Dagon of the Artillery a Lieutenant Colonel, in order to secure a fit Officer for the Second Command, or to succeed to the Chief Command in case of Accident to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn; our Reasons for which are fully stated in our Proceedings of the 5th of January, a Copy of which waits on you under N° 17.

110. At this Time Major Emanuel Henney was the fenior Officer, and in Command of the Infantry; who, on his first Appointment as a Field Officer, was barred from further Production and was the Officer whom we judged it our Duty to superfied in the Field, by the Promotions Lieutenant Colonel Dagon as abovementioned. We deemed it, therefore, in no Shape property continue Major Henney in Command of our Infantry Establishment.

111. Major Charles Frederick was the next Officer in standing. He had been but larely a rived from England, and, as we understand, had borne a Commission the Guards, but had a ver seen actual Service before the late Expedition. When you sent him out as the youngest like vet Major, we presume you did not expect he would so early arrive at the Succession to advanced Rank, and a Post of the first military Charge; and as by an unforceen Chain of the cumstances, it had devolved to us to make the Appointment of an Officer for the Command the Infantry, we considered ourselves as responsible for the Choice we made, and on that the ciple we did not think we should do Justice to the Charge reposed in us by promoting Mager Frederick.

- Infantry, on whose Conduct we could fafely rely, and it was at the same Time highly incumbed on us, considering the State of the Army, to confer the most honourable Marks of Notice on those Officers who had particularly distinguished themselves on the late unfortunate Expedition; both these Considerations strongly united in pointing out Captain James Hartley, who of all the Officers on our military List appeared the most fit for this Command: His Behaviour in a Course of Fourteen Years Service has been unexceptionable, and his Condoct and Intrepidity in the Action of the 12th of January, when he commanded the Rear Division, merited every Reward in our Power to bestow, and, as far as we can judge, proved the Preservation of the whole Army. His Merit, and the Judgment he shewed on that Occasion, are acknowledged in the general Orders given out by Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn and Colonel Preservation immediately after the Action, wherein Captain Hartley is the only Officer particularly commended, except Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn himself.
- 113. Under these Circumstances, we resolved to appoint Captain Hartley a Lieutenant Colonel of Infantry, and we do most earnestly solicit you to consirm this Appointment, to convince the Army that we shall meet with your Support when the Good of the Service makes it require that we should distinguish particular Officers. We are very forry that we have been obliged to ast contrary to your Orders respecting the Promotion of Field Officers, but we trust the Necessawill plead our Excuse. On the Terms we are with the Marattas, and in a Time of actual War with France, it would have been highly unjustisable in us to have suffered our Military to remain for any Length of Time without an Officer to command them, qualified either to preserve them in proper Discipline, or lead them into the Field; and we hope that the Reluctance we must naturally feel to all Kinds of Supercession, and the Complaints we forestaw we should expose ourselves to from Individuals, will be a Conviction to you of the Ground and Necessity for the Promotion of Licutenant Colonel Hartley.

114 Captain John Westphall, the senior Captain of Artillery, having also particularly distinguished himself on the late Service, we resolved unsolucited to appoint him a Major of Artillery, to which he had a Title by Seniority; and the Promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Dagon was a Reward due to his Ability and Merit.

Cadger, of the Infantry, and Lieutenants Dawfon, Bowles, Jackfon, Thomas, Waddington, Bannatyne, Macpherson, and Burchall, and the Six Companies or Grenadier Sepoys, who composed the Rear Division under Captain Hartley; the Particulars of all which are mentioned in the Copy of our Minutes under the 1st ultimo, transmitted under No 17.

Royal Henry, and went a Volunteer on the Expedition, where he gave flrong Proofs of his Skill and Conduct as an Officer, we returned him our public Thanks for his Services; and as we were glad of the Opportunity of adding such a valuable Officer to our Establishment, we offered him a Commission as youngest Captain, which we doubt not you will approve.

117. As in India Service in general, and particularly in our finall Army, the Charge and Responsibility of each Captain is very great, and the most dangerous Consequences may arise from improper Persons being promoted to that Rank, we judged it for the Good of the Service to make it a Ruk, and fignified accordingly to the Army, that the Lieutenants will not in future be promoted in Rosation to the Rank of Captains, either in the Infantry or Artislery, unless they shall be judged fully qualified for that Station.

a Company of Artillery, to which he was next in Succession; the Commandant of the Corps having represented him so much addicted to Liquor, as to be unfit for that Charge. I eutenant Collibration of the Infantry, and Licutenant Layton of the Artillery, have also been p sted over in a late Pro-notion; but we shall re-consider the Case of the latter, if we discover proper Signs of Amend-

119. We have received Representations on the Subject from several of the Ossicers who were superseded by the Promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Hartley; and Major Frederick has resigned his Commission, and set out for England by the Way of Suez. In his Letter he assumes to himself the chief Part of the Merit attributed to Captain Hartley, in the Action of the 12th; and we therefore think it necessary to mention, that although Major Frederick was sent to reinforce Captain Hartley, he has made a great Mistake in respect to the Time when he was sent, which is confirmed by the Evidence of Captain Rattray and other Circumstances; it must be observed, though not taken Notice of by Major Frederick, but which is confirmed by Captain Rattray, and in Part allowed by Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn himself in his Letter to us, that when Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn fent him down to support the Rear Division, he was ordered, though the Superior Ossicer, to act in concert with Captain Hartley, and not to make any Movement without his Advice. This is a very particular Circumstance, and strongly expressive of the commanding Officer's Considence in Captain Hartley, to which we may add the General Orders given out at the Time, when no other Impression prevailed but the Sense of Captain Hartley's distinguished Services. In these Orders not a Word is mentioned of Major Frederick; but since the Promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Hartley we have received Commendations of Major Frederick.

120. In the Packet we fend Copies of the Letters we have received from Majors Frederick and Hopkins, and Captains Jackton, Fewtrell, Campbell, and Turner, and of our Answers. The laft-mentioned Officer is in the Engineer Corps, and is not superfeded by Colonel Hartley, but thought himself resteed on in the General Orders. This Point we cleared up and did him Justice.

121. It is a Plea much infifted upon by our Officers, That if we have any Fault to find with their Conduct, and think it necessary to superfede them, they ought to have a Trial by a General Court Martial. To this we answer, That many Officers may pass through the Service without laying themselves open to the Military Law, and yet may be very unqualified to rise to the highest Stations in their Line. The Times required an Officer who had something more to plead than merely not having committed a Fault: We wanted an Officer of active and approved Merit, and on whose Ability and Conduct we could depend for the Execution of any Service committed to him.

tize. It is scarce possible to give you an adequate Idea of the Desiciency of our Military Establishment in Point of Ossicers. In the Artillery and Engineer Corps indeed we are so fortunate as to have a Number of well-formed, active, deserving Ossicers; but in the Infantry we see a very small Proportion of our long List of Captains, from whom we can flatter ourselves with any extraordinary Expectations, in case of their ever rising to a superior Command, and even of this small Number we must look for the greater Part amongst the junior Captains. You will see on Reserence to the Correspondence between the President and Mr. Carnac during the late Service, and by the President's Letter to Colonel Cockburn upon his taking the Command, how much was thought to depend on the Abilities of Captain Hartley and Captain Stewart, and how essential a Point to fix them in Colonel Cockburn's particular Considence. The very strong, natural, and acquired Qualifications of Captain Stewart as an Ossicer, had given us the most flattering Hopes of sceing him in the List of those Names that have done the greatest Honour to your military Service, and his Loss is one of those Circumslances which in our present Situation we most sensibly feel. The unhappy Termination of the Expedition, on which he was cut off, together with the general Opinion entertained of the different Success that would have attended our Army had Captain Stewart's Rank been such as to have enabled us to have given him the Command, are Circumstances that justly augment our Regret.

123. Captain Hartley's Merits cannot be seen in a more favourable Point of View than in the Choice that was made of him to succeed Captain Stewart in the Command of the advanced Division of the Army, and his Conduct in that Charge was in every Instance such as did him Honour, and will we hope justify the Distinction to which we have thought it entitled him. On the Day of the 12th there is Reason to think, that had his spirited and judicious Counsels been followed, of moving up the Line to support him, instead of his retreating to the Line, the Fortune of that Day might have been such as to have secured our Honour, if not our Success; and as it was, his keeping his Ground with his Division till his Representation of the inevitable bad Consequences of such a Measure induced Colonal Cockburn to revoke his Orders for retreating, was probably the chief Circumstance to which the Preservation of our divided Forces was due.

124. Many Particulars will appear in the Papers to which we have referred in this Letter, to support and confirm the Opinion we have given with regard to the Merit of Captain Hartley, and to justify our Motives in advancing him to his present Rank. Yet we are sensible we must still trust much to your favourable Interpretation of our Conduct, and to your Considence in the Motives by which we were governed in taking this Step.

125. At a Time when the Two chief Officers on our Establishment are under Censure for a Conduct totally opposite to that we think ourselves bound to promote, and to that Spirit which it is our Duty to encourage among your Troops; when so great a Number of Persons find an Interest in maintaining, by any Means, the Claim of Seniority to Promotion, in Preference to distinguished Merit and Services; it is impossible for us to produce those general and decisive Testimonies of our Assertions and Opinions which we always wish should accompany. There is a Tenderness due to moderate Talents and Exertions of Persons of ordinary Merit, which does not allow us even to point out to themselves the Instances in which we judge them descent, or in which we think their Junior far surpasses

them. Our Answers therefore to the several Complaints of Supercession have been of a general Kind; but we would not therefore have you to suppose that we have not particular Reasons, founded on the personal Knowledge of Characters, for preferring Captain Hartley to every one of those Gentlemen: It would be to no Purpose to enter into them here, since however minute we might be, the whole Weight of what we might urge would depend on the Authority you might be willing to allow to our Capacity and Integrity in forming our Judgments of the Men, and in the faithful Communication of our real Sentiments; we will therefore only beg Leave to remind you, that in the present critical Circumstances our own Interest is too much complicated with that of the Public to fuller us to be swayed by Motives of partial or private Regard. The Opportunities we likewise have of acquiring an intimate Knowledge of the Characters of your Servants, we hope will entitle our Opinions of them to tome Confideration; and we will only observe further, that the Abilities, Integrity, Temper, and the general Estimation each Person stands in in his respective Branch of Service, are commonly well understood on the Spot; and that while we are confcious of being guided by fuch Qualities, we feel that we have paid that Attention to your Interest which our Duty exacts from us, and shall rely on that Support from you which the Performance of it requires, and warrants us to hope for.

126. There are Two Circumstances which in this Place we cannot pass over, both as they are near terral for your Information and are Instances of the Necessity of the Measure we have adopted in the Military I ine, and of the Occasion we have for your Support and Confidence: The First relates to the leveral Complaints of the Persons superfeded by Colonel Hartley's Promotion; the Second to the Cafe of Major Frederick, who would have it thought that he was particularly injured by it.

127. You will see by Colonel Cockburn's Letter to us of the 16th February, in what Manner he endeavours to exculpate himfelf, and juffify that written Opinion of his, on which the Governor has formed his Charge against him, in his Minute of the 29th January. This you will find he attempts, by referring to the Reports of Defertion amongst the Sepoys, and Panic amongst the Europeans, brought to him by several un-named Officers; and we have Reason to think that much of this Spirt had spread through the Army; and it is no small Occasion of the Distatistaction we express at the Conduct of Colonel Cockburn, that he does not feem to have at all exerted himfelf to reprefs that Despondency, or to revive and support the Spirits and Courage of his Troops. Had he shewn the Firminels, Vigous, and Example, to effentially requifite in a Commander on fuch an Emergency, we have no Reason to suppose but that a Retreat might have been effected; for neither the Loss on our Side in the Action of the 12th, nor any Advantage gained by the Enemy on that Day, were fuch as can be termed decifive. At any Rate, the Trial should have been made, and a few Marches would have put it out of the Power of the Enemy materially to annoy them.

128. The bad Confequences of a contrary Conduct have been too feverely felt in their Effect to need further Deteription; but we are affired that Captain Hartley, in that trying Situation, notwilstanding the Contagion of bad Example, distinguished himself more honourably, because in a Manner more uncommon, than he had before done in Action. He insisted he could depend on the Men & had commanded; and fome Defertion having appeared in his own Battalion, from which he had been aremoved to command the advanced Division of the Army, he joined that Division to his Battalion, whillt the Army remained at Worgaum, and at once put a Stop to the Evil, fo far as the Limits of his Command extended. When he was confulted on the Occasion, he urged every Argument to attempt the forcing a Reticat, rather than fubinit to the humiliating Terms preferibed by the Enemy, he even formed a Dilpolition, and prefented it to Colonel Cockburn, for conducting the Retreat, and avoiding the Inconveniencies refulting from a Night March, and the Division of the Troops. These are Circumstances we have every Reason to believe; and yet you will plainly perceive, that in the present Situation of Assaus, we cannot expect to have them vouched for by those, from whom any formal Testimony could with most Propriety have been received; and indeed they imply a Compariton fo unfavourable for the Generality of our Officers, that Prudence requires us in fome Degree not to promulgate them.

129. With regard to Major Frederick, we must take the Liberty, in Addition to what we have already faid of his military Falents, to advance, that we confider his Refignation, not only in that, but in every other Respect, as a very fortunate Event for the Service. He came out recommended very powerfully, and the Respect entertained for the Friends who had interested themselves in his Favour, fecured him every Attention that could be shewn him; but we are forry to fay, that he has walled and exhausted the good Offices of his Friends, in screening him from the bad Consequences to which the Violence of his Temper, and other Qualities, must have subjected him; so that there is hardly a Magistrate in the Place who has not in Turn had Cognizance of his Excesses. The Idea Co his Interest in England being useful to those who now make a common Cause, with him in the Complaint of Supercession, has fince the Promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Hartley united more Persons to him than before; and we believe he is now gone to England as a general Solicitor for the superfeded Officers. But our Opimon of Major Frederick was to little in his Favour, that when his Pirtenfions in the Service became fuch as could not be allowed, without facrificing the Interests of the Company and of the Settlement, we should have thought ourselves highly culpable, had we not rejected them: We have, notwithflanding, in our Reply to his Letters, confined ourselves to these general Answers, which we apprehend are fully sufficient in the public Line of Business; but to you, to whom we case a more circumftantial Explanation of our Conduct, and fuch Information as may ferve to guard you against Milapprehentions and Milrepresentations, we find it necessary to open our selves without Releive, even on the tender Point of personal Character; a Subject which if possible we should avoid, but cannot in this Case, without making ourselves answerable for the Errors into which you might be naturally led by the specious and bold Plea of irreproachable Service, unless furnished by us with a Knowledge of Circumstances and Character, which have been the Ground of our Proceedings, and will, we trust, influence yours. This Communication we think at least our Duty, and such a Task as we can expect no Person to take on himself, who is not called on by the same Principle; and therefore, however necessary, it must have been left undone, unless performed

130. From the above Representation, we trust you will be convinced of what Importance it is, and what disagreeable Measures it will relieve us from, that the Gentlemen sent out for Field Officers should be Officers of Service and Experience, and of known Merit and Character; and we make it our earnest Request that you will attend to those Qualifications, in any you may think proper to send to Bombay in future.

131. On the Promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Dagon, a Doubt occurred to us, whether, according to the Tenor of your Orders, we are absolutely prohibited from promoting a Field Officer from one Degree to another, when there is an actual Vacancy, and the first Appointment has been approved and confirmed by you; both of which were the Case with respect to Lieutenant Colonel Dagon. We request an Explanation of your Intentions, to serve us for a Guide in future.

- 132. At our Meeting on the 1st February, it was agreed to dispatch a Vessel to Bengal, with Copies of all necessary Papers, and a full Account of the late Transactions and our present Situation, and that in the mean Time a short Address should be dispatched over Land, to advite the Governor General and Council, in Abstract, of the unfortunate liftue of the Expedition, and to request them to fulpend their Judgment and Determination till the promifed Detail was laid before them. A Letter on that Plan was accordingly dispatched, subscribed by the present Members of the Committee, but Mr. Draper having, at our next Meeting, expressed his Dissent and Disapprobation of that Letter, and of one of the same Date to Colonel Goddard, terming them partial and fallacious; this Proceeding drew Minutes from the Prefident and Mr. Carnac, and Replies from Mr. Draper, all of which, with the Letters objected to, are collected in one Paper, and transmitted under
- 133. Shortly after the Return of the Army, a Vackeel from the Poona Durbar, and a feparate Vackeel on the Part of Madajee Scindia, demanded in Form the Possession of the several Places tipulated to be surrendered by the Agreement at Worgaum. The Answer we resolved to give tiam, was in Effect as follows: That Messis. Carnac and Egerton had no Authority whatever to form any Treaty or Engagement binding on the Honourable Company, which their Principals were given clearly to understand before the Paper upon which they ground their Demands was fublcribed by those Gentlemen; and that we likewise had no Authority to take any Steps in Consequence until we received the Sentiments of the Governor General and Council, to whom we should dispatch a Vessel express with a full Account of the whole Transaction, and wait their Determination.
- 134. The Prefident was defired in the Delivery of this Answer, to make use of such Terms as would leave an Opening for further Negociation or Overtures from Madajee Scindia, which we furmifed from fome Part of his Conduct might be expected, and that he had even Views to a Con-Lection with us upon Principles of mutual Interest.
- 135. According to the Intimation given us by the Prefident in his Minute of the 29th January, of his Intention of shortly proposing some Plan of Conduct for extricating us from our present Difficulties, he on the 19th ultimo laid before us a Minute of Review of Maratta Assairs, and contuning fundry Refolutions proposed by him in consequence. A Copy thereof is transmitted in the Packet, with the Remarks made by Mr. Draper and our Decisions on the Proposal, and will exhibit to extensive a View of our political Situation as leaves us little to add on the Subject. He therein strongly set before us the great Probability that Nanah's Determination on our Answer to the Demand made by the Durbar for the Surrender of our Possessions, would be hostile to us, if he could prevail on the Chiefs who had acted with him against Ragoba to support him in a War against us; that we had therefore no Time to lose in guarding against such an Union, and that it would be expected from us, that we should exert ourselves in extricating our Affairs from their present Embarrassiment according to the Powers already given us by the Governor General and Council, and not supinely to throw on them Difficulties which it was our Duty to meet, and if possible to overcome. The several Measures proposed for this Purpose will appear by the Resolutions; and after full Confideration of the Advantages of a Connection with Madjee Scindia, and the Grounds we had to hope that Overtures from us would be well received, determined to take the Step recommended by the President for putting his Disposition in our Favour to the Test, by writing to him in Terms mentioned in his Minute. But we are forry to add, he does not seem to meet our Advances in the Manner we hoped for. Whether it may be his Idea, that he shall find his Advantage in keeping us in our present Situation, and that we cannot extricate ourselves without his Assistance, or whether he may think himself able to effect his own Purposes at Poona without our Aid, we cannot determine; but however, we still think it will be good Policy to observe such a Conduct towards him as if we did not confider him connected with Nannah in any Defigns against the English, and as having separate and distinct Views, which appears to be really the Case; and we hope we shall derive Advantage from his Conduct in any Measures we may find it necessary to pursue at the Poona Duibar.

136. The Resident at Fort Victoria having sent Intelligence that the Marattas at Sevendroog were making Preparations for the Attack of that Fort, and requested a Reinforcement, we sent down a Company of Sepoys in a Bomb Ketch, and in the Interim, on the 13th Instant, an Attack was made, the Particulars of which we are not yet acquainted with, the Resident's Letter having been intercepted; but in a subsequent Letter referring thereto, he desired the Reinforcement might be sent without a Moment's Delay.

137. We had before received feveral Letters from the Durbar, demanding a Compliance with the Terms of the Convention of Worgaum, and complaining of the Reference to Bengal; and we had also received Intelligence of an Attack being intended against Salfette and Caranja at the same Time, but we conclude the Measures immediately taken for the Security of those Islands, prevented the Marattas from making any Attempts in that Quarter. But by this open Act of Hossility committed at Fort Victoria, it appeared the Durbar were resolved not to keep Terms with us; and we therefore resolved, on the 19th Instant, to meet on some early Day, that after due Consideration we might determine what Conduct to pursue with the Marattas, and in what Manner to dispose of the Bengal Detachment, and to provide Funds for its Support, as well as our other Charges; an listing mate of which, and of our Resources, we directed to be laid before us, and in the mean Time we defired the President to write a suitable Letter to the Durbar on this open Act of Hossity.

138. We shall communicate the Result of our Deliberations on this important Subject, and the Measures we shall six upon, in the most expeditious Manner we can; but as the Scason draws late, we cannot detain this Vestel any longer without defeating the Intent of her Dispatches, and hazarding her speedy Arrival in England.

139. That we might obtain a full Account of the State and Objects of the Negociation with Moodajee Bouncello, and also of the Condition and Wants of the Bengal Detachment, we define Colonel Goddard to come down to Bombay to give us Information on their Particulars; and also that we might have the Benefit of his Advice in our Proceedings at this Critis. By a Return he prefented on his Arrival, we find his Force consists of upwards of 4000 Sepoys, Rank and File; about 300 Horse, being Part of a Regiment of your Cavalry; 500 of the Vizier's Cavalry, which accompanied him on the March; and a Company of Native Artillery, with proper Establishments of Lascars, Attificers, and Labourers, attached to the Artillery and other Branches of the Army.

140. As the Expence of this Detachment on its prefent Footing must be very considerable, we thought proper to consult Colonel Goddard on that Head; and whether it might not be possible to make some considerable Reduction therein; and upon his meeting us in Committee for that Purpose, he acquainted us that the monthly liftues for his Detachment amounted to Two Lacks and Tenca Twenty thousand Rupees; and that this Sum might be reduced to far as Twenty five or Thirty thousand Rupees a Month, by sending back the Cavalry, and cutting off some of the Establishment for the Staff; but submitted to us how far any Measure of that Kind might be proper, in case we had any near Prospect of Employment for the Troops, and especially how far it might be prudent to part with the Cavalry, whose Services would be of the utmost Importance in case of my Operations against a Country Power, which he observed we must be sensible of from the great Dissiputives our Army lately experienced from the Want of such Assistance.

141. He informed us, that he had Authority from the Governor General and Council to draw on them for the Expences of the Army, and seemed to think that for some Time at least he might be able to supply his Wants without Assistance from us, by Means of the Surat Shroffs; but this does not appear to us a Refource on which he can long depend.

142. He gave us an Account of the State in which he left his Negociation with the Rajah of Berar, which appears to be still in a Train; and as we had a few Days before received from the Governor General and Council a Copy of their Instructions to the late Mr. Elliot, dated the 18th July, we are now possessed of full Information with respect to their Views and Designs in the proposed Alliance with that Chief, which will be a grand Advantage to us in our Councils, and enable us to frame our Measures correspondent with their Plan of Politics; an Advantage we regret was not sooner given to us. We presume you must long ago have received Mr. Elliot's Instructions; but we now transmit in the Packet a Copy of Colonel Goddard's Letter above mentioned.

143. Colonel Goddard has had the Materials put into his Hands to inform him fully of the late Transactions; and as we shall entrust to him the Execution of whatever Measures may be adopted, we defired him to attend at our future Meetings, in order that he might obtain a proper Insight into our political Proceedings.

144. We shall conclude our Letter with some general Matters of Detail not immediately connected with our Proceedings above related.

Upon the First Notice of an approaching War with France, which was received in June last, Orders were given for our Fortisications being carried on with all possible Vigour; and we have the Pleasure to inform you, that our Works towards the Sea are in great Forwardness. The Royal Admiral, now under Dispatch, the Plans and Estimates ordered by the honourable Court in their Commands of the 19th March, will be transmitted, and a full Reply sent thereto by the Governor and Council.

146. Considering the Importance of Tellicherry, and its Vicinity to Myhee, we thought it highly incumbent on us to take Measures for its Security, and accordingly permitted of some small Additions to the Fortifications, and formed an independant Corps, consisting of Three Companies of regular Sepoys drafted from the other Battalions, to compose the Garrison. The Drafts were replaced by the Recruits, so that by this Plan our own Force was not diminished; and we gave strict Orders to the Factors at Tellicherry to attend only to the Defence of their own Settlement, and not to engage in offentive Operations.

147. Colonel Egerton having frequently pressed this Government to make Trial of a Corps of native Portugueze Infantry, with their own Officers, on the Footing of a Sepoy Battalion, and urging our great Desiciency in Europeans, we, on 15th August, consented to raise a small Body, consisting of 400 Privates, to be divided into Five Companies, with Portugueze Officers answerable to the Black Officers of the Sepoys, an European commissioned Officer to each Company, and the Whole to be commanded by One European Captain. If it is possible to make good Soldiers of these People, this Plan gives them all possible Encouragement, which they never received before; and this possibly may be the Reason why they have not hitherto been in much Repute; and it was upon that Principle Mr. Carnac gave his Assent to the Measure. In our Proceedings, which will be tent Home by the Royal Admiral, you will find under the above Date the Particulars of the Establishment of this Corps; which however we may perhaps find it necessary to retain, when our European Battalions are compleated, even if it should be found to answer the Expectations formed from it, which we begin to doubt.

148. A general Return of the Troops on this Establishment is forwarded under Nº 43.

149. Agreeable to your Directions a Sheer Haulk has been fitted up for the Ute of His Majesty's Ships; and under No 39 we transmit Copy of a Report from the Committee appointed to survey our Docks, and of the List therein referred to, the Purport of which was mentioned in our Address of the 29th of December.

150. We have not come to any Determination on the Proposal for building additional Docks, capable of admitting 74 Gun Ships.

151. In our Addicts of the 29th of December, we advised of our having taken Possession of the French Factory at Surat, and feized the Persons of the Consul, and of every other Frenchman in that City. This Step, we doubt not, from your Commands of the 31st August, will be approved; and we removed all the French Gentlemen to Bombay, except the Consul and his Family, whom we permitted to remain at Surat upon his Parole. Amongst the Prisoners removed to Bombay was a Prieft, who fometime after his Arrival tent to inform the Prefident that he had Intelligence of an important Nature to communicate; and being accordingly examined, gave Information, and which was confirmed by another of the Prifoners, that a Plan had been concerted between Monfieur Briancourt, the French Conful, and Monfieur St. Lubin, for bringing down a Body of Miratta Troops to feize and plunder the City of Surat, whilst our Troops were employed on the Expedition; in which Scheme they had engaged some of the Nabob's Officers. A Copy of the Narrative of whit was declared by the Priest and the other Prisoner Montieur Charleval, now wait on you under Nº 40; and the Prefident preferving the most profound Secrecy, immediately sent up the latter to Surat, in Hopes of his being able to find the Box of Papers mentioned in the Narrative, which contained the Particulars of the Confpiracy. He however did not fucceed, and no farther Differency has yet been made, though we have offered a Reward of Ten thousand Rupees, and directed Mr. Boddam to trace this Matter with all possible Diligence; but as it appeared very improper under such a Suspicion to permit the Conful to remain any longer at Surat, we have removed him with his Family to the Fort at Tannah, where we propose to keep them till they are fent to Europe.

152. In our Diary, which will be fent by the Royal Admiral, is entered under the 18th August, a Letter we received from Sir Edward Vernon, in Answer to our Requisition for his bringing round the Squadron to Bombay by the Southern Passage, which we mentioned in our Address of the 31st July; and under the 8th September, you will find our Reply to the Reasons urged by the Commodore in Support of his Resolution for remaining on the Coast; and circumstanced as Affairs then were, we flatter ourselves you will think our Reasoning well founded. We also, upon an Application from the Merchants of the Place, made a Request to Sir Edward Vernon to fend a Convoy into the Straits of Malacca, to secure the returning Ships from China; which the Strength of his Squadron would not admit of his complying with; but the Governor General and Council dispatched your Ship the Resolution on that Service, and she has since arrived on this Coast with some of the China Ships, and is

153. We have long thought it would be for your Interest to have a Resident at the Durbar of Hyder Ally, to endeavour to counteract and penetrate into the Schemes of the French, and to bring him into a Disposition more favourable to the Honourable Company: And in the Beginning of May last we proposed this Measure to the Governor General and Council; who seemed to have some Doubts how far it might be agreeable to the Nabob of Arcot; and accordingly wrote to the President and Council at Madras, desiring them to acquaint us with the Nabob's Sentiments on the Subject, leaving us nevertheless in a great Measure to act in this Point according to our own Judgment. Not hearing from the Gentlemen at Madras for a considerable Time, we on the 4th November, upon Receipt of Advices from the Resident at Fellicherry, of some particular Instances of the Nabob's Attention to the French, in assorting sheral Supplies of Provisions, and even Money, to their Settlement at Mahé, and exciting some of the petty Rajahs dependant on him to assist them with their Forces, we came to the Resolution of deputing Mr. James Sibbald to his Durbar, to make the proper Remonstrances on that Head, and to endeavour to detach him from the French Interest; judging that the Reduction of Pondacherry, which we daily expected to be informed of, would be a favourable Opportunity for effecting our Point. Being afterwards informed that the Nabob had given the Governor of Mahé Permission to hoist his Colours in case of the Place being attacked by the English, and that he intended sending his Fleet with Supplies of Grain to the French Islands, we have judged it best, as these will be such decided Instances of his Attachment to them, not to dispatch Mr. Sibbald till we are at a Certainty with respect to the Part the Nabob will take when Mahé is attacked; which we hope you will approve, and we took Care to give Notice to the Presidency of Madras and Sir Edward Vernon, of the Intelligence we had received of the Nabob's Intentions, that they might be prepared to regulate their Conduct accordingly, in case the Nabob should openly assist the French.

154. We have actual Advice that a Veffel of the Nabob's, formerly the Salamander Bomb Ketch, sailed for Mauritius the 16th ultimo, with some French Gentlemen, and a few Articles of Merchandize, and 40,000 Pagodas in Money.

155. On the 18th December we received a Letter from the Select Committee at Madras, dated the 8th November, acquainting us that they deemed it so important to acquire Possession of Mahé before the Arrival of any French Armament from Europe or Mauritios, that they then wrote purposely to concert with us the necessary Measures for the Attainment of that Object, and they desired to know what Assistance we could afford in Troops or Stores; acquainting us likewise, that as their Loss before Pondicherry in Europeans, and particularly in the Artillery Corps, had weakened them very considerably, any Assistance we could give in these would be very acceptable, and that if we could supply any Part of the heavy Cannon, Mortar, and Stores, it would be a great Relief to them.

156. They also desired us to take the necessary Measures for securing Provisions for the Troops, and engaging in our Interest the Country Powers adjoining to Mahé, and signified their Intention that the Troops should leave Madras, in December, if nothing should happen to prevent it.

157. We did not lose a Moment in acquainting the Gentlemen at Madras that we should immediately send down to Tellicherry a Train of Battering Cannon and Mortars, with all their Apparation and Appurtenances compleat, spare Carriages, and a proper Quantity of Shot, Shells, and Gunpowder, which we accordingly dispatched the 25th of December in the Revenge and Bombay Grab; and at the same Time sent the necessary Orders to your Servants at Tellicherry on the other Points, and also the Resident at Anjengo, to take all necessary Measures for facilitating the Transportation of the Troops from thence to Tellicherry, if the Squadron under Sir Edward Vernon, which we learnt was to come round, should not be found sufficient.

158. Our Troops were at that Time in the Field with Ragoba, and it was not in our Power to promise to spare a Man for the Siege of Mahé.

159. Whillt we were anxiously expecting to hear of the Arrival of the Madras Troops on the Coast, we received on the 11th February another Letter from the Committee at Madras, dated the 7th January, acquainting us of their Troops having marched, but that it was out of their Power (even had they Conveyances) to fend more than Half of the Stores necessary for the Expedition, so great had been their Issues for the Siege of Pondicherry; they therefore sent us a List of the Stores they could not furnish, and requested we would immediately dispatch them to Tellicherry, as the Expedition could not otherwise go on; though the Demand made upon us was very heavy we instantly resolved to comply with it, and being unprovided with any other Conveyance, we made Application to the Commander of His Majesty's Ship Asia, then under Orders to join the Commodore, to receive them on board, which he readily agreed to, and arrived with them at Tellicherry the 2d of this Month.

160. The Force destined for this Service confists of under the Command of Colonel Braithwaite; who is instructed, in case of Success against Mahe, to avoid if possible entering into any Agreement for preserving the Fortifications.

161. Sir Edward Vernon, with the Rippon and Sartine, arrived at Tellicherry the 9th of February, having left at Anjengo the Seahorse and Coventry with your Ships the Revenge, Bombay Grab, Royal Charlotte, and Resolution, and the Ravensworth Country Ship taken up at Anjengo so that Purpose, to transport the Troops from thence to Tellicherry. He acquainted us he should endeavour to prevent any Reinforcement being thrown into Mahé, and give every Assistance in his Power towards the Reduction of that Fortress; after the Performance of which Service, he should proceed to Bombay to clean and resit the Squadron. In the mean Time he desired we would afford all possible Assistance in resitting the Asia and Sartine, by which we conclude he had revoked his Orders for the Asia's joining him; and the Sartine arrived here the 18th Instant, and will shortly come into Dock.

162. By our latest Advices from Tellicherry, dated 9th Instant, we learn that Two of the Battalions of Sepoys were arrived there with Major Kelly, who acts as principal Engineer; and that the Remainder of the Forces, with Colonel Braithwaite, were expected to arrive at Anjengo, in the Month of Pebruary. As the Season begins to grow late, it will give us great Pleasure to hear of their having commenced their Operations.

163. The Kings of Cotidee and Cartinaddee, and the Samorine, are now in Arms to recover their Dominions, of which they were dispossessed by the Nabob Hyder Ally, and have made considerable Progress. It was thought the latter will soon be in Possession of Callicut, having already expelled the Nabob's People from several of his Forts. They have made Offers of granting to the Honourable Company any Privileges of Trade in their different Countries, provided we will take them under our Protection, or a first home from the Ammunition. The Samonine's Minister informed Mr. Church, that his Mafter had been fecretly supplied with Powder and Balls by the Dutch, who have been for some Time in a State of Hostility with the Nabob; but he hoped the Company would in future supply him, as being his old Ally, and whose Friendship he should prefer to that of the Dutch.

164. The King of Cotidee has promifed to give the Pepper of his Country to the Company as formerly, which, whilst it was in the Hands of the Princes of Chinka, to whom the Nabob had made it over, was given to the French.

165. These Insurrections will be very favourable to the Operations against Mahé, and we hope put it out of the Power of the Prince of Cherika to impede them, for which Purpose we understand he had affembled a confiderable Number of Men by the Nabob's Order. A Party of his People had stopped a Party from the Post at Mount Dilly, who were making Fascines for the Siege, and fired upon them; but upon the Post being reinforced the Prince's People retired.

166. The Prince of Cherika had just before fent to acquaint the Resident that he was well-disposed to be upon the best Terms with the Honourable Company, but that being tributary to Hyder Ally was under the Necessity of obeying his Orders, and that in consequence thereof he was then at Chinibra, to give every Affistance to the French whenever our Army should proceed to the Attack of Mahé: That he wished the Company to defer the Attack till they heard the Result of a Negociation then on Foot between Hyder and the Gentlemen at Madras, to whom Hyder had promifed a Neutrality between the French and English in India, to be guaranteed by him; and that in case the Negociation failed, Hyder was determined to fall upon the Carnatic, and at the same Time to send effectual Support to Mahé. The Resident returned a suitable Answer to this Message; but we cannot take upon ourselves to say whether there is any Foundation for the Prince's Assertion of a Negociation being on the Carpet between Hyder and the Gentlemen at Madras, not having heard a Syllable from them on the Subject.

167. In the Beginning of last Month we were informed by the Chief of Surat, that the famous Vizier Ghazidy Cawn had been discovered in the Disguise of a Fakier, near that City, and had been secured by the Nabob. He had refided at a Mosque, and faid he intended proceeding on a Pilgrimage to Mecca. This Person is the Son of Ghazie ul Dien, eldest Son of Nizam ul Mulk, formerly Subah of the Decan, and at an early Age was made Buxey to the Emperor Ahmed Shaw, in the Year 1751: He afterwards became remarkable by his Abilities and Crimes, and the Murther of one Mogul Emperor, and depriving another of his Sight; after which he fled to the Jauts, in the Year 1761, and has ever fince been wandering from one Power to another, as he could find Security.

168. When we first received this Intelligence, we were of Opinion, that as so distinguished a Person had been thus thrown within our Power, it was proper to detain him until we could receive Instructions from the Governor General and Council, whom we apprized of this Event; and that, as he could not be entirely fafe at Surat, and as his remaining there would be attended with other Inconvenience, we thought Bombay would be a more eligible Place for his Refidence; with which both he and the Nabob afterwards expressed their Satisfaction; and he accordingly arrived here the 5th

169. Whilst the Vizier remained at Surat, we received a Letter from him, containing very splendid Accounts of the powerful Assistance he had intended bringing to Ragoba's Cause, by his Connections with different Rajahs, and the most profuse Expressions of Regard to the English. In the Conclusion, he acquainted us his Intentions were to go to Mecca; but having no Necessaries for that Expedition, he defired we would conduct him thither.

170. On making Enquiry from Colonel Goddard respecting this Person, we learn he had some Time ago been in the Bengal Provinces, and that the Government had not thought it material to detain him; therefore, as he was very earnest to be permitted to proceed on his Pilgrimage, and his Residence here would be attended with confiderable Expence, we did not judge, from Colonel Goddard's Information, that it would answer any adequate Purpose to detain him here, contrary to his Consent; and we reflected likewise, that if the Governor General and Council chose to have him sent round to Bengal, he would probably return from Mecca sufficiently early for that Voyage the following Season. We therefore fent him up again to Surat in one of your Cruizers, to take Paffage from thence in a Country Ship bound to Juddah; which we hope will be approved.

171. Mr. William Lewis, late Affistant to the Resident at the Durbar, having acquitted himself with great Merit, and very much to our Satisfaction, in remaining at Poona to the very last Moment, with apparent Danger to his Person, till our Forces were actually embarked, and we had ordered him to retire, by which we had the Advantage of the latest Intelligence of the Proceedings of the Ministers; and Mr. Mostyn having likewise warmly recommended him for his Diligence and Attention in the Discharge of his Duty; we resolved, on the 3d December, as a Mark of our particular Approbation, to augment his Salary to R' 500 per Month; but as our Intentions in his Favour have been defeated by the unhappy Issue of the Expedition, we think it a Justice due to Mr. Lewis to give this Testimony to you of the Satisfaction received from his Behaviour.

REP. VI. 172. Sines

E N D I X, Nº 130.

172. Since the Arrival of Colonel Goddard, Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn has made Application to us to have a General Court Martial for his Trial, upon the Charge given in against him by the Prefident. Copy of his Letter is transmitted under N° 15; and before we gave him an Answer Colonel Goddard was confulted, who being of Opinion, that as the Reference to the Governor General and Council had been accepted by Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, there would be an Impropriety in withdrawing the Decision on his Conduct for their Cognizance; we returned him an Answer to that Effect, and at his Defire mention this Application to you.

173. Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn having just sent in a Letter, addressed to you, and one for the Governor General and Council, the former is inclosed, and a Copy of the latter.

174. This Veffel, the Betfey Snow, will proceed direct to England with this Packet; and in order to multiply the Chances of our Advices getting fafe and early to your Hands, a Duplicate of this Address is put on board the Betley, to be delivered to the Commander of any of your homeward. bound Ships fhe may fall in with at the Cape, or St. Helena. Our Diary from Ship to Ship will be fent Home by the Royal Admiral, and the Annual one by the Morfe; and in the mean Time we hope the Extracts now forwarded will furnish you with every necessary Information.

175. We shall, as soon as possible after the Departure of this Vessel, dispatch the Panther to Bengal, with Copies of the fame Papers we now transmit to you; and we shall then, according to the Resolution proposed by the President after his Review of Maratta Affairs, depute Mr. George Hossley to supply the Governor General and Council with such Information and Details of local Knowledge as they may require.

176. Agreeable to what was mentioned in a former Part of this Address, we now set down in Order the Papers forwarded by the prefent Dispatch, which we submit to your Candour, with a firm Reliance of receiving an impartial and dispassionate Judgment.

Bombay Castle, 27th March 1779.

23d March 1780. At a Committee of Correspondence; PRESENT,

The Committee having met very often to read the Papers transmitted from Bombay, relative to the Expedition undertaken in favour of Ragoba in November 1778, and having also duly confidered the faid Papers, do now, upon the most mature Deliberation, submit to the Court the following Opinions on that Subject.

1780. Report on Bombay Affairs.

The Committee find, by a Letter from the Governor General and Council of Bengal, dated 23d March 1778, and received at Bombay the 3d of May following, that the Select Committee of Bombay were therein expressly authorized, under certain Circumstances, to form a new Alliance with Ragoba, and to engage with him in any Scheine which they should deem expedient and fase, for retrieving his Affairs.

That on the 21st of July the faid Select Committee resolved unanimously, That they were then at full Liberty to take Measures for subverting a Party in the Poona Government, which was connecled with the French in Schemes hostile to the English Company; and that in order to accomplish the Measure, the most practicable Means to be used for placing Ragoba in the Regency at Poona, during the Minority of the Infant Peshwa.

And the Committee find, that the Governor General and Council, by Letter dated the 17th of August, approved the Resolution of the Select Committee at Bombay, and authorized them to affift Ragoba with a military Force, to conduct him to Poona, under the following express Provisions; viz.

First, That it do not interfere with any Engagement formed with Moodajee Bouncello by Mr.

Elliot, and previous Notice to the Select Committee of Bombay by him.

Second, That the latest Advices from Europe shall be equal to an Assurance that the Force required for this Service may be spared without endangering the Safety of Bombay, in the Event of a French Invalion.

Third, That the Engagements which the Select Committee may form with Ragoba himfelf, or Moraba and his Affociates, be not contrary to those concluded with Moodajee by Mr. Elliot, and noticed to the Committee at Bombay, nor of a holfile Tendency to Berar.

And the Committee find, That the above Letter was received at Bombay, the 27th of September 1778; and that no Step had been taken by the Sclect Committee of Bombay, in Profecution of the Measures resolved upon the 21st of July preceding.

The Committee also find, by Letters from Mr. Lewis, the Company's Resident at Poona, entered on the Select Committee's Proceedings of the 26th and 30th of July, that feveral Maratta Chiefs, supposed to have been in the Interest of Ragoba, and capable of affisting him with a large Body of Horse, had been suddenly imprisoned, or laid under Restraint by Madjee Scindia, another Chi i, who was in the opposite Interest.

And it appears, That on the 12th of October following, the Select Committee of Bombay icfolved forthwith to carry into Execution the Plan agreed to the 21ft of July; to which Refotution

Mr. Draper diffented.

The Committee find, That when the Governor General and Council approved the Refolution of the 21st of July, they could not have been informed of the Confinement of these Maratta Chiefs, who were supposed to be well inclined to Ragoba, and capable of assorting him the Atfilture abovementioned.

And the Committee having duly attended to the Whole of the Proceedings previous to the Expedition under Confideration, are of Opinion, That the Retolution of the Select Committee of Bombay, of the 21st of July, for placing Ragoba in the Regency at Poona, was not improjer, under the favourable Circumstances set forth on their Proceedings at that Period.

The Committee are of Opinion, That the Change which happened foon afterwards, respecting the Situation of Ragoba's Friends, and the Lapse of Time from the 21st of July to the 22d of November, rendered it extremely imprudent to undertake the Expedition at that Period.

And the Committee find the Force allotted for the Poona Expedition confifted of hat, Officers included, the Whole are stated at 3,900 Men; and upwards of 400 Rank and File, 11 h Officers in Proportion, were afterwards ordered on this Service; and that a confiderable Part of he additional Force confifted of Europeans.

The Committee are of Opinion, That the State of the Garrison of Bombay, as represented : wild Vernon by the Select Committee the 8th of September 1778, did not wairant the change of lo large a Force on foreign Service at the Commencement of a European War, more he i he as theedy Succour was rendered precatious, and confequently Success very doubtful, by the ditagrecable Situation of the supposed Friends and Partizans of Ragoba.

The Committee are therefore clearly of Opinion, that in November 1778, the Expedition, under ill Circu inflances, was evidently very liazardous, and not to be justified; that the Reasons stated by Mr. Draper for diffenting thereto at that Period, were folid and judicious; and that the Select Comnitiee of Bombay ought to have waited the Arrival or nearer Approach of the Bengal Detachment ander t'e Command of Colonel Goddard, before they attempted to reinstate Ragoba at Poona.

But as the Majority of the Select Committee of Bombay seemed convinced that Delay would ender the Execution of the Enterprize much more difficult, if not altogether impracticable; that the riench might thereby acquire such Influence at the Poona Durbar as would occasion perpetual War with the Marattas, and render the Company's Possessions on the Western Side of India insecure and improfitable; that they confidered themselves bound in Duty to the Company to endeavour to prevent Measures so ruinous to their Interest, by taking Advantage of Divisions then supposed to be ubfilling among the Bramin Ministers, and by attempting to establish Ragoba at that critical functure, and therefore persisted in the Resolutions to assist him with Forces for that Purpole. Inder the above Considerations, though this Committee cannot concur in the Reasons offered by the select Committee of Bombay, to far as to approve their Conduct, they are nevertheless of Opinion hat the faid Select Committee appear to have acted according to the best or their Judgment, in indertaking to place Ragoba in the Regency at Poona, in November 1778.

Your Committee find, that the Amount due from Ragoba to the Company, the 30th Day of April 777, was Rupees 24,72,775.

And Your Committee find, that in November 1778, the Governor and Select Committee of Bombay paid to the Executors of the late Mr. William Shaw, 80,000 Rujees, on Account of 16th November, Ragoba; also that in the same Month they lent 4 Lacks of Rupees to Ragoba, besides 15,000 Supces lent to Two of his Servants, amounting in the Whole to Rupees 4,95,000; and exclusive of sch. Conf. 500 Stands of Arms, 4 or 5 Guns and their Carriages, 30 Candies of Gunpowder, 10,000 Flints, and 2000 Cannon Shot, agreed by the Select Committee to be delivered to him the 16th Day of

And Your Committee are clearly of Opinion, that the late Loan to Ragoba was unjustifiable, Suppose was fent with the Troops, and Authority Tore especially as so large a Sum as 1,50,000 Rupees was sent with the Troops, and Authority stanted to the Commissary and Paymaster to pass Draughts on the Select Committee for the necessary difburiements during the Expedition: And the Committee find that Bills have been accepted on hat Account to the Amount of Rupees 2,28,529.

And your Committee submit it to the Court as their Opinion, That unless the Scleet Committee give better Reasons than have yet appeared for lending the Sum of 4,95,000 Rupees in the Malloc above-mentioned to Ragoba and his Servants, that the Court take into Confideration the Propriet of rendering the faid Select Committee responsible for that Amount to the Company.

> John Woodhouse. John Purling, George Cuming, Henry Fletcher, John Manship, John Michie,

W^m James, W. Devaynes, L. Sulivan, John Harrifon, Henry Savage

Your Committee find that the Select Committee of Bombay appointed Mr. Carnac, Colonel Eger. ton, and Mr. Mostyn, to be a separate Committee for carrying their Plan into Execution, and da recled them to accompany Ragoba to Poona: That the Commander in Chief protested against the Measure: That of course there remained no more than Two Members of the Select Committee at Bombay: That the President, by having a casting Vote, became, in the Absence of the Poona Con. mittee, possessed of absolute Power for transacting all political, military, and naval Assairs, and such as might require Secrecy at Bombay. And as this Transaction militated against the Letter and Spins of the Court's Orders of the 10th April 1778, the Committee are clearly of Opinion, that the Appointment of a Member of the Select Committee at Bombay, to accompany the Commander in Chart to Poona, was altogether improper, and that the Majority of the faid Committee are very reprehensible for their Conduct in that respect; but the Committee exempt Mr. Draper from this Censure, because he justly supposed it to be the Intent of the Company, that none of the civil Members of the Committee should be detached from the Presidency, if the Commander in Chief were to be ablest alfo, and delivered his Opinion in the Select Committee accordingly.

> W^m Devaynes, John Harriton, Henry Fletcher, John Manship, John Michie, George Cuming,

The Committee find the First Detachment of the Army embarked for the Continent the 22d st November 1778, and Colonel Egerton Two Days afterwards:

That the Army was at Panwell the 25th of November, and remained there till the 4th Day of December following.

That the 30th of November, the Quarter Master General proceeded with a Company of Seposta Bara, to mark out an Encampment for a Detachment under Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, who however was not able to proceed as was intended, for want of Bearers.

And by Letters from Colonel Egerton and Mr. Carnac to Governor Hornby, it appears, that there was an almost immediate and total Want of Harmony in their Proceedings during the Expedtion; that the distinct Powers vested in the Poona Committee and in the Commander in Chief of the Army, the Propriety of the Commission granted to the Committee, the military Honours to be pad to Colonel Egerton and Mr. Carnac respectively, and the Propriety of keeping separate Tables for them, were Objects of much Discussion and Contention.

The Committee find, that Mr. Mostyn was compelled by a severe Indisposition, to return to Bosbay, where he died the 1st of January; and that Mr. Carnac thereupon claimed the Right of a caling Vote, whenever Colonel Egerton only should meet him in Committee; which was decreed and ordered accordingly by the Select Committee at * Bombay. Scl. Conf.

The Committee find it stated by Mr. Carnac, on the 20th Day of December 1778, that the Troop had, in 25 Days from their Debarkation at Panwell, marched little more than the same Number of Miles: That it appeared to him, that much Labour, Time, and Money, were unnecessarily wasted in making a Carriage Road for the Artillery and Stores up the Gauts: That with the Number of People employed, every Thing intended to be carted might have been carried up by Hand, with more Eale, Security, and Dispatch: That from Conversation he believed this to be the general Opinion; and that the Commandant of Artillery had actually passed some of the Guns by a different Route, wide of the new Road then making by the Engineer, which proved it to be needlefs.

Colonel Egerton deferred replying to Mr. Carnac's Minute until his Return to Bombay; when he appealed to his Diary, and to the Commissary of the Army, to prove the Propriety of his to maining fo long at Panwell; he denied there having been any Languor in the Motions of the Army; he faid, the Commander in Chief could not take the Stores and Provisions under his Arm at Panwell, and walk away with them to Poona; that no Guns, except Two, had been passed by any Route wide of the Road made by the Engineer; and he produced several Vouchers in Support of his Affertions.

14 Decr 1778.

The Committee find the Representation and Vouchers produced by Colonel Egerton, relative to the Guns, was partial and defective; for although no more than Two Guns, as mentioned by Colonel Egerton, were actually passed by Major Dagon up the Gauts, in the Manner stated by Mr. Carnac, it appears that the Measure was practicable, and that the Colonel was highly difpleased with Major Dagon's Activity in attempting to move the Guns up the Gauts, before Road was made; that he positively forbad it, and threatened to post Centinels to prevent. That this Conduct of Colonel Egerton dispirited Major Dagon, who has since declared, That Colonel Egerton would have allowed him the Number of Hands employed in making the Road, he had not the least Doubt but the Whole of the Artillery, with the Stores and Ammunion, might have been carried up the Gauts in Two Days and a Half to the Post occupied by Captain Stewart.

The Committee find, That the Two Guns before mentioned were fent by Major Dagon up the Gauts the 14th Day of December; that the Road was began by the Engineer the fame Day; that t was the next Day when Colonel Egetton expressed his Displeasure at Major Dagon, for attempting to carry up the Guns and Stores; that the Roads were not finished till the 23d December; and hat the Troops had halted the 9th and 11th of December for the Roads,

And the Committee are clearly of Opinion, That the flow Progress of the Army was inexcusable, and very prejudicial to the Undertaking; that the Conduct of the Commander in Chief was extremely defective; that it gave the Enemy the fullest Opportunity of collecting their Strength; and most have had a direct Tendency to discourage such Maratta Chiefs as might have been friendly to Ragoba from appearing active on his Behalf; and that the most spirited Exertions on our Part were absolutely necessary, in order to assorb them proper Encouragement for that Purpose.

The Committee do not fand, that the Troops experienced any Obstruction from the Enemy till the 22d of December: From that Day to the 4th of January they were at Times cannonaded, with trifling Effect; except the Lois of Lieutenant Colonel Cay, by a Rocket, the 31st December, and of Captain Stuart, by a spent Shot, the 4th of January; by which Accidents the Company were deprived of Two very gallant and meritorious Officers.

Mr. Carnac in a Letter to the Select Committee, dated the 11th of February 1779, has delivered his Sendments as follows:

"For the Space of near Five Weeks the Army did not meet with the smallest Moleslation; and it can never be sufficiently regretted, that more Advantage was not taken of that Interval, when the Enemy by their Conduct appeared to be wholly unprepared. However they at last pushed a Party forwards near to Condola, where they began their Opposition. As our Troops advanced they constantly gave way; or if they attempted to make a Stand were distributed; yet so soon as we had taken up our Ground, and fixed our Fineampment, they never failed bringing up Cannon near enough to annoy us; and we were I believe more than Fitteen Days successively cannonaded in our Camps; to which the Enemy were encouraged to persist in, by finding they could do it with Impunity; as our Line nor any Part of it was ever moved out, to endeavour by a vigorous Essort to get Possession of some of their Guns."

To the above Remarks of Mr. Carnac Colonel Egerton has made the following Reply:

"I shall say no more on his Remark of our Line, nor any Part, having never moved out, to endeavour by a vigorous Effort to get Possession of some of their (the Enemy's) Guis, except that the Commanding Officer knew the Duties of his Profession too well to give so unjustituable an Order, for which he would have been highly reprehensible by all Military Judges."

The 5th of January Colonel Egerton wrote as follows to the Governor:

"We have had the usual Cannonade To-day, but rather faint, and without any Loss; and I intend trying To-morrow Morning, about 4 or 5 o'Clock, if we can catch them in their Encamp"ment."

But the Committee find, That Colonel Egerton, the next Day, inflead of perfevering in his Defign of feeling the Enemy in their Camp, declared to the Poona Committee, that having borne up as long as he could againft an Illness, with which he had been for some Time past afflicted, he was then under the Necessity of acquainting them, that the Surgeon Major thought the Fatigues of a Campaign, co-operating with his Indisposition, endangered his Life; that he could not hope to have Strength sufficient to attend to the Avocations of a Commander in Chief; and therefore he requested Permission of Mr. Carnac and himself, to resign the Command of the Troops to Lieuterant Colonel Cockburn, and to proceed immediately to Bombay; which being granted, he set out accordingly; and having obtained Intelligence of a Party of Horse being in the Conkan, he afterwards thought proper to return back to the Army, but did not attempt to resume the Command.

As Colonel Fgerton's Want of Health did not prevent him from refuming his Seat at the Poona Committee, it will be necessary hereafter to state the Part which he took in the subsequent Proceedings of that Committee; but your Committee nevertheless think proper in this Place to express their unanimous Opinion, that the Conduct of the late Colonel, now Brigadier General Charles Egerton, during the late disgraceful Epcdition towards Poona, was such as renders it highly improper that he should be continued in the Command of the Company's Forces at Bombay; and that he be therefore dismissed from the Company's Service.

REP. VI.

PENDIX, Nº 130.

And the Committee find a Minute entered on the Poona Diary of the 6th of January, stating the Difference between their former Expectations and the real State of Affairs. They had been given to hope, that on the Appearance of Ragoba's Standard above the Gauts, Holkar and many other r. putable Maratta Chiefs would join them; that however none but a few Mercenaries had done for that Ragoba acknowledged, unless we could convince his Friends of their Safety, by speedily beating his Enemies, he had no Hope of being joined by any one; and that our Situation would be rather worse than better, as we advanced towards Poona, because the Army would be cut off from Co. munication with the Conkan, from whence Provisions and Stores would be supplied.

The Committee allowed that the Conduct of the Enemy, in ravaging the Country and retiring b. fore our Army, feemed to warrant Ragoba's Reasoning, but they hoped as they advanced towan; Poona, Holcar, on whose Junction they still placed some Dependance, would be enabled and encoun raged to fulfil the Promifes heretofore made by him to Mr. Mostyn in favour of Ragoba.

The same Morning, the 6th of January, the Army marched, and the Guns of the Enemy opened from a Wood on the Line. A large Party of Horse seemed inclined to take the Army in Flank, or to enter the Rear, but were prevented, and driven from their high Ground by our Troops, who behaved on this and on all Occasions with the greatest Intrepidity and Cheerfulness.

And the Committee find, That on the Three succeeding Days the Army marched from Mondhum to Tullagoan, 18 Miles from the Summit of the Gauts, and 16 Miles from Poona, without Moles.

tation from the Enemy.

The 9th of January 1779, Messieurs Carnac and Egerton deputed Mr. Sibbald to Ragoba, to represent the Distress occasioned by relying on his Promite for a Supply of Provisions above the Gauts; and on his Affurance that Holcar would join the Troops in Eight Days from the 22d ultimo; and also to inform him, that having only Provisions sufficient to subsist the Army back again to the Conkan, and the Country being laid waste, the only probable Mode of removing their Distress was to make Overtures of Accommodation to Scindia, Holcar, and Saccaram. That the Power of ne. gociating must be left to the Committee; and that they saw no Alternative but the instant Retreat of the Army, to prevent a total Distress from the utter Want of Provisions.

The next Day the Commissary reported, that from the Stock of Provisions on Hand he was able, barring Accidents, to supply the Army with Provisions for 18 Days; but Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn thought it would be impossible, without a Body of Horse, to secure the Baggage from the Enemy's numerous Cavalry, as the Troops advanced further into the Country, and that the Provifions were equally exposed with the Baggage.

The same Day Information was received that a Body of Horse belonging to Moraba had marched into the Conkan to join Ragoba; but Messieurs Carnac and Egerton observed, that however uldid those Troops might be, it did not appear that they could effectually relieve the main Difficulty of the Army, which was the total Impossibility of receiving any further Supply of Provisions, except through the Conkan; it was therefore resolved to preserve the Army by falling back so far as mig; be necessary to secure their Communication with the Conkan, unless Holcar's Army should join them, conformably to the Assurances of Ragoba.

And Your Committee find, That Lieutenant Frazer was not to fuffer Moraba's Troops to afcend through the Pass where he was posted, till further Orders.

In the Evening of the faid 10th of January Mr. Sibbald reported that Ragoba had earneftly >quested the Committee to defer their Application to any of the Maratta Chiefs, except Holear, for One Day, Lett Scindia, from whom he expected a Vackeel, should infer that they began to despared Success, which would of course encourage the Ministerial Party to hold out; that the Care of supplying the Army with Provisions rested with him; that he would furnish the Commissary from this Town (Tullagoan) with a fufficient Quantity for some Days, and that we should get more at the next Ragoba also informed the Poona Committee, that he had wrote to Scindia to endeavour to engage him in his Interest; but the faid Committee not being able to place any Dependance on Ragoba's Promife for a Supply of Provisions, nor deeming the gaining of Scindia an Object of sufficient Importance to warrant a Departure from their preceding Resolution; and believing it certain, that though Holear did not act against them, he could not act for them; iffued Orders to Lieutenast Colonel Cockburn, the 11th of January, to march back the Army towards the País at Condolah o expeditionfly as possible; and the 12th of January the Army fell back to Wargaon.

And the Committee find that the Order to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, as entered on the Poets

Diary, is figued,

" John Carnac," " Charles Egerton."

But in a Leater from Colonel Egerton to the Select Committee of Bombay, dated the 8th of March 1779, he tays he never faw or figned the Letter to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn; and in a Letter of the 16th of February Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn fays he received Orders from Mr. Carnac, in Presence of Lacutenant Richardson, to retreat; that he desired a written Order, which was promited to be fent him, though it never was.

And the Committee find it reported by Messieurs Carnac and Egerton, that the Enemy having obtained Intelligence of their Moving, attacked them on the March before Day-light, and continued the Attack with great Vigour till Two in the Afternoon; that the numerous Bodies of Horse rendered dered it impossible to protect the Baggage, and that Part of it fell into the Enemy's Hands; that fome Loss was suffered; that in Justice to the Troops, both Europeans and Sepoys, they with Plcafure declare that they behaved with the utmost Intrepidity and Alacrity during the whole Attack. That they shall continue their March to Condolah, and expect to be much harrassed; but the Army will be rendered as compact as Circumstances will admit, and every Part of the Baggage not absolutely necessary will be reduced by the commanding Officer.

As Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn was in Command of the Army, the Committee will state his Account of the Action of the 12th of January, as transmitted in the following Letter to Governor

Hornby, dated the 13th of January:

" To the Honourable William Hornby, Efquire.

" Honourable Sir,

"I did myfelf the Honour of informing you of our Arrival at Tellagon on the 9th inflant. We halted here the 10th and 11th; and it being determined by the Committee that the Army could not proceed any further, but was under the Necessity of retreating immediately, I accordingly gave out Orders for the March at 11 o'Clock at Night, in Hopes, by leaving our Ground at that Hour, to gain a Day's March of the Enemy, before they could know of this Step; but in this I was did appointed, for I found they had got Intelligence of it before we moved, which must have been conveyed to them by some treacherous Persons about Ragoba. About 2 o'Clock a large Party of Horse strict attacked our advanced Guard, which had got on some Distance from the main Body. On Account of the Confusion occasioned by the vast Quantity of Baggage, and the Badness of some Part of the Road, they unfortunately took a great deal of our Baggage and Camp Equipage in this Attack; however, the advanced Guard reached this Village about Day-light, with a great deal of the Provisions and Ammunition safe.

"Our main Body was attacked about Four o'Clock on the Rear and both Flanks; and as we were frequently obliged to halt and fire some Guns at them, it retarded our March, and gave them Time to bring up their Cannon, which obliged us to form in the best Manner we could to oppose them. It was shortly after Day-light when the Attack became general, but the Weight of it tell principally on Captain Hartley's Division, which I supported with Europeans and Sepoys at different Times. From the Situation of the Ground I found it impracticable to join the whole Line to Captain Hartley's Division, as there were large Bodies of Horse ready to charge us, when they found us in such a Situation that we could not use our Guns. The Attack continued till 4 o'Clock in the Asternoon before we could retire, which was effected at last with much Danger. The Troops during the whole Time behaved with the greatest Bravery. I am truly forry to convey such disagreeable News to you; the last Time I wrote I had no Thoughts of any thing of this Kind happening. I now enclose you a Return of the Killed, Wounded, and Missing. They have engaged us all this Day with small Arms from their Arabs, &c. and a very heavy Cannonade; fortunately we have not suffered much, and we obliged the Arabs to give way at last. It is not determined when the Army marches, I wait the Committee's Orders.

Barragam, 13th January 1779. "I have the Honour to be, with great Respect,

Honourable Sir,

Your most obedient and most humble Servant,

William Cockburn."

And your Committee find the following Return made of the Killed, Wounded, and Miffing, dated the 12th of January 1779, amounting in the Whole to 362.

PENDIX, Nº 130.

And the Committee find the following general Orders issued by the Commander in Chief, the 12th. of January:

General Orders issued at Burgaum.

" Tuesday, 12th January 1779.

"The commanding Officer is so extremely satisfied with the gallant Behaviour of the Troops in es general, that he orders that a Week's Pay be given to the Europeans and Sepoys; and returns the officers his public Thanks for their cool and spirited Conduct, and in a particular Manner to Cap" tain Hartley, not only on that Account, but his Judgment as an Officer.

Colonel Egerton having by Accident been an Eye Witness of Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn's " Conduct this Day, cannot help expressing his highest Approbation thereof; and is willing to hope,

" that this will be a strong Recommendation of him to the Board.

Rich Campbell, Adj' General."

And the Committee find, on the Poona Diary the 13th of January, the following Parts. culars:

- " A Committee held to deliberate relative to Overtures for the peaceable Return of the Army to "Bombay. No Minutes taken, being in a severe Cannonade, and a Number of Persons standing
 - " Letter to the Peshwa, sent by Ramsing.

" D' from D', in Answer.

" Do to Do, at Night."

But the Committee find no Copy of the Letters faid to have been fent to the Peshwa on the 13th of January, nor of his Answer, in any Proceedings transmitted from Bombay.

And the Committee find, that Mr. Farmer, Secretary to the Poona Committee, was fent to the Miratta Camp to propose an Accommodation, which they judged might be effected by Ragoba going over to Scindia; and which they observe he seemed determined to do, rather than risque another Day's March with the Army.

The Message sent to the Marattas was as follows:

- " That having had Assurances given us, that the Establishment of Ragoba in the Regency of the " Maratta Empire was a Measure much wished for by many of the Sirdars of the Maratta Sircar,
- " as well as by the Country in general, we had confented to conduct him with an English Army for " that Purpose; but contrary to our Hopes and Expectations we found his Establishment opposed
- 46 by the whole Empire: That we had feen with infinite Concern, the Country laid wafte and de-
- " ftroyed at our Approach; which being fo very contrary to our Intentions by espousing the Cause of
- "Ragoba, that we were determined to be the Occasion of no farther Desolation, and were therefore resolved to march back with the Army to Bombay: That after this Declaration, we expected all
- " Hostilities would cease; and, by so doing, Peace and Friendship would be established between the
- "English and the Maratta State. If, on the other Hand, we should experience the least Act of Hostility on our March, we should consider it as a Declaration of War against the English

" Nation."

Par. 62.

The Answer of the Durbar to Mr. Farmer was, " That if we wished to remain at Peace with " them, Ragonath Row must be delivered up, and then we may return quietly; otherwise we may " do as we pleafe."

The Committee wrote to Mr. Farmer in Reply, "That all Difficulty of Accommodation was to " moved, by Ragoba's Defign of going over to Mhadjee Scindia; and that they expected, in coalequence, proper Securities from the Durbar for proceeding unmolested on their March.'

On the Diary of the 15th of January, there appears a Letter from Mr. Farmer, flating the Refult of his Conference with the Durbar. He reports, that having informed them of the Difficulty being removed by the Determination of Ragoba to deliver himself up to Scindia, and that he supposed the Army would therefore be suffered to return quietly to Bombay, Nannah observed in Reply, that as we had broken the Treaty concluded by Colonel Upton, we muit agree, before the Army moved, to abide by the Treaty concluded with the late Peshwa Nannah.

On pressing the Question, Whether, if Ragoba surrendered himself to Scindia, Hostages would be given for our proceeding unmolested to Bombay? it was answered, That the Surrender of Ragoba was of little Confequence; that a new Treaty must be made on the Spot with the Maratta State, because the Treaty made by Colonel Upton had been broken by the Invafion of their Country. Mr. Farmer conveys his Ideas of the Advantage obtained over our Army by the Marattas in the following Words

"They feem to me to feel themselves in that Situation, with respect to us, which the Turkish Vicasi " felt himself in with respect to Peter the First, at the Time when the Empress Catherine sent in her

Jewels to the Vizier.' It appears that Scindia prefided at the Durbar on that Occasion; who finally told Mr. Farmer, that whether there be Peace or War, it was equal to him; but that having broken the Treaty made with with Colonel Upton, we must on the Spot set about forming a new Treaty, to serve as a suture Guide between the Maratta State and the English.

At this Juncture Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn was called upon by the Committee to give his Opinion in Writing relative to the Practicability of marching back the Army to Bombay; which was done in the following Words; viz.

Being called upon for my Opinion on the Possibility of making a Retreat to Bombay, I must declare, that I think the same utterly impracticable. Our Troops are already much harrassed and dispirited, from the Necessity we were under of retiring from Tullagaon; and were we to sustain another Attack from the Maratta Army, I am of Opinion the Troops would not stand it; and that consequently the whole Army, with its numerous Followers, would be cut to Pieces. But the Distance from Panwell being about Forty-sive Miles, it is not the Attack of One Day we should have to sustain; as I think, were it possible to move from hence, that we could not gain that Place in Twenty Days; and it is therefore chimerical to the last Degree to suppose that our small Army could support themselves from the daily Attacks they would be certain of for so long a Period. I therefore cannot charge myself to conduct the Army, under such Circumstances, to Bombay; and Humanity must prompt some other Method than an Attempt to retire in the Face of the whole Strength of the Maratta Empire, with such a Handful of Men, who must in such Case be sacrificed.

(Signed) William Cockburn."

" Camp at Wurgaon, "15th January 1779."

At the Close of the Poona Diary, immediately after the Proceedings of the 22d of January, it flands recorded, that the Committee met the 15th at Wurgaon, to take into Confideration the Meafures necessary to be immediately adopted for extricating the Army from its very critical Situation, incrounded by the whole Strength of the Maratta Empire, and with only about Ten Days Provisions in Camp:

That Colonel Egerton's Opinion was also required, and that his declared Sentiments were the same with those of Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, that a Retreat in their then Situation was impracticable, and if attempted, the Consequence must be the Loss of the whole Army.

Mr. Carnac's Opinion is then recorded as follows, viz.

"Mr. Carnac is fo confident the Army is sufficiently numerous, and so well provided with Artillery, as to be able to force their Way back against all Opposition, if the Officers and Men will do their Duty: That there is no Doubt with him the Attempt ought to be made at all Events, rather than submit to the Terms prescribed by the Enemy, to which we have no Authority to bind our Employers. And for his own Part, he declares, he would much sooner run his Share of the Risk, than that they should be complied with. However, as Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn have given it as their positive Opinions, that the Troops will not stand, and consequently must be cut to Pieces, Mr. Carnac dares not take upon himself singly to press a Retreat, which it is pronounced will be inevitably attended with Consequences that cannot fail of endangering the Preservation of the Settlement. He therefore, however reluctantly and contrary to his own Sentiments, finds himself obliged to concur in the Acceptance of whatever Conditions can be obtained. Allowing, therefore, that the Opinions of Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn be well founded (in which we are given to understand many Officers in the Army also concur) there seems to be no other Resource left, but to accept of such Conditions as can be obtained from the Enemy.

(Signed) John Carnac."

In the Margin of the Diary of the 22d of January it is noted, that the above Minutes were omitted in the proper Place, through the Milapprehension of the Committee's Secretary, and without the Knowledge of Mr. Carnac.

Colonel Egerton has disavowed and protested against the said Minutes; and in regard to the written Opinion of Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, he has declared, in his Letter to the Governor General and Council of Bengal, that he never saw it till it was read at the Board at Bombay; but he there allows it to have been founded on solid Reasons and uncontrovertible Facts. The Colonel adds, that he is much at a Loss to conceive how he could be said to have concurred in Colonel Cockburn's Opinion at a Committee which was never held, and in a written Opinion which he never saw, till produced at Bombay; and he has also declared, that the greatest Part of the Diary was spunious and inadmissible.

Mr. Farmer, the Secretary to the Poona Committee, was on Service at the Maratta Durbar, on the 15th of January; Mr. Carnac has therefore appealed to other Perfons to authenticate such Proceedings of that Day as have been disavowed by Colonel Egerton; and the following Letters on the Subject stand recorded on the Proceedings of the Select Committee of the 10th of March 1779:

E N D I X, Nº 130.

Letter from Mr. Sibbald to the Secretary.

To Mr. Edward Ravenscroft, Secretary.

Sir,

I have received your Letter of Yesterday's Date, acquainting me that the Honourable the Se lest Committee require of me a clear and full Statement of the Circumstances relative to a Meeting of the I'oona Committee at Worgaum on the 15th January: In Answer to which I have to acquain them,

That being defired on that Morning to attend at Colonel Egerton's Tent, in confequence of a Letter just received from Mr. Farmer of the 14th, I concluded that the Meeting was a Committee and prepared to take Minutes accordingly, by beginning the usual Preamble; but the immediate Dispatch of the Answer to Mr. Farmer's Letter being required, I did nothing more while in the Tethat Morning, than writing the Letter to Mr. Farmer, and taking a Transcript of it for the Dary, but fo foon after as I got a Place to write in, which I believe was the next Day, I took Minutes of what passed in Argument on the 15th, to the best of my Recollection, which I shewed to Mr. Carnec, and he thought them nearly expressive of his own Sentiments; but not demning them sufficiently full, he then delivered me his Opinion more at large, when a fair Copy was made of the Minutes, and figured by him, and afterwards prefented by me to Colonel Egerton.

Bombay, 2d March 1779. Lam, Sir, Your most obedient humble Servant, James Sibbald

Letter from Lieutenant Colonel Hartley to Mr. Carnac.

Sel, Conf. 10th March

Sir, In Answer to your Letter of Yesterday, where you defire to know if I recollect what pushed at Colonel Egerton's Tent at Worgaum on the 15th January last; I have to inform you, that I perfectly remember you there declared, (where Colonel Egerton, Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, Mr. Sibbald, Mr. Holmes, and myfell, were prefent) that you were decidedly of Opinion, that the Aimy oughts: all Events to attempt a Retreat, and not fubmit to the mortifying Terms proposed by the Frenk, but that as Colonel Fgerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn declared their Opinion, that the Army could not make good their Retreat, and that the Troops would not stand another Attack, you could not take upon you, under such Circumstances, to press a Retreat.

I have the Honour to be, Sir,

Bombay. 5th March 1779. Your most obedient humble Servant, James Hartley.

Letter from Mr. Holmes to Mr. Carnac.

Sc) Conf. reth Maich 17 9.

I have a perfect Recollection of the Opinion delivered at the Meeting held in Colonel Egetton's Tent at Worgaum the 15th January last, where yourself, Colonel Egerton, I scutenant Colonel Cock burn, Captain Hartley, Mr. Sibbald, and myfelf, were prefent; and I well teaten ber you declare. in Prefence of us all, that you were decidedly of Opinion the Army ought at all Events to attempt a Retreat, rather than fubmit to the extravagant Terms proposed by the Enemy; but that as the j 🤄 cipal Officers, Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, had declared it as their Opinio the Army could not make good a Retreat, and that the Troops would not fland another Attache ? could not, under fuch Circumstances, take upon you fingly to press a Retreat.

Bombay, 9th March 1779. I am with Regard, Sir, Your most obedient humble Servant, Thomas Holates.

And the Committee find the following. Answer, dated the 15th of January, returned by Messaco Carnac and Egerton to Mr. Farmer's Representation of the Durbar's Demands:

To Mr. William Gamul Farmer.

Sir, We received your Letter of last Night only an Hour go, the Hircarrahs having been detained by some Accident: In Answer to which you must acquaint the Durbar, that they denoted what we have no Power to agree to; the entering into and con-luding Trenties being folely confined to the Government nor General and Council of Calcutta; to whom therefore they must fend their Vackeels. The only Power left to us, 18, the giving up the Cau'e and Person of Ragonaut Row; which done, must certainly put an End to all Duputes between the English and the Maratta State; and there is no Doubt that Peace and Friendship will then subfift between us from henceforwards.

You must inform them, should we oncer into any Treaty, we should only deceive them, having no fuch Powers; we therefore define they will immediately acquaint us, whether, upon our abiding by the Conditions first proposed, or delivering up Ragoba, they will comply on their Parts, by fuffering us to march unmokested to Bombay, and for which Purpose, to give us the necessary Se-We are, Sir, curities.

Wurgaon, 15th January 1779: Your obedient Servants, J. Carnac, C. Egerton.

And after writing the above Letter to Mr. Farmer, it was refolved immediately to diffatch Mr. Thomas 1 shows to Scinds, with full Powers to lettle with the Durbar for the peaceable Return of Bonday, on juch Conditions as he make the able to obtain, fince it was the Opinion of the the Army in hief, that a Retreat was impracticable. Commande

o the Poona Committee's Letter, stating their Want of Powers to make Treaties, Mr. In $A \sim$ bar Madjee S india defires to be informed, by what Authority they had broken Farmer nel Uiton? If the Governor General and Council had authorized the Measure, that in to lee the Authority; otherwise, if the Committee had acted on their own Authority, they he deli most answer it, and make a new Agreement: That Ragoba might be furrendered, or otherwise, as we pleafed; but till a new Treaty were made between the English and the Maiatta State, our Army must resease where it was, whatever might be the Confequence.

At 10 o'Clock in the Evening of the 15th of January, Mr. Holmes arrived with Terms for the peaceable Return of the Army to Bombay; to which, the Committee declare, nothing but the avowed Opinion of the principal Officers, relative to the Impracticability of effecting a Reticat, would justify their accoding. They also declared, that the Durbar could not be ignorant of the want of Power in the Committee to conclude fuch a Treaty as the Durbar then preferibed, and evidently compelled them to enter into, because they were already informed, that the Committee had no Powers to conclude any Treaty whatever.

In the Morning of the 16th of January, Mr. Holmes was difpatched to the Maratta Camp, to finish the Agreement; of which a tough Sketch had been prepared the preceding Day. In the Evening Messicurs Farmer and Holmes returned with Scinda's Vackeels, to see the Treaty duly exccuted by the Committee; and also with a separate. Article in Favour of Madjee Scindia, to which Meffieurs Farmer and Holmes had been obliged to content.

By the Treaty with the Durbar on the one Part, and the English Company on the other, it is stipulated,

That the English shall remain on the fance Footing as they were in the Time of Madatow:

That the Mands of Sallette, O can, and other itlands and Places, shall be given up:

Alto Jamboofeer, and the Duli. its of Broach:

Alfo Chickly, Venow, &c.

And the Bengal Detachment ordered back to Calcutta: Which Mefficurs Carnac and Egerton promile faithfully to perform; and for which Performance they pledge the English Faith.

And concerning the above Agreement, it is neted, That Mr. John Carnac and Colonel Charles Egerton, of the Select Commutee of Bombay, being fully empowered, did depute Mr. Thomas Holmes and Mr. Farmer.

The separate Atticle is stiled an Agreement between John Carnac, Esquire, Counsellor, and Colonel Charles Everton, an English Committee of Bombay, with Madjee Scindia.

And the Terms of that Agreement being more extraordinary and degrading than the public Treaty, the Commutee have thought it right to infert the Jame in this Place without any Abridgment.

Agreement of John Carnac, Esquire, Counsellor, and Colonel Egerton, an English Consulttee of Bombay, with Madjee Scindia.

That after falling out with the Sucar of Mhaderow Narrain Pundit Purdhan, we with an Army came upon the Gaut, and remained at Tollagaun; on which you pordered a Fighting, and we, both Parties did fight, in which we were dereated, returned back, and encamped at Worgaon with Dada ‡ Saheb. We a could hardly reach Bombay with our Army and Stores; confidering which, we fent Mellis, Farmer and Holmes to you, defiring you § would come between us, and get the Sircais and our Treaty fettled as before, and conduct us and the Army to Bombay. On which you did fulpend the War; you came between us, and got the Sircar's and the English Treaty with di, and you promifed to conduct us and the Army to Bombay without Moleflation from any body; you made our Eicape entirely; all which we took into our Confideration, and were very glad. with you: This came into our Mind; and we were fatisfied that you made us free from the Sircar's and every Body's Molestation, and got the Treaty settled as before, without any Dispute from the Sircar; therefore we thought we should serve you; and for which Reason have, of our free Will and Accord, agreed, under the King's and Company's Seal, to deliver up to you the Fort of Broach, with its Government, in the same Manner the Mogul did hold it; which Fort is now in our Possession, and which we have given you. We further agree that we will, on our Arrival at Bombay, obtain the Governor's Dustuck, under the King's Seal, to the Killedar of Broach, and deliver the Fort and us Country, in the Manner the Mogul did hold it, up to you. Under Oath, no Dispute shall arise in this. This we promife folemnly; and we have left Mr. Farmer and Mr. Charles Stewart with you, as Hostages for the Performance of this Agreement. We will let no Dispute arise. This we agree to in Writing.

And Your Committee find, that on concluding the above Treaties, Presents were made by the Poona Committee to Officers of the Durbar, to the Amount of 41,000 Rupees, for which Noice were given.

And Your Committee find it minuted by Mr. Carnac on the Proceedings of the Select Committee at Bombay, the 16th of March 1779, "That having, fince his Return from the Expedition, peruled the Translation of the Treaty and separate Article, he finds them conceived in such Terms, that le should certainly have objected thereto at the Time of Signature, had they been literally explanated to him; but that he only understood the Contents in general Terms; and indeed was the more madificrent as to the particular wording of them, as he always bore in his Mind the Idea that they write of no Validity, and would never be ratified by their Superiors.'

And Your Committee find, that Mr. William Gamul Farmer, late Secretary to the Poona Committee, and Lieutenant Charles Stewart, were left as Hoslages for the Performances of the Treaties concluded by the Poona Committee..

tter from

And Your Committee likewise find, that the Whole of the above Transactions were compleated March 1779, before the Select Committee of Bombay could be informed thereof.

After the Conclusion of the Treaty, Mr. Carnac addressed Governor Hornby as follows:

It is with the deepest Grief and Indignation I have to inform you, the Army is returning very difgracefully to Bombay. Indeed, the Commander in Chief, the Second in Command, and I fear to many more of the Officers are unfortunately so forcibly impressed with the Idea that the Troops would throw down their Arms, and fuffer themselves to be cut to Pieces if attacked on the March by the Enemy, that I am confident they would, rather than have made the Attempt, submitted to any Conditions, even to the Whole of the Forces furrendering themselves Prisoners of War, and remaining as Hostages till Bombay was delivered up, if this had been insisted on. I most certainly recommend your keeping a profound Secret what I now communicate, except that the Army is on its Way back, until I see you; and you may depend upon my coming forwards with Mr. Holmes, so soon as it can be done with Safety.

You will be pleafed to order Boats immediately to Bellapore for the Reception of the Troops; and will endeavour to get a Letter conveyed to Mr. Carnegie, directing him to tend thither what Boats can be collected at Carranjah.

etter from, 7th March 779, Par. 71.

And Your Committee find that Meffrs. Carnac and Egerton, the 16th of January 1779, directed Colonel Goddard to march back with the Army under his Command to Bengal; and that Two Pays afterwards countermanded that Order.

That on the 17th of January the Bombay Troops began their March back to Bombay, and were escorted by a Party of Maratta Horse to Panwell, which they reached in Seven Days, and from whence they were transported to Bombay.

Notwithstanding the general Character given of the Troops by Mr. Carnac, Your Committee find that he afterwards subscribed to an Exception, which, in the Opinion of this Committee, would have fully justified his issuing the most positive Orders for the Army to attempt to force a Retreat to Bombay.

In the Letter of the Select Committee, dated the 27th of March 1779, Par. 128, which is figure by Mr. Carnac, it is stated, that Captain Hartley, on that trying Occasion, notwithstanding the Cotagion of bad Example, infifted upon it, that he could depend on the Men which he had commanded. that he astually put a Stop at once to Defertion, so far as the Limits of his Command extended, that when confulted, he urged every Argument to attempt the forcing of a Retreat, rather than fubmit to the humiliating Terms prescribed by the Enemy; that he even formed, and presented to Colonel Cockburn, the necessary Disposition for conducting the Retreat, and for avoiding Inconceniencies refulting from a Night March, and the Division of the Troops.

Having stated the above Particulars, your Committee remark, that the Army was only 18 Miles, or about 2 Days March, from the Summit of the Ghauts, and about 16 Miles, or 2 Days Ma ch, from Poona, on the 11th of January, when Orders were given to match back towards Condolah; that Advice had just been received of Moraba's Horse being in the Conkan to act in Favour of Ragoba; that the Commissary had 18 Days Provisions in Store; and that Ragoba had promised a Self titles from, further Supply; that in every preceding Skirmish, the Enemy had been worsted, and compelled to 17 19, Part 57. retreat; that the Troops were in Spirits, and intrepid; that no Council of War was called at Tullagaon to take the Sense of the Officers of the Army on the Necessity of retreating; that although the Order for the Retreat of the Army on the 11th of January was the joint Act of Mr. Carnac and Colonel Egerton, yet as Mr. Carnac had a casting Vote in the Poona Committee, and possessed in Fact supreme Authority in Camp at the Time, he was more particularly responsible for that

And it appears by the Return of the Commanding Officer, that our Loss of Men in the Action of the 12th of January, was not very great; the general Orders of the Day express his extreme Satisfaction with their gallant Behaviour in general; the Officers were publicly thanked for their cool and spirited Conduct; and Captain Haitley was particularly distinguished for his Judgment as an Officer: It is allowed that there were Ten Days Provisions in Camp after the Action; it is afferted by the Select Committee, that the Officer last mentioned declared he could rely upon the Men he commanded, and urged every Argument in favour of forcing a Retreat rather than fubmit to the Terms prescribed by the Enemy: It cannot be doubted, that Mr. Carnac continued in Possession of Authority without Controul, except to make Treaties; he was consident, it the Officers and Men did their Duty that the Army was fufficiently numerous, and fo well provided with Artillery as to be able to force their Way back against all Opposition; he had no Doubt but the Attempt ought to have been made; his Words are, "at all Events rather than fub"mit to the Terms prescribed by the Enemy;"—yet, under all Circumstances, rather than press a Retreat, he ventured to pledge the English Faith, in the most solemn and sacred Manner, for the Observance of Treaties, of which he owns he did not at the Time expect the Confirmation. He flipulated to obtain the Governor's Dufluck for delivering up the Company's Poffessions to the Marattas, and gave Hostages for the due Performance of extraordinary Agreements, under mental Referentians and pre-conceived Ideas that they were of no Validity, and would never be ratified by his Superiors.

And your Committee do not find that any Censure has been passed on Mr. John Carnac at Bombay; nor that any Enquiry has been made by the Select Committee into his Conduct and Behaviour during the late Expedition.

And upon the most impartial Review of the whole Conduct of Mr. Carnac during the late Expedition towards Poona, and after duly confidering all the Circumstances relative thereto, the Committee are unanimously of Opinion that Mr. John Carnac be dismissed from his Office, as one of the Council and Select Committee of Bombay.

Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn.

And your Committee find, That on the 29th of January 1779, Governor Hornby delivered in Litter from, And your Committee find, That on the 29th of January 1779, Governor Tromby tichvered in Linux to the formal Charge against Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, for refusing to charge Part 100. Also hopefulnes with constitutions, the Army from Burgaum to Bombay: and that the faid Charge was Sel. Conf. themselves with conducting the Army from Burgaum to Bombay; and that the said Charge was grounded on the written Opinion of Colonel Cockburn, concurred in by Colonel Egerton, above-

In Support of this Charge, the Governor remarked, that the general Order of Thanks to the Troops, for their Behaviour on the 12th of January, sufficiently demonstrated that the said Opinion was totally void of Foundation: That the satal Influence and Insection of such Opinions, when idopted by Officers in fuperior Command, was well known: That it was not a Matter of Wonder f, under such Sanction, similar Sentiments had gained some Ground: That this however could not be admitted in Extenuation; and supposing it true, the Commanding Officers could not be illowed to support their unfoldierly Sentiments by the Authority of their inferior Officers.

Your Committee do not find that any Circumstance respecting the different Sentiments and Opinion expressed by Captain Hartley, relative to the Propriety of attempting to force a Retreat, is stated in the Select Letter of the 27th of March, Par. 128, was mentioned by Governor Horn-Dy (or by any Member of the Select Committee) when the Governor delivered in his Charge against Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn; nor at any Time before the Date of the faid Letter.

And your Committee find, that Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn has acknowledged, in his Letter of he 16th of February 1779, that he gave the written Opinion already stated: That it contained his eal Sentiments of the Army's Situation: That having remained at Burgaum the 13th of January, vithout any Thing being determined, cannonaded as usual by the Enemy; an European Officer of Sepoys informed him at 8 in the Evening, that he could not get his Company to do their Duty Rer. on the Rear Guard; that the Black Officers would not affift him; that it was apprehended the intended to defert in the Night:—That upon this Information, he ordered Captain Samper to be a Samper to be a sample to be a s the Rear Guard, with a View to look after the Sepoys: That another European Officer, from the 6th Battalion, brought him Reports equally difagreeable; that Ragoba informed him that 300 Scroys intended to defert that Night; and that Mr. Sibbald, at Midnight, communicated is fame Intelligence; that the Language of the Europeans proved them to have been greatly along ed, dejected, and dispirited; that it was by no Means correspondent with their former Steadings that in spite of all Precautions 11 Black Officers and 155 Men, Europeans, Sepoys, and Laker, defert; that both Europeans and Sepoys continued to to do till after they left Burgaum; that had another Attack as that of the 12th of January, would nearly have exhaufted their Ammunition 11's the Army was reduced 2,138 Rank and File; that 300 Sick and Wounded were to be taken (4) of; that the very Existence of the Army necessitated him to give the Opinion he delivered; that Colonel Egerton was convinced of the Propriety thereof.

And your Committee find, that Colonel Cockburn has denied having absolutely refered to charge himself with the conducting of the Troops to Bombay; and declared, that all he rac at was, that as he did not think it possible to effect a Retreat, he could not be answerable for the ba Confequences which he foretaw would follow; that if Mr. Carnae had ordered it to be art naped he should not have disobeyed him, whatever Consequences might have enfued; that Mr. Care was all powerful; that the only Responsibility resting with the Commanding Officer was, for the Mode of executing any military Measure, but not for the Measure itself.

That Major Dagon had also wrote and signed an Opinion, which agreed with that of $1 \pm c_{ m obj}$ Colonel Cockburn, as to the Impossibility of a Retreat; that such Opinion was ready to he would delivered, but not demanded by Mr. Carnac.

That he had on former Occasions hazarded his Life in the Service, and repeatedly led the Conpany's Troops in Attacks which have been attended with Honour, and produced great Ad (1997) to the Company; and that Mr. Gurnac himself had passed Encomiums on his Mode of certific the Troops, both in advancing and retreating, during the late Service; though now, for 19 Or nion only given to the best of his Judgment, he was to be stigmatized, and in a Manner excess. the Service.

Letter from, 17th Mar 1779, Par- 101.

And your Committee find, that when Governor Hornby preferred the Charge against Lie terant Colonel Cockburn and Colonel Fgerton, he would have thought himself justified in moving for the Suspension from the Service, if they had not agreed to decline all military Duty until ther Conduct and the late Transactions should have been stated to the Governor General and Council and their Opinion respecting the Propriety of continuing the said Officers in, or of dismissing their from the Company's Service, should be received; by which Opinion he declared it his Interner to be guided. And your Committee find, that the Case of Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, as well as that of Colonel Egerton, together with all Proceedings relative to the late Expedition, have been transmitted for the Consideration of the Governor General and Council accordingly.

Your Committee do not find that the Select Committee of Bombay have informed him tenant Colonel Cockburn, of their being in Possession of the Facts stated in their Letter of the 27th of March, concerning Captain Hartley's Opinion for attempting to force a Retreat.

And Your Committee find, that Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn entertained the highest Opinion of Captain Hartley's Abilities, previous to the Action of the 12th of January, as appears by the following Extracts of private Correspondence during the Expedition.

Extract of a Letter from Governor Hornby to Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn, dated the 5th January 1779.

"There is one other Point on which I must desire to be no less pressing; which is, my Recommendation of Captains Hartley and Stewart to you. I can affure you, that in this I count mean any personal Mark of Favour to either of them; but that the general Good of the Same is my only Object."

Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn's Answer, dated the 8th of January 1779. "You cannot have a higher Opinion of Captain Hartley than I have; and I am fo well corvinced of his great Abilities as an Officer, and exceeding Zeal to promote the Service, that is justly merits every Attention and Considence from me. He was appointed by Colonel Egerton of take the Command of the Grenadier Corps, when it became vacant a few Days ago, by the in a lamentable and unfortunate Accident of the Death of Captain Stewart."

Select Conf. 26 Mar.

And Your Committee find, that on the 13th Day of March 1779, Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn entreated that a Court Martial might be ordered, to try him upon the Charge delivered in against him by the Governor: That he was acquainted in Answer, that as a Reference to the Cveinor General and Council had been agreed upon, and accepted by him, and the necessary Papers prepared for their Information, there would be an Impropriety in withdrawing the Decil a from their Cognizance; for which Reason, Lieutenant Colonel Cockburne's Request for a Court Martial was not granted. And Your Committee remark, that the Date of the Request for a Court Martial, is Six Weeks after the Charge had been preferred against him by Governor

And Your Committee having maturely and deliberately confidered the Conduct of Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn during the late Expedition, are unanimously of Opinion, that he be dismissed the Service of the Company.

Promotion of Captain James Hartley.

And your Committee find the following Observations and Resolutions entered by the Select Connectee of Bombay, on their Proceedings of the 1st of February 1779; viz.

" The rear Importance in our prefent critical Situation, of having an Officer at the Head of our Insee Conduct we may fafely rely; and the Justice we owe to the Service, of distinguishing those who emmently fignalized themselves on the late unfortunate Expedition, unite in pointing out Captain James Hartley; who, on both Confiderations, is intitled to our First Notice in the Arrangements now indispensably necessary to be made amongst the Field Oshicers. Since Colonel Fgerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn have chofe to decline all Military Duty and Command, and the Death of Lieutenant Colonel Cay, the chief Command of the Infantry has devolved by Seniority to Major Emanuel Hanney, who, on his first Appointment as a Field Officer, was barred from further Promotion, and whom, on the 5th of last Month, we found it necessary to superlede in the Field, by giving a Lieutenant Colonel's Commission to Major Dagon of the Artillery: It is therefore decined in no respect proper to advance him to a higher Rank, or to continue him in Command of our Infantry; neither do we judge that Major Frederick, the next Officer flanding, possesses sufficient Experience to qualify him for so important a Charge, in these very critical Times.

" In looking over our whole military Lift, no Officer appears to fit for this Command as Captain Hartley; his Behaviour in a Courfe of Fourteen Years Service has been unexceptionable, and to his Conduct and Intrepidity are we principally indebted for the Preservation of our whole Army in the Action of the 12th ultimo. His Merit as an Officer on the late Service is particularly acknowledged in the General Orders given out by Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn and Colonel Egerton, immediately after the Action, as entered hereafter. To which Mr. Carnac adds his Tellimony, in a Manner much to Captain Hartley's Henour.

" In these Circumstances, and prompted by our Desire to reward such distinguished Merit, we do unanimously resolve to appoint Captain James Hartley a Lieutenant Colonel of Infantry, and strongly solicit the Honourable Company to confirm this Appointment; trusting that the Uncommonness of the Step, and the Reluctance we must naturally feel to all Supercession, will be a Conviction to them of the Grounds and Necessity for this Measure.

" We also confider it equally incumbent on us to confer Marks of our Novice on the other Officers, who particularly diffinguished themselves on the late Service; and on this Principle it is unanimously refolved to confer, unfolicited, a Major's Commission on Captain Ju. Westphall, the Semor Captain of Artillery, to which he has a Right by Seniority, and the late Promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Dagon, and which he amply ments by his Ability and fignal good Behaviour.

Captain John Bellas, of the Artillery; having likewife deservedly attracted our Notice, it is unanimoully resolved to appoint him Director of the Laboratory, for which he is well qualified, and which will be vacated by the Promotion of Lieutenant Colonel Dagon, and the Necessity of his attending to his other Avecations as Commandant of Artillery.

" Captain Alexander Cadger, of the Infantry, having also behaved in a diffinguished Manner, Refolved unanimously, that he be confirmed in Command of the 5th Battahon of Sepoys, vacant by the Death of Captain James Stewart.

" Licutenant I homas Dawton having proved himfelf a brave and active Officer on the and every other Service on which he has been employed, it is unanimoufly Relolved, in order to convince the Army that we will spare no Essort to reward Merit, to give Captains Brevets to Three Senior Onicers, that the Promotion may reach Lieutenant Dawson, who is also to have a Captain's Brevet. The Three Officers to to be promoted are, Lieutenants Lendrum, Bowles, and Peche; and we are glad to mention, that Lieutenant Bowles, who was on the late Service, has by his Behaviour mented fome Mark of our Notice.

" Lieutenant John Colb tch, who is a Senior Officer to Lieutenant Dawlon, not being effected properly qualified for a Captain's Commission, is not included in this Promotion.

Lieutenant John Rattray, of the Bengal Effablishment, who arrived from England in the Rocal Henry, and went a Volunteer on the Expedition, where, in the most trying Situations, he pave comnent Proofs of his Skill and Conduct as an Officer, Refolved unanimoutly, that our Than! he givet. him in General Orders; and as we shall be very glid to add tuch a valuable Officer to the Establish.

ment, it is further unanimously resolved to offer him a Captain's Commission, to rank next it

Captain Dawson.
"Lieutenants James Jackson, and S' Lo Thomas, of the Artillery, having also merited particular Notice, the former is appointed Affishant to the Director of the Laboratory, and the latter confined in his Post of Adjutant, to which he was appointed on the Expedition.

" Lieutenants Waddington, Bannatyne, Macpharton, and Burchall, having also distinguished them felves in the Action of the 12th, we shall be glad to give those Officers further Proofs of our Senie of their good Behaviour when Opportunities offer; and it is now unanimously resolved to give out particular Thanks in the public Orders of this Garrison.

"Refolved unanimoully, That our Thanks in general be given to the Whole of the Officers whole Behaviour has been commended in the above Resolutions; and if any Instance of particular good Behaviour has escaped our Notice, we will with great Pleasure rectify the Omission.

"Refolved unanimoufly, That our Thanks be given to the Six Companies of Grenadier Seponstiat composed the Rear Division under Captain Hartley, for their gallant Behaviour on the 12th ultimus; and that Badges be given them to commemorate the Honour they gained on that Occasion.

"As in India Service in general, and particularly in our small Army, the Charge and Responsibility of each Captain is very great, and most dangerous Consequences may arise from improper Penons being promoted to that Rank, Resolved unanimously, and it must accordingly be signified to the Army, That the Lieutenants will not in future be promoted in Rotation to the Rank of Calitants either in the Infantry or Artillery, unless they shall be judged fully qualified for that Station."

30mbay Gen. feby 1779.

And Your Committee find, that on the 17th of February 1779, the Select Committee prefented to the Governor and Council the military Commissions which they had deemed it for the Good of the Service to grant to particular Officers; but the Select Committee did not think it proper to explica their Reasons for having granted the said Commissions, when it was recommended to the Board to less

And Your Committee find the following Minutes entered by Two Members of the Board, via were not Members of the Select Committee.

" Meffrs. Ramfay and Moore deliver in the following Minutes on the Occasion; and the obstacles Members declare, that by figning the Commissions they do not mean to take any Share of Responsibility for these Appointments.

"Mr. Ramfay figns the Commissions now presented to the Board, because the Select Committeers commend it as necessary for the Good of the Service, and because he thinks it will be agreeable to the Honourable Company, that the Board should co-operate with the Committee in every Measure which may be thought conducive to their Interest; but as these Commissions appear to Mr. Ramby to be a Deviation from the established Rules of the Service, and contrary to the express Orders of the Company, and as the Committee have not been pleased to communicate to the Board the Mottres which have induced them to grant them, Mr. Ramsay cannot possibly be a Judge of the Proporty or Necessity of the Measures, and therefore disclaims every Degree of Responsibility for the same, more especially as he is clearly of Opinion, from the 48th Paragraph of the Company's Instructions to the Governor General and Council at Bengal, to which the other Prefidencies are directed to conform, that no Board in India have a Power to grant a Field Officer's Commission.

"On this Occasion Mr. Ramsay begs Leave to remark the very disagreeable Predicament he and the other Members of the Board may be subjected to, by the Select Committee determining on Measures to which, as in the Instance now before us, it is necessary to have the Sanction of the Board's Signature, though the Members are deprived of the Means of judging of the Propriety of fuch Measures. Mr. Ramsay, for his own Part, has not a Doubt that the Power of granting Commissions alone rests with the Governor and Council; and consequently that all Appointments should originate with them, except in particular Instances, where, in the Course of military Operations under the immediate Direction of the Committee, it may become necessary to distinguish Merit. This Mr. Ramfay supposes to be the Case at present; but then he is of Opinion the Necessity of it should be explained to the Board, and they become the Judges; for it feems abfurd to suppose a Member of the Board can be obliged to give his Sanction to a Measure on which he has not been consulted.

" The Orders for the Institution of the Select Committee are certainly in such general Teres as may admit of their being construed in the very extensive Sense the Members seem to have taken They are to transact all political, military, and naval Affairs, and likewise all fuch as may require Secrecy. These are, no Doubt, very indefinite Orders; but Mr. Ramsay, taking the Sport and not the Letter of the Institution, conceives they are meant to extend only to such military and naval Affairs as may depend on political Measures, which the honourable Company very wifely think it proper to confine to a few, and by no Means intended to throw the whole military Detail of the Establishment into the Committee's Department. To effect this, the Mutiny Act must necessarily be repealed, or at least amended; and the Court of Directors must have feen the Necessity of revolving former Orders, whereby the supreme military Power is expressly vested in the Governor and Council, and they required to fign all Commissions. Had they meant to transfer these Powers to the Committee, they most certainly would have faid so in express Terms, and not have taken it for granted, that the Appointment of the Committee would fet aside all former Orders on the Subject. Mr. Ramfay requells this his Opinion may stand recorded; at the same Time declaring, that he will at all Times, when called upon, co-operate in earrying into Execution all Measures which the Committee may deem for the Company's Interest."

P P E N D I X, N° 130.

" Mr. Moore begs it may be minuted, that he figns the Commissions now presented to the Board by the Members of the Select Committee for figning, from the following Principles:

"1st. Because he has not a Doubt but the Members of the Select Committee, by giving the Commissions they now give to Colonel Hartley, Captain Dawson, and Captain Rattray, are convinced that it is necessary for the Good of the Service that such Commissions should be given, and that they are given as Rewards of diffinguished Merit.

" 2d. Because the Honourable the Court of Directors, in their Commands of the 10th April 1778, to the Board at large, express themselves, after appointing the present Select Committee for transacting all political, military, and naval Affairs, as follows:

" We direct, that all Orders and Instructions which shall be issued by our said Select Committee, " be iffued in the Name of the Prefident and Select Committee; and that all fuch Orders be impli-" citly obeyed by every Person in our Service, or enjoying our Protection, civil or mulitary, on Pain " of Sufpension, or of forfeiting our License and Protection."

"Mr. Moore further begs it may be minuted, that from the closest Consideration of the Power vested in the Select Committee, as above recited, he is of Opinion that the Select Committee are alone authorized to grant all military Commissions whatever, they alone being responsible for granting them. The Commissions now before the Board are, to Mr. Moore, Proofs that the Select Committee think themselves so authorized. Mr. Moore, therefore, his signing Commissions without being confulted as to the Propriety of granting them, Mr. Moore not only thinks unnecessary, but absurd, because it fixes his Name to a Measure which consequently carries with it the Appearance of Approbation. • When Mr. Draper prefented Lieutenant Colonel Dagon's Commission to the Board for figuing, We Moore then mentioned to Mr. Draper, which Commission was given by the Select Committee, Mr. Moore then mentioned to Mr. Draper, that as the Select Committee had granted the Commission, he thought the Select Committee alone should fign it. Mr Moore figned it, however, to avoid the Appearance of Singularity, because he thought the Occasion an urgent one, and because he never willies to enter a Minute, whether of Diffent or Observation, unless compelled to it from the Duty which he owes to the Company, to the Public, and to himfelf.

" The Commissions were then figured."

And the Select Committee of Bombay have most earnestly solicited the Court's Confirmation of Letter from, the Appointment of Captain Hartley as Lieutenant Colonel of Infantry, in order to convince the Army, that Support will be given to the Select Committee when the Good of the Service makes it requifite to diffinguish particular Officers. The Select Committee are forry to have acted contrary to the Court's Orders in the Promotion of Field Officers, but hope the Necessity of the Case will plead their Excuse; that on the Terms they are on with the Marattas, and at a Time of actual War with France, it would have been highly unjustifiable to have suffered their Military to remain for any Length of Time, without a commanding Officer qualified to preferve proper Discipline, or to lead them into the Field.

Par. 1224

That the Times required an Officer who had more to plead than merely not having committed Faults; they wanted an Officer of active and approved Merit, on whose Ability and Conduct they could depend for the Execution of any Service committed to him.

Par. 124

That the Lots of Captain Stewart had been feverely felt. That the Conduct of Captain Hartley, who on the Death of Captain Stewart Jucceeded to the Command of the advanced Division of the Army, did him Hononr; that if his judicious and spirited Counsel had been pursued, and the Army moved up the Line to support him, instead of ordering him to retreat to the Line, there is Reason to believe that the Fortune of the Day might have fecured our Honour, if not our Success; and that keeping his Ground till the inevitable Consequence of the Measure induced Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn to revoke his Order for retreating, was probably the chief Circumflance to which our Troops owed their Prefervation.

That when Two chief Officers were under Cenfure for Conduct opposite to that which the Select Committee are bound to support, and to that Spirit which it is their Duty to encourage; when Seniority, maintained by any Means, is pleaded by fo many Persons, and claims Promotion in Preference to diffinguished Merit and Services, it is impossible for the Select Committee to produce those general and decisive Testimonies in Favour of their Affertions and Opinions which they always wish to accompany them; that in the present critical Circumstances their own Interest is too much complicated with that of the Public, to suffer them to be swayed by Motives of partial or private Regard; and while they are confcious of having been guided by the Abilities, Integrity, Temper, and general Estimation of the Person, they believe they have paid such Attention to the Company's Interest as their Duty exacted; and they rely on that Support which the Personnance of Duty requires, and warrants them to hope for on the Occasion.

PPENDIX, N. 130.

Extract of Letter from the Court of Directors to the Select Committee of Bombay, dated 12th April 1780, Par. 1. Having duly attended to your Proceedings previous to the late Expedition towards Poona, we allow that your Resolution of the 21st of July was not improper, under the favourable Circum. stances stated by you at that Period; but the Change which happened soon afterwards in the Situation of Ragoba's Friends, and the Lapse of Time, from the 21st of July to the 22d of November, render. ed it extremely imprudent to undertake the Expedition at that Time.

2. The State of your Garrison, as represented by yourselves to Sir Edward Vernon in your Letter of the 8th of September 1778, could not warrant your sending so large a Force in Foreign Service at the Commencement of an European War, more especially when speedy Succour was rendered precarious, and consequently Success very doubtful by the disagreeable Alteration which had happened in the Situation of Ragoba's Friends.

3. Under the above Circumstances the Undertaking was evidently become hazardous, and not to be justified; the Reasons urged by Mr. Draper against it were solid and judicious; and you ought certainly to have waited the Arrival, or near Approach of the Bengal Detachment, before you attempted to reinstate Ragoba at Poona.

4. And although we are willing to hope, for the Reasons offered by the Majority in Answer to Mr. Draper's Differt, that you acted according to the best of your Judgment in undertaking to place Ragoba in the Regency at Poona in November 1778, we nevertheless consider you as having proceeded with great Indifcretion on that Occasion.

5. Your Appointment of a Member of the Select Committee, to accompany the Commander in Chief to Poona, was highly improper. By the Departure of the Commander in Chief and Mr. Carnac, the Governor having a casting Vote, became possessed in Fact of absolute Authouty, for transacting all Political, Military, and Naval Assairs, and such as require Secrecy, at Bombay. And as this Transaction militated against the Letter and Spirit of the Court's Orders of the 10th of April 1778, the Appointment of a Member of the Select Committee at Bombay, to accompany the Commander in Chief to Poona, must have our Disapprobation; and we declare the Majority of the said Committee very reprehensible for their Conduct in that Respect. We find the Commander in Chief protefted against the Measure; and we exempt Mr. Draper from this Centur, because, justly supposing it to be the Intent of the Company that none of the Civil Members of the Committee should be detached from the Presidency, if the Commander in Chief were to be absent also, Mr. Draper very properly delivered his Opinion in the Scleet Committee accordingly.

6. We find the Amount of Money due from Ragoba to the Company, is slated on your quick Stock the 30th Day of April 1777, at Rupees 24,72,775.

7. Your Payment of 80,000 Rupees to Mr. Shaw's Executors, and your Loan of 4 Lacks to Ragoba, and 15,000 Rupees to his Servants, befides Arms and Military Stores furnished for his Use, were unjustifiable Measures; more especially as so large a Sum as 1,50,00 Rupees was fint with the Troops, and as Authority was also granted to the Commissary and Paymaster to poss Drafts on the Select Committee for their necessary Disburtements during the Expedition; and we find that Bills have actually been accepted on that Account, to the Amount of Rupees, 2,28,529: Unless, therefore, you shall be able to produce better Reasons for having made the above Loans, and Payment, amounting to 4,95,000 Rupces, than appear to us at prefent, you must expect to be made responsible to the Company for the said Amount.

8. As a Select Committee, your granting of Military Commissions was unwarrantable; your presenting them to the Council for signing, without stating your Reasons for having granted them, was an Indignity to the Board; and the Council are very blameable for not rejecting every Come.

mission so presented by you as aforesaid.

9. Having noticed the above Particulars, we proceed to examine the Behaviour of fuch Perfons as were immediately concerned in conducting the late Expedition towards Poona.

10. The first Object that strikes us, is the slow Progress of the Army. This we deem an irreparable Injury to the Service; and in this Respect the Conduct of the Commander in Chief appears extremely desective. The Consequence was obvious: The Enemy had full Opportunity to collect their Strength: The Friends of Ragoba, instead of being encouraged by the spirited Exertion of our Force to join his Standard, must, as we conceive, have been deterred from declaring in his Favour, by the Languor of our own Military Proceedings.

11. And upon the most impartial Review of the Conduct of the late Colonel, now Brigadier General Egerton, during the late difgraceful Expedition towards Poona, we are of Opinion, that it was fuch as rendered it highly improper for him to be continued in the Command of the Company's Forces at Bombay; we have therefore refolved, That he be difmiffed from the Company's Service, and he is hereby difmiffed accordingly.

12. In regard to Mr. Carnac, we are very forry to find his Conduct not less exceptionable than that of Colonel Egerton.

13. We remark, that the Army was only 18 Miles, or about 2 Days March from the Summit of the Gauts, and about 16 Miles, or 2 Days March from Poona, on the 11th January, when Orders were given to march back towards Condolah: That Advice had just been received, of Mora-

A P P E N D I X, Nº 130.

ba's Horse being in the Conkan, to act in favour of Ragoba: That the Commissary had 18 Days Provisions in Store, and that Ragoba had promised a further Supply: That in the pieceding Skirmish, the Enemy had been worsted, and compelled to retreat: That the Troops were in Spirits, and intrepid: That no Council of War was called at Tullagoan, to take the Sense of the Officers of the Army on the 11th of January, was the joint Act of Mr. Carnac and Colonel Egerton, yet as Mr. Carnac had a cassing Vote in the Poona Committee, and possessed in Fact supreme Authority in Camp at the Time, he was particularly responsible for that Measure.

14. It appears, by the Return of the Commanding Officer, that our Lofs of Men in the Action of the 12th January, was not very great: The general Orders of the Day express his extreme Satisfaction with their gallant Behaviour in general. The Officers were publicly thanked for their cool and spirited Conduct; and Captain Hartley was particularly distinguished for his Judgment as an Officer. It is allowed, that there were Ten Days Provision in Camp after the Action: It is afferted by the Select Committee, that the Officer last mentioned, declared, He could rely upon the Men he commanded; and urged every Argument in favour of forcing a Retiear, rather than to submit to the humiliating Terms prescribed by the Enemy. It cannot be doubted that Mr. Carnac continued in Possession of Authority without controll, except to make Ficaties. He was confident, if the Officers and Men did their Duty that the Army was sufficiently numerous, and so well provided with Artillery, as to be able to force their Way back against all Opposition. He had no Doubt but the Attempt ought to be made. His Words are, "at all Events, a rather than submit to the Terms prescribed by the Enemy;" yet under all Circumstances rather than press a Retreat, he ventured to pledge the English Faith in the most solemn and facred Manner, for the Observance of Treaties, of which he owns he did not at the Time expect a Consistantion. He stipulated to obtain the Governor's Dustuck soled diving up the Company's Possession to the Marattas; and gave Hostages for the due Performance of extraordinary Agreements, under mental Reservations and pre-conceived Ideas that they were of no Val dity, and would never be ratified by his Superiors.

15. Notwithstanding the despicable Character given of the Troops by Mr. Carnac, in his Letter to Governor Hornby, when the Army was on its Return to Bombay, we find that he afterwards subscribed to an Exception, which in our Opinion would have fully justified his issuing the most positive Orders for the Army to attempt to force a Retreat from Wurgaon to Bombay, rather than submit to the disgracerul Conditions prescribed by the Innemy, 16. In your Letter of the 27th of March 1779, Par. 128, which is figned by Mr. Carnac, it is stated, that Captain Hartley on that trying Occasion, notwithstanding the Contagion of bad Example, insisted upon it, that he could depend on the Men which he had commanded: That he actually put a Stop at once to Desertion so far as the Limits of his Command extended; that when consulted, he urged every Argument to attempt the forcing of a Retreat, rather than submit to the humiliating Terms prescribed by the Enemy; that he even formed and presented Colonel Cockburn the necessary Disposition for conducting the Retreat, and for avoiding Inconveniences resulting from a Night March, and the Division or the Troops.

17. And we do not find that any Centure has been passed on Mr. Carnac at Bombay; nor that any Enquiry has been made by the Select Committee into his Conduct and Behaviour during the late Expedition.

18. And upon the most impartial Review of the whole Conduct of Mr. Carnac during the late Expedition towards Poona, and after duly considering all the Circumstances relative thereto, we have resolved, That John Carnac, Esquire, be dismissed from his Office, as one of the Council and

Select Committee of Bombay, and he is hereby difmiffed accordingly.

19. The Charge brought by Governor Hornby against Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn was very proper; but we do not find it noticed on your Proceedings on that Occafion that Captain Hartley had given a different Opimon, concerning the Propriety of attempting to force a Retreat from Wurgoan; nor that you have, in any Stage of the Bosiness, informed Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn of your being in Possession of that Fact; which certainly you ought to have done. We find Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn has acknowledged, that he gave the written Opinion contained in the Governor's Charge against him: And upon the most mature Consideration of his Conduct, we have resolved to definis Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn from the Service of the Company, and he is hereby dismissed accordingly.

20. We are forry to observe, that in appointing Captain James Hartley to be a Licutenant Colonel of Infantry on the Bombay Establishment, you have concurred unanimously in a direct Breach of the Company's Orders; but as you have represented the Merit and Services of Lieutenant Colonel Hartley in a Light to very favourable for that Officer, we have resolved, rather than degrade an Officer whose Ability and Merit seems universally acknowledged, that Lieutenant Colonel Hartley shall remain the youngest of that Rank at Bombay; but that he shall, from the Receipt of this Letter at Bombay, receive the Pay and Allowances of Captain of Infantry only, until such meritorious Officers as have been superseded by his Promotion, shall have usen in regular Succession above him, to the Rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

21. Having taken into our particular and most ferious Consideration the State of the Company's Military Force at your Settlement, we have resolved to appoint an able Officer to the Command of the Troops at Bombay.

22. And

PENDIX, Nº 131.

22. And having the highest Opinion of the Zeal, Experience, and Military Abilities of Colonel Thomas Goddard, we have thought fit to appoint Colonel Goddard Commander in Chief of the Company's Forces at Bombay, and granted him a Commission of Brigadier General in our Service.

23. We have also requested His Majelly to grant a Commission of Brigadier General, with local Rank to Colonel Thomas Goddard, which we doubt not will be granted accordingly.

24. We feel the most sensible Concern for the Situation of Mr. William Gamul Farmer and Lieutenant Stewart, as Hoftages for the Performance of the Convention of Wurgaon; but as we liave no Doubt, but that Measures will have been taken, either by you or by our Governor General and Council to procure their Liberty before this Letter can reach you, we for the present only add, that early Information of their Enlargement will afford us very great Satisfaction.

25. We direct that no additional Pay or Emolument be allowed to Lieutenants Dawson, Lindrum, Bowles, and Piché, in consequence of Brevets granted to those Officers. By a future Opportunity we shall consider the Propriety of revoking or of finally confirming the said Brevets.

26. It is our Pleasure, that Mr. Daniel Draper be Second of Council, and of the Select Committee at Bombay: And as a further Testimony of our Approbation of the Conduct of Mr. Draper, it is also our Pleasure, that Mr. Draper do succeed, and we hereby expressly appoint him to succeed to the Office of President and Governor of Bombay, upon the Death, Removal, or Resignation of Go. vernor Hornby.

27. It is our Order, that Brigadier General Goddard have a constant Seat as Third in our said buncil and Scleet Committee. We likewise direct, that Mr. Henry More be the Fourth Member Council and Sclect Committee.

of our Select Committee at Bombay.

28 As a further Mark of our Approbation of the Conduct of Brigadier General Goddard, ne have directed, that the Pay and Allowances received by him from Bengal, as Commander in Chief or the Detachment fent from that Settlement, be continued to him, and paid by our Governor General and Council, to long as those Troops shall remain under General Goddard's Command on the Western Side of India; he must also receive the Pay and Allowances of Third of our Council and Select Committee at Bombay; but if our Governor General and Council shall recall the Bengal Detachment, the Pay and Allowances received by General Goddard on that Account must be discontinued, and cease immediately upon the Return of the said Detachment, as it will then be no longer under his Authority or Command; and after that Period, General Goddard must receive the Pay and Allowances of our Commander in Chief of our Troops at Bombay.

The Court having received Intelligence of some Cruizers said to have been lately on their Way to the East Indies, Copy thereof is inclosed for your Notice; and that you may immediately make the same known to all our Presidencies, in order that the Company's Shipping and the Country Trade

E N D I Χ,

Letter from the Governor General and Council, 15th October 1778.

To the Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Gentlemen of the Select Committee, Bombay 18 Deci 1773. Sel. Conf

Gentlemen,

WE have not received any Letters from you fince the Date of your Dispatches by the Terrible of the 25th July last; but we have been informed, by Letters received from Mr. Lewis, dated the 6th August, that Nanna Furnese had effected the Imprisonment of Morabah and Buchaba, by Means of a Prefent of Three Lacks of Rupees given to Madjee Scindia; that Nannah, Succaram, Scindia, Holkar, Hurry Punt, &c. had affembled their Forces on a Plain near Poona; and that the Durbar were concerting Schemes to oppose and diffress the Detachment; and that they had actually circulated Orders to the different Raja's, to practife every fecret and underhand Means in their Power to effect

We advised you in our last of the Appointment of Mr. Elliot to proceed to the Court of Moodajee Boofla, the Rajah of Berar, with Instructions to negociate and conclude a Treaty of Alliance with that Chief; but we are now concerned to inform you of the Demise of Mr. Elliot on his Way to Naguepore, at a Place called Sarungar. The Rajah having expressed great Satisfaction at the Overtures which we made for a Connection with him by this Deputation; and being, as we have every Reason to believe, firm in his Attachment to the English, we conclude, as soon as he hears of the unfortunate Event of Mr. Elliot's Death, that he will take an active Part in profecuting the intended Negociation either by deputing a proper Minister to us, on his Part, or by soliciting our Alliance on such Terms as may prove a general Advantage to the Company's Possessions. For these Reasons, we do not mean to appoint any Person to succeed Mr. Elliot, until our Advices from the Rajah shall enable us to determine on the Expediency of that Measure.

We have thought it incumbent on us to remove Colonel Leslie from the Command of the Detachment of Forces, which was ordered to march for the Support and Affiliance of your Prefidency, on account of the little Progress it had made under him; as we understand that he was advanced no further than Rajigur on the 25th ultimo; and of his manifest Disobedience also of our positive Orders, REP. VI. (R) in forming and concluding a Treaty of perpetual Peace and Friendship, in the Name of the Composite with the Rajahs Gomaun and Comaun Sing, Chiefs of a Part of the Bundlecund District.

Colonel Thomas Goddard is now appointed to the chief Command of these Troops, and we have ordered him to prosecute his March without Loss of Time into Berar; where on his Arrival he was apply to Moodajee Boosla, and if that Chief shall agree to join him with a sufficient Body of Forces for the Purpose, he is to continue his Route in Conjunction with them, and to obey all Orders which he may receive from you; but if he shall not have received any fresh Directions for his March, and if the Rajah shall decline or results to grant his Assistance, we have then vested in him a Assistance.

Power to fuspend his Proceedings.

If the Plan which you had resolved to adopt, and to carry into Execution in September, for the Restoration of Ragoba, and which you notified to us in your Letter of the 25th July, still subsisted or if you shall have formed any other for the same End, consistently with the Terms which we have already prescribed for our Asient to that Measure; or if you shall judge a strong Reinforcement immediately and indispensably necessary to ensure the Sasety of Bombay against a French Invasion, and shall deem it requisite and advisable, in either of these Cases, to command the Detachment at all Hazards to proceed further towards Bombay, even without a Junction of the Troops of any Power in Alliance with us; you will in such Cases, and such only, require Colonel Goddard to advance with it; but in all others you will give him Notice of your Intentions, and leave him to act under our Directions.

We dispatched the Morning Star in the Beginning of last Month to Fort Saint George, in consequence of the Request of the President and Council there; and we take the first Opportunity of the sale vourable Season for ordering the Terrible, which ought to have sailed in Company with the Morning Star, but was prevented by the Want of Men, to return to your Port.

Letter from Governor General and Council to Bombay, 23d November 1778.

Gentlemen,

IN our Letter of the 16th instant we informed you, that we had thought it proper to invest Colonel Goddard with full Powers to conclude a Treaty with Moodajee Boosla, Rajah of Berar, on the Grounds of our Instructions to the late Mr. Elliot; of which we enclose a Copy for your Information. As the Event of his Negociation is likely to cause a very speedy and essential Change in the Designs and Operations of the Detachment; and as the Plan which we have chosen to supply the Place of that originally recommended by you, has rendered it necessary that we should retain in our Hands the Means of effecting it; we hereby revoke the Power which we gave you in our Letter of the 15th ultimo, and shall direct the commanding Officer of the Detachment to obey only such Orders as he shall hereafter receive from us.

Although the Circumstances into which we have been thrown, by the Failure of the Plan for which the Detachment was originally formed, have rendered it necessary to make this Alteration in the Control and Direction of it, our Intention is not to withdraw the Services of the Detachment entirely from the Support of any Measures which you may have formed in Reliance on them, if these Measures shall not prove incompatible with the Instructions given to Colonel Goddard, and with the Engagements which he may conclude in consequence of them: We shall therefore leave him still subject to your Instructions, under these Provisions; and request that you will communicate to him such Points as you may judge proper to be included in the Operations concerted with the Rajah of Berar.

Fort William, 23d November 1778. We are, Gentlemen,

Your most obedient humble Servants,

Warren Hastings, Richd Barwell, P. Francis, Edwd Wheler.

Bombay Select Consultations, 19th February 1779.

The President's Review of Maratta Assairs, and Resolutions proposed by him in consequence.

SINCE the first Advice of the unfortunate Issue of our late Expedition, my whole Time and Attention has been employed in a careful Review of our past Transactions with respect to Maratta Politics, in the Confideration of the Circumstances of our present Situation, and in forming such a Plan of Conduct as feems bell adapted to meet the many Difficulties and Dangers that we may have to expect, and must guard against.

This last is fo much my Object, that I neither intend to go into any Enquiry of the Causes of the Failure of our Hopes from the late Expedition, nor into any Jultification of the first Undertaking. The Motives on which we determined on it were certainly no weak ones: They have been felt, acknowledged, and even prefied on us, both by the Governor General and Council; and within thele few Days by the Honourable the Secret Committee, in their Dispatch of the 31st August. I am however well aware, that the Judgment that is to be given on Enterprizes of great Moment, must be expected to be formed from the Event; that Objections will hardly ever be wanting against Measures which have proved unfoccessful; and that hardly any Answer can be found that will fatisfy Objections to supported. I think it best therefore for every Member, according to the Share he has had in this Bufiness, to leave the public Proceedings and Records to justify or condemn his Opinions and Conduct, with a general Reference to the Candour of those who are to be our Judges, as to our Attention to the public Interest with which we are charged; the Steps we have taken for the Security of it; and the Cause to which our late Miscarriage is to be attributed; the Remedy of which is the only Point I can now think of Moment, how much foever we may be concerned individually in the Approbation or Centure of our past Conduct.

Since the Removal of Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn from the Command of the Army, we have made some Promotions, and otherwise distinguished those Officers whose Merit is acknowledged to have been most conspicuous on the late Service. I hope this will produce a Spirit of Emulation, that will be of the greatest Advantage to the Army; and I trust we have now at the Head of the Infantry and Sepoys, a Gentleman who will distinguish himself in Garrison no less than he has done in the Field, by the strictest Attention to the Discipline and general Improvement of our Troops. I now propose further, that we apply to the Governor General and Council for a tried, experienced, and active Officer, of the Rank of Colonel, to take the Command of the Troops on this Establishment; that it be represented to them how very material the Choice of such an Officer is; and that we rather wish them to promote to the above-mentioned Rank an Officer whole Merit they entertain an high Opinion of, than to be guided in their Appointment by any other Rule. It would likewise be a considerable Advantage and Improvement to the Service, if they would furnish us with a Major and Five or Six Captains of Infantry, all choice and experienced Officers, whom we might re-place with Officers of the fame Rank, whose Want of Experience is the only Objection to them. Our Troops would then, I think, be on a Footing equal to any Service that might be required of them; which I fear has not for some I me pult been the Case. Whatever is to follow from the doubtful State we are now in with the Marattas, I think we should thus, even with our present Force alone, be well prepared for a defensive War with them; and prepared it is necessary we should be, as foon as possible.

The first and most important Object of our Attention Abroad is to endeavour to secure Colonel Goddard and his Army from Accidents: By a Letter I have had from him, dated the 26th January, I find he was then within Four Days March of Barampore, where he intended to stop some Days for further Advices from us, and to determine on his Route. I have since had certain Intelligence of his Arrival on the 29th at Barampore, where I flatter myfelf he will be fecure from all hoftile Attempts: I prefume that having fo confiderable a City at his Command, he will be able to furnish his Troops with every Thing they may stand in need of for a long Time, and that no Enemy therefore will be able to dislodge him, while he remains there. He should I think be advised immediately of the prefent State of Affairs, as far as we are acquainted with them, among the Marratta Chiefs, who certainly do not feem united enough at present to concur in so distant a March as to Barampore, and each of whom has probably too important Concerns to manage near Poona to accept a Command at fo great a Distance, and which they all may think too dangerous for any one to undertake alone. But however this may be, I would leave it to himself to take his own Opportunity for coming on to Surat or Broach; informing him at the same Time of the urgent Occasion this Presidency has for his Army, and how much we think our Safety may depend on its fafe and speedy Arrival, together with the Measures we are taking to facilitate this important Pur-for Procrastination: The Marattas are aiming at this very Moment to strip us of every Took we are in Possession of, to the very Edge of our Island: They are assembling Troops in the Neighbourhood of Caranja and Salfette, and are faid to meditate an immediate Invasion of those Islands, if they are not peaceably yielded up to them, together with all the Cessions stipulated for in the Convention of Woorgom. I have already given Gunnis Punt, the Agent of Nannah (or of the Durbar as he is called) a general Answer: That his Master must have known at the Time the Convention was made, that it was not valid: That Mr. Carnac and Colonel Egerton had previously declared to to him: That he had befides been long before informed of, and knew by his own liv. perience, the controlling Power of the Governor General and Council in Matters of this Kind: That I had informed that Board of the Convention, and would do nothing further in it without then Orders.

What may be the Resolution of Nannah in consequence of this Answer, I do not know, but have no Doubt of its being hoslile to us, if he can but prevail on the Chiefs, who have been acting with him against Ragoba to support him in a War against us: We have therefore no Time to lote to guard against such an Union; nor do I think that in such an Emergency as this, we can defer coming to the necessary Resolutions, under Colour of waiting for Orders from the Governor General and Council, without being wanting to the Duty we owe to the Company and to ourselves; nor do s think it would be a fair and confiftent Conduct towards the Governor General and Council themselves, who have certainly furnished us in their Letters of the 23d March and 17th August, with ample Powers for the War we have begun, and may juftly expect from us that we exert ourselves in extricating our Affairs from their present Embarrassments, and not supinely throw on them Dit.

ficulties which it is our Duty to meet and if possible overcome.

The War was undertaken with the most flattering Expectations of Assistance from some of the most powerful Maratta Chiefs; of these, after our Troops had been near Two Months in the Field, and had advanced almost to the Capital, not one espoused our Cause; it was thought delperate; and indeed, seems to have been so; but had our Troops after all been brought back to Bombay in spite of all Opposition, as I make no Doubt they might have been, the Respect with which every Maratta in the Enemy's Army must have felt himself impressed at the Instance of our Forces unaided by any Ally, would have been an Advantage equal almost to Victory; and might fhortly perhaps been used to such an Effect, as to leave us little to regret in our present Disappointment. Humiliating as the Terms are, to which our Troops submitted, I am happy to say, I can still perceive we are not fallen wholly into Contempt. Left as we now are, to wage War alone, the Credit we yet preferve must be employed, and Trial made what new Friends it will procure us, and what Enemies it may detach from the Confederacy we have drawn on us as the Albes or Ragoba.

Before I enter into Particulars with regard to these Objects, I must desire the Purpose for which our last Treaty with Ragoba was calculated; the principal Consideration on which the Governor General and Council approved our Plan; and the evident Motive of the Orders now before us, from the Honourable the Select Committee, may be kept in View. I hardly need fay, I allude to the dangerous Connections forming or formed between Nannah and the French; and the absolute Necessity we were under on the Principle of Self-preservation to attempt to remove from the Chief Administration of the Maratta Empire a Minister whose pernicious Designs is ever ripened into Action, might end in an Expulsion from all our valuable Possessions in this Part of the World. This Necessity appears to me still the same, and ought still to be the leading I'm ciples of our Conduct. The Means we have to effect our Purpose are indeed at present inadequate, but they are not perhaps unattainable; and while the Poffibility of accomplishing to important a Point exitts, I think no Exertion is to be omitted to effect or facilitate it.

When the Retufal of the principal Officer to charge himfelf with the Conduct of our Army to Bombay, and the Countenance given to this Refusal by the Commander in Chief of our Forces, made it necessary to enter into some Sort of Treaty with the Enemy for the safe Return of the Troops, the first Application was made to Nannah, as the oftensible Minister. The Surrender of Ragoba's Perion at first was the only Condition demanded of us; but on finding that he had already made Terms with Scindia, Nannah infifled on Articles still more humiliating, and at last seemed determined to accept of none but the most rigorous of all; viz. the Detention of the whole Army as Hoftages for the Performance of the Terms on which their Lives were spared. On this pressing Occasion, it was thought of applying to Madjee Scindia, whose Influence in the Maratta Durbat was reported confiderable, and whole Connections now formed with Ragoba, it is to be hoped would dispote him to shew some Sort of Regard to so faithful an Ally as the English had prove themselves to Ragoba.

Mr. Holmes was accordingly fent out to him: Every thing immediately shewed how sensibly Madjee Scindia was flattered with this Acknowledgment of his Consequence and Authority, which was at once discovered to be supreme. Mr. Holmes, in his Way to Scindia's Tent, was stopped by a Picket Guard of Nannah's Troops, who would have perfuaded, and even forced him, to go to Nannah inflead of Scindia. Mr. Holmes declared positively that he would and must go immediately The Dispute lasted till Scindia sent down a Party of his own, who dispersed Nannah People, and brought Mr. Holmes to him: He received Mr. Holmes with every Demonstration of Kindnels and Civility; and on his Representation of the Treatment Mr. Farmer met with from Nannah, to whom he had before been fent, and by whom he had been kept the whole Day, exposed in the open Bazar, with no other Covering than his Palanquin, from whence he had been obliged to write the Particulars of his Conversation with Nannah, and to wait the Answers of the Committee, Madjee Scindia immediately sent and conducted Mr. Farmer to his own Quarters; and defired that he, as well as Mr. Holmes, would regard himtelf as his Guest.

The Terms to which we mult submit were so far known, that tolerable ones could no longer be demanded for us; but we were however obliged to Madjee Scindia for making them as easy as he demanded for us; but we were however obliged to Madjee Scindia for making them as easy as he would be attempt to do, without he had absolutely declared against the rest of the Maratta Chiefs, and joined us. It was owing to him that the Point of detaining the whole Army as Hostages was given up, and by that Means that we have it in our Power to disavow the Convention: This, together with Articles for the Surrender of the Castle of Surat and Fort Victoria, and for the Payment of the Expences of the War, were actually sent by Nannah to Scindia, to be added to the Conditions imposed on us: Madjee Scindia replied, that he had already settled the Conditions, and could not now in Honour think of adding more. It is true that a private Promise had been made to Scindia, of ceding to him Broach, and the Share of its Purgunnahs conquered from the Nabob; yet he could not but well know that the Performance of this Article could be no Way effectually secured by him, but by the very Means he rejected, the Detention of our Army as Hostages.

In the little while Mr. Holmes was at Scindia's Durbar, he had an Opportunity of observing, that Scindia concerted and determined on all Assairs of Importance; which were only referred to Nannah for the necessary Forms of Office, the Sicca being affixed of course to every Paper or Dispatch that Scindia had once passed; and that Holcar, though treated with all external Marks of Respect by Scindia, as the head Subedar of the Empire, was entirely at his Disposal. The Business of the Treaty being concluded, Madjee Scindia took Advantage of the Stipulation we made for Hostages to be delivered us in Exchange for those we put into his Hands, to send a Person hither, whom he has desired me to consider as a considential Minister: He even offered to send Rona Cawn, his chief Considant and Favourite, whom he treats as a Brother, and is respected next to himself in his (Scindia's) Durbar. In conversing concerning the Discipline and Manœuvres of our Troops, he whispered Mr. Sibbald, that he hoped one Day to see them and our Forces acting together. Understanding that Mr. Holmes was one of my Family, he charged him with the most friendly Assurances, and seemed studious to give him every Mark of his Considence. Mr. Farmer is still kept with Madjee Scindia, who behaves persectly well to him; and does not allow Nannah to have any Intercourse with Mr. Farmer, but through him. I must not omit to mention too, as the most convincing Instance of Madjee Scindia's good Disposition towards us, that on the first Proposal on our Part, for inserting in the Convention an Article to exclude the French from all Protection and Countenance in the Maratta Empire, he admitted it, and supported it against Nannah.

Empire, he admitted it, and supported it against Nannah.

These are Circumstances well known to Mr. Carnac, and perhaps to Mr. Draper too: I have however been at the Pains to collect them, as they have been communicated to me in Conversation, and as they do not appear on any public Record; owing to the Consussion which naturally attended such a State of Things as our Army was in while the Treaty lasted, and to the sudden Departure of Mr. Farmer, the Committee's Secretary.

The Lead that Scindia has taken in the Administration, and the Condition to which he has reduced Nannah to be no more than a Creature of his, were never thoroughly known, till the Facts discovered themselves on this Occasion; yet they are to be traced in Mr. Mostyn's and Mr. Lewis's Advices, ever since the Revolution effected by Madjee Scindia's Means in June last, when Nannah sled to him.

It was only a few Days after that Event, that Holcar obliged Moraba to deliver to him the Infignia of Office, which he fent to Scindia, who conflituted Nannah Minister, by delivering them to him. It was Scindia who seized Moraba and Butcheba Prondar, and afterwards confined them: It was he who consined Holcar's Duan, and appointed him another, by whose Means Holcar has ever fince been a mere Puppet, at Madjee Scindia's Dispolal: He too removed Saccaram Bappoo from the Administration of Assairs, and made him Prisoner in his own House: Hurry Punt's Resignation of the Command of the Troops, seems to have been in Compliance with Madjee Scindia's Pretentions to the Office of Suray Putty, which he demanded at the same Time as he insisted on the Cession of Ahmednagur and Ashur. Whether that important Office has been ever conferred on him in Form, I do not learn; but being at the Head of his own and Holcar's Forces (the best in the Empire) he has in Fact the Command of the whole Army: He accordingly treats Hurry Punt quite in the Stile of a Dependant; and ridiculed him to his Face, before Mr. Holmes, for his ill Success in his Campaign against Colonel Keating in Guzerat.

The several Proposals for a Settlement of the Government among the Chiefs at Tellowgaum, since the Return of our Army, confirm this Representation of the uncontrolled Power of Scindia. In every Change, still Madjee Scindia has appeared supreme; and I have Advice under the 11th Instant, that the Arrangements are actually made at last in the following Manner:

Madarow Narrain, Peshwa.

Sewajee Badjerow, Ragoba's Son, Naib.

Scindia and Holear to act in the Name of Sewajee Badjerow.

Ragoba relinquishes the Government, and is to have a Jaghire, and refide at J. ffi. This he is to fignify in Writing to all the Powers in India.

Nannah and Saccaram to conduct the Government as Ministers, and derive their Authority from Scindia and Holcar.

The above Settlement was passed in Writing. All the Maratta Officers were assembled, and in formed, that this must be regarded as a conclusive Settlement; and any Attempt to oppose it would be considered as Treachery against the State. The usual Rejoicings on such Occasions were observed.

Madjee Scindia's Disposition towards us, and Aversion to the French, have in like Manner appeared in various Instances, since the Period of the June Revolution; and I cannot help feeling Respect for the Abilities of a Man, who has thus persisted in a Point, which he has, respectively. thought it good Policy to endeavour to attain—a Connection and Alliance with our Nation, in spite of all the Disappointments he must have met with, from the Circumstance of our not understanding his Advances.

Upon Mr. Moslyn's first Application for Madjee Scindia's Passports for the Bengal Troops, he fent them without Hesitation, and forwarded Duplicates from himself to his Officers. Only T_{WO} Days after, upon Receipt of my Letters on the same Subject, he forwarded to me another Copy of these Passports, and Orders to his Officers; and it is remarkable, that at this very Time Mr. Mostyn was in vain foliciting the same Mark of Confidence from Moraba, then at the Head of Administration. These Passports seem to have been given with Sincerity, and to have had their Essect; since, by Colonel Goddard's Letter of the 26th November, it appears, that in consequence of them he had passed peaceably through a Province of Madjee Scindia's. At that Time (26th November) Madjee Scindia's Officer had indeed joined Ballajee to obstruct his (Colonel Goddard's) March; but the mere Date of Colonel Goddard's Letter fufficiently accounts for this. A few Days after the Grant of Madjee Scindia's Passports the Revolution was brought about; and the very Day following Tookajee Holear sent Mr. Mostyn his Passports likewise. On the 1st July, Lubin left Poona, and has never fince returned. This was a Point Mr. Mostyn had been ineffectually labouring to carry in both the preceding Administrations of Nannah and Moraba. Nannah, together with Scindia, sent early Invitations to Mr. Mostyn to come to the Durbar; and Mr. Mostyn was told by Madarow Jadarow, in Answer to his Enquiries concerning the Business Nannah wanted to speak to him on, that it was for the Increase of our Friendship. These Overtures having failed, Madjee Scindia made Two to Mr. Mostyn, directly and separately from himself; offering to settle our Disputes with the Durbar before Mr. Mostyn left Poona in August last: These were both rejected; and Madjee Scindia, in Allusion to these, told Mr. Holmes in Camp, that he was the Man to whom Mr. Mostyn should have applied; that he had twice made Advances, but had as often been slighted. After Mr. Mostyn's Departure, Madjee Scindia made the same Offers to Mr. Lewis; and then, on Mr. Lewis's declining to visit him, he determined on fending an Agent to Bombay. He did accordingly fend this very Appajce Sabajee, his present Agent; who, I suppose, finding Reason to think that our Measures were already taken with Ragoba, too much beyond his Master's Views, confined himself to general Presessions of Friendship, on the Part of Madjee Scindia, without opening himself further.

Since his Return hither with an Army, fuch general Professions have been his chief Topic; but he has at the same Time given me to understand, that Gunnis Hurry and he are by no Means employed on the same Errand; and has even defired to be separated from him, in order that his Intercourse with me may not be subject to the Enquiries and Observations of Nannah's Agent. He has even intimated, in pretty direct Terms, that his Master interests himself but little in the Answer that may be given to Gunnis Hurry, with regard to the Cessions stipulated for the Poona Circar; and that he (Appajee) had the particular Interests of Madjee Scindia only in his Charge. He has talked loosely of Alliances between Madjee Scindia and the Company, for reducing the Power of the Nizam and Hyder; still demands the Cession of Broach, stipulated for Madjee Scindia, but is by no Means pressing on the Subject; and in short, plainly indicates his Views on the Part of his Master, which however (as in the present Circumstances we seem to have more immediate Occasion for him than he for us) he does not feem disposed to explain particularly, without some further Opening on our Part. Madjee Scindia's own Letters, which I now lay before you, are written in a Strain entirely conformable to this Language of his Minister: In the first of them it is observable, that he takes no Notice of the Return of the Bengal Troops; and in the last, though this is demanded, yet it appears from Colonel Goddard's last Letter, that he had not then received the Order of the Poona Committee, directing him to return, notwithstanding the same had been delivered to Madjee Scindia himfelf to be forwarded to him, Three Days before a Letter of their own, which Colonel Goddard acknowledged the Receipt of.

From this State of past and present Circumstances, I think I am warranted in the following Con-

1st. That the actual Administration of the Affairs of the Maratta Empire is at Madjee Scindia's Disposal, and that Nannah, the great Enemy of the English, is reduced, for the present at least, to be no more than the Tool of Madjee Scindia's Power.

2d. That Madjee Scindia is not only well inclined to us, preferable to the French, but is earnest for some closer Connection and Alliance with us.

3d. That the Accomplishment of the Terms of the Convention, as far as they concern the Poona Circar, is not at all the Object of his Views, fince he has in fact made it optionable with us, whether to comply with them or not.

4th. That the Performance even of the private Article in his (Madjee Scindia's) Favour, is not the first Object of his Consideration; but that this, as well as the Cessions stipulated for by the Poona

PPENDIX,

Lircar, is chiefly intended by him as a Fund to pay us from, in any Alliance he may enter into with us, without any real Expence to himself.

5th. That independant of his Views to an Alliance with us, he has some Motives of Policy, which render him unwilling that our Power and Possessions on this Coast should be very materially re-

6th. That it is for the Interest of the Company, and necessary to their Purpose at this Settlement, as harding ourselves forthwith what Madjee Scindia's real Intentions are; and to take such Measures as we confishently can, in concert with him, for the Exclusion of Nannah from all real and effectual Power in the Administration of the Maratta Empire.

I have faid that independent of Madjee Scindia's Views to an Alliance with us, I conclude he has some Motives of Policy, which render him unwilling that our Power and Possessions on this Coast should be very materially reduced. I ground this Opinion on that very striking Circumstance, his obtaining for our Army Permission to depart, without any adequate Security for the promiled Cessions to the Poona Circar, or to himself. This was too obvious to have escaped his Notice; and lest it should be supposed to have passed through Negligence, the Proposal for detaining the whole Army as Hoftages, together with the further Cessions of Surat and Fort Victoria, was actually made to Madjee Scindia by Nannah. Whatever these Views of Madjee Scindia may be, they cannot yet be penetrated with Certainty, and can be only known by his future Intimation or Conduct. I will however venture to give my present Ideas of what may be probably the Motives for the great Attention he has paid to us and our Interest.

The intestine Divisions among the Maratta Chiefs has effected what civil Dissuasions long continued have never failed to bring about in every Age and Country—the Overthrow of all Power and Dominion but that of the Sword: Of this Madjee Scindia is now in Possession, and we may be assured, does not mean to part with it; his great Object therefore must be to secure it, and our's not to let slip the present Crisis, while our Alliance is sought, and worth his Purchase. His Intention must be either to remove the Seat of his Government to Poona, or to establish some Kind of Power there subordinate to his own.

The First he must find very dangerous; the Chiefs, whose Jaghires lie nearest Poona, will be naturally alarmed at the Thought of feeing the Peshwa Domains united to the other Possessions of a Power already so formidable as Madjee Scindia; who by his Accession will be able to crush the Independence they have been aiming at in common with the other Jaghierdars of the Empire. zam and Hyder, whose Dominions bound the Peshwa Domains to the Southward and Easlward, Madjee Scindia knows, will be always ready to support the discontented Chiefs in the Southern Part of the Empire; where the Bramins must still likewise be of Consequence and Weight, from their Riches, their Intrigues, their Experience in the Revenues, and all other Departments of Government, and in a Word, from that facred Character which protects them at all Times from open Violence, better than any other Set of Men. These Difficulties are not relieved by the State of Things in Scindia's own Jaghire. The King taking the Advantage of the Absence of him and Holcar, is I find still making tome Progress, and I am informed has lately reduced some of the Holcars to his Obedience. Moodajee Bouncello is faid to have Views to the Rajahship, and there are Conjectures abroad of his being encouraged in them by an Alliance with the Governor General and Council. Both the King and the Bouncello, who are already formidable to Madjee Scindia, from the Situation of their Dominions with respect to his, must be considered by him as the most dangerous Enemies he can ever have, if they are aided by us, and undertake to oppose him in the Pursuits of his Ambition.

The Establishment of some kind of Power subordinate to his own, seems a Policy more suitable to Scindia's Circumstances, and more agreeable to the Conduct he has hitherto observed. The Difficulty in this Case lies in the Choice he shall make, and on the Means to be employed whenever he may chuse to secure his Dependence. Nannah has been chosen, and hitherto employed by Madjee Scindia in the Character of Duan: His Abilities, long Experience in Business, and above all, the Appearance of Moderation displayed in the Continuance of a Bramin Minister, who has so long filled the first Civil Department of the State, justify this Choice. But the same Qualifications added to Nannah's Riches, will doubtless render him dangerous to Scindia, whenever he shall be obliged to retire for any Time to his own Dominions. Tookajee Holcar has been long de-Madjee Scindia has no less urgent Inducements to re-visit Eufirous of returning to gene; and the Distance they will be at when there, and the Power Nannah, if he continues in the Management of the Peshwa Domains, must have in their Absence, will soon put him in a Condition to assert again his Independence. Madjee Scindia is certainly not ignorant of Nannah's Connections with Lubin, and the Promises of Assistance he has received from that Quarter: It was one of the first Measures of Scindia's Government to send away this Man, no less dangerous perhaps in his Estimation to him than to us: He must know that a very short Time may now bring Nannah the Sucçours that have been promifed him; and that should they arrive in his (Scindia's) Absence, his Hopes of retaining this aspiring Rival in his Dependance is at an End. He may perhaps, in case of such an Event, foresee the Probability of the Restoration of the Peshwa Power in the Person of Nannah; and fancy the Jagheirdars of Eugene and to the State of Submission in which they were held by Badjerow.

Thus circumstanced, what may we suppose Madjee Scindia's Views with regard to us, and what the Principles on which he acts in his Endeavours to conciliate our Friendship, and secure to us our Possessions on this Coast?

Madjce

Madjee must have observed in our Conduct with regard to Ragoba, since our first Alliance with him, Marks of the most hearty and honourable Attachment to his Cause. He will no Doubt have remarked, that though Ragoba's Affairs when in a prosperous Course were suddenly runed by some Disagreement among ourselves, which perhaps he cannot very easily explain; though the Engagements of this Settlement were given up and departed from by the Governor General and Council, and the most declared Partiality shewn to Ragoba's avowed Enemies, so far as to proceed even to Orders for the Surrender of his Person into their Hands: He will, I say, no Doubt marked, that the good Faith and Honour of an Englishman is such, that under all Difficulties, he cannot determine to withdraw Protection from the Man to whom it has been once solemnly promised: He will have seen that this Principle of good Faith has at last prevailed over all temporary Opposition; that we have again taken Ragoba by the Hand; conducted him with our own Forces alone almost to Poona; and have at last only quitted him, when it was evident that there was not one Chief in the Empire who would draw a Sword for him; and after he had concluded Terms for himself with this very Madjee Scindia.

He finds that throughout the whole Period in which we have been Actors in the Maratta Scene, our Objects in point of Acquifition have been the fame—a Territory on the Sea Coast and in the Neighbourhood of Bombay, nearly equal to our Expences. He has feen this Scheme of Acquisition abided by under all Changes, with little Variation; and this must strike him the more forcibly, as he must be well informed, that at the Time of the Conclusion of the Treaty of Poorunder, the Plan might have been considerably enlarged, if that had ever been the Intention: Our present Line of Territory, which we have never thought of extending beyond the Gauts, cannot be an Object of Jealouty to Madjee Scindia; on the contrary, it may be highly useful to him, and that whether we are engaged to him by Alliance or not.

On account of the well-founded Jealoufy he knows we entertain of Nannah and his Connections with the French, he may be affured, that an Union can never take place between us and Nannah: Whilft our Possiessions and Forces continue such as they now are, we are both considerable and near crough to keep Nannah in constant Apprehension; and yet the Barrier of the Gauts, between us and him will always be sufficient to restrain us, unless we act in Conjunction with some Power above the Gauts, who can secure us the Passes, and Subsistence. Madjee Scindia knows too, that while we continue able to resist the Attempts of the French to throw a Body of Troops into the Maratta Empire, we can never sit still and suffer it. The Support of our Power therefore on the Coast is his greatest Security against Nanna's Attempts for Independence; the Success of which would be almost insured, it supported by a respectable Body of European Forces: Scindia has the more Reason to turn his Thoughts to this Point, (the Exclusion of the French) since a Connection with them appears to have been so far the Plan of Policy adopted by the Bramins, that Moraba when in Power actually proceeded on it, no less than Nannah, by whom it seems to have been first formed: And it is remarkable, that much of the Intelligence Mr. Mostyn received on this Subject, which was found very exact, was conveyed to him through Persons closely connected with Scindia.

Should Madjee Scindia turn his Thoughts to an Alliance with us (as I have no Doubt he has done already) he has Advantages in such a Connection, far beyond any other Indian Power, to induce him to court it. The Cession of a Territory of no Consequence or Value to him is the easy Price he will have to pay for our Friendship; which Territory will serve him as a Frontier against the Introduction of an European Force, engaged to other Interests than to his; be a Curb upon his Delegate of the Peshwa Domains to secure his Dependence; and will thus enable him to give his Attention and Presence to his Northern Dominions, in the Proportion they demand. The Rajah of Berar and the Shaw Allum, situated between our Bengal Possessions and Madjee Scindia's Country, will be content to leave him in Tranquillity, if they find us seriously bent to prevent its being disturbed. As Madjee Scindia's Possessions border no where on our's, he has less to fear from our Encroachments than any Prince of Hindostan with whom we are at present connected. Or if the Peshwa Domains are already to be considered as his, the Mountains form a Separation between us and him, that we never can be supposed to carry our Schemes of territorial Possession between them.

Thus the Opinion he may justly have formed of the good Faith of our Nation; the Moderation of our Views in point of Territory; his own Causes of Jealousy of the Schemes of Nannah, for rendering himself independant, and of his Connection with the French for this Purpose; our mutual Interest to guard against both, and, above all, to prevent the Introduction of French Troops into the Maratta Empire: The Support our Possessions on this Coast will assort to his Authority at the Poona Durbar; the little Value to him of the Countries we seek to acquire; the Security an Alliance with us will afford him from his most formidable Neighbours; the Obstacles that must for ever prevent us from encroaching on his Dominions or Sovereignty; these all seem just and concurring Arguments to dispose him to an Alliance with the Company, advantageous to both Parties.

The Motives on our Side are for the most Part so connected with his, that they seem to be almost the same; yet they are further ensorced on us by the particular Situation we are placed in by the Convention of Worgaum; a Convention forced on those who had no Authority to accept of the Terms insisted on, and who declared so in the most positive Expressions, which were explained verbatim from Messeurs Carnac and Egerton's own Letter before Nannah, in open Durbar. There can be no Hesitation in declaring such a Convention invalid; yet we are not to forget (as I have be-one remarked) that we are indebted to Madjee Scindia for our having this still lest in our Power. Ie, the whole Maratta Army, and we, must be equally struck with this Fact. I do therefore think in National Honour concerned in finding some Way of acquitting ourselves to him. 'Its impossible to proceed on such rotten Ground as that of renouncing both the Engagements with the Durant and with him, who enabled us to reject them: It would be breaking Faith with the whole yorld at once, with our Friends, and with our Enemies. The Persons who promited Madjee cindia the Cession of Broach, and engaged for those to the Poona Circar, were the same, and their owers an both Cases equally incompetent: But a great Distinction ought to be made between the obligation we are under to Nanah and to Scindia: The first could and would have stripped us of very Thing; the latter, by relieving us from the hard Terms of the former, did in fact give a valualle Consideration for what was promised to him. I flatter myself it will not be impossible to satisfy m, without parting with any of our present Possession; but at any rate, I think we must she was Desire of giving him Satisfaction: For this Purpose, and to try surther what the real Extent shis Views in relation to us is, it will be necessary to enter into Negociation with him, and to open inserves to him in some Degree considentially.

I cannot think that any new Powers are wanting for proceeding in this immediately, as the Necelly and Emergency of the Occasion demands. When the Governor General and Council gave their anction for our Treaty with Ragoba, and for our supporting his Cause by Arms, in that Sanction as necessarily included every Power which the Cause of Events might call for. The Governor cheral and Council have a Right, as I said before, to expect every Exertion on our Part, and would stly reproach us were we timidly to withdraw ourselves from the Responsibility that belongs to our ation and the prefent Crifis.

There is a Paffage in the Governor General and Council's Letter which, though defigned for another Occasion, seems perfectly applicable to the present Circumstances. They will us that they do not mean to preclude us from gaining any Advantages we can by Negociation, that a Change in the Administration at Poona will probably afford Opportunity for obtaining such Advantages; and they conclude in these remarkable Words: "And we leave it to you to pursue such a Policy as "Circumstances require, independant of any particular Interests of Ragoba, whom you must regard, "in the great political Objects of our Government, as simply menting our Consideration, and not as "necessarily connected or blended with it."

We find a Change of Administration, or at least of the Power on which the Administration depends, has actually taken place at Poona, which gives very favourable Hopes of our being able to attain at least One, and that the First Object of our Policy, the Exclusion of the French from the Connections they were forming by Nanah's Means in the Maratta Court. Ragoba has already relieved us from the Care of his I terests, and left us nothing to attend to but our own, which require the Exertion of our best Talents, but depend no less on seizing the present Moment. With such Prospects before us, and such a general Instruction for our Conduct, can we doubt whether to take an active Part in the very Line that Instruction has marked out to us?

The Governor General and Council, in their Letter of the 17th August, lay us under One Restraint, which I make no Doubt we shall agree in thinking it no less to be observed in our present Circumstances, than in those for which it was originally designed: I mean, that in any Engagement or Treaty of Alliance we may enter into with Madjee Scindia, or any other Power, we are to avoid all Stipulations of a Tendency hostile to the Rajah of Berar. I mention this now for this Reason only, that the Governor and Council may observe the Caution with which we determine to act in every Case wherein their Designs can be foreseen. Our Object is to make what new Friends we can, and to avoid all Enmities that are not unavoidable.

Madjee Scindia is undoubtedly the Person from whose Friendship we have the most to hope, and whose Enmity is most to be apprehended. Could be therefore be determined to an Alliance with ur, that would answer the Purposes of the Company, and the Nation on this Side of India, by excluding the French effectually and permanently by providing against their chief Abettor Nanah's recovering his former Power; by securing to us the Territory we are deficient in to defray the Expences of this Settlement, or at least preserving that we at present hold: Could these Purposes be effected, I shall not scruple, if there be any Risk of losing the Opportunity by waiting to refer the Matter to Bengal, to give my hearty Concurrence to the necessary Measures, without delaying further Time in Expectation of other Powers than we are now furnished with. But I do not mean by this, that I wish any thing to be concluded precipitately; all I propose to do at present is, to give Madjee Scindia an Opportunity of explaining himself further, and put his Disposition in our Favour to one more Test; which I think will be so decisive, that if he comply with our Wishes in this Respect we may be satisfied that I have not gone too far in any Hopes I have entertained from him.

In the first Place, however, as an Instance of the different Light in which we regard the Supulations made in Behalf of the Poona Circar, and the Return to be made for Madjee Scindis's friendly Offices, I would propose, that the Notes given among Madjee Scindia's Officers, as Durbar Charges, should be immediately taken up and discharged; which Amount I find to be R' 41,000. This is absolutely necessary, not only as a Mark of our Regard to Scindia himself, but as a Failure in this Article would make every Man of his Durbar our Enemy, at a Time when the least important of them might be able to do us some Injury.

I next propose to write to Madjee Scindia, to acknowledge the Instances we have received of his Friendship; to make him very frank Osters of a Return on our Part; to hint generally to him, that Rep. VI.

we wish much to fall on some Expedient to satisfy his Expectations from us; to explain to him that on the contrary our Army, when it passed the Gauts, had no Designs inimical to him; that on the contrary, we have Reason to think, that he wished us to undertake Ragoba's Cause; that we are therefore well please to have left Ragoba in hir (Madjee Scindia's) Hands, as our common Friend, though we never could have confented to put him into those of Napah, whatever Benefit we might have derived from any a Bargain with him; to acquaint him, that Nanah's Views with regard to the French, and the Preference shown by him of them to us (the ancient Allies of the Maratta State) had given us mud just Cause of Alarm; that his (Madjee Scindia's) Professions on this Subject have afforded to made Satisfaction; and that we particularly confide in his Authority over Nanah, which we are now in formed of, and heartily rejoice at: To inform him of the Arrival of our Bengal Army at Brampole; to remind him that he long ago granted his Dustucks for their friendly Passage through his Territories; and that his Credit as well as our's is now concerned that they should not turn back, after coming to far; that they are coming hither for the Protection of our Settlement against the French; and that on the Terms we would have him esteem himself to be with us, we hope he will consider that they may be serviceable to him, as well as to us; to defire he will therefore now grant his Duffucks and Letters to Futty Sing, and the other Friends he may have between Brampore and Surat, to per. mit our Army to pass as Friends through their Countries; supplying them with Provisions and other Necessaries on their March, for which they will punctually pay. I think it may be proper too to propose to him to send One thousand of his Horse to meet our Army, and accompany them to Surat: advising him, that the Object of this Request is, that the World may be Witnesses of the Friendship that subsits between us, which, after such an Instance, can never afterwards be departed from on our Side. I shall at the same Time congratulate him on the Grant of Brampore, which has lately been added to his Jaghire; and inform him, that I have written to the Commander of the Bengal Army, to acquaint him of our Hopes from his (Madjee Scindia's) Friendship, and ordering him to consider the Friends of Madjee Scindia as our's. With this Letter, if approved by the Committee, I shall fend back his own Agent, whom I flatter myself I can make useful to us, in our Transactions with his Matter.

While we are waiting for his Answer, I think it will be absolutely necessary, in order to be prepared for every Event, that we direct the Field Train and Equipage of the Troops to be completed, and held in Readiness for Service at the shortest Notice: For should Madjee Scindia refuse his Concurrence to the March of the Bengal Army to Surat, I am of Opinion that we must fend a strong Detachment into the Field, near Surat or Broach, to act in concert with Colonel Goddard, and to savour his March towards one or other of those Places; on the Success of which every thing now depends, and all must be risked to ensure it.

A Connection with the Guicawars offers another Resource, which in the present Posture of our Affairs is by no Means to be neglected. My Sentiments with regard to this Family appear at large on our Proceedings under the 10th October 1777: Their near Neighbourhood to our Northern Polsessions, their Discontents at the Treatment they have received from the Poona Government, the very advantageous Offers formerly made by Futty Sing for an Alliance with the Company, the Command of the Country through which Colonel Goddard's March lies, their actual Force, and the Distance from the Center of the Empire, which in these Times must render them proportionably more independent, point them out to us as Allies of the first Consequence; yet it must be acknowledged that the Divisions in their Family render it less considerable, and our Dependance on it therefore must be less than it otherwise might be. It is well known that Futty Sing is the Party favoured by the Poona Ministers, as Govind Row has been that which has been hitherto most strictly attached to Ragoba's Interest: Madjee Scindia is faid too to favour Futty Sing: Our Ground therefore in this Quanter should be tried with Caution: A Paffage for Colonel Goddard's Army may however be demanded from both, and both may be founded with regard to their Disposition towards an Alliance with the Company. Govind Row, on our late Motions in Favour of Ragoba, made some Overtures to me; but, confidering Futty Sing's supposed Connection with Scindia, to whom our present Views must be principally turned, as well as from a political Regard to his greater Authority at this Moment in the Territories dependant on his Family, his should certainly be the Party to which we should at present rather incline.

I have only One or Two Reflections more to make on the prefent State of Affairs with the Marattas.

The Schemes of the Governor General and Council with regard to the Rajah of Berar being yet unknown to us, it is impossible for us to found any Measures on them: Yet I cannot help now obterving, that it, as has been conjectured, the Gentlemen of that Presidency have entertained Thoughs of restoring in his Person the ancient Rajah Government, the Attempt seems likely to be attended with no small Dissiculty. The Powers who are now in Possession of the Peshwa Domains, together with all the Jaghierdars, however distinited among themselves, would probably concur in opposing Moodajee Bouncello, who, from every thing I have been able to learn, has for some Time taken no Part in these Western Broils, nor appears to have any Party among the leading Men of this Part of the Empire. And I would wish to submit to the Governor General and Council, whether we might not better answer our Views by supporting a formidable Chief like Madjee Scindia, who has already acquired the actual Possession of the Peshwa's Domains, with all the Authority of the Ossice, who is backed with the Resources of his own Jaghire, and has the Person of Ragoba at his Disposal to give a Colour of lawful Authority to that he has assumed, than by attempting to model the whole

Stafe anew, and to place the Rule of it in Hands of our own chusing; a Labour that is perhaps too arduous, and the Success certainly dubious.

The same Objection lies against our acting upon the Orders of the Honourable Secret Committee for the Rettoration of Ragoba to the Pelhwaship. However favourite an Object this was with me in 1775, Circumstances are now entirely changed; and Councils must be changed with them: At that Time the Jaghierdars kept aloof from the Quarrel. Madjee Scindia who is now the supreme Head of the Poona Government was making Tenders of his Services from Eugene to Rageba, then at the Head of a formidable Army; and would have been content with some Accessions of Jagheer, and some honorary Dittinctions. Even the Officers in whom the Ministers were forced to put their greatest Confidence, were wavering, and thinking more of securing themselves than of supporting the Party they were still engaged in. Since that Time, while Ragoba has been kept inactive, a new State of Things has taken place. Even the Forms of the Government are now hardly left, and the Command of the Army is the only real Title to the Empire. He who might then have called out at least Half the Forces of the State, has not found Five hundred Horse to affift him in the late Attempt we have made in his Favour. He has been undeceived, as well as we; and has found all, to which the Splendor of his former Fortune and the Glory of his Name can entitle him, is no more than to become the Pensioner of Madjee Scindia, and the Cloak of his Ambition.

After stating thus fully my Sentiments on the present Posture of Affairs, it only remains for me to propose to the Committee that we come to the following Resolutions:

1ft. That the Affishance of Military Officers (mentioned in the First Part of this Minute) be requested from Bengal.

On this, however, it is proper to remark, that in case of Colonel Goddard's making good his Way to Surat, our Wants on this Respect will most probably be supplied.

2dly. That Colonel Goddard be written to in Terms proposed above.
3dly. That the Convention concluded by Mefficurs Carnae and Egerton at Worgom was invalid; and that the public Faith cannot be confidered as pledged, after their express Declaration to the Maratta Durbar, that they had no Powers to accede to the Terms infifted on from them. That the general Aniwer however given to Nanah's Agent, is all that is necessary to be communicated on this Subject, for the present to him.

4thly. That Madjee Scindia's good Offices were of the greatest Service in the Negociation of the Terms of the Convention, and particularly in procuring Permission for the immediate Return of the Army: That he is in confequence entitled to every Mark of Regard we can confidently shew him; and that it will be necessary to find some Means of expressing the Sense we entertain of his Attention to the Interest of the Company, in some Degree equivalent to the Cession of the Mogul Share of the Broach Purgunnah.

5thly. That the Notes passed at Worgon to the several Ossices of Madjee Scindia's Durbar as Gratification to them, amounting to Rupees, 41,000, out of Respect to Madjee Scindia, as well as out of Motives of good Policy, ought to be forthwith taken up and discharged.

6thly. That we have good Ground to hope, that Madjee Scindia is well-disposed towards the Company, and will be willing to enter into a Connection with us, advantageous to the Company. 7thly. That the grand Objects to be kept in View in forming of fuch a Connection, are,

1st. To exclude the French effectually and permanently from all Connection, whether commercial or political, in the Affairs of the Maratta Empire, and with all Persons concerned in the Administration thereof.

2d. To exclude Nanah Furneze, if possible, from the Administration of the Poona Government: or if this cannot be, to unite with Madjee Scindia, for the Purpose of guarding against Nanah Furneze's acquiring any Sort of independant Authority in the Poona Government; and to obtain the best Security for the Company against such an Event.

3d. To endeavour to obtain for the Company such a Territory as may be sufficient for defraying the Expences of this Settlement, or at least to preserve that we at present hold.

8thly. That it is absolutely necessary to lose no Time in the Measures to be taken, as well to inform ourselves of Madjee Scindia's Intentions with regard to an Alliance with the Company, as to guard against the permeious Designs of Nanah Furneze, and those of the French.

9thly. That in any Connection to be formed with Madjee Scindia, every Engagement that may have a Tendency hostile to the Raja of Berar be avoided.

10thly. That nothing be finally and conclusively settled in way of Alliance with Madjee Scindia, until we receive the Concurrence of the Governor General and Council; unless the several Points specified in the 7th Resolution can be satisfactorily provided for.

11thly. That the President write to Madjee Scindia to the Purpose proposed in the foregoing.
12thly. That the Chief of Broach be ordered to apply to Futty Sing Guicawar, as likewise to Govind Row Guicawar, for their Passports and Dustucks, for the Passage of the Bengal Troops through their Country; and for their being supplied on their March with Provisions; for which the Commander will take Care that the Inhabitants are punctually paid. That the Chief of Broach make the same Professions of Peace and Amity to the Guicawars as those directed in the Instructions from the Governor General and Council to Colonel Leslie: And that he advise this Committee and Colonel Goddard without Delay of his Success.

13thly. That the Chief of Broach be likewise directed to sound with proper Caution, the Disposition of the Guicawars towards an Alliance with the Company of mutual Defence; and advise us of the Success we might expect, should we judge it expedient to make any Overtures for that Purpofe.

14thly. That the Field Train and Equipage be completed, and held in Readiness for Service at the shortest Notice.

15thly. That a Gentleman well informed in the State of the Company's Affairs under this Prefidency, and particularly instructed for this Occasion in the present political Circumstances of the Settlement, and in the Detigns of this Government, be immediately dispatched with our Advices to Bengal, in order to supply the Governor General and Council with such Information and Details of local Knowledge as they may require, or the Support of our present Plan may render necessary. Edw Ravenscroft, Secry to the Select Commit.

Extracts from the Consultations of the Select Committee of Bombay, relative to the President's Review of Maratta Affairs.

Friday, 19th February 1779.

At a Committee; PRESENT,

The Honourable William Hornby, Esquire, President and Governor, John Carnac, and Daniel Draper, Esquires.

The President now lays before us, a Minute containing a Review of Maratta Affairs, and sundry Refolutions proposed by him in consequence.

This Minute having been attentively perused, the President, in conformity to the 15th of his proposed Resolutions, acquaints us, That he thinks Mr. George Horsley a Person every Way qualified to be fent to Bengal on the intended Service, and therefore nominates him for this Commission.

Mr. Draper thinks it is very unnecessary to send any Person to Bengal, with regard to the past Transactions to this Time, exclusive of the President's Minute, and therefore disapproves of it, both on Account of the Expences that will be incurred by fuch a Measure, and the Probability he thinks there is that the Governor General and Council will order an Enquiry to be made here into the late Transactions.

Mr. Carnac entirely concurs with the Prefident, not only in the Propriety and Necessity of the Measure, but also in his Nomination of Mr. Horsley, whom he thinks perfectly qualified for so important a Commission

Mr. Horsley is therefore appointed accordingly, and must hold himself in Readiness to proceed with the utmost Expedition, after our Dispatches and the Instructions to him are prepared, which the Secretary is ordered to get ready with all Speed.

Mr. Thomas Shotbolt is appointed to accompany Mr. Horsley to Bengal as his Assistant.

The further Confideration of the other proposed Resolutions is deferred.

Tuesday, 23d February 1779.

At a Committee; PRESENT, As in the preceding One.

The President's Review of the Maratta Affairs being now re-perused, Mr. Draper, in the Course of teading, makes the following Observations:

With respect to what is advanced of the Motives for the late Expedition being pressed on us by the Governor General and Council and the Secret Committee, he persists in thinking that the Letter from the former of the 17th August, was conditional; and the Letter's depending on the Co-operation of the other Presidencies, which leaves us only to lament that it has been so prematurely undertaken.

With respect to the Requisition for a Colonel from Bengal, instead of Colonel Egerton and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn temoved, Mr. Draper has no Objection, provided they are thought by the Governor General and Council unworthy of being continued; though he remarks, We have no Reason to expect Colonel Goddard soon.

With regard to the Major and 5 or 6 Captains, he could wish to consult the commanding Officer, either in the Committee or in Council. The great Difference in Emoluments ought to be considered, and likewife the Board confulted.

He

A P P E N D I X, N. 134.

the entirely concurs in the proposed Measures for facilitating the March of Colonel Goddard's hemy; but those now appear unnecessary by his near Approach.

'He approves the Governor's Answer in general about a Reference to the Governor General and Council respecting the Convention of Worgaum, though he makes a Reserve, in consequence of the Poona Committee having deputed Mr. Farmer, and afterwards made a Declaration also about Mr. Holmes's being sent with full Powers, or Carte Blanche, as declared by Colonels Egerton and Cockburn.

The Measures proposed for defending ourselves against the Marattas he approves.

The Reasons why a proper Retreat should have been made to or attempted from Worgaum to Bombay, he conceives are just.

Several Instances of Scindia's good Disposition towards us are quoted, but Mr. Draper declares he knows nothing regarding the Exclusion of the French but from the Sequel of the Treaty, except from private Conversation, since the Return of the Expedition.

Mr. Draper cannot enough lament that we have so lately become fully acquainted with Scindia's being the principal Person in Power, notwithstanding the Residence of Messis. Mostyn and Lewis at Poona; and does not recollect hearing any Thing of his Agent's being sent here till since the Return of the Expedition.

The Six Conclusions appear plausible; but he does not approve the 4th, which appears to him to clash with the 5th.

He thinks the Conjectures about Scindia's Motives of Action should be submitted to the Governor General and Council, and that the Determination, as well respecting the Convention as the Point, whether we are indebted to Madjee Scindia, or not? for the Power of deciding on it, should also be referred to the Governor General and Council.

He remarks on the Argument about the Poona Committee having no Authority to treat. Why did they then invest Mr. Holmes with full Powers, and fend Mr. Farmer making a subsequent Declaration to the Letter?

He thinks the Negociation with Madjee Scindia may be commenced, provided nothing conclusive is done without the Governor General and Council's Approbation, and that it is put on that Footing on the Commencement, that they may not pretend we deceive them.

With respect to the Notes for Rupees 41,000 to Scindia's Durbar Officers, though he highly disapproves them as exorbitant, and never heard of them till the last Meeting of the Committee, he is forry to say, that in our present Situation it seems necessary to discharge them.

The Proposals for the Letter to be written by the President to Madjee Scindia, appears in general proper; but he thinks that the Circumstance of 1000 Horse accompanying the Bengal Army had better be declined, and seems now to be totally unnecessary.

The Proposals for the Field Train and Equipage here being got in Readiness, Mr. Draper approves, but thinks that a Detachment being sent out to join the Bengal Army now, seems totally unnecessary.

He thinks the Guicawars may be founded, but with Caution, left Scindia's Jealoufy might be excited; and that the Remarks on the Governor General's supposed Scheme concerning Moodajee Bouncello, ought to be submitted to them.

He concurs in Opinion with the President, that the Select Committee's late Orders regarding Ragoba, received the 8th Instant, cannot now prove useful.

The Question being then put on the several Resolutions proposed by the President, in the Order they stand in his Minute; ist Resolution. Mr. Draper cannot concur in the First Resolution, because of Colonel Egerton's and Lieutenant Colonel Cockburn's present Situation; because Colonel Goddard may be soon expected; because of Lieutenant Colonel Hartley's late Promotion; and because he concludes, that in case of Emergency, we can more easily get a Field Officer from the Madras Troops, intended to be employed against Mahé.

Mr. Carnac and the President think the Necessity of this Resolution in a great Measure superseded by the rapid Approach of Lieutenant Colonel Goddard.

2d Resolution. Approved by Mr. Draper. Mr. Carnac and the President being of the same Opinion as on the foregoing.

3d Resolution. Mr. Draper is of Opinion the late Convention at Worgaun, concluded by Messrs, Carnac and Egerton, should be referred to the Governor General and Council.

Voted in the Affirmative by Mr. Carnac and the President.

4th Resolution. Mr. Draper is of Opinion appears proper; and agreed to by Mr. Carnac and the President.

5th Resolution. Mr. Draper acquiesces therein considering the Reasons above given; and agreed to by Mr. Carnac and the President.

6th Resolution. Mr. Draper is of Opinion, that we have some Ground to hope that Madjee Scindia is well disposed towards the Company, in consequence of the late Transactions, and that he may be willing to enter into a Connection with us on advantageous Terms.

Agreed to by Mr. Carnac and the Prefident.

7th Resolution. Mr. Draper concurs with Mr. Carnac and the President, in thinking the Objects mentioned under this Article the grand ones to be kept in View.

8th Resolution. Mr. Draper concurs in, provided nothing definitive be done without the Sanction Rep. VI. (U) of of the Governor General and Council, and that no great Expence be incurred by so doing, after the immense Sum already disbursed in support of Ragoba, and with the Reserve before expressed in the specting the previous Declaration upon the Commencement of the Negociation;—concurred in by Mr. Carnac and the President.

9th Resolution. Mr. Draper entirely concurs in this, as do Mr. Carnac and the President.

10th Refolution. Mr. Draper in his Remarks had already declared his Opinion regarding the former Part of this Refolution, and he thinks it will be Time enough to decide on the latter, when we find the feveral Points therein attended to can be obtained, and in the mean Time to apprize the Governor General and Council of them.

Agreed to by Mr. Carnac and the Prefident.

11th Resolution. Mr. Draper agrees thereto, with the Reserve above noticed, regarding the 1000 Horse.

Agreed to by Mr. Carnac and the Prefident, except what regards Colonel Goddard's Army, which is now become unnecessary by his near Approach; in which Mr. Draper concurs.

12th Resolution. Mr. Draper agrees thereto, provided it can be done in such a Manner as not to give Offence to Seindia, though not so necessary on Account of Colonel Goddard's Approach.

Mr. Carnac and the Prefident are of Opinion the Measure therein proposed is not now necessary; in which Mr. Draper also concurs.

13th Resolution. Approved by Mr. Draper as Matters flood before, but now unnecessary.

Mr. Carnac and the President think the Measure should be suspended for the present.

14th Refolution. Unanimoufly agreed to.

15th Refolution. Not thought necessary by Mr. Draper, being of Opinion we ought to be very explicit in our Representations to the Governor General and Council by Letter, in consequence of the President's Minute of Review.

Mr. Carnac and the Pretident continue in the Opinion and Resolution as they stand on the Minutes of our last Meeting.

Secretary to the Select Committee.

A P P E N D I X, N° 135.

Letter from Governor Hornby to the Committee of Secrecy, dated 28th March 1779; enclosing Considerations on the State of Affairs at Bombay.

Honourable Sirs,

OUR Advices conveyed by this Vessel will inform you at large of all Occurrences of Moment up to this Time; but as we have come to no Resolutions with regard to the Measures necessary to be taken at this critical Juncture, the Letters from the Committee will still leave you unsatisfied on this Subject; which of all others I presume will be that you will be most solicitous about. My Thoughts have been much employed on it, and I now do myself the Honour of enclosing for your Information a Paper which is the Result of them. The Form is that in which I have prepared to bring the Matter before the Committee as soon as the Betsey is dispatched.

I have in that Paper given my Sentiments fo fully, as well on the present Posture of Affairs, as on the Prospect before us, between this Time and the End of next October, that I have nothing to add here on those Subjects, and must beg Leave to refer you entirely to it. I slatter myself you will esteem the Measures I propose, such as are best adapted to remedy our present and future Difficulties, to provide for the Security and Prosperity of your Affairs under this Presidency, and to enable us to take the Part which may be hereafter assigned us by the Governor General and Council in their general Plan, with the greatest Prospect of affording effectual Aid in the Execution of it.

The Royal Admiral, which will fail about the 15th or 20th of next Month, will bring you Advice of the Resolutions of the Committee on my proposed Plan of Operations. As I have but just compleated it, I thought it best not to detain the Betsey, that we might be relieved from all other Business before we took this into Consideration; for as it requires Dispatch, so the Importance of it renders it the more necessary that our whole Attention should be confined to it.

On the other Hand, I was unwilling you should be left to suppose that no Plan had yet been thought of, and our future Resolutions bear an Appearance of Precipitation for want of your receiving by this Opportunity some Intelligence regarding them.

Thinking it a Duty I owe to my Honourable Employers to flay in India until Answers are received to this Letter, and being confident it will be pleasing to you, I intend doing it, though I was tully bent on leaving it this Season had the Ships arrived early; but now it is absolutely necessary that I should slay till Answers are received, for several Reasons, and I hope we shall be favoured with your Commands by the Way of Aleppo and Bussorah, for the Conveyance of which I shall keep a Vessel at Bussorah purposely to receive and bring them hither in November, so that I hope to receive them in all December next.

I have the Honour to be,
Honourable Sirs,
Your most faithful and Bombay, the 28th March 1779.

obedient humble Servant,
William Hornby.

Select Consultations, 30th March 1779.

We have now before us that Information of the Views of the Governor General and Council in their projected Alliance with Moodajee Bouncello; and in the State of which Colonel Goddard has left the Negociation with him, the Want of which has hitherto rendered it impossible for us to come to any final Resolution, either with respect to the Steps necessary to be taken here, or with regard to the suture Measures proper to be recommended and submitted to the Governor General and Council for their Approbation and Sanction.

It appears that the First Object of Mr. Elliott's Embassy to Nigapoor, was a defensive Alliance between the Company and Moodajee Bouncello, for the mutual Security of their respective Possessions. The Governor General and Council charged with the Care of all the wide extended Territory of the Company have with great Judgment at the Commencement of a French War, turned their Thoughts thus early to the Cultivation of a Friendship with a Power, whose Dominions, situated between the Company's Provinces in Bengal, and on the Coast of Coromandel on one Side, and the Country under the Command of the Poona Ministers, and the Estates of the Nizam, on the other, render him best able to any Prince in Indostan, to afford us Assistance, and to check the Designs of our Enemies, at the same Time that his near Neighbourhood to the Settlements where the principal Force of the Company is maintained, must make him sensible of the Interest he himself has in a hearty Union with our Nation.

The Governor General and Council proceed from this First Measure planned for the general Safety, to point out to their Minister such particular Circumstances on the Assairs of the Presidency, and in those of the Poona Ministers and the Rajah of Berar, as relate to the more immediate Security of this Settlement, to the Exclusion of the French and their Fastion from the Direction of the Administration at Poona, and to the Establishment of the Government there in the Hands of Perfons well disposed to our Interest.

Mr. Elliott was for these Purposes authorized to enter into a Treaty with Moodajee Bouncello, to unite with him in a direct and open War against the Poona Ministers, and to concert with him Plans for the Prosecution of it, for counteracting the Designs of the French, and for establishing him in the Dominions and Authority of the Ram Rajah.

These are the Measures Mr. Elliott was to pursue, under the following express Limitations and Provisos, that the Presidency of Bombay had neither entered into any new Engagement with Ragoba, nor with any other Party in the Maratta State, with which a Connection with Moodajce Bouncello might class; nor had concluded a Peace with the Poona Ministers: In either of which Cases Mr. Elliott was to suspend his Negociations relative to the Establishment of Moodajce Bouncello in the Ram Rajaship, to conform to the Bombay Measures, and to engage in no offensive Plan contrary to that of the Presidency of Bombay.

The Intentions of the Governor General and Council with regard to a defensive Alliance with Moodajee Bouncello, were communicated to us by a Letter dated on the same Day as Mr. Elliott's Instructions (the 18th of July) and received here the 27th of August; but with regard to the Union projected between the Company and Moodajee Bouncello, for the Removal of the French Faction from the Poona Durbar, and for the Establishment of Moodajee in the Rajaship, we have till this *Time remained uninformed. On the 27th of September we received from the Governor General and Council their Approbation of our Resolutions of the 21st July, and of the Measures we proposed taking in favour of Ragoba, without any Intimation of the Design in favour of Moodajee Bouncello, excepting a Restriction from entering into any Engagements of a Tendency hostile to the Government of Berar, or contrary to such as Mr. Elliott might have apprized us of his having concluded with Moodajee Bouncello.

Under these Circumstances our Treaty with Ragoba was concluded; and we heard no more of the Negociation with Moodajee Bouncello till the 18th of December, when the Governor General and Council's Letter of the 15th of October advised us in general, that the Rajah's Dispositions towards the Company were favourable, but that Mr. Elliott was dead; and that the Governor General and Council proposed to wait for Advices from the Rajah, before they appointed any other Person to succeed Mr. Elliott. We were at the same Time authorized to give Colonel Goddard Orders for proceeding forwards, at all Events, in Support of our Plan for reinstating Ragoba in the Regency, it we should judge this necessary.

A P P E N D I X, Nº 135.

On the 10th of January the Bengal Letter of the 23d of November came to Hand, referring to one of the 16th, which enclosed a Copy of Mr. Elliott's Instructions; advising of Colonel Goddard's being invested with full Powers to conclude a Treaty with Moodajee Bouncello, on the Ground of those Instructions; and informing us that Colonel Goddard was no longer under our Orders, but in a very limited Degree; and what the Limitations might be, we remained utterly ignorant, as the Letter of the 16th of November, and Mr. Filiott's Instructions contained in it, had miscarried.

That of the 23d of November was forwarded to us by Colonel Goddard, accompanied by one from himself, which relieved us from much of the Anxiety we must have felt, while doubtful how far we might depend on the Support of the Forces under his Command: But the Colonel, aware of the Dissipation on the Support of the Forces under his Command: But the Colonel, aware of the Would affist with his Troops in any Measures we might have formed in Reliance on them, as far as two might deem confistent with the Negociation he was then engaged in. And on Receipt of our Letters of the 6th and 19th of December, and on Moodajee Bouncello's declining to proceed further in the Treaty proposed to him by the Governor General and Council, after he knew of the Bombay Troops being in the Field in favour of Ragoba, Colonel Goddard determined to march forward, without waiting to hear further from us.

I have entered into these Particulars in order to shew, that no over-weaning Partiality for Measures of our own, prevented us from paying the Attention and Deference to the Views of the Governor General and Council, to which I shall always think them entitled. I make no Doubt the Governor General and Council had good Reason to reserve to us, with regard to fixing Moodajee Bouncello in the Rajahship; which Reserve I conjecture was owing to the Preference they were willing to give to the Design formed here for the Re-establishment of Ragoba in the Regency, which is evidently the Principle on which Mr. Elliot's Instructions are franced. The Governor General and Council probably thought, that the Communication of another Scheme of their's, while our's was under Consideration, might serve only to embarrass us, and produce a Difference in our Councils, which ought not allow us to pursue our own Measures with the necessary Degree of Considence and Vigour. I cannot resuse myself the acknowledging the Attention shewn throughout Mr. Elliot's Instructions to the Interest of this Presidency, and to the Support of that Credit and Instruction's The liberal Spirit we have experienced from the Governor General and Council, as well in their Judgment of our Principles and Conduct, as in the Assistance they have offered this Settlement, is the best Encouragement to us to act with the Considence in them, which, in Times of Difficulty, is necessary to support us through our Exertions beyond the mere Line of Duty.

It is impossible likewise to pass without noticing the great Merit of the Gentleman who has conducted the Bengal Troops with fuch Prodence and Difpatch to our Affillance at this critical Time. The Difficulties were very great which he must have been under, while charged with the Management of a most important Negociation from the Government of Bengal, to which he must have found himfelf unable to reconcile the Measures already taken at this Presidency. The Delays and Doubts which the same Cause naturally occasioned in the Resolves of the Rajah, to whom he was deputed, rendered his Situation still more embarrassing, as they left him without any determinate Plan for his Conduct, but such as he himself might form for the Occasion. The pressing Exigency of the Company's Affairs on this Side, the united Opposition he had Reason to expect from the Maratta Chiefs, in the Course of a very long March through an Enemy's Country, the unsuccessful Event of our Expedition, the Stipulation for his Return, the Instances made him at the same Time, even on the Part of Moodajee Bouncello, to induce him to it, and a Regard to the future Retolves of the Governor General and Council, were Circumstances that all claimed a Share in his Consideration, and rendered the Choice, whether to proceed on, to return, or to wait for further Orders, no eafy one: His ready Determination of coming without Delay to our Aid, in my Opinion does the greatest Honour to his Judgment. Attention to the Interests of the Company, Prudence, Decision, and Diffinterestedness, were equally conspicuous on this Occasion; and they are such as I think it becomes us to acknowledge to Colonel Goddard; and to point out, with the strongest Expressions of our Approbation, to the Governor General and Council, who, I flatter myfelf, will esteem Colonel Goddard's Conduct deserving the same Degree of Commendation; and permit us to request from them some diffinguished Mark of their and our Sense of his Services.

The Knowledge of the State of the Negociation entrufted to Colonel Goddard with the Rajah of Berar, and the Arrival of Bengal Troops, have made a very confiderable Change in our Affairs.

It appears that the Disposition of Moodajee Bouncello towards an Alliance with the Company, on the Terms proposed by the Governor General and Council, is such as to give us Reason to expect that he will be ready to conclude the proposed Treaty, as soon as ever he receives the Answers of the Governor General and Council to the Letters transmitted to them through Colonel Goddard. These, however, it is likely may not arrive near so soon as Colonel Goddard-supposes they may be expected. The Impossibility of closing with the Rajah, while our Engagement with Ragoba subsisted, will of course be a Caule of Delay on the sirst Receipt of them. The Governor General and Council's Expectations of receiving the Particulars of our unsuccessful Expedition, together with Copies of the Convention concluded at Worgom, Information of the State of our Affairs subsequent to that Period, and Advice of Colonel Goddard's Arrival at Surat, will probably still prevent their coming to any final Resolution, with regard to the Alliance with Moodajee Bouncello, for some Time longer. Yet there seems no Reason to doubt of their Determination to proceed with this Design, which they have represented represented as originally planned to supply the Place of the Scheme entered into here, for the Exclusion of the French Faction from the Administration at Poona. The Adiance with Moodajee Bouncello therefore is what we must look to as the leading Circumstance in our political Transactions with the Marattas in future. The Sense of the Honourable the Secret Committee, of the Governor General and Council, and of this Committee, with regard to the Necessity of feitling the Maratta Government in such a Manner as will render us secure of the favourable Disposition of the Heads of it to our Interest, is perfectly uniform; I shall not therefore insist further on this Subject, on which I take it for granted we must be all agreed.

In my Review of Maratta Affairs I flated very particularly the Reasons I thought there were for preliming that Madjee Scindia was favourably inclined to us, and might be disposed to enter a Connexion for the mutual Advantage of the Company and himfelf. I took Notice of the Claims his Conduct towards us at Worgom had ellablished on us, and the Reasons which his present Authority in the Poona Government, and the Disposition he had shewn to avoid taking Part in the Connexion which the Bramins have formed with the French, together with the natural Opposition of Interest between him and Nannah, furnished for us to wish for such a Connexion between us and him. Letter which I wrote to him as agreed by the Committee, I have hitherto received no Answer. The Two Letters from him of the 2d and 6th Inflant are written in the Name of the Poona Durbar, claiming the feveral Ceffions flipulated for in the Convention of Worgom. His Agent however has still continued the same Protestions of Friendship, but has at last taken Leave without opening himfelt further as to the particular Views of his Mafter. Had Scindia thought proper to have met the Advances I made him in my Letter, and to have come at once to a Settlement that might have fixed our Affairs under this Prefidency on that Footing which is necessary to the Interests of the Company on this Side of India, and for the Security of the general Interest against the Designs of the French, and their dangerous Connexion with Nanah, I should, as I before declared, have been much disposed to have cloted with him. But he has chosen to proceed in a Manner less open, though his Intentions I think may be eatily feen into, and it is necessary for us to take our Measures accordingly.

Madjee Scinda's Idea feems to be, that he has already laid us under such Obligations by the Assistance he gave in extricating our Troops at Worgom; and is so secure of our Jealousy of Nanah's Connection with the French, that he may depend on our still courting his Friendship. And he imagines, by preserving his Claims on us for the Cessions stipulated for in the Convention of Worgom, he shall be able to maintain such an Influence over us, as to chuse his own Time and Terms for any Assistance he may expect from us. At present, he finds his Power in the Maratta Durbar sufficiently secured by his Presence, and by his Command of his own and Holkar's Troops near the Capital; and conceiving our Assistance to be more urgent than his, he hopes for a more advantageous Bargain, by waiting till he can draw Proposals from us. He has already taken Advantage of the Ground we have given him to rely on a Disposition in his Favour, by seizing Succaram Bappoo, and removing his Party from all Trust and Power, and by keeping a stricter Hand than before on Nanah, with whom however he has still refrained from coming to Extremities, probably with a View to making the most of him, and draining him completely of his Treasures.

Nanah's present Situation is such as renders his Views far less intelligible than Scindia's; but it is thus I think they must be understood: While the latter continues at Poona, Nanah can promise himself but a very moderate Share of real Power in the Government; yet Scindia's Troops are at present the chief Security he has, even for that little. Knowing that he must reckon on the English as his Engines, on account of the Measures he has taken with the French, he seems to aim at maintaining himself by Scindia's Means, till he can receive from Europe the Assistance promised him by Lubin; and while he continues rich, he will probably preserve Instructed enough with Scindia to prevent him from coming to an Explanation with us: If he can manage in the mean Time to push Things to that Extremity as to break altogether the Connection he sees likely to take place between us and Scindia, he may hope that the Authority and actual Force he will acquire by the Arrival of his European Allies next Season, will enable him to force Scindia into his Measures, and to keep him in future in his Dependance.

The Attack on Fort Victoria by Moraba Bapobjee, the Subada of Sevendroog, who is the Nephew of Hurry Punt Furkia, and, as well as his Uncle, a Creature of Nanah, I make no Doubt has been concerted by Nanah with a Defign of obliging Scindia to declare against us, and involving him in one common Cause with himself, as he cannot but have observed the Distinction we made betwixt them; and Scindia probably connives at the Measure, with a View of marking to us, that all our Dependance must be on him. Upon our Application to the Durbar, I take it for granted that Scindia will oblige Nanah to discourage the Soubah, and order him to desist; thus pursuing his Scheme of keeping Things in their present State of Uncertainty and Suspense, Nannah will probably give private Orders contrary to the public ones; and we may be subject still to repeated Insults and Depredations, which will be disavowed and renewed continually, while the fair Season will be consumed in this Sort of trisling and disgraceful Intercourse.

Every Principle of good Policy is against our suffering ourselves to be thus amused, and forbids us to lose a Moment in Inaction. The Poona Durbar still insists on our yielding up all our Territories, claiming the full Execution of the Convention of Worgom. Fort Victoria is actually attacked; the Islands have been threatened for some Time past: We must therefore either chuse Peace, on the Terms on which the Enemy prescribe it; or we must take our Measures according to the actual State of War we are now in. While we resolve on neither, we subject ourselves to Inconveniencies which Rep. VI.

APPENDIX, N° 195.

threaten our Affairs with total Ruin; and lose the only Opportunity that can present itself, for putting ourselves in that forward and advantageous Situation, which will enable us either to retrieve our Assars by an honourable Peace, or to prosecute the War with Success.

The Bengal Detachment must already have cost an immense Sum; and its Expence, while it remains here, is more than equal to the full Amount of all our present Revenues. Colonel Goddard has hitherto supplied himself with the Sums necessary for the Payment of his Troops, by the Draits on Bengal; but this is a Resource that cannot be depended on for more than Eight or Ten Lacks more, at furtheft. The Colonel has likewife already expressed his Anxiety with regard to the Butthen his Expences may prove upon the Bengal Treatury; and indeed, if we confider the increased military and naval Establishment of that Presidency, on account of the War with France, and the Demands which have probably been already made on the Governor General and Council by the Gentlemen of Madras, whose Diffress for Money, we have understood, has been the Cause of their delaying to long to carry into Execution the projected Expedition against Mahé, we must consider it as highly probable that our Hopes of Supplies of Cash from Bengal may fail us. In 1776, when the Governor General and Council proposed supporting us in a War with the Maratta Ministers, on a Prospect of Colonel Upton's Negociation proving ineffectual, they had advised that they had resolved to supply us with Ten Lacks; which Sum feemed all they could allow us to depend on, for they infifted that it should be referred for the Purposes of the War only, and even ordered a separate Account to be kept of it, that they might be fatisfied it was applied to no other. If such was the Case at that Time, how much lower must our Expectations be at this, when their own Occasions, as well as the Expences of the Prefidency of Madras, must be increased much beyond what we can venture even to goels at? By the most exact Estimate I have been able to make, I judge that between this Time and the 31st October next we shall have Occasion for about 50 Lacks; and all our Resources together do not afford a Prospect of more than 20 Lacks; great Part of which last, depending on the clearing of Purchasers Goods from our Warehouse, and on Revenues, a considerable Part of which is to be received in Kind, will be apt to fall short of the Estimate; while our Expences are likely to exceed, rather than prove lefs than they are rated at. We might indeed, by putting a total Stop to our Investments, apply about Four Lacks appropriated for the Purchase of Pepper, and the Completion of the China Ships Cargoes, to defray our unavoidable Expences; but, belides the inadequate Proportion of this Supply to our Wants, the Remedy will I believe be thought very desperate.

Another very alarming Circumstance calls for our most serious Consideration: Colonel Goddard informs us, that One Half of his Sepoys have refused to receive their Pay for the Month of January unless that for the Month of February is at the same Time discharged; and he seems to think that this has proceeded from a Disposition among the Men to return Home, if they could furnish themselves with Money enough to bear their Charges to their own Country. It is true, Colonel Goddard is of Opinion, that he shall be able to put a Stop to this Spirit in his Return to Camp; but we have every Reason to fear the Increase of it, should the Troops remain long unengaged in Service, which might divert them from fuch Thoughts.

Whatever our Difficulties may be, from the Increase of our Expences, and the Necessity of providing for the punctual Payment of our Troops, yet the Defence of the Settlement absolutely requires that we should find Means of keeping up our present Force, while Things remain in the State they are now in with the Marattas, and while the War with France continues. The only Way in which this can be effected, is by securing such a Revenue under our own Collection, as may be nearly answerable to our Expences; and it is absolutely necessary to think of taking Measures for this Purpote, before the Dittress we foresee arrives at such a Height as to render our Essous ineffectual. By the Month of October our Finances will be utterly exhausted, the full Amount procurable for Bills on Bengal taken up, and a large Sum still due: In this State, should we have to support an united Attack from the French and Marattas, in what Condition shall we then be to oppose them? Our Bond Debt is already increased near Eight Lacks; none of the Money expected from Bengal, for paying off that before contracted, is yet arrived; and to most People here it seems incredible, that the Subscription opened at Bengal for raising the Sum necessary, can be filled, or any Dependance had on it for Supplies.

Let any one carry his Views forward to the Month of October next, and imagine what our Situation must then be, if we continue inactive to that Time; and let him tell me whether the most unsuccessful War could be attended with more ruinous Consequences than we are then to expect, without the Loss of a single Battle, and in Possession of every Foot of Land we at present hold. It will then be in vain to talk of waiting for Orders or Affistance of any Sort from Abroad: When all our Hopes at Home fail us, and the Moment for providing for our own Necessities is pail, the Poona Durbar will foon find, that the Terms of the Convention, which they still insist on, will be every Day less in our Power to refuse; and we may depend, that with such a Claim on us, which they still keep up, they mean to enforce it whenever the Opportunity may feem favourable. After allowing for Draft of Ten Lacks more on Bengal between this and next October, which is to the full as much as we shall find Bills for, and I tear may be more than that Government can conveniently spare us, we must expect to be at least 20 Lacks in Debt; which is so large a Sum, that I have Doubts whether we may be able to borrow it: But granting that Money is ever so plentiful, yet we have no Funds to pay even Interest; and if once it is seen that the Drains of inexhaustible Wealth from Bengal are at an End, that our Supplies from thence are ftopped, and our Expences more than Double our annual Revenue, our Credit must fail, and we may fix a short Day for the Period of our Ability

A P P E N D I X, N° 135.

Abilist to raise Money by Loans. The Bengal Troops, which may now give Vigour to our Operations, by the Time I allude to may become quite useless for Want of Money to pay them; or if they were to have no Cause of Distaissaction on this Account, there is Reason to sear their Numbers will every Day diminish by their going off to their own Country, for which they will naturally be growing more impatient, the longer they are kept without Employment. We have yet between Two and Three Months of the fair Scason left; and during that Time and the Rains, we are secure from all Attempts of the French, either immediately against us, or in Support of their Faction at Poona: If this Time be not employed, we know not when such another may occur; it is therefore of the last Consequence to put ourselves in the best Posture against the Opening of the next Season, for opposing a French Armament, if any should arrive, and for rendering their Maratta Allies as little capable as possible of affording them Assistance.

Upon the fullest Consideration of all Circumstances, the following are the Measures I think we ought to adopt, and which, with the Concurrence of the Committee, I propose to enter on immediately:

Colonel Goddard should, I think, be desired to write to Moodajee Bouncello, to notify to him his Arrival at Surat; and inform him that he only waits to know the final Determination of the Governor General and Council, and of him (M. B.) with regard to the Subject of his (Colonel G.'s) Negociations, to take his Measures for co-operating with him in Support of our mutual Interest. And that no Doubts may be entertained of the Disposition of this Government in the same Cause, I propose writing likewise to inform him, that our Connection with Ragoba being at an End, by his having put himself under the Protection of another Power, we remain entirely at Liberty to unite with him (M. B.) in any Design the Governor General and Council may have formed in his Favour; and shall be ready to act accordingly, as soon as ever we are informed of their having concluded with him the Terms of their proposed Treaty.

In the mean, Time, Madjee Scindia may be dealt with according to the fame temporizing Plan of Conduct, which he pursues with us. The actual Power he at present possession the Poona Durbar, and the Possibility that the Scheme of a Union with Moodajee Bouncello may yet fail, require that we should keep on Terms with Scindia as long and as far as we can, and maintain the Distinction between him and Nanah. I propose, therefore, still to continue to treat with him for an Equivalent for the Town and Purgunnah of Broach; to receive any Proposals he may have to make towards an Alliance with us, or for Assistance against the Nizam or Hyder; and to make any of these Particulars the Subject of Negociation in such a Manner as to prevent him, as long as possible, from declaring against us; and to spin out Time till we can receive the final Answer of the Governor General and Council, both with regard to the general System of Maratta Assists they resolve on, and the particular; I do not think this will be difficult, as our Intention of gaining Time will be greatly forwarded when the Rains set in, and before the Scason opens we shall certainly receive Directions from Bengal for our Guidance.

Our Proceeding with respect to Nannah ought to be very different. The just Reason we have for esteeming him our irreconcileable Enemy, and the open Abetter and Head of the French Faction, was the Ground of our Commencement of Hossilities. The Claims on us in consequence of the Convention of Worgom, as they cannot be complied with on our Part, and are still insisted on on his, render the War unavoidable, till they are departed from at least. Even were this Point gained, no Dependance could be had on any Terms of Accommodation we might enter into with the Poonah Government, while Nanah continued to share in the Administration, or had a Prospect of recovering his Authority in it; such Accommodation is however at present out of the Question. His Dependants are at this Time actually attacking our Possessions, and we must of Force continue the War. It is however our Business to show that the Quarrel is personal against him and his Faction. It will be proper therefore to prosess our friendly Disposition towards the Maratta State and Chiefs in general; declaring, that our only View is to remove from the Administration, a Party which has shewn an avowed Enmity against our Nation; and to procure a Settlement of the Maratta Government, in Conjunction with Persons on whose Friendship to us we can depend.

The Plan of Operations I would propose for our Forces, and which I would wish to carry into immediate Execution, is as follows:

Colonel Goddard, to whom the most considerable Part will of course be committed, will in the First Place take Possessin of the Purgunnahs of Dolpuar, Hansoot, Occlaseer, Desbora, and Ahmood. This will be a Matter of no Difficulty, the Country being entirely open and unprotected, and situated between our Garrisons of Surat, Broach, and Jambooseer; and it should be recommended to him to effect this in concert with the Chiefs of those Settlements, in order that the Persons of the Maratta Collectors may all be secured at once; by which Means we shall be able to bring them to account for the Arrears and Balances in their Hands, which will be a Matter of great Importance, as the Difficulties of our Affairs, from the low State of our Finances, form one of the principal Objects to which our Views must be directed. The above Purgunnahs yield an Annual Revenue of 6 or 7 Lacks of Rupees, and the Balances collected from them I slatter myself will be considerable.

The Chiefs of Surat and Broach must receive Charge of these Purgunnahs, and endeavour to put them uhder the most advantageous and regular Form of Management, conformable to the Mode adopted in our other Northern Possessions.

Colonel Goddard in like Manner will proceed in the Reduction of the Country South of the Tappi; which, with Oolpaar, Hanfoot, and Occlafeer, comprehend the ancient Domain of Surat, known under the Name of The Surat Auterway; observing the Precaution before noticed, of securing the Collectors in the several Purguinahs, or such of them as he may be able. The Share of the Revenues of the City of Surat, collected by the Poona Chotea, must likewise be appropriated to the Use of the Company. But the Guicawar Chotea and Collectors in the Purguinnahs should be suffered to remain unmolested in their respective Aumils, while Colonel Goddard should give their Principals Notice, that he is empowered to settle the Province of Guzerat in Conjunction with them, without Delay.

The Revenues of the Poona Circar in this Quarter being taken into our Hands, Colonel Goddard should be influeded to bring the Brothers Futty Sing and Govind Row to a Settlement with the Company; the Ground of which must be our feeding to them their present Possessions in the Province of Guzerat, independant of the Poona Government, and their engaging to support us in the Share now retained in that Province by the Poona Government. It will be Colonel Goddard's Care to accommodate the Differences between the Brothers under our Mediation and Guarantee, observing that as Futty Sing's Authority is at present that which is acknowledged in the Guicawar Dominions, his Measures must be taken with him as the Head of the Family, provided he finds both equally ready to unite with us, as he probably will.

The Revenue of the Poona Circar North of the Mihi, from the best Account I have been able to procure of it, amounts to about Eleven Lacks: The Guicawars in the same Country is much more considerable, amounting to near 29 Lacks: The Districts situate between the Mihi and the Tappi, will be held by us as far Eastward as Brodria, Dubhey, Zinnore, and Versavee, South of the Tappi. The Country is held jointly by the Poona Circar, the Guicawars, Nabob of Surat, and Grassius, and is usually estimated to yield a Revenue of about 20 Lacks, of which a full Half belongs to the Poona Circar; the Remainder is divided among the other Shares, but the largest Proportion to the Guicawars. The Revenue collected by the Poona Circar North of the Mihi and South of the Tappi, according to this Estimate, amounts to 21 Lacks; and besides this, the Guicawars pay a Tribute for their Jaghire in Guizerat, amounting to 27 Lacks, which makes up the Revenue of the Poona Circar from this Province, 48 Lacks, exclusive of the Purgunnahs between the Tappi and the Mihi.

The Purgunnahs North of the Mihi belonging to the Poona Circar, I would propose to yield to the Guicawars, in Exchange for their Division of the Country South of the Tappi, for their Share in the Revenue of the City of Surat, and such other Lands as might nearly make up an Equivalent: The Tribute of 27 Lacks per Annum I would propose to relieve them from, till such Time at least as the Poona Government should be settled, and a final Treaty of Peace concluded between us and that Durbar.

As Govind Row has always shewn himself well disposed to our Interest, it will be proper (in our Arrangements with Futty Sing) to provide for him in a suitable Manner, and procure a Jaghire for him more considerable than he has ever yet been able to obtain from Futty Sing, which has never I believe exceeded Three Lacks per Annum. This has still been the Subject of Dispute betwixt them, and is the Cause of their present Contention. Futty Sing might well afford his Brother an Increase, both on Account of the advantageous Exchange he would make with us, and of his being relieved from the heavy Load of Tribute he pays to the Poona Government.

It might be proper to provide some Gratification for the Nabob of Cambay, and procure some Accession of Territory for him in the final Settlement of the Northern Country. But this, with all Particulars of less Consequence, should be given in charge to Colonel Goddard; with discretional Powers to adjust the several Interests in such a Manner as might be most honourable and advantageous for this Government; observing always that we wish the general Plan of Arrangement to be such as to conciliate the several Powers to our Interest, and detach them from the present Administration at Poona.

In order to enable Colonel Godddard to accomplish this the more effectually, I would propose that all our Forces to the Northward should be put under his Command, and a general Authority given him to treat and conclude with the Guicawars, the Nabobs of Surat and Cambay, the Rajahs of Radjpipley, Mandavie, Futtypore, Baunsda, and Magrom, the Cooley Chiefs, and all others who might be affected by our Military Operations to the Northward: I should however recommend to him to refer the Adjustment of the Interest of all but the Guicawars, either to the Chief of Surat or Chief of Broach, or to the Resident of Jambooleer, or Resident of Cambay, according to their respective Situations, in order that his own Attention might not be distracted from greater Objects by more minute Affairs; but I would still propose to reserve the final Regulation of the Affairs of the Guzerat Province in general to Colonel Goddard, guided by our Instructions; and the Servants of the Company to the Northward should be directed to give him all the Assistance and Information that might be required for the successful Management of this important Business.

It may be proper to observe likewise, that the Treaty to be concluded with the Guicawars, must contain a Reservation with regard to the Confirmation and Approval of it by the Governor General and Councis; and it is with a View to this, and to the future Measure to be taken by them with the Rajah of Berar, that I have proposed that nothing definitive should be concluded with the Guicawath relative to their Tribute to the Poona Circar, which will be a Point of Confideration, whenever the general Arrangements of the Maratta Government come to be thought of.

If Colonel Goddard finds it practicable, and confiftent with the general Plan, he might endeavour to obtain from Futty Sing the Cession of Dubhey and Zinnore, which lie very commodiously for compleating our Line of Northern Territory, and yield together a Revenue of about Two Lacks; it will be the descriptions of the confident of the confid be the less difficult, as a considerable Share in the former, and some Part likewise in the latter, I believe is collected for the Poona Government.

Our present Possessions to the Northward, with the Additions above mentioned, would complete a Line of Country extending from the Mihi to the Borders of the Portugueze Diffrict at Damaun; the present Amount of its Revenue may be estimated at about 37 * Lacks of Rupees, and from its Productions of Grain, Cotton, Indigo, and Timber, its Manufactures, compact Situation, and near Neighbourhood to the Prefidency, it feems capable of confiderable Improvements; out of the above Sum, 24 Lacks would be an Accession of Revenue, from the Success of the Plan I now propose.

In confequence of the Exchange proposed to be made with the Guicawars, should they request the Colonel's Assistance for putting them in Possession of the Territories of the Poona Circar North of the Mihi, he should be authorized to assord it them; and it should be recommended to him to exert himself to accomplish this Service with all Dispatch, in order to return at the very first Opening of the Seafon to the Southward, as well to protect our own Purgunnahs, as to be ready to afford any Aid we might fland in need of at Bombay.

I flatter myfelf Colonel Goddard will think the Force he now commands near Surat, with the Addition of a Detachment of 100 European Artillery, would be equal to the Service I have above proposed. The Force we at present have here I should wish to keep entire, that we might not be exposed to Insult from the Enemy at the very Seat of Government. I am in Hopes likewise that our Troops might be applied to other useful Purposes, and prevent the Fnemy, by a judicious Diversion, from attempting any Opposition of consequence to Colonel Goddard's Operations.

The Force remaining in Garrison here I think will be sufficient to enable us to make a vigorous Effort for possessing ourselves of Bassein, which it successful will nearly complete our Views in this Neighbourhood; and as it will be what our Enemies will hardly expect, to find themselves pressed both here and to the Northward at the fame Time, it will ferve above all to recover our Reputation, and impress them with a Respect of our Force.

Here our Military Schemes might terminate, if it were not that all our Measures at this Time have so great a Reference to the probable Designs of the French, that they will still be incomplete, unless we can disconcert their Views by possessing ourselves of the Port where they have proposed to establift themselves; I should therefore, if the Season and other Circumstances seemed favourable, wish much to attempt next the Reduction of Choul. The Arrival of the King's Ships towards the Close of the Season may facilitate this Enterprize, and the Accomplishment of it would give us such Advantages over our Enemies, as they could hardly make head against. Should the French arrive, and find themselves prevented in this grand Scheme of theirs, on the Success of which all their Projects against this Place are probably founded, nothing could tend to much to the final Defeat of them. They would be without a Port; they must begin all their Negociations and Intrigues anew, while their Force would be wasting away; or they must begin their Operations under manifest Disadvantages, which they would have supposed obviated by their Possission of Choul.

By a proper Exertion of the Force we now have, all these Purposes may, I think, with a moderate Share of good Fortune, be effected before the Opening of the next Seaton; against which Time it is necessary we should be prepared, either to repel an Attack on our Settlement by the French, or to act in Support of our Ally the Rajah of Berar, or such other Party among the Marattas as the Governor General and Council may determine to unite with. Our Advantages in either Case are apparent: Our Forces will be paid during the Interval, without distressing ourselves by carrying the War into the Enemy's Country; our actual Revenue will be more than doubled; the Reputation of our Arms restored; the grand Object of our Politics, the Settlement of the Poona Government, will be the only Point we shall have to attend to; and the Resources of our Enemies reduced, by the Loss of above 50 Lacks of Yearly Revenue.

The Opposition we may expect is in no Degree proportionate to the great Advantages we have in prospect; the Union of Nanah and Scindia is evidently imperfect, their Ministers have never acted together fince they have been here, not even in what might feem a common Interest, the Demand of the Cessions they came to receive; Scindia has plainly a View of our Friendship, and will hardly relanquish it, and engage in a hazardous Enterprize to far from Poona as Guzerat, especially while his Jealoufy of the Nizam, who is known to favour Nanah, and Hyder's Operations to the Southward, call him the direct opposite Way; Nanah has no other Chief, or any other Army but Scindia's to oppose us, and if he had, it would take more Time to collect Forces from different Parts, and march them to the Scene of our Action, than now remains between this and the fetting-in of the Mon-

The Objection of want of Authority from the Governor General and Council can hardly, I think, be urged in this Case; we are in an actual State of War: This single Fact seems to me an Answer to all Objections of this Kind, even if it were true that we had not the express Sanction of the Governor General and Council for commencing Hostilities: But when we consider further the eminent Danger to our Assairs from Inaction, the contrary Advantages of Decision, and the sew real Difficulties we have to meet in a vigorous Prosecution of the War, I cannot have a Doubt of the Measures we ought to take: Our Powers are in my Opinion express and ample; but if they were not, this I am convinced is no Time for Delay in Expectation of them; and while I have the Honour of bearing a Public Trust, I shall in all Cases of great Moment chuse rather to risk the Consequence, which can only affect me individually, than to bear the Imputation of having neglected or delayed Measures essential to the common Good, for no better Reason than to secure myself from Blame, if they should prove unsuccessful.

Letter from Fort William to Colonel Leslie.

Sir,

WE have received your Letters from the 25th July to the 9th instant.

The unexpected Length of Time which the Detachment under your Command has remained at Chatterpore, made it necessary to endeavour for our own Satisfaction to collect the Causes assigned for it in your Letters from that Place. We observe by your First Letter, dated Two Days after your Arrival on the 3d July, that it would be necessary to halt for some Time to repair the Gun Carriages which had been much shaken in the March from Calpee. On the 25th July you informed us, that they had undergone a thorough Repair, and that you waited then for nothing but to complete your Complement of Cattle, and to collect a Store of Grain to carry with you in case of Exigency, but that you should march in a few Days. On the 30th July you repeated, that you should proceed on your March in a few Days, when the heavy Rains were abated; but neither of your lait Letters, dated 9th August, though still written from Chatterpore, mention your Intention of quitting that Place in the Prosecution of your March, nor do they give any Reason for deferring it; we cannot therefore help expressing the greatest Surprize and Uneasiness at this unexpected Delay; and though we doubt not you will be able to assign a statisfactory Cause for it, we think it necessary to call on you for such Cause, as we are uninformed of any since the 25th July.

On this Occasion we think it proper to recall to your Attention the Caution given you in our Letter of Instructions, "That you do not suffer yourself to be diverted from the Protecution of your Maich by any new Object, however plausible, except only for the Subsistence or Safety of your Troops indispensably requiring it." And we also repeat the Hope expressed in our last Letter, that you will pursue your March to Berar with all convenient Expedition, according to our Orders of the 7th oltimo.

Fort William, 31st August 1778. We are, &c.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 2d September 1778.

PRESENT,
The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,
Mr. Barwell indisposed.

THE Governor General lays before the Board the following Letter, which he received from Colonel Leslie last Night; and desires that it may be recorded, as it may serve to remove the Doubts which are expressed in the Minutes of the last Consultation, respecting the Prosecution of the March of the Detachment, and the Causes of its Detention at Chatterpore. He had Letters from Camp dated the 14th, the Day which Colonel Leslie had fixed on for leaving Chatterpore. The Camp was still there on that Day; but from the Terms of his Letter he does not entertain the least Doubt that Colonel Leslie must have been then on the Point of leaving it; and is equally satisfied, as he hopes the Board will be, that no Consideration will have induced Colonel Leslie to enter into Engagements of a Tendency to retard his Progress, or to divert the Services of the Troops under his Command a Moment from their destined Course or prescribed Objects.

Dear Sir, Camp Chatterpore,
August 11th, 1778.

My Letter of the 4th Instant would inform you of the Situation of Affairs betwixt Surnet Sing Goman and Coman Sing, from the united Friendship of whom I thought every Difficulty at an End, as they had informed me they had fettled all their Matters, and made a firm Connection, which I was to become the Witness of; but when I pressed my Supply, and was preparing to move, I found some Doubts had interposed: I requested to be informed of them. Goman and Coman Sing suppoied when I was gone the Whole would join against them, and drive them out; and I then plainly faw my Stay here was what they wished for, to secure them on the Side of Surnet Sing: But if I went away, Anrood Sing being the stronger Party, they resolved to accept his Proposals, and join him: Both Surnet Sing and Anrood Sing had made the same Proposals; but they had accepted the first and rejected the latter's. I pressed them to come to an immediate Ratisfication, as I would not stay a Moment longer, and required their Answer at a certain Time. I had an Interview with their Agents the 7th at Night, and all Parties seemed satisfied, and promised to be with me in the Morning; but fresh Disputes arising that Night, they broke through every Agreement with Surnet Sing. Goman and Coman Sing's Men came to me on the Morning of the 8th: They informed me their Masters had sent them with the strongest Assurances of Friendship to the English, and of their Aid to me; and they doubted not of a reciprocal Return. In short, they required that I should return back to Jaitpore, drive Gudd Sing from thence, and give them Possession of his Fort. I told them I had often informed them, that it was out of my Power, but particularly so now; that they did not consider the Delay and Expence of such an Undertaking, which I could not answer for. They then very kindly offered me Thirty Thousand Rupees. I replied, Thirty Lack would not induce me to fire a Shot at it; and therefore I requested to hear no more on the Subject. I defired to know what Agreement they had made with Surnet Sing. As I was on the Point of marching, they informed me all Agreement was at an End, as they had an Offer from Anroad Sing of the Restoration of their Country, taken by Hindooput, and could not be at the Expence of supporting Surnet Sing. I defired them to inform their Matters I was not only surprized, but sorry for this Circumstance; that I was obliged to them for the Trouble they had put themfelves to, to demonstrate their Friendship to the Company in a Visit to me; and as their Business was now at an End, I wished them to return to their Country as foon as convenient. They asked me when they should go? and I replied, the sooner the better; To-morrow, if they choice it, as I could have no Objection: Thus we parted. As the Vackeels had informed me their Masters would take their Leave of me, I thought no more of it, as I was to be informed from Surnet Sing the Cause of all this. He assured me they had intended nothing from the Beginning, and only acted a Part to cover a Treaty with Anroad Sing, which he had Realon to believe they had concluded; that he had no farther Expectation from them, and that they were better at a Distance; that he would give me all the Aid in his Power to torward my March, whatever Risk he run.

On the 9th early I had a Report of Goman and Coman Sing having marched in the Night, and gave it out that it was by my Orders they had marched away; and that they were afraid to disobey me. They were got Seven Cois off before I was aware of it, near to Seerangur: I fent immediately after them, to know the Meaning of so precipitate a Departure, without taking Leave: Soon after an Hircarrah arrived from Pannah, from Benny Hozoory, one of Anrood Sing's Ministers, with an intercepted Letter from the Vackeels of Goman and Coman Sing, sent by them to Anrood Sing, in which they inform their Masters of having executed their Orders, had concluded a Treaty with And rood Sing, entreating them to raife Troops at my Expence, and prescribe a Mode of their joining. Anrood's Army: Benny Hazoory, offended at this Measure, has quitted Anrood and the rest; has secured himself at Pannah, and offers to join Surnet Sing whenever I shall defire him. Cullock Sing has offered to quit them also, and join Surnet with Three hundred Horse. They are such a Set of vile Scoundrels, that in the Midst of all this I resolve to march from this Place on the 14th, by the Route of Rage Gurr, to induce Anroad to move to Callinger; when I shall turn to the Right, and pursue my Route to Sagur, by which Means I shall have nothing to offend me but Ballajec, who I think will acquiesce. The Rains are lessened, and I hope pretty fair Weather till I reach Houstena. bad, which I shall get to with every possible Dispatch; and I think I have met with no Disadvantage or Delay by my Halt here; and I am in Hopes to have the Board's Sentiments regarding Munroc's Affair and Mhow, ere I quit it. Goman and Coman Sing's Vackeels are returned, and express their Master's Uneasiness at going away without taking Leave: But to convince me of their Friendship, fay they are going to chastile my Enemies, and bring the Head of Gunnaish Hazoory (the Kellidar of Raat) to my Feet, who all agree was the Perpetrator of the horrid Transaction on Captain Munroe. I find the Board's Orders for garrifoning Kalpee has reached Lieutenant Colonel Wilding and Captain Rawstorne, and retaining it for their further Instructions, without any Reference to my Agreement with Ballajee and Gunga Durr.

I should therefore be glad to have the Board's Instructions, whether upon Ballajee's suture Conduct to me, I may not promise the Restitution of Calpee, according to Agreement: In this Case, I must request the Board's Instructions to Captain Rawstorne, to comply with such Requisition as I may make to him on that Account.

I am with the highest Regard, &c. (Signed) Matt* Lessie.

N° 138.

Mr. Francis—As further Intelligence may naturally be expected every Day of Colonel Leslie's March from Chatterpore, or of his subsequent Proceedings, I shall only say at present, that the Doubts which I entertain concerning the Motives of Colonel Leslie's Conduct, and which appeared to have made the same Impression upon every Member of the Board, at our last Meeting, are not removed, nor can they be removed, until I see satisfactory Reasons assigned for his halting at Chatterpore, from the 3d July to the 14th August; how much longer he may stay there is uncertain. It appears by the present Letter, that he is implicated in some Shape or other, in the Disputes and Interests of the Rajah, and other Chiefs of the Bundlecund Country; but it does not appear of what Nature his Connections with them are, or what Reasons induced him to take Part in their Affairs: That the Prince of the Country should wish to detain a foreign Army in the Heart of his Dominions, and in the Possession of his Capital, and that he should endeavour to prevent such an Army from marching out of his Country, if it were their Inclination to do so, I presume, will be thought too unreasonable to deserve Credit. As to the Rains to which Colonel Leslie in part attributes his Delay, I must beg Leave to remind the Board, that it was constantly and repeatedly urged in Argument here, when the possible Dissibilitudies that might attend the March were in Consideration, that the Rains would rather relieve the Army, or at least that they would be no Impediment to their March. For these Reasons I must declare for myself, that the Doubts I have entertained of Colonel Leslie's Halt at Chatterpore remain unremoved.

The Governor General—Of what Nature the Connections are which may have been formed between Colonel Leslie and the Chiefs of Bundlecund, I know not: And I think it will ill become the Justice or Dignity of this Board to form their Opinion on them from public Rumours, or to pre-judge his Conduct, while the Circumstances and Motives of it are confessedly unknown. I will own that I have felt the Disappointment of his continuing so long at Chatterpore, at least equally with the other Members of the Board, perhaps much more sensibly; and I have been as little pleased with the apparent Connection between him and Surnaut Sing, because I knew not the Nature of it, nor to what it tended, and because I had expected as a Right, the most unreserved Communication of it: I feared the Detention of our Forces for the Purpose of essecting a Revolution in the Government of Bundlecund; an Event, to which he might be naturally led, if he consulted only the Insuence of his Passions by the strong Provocation which he has received from the Rajah, and the Sense of Obligation arising from the seasonable Offers of Service made to him by Surnaut Sing, the Rajah's elder Brother. It is a Justice due to Colonel Leslie to afford the Board such Information as I am in Possession of relative to his Connection; and it is the more necessary, as the Letter which I have just recorded refers for such an Explanation to one which he had before written to me: This I shall therefore beg Leave to insert.

Camp at Chatterpore, August 4th 1778.

Sir

Last Night I received by Express Cossids from Poona (which they left the 22d of June) a Letter from Mr. Mostyn, a Copy of which I transmit you, with the Maratta Governor's Credentials for my free March through their Territories; which with the particular ones I am already in Possession of, I am in Hopes I shall have no surther Molestation in my March, and that I shall be amply supplied with Provisions, as I have the voluntary Assurances of several of the lesser Chiefs South of Sagur, of giving me all the Assistance in their Power.

I do not know what further Line Ballajee will take, as he is still in Arms, and lying in my Way, but I apprehend he will be now submissive, perhaps complaisant, as Benny Ram will necessarily see him on his Journey, as he lies on his Road, and will have a Memorandum from me. I have had no late Communication with him, but I find he is anxious for the Return of his Fort of Kalpee, which I think from his Behaviour ought to be retained, unless his future Conduct may deferve the ratifying the Agreement made with his Brother, which he acknowledges himself bound by. I have acceived a Letter from Goonga Durr, requesting the fulfilling my Engagement to mim, of re-delivering him Kalpee on my Arrival at Chatterpore. I have answered him, that from his own Behaviour I would comply with his Requisition of the Return of Kalpee; but as I hold his Brother Baltajee equally bound by that Agreement (and which he acknowledges himself to be) his Breach of it by taking up Arms, and urging all the Powers around to do the like, and in Conjunction with him, to oppose a March they had consented to, and by committing Acts of Hollility against me, I did not think myself justifiable in delivering back Kalpee, until I had received the further Orders of Government, whom I had informed of the Circumstances, and his further Conduct deserved such Acquiescence.

I should be glad to know the Sentiments of the Government on this Occasion; and whether, if the Conduct of Ballajce be friendly and hospitable towards us, I may not promite the immediate Delivery of it. Anroad Sing is still in Force, and doing all in his Power, by Power of Monry, to draw more Forces together; he has made large Offers to Goman and Coman Sing to join him, and extirpate us: They contess so. Saurnet Sing and they are in Agreement to support one another; they will, I hope, finish it To-morrow (when I am to see it) and which they hope will meet with the Protection of your Government, which they ardently wish their Behaviour will merit. This over, all my Supplies are to be amply found me, and every Aid given me into Ballajee's Territories lying before me, and preventing Anroad Sing from harrassing my Rear. The Rains are now heavy; but I hope Recess in a few Days, when my March will be continued.

I have the Honour to be, &c. &c. (Signed) Matt* Leslie.

Governor General—As Motives have been affigned on Conjecture for Colonel Leslie's Conduct, and these strongly supported by the apparent Inconsistency of the Rajah's Opposition on any other Grounds, I hope I shall be excused if I take up a small Portion of the Fime of this Board in fuggefting the probable Grounds of both.

The Rajah is a Youth, I think of Fifteen Years of Age; his Judgment of course pliant to every Advice and Information given him by those who are in Possession of his Confidence. It is nor possible that his Conduct can be governed by the Principles of Prudence, or by a real Knowledge of his own Interest. We know that Ballajee, the Maratta Chief, who opposed the First Movement of our I roops in the Passage of the Jumna, and has continued his Hostilities to them without Intermission from that Time, notwithstanding the Accommodation concluded between him and Colonel Leslie, very foon after joined the Rajah, and has been the prime Mover of all his Actions. In Effect, it is Ballajce, an Alien, and not the Sovereign of the Country, who, to use the Words of Mr. Francis's Minute, has endeavoured to prevent our Army from marching out of his Country. Ballajce might have obviously suggested to the Rajah, that the Object of this Armament, though speciously diguised under the Pretext of being deftined for the Protection of Bombay, a Part of the World too remote for his Knowledge, was folely to affilt the Pretentions of his elder Brother to the Sovereignty of his State; and the subsequent Junction of his Rival with our Army, which could not but have been foreseen by the Maratta Chief, might be easily made by him to appear a Proof of his Insinuations, though in Effect a necessary Consequence of his Councils; and mere Affertions would have been fufficient to convince a young Prince of Fifteen Years of Age, and to induce him to regard and treat our Army as his Enemies. This may fuffice for the probable Motives of the Rajah's Conduct. As to Colonel Leslie, after the unprovoked Enmity which had been shewn him by the Rajah, and the Attempt made by him to diffress the Army in the most important Article of Provisions, it was an obvious Policy to embrace the Friendship of any Competitor, who might at the same Time serve to intimidate the Rajah to Peace, and insure Supplies of Provisions under his Command. If this was his Motive, it was fo far laudable; if he had any other, or, to speak more plainly, for there can be but One other, if it was his Intention to disposses the Rajah in being, and to raise his Brother to the Sovereignty of Bundlecund in his stead, he has disobeyed the positive Orders of the Board, and proved himself unworthy of the Considence which they have reposed in him. The Truth of this will hereafter appear.

A P P E N D I X, Nº 137 and 138. Nº 139.

I am forry that Colonel Lessie should have made use of the Rains as a Reason for his Continuance at Chatterpore; it might be the Cause of retarding his March, but certainly could be none for fixing him for Forty-two Days together to one Spot; and it is as certain that his Infantry could, at least with equal Facility, have passed over the Ground over which the Cavalry of his Enemies have retreated. I still affirm, not as a Point of Belief, but of Certainty, that the Season of the Rains was beyond all Comparison more favourable to the March of the Troops than the dry Weather which preceded it; but as Mr. Francis has quoted my former Declarations upon this Subject from Me. mory, I believe and hope at least that he has carried his Recollection of my Assertions beyond the Reality. It was scarcely possible that I could have said that the Rains would be no Impediment to the March of the Army. I had made this a Subject of very minute Enquiry; and I knew that at certain Times the heavy Rains which fell would swell the little Rivers of that Country over which his Route lay, so as to render them impassable, but that they would presently subside, as the Cause which filled them ceased. They might certainly impede and delay, but they undoubtedly would not prove a total Obstruction to the March. What I said, respected the Health and Safety of the Troops, and the Conveniency of Shade and Water; the Hardships to which the Troops were exposed until the Setting in of the Rains, have verified what I foretold. The Extract will be but short of what I formerly dictated on this Subject; and I beg that the Secretary may be allowed to enter it after this Minute.

gt. Cenf. Apr. 1773. Governor General—It was a very early Subject of my Enquiry to know what Inconvenicies our Troops would be exposed by marching in the Rains, which at the first occurred to me as an insurmountable Obstacle. I have every Reason to believe, and am confirmed in my Opinion by that of Colonel Lessie, that the rainy Season so far from proving an Objection, will rather facilitate the March, and prove a Relief to the Troops, which will suffer more from the excessive Heats and from Drought in the elevated and open Plains, through which they will probably pass, than by the rainy Season whenever it shall overtake them, as it certainly will; possibly too they will be less exposed to the Attack of Cavalry in the Rains, and in respect to Health, our own Records afford us one Instance, and I believe more, of our Sepoys, and even European Infantry, recovering from a State of Sickness, by a March begun in the very Height of the Rains, as was the Case in the last Campaign of Colonel Champion.

6 21 May.

Governor General—I have in a former Minute declared, that I regarded the rainy Season as favourable to the Expedition conducted by Colonel Leslie.

Mr. Francis. I do not mean to prejudge Colonel Leslie's Conduct, or to assign any Motives whatever for his Actions. Those which the Governor General has stated may be well founded, but they are formed upon Conjecture only: I have only said that my Doubts are not removed; and I submit it to the Judgment of the Court of Directors, taking Things in the Point of View in which they stand before us at this Moment, whether such Doubts are warranted or not: I hope the Governor General will pardon me, if I say that it appears to me, that even his Mind is not yet quite satisfied on this Subject.

Governor General—I must beg Leave to close the Debate, which I think does not require my Continuation of it; the Event will better prove, than any Conclusions drawn by Mr. Francis or myself upon present Appearances, whether Colonel Leslie has conducted himself with a strict Regard to his Duty and Attention to the Service on which he was entrusted.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

1 did myself the Honour of addressing you the 15th Instant, enclosing Copies of Two Letters I had received from Mr. Lewis at Poona. The enclosed is a Copy of a subsequent Letter to the former, which reached me fince the Ditpatch of my last.

I encamped here this Morning, and shall proceed To-morrow to Raje Gur, from whence I hope to be able to inform you further of the State of Affairs here.

To Colonel Leslie.

Inclosed is Duplicate of my last Letter under the 18th Instant.

I dispatch this purposely to acquaint you, that notwithstanding the Dustucks already granted by Madjee Scindia, for your free Passage through his Country, I Yesterday received Intimation he intends shortly marching from hence with his whole Force, amounting to about Twenty thousand Men, to stop your March; and to put you on your Guard, not only against his declared Designs, but also against any similar Schemes he may have formed, in the Hopes he entertains of your repoling a Confidence in his Dultucks, and the private Orders he may in confequence have given to his Officers, which in my Opinion are the most to be apprehended; for of all the Marattas, Scindia bears the Character of being the most deceitful. I would not advise you to place too much Considence in Tookajee Holcar's Dustuck, for though he may really mean well, yet in the late Change which has happened in this Government, he is to much reduced as to be obliged to comply with whatever Orders Madjee Scindia may give him.

I am, &c.

Poona, 26th July 1778. (Signed)

W^m Lewis.

To the Honourable Warren Hastings, Esquire, Governor General, &c. Members of the Supreme Council.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I have the Honour to acquaint you, that I arrived at this Encampment in Three Days from Chatterpore, being the 17th, in the Forenoon.

purposed to have encamped on the Banks of the Kaine River; but on advancing to examine the Ground with the Quarter Matter General, the Troops of Anroad Sing, who are posted on the opposite Banks of the River, immediately opened their Batteries: I therefore withdrew, and fixed my Camp about a Mile distant, out of the Range of their Shot. As this unprovoked Attack confirmed to me their hostile Intentions, I thought it necessary to take a nearer View of their Post, and as soon as the Troops came up, I advanced a Picquet of One Battalion with fome Pieces of Cannon to the Banks of the River. The Enemy began a funct Fire upon the Troops as foon as they came in View, but without any Effect. I thought it necessary to exchange a few Shot and Shells, to shew my Sentiments of their Behaviour; and as I did not like to withdraw the Artillery immediately, without doing them fome greater Mischief than merely the Alarm of a Cannonade, I ordered a few Carcasses to be thrown among their Huts, which soon took Fire, and burnt with great Fury till Sun-set. As they have secured all the Boats on the opposite Banks, and I deem it unsafe to pursue my Route along the Kaine, with so considerable an Enemy in my Rear, the dislodging them is become abfolutely necessary, and the Artificers of the Army are buly at work preparing Punts and Rafts to pass the River, and I hope to be able to make the Attempt in a Couple of Days at farthest.

The Rajah continues to deny that those Acts of Hostilities are committed by his Authority, although his Troops keep up a constant Fire on any of our People going to the River for Water, both with their Guns and Matchlocks.

The Ceffation of the heavy Rains is a very favourable Circumstance for my croffing; the River is fallen greatly, and is less rapid than the First Day I arrived, and I am anxious to take the Advantage of the Opportunity for dislodging the Enemy from their Post. I am yet doubtful of the Part Ballajee will take on my Advance towards Saugur. It is this Circumstance that renders it more immediately necessary I should take some effectual Steps to disperse the Army of Anroad Sing, for the Force of Surnaut Sing will not be able to withstand him, and my Communication and Supplies must be inevitably interrupted.

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,

I do myself the Idonour to enclose you a Duplicate of my Address of the 20th Instant; I also beg Leave to forward to you an original Letter, which I received on the 22d, from the Prefidency of Bombay, under the Signature of a Select Committee, authorized by the Honourable the Court of Directors, for the conducting all political and military Operations in that Part of Asia; in which you will perceive I am directed to change my Route, and to march by the Way of Kooranpore and Juneer, through the Bug. lana Country, instead of my former Destination to Surat or Broach; which these Gentlemen from the present State of Assairs at Poona, deem more liable to Difficulty than a more Southern Route.

On the 22d Instant Advances were made by the Ministers of Anrood Sing to come to Terms of Pacification; and Yesterday Two Messengers came across to my Camp with the most humiliating Protessions from the Rajah, Anrood Sing totally denying that the Acts of Hostility committed by his Army were in any Shape authorized, and declaring they were ready to receive my Orders. I returned them with my Requisitions, comprized in a few Words, and I am promised an ultimate Answer Today. The Situation of the Enemy's Post, and the Rapidity of the River, requires every Precaution to be taken for the Support of any Attack I may be necessitated to make; and the Artificers of the Army are busy building Boats and Rasts for this Service, which I shall not hesitate to attempt the Moment I am resolved whether their Proposals are real, or meant only to deceive and protract Fine, as their whole Conduct has hitherto shewn.

The Readine's with which the other Brother, Surnaut Sing, complied with the Application of Government, to the Extent of his Abilities, and the Services he has rendered my Camp in the Article of Supplies, prompts me to fecure his Independence and Property, in my Agreement with Aniood Sing; and I hope you will approve of my providing against any Jealousy of their's reaching him.

after my Departure.

The Situation of Affairs at Poona, and the Advices communicated in Mr. Lewis's Letters, will, I trust, evince to you the Necessity of my destroying all Possibility of having my Communication cut off, which must have happened, had I puriued the more direct Route to Sagur, by the Way of Gool Gunge. I have now no Doubt of effecting this Advantage, either by a Treaty of Friendship with the Rajah, Anrood Sing, or the Dispersion of his Army.

Camp at Raje Ghur, August 24th, 1778. I have the Honour to be, &c. (Signed) Matt* Leslie.

To Colonel Leslie.

Sir,

Just after I had dispatched my Letter of the 26th (Duplicate of which is inclosed) I received your Two Favours of the 2d and 6th Instant, with the Packets enclosed for the Presidency of Bombay, which were immediately forwarded.

I have this Day received Information, that the Durbar have fent Orders to the Rajahs of Bundella, Coneha, Dutty, and Chunderry, to use every Endeavour to molest you on your March, and to avoid, if possible, coming to an Action; but should they find they are unable to stop your Progress, they are to deny having any Authority from this Government for opposing you. It is particularly recommended to them to prevent your receiving Supplies of Provisions.

I also now inclose the Original of a Letter from the Select Committee of Bombay to your Address, received this Morning; its Duplicate shall be forwarded in a Day or Two, or as soon as I can get any Information of the Roads between Brampore and Juneer.

Poona, the 30th July 1778. I am, &c. (Signed) W^m Lewis.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,

R Eccived the following Letter from Colonel Leslie:

Honourable Sir, and Sirs,
I am favoured with your Letter of the 4th ultimo; and it gives me great Satisfaction you approve of the Necessity I was under of reducing the Port of Mhow, and of inviting Surnait Sing to join me.
I have

Nº 140, 141, 142, and 1143. PPENDIX,

I have with the utmost Caution avoided interfering with the Bundellah's Chiefs, either in their private, or public Disputes, and I shall persevere in this Conduct; but in the Instance of Surnaut Sing, I hope you will think me justifiable in requesting his Brother, Aurood Sing, to let him peaceably enjoy the Estate left him by his Father, and confirmed by a Treaty since his Death by the Ministers of the young Anrood Sing; and that all Animolity should cease betwixt them, and no Jealousy remain for Surnaut Sing's joining me, which the young Rajah most readily agreed to; and the original I reaty to be finally determined by their own Agents. In fact, this is not near so much as they offered him not to join the English; but Surraut Sing, wishing to be at Ease, is willing to quit all other Presentions to enjoy this undiffurbed; and I am induced to hope my interfering to far will meet with your Approbation, when I affure you he has rendered us the most singular Service in our Supplies, which have hitherto, by his Industry, been very ample. But I do not believe the Ministers of Anroad Sing mean to have any thing settled, as they have evaded sending the proper Persons to do so for many Days; nor will they determine what Route I am to take, and give me Supply, until the Rain and Rivers will give me Leave to chuse for myself, when I shall most certainly pursue my Route, according to your Orders.

I informed you in my Letter of the 24th ultimo, of the Prospect I had of accommodating Matters with Anrood Sing; but on the 29th the Rains fell very heavy, and continued to do so all the 30th and 31st, which swelled the River exceedingly, and put a Stop to Hiera Loll, the Person Anroad

Sing was to fend me to determine finally my Route and Supply.

On the Evening of the 31st, I received Intelligence that Pudham Sing, who was stationed at Gool Gunge, had quitted that Place with the greatest Part of his Forces, and had placed himself betweet ne and Chatterpore, with a View to stop my Supplies, which he fo far succeeded in, as to carry off Three or Four hundred Oxen Load; and threatened Chatterpore with Pillage, if they admitted any Supply being fent me. On this Information, I ordered Captain Popham, with his Battalion and duns, with the Candahar Horle, to march immediately towards Gool Gunge, to endeavour to drive Audham Sing from his Post, and recover the Provision. He marched on the 1st Instant; on the Evening of which Day he had Intelligence of Pudham Sing's Situation, and the next Morning early he marched towards him. It was One o'Clock on the 2d before he could come up: On his Approach Pudham Sing's Troops got under Arms: Captain Popham's Grenadiers being advanced, and the Candahar Horse on their Flanks, the Bundellahs began a brisk Fire on them; but the Grenadiers advancings with a few Vollies drove them, which gave an Opportunity to the Candahars to fall in mongil them, and totally routed them, pursuing them near Three Coss to Gool Gunge, where they retreated to, and near to which Captain Popham encamped. This Service was performed with the very inconsiderable Loss of One Sepoy killed and Three wounded, One Candahar Horieman killed and Six wounded; nor was there a Cannon Shot fired, as the Guns were not up. On the 3d, One of Captain Popham's Officers, Lieutenant Tildall, going too near the Fort, was that through the Ancle with a Musket Ball; and on this Night Pudham Sing abandoned the Fort, and is gone towards Punchumnagar, to join Bellajce.

The River has role again very confiderably, which evinces a heavy Fall of Rain to the West-

My Detachment is healthy; and the very Moment the Rains will admit, I shall continue my

The Governor General lays before the Board the following Letter from Colonel Leslie, dated 7th September:

Nothing has happened fince the 4th but an inceffant Fall of Rain, and Anroad Sing's People using every Diligence to prevent my crofting the River, notwithstanding Hiera Loll says, in a Letter to me, he is impatient till he can fee me.

I have this Day received a Letter from Moodajee Boosla, a Copy of which I transmit you, which will best explain his Sentiments, as he has requested I would communicate them. It gives me Satisffaction to find he is pleased at your sending an Embassy to him, as I suppose he has got rid of the Jealousy a Report of Troops marching by Cattack had given him.

I have received also a Letter from Lollah Judd Roy, from Houshengabad, with repeated Ossers of Friendship, and expressing his Anxiety for my coming up.

I have a Letter also from the Nabob of Bopal, expressive of his Friendship and Assistance. The Rains he says are very heavy, and Roads bad, Beneram has not got near that Country yet, as I expected, but I expect every Hour to hear from him.

I have received Letters also from Bellajee and Gungadur, expressive of their Satisfaction at the REP. VI. (Aa)Evacuation

A P P E N D I X, N' 140, 141, 142, and 143.

Evacuation of Kalpy, and Declarations of Friendship towards us; yet I wish this Circumstance had not taken place, until I had got out of Bellajee's Territory, as our retaining it a little would have kept him in Awe, but he will now suppose we are soliciting his Friendship, and he will plune himself upon the Condescension, and be retrograde.

Bellagee has paid no Attention to the Demand of the Vackeels of Ragoba for Five Lacks, which the Tuncaw expressly says, is for the Use of the English Army under my Command, but to be paid to them on their Receipt: He desires they would come to him and confer on the Subject, but gives not the least Hint of Payment or Resusal. He says in his Letter to me, he has wrote to his Master, informing him of all Circumstances, and will ever be obedient to his Will. I do not believe he means Ragoba.

The inceffant Fall of very heavy Rain has prevented this Letter being fent last Night, and has poured down in Torrents all this Day, and gives me an Opportunity of transmitting to you Copies of the friendly Engagements given me by Goman and Coman Sing, and mine on Account of the Company at their Request, which I hope will meet with your Approbation, and evince how much I have endeavoured to establish a Considence in these Chiefs towards us, by every conciliatory Means in my Power, and banishing that Jealousy impressed on them by Bellajee and others: Still his Influence makes Amrood Sing's Ministers averse to us, but I have the most solemn Assurances his Vackeel will be with me To-morrow, and I doubt not of reconciling them to my further March.

I have just received an Account that Twelve hundred (instead of Three hundred) Maratta Cavalry had advanced near to Gool Gunge, and did not go away with Puddum Sing, but still remain: Captain Popham has taken a Look at them and their Situation, and will watch them narrowly; so that I cannot place the least Share of Dependance on that subtle Fellow, Bellajee, who is I am considert lying by, urging every Difficulty to be thrown in my Way, until Time gives him an Opportunity of distressing me effectually himself. But the Instant the Weather and Rivers will permit, I will put him to the Test.

I am,

faithful humble Servant,

N° 142.

Mr. Francis—I know with Certainty that the Detachment was still at Rajegur on the 9th September, and I believe we are not in Possession of any Information of a later Date. Colonel Leslie has now been at Chatterpore or in the Neighbourhood of that Place since the 3d July. I think the Delay is very extaordinary, and the Causes of it ought to be enquired into. It appears further, by his private Letter to the Governor General of the 7th, that he has entered into certain Engagements on the Company's Account with the Rajahs Gomaun and Comaun Sing; and it appears by his Letter to the Board of the 4th September, that he intends to interfere so far between the Two Brothers, Amrood and Surnaut Sing, as to obtain a Security for the latter for the peaceable Enjoyment of the Estate less thim by his Father. As Colonel Leslie had no Authority from the Board to enter into Treaties with the Princes of the Bundlecund Country; and as he is restricted by his Instructions from engaging the Company or himself in any Negociations with them, I think that this Part of his Conduct should also be enquired into. The public Service may be materially affected, and possibly the Object of the Expedition under his Command totally deseated, while he delays his March, apparently for no other Purpose but to carry on Negociations, and to make Treaties with the Princes of the Country.

There is another Point which I think deserves the Attention of the Board, though it is not regularly before us: A Difference has arisen between Colonel Lessie and Lieutenant Colonel Goddard the Second in Command, in consequence of which the latter has demanded a Court Martial. The Board cannot but be sensible of the dangerous Consequences of such a Difference being suffered to continue between those Officers; I must beg Leave to submit my Opinion to the Board, that the Uccusion of it should be enquired into, and our Determination given thereupon as speedily as posible.

Governor General-It is not without great Reluctance that I have suffered another Member of the Board to take the lead in a Point in which I think myself the most interested, both on the public Account and my own. I shall not oppose Mr. Francis's Motion for an Enquiry; on the contrary, I should myself have been the First to propose it, if I had thought the Materials with which we are at present furnished, had brought the Subject to that State of Maturity which a Measure of that Kind demanded. It is not only true that Colonel Leslie had no Authority from the Board to enter into Treaties with the Princes of Bundlecund; but the Whole of his Conduct in this Instance appears to be in direct Opposition to the express Orders of the Board. I have formerly hazarded many Conjectures to account for the political Conduct of Colonel Leslie, and have waited with the most anxious Impatience for such an Explanation of it, as should verify my Suppositions; but to this Hour I am equally uninformed with the Board, of the Causes and Particulars of Colonel Leslie's Negociations. I have laid before the Board his Letter to me above recorded, because I could not consider it in its Nature as private, and the Board had a Right to my Communication of the Treaty concluded by Colonel Leslie with Two of the Chiefs of Bundlecund, especially as they are yet unacquainted with it by any Letter from him. The Irregularity with which the Dispatches have been received, and the evident Miscarriages which have attended some of them, induce me to believe that he has not been deficient in transmitting to the Board the regular Advices of so important a Transaction. Although it has not yet been received, the Treaty itself which has been formed with Gomaun and Comaun Sing, appears to be of little Consequence. He has given the Board Reason to expect that it would have been soon followed by a Treaty with Surnaut Sing, the elder Brother and Competitor of the Raja of Bundlecund. I for my own Part wish to be in Possession of this Treaty, which I must suppose will be accompanied with his Reasons at large for taking a Part in the domestic Contentions of that Government, and suspending the Course of his March for the Purpose, as it appears, of involving this Government in suture Engagements, which he was expressly, and in those Terms warned to avoid. On the 9th September, the latest Period of my Advices from the Detachment, more than Four Months had elapsed from the Commencement of its March. It had advanced 120 Miles, and I fear at an Expence of 12,00,000 Rupees; and in this Interval Colonel Leslie has been informed of a War declared between France and Great Britain, and been urged by the Presidency of Bombay to quicken his Progress for the Preservation of the Company's Possessions on that Side of India from the Effects of a very formidable Invasion, which they were instructed by Authority to expect. The Importance of the various Objects which are connected with the Operations of the Detachment, its Distance, and the ambiguous Appearances of the Circumstances which have hitherto attended it, and have retarded, or seemed to have retarded its Progress, have furnished Grounds for a Variety of Rumours and Suggestions, which for the Credit of Colonel Lessie he himfelf ought to use every Endeavour to essace, which it will be the Duty of this Government to scrutinize, and which for my own Reputation more especially I most earnestly wish to bring to the most effectual Test. For these Reasons I shall not oppose the present Motion, nor any other to which is must necessarily lead, if it shall be resolved to act upon it immediately: Yet I must own I have many Objections to a Measure of such Importance too precipitately undertaken; and my Objections agree in an agrical Domestin and agree in an agrical Domestin agrical Domestin agrical Domestin agriculture in agricult from an Experience which I believe no Member of this Board possessin an equal Degree. I shall not mention the Instances, but I must express it as my Opinion that this Government will hazard too much in the Profecution of an Officer of fuch high Rank, attended with a Circumstance of his Removal from a Command of fuch great and public Importance as that which Colonel Lessie holds. The World seldom look beyond the Surface of Assairs; even Men of Business are often prevented from entering deeper into them, and unless the Proofs of Misconduct are established beyond a Post. fibility of a Doubt, the Charge may be refented here as a common Caufe, and at Home be converted to the Reproach of Government itself. I shall here leave the Question without any further Decision upon it. With respect to the Difference that has arisen between Colonel Lessie and Lieu. tenant Colonel Goddard, the next Officer in Command, I have received the Particulars of it is a Letter from Colonel Goddard, dated 9th September, in which he mentions that he had written a Letter to the Commander in Chief, of which and its Enclosures he has sent me Copies. As thele contain all the Circumstances of the Dispute, and were expressly written to the General for the Information of the Board, through the regular and official Channel, and his original Letter to the General has by some Accident miscarried, I shall here lay them before the Board, and sincerely with that the Explanation of Colonel Leftic's general Conduct may prove as fatisfactory to the Board is it will in this trivial Instance, from the Perusal of the Papers now delivered.

Ordered, That the Letters from Lieutenant Colonel Goddard be referred to the public Department.

Mr. Francis—I yield to any Delay which the Governor General may think necessary, and not inconsistent with the public Sasety.

Mr. Wheler—I agree to the Enquiry being postponed until the Governor General has received the necessary Papers from Colonel Leslie.

Agreed, That this Subject lie for Confideration.

Read the following Letter from Mr. Farquhar:

Honourable Sir, and Gentlemen,

I enclose a Duplicate of my last Letter; and it is now with the deepest Sorrow and Assistant of the Death of Mr. Elliott. From the Time I wrote you on the 9th there was no Room for Hope, and last Night he expired, after a severe and painful Illness.

On the 8th Instant he desired that your Orders and Instructions to him should be sealed up immediately after his Death, which has already been done in the Presence of Mr. Anderson. We are under the Necessity of proceeding immediately to Savangur, from which Place I shall again have the Honour of addressing you in a few Days.

On the Banks of a Nullah, 2 Cofs to the Eastward of Surangur, 13th September 1778.

I have the Honour, &c. &c. (Signed) Rob' Farquiar.

Governor General—The Loss which this Government has fustained, and which I most fensibly regret in the Death of Mr. Elliott, renders it necessary for me to propose the Appointment of a Person to succeed to the Commission entrusted to him. I do therefore formally move, that a Person be immediately appointed to repair to the Court of the Raja of Berar, and furnished with the same instructions as were delivered to Mr. Elliott, for concluding a Treaty with that Government Instructions as were delivered to Mr. Elliott, for concluding a Treaty with that Government.

Mr. Wheler—The same Objections which were started by Mr. Francis, and acceded to by myself, still remain in Force against the Commission intrusted to the late Mr. Elliott; but as that Measure was adopted by a Majority of the Board; and as they alone are responsible for the Consequences, I shall not now object to the Negociation being carried on.

Mr. Francis—I adhere to my original Objections to the Measure. I think they are greatly strengthened by the Consideration of the Time that will have been lost by the unfortunate Event of Mr. Elliott's Death, as well as by the Loss of that Gentleman in whose personal Qualifications the Considerate of this Government was particularly reposed. I am therefore against the Continuance of the Commission: At all Events I am of Opinion that it cannot be tasely entrusted to any other Person with the same discretional Powers which were given to Mr. Elliott.

Refolved, That the Commission entrusted to Mr. Elliott be continued.

Governor General—The Absence of Mr. Barwell, with whose Concurrence and Advice the ourginal Commission was recommended, induces me to decline the further Prosecution of this Subject until I can receive the Benefit of his Opinion and Aid on the further Measures which may be necessary for the Execution of it: I shall therefore suspend for a Day such Propositions as may be necessary; and in the mean Time I shall prepare to bring in a compleat Form before the Board.

PRESENT,
The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

MR. Barweli-I agree to the Refolutions of the Board on the Propriety of this Government taking some Measures on the Conduct of Colonel Leslie, and on the Suspension of the Subject, provided it do not continue for an indefinite Time.

Governor General—Having more thoroughly confidered the Subject of the Commission lately given to Mr. Elliott, and the late Season of the Year, from which I very much apprehend that any Renewal of it wood be attended with many Difficulties, and a girst Degree of Uncertainty, I now request the Permission of the Board to withdraw the Motion made by me at the last Confultation, for the Appointment of a Perion to succeed Mr. Elliott as Minister at the Court of the Rajish of Berai; I cannot immediately offer any other Expedient to the Board. The News of Mr. Elliott's Death must have reached Naguepore within little more than a Week after that unhappy Event. It cannot have elegated of Attention of Modajee Boosla, that both his Interest and our; so far as they were connected with the Cosmo of that Negociation, must fulfer materially from the Delay which will be occanioned by the Appointment of a new Commission; and this Consideration will probably have higgested to him the Necessity of preventing it, by making immediate and specific Proposals to this Government. His Letters contain Proofs of a Desire, and even a Degree of Impatience to enter upon the Business which was to be proposed to him by Mr. Elhott; and I can see the strongest Reasons which should induce him to solicit our Alliance. As a Proof that this is not a merely speculative Conclusion, I big Leave to insert in this Place an Extract from his last Letter.

"The Deputation of Mr. Elliott, to confult with me, and negociate certain Points, is highly proper and expedient, and I now wait his Arrival. As Rajah Ram Pundit is well acquainted with the flick Ties of Frendship and Union between us, he has, doubtless, agreeable to your Desire, secured the French Chaef, should be have come that Way; yet I have, in consequence of your Wish, sent him expects Orders to that Fssell, directing him to make strick Search throughout the District under his Charge, for him and his Followers, and having apprehended, to send them with their Papers to you, which he will without Doubt comply with."

For these Reasons, and because there is always a greater Advantage in receiving Solicitations than in making Advances, I wish to wait for the Receipt of his Letters before we form any decided Plan for our future Transactions with him. The Subliance and Complexion of these may suggest the best Means of accomplishing the Ends proposed by the late Deputation; and I have the greater I as a solicitation to hope they may, because, from the Information and Instructions which I have formerly given to Benaram Pundit, the Rajah's Vackeel, who is lately returned to his Master, and was fent back for the Purpose of affishing in the intended Negociation, he will be able in a great Measure to supply the Place of an immediate Agent from this Government, and to suggest to the Rajah such Propositions to be made to us for our Alliance, as will be most likely to receive our Concurrence. In the mean Time I think it will be sufficient to write a short Letter to the Rajah, mentioning the Missortune which has put a Stop to the Negociation, and desiring only for the present he will assorb his Assistance in promoting the March of the Detachment to the Place of its Destination.

Mr. Wheler — If the Letter is not meant to include any thing further than a Defire to forward the March of the Detachment, in case it should hereafter be expedient for it to continue its Route, I have no Objection to the Motion.

Mr. Francis—Having opposed the original Motion, I can have no Objection to its being withdrawn. The Objects of Mr. Elliott's Negociation were supposed to be of so instant and pressing a Nature, that he was authorised to come to an immediate Conclusion with Moodajee Boossa, without waiting for further Orders from this Board. If the Nature of these Objects be not since altered, the Rep. VI.

APPENDIX. Nº 144

Delay which has already happened, and the further Delay which is now proposed, must annihilate the whole Plan of the Commission upon its own Principles. I am therefore against any Intimation Gifting given to the Rajah, that such Plan will ever be renewed; I am against desiring his Assistance in price moting the March of the Troops to the Place of their Destination, because it is my Opinion that the Detachment should be immediately ordered into the Provinces. They cannot be of Use in carrying into Execution any Object of an Alliance with Moodajee Boofla, fince that Alliance, whatever were the Objects of it, is now put off fine Die; they cannot be of Use in promoting the Views of the Council of Bombay for the Reinstatement of Ragoba, because we have Intelligence that his Party is completely overlet; and I believe every Member of this Board is convinced, as well as myself, that the Bombay Council have really relinquished all Views of that Nature, though they have not told us fo themselves, as it was their Duty to have done. The March of the Detachment cannot, as it conceive, be of any Service in any other Senfe: Suppose, for Example, against the French, for that I think is the only possible Case that remains to be put; they have taken above Four Months in march from Calpee to their prefent Situation, that is about 120 Miles, and we have yet no certain Intelligence that Colonel Leflie was making any effectual Preparations to crofs the Cain River. At this Rate of marching, I fubmit it to the Board to confider in what possible Time the Detachment is ever likely to arrive at Bombay, exclusive of any Cheek or Delay to which they may be exposed by direct Opposition on the Part of an Enemy. I have a Right by fair Computation to conclude that they would not arrive this Twelvemonth. In the mean Time the Board will consider to what Vector dents they are hable in the Course of such a March, and how very possible it is that this Part of our Force may be equally loft in every Quarter to the Defence of the Company's different Poffe $_{
m fin}$, $_{
m I}$ do not mean to make it a formal Motion, because I will not trouble the Board with useless Debate, but I am glad to acquit myself of what I think is essentially my Duty in stating my Opinion that the Detachment should be recalled, and this should be done even upon the new Grounds which tags and unexpected Events have created: It, neverthelets, it should be determined to proceed, I must remind the Board that the Detachment is actually under Orders to halt in Berar, and that we must now determine positively whether its future Motions are to be regulated by the Orders of the Council at Bombay, or by ours. It is a Point, as I think, of very great Confideration, not to place the com manding Officer between Two Authorities.

Mr. Barwell—Lagree entirely to the Propositions made by the Governor General, and though I the it very possible that the untimely Death of Mr. Elliott may deprive this Government of those great Activating of Expected from his Abilities, and the Plenitude of the Powers with which he was entrusted, a Lannot, upon the Principle of that Policy that regulated my Assent to the political Measures plants by the Governor General, think with Mr. Francis, that because I despair of reaping every Advantage I should lose Sight of those sew which, under the present Circumstances, we may still grass. I Maratta Power, and that of the Decan, require to be counterpossed by an Institute in the English Government, which may operate by Means of Alliances, separating the Powers of which it is composed, and uniting a Part of their proper Strength to our's. The Interest of the Governments at Bengal and Berar lead to a natural Union between the Two States; but as it is not my Purpose at present to enter into a long Discussion of a great political Question, I shall content myself with observing that in Prudence we ought to make the best of the Circumstances that may present themselves.

Governor General—Mr. Barwell has made it unnecessary for me to answer the principal Parts of Mr. Francis's Defence; my Reply therefore will be very short.

The Objects of Mr. Elliott's Negociation, though instant and urgent, are not therefore necessarily annihilated; Time perhaps may decide this Point between us.

The March of the Detachment is not unnecessary, because the Alliance is put off fine Die. The Reason for this Conclusion not having been affigned, nor being self-apparent, cannot be answered by other Reasons.

It is true that we have every Reason to believe that the Presidency of Bombay have really relaquished all Views to the Reinstatement of Ragoba; but the Restoration of Ragoba was never the Object of this Government, though it might have eventually proved a Means. My Reliance is placed on Moodajee, and on the strong Connection of his Interest with our's, in the Event of any Operations of our Detachment.

It is not fair to draw Conclusions of future Events from past Errors, and the Supposition of their being suffered still to prevail. The March of the Detachment from Calpee to Rajegur might have been made with Ease in Ten Days. I hope the Measures which the Board will take for the suture Conduct of the Detachment, will effectually prevent such Delays in the Progress of it.

Conduct of the Detachment, will effectually prevent fuch Delays in the Progress of it.

On the Whole, whether the Detachment shall be required to act in the Prosecution of any Engagements with Moodajee, or for the Restoration of Ragoba, or in direct Opposition to the French, or even should it be found necessary or expedient to recall it at a future Period, still the present Continuance of its March is proper, until the Criss shall arrive that shall call upon us to make our Option of its ultimate Destination: Its Situation in Berar will be central to all our Settlements in India; it will be a Check on the Poona Government, if it only meditates Designs against us; it will be at Hand to oppose them, if they shall be actually formed; and that such Designs are formed, I am morally certain.

The Intimation given by Mr. Francis, of the present Situation imposed on the Detachment, is an Incroachment on a new Question, not before the Board. So much of the Time of this Board is wasted in Debate, that I am obliged to procrassinate many Subjects, which I have wished to bring before its immediate Consideration, and which have required immediate Determination, because the Hour of Business was past. There now remains to resolve what Orders shall be given to Colonel Lessie for the future March of the Detachment, and what Information or Instructions shall be written to the President and Council of Bombay. For the First, I think it will be necessary to order Colonel Lessie to prosecute his March, in conjunction with the Troops of Moodejee Boosta, of that Chief shall agree to join him with a Force sufficient for that End; and to obey all Orders which he shall receive hereafter from the President and Council of Bombay for his Detachment to 1 ocec 1; with a differentionary Power to fulpend his March after his Arrival within the Territories of the Re, th or Berar, it the Rajah shall refuse or decline to afford his Assistance, and he shall not have received any Orders from the Presidency of Bombay to proceed. And for the latter, to inform them of the preceding Resolutions; to defire them, that if the Plan which they advited us in their last Letter of the 25th July still subsists, or if they shall have formed any other Plan or Delign for the Restoration of Ragoba, under the Conditions already prescribed for our Assent thereto, which shall require the Affiltance of the Detachment commanded by Colonel Lethe; or if the Necessity of providing for the immediate Safety of their Presidency against a French Invasion shall require the Detachment to proceed at all Hazards to their Assistance, even without the Junction of any Power in Alliance with us; they will, in either of fuch Cafes, and fuch only, command the Detachment to advance, but in all others leave it to act under our Orders. These are the Outlines and Subflance of the Resolutions which I think necessary for concluding the Business now before us; and I beg Leave to submit them in this loofe Manner to the Confideration of the Board, that if they shall meet their Approbation, they may be reduced into a more correct Form, as the Refolutions of the Board.

Ordered, That the Governor General's Proposition be sent round for the Opinions of the Members of the Board.

Letter from Governor General to Medajce Bhoofila; written 11th October.

A 1-E W Days fince I received Advices of the Death of Mr. Elliott on his Way to Naigpore. This unfortunate Event, which is equally a Lofs to you and to myfelf, as he would have been the Instrument of cementing a Friendship between your Government and the Company, which would have endured for ever, has unavoidably, and to my great Concern, put a Stop to the Negociations which that Gentleman was to have conducted with you on the Part of this Government, as the prefent Satuation of Affairs will not admit of a Delay which must aitend the deputing another Person from h nee: But I have still a Resource for effecting the important Objects of Mr. Elhott's Mission in your Javourable Disposition towards the Company; your Conviction that your Interests and theirs are indeparably connected; and in the Zeal of Beneram Pundit, whom during the long Period he refided with me, I found to deserving of my Considence, from his sincere Attachment to our common Interests, that I communicated to him my Sentiments and Views with respect to the Engagement I wished to form with you in the most full and explicit Manner; he will explain to you both the Conditions which I should require, and those to which I should yield my Acquiescence: To him therefore I refer you, and request that you will give him a very attentive Hearing. You will perceive that it is not my Intention or Wish to gain Advantages without a Return: I know that no public Alliance, no private Friendship can subsist without reciprocal and equal Advantages. It is on these Principles that I have long planned an Alliance with you, and the Time is now come for its Accomplishment; tor I conceive it to be equally for your Interest as for ours, our Countries bordering on each other, and our natural Enemies the fame. Such being my Views, I have the strongest Assurances of your ready Concurrence in my, Defigns; from you I want nothing but the Junction of your Powers with the Strength of this Government; each is fingly confiderable, but united they will be augmented to a Tentold Proportion. The Detachment intended for Bombay has been impeded in its Progress, not by the Opposition of an Enemy, but by other Causes unnecessary, and perhaps improper to mention; but it will now foon arrive in your Territories, and depend on you for its subsequent Operations. It is my Desire, that you will order a strong Force to join it, and accompany it to the Place of its Destination. I have given Orders to the Commander of the Detachment to co-operate with the Forces which you may think proper to unite with his: I require the Affiffance of the Forces of your Sukar for promoting the Ends of mine, and offer you the Forces of this Government to promote your Wishes: I have acquainted you with mine; and it will rest with you to propose the Ends which may be attained for your Advantage in this Junction: I myself have suggested in Conversation to B. neram Pundit, the probable Advantages which I have supposed you would require, and I could grant; grant; and the Knowledge of my Sentiments will therefore enable you to form such a Conclusion as shall be equal in its Effects to a Treaty already agreed on.

It is the Character of my Nation to adhere inviolably to its Engagements, as long as Faith is ob. served by others; and it has been the invariable Rule of my Conduct to maintain that Character in all Acts depending on me; and having on good and judicious Grounds once formed any Defign of Importance, to perfevere in it fleadily to its Execution.

Having thus explained to you my Views and Wishes, I wait only to know yours, and on the Knowledge of thefe I shall form my ultimate Resolutions.

Beneram Pundit is fully acquainted with all my Sentiments and Views, and will explain to you both the Conditions which I require from the Maha Rajah, and those to which I can yield my Acquielcence To him therefore I request you will give an attentive Hearing; and that you will jointly with him clearly ttate them to your Master, and employ your Influence to procure them a favourable Reception.

You will perceive that it is not my Intention, &c. (continued to the End the fame as the foregoing Letter, except where the different Rank and Situation of the Person addressed requires a Change in Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 12th Ottober 1773.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hallings, Governor General, Prefident, rninp Francis, Edward Wheler, Edward Wheler, Philip Francis, Mr. Barwell indifpofed.

M^R. Wheler gives in the following Minute, containing his Sentiments on the Proposals offered to the Consideration of the Board by the Governor General at the last Meeting.

Fort William, the 10th October 1778.

Mr. Wheler--When the First Proposals were made by the Governor General, for supporting the Government at Bombay in their Interference in the Divisions of the Maratta State, they were uniformly opposed by me, because I thought the Bombay Government unable from their Resources either of Men or Money to support the Alliance; because I doubted the Strength of Ragoba, and his Friends; and because I thought the Time peculiarly improper for distant Expeditions, and new Schemes of Alliance and Conquest, when the Nation was already involved in great Difficulties from a Domestic, and under immediate Apprehensions of a foreign War; and with respect to one great Argument ulcd, that it was necessary we should interfere in the Maratta Disputes because the French were supposed to have made Alliances with them (though the Fact was not supported by Authority) I thought that such Interference in us was more likely to force the Marattas into Terms with the French, from the Necessity of the contending Parties opposing one European Ally to another, from finding that we are determined, although against sublisting Treaties, to interfere.

From these Motives I judged, that in good Policy we ought to leave the Marattas to settle these own Disputes, to endeavour to cure rather than foment their Jealousy of our former Interferences and to preferve our Refources both of Troops and Money for the Defence of our own already to-extensive Possessions, against our more natural Enemies.

But their Realons and Arguments were then over-ruled; and it being refolved by the Majority of the Board to athit Ragoba, and to fupply Bombay both with Men and Money, Colonel Leilie, the Object of the present Discussion, was ordered to march thither; to this Measure I likewise months of the present Discussion, was ordered to march thither; to this Measure I likewise particular!

particularly objected, stating the enormous Expence, the Risque of parting with so large a Proporin n of our best Troops, and the Length, the Dangers, if not the Impracticability of the March; yet 1 secupan over ruled, a Detachment in consequence was ordered on the most expensive Establish-First ever yet formed, and directed to proceed by a Route hitberto unknown and unpassed by our such being the Refolutions of many Months ago, I will now take a View of the Effects proand by them. At Bombay, Ragoba's Affairs, notwithflanding fome unforefeen Revolutions in his Livour, are not one Jot advanced; on the contrary, our last Advices prove to us, that his Hopes are enabely at an End, his Friends imprisoned, his Party dispersed, and even the Governor General much his formally given up his Caule by his Proposal to support the Pretentions of Moodajce 10 dla, and by his Aniwer to the Letter to Fort Saint George, under Date the 14th of

The Progress of Colonel Leslie's Detachment has equally justified my former Opinions; the Governor General in his Minute of the 5th of October, having acquainted the Board, that from the Lich Period of his Advices from the Detachment, although more than Four Months had elapted from the Commencement of its March, it had advanced only 120 Miles, and the Governor General That's at an Expence of 12,00,000 Rupees; that the commanding Officer had been informed of a War declared between France and Great Britain, and been urged by the Prefidency of Bombay to gardhen his Progress for the Preservation of the Company's Possessions on that Side of India, from the Effects of a very formidable Invasion, which they were instructed by Authority to expect; appertheless, our last public Advices leave him on the Banks of a rapid River, opposed by and is actual Hoftility with a large Army of the Natives, through whose Country he is to pals, having yet near a thoufand Miles to proceed to Bombay: I would therefore with to be informed, how the i) tachment is to lublift on the rest of their March, which will be after they have passed the Cane River, at least for a confiderable Distance, through an Enemy's Country, before they enter Betar: wiether there is not some Danger of their being surrounded, and their Provision cut off, or whether the Country through which they are to pass can supply Provisions for so large a Detachment; whether the Roads are passable, or how the Detachment is to cross the Nerbudda, since tree bave met with fuch Difficulties at the Cane River; how they are to be supplied with Money, Steres, and Ammunition, after they shall have expended what they have at present; how Dispatches and Orders are to reach them; and what Affurances we have, that Moodajce Boofla will receive them as Friends, or join them as Allies, or give them a Passage through his Country?

I am likewife at a Lofs to discover, supposing the Detachment to arrive in Berar, and supposing them to meet with every favourable Reception, and that their Object is to proceed to Bombay, how the Governor General can ferioufly believe that Colonel Leflie will effect a long March across the hoftile Part of the Maratta Territory, and in the Face of their numerous Armies, to expeditionally as to afford any Relief to Bombay, if that Place shall actually require it, in Confequence of the Invaders that threaten them.

Until these Questions are resolved to my Satisfaction, I must and shall continue uniformly against the March of the Detachment, and against any Treaty or Alliance to be made in confefequence, feeing no possible Good that can arise from either, but foreleeing Dangers, Dissippointments, and enormous Expenses from their further Attempt to proceed.

Edward Wheler. (Signed)

Mr. Francis delivers his Opinion, in the following Minute:

12th October 1778.

Mr. Francis-Having already objected to the further March of the Detachment, and having flitted my Comion that it ought to be recalled, I might have been content with voting against the prefent Motion, if other and more particular Objections to the Measures did not, as I think, arise out of the Motion itself.

1st. The March of the Army has now no fixed and determinate Object, if it ever had any; nor indeed, as far as I can discover, has it any Object at all. It is not politively to act in Conjunction with Moodage Booffs upon the Plan of Mr. Elliott's Negociation, fince that Negociation, with Alhance and fubicquent Projects propoted to be accomplished by it, is relinquished.

It is not positively to co-operate in the Re-inflatement of Ragoba, fince Cases are put, in which it must either halt in Berar (with or without the Consent of the Rajah) until further Orders from Calcutta, or proceed at all Hazards to Bombay, " for the immediate Defence of that Prefidency against

" a French Invation."

Lattly, It is not even politively determined that it shall proceed to Bombay, since in the Two other supposed Cake, its March may either end in Berar, or be directed to Operations unconnected with the immediate Defence of Bombay against a French Invasion. As the suture Movements of the Army are to depend on different Contingencies, and as the Instructions to the commanding Officer must of Confequence be conditional (to fay nothing of the Perplexity in which fuch Instructions may involve han) it appears plainly that this Board has no one determinate Object in View in ordering the Detachment to proceed: If the contrary be true, I defire that such Object may be stated in clear and precise Terms.

2. If this were not, as I deem it, an Objection fatal to the Measure, and admitting that there neight be no Danger in leaving the Course of an Army to be determined by future Contingencies, REP. VI.

m a Point to effential as the ultimate Object of its Operations; still the supposed Cases which are eventually to guide the Motions of the Army, ought to be such as may probably happen, not such as we certainly know neither do nor can possibly have any Existence. How is it possible, for Ex. ample, that Moodajee Boofla's Troops should now act in Conjunction with Colonel I esse, who in the first Case is supposed to act under Orders from Bombay, when the Plan of Alliance, which alone could have engaged Moodajee Boosla to take such a Step, is dropped? or what Motive can be now have for acting in Conjunction with Colonel Leffie, when by the Terms of the Motion the March or the Detachment can in no Shape promote his perfonal Advantage? He has no Concern in defending Bombay against an Invasion; much less is it his Interest to assist in re-instating Ragoba, whom he must consider as his Rival and Competitor for the Government. Such at least was the Principle on which Mr. Elliott's Negociation was planned and founded; if it be falle, the whole Scheme of that Negociation, with all the Facts and Reafonings introduced to support it, falls to the Ground. Again, It is supposed that the Bombay Council may have adhered to their first Project for the Rello. ration of Ragoba, and may be actually engaged in the Execution of this Project, or of some other of the same Nature, and for the same Purpose; and on this Supposition conditional Orders are given to Colonel LeQie. This Part of the Motion I say implies a salse Fact, and which the Governor General himlelf in some of his former Minutes admits to be so. It is well known that Ragoba's Party is annihilated, and that the Gentlen en of Bombay have dropped all Thoughts of executing the Plan of which they advited us in their Letter of the 25th July, or of engaging any farther in finalar Designs. But if the contrary were true, with what Reason or Consistency could we resume the Caufe of Ragoba, whom we have renounced in the most formal Manner, and whom above Iwo Months ago, we looked upon as abandoned by the Partizans of his own Nation. In our Letter of the 14th of August we even forbid the Presidency of Fort Saint George from taking any Measures in concert with Hyder Ally for the Support of Ragoba, and declared "that an Attempt to " re instate him in the Government of the Maratta Dominions might be attended with endless Diffi-" culties." Yet now Colonel Leflie is to be ordered to co-operate in promoting the Success of such an Attempt.

The Third Supposition, on which Conditional Orders are given to Colonel Leslie, though not amounting to an absolute Impossibility, implies a Fact as nearly approaching to impossible as the highest Degree of Improbability can do. The Necessity of providing for the immediate Safety of Bombay against a French Invasion, is stated as one of the Cases which eventually determine the Maich of the Army. We are now at the 12th of October; where Colonel Leflie may be when our Letters reach him is very uncertain, I will suppose him however to have crossed the Cane River, and to have reached Panna; Has the Distance from that Place to Bombay been computed? Is the Road known? Have Allowances been made for the Difficulties as well as the Length of the March? Is it certain that he will not meet with constant Hostilities and Opposition from the Marattas? or have we forgotten that he has already taken Four Months to march One hundred and Twenty Miles, through a Country much better known than that through which the Remainder of his March is to be profecuted? When all these Circumstances are combined, and even a moderate Allowance made for the Delay which they must unavoidably create, is there a Shadow of Probability left that the Detachment will reach Bombay Time enough to provide for its immediate Safety against a French Invasion, suppoling fuch Invalion to be attempted? But if there be no fuch Probability, we plainly reft our Meafures upon falle Grounds, and by Implication endeavour to justify the further March of the Aims by professing to have in View an Object which we know, or on every rational Principle ought to believe is unattainable.

On Failure of all the preceding Suppositions, a Fourth conditional Instruction is proposed, that is Moodajee Boosla should refuse to join Colonel Lessie, and if Colonel Lessie should not have received any Orders from the Presidency of Bombay to proceed, he shall in that Case halt in Berai; but it is neither determined what he is to do there, or whether he is to stay there against Moodajee Boesla's Consent. It is not very likely that this Chief will be content to suffer a foreign Army to continue long in the Heart of his Dominions; but whether he be or not, Colonel Lessie, in the Case supposed, must stay there at all Events, and perhaps be obliged to maintain his Ground by Force, and to enter into Hotslities with the very Prince whose Alliance we have lately solicited, and whose pacific Disposition to us I deem to be essentially necessary to the Preservation of the Detachment.

Colonel Lessie's Situation in Berar I admit will be nearly central with respect to the Three Presidencies; that is, he will be in the Center of Hindostan, and at such a Distance from all of them as to make it impossible that the Force under his Command should be of the least Service to any of them.

It is out of my Power, for Want of Time, to put these Observations in a more regular Form. I state them as they occur to me. The Governor General, in whose I lands the absolute Disposition of all Measures is now vessed, will consider not only the Consequences of the Measure itself, but the Appearance which it is likely to carry in England; and whether it be not probable that the Court of Directors, having in their View all the Events that have happened fince the Detachment was first ordered, its manifest Departure from the direct and open Route to the other Side of India, the circuitous and flow Proceeding of the Army, the Instructions now intended, and the various Reafonings which have been recorded at this Board upon the whole Transaction, may not conclude that it never was really and seriously intended that the Detachment should go to Bombay?

Governor General—I hope it will not be expected from me to reply to all the Objections contained in the preceding Minutes, by the unprepared Reflections that may occur upon them at this Board, and under an Auxiety of Mind which I confeis I feel, and which I wish to shake off before I enter not the customary Field of Debate. I am weary of verbal Contention. I feel for the Situation of the Public, and I feel too much for my own, to be folicitous about any Conclusions that may be formed upon my Conduct in the past Measures of this Government, which have been so severely cantailed by the present Members of this Board. If there are in England Men so devoid of common Sense as to suppose it possible for me to have formed a Plan oftensively professed for the Assistance of Bombay, but really meant as a Cover for other Designs, let them: Whoever they be, or in whatever Relation they may shand to this Government, such Opinions will give me no Kind of Concern.

It has been the Will of God to blaft my Defigns by Means which no human Prudence could have forefeen, and against which I had therefore provided no Resource. We were called upon by the Prelidency of Bombay to affift them in a Plan which both their Peace and future Prosperity, the Company's Orders, and the general Interests of the British Nation in India, combined to recommend. It came further juffified to us by the evident Facility of its Execution, and our Affillance was only required to support it, and render its future Consequence permanent. I was not privy to their Delign; it came as new to me as to the other Members of the Board. I inflantly proposed, and the Board agreed, to give our Sanction to the Plan, and our Affillance to its Execution. A large Supply of Money (10 Lacks of Rupees) was immediately remitted to them, and this was shortly after followed by an Order for forming a large military Force to march to their Affiftance. There was no other Way of fending this Force but that which I recommended; neither would the Season of the Year admit of their being transported by Sea; and the Ill-treatment to which our Sepoys have been Layarrably expoled, whenever they have been conveyed from this Prefidency by Shipping, will render that Made of Transportation impracticable, until Time shall have efficed the Memory and Tradition of those Tojuries. There remained therefore no other Way, but to fend the Detachment by Land. linew it to be practicable, and I knew the Officer whom I recommended for the Conduct of the Expedition connently qualified to accomplish it.

Had I had Occasion to recur to the Detail of this Undertaking, at a Period something distant from the, I it will have had a Pleafure in joining Mr. Barwell's Name with my own, in mentioning the Formation of the Meature; and should have been contented with that separate Share of Credit only, which was due to me from it. I am lefs forupulous now on this Point, as I fee nothing left to either but a dangerous Responsibility, which is become the more so from the System which seems to have been lately adopted in England, of condemning every public Act, which would be imputed to us. Having taken to decided a Part in Support of the Prefidency of Bombay, nothing remained for us but to leave it to epicate; the reft depended on the Prefidency of Bombay: They have done nothing: They attempted nothing. The Influence alone of our Meafures produced the Revolution which had been projected with the Prefidency of Bombay; but they had no Part in it, nor appear to have availed themselves, at to have wished to avail themselves, either of the successive Revolutions, or of the continued Anar-CPV which have fince prevailed in the Maratta State. The Supinenets on their Part, and perhaps the now Movement of the Detachment, have afforded Time to the Opponents of Ragoba to recover their Left Authority, and utterly to destroy the Influence of those, on whom the Presidency of Bombay had placed their Hopes of his Refloration. Their Power, it is true, still continues as weak and divided in itiell, as it was at the Time in which the first Suggestion was made to us to affist in its Subversion, but without an Influment left for that Prefidency to employ, and without any Inclination in it to feck

Thus embarked in a Scene of Difficulties, which were rendered fuch only by the Prefidency of Bombay, and into which we were drawn by their urgent Solicitation, and thus abandoned by them after all that we had done for their Relief, we laid hold of the Refource which next prefented itself, m the Disposition which the Chief of Berar had showed, not only to co-operate with us, but to make our Caufe his own, by uniting his latereils with it. Mr. Elliott was therefore deputed to his Court, with Instructions to form a Treaty with him, both for a Plan of immediate Operations in Conjunction with him, and for a future and permanent Alliance. Here I shall close the Narrative. Colonel Leffie, the Officer whom I had felected from the rest of the Army, in the fullest Confidence both in his military Skill, Integrity, and perional Attachment, that he would most effectually accomplish the Defigns which had been committed to his Charge, has been lingering with the Detachment, I know not why, within the Diftance of 120 Miles from the Place where it was formed, and is perhaps to this II ar no further advanced. This is the Fifth Month of his Campaign; a Period within which I had tormed the Hope that he would have reached the Place of his ultimate Destination, and in which I clin is that he might have reached it. He has had no Enemy to impede him; for the very few Groop's who have flood in his Way were conselledly inferior to his Army in Numbers, and have been routed and differred whenever he approached them. The Weather could be no Impediment, fince every Inconvenience which the Treops could have fullered from it in Motion and in the Field, must have been doubly felt by them in their Encampments; and the little Streams, denominated Rivers, which have interfected their Route, have, as I believe it will appear even from Colonel Leflie's own Letters, and as I know to be Fact, been fordable even in the greatest Height of the Rains, subfiding as fuddenly as the Torrents ruthing from the Mountains have swelled them. It could not have been the Want of Provisions that detained them, for that would have been most severely felt while the Troops were confined to one Spot, and the knemy at Leifure to furround and cut off their Supplies; befides that I know, and it is within the Compass of every Member of this Board to obtain the folia Knowledge from Enquity, that Chatterfore and its Neighbourhood, to which the Detachment Lipbers to long fixed, diazoill their ordinary Supplies of Provisions from the Districts of Benares on one Hand, and from the Country of Sauster, which lies in the Line of March, on the other; yet they have thus for remained in that unfavourable Situation, and have not wanted Subsistence. Here to Design therefore this note unexpectedly failed; and Mr. Elliott, on whose uncommon Abilities and Figure 1 had placed my greatest. As rance of Success, has been unfortunately cut off by Death, before he could accomplish the Journey which was necessary for his executing the Commission as figured have.

Under these concurring Mi fortunes, I by no Means admit that we are deprived of all Refource. On the contrary, I have the to sugest Conviction still remaining, that, under a proper Conduct, the FREC soft he Detachment will still answer my most sanguine Hopes; and as for its Safety, I would with Picafure pledge my Life for it.

If it was necessary to strengthen the Presidency of Bombay when the first Idea of it was suzgested, it is much more to now, when we had been teld by the highest Authority, that a powerful Armanian has been prepared in France, the first Object of which was an Attack upon Bombay; and when we know with moral Certainty, that all the Powers of the adjacent Continent are ready to join the Invasion. The Strength of Berai, which not long fince shewed itself superior to the whole Force of the Miratta Government, in the Time of its greatest Prosperity, and reduced the City of Pooni to Ashes, is forcely able to execute any Design made in Conjunction with so formidable a Body of disciplined Proops as that of which our Detachment confists. Whether the Rajah will chuse to engage in any such Design, must soon be known by his Declarations of the Receipt of the Intelligence of Mirathat's Death: In the mean Time, nothing is precipitated by the Resolutions which I have recommended to the Board; it is only proposed that the Army shall proceed to the Country of a Friend, and from that Station either protecture the original Design of matching to the Assistance of the Precidency of Boarbay, or should it then become necessary (of which I have no Idea) to return, a may it cannot be a fixed and nearer Route, than by retracting that which it hath already passed.

I findt fine house Reflections by complaining of the uncanded Advantage which has been to be not the Situation into which I have been this win by the Milliandocci of others, and particularly of Salord Lethe. At one Tane I am called upon to refer the total Suspension of the Operations how, ordered to perform, and to remedy the Effects of his Disobedience; and at another, this Suspension, and the Effects of his Disob dience, are quoted as Proofs of the radical Defects of the Measure, confessedly detented by his Management of it. I know not what to gather from this Opposition of Sentiment. Do the Members of the Board judge him culpable in the little Progress he has made, or do they attribute it to natural and inevitable Causes? On this Point I shall wait for an Explanation before I proceed to the disagreeable Duty which seemed to be laid on me in this Day's Meeting, by the concurrent Sentiments and Wishes which were expressed at the last. As to the Propositions the actives, which I suppose to be the Objects of these Minutes, though dictated without Premeditar 2011 have since given them all the Attention they can require, and I now give my entire Asserts them.

Mr Francis-Much might be faid in Answer to the preceding Minute; but this is not the Time tor it. I only defire it to be underflood that Propositions or Arguments, not immediately cosmoverted, are not therefore meant to be admitted. In general I may observe, that the Pica of ill Fortune will hardly be allowed in the Fatent in which it is employed, unless it can be proved that the Events which have defeated the Meafure were fuch as no human Prudence could forefee, and epain which no Refource could have been provided. The Validity of fuch a Plea may be exampled for ancer. The Court of Directors, I am perfuaded, will find no Inconfiftency in the various Opinons which I have delivered on this Subject. I have no Ground of judging of the Wilden of Martines in the Formation of which I am not confulted, or of the Motives of Juch Mediures, or of the Paccil tion of them, but the Facts as they arife in Succession before me. It is far from ampossible, that are unwife Plan may be executed without Judgment or Activity. Both may be true. I have executed my Duty at every Stage of the Transaction; first, by objecting to the Measure on its own protested Principles, and afterwards by constantly observing and giving my Opinion to the Board of the Fraction tion of it. With respect to the Mode of sending Affishance to Bombay, supposing the Memure necessary, the only Courte which in my Opinion, and in that of the Gentlemen of Bombay them! Ive, would have been advitable, is not flated by the Governor General. On this Point I must reach the Board to our Confultation of the 29th June last.

But waving all Confiderations of the Steps already taken, the Queffion before us is, what Refolittion shall we take in the present Circumstances? Is Colonel Lesse, after such repeated Confernation of his Conduct, to be continued in the Command of this important Expedition? I did endershald that some Propositions on this Subject would ere now have come before us from the Governor transcal himself? Is the present Motion to be decided by the Votes of the Members present? Measures a Volume of this exit open for him, because I will not take upon myself to interrupt any connected System of Measures by a temporary Vote, until I can be affured that the Principle on which such Vote shall pass, will be achieved to. For the same Reason I do not propose the Recall of Colonel Lessie.

Admitting it to be necessary to strengthen Bombay against an Invasion, it remains still to be proved by fair Argument (hipported by a clear State of the March which it is intended the Detachment shall pursue, with a reasonable Allowance for the Difficulties they may meet with) that the Detachment will probably arrive in Time at Bombay to answer the End proposed. No such Proof has yet been offered to the Board. In my Opinion a much more fafe and even expeditious Method of reinforcing Bombay may be purfued. The Enterprize against Pondicherry, if not now decided, must affuredly have failed or succeeded before Letters from hence can reach Madras. A Detachment from General Munro's Army might be sent to Bombay. This is the Course which the Presidency of Bombay themselves recommended to us as the best and easiest. If such a Detachment must be replaced, the Force now stationed in the Circars might move down towards Madras, and that Force, if necessary, be replaced from hence. I throw this Plan out for Consideration, because it seems to me simple and easy of Execution. I do not affirm that it may not be liable to some Objections, but I do firmly believe that much greater will occur to any other Mode of fending a Reinforcement to Governor General-I did not examine the Mode recommended by the Presidency of Bombay for granting them Affistance, because I did not think it deserved so much Consideration; but as it has been proposed by a Member of the Board, it becomes me to allow it a greater Degree of Weight; yet I must beg Leave to observe, that it is liable to every Objection, and in a greater Degree than has been urged against the present Expedition. The Distance from Culpee to Bombay, measured in a right Line on the Map, is exactly equal to that of Pondicherry from Bombay; but there is this Difference in the Two Routes, the former must be traced along the Coast to the South, and round the Country to Anjengo, and from thence, either by a dangerous Navigation along the Malabar Coast, or continued by Land through the Dominions of Hyder Ally Khan, the most powerful of all the Sovereign Chiefs of India; whereas the Road from Culpee deviates but little from the right Line: Without pursuing this Argument I shall refer to the Map for the Truth of my Assertion, that with superior Difficulties the former would exceed the latter in Length by One Third of the Distance, besides the March of a Body of Troops from Bengal to replace those detached from the Carnatic. I must further observe, that this Government cannot command the Forces of the Carnaeic; we made a Trial of our Influence, in default of Authority, to attain this very Point, and we failed to accomplish it; it is therefore wrong to impute to this Government a Neglect of the Means which it cannot command. I do not suppose that on a deliberate Resection it would be recommended by any Body of Men who should succeed to the Administration of the Assairs of this Government, and shall find another Plan in train which promifed at least equal Success, and which ought to be desperate before it were abandoned for the Choice of another.

When I spoke of my own Disappointments, and the Missortunes which attended the Measures hitherto taken for the Assistance of Bombay, I affixed a very different Sense to those Words from that which seems implied in the Repetition of them by Mr. Francis. The Detachment is at th s Time as capable of effecting the Ends of its Formation, and the Measure itself is in my Opinion as advisable now, and more so, than when it was first adopted; it has met with no real Misfortune, I regret only that it has not already attained the Ends which it is still equally capable of accom-

I shall now return to such Parts of Mr. Francis's Minute as regard the Questions immediately before us. Mr. Francis says, "Is Colonel Leslie, after such repeated Condemnation of his Conduct, to be continued in the Command of this important Detachment?" I answer, No, if it be the Opinion of the Board that he has adopted a Train of Measures, which in their Consequences must obviously tend to defeat the Defign of the Expedition. I observed in my last Minute, that I came prepared to give my Sentiments upon this Subject, urged to it by the repeated Calls of the Board, and by the Belief that every Member of it had before joined in the Condemnation of Colonel Leslie's Conduct, but that I hesitated to execute it, because I thought I saw in the Minutes which were brought to the Board by the Members present, Opinions which necessarily inferred an Acquittal of his Conduct; and I defired them to declare, whether they judged him culpable in the little Progress he had made, or whether they attributed it to natural and inevitable Causes. Mr. Francis has replied to this Question, though not in direct Terms by those of the Question which I have above quoted. I will conclude that Mr. Wheler's Sentiments also remain unchanged: And on these Grounds I move, That the Opinions of this Board be taken, whether Colonel Leflie shall be continued in the Command of the Detachment from the 1st Brigade, or shall he be removed from it? Though prepared to give my immediate Vote upon this Question, yet I have no Objection to leave it in Suspence until that of Mr. Barwell can be taken upon it, and the Refolution of the Board be, as I believe it will prove, unanimous.

For the Reasons properly urged by Mr. Francis, I also agree, that the Questions proposed by me at the last Meeting of the Council, shall in like Manner remain suspended until Mr. Barwell shall have given his Opinion upon them: Indeed I think this necessary in Point of Regularity, as I recollect, that Mr. Barwell expressed himself prepared at that Time to deliver his Opinion upon them, although it was afterwards agreed, that the Members of the Board should deliver their Minutes in Writing, and his only remains to be received.

Mr. Francis-Colonel Leslie is not at Calpee, nor is it now in his Choice to proceed by the usual Route from thence to Bombay: It would certainly have been the easiest, at least it would have been the most direct: I hear there are Letters from Camp as late as the 17th of last Month, and that he was still at Rajegur. Whatever our Influence or Authority over the Presidency of Fort Saint George may be, I cannot conceive it possible that they would refuse to concur in a

REP. VI. Plan $(\mathbf{D} d)$

Λ P P C N D I X, N° 146 and 147.

Plan for the Defence of Bombay, when such Plan is proposed to be effected without any Diminution of their own Force; but it is in vain reasoning on a Case which does not exist. To the Queltion now proposed, I have no Dissible uly in saying that if a Proposition had been made by the Governor General for Colonel Lessie's Removal, I should have agreed to it, because, waving my Optimion of the Service committed to him, I deem it morally impossible that his March from Callice to his present Station could have taken up the Time it has done, if his Attention had not been sixed on other Objects, equally incompatible with our express Orders, and with the Prosecution of his March. He has assumed a Power with which the Legislature has not thought sit to intrust the Presidencies of Fort Saint George and Bombay, and from the Exercise of which he was particularly restricted by our Instructions: After this Declaration, I presume it cannot be a Dombt, whether I think Colonel Lessie culpable or not: It is certainly my Opinion, that he ought to be recalled; but unless it concurs with that of the Governor General, I will never consent to its deceding the Resolution of the Board: My Reasons for this Caution are sufficiently obvious, but as we are likely to be unanimous on the Question, it is unnecessary to enter into them.

Governor General—This Caution I think unnecessary on the present Occasion. I have given sufficient Indications of the Part which I should take in the Question before the Board; but I will put it beyond a Doubt, by declaring it formally to be my Opinion, that Colonel Lessie ought to be recalled.

Mr. Francis—I agree with the Governor General.

Mr. Wheler—I agree with the Governor General and Mr. Francis, that Colonel Leslie be tecalled.

Resolved, That Colonel Leslie be recalled from the Command of the Detachment made from the 1st Brigade, and that he be ordered to deliver over the Command of the said Detachment to the next senior Officer.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Mr. Barwell delivers in his Opinion as follows, on the Governor General's Propositions of the 7th Instant.

Mr. Barwell.—I will not prolong a Debate in a Degree closed, by commenting on the Arguments offered in Support of the Opinions of the different Members; I was prepared to have approved the Propositions from the Chair at the Instant they were dictated, satisfied of the Justness of the political Principle on which the Measure for giving effectual Aid to Bombay, and Security to our Postessions, was resolved. Men see through different Mediums, or may act on System. I apprehend in either Case it is waste of Words to attempt to reason them out of their Opinions, and while we endeavour at Conviction, we frequently do no more than offer Occasion to perplex and confound the simplest Proposition, and Controversy is endless.

I agree with the Governor General, and think Colonel Lessie culpable in the little Progress he has made.

I agree to the Recall of Colonel Leslie, and to give the Command of the Detachment to Lieutenant Colonel Goddard.

(Signed) Rich Barwell.

N° 147.

Resolved, That the following Letter be written to Colonel Leslie, and dispatched by this Night's Post:

To Colonel Leslie.

Sir, .

We have received your Letter of the 4th September; and the Governor General has faid before us your Letter to him of the 7th of the same Month, enclosing Copy of the Treaty which you have entered tered into, in the Name of the Company, with the Rajahs Gomaun and Comaun Sing. And we fare informed that there are private Letters received, dated the 16th and 17th of the fame Month, which mention the Detachment being then at Raje Ghu.

In the First Place, we think it proper to disavow the Treaty which you have taken upon yourself to conclude with those Rajahs, and to declare it invalid.

We confider your Attempt to pledge the Name of the Company to this Engagement, and your Interference in the domestic Diffentions of the Rajah of Bundlecund and his Brother, as Asts commuted in direct Violation of our positive Orders, by which you were sorbidden "to involve this Government in Intuite Engagements under any Pretext whatsoever, or to suffer yourself to be di-" verted from the Profecution of your March by any new Object, except for the Safety or Subfift-" ence of your Troops indispensably requiring it."

If you have concluded any Treaty with the Rajah of Bundlecund, or with his Brother Surnaut Sing, or entered into any Engagements with either, contrary to the Tenor of those Instructions, we beieby also declare such Treaty and such Engagements to be invalid.

We have seen with equal Surprize and Concern Four Months and an Half elapse in essecting the March from Kalpy to Raje Ghur, a Diffance of only 120 Miles; in a Period which, for any Reaions with which we are acquainted to the contrary, appears inflicient to have conducted the Detachment to its ultimate Deflination.

We deemed the Service which you were appointed to execute of fo urgent a Nature, that we directed you to commence your March at the most unfavourable Season of the Year. You have been informed from Authority, of the Danger which threatened Bombay from a formidable French Armament, equipped in the Port Toulon for the Invalion of that Island, and you were in consequence of such Advice earnestly required to expedite your March; yet you have remained in a State of Inactivity, which is to us inexplicable on the Grounds either of Necessity or Expediency.

It will afford us great Satisfaction if you shall be able to justify this Conduct, which under the pactent Appearances we can as little reconcile to your Duty, and the clear Line which you had to justine for the Success of the Enterprize committed to your Charge, as to the positive Rules and Precautions which we had laid down in our Instructions for your Guidance.

But as you have engaged yourself in a Line of Politics, which obviously tend to defeat the important Object of the Expedition, we cannot, confiftently with our primary Duty to the Company, and the Safety of their Interests, suffer you to continue longer in a Command which you have given us such throng Cause to apprehend will be perverted from the Ends to which it was bestowed

We therefore command you immediately on the Receipt of this Letter, to deliver over the Charge of the Detachment to Lieutenant Colonel Goddard, or to the Officer who shall then be next to you in Command thereof, and to repair with all convenient Expedition, and by fuch Route as you shall judge most practicable, to the Presidency of Fort William.

You will take the First Regiment of Cavalry for your fafe Conduct into these Provinces; and as foon as you have entered them, or arrived within the Frontier of the Dominions of the Nabob of Oude, you will advise us thereof, and direct the commanding Officer of that Regiment to halt until he receives Orders for his future Destination, either from the Board or from the Commander in Chief.

Fort William, the 15th October 1778. We are, &c. &c.

Refolved, That Lieutenant Colonel Goddard be immediately written to as follows:

To Lieutenant Colonel Goddard.

Sir,

Having thought it proper to recall Colonel Leslie from the Command of the Detachment which was made from the First Brigade, for the Support and Assistance of the Presidency of Bombay, we have ordered him to deliver Charge of the faid Command immediately to you, and himfelf to repair to Fort William, taking with him the First Regiment of Cavalry for his safe Conduct.

We hereby direct, that you forthwith take Care of the Command of the Forces from Colonel Lessie, excepting the above Corps of Cavalry; and we invest you with the Powers and Authority formerly delegated to him for that Purpole.

We enclose for your Guidance in this Command, Copies of the Instructions originally delivered to Colonel Leslie, and of such further Orders transmitted to him as still remain in Force. These are so desple and fo clear, that we have only to enjoin you to adhere to them strictly, as far as they may be confident with our present and future Orders, and to effect without Loss of Time such Parts of them as yet remain unaccomplished.

We further direct, that you immediately pursue the Line of March prescribed for the Detachment into the Province of Berar; that you give the earliest Notice of your Arrival and Progress, in the Manner directed in your Instructions, to Moodajee Boosla, the Chief of that District, who is in Amity with the Company; that you implicitly obey all fuch Orders as you may hereafter receive from the Prefident and Council at Bombay, for proceeding to that Side of India without Delay; and even before the Receipt of fuch Orders, you will profecute your March towards Bombay from Berar, if the Raja Moodajee Boossa shall agree to join you with a sufficient Body of his Troops to enable you, not only to stand your Ground against the Maratta Army, but in case of Need to act offensiven against them.

If the Raja shall refuse or decline to reinforce you with a Body of his Troops to assist the Ptess dency of Bombay, and you shall not have received any Orders from that Presidency subsequent to the Date hereof, to pursue your March; we leave it to your Discretion to continue encamped in the Province of Berar, or to proceed, advising us immediately, in the most expeditious Manner, of the or any other Measure which you may resolve upon, of your Progress, and of every Transaction which may be material for our Information.

We think it necessary to direct, that you recall any Detachments which may have been made from the main Body of your Forces; and that you be careful on all Occasions to keep them united.

We authorize you to appoint your own Staff Officers, only recommending it to your Attention not to burthen the Establishment with any Posts, which may be dispensed with, consistently with the Duty of the Service.

We are, &c.

PRESENT;

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Esquires. Edward Wheler,

READ a Letter from Mr. Leslie, as follows;

Honourable Sir, and Sirs, It is with the deepest Concern I find myself necessitated to inform you, that Colonel Leslie was feized with a fevere bilious Fever on the 27th of last Month, which has reduced his Strength so much, that the Surgeons have very little Expectation of his Recovery: The inclosed Letter and Transcripts which I now do myself the Honour to lay before you, were given to me to prepare for Dispatch the Day after the Fever seized him, and I have been waiting a savourable Intermission for the Colonel's Signature. The Opportunity to this Moment has not offered; and as it may be still longer before the Colonel may have Strength to attend to Business, I have presumed to forward these Papers to you, not only that the Information appears necessary to your Satisfaction, but that I deem it my Duty in the Office I now hold as his Secretary, to transmit them to you, and hope therefore to be indulged with your Approbation. I am, &c.

Camp, Rage Ghur, 2d October 1778.

(Signed)

Matt" Leslie, Secr'.

Read the Letter inclosed in the foregoing, as follows;

Honourable Sir, and Sirs. In my Letter of the 25th, I informed you of my Situation to that Period, and that of the 30th July would acquaint you of my Situation and Prospects to that Time, which were very flattering to my speedy moving forward, but in this I was deceived. The Demands of Goman and Coman Theorem Sing for their Services in Supplies were so exorbitant, they could not be complied with. They demanded from Surnet Sing and Anrood Sing a considerable Territory, supposed wrested from them by their Father Hindooput: From me, my Return to Jeetpoor, and disposses Gudd, Sing of that Fortress for their Use, as it was formerly taken from them by Gudd Sing's Father. This threw a Difficulty on my getting Supplies, as they had all the Power to the North and East, and knowing their own Influence (and Overtures at this Time made them by Anroad Sing and Ballajec) they created a Number of Difficulties to raife their own Consequence. The incessant Rains which fell during this Month, had swelled the Nullas so much, that they were not passable, and the Roads were so broken and sloughy, it was impossible for Carriages to travel, nor could I persuade the Banjarrahs to follow me (if I could have got sufficient Grain) till the Rains subsided. From this Period till near the Middle of August, I laboured incessantly to induce Goman and Coman Sing, to join with Surnet Sing in procuring me the necessary Supplies, and I had the greatest Assurances from them it should be so; but to my great Mortification, when Matters came to be adjusted, I found Anroad Sing's Offers had prevailed, and they would engage in nothing without a Compliance to the most exorbitant Demands.

My Indifference to treat further with them, or accept any of their Proposals, an' my intended March to Raje Ghur, had a better Effect than any Sooth I could have given; for I had an immediate Application by their Vackeels to come to Agreement of Friendship with me, independant of Surnet Sing; which was perfected on my Arrival at this Place, a Copy of which I have transmitted to Mr. Hastings.

The constant Fall of Rain for the first Ten Days of August rendered my moving from Chatterpore impracticable, by the Route of Gool Gunge, had there been no Force at Raje Ghur and the Cane: But as I could not move with so large a Corps in my Rear without the utmost Risque of starving my Detachment, I resolved the very first Recess of the Rains to march to Raje Ghur, in order to remove that strong Force of the Bundellahs, either by crossing the River and proceeding by the Route of Panna, or by my Motion this Way make them quit their Post on the Cane to cover Panna and Callinger, and leave me at Liberty to pursue my Route by Gool Gunge without Molestation from them. I accordingly marched from Chatterpore, on the 14th August, as my Letter of the 16th would inform you, as would my subsequent Letters to the 24th of that Month, of my Situation down to that Time.

The very heavy Rains that have fallen down to this Period, and the terrible Condition of the Western Roads, made it morally impossible for me to move, and the Obstinacy of the Bundellahs on the opposite Shore of the Cane, prevented my attempting the Passage of that River, but amply provided for the Success of the Undertaking; to this End, Boats were set on the Stocks by Lieutenant Colonel Fortnom, and every Preparation was in Forwardness, when the Raja Anrood Sing fent Messages to request an Explanation and Proposals of Accommodation.

I thought Terms of Amity would be more confonant to your Defires, and to the expediting my March than engaging in absolute Hostilities, and I acquiesced to the receiving any Person he would fend. Hiera Loll was accordingly deputed to me, and has at length adjusted the Terms of my March, together with Engagements of Amity now and hereafter: Transcripts of those Papers I do myself the Honour to inclose to you, and I trust they are such as will meet with your Approbation. This Minister is to attend my March to the Boundaries of the Bundlecund Territory; and I shall commence my March for Saguer, by the Route of Gool Gunge, To-morrow.

I have been honoured with your Letters of the 31st August and 1st September. I am very much concerned that you did not deem my Correspondence with your Board from Chatterpore sufficiently explanatory for the Cause of my Halt there; I request your Reference to the several Addiesses dispatched to you from thence, and to this Period I request your Reference to the sluctuating State of the Ministers and Chiefs at Poona, and our Interests in that Quarter, as communicated to me by the Resident, and the Jealousies I have been impressed with of the Dispositions of the several Chiefs, through which my Route of March will be; and I do hope, on a candid Confideration of them, that you will be fatisfied my Halt at Chatterpore, and the fublequent Delay here, has been effentially necessary to the Safety of my Troops, and that I shall be honoured with your Approbation of my Measures.

The inclosed Transcript of Letters from the Vackeel of the Berar Chief (Benarum Pundit) will plainly exhibit to you the State of the Roads at this Period: But had I made the Attempt, and had I marched immediately from Chatterpore to Sagur, I do conceive I should have inevitably hazarded the Safety of my Detachment. The Country about Sagur does not abound with Provisions; the Chiefs Goman and Coman Sing were, it is true, neutral at the Time, but I doubt much their Inclination to have afforded me Aid; and I was very certain the Ministers of Anroad Sing would have taken the Advantage of my Advance from Chatterpore, to cross a Body of Men and retake that Place, which was the only Route by which my Supplies could be drawn, and they would of course be intercepted. The Machination of Ballagee had produced these Difficulties; the Bundellahs declare it, and his late Behaviour confirms the Circumstances.

What Reception I shall meet with in his Districts I cannot say; he had promised himself the Bundellahs would have been able to frustrate my March by Panna, and by not coming to Terms with me, that they would have co-operated with him in harraffing my Rear, and cutting off my Supplies by the Route of Gool Gunge; the Treaty of Amity with them abolishes this Plan. My Supplies and Communication with the Vizier's Dominions are secured, and Ballajee will, I hope, of Necessity to his own Interest, be induced to fulfil the Terms of the Treaty entered into with him in the Person of his Brother Gunga Dur. I cannot conclude this Subject without again expressing my Concern, if I have not been so explicit as you wished, and can impute it only to my Anxiety not to give your Honourable Board any tedious Details; when I was at the Time affording Mr. Hastings at his own particular Desire a particular Journal of Occurrences, and to whom I trusted for such Explanations as the Honourable Board might express a Desire to know, in Addition to my Addresses.

I will be more careful in future, that I do not suffer your Displeasure in this Regard. REP. VI.

Your

Your Sentiments contained in the Letter of the 1st September, I have perused with Attention, and will strictly comply with your Orders contained therein. I have had no Repetition of the Ap, plication, and I hope I shall not.

You may depend on my Firmness and strict Discipline to suppress any Revival of the Affair, for though I was fatisfied of the Impropriety of it, yet it was my Duty, situated as I am, and liable to the most malicious Interpretations of every Transaction in my Camp, to communicate to you the Circumstances of it.

I have the Honour to be, with the highest Respect, Honourable Sir, and Sirs, Your most obedient humble Servant.

Matt Leslie, Secty.

This Letter, although not figned by Colonel Leslie, but transmitted and attested by his Secretary, and being in the same Hand in which his Letters have been generally written, the Board deem authentic.

Governor General-The pointed Reference made by Colonel Leslie to his Correspondence with me, and the personal Reproach which seems to be implied in it, will make it necessary for me to lay the Whole of his Letters before the Board, which were written fince his Arrival at Chatter-pore. I shall request, that the Members of the Board will peruse them, and if they appear either to contain the Reasons for his long Stay at that Place, or since that Time for his halting at Raje Ghur, more explicitly detailed than they have been in his Letters to the Board, or any Facts or Circumstances materially necessary for the Information of the Board, I shall consent either to their being recorded entire, or such Extracts from them only, as shall be judged necessary: As they may be voluminous, I do not propose to enter them all, nor should I have thought it either necessary or proper to have quoted any Part of Colonel Leslie's private Letters to me, unless they related to such Subjects as the Board had a Right to know, and such as it would in that Case have been incumbent on me to have communicated to them. This Distinction I have always made between official and private Correspondence; and the Board will recollect, that I expressed it very particularly on the last Communication which I made of Colonel Lessie's Letter, which contained the Particulars of the Treaty with the Rajahs Gomaun and Comaun Sing.

I am forry to inform the Board, that I have seen a Letter from Captain Cockerel to Mr. Thomas Graham, dated Raje-Ghur, the 4th Instant, which mentions, that at Five o'Clock on that Evening

Colonel Leslie departed this Life after an Illness of Six Days.

READ a Letter from Colonel Goddard as follows:

Gentlemen,

It is with the deepest Concern I have to intimate to you the Death of Colonel Leslie, who expired this Evening at Six o'Clock, after an Illness of a few Days.

The Command of this Detachment having devolved on me, I shall inform myself fully of the Instructions you may have transmitted to my Predecessor, and immediately proceed to execute them with the most implicit Observance and Expedition.

I shall do myself the Honour of writing to you more fully in a short Time, and at present only beg Leave to observe to you, that as Colonel Leslie, on the Day his Indisposition first attacked him, Governor General-According to the Promise which I made at the last Meeting in the Secret Department, I have brought with me, and now lay before the Board, all the Letters which I have received from Colonel Leslie since the Month of April last, excepting One dated 25th July, from which I have already extracted and communicated to the Board fuch Parts as were anywise material, for their Information, and a Reference to them will be sufficient to shew, that no Part of the Letter recites any Account of his public Transactions. Some of Colonel Leslie's Letters are merely of a private Nature; yet I think it necessary for my own Justification to lay the Whole before the Board, requesting that the Members will be pleased to peruse them, and to point out any Parts that may contain Advices which ought to be entered on our Proceedings; but if it should be thought proper to record the Letters at large, I request that the private ones may be excepted.

I beg Leave also to remark, that I submit these last only to the private and considential Knowledge of the Board.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Esquires. Philip Francis, Edward Wheler,

READ a Letter from Colonel Goddard, as follows:

I had the Honour to write you the 3d Instant, informing you of the Death of Colonel Leslie, and of my Expectations to proceed on my March without further Delay.

Having taken a few Days to receive the necessary Reports, &c. of the State of the Troops, and inform myself fully of your Intentions relative to the present Service, I left Raje Ghur on the 8th Instant, and have the Pleasure to inform you, that I arrived at Choky this Morning. I shall proceed To-morrow to Gool Gunjee, on the Road to Sagur, through the Territories of Ballajee, and hope in a short Time to reach the Nerbuddah River.

I beg to affure you, that I shall most particularly comply with the Instructions contained in your Letter of the 7th July; and I hope, by the prompt and ready Obedience I shall pay to all your Commands, to prove myself deserving of any Confidence you may think proper to honour me with.

I request further to inform you, that I have been lately favoured with a Letter from the H nourable Select Committee at Bombay, covering a Cypher to be used in my Correspondence with them; it also contained Intelligence that Nannah Furness and Moodaje Scinda have detached Iwo principal Officers with a confiderable Force from Poona, on the Route they expect the Army will march. On this Subject permit me only to observe, that the present distracted State of the Maratta Empire, and the Divisions that reign amidst their Councils, gives sufficient Reason to suppose they will not be able to spare a Body of Troops of Strength equal to oppose the March of this Detachment, should the Route of Poona be judged necessary.

Camp, at Choky,

October 11th, 1778.

I have the Honour, &c.

Tho' Goddard.

The Governor General desires to record the following Abstract of a Letter to him from Colonel Goddard:

Extract'of a Letter from Colonel Goddard to the Governor General; dated 11th October 1778.

I have the Pleasure to communicate to you the Progress the Troops continue to make, which affure myself will not meet with any future Interruption. This Morning after performing a Marc of Eight Coss with the greatest Ease and Alacrity, they reached a Place called Choka, Five Coss the Southward of Chatterpore, on the high Road to Sagur, so that I have the Satisfaction to think have fairly bid adieu to the Regions of Bundlecund, at least for the present; and to the temptin Prize the Divisions and Family Contests of its Possessorier to an Invader. I have left them professing Amity towards each other, and Respect and Friendship to the English Nation, whose Power and Prowess they have at least learnt to dread. The whole Country now wears a Face of tranque Peace, and the Army is plentifully supplied with every Necessary for its Support and Convenience I shall reach Gool Gunjee To-morrow Morning, as I mentioned before.

Bengal Secret Department. Persian Correspondence, 1778.

Letter from Modajee Bhosila to Mr. Elliott, 1st November 1778.

BY repeated and successive Letters which I have lately received from the Nabob Amaud-ul-Dowlah I learn that he has deputed you to converse and negociate with me on many secret and importan Views; and that you will repair with all Expedition to Naigpore, by the Route of Cuttack, and wil make me acquainted with all Matters entrusted to your Charge; that it is necessary that I regard you as possessed of complete Knowledge of all Matters, of his entire Considence, and invested with ful Powers; and considering every thing you shall say as coming immediately from himself, jointly with you concert such Measures as shall be for our common Advantage; and having agreed on them transsmit Intelligence thereof to him. Rajah Ram Pundit, the Nabob Soubahder of Orissa, has like wise represented to me that you are arrived in the Neighbourhood of Cuttack, whither Two of you considential Companions arrived some Time before, and that you will shortly join them there.

I hope that by this Time you have arrived there, and have begun your Journey forward: I hav accordingly sent express Orders to Ram Pundit, by swift Cossids, to receive you with every Right of Hospitality, to furnish you with every Necessary, and to provide you with every Convenience for you Journey, such as Coolies, Bearers, Palanquins, &c. and to give you whatever Escort you may defire and dispatch you hither with every possible Expedition. I have no Doubt but the said Pundit will literally comply with my Directions, and will take every Means to give you Satisfaction, and sulf your Pleasure. I have stationed People from Naigpore to Lamjee, to Chatasegur, which is in Bim bajee's Country, at different Places, that they may be attentive to your Wants in the Journey, and fend me daily Intelligence of your Progress: On your Arrival in this Neighbourhood, Persons of Uredit shall be sent to meet you. As the Nabob Amaud-ul Dowlah has declared you his Representative, and deputed you on to important a Bulinels, I am entirely defitious, in every Instance, of giving you the fullest Satisfaction.

The more expeditionfly you can travel with Convenience to yourfelf, the more pleafing will it be to me: You will therefore give me daily Accounts of your Progress. I have likewise written to Bim-bajee Bhofila to protect you against the Dangers of the Journey.

From Modajee Bhosila: Received 12th November 1778.

I have been favoured with Three or Four Letters from you, by the Way of Benares and Cuttack, on the Subject of the intimate Friendship which has been contracted between us; the delivering up of Monsieur Chevalier to the Cutlody of Mr. Elliott, by my Minister for Oriffa, Rajah Ram Pundit, agreeable to your Defire intimated to him; and intimating, with regard to the Affair of Oadeyporee Gofaien, that as you know nothing of him, I should pay no Regard, nor place any Reliance on any Negociations he proposed to form; and that I will honour Rajah Ram Pundit with my warm Favour and Regard, in Return for the Attention which he has paid to your Deputation of Mr. Elliott, to which you were induced by the warmest Friendship and Regard, that he might form a Treaty tor our mutual Benefit, on fo firm a Bafis, that the Advantages of it might be reaped by our latest Posterny. These Letters afforded me the greatest Pleasure, and contributed to strengthen the Ties of Connection already formed.

Rajah Ram Pundit's Conduct, in complying with what you wrote him, and delivering up Monsieur Chevalier, is perfectly agreeable to the Daections I gave him, and highly commendable. Where so intimate a Connection lubifils, that the Friends and Fnemies of the one Party are equally those of the other, the Dictates of Friendship are to be followed; let others judge of the Acts produced thereby as they will. Every Degree of Regard and Attention shall be paid to him, and he shall meet with the Reward of his good Conduct. By the Blessing of God, mine is a powerful State, where every one receives what is due to his Merit; but every one cannot be made the Confidant of the Secrets of Government. This being the Cale, how should I have suffered the Gosaien you allude to, to have interfered in Matters of this Nature. Be perfectly satisfied, that without your Advice and Approbation I neither have permitted, nor will permit, any one to have any Concern in our Affairs.

Postscript.—The Capriciousies of Fortune has lately produced the most melancholy Event: You will cafily judge I mean that Mr. Elliott, after arriving at Cuttack, and getting Poffession of the Perfon of Mr Chevalier, and fetting off from thence for this Quarter, and arriving in the Neighbourhood of Sumbulpore; and writing to me by the Hircarrahs whom I had flationed at different Routes, to provide them with every Conveniency, that he was at that Place, and should shortly reach Naigpore; in consequence of which I dispatched Mahomed Ally, a trusty Person, at the Head of a strong Guard, to meet him, provide him with every thing necessary, and protecting him against the Dangers of the Journey, conduct him in Safety hither; and that before Mahomed Ally could reach him, I should receive a Letter from Mr. Farquhar, one of his Company, from Saranagur, that being feized with a malignant Fever, his Career had been stopped by the Angel of Death!

The Concern and Affliction which it gave me, that after coming so great a Distance he should be arrested by Death without attaining the Ends for which he undertook it, exceeds the Power of Language to describe; and I doubt not but the News of this melancholy Event equally affected you; but as there is no Remedy against these unavoidable Missortunes but Patience and Resignation, you will submit without Murmuring to the Will of God.

The Magnanimity and Firmness which are the Characteristics of exalted Minds teach, that no trifling Changes of Circumstances, which are in Fact no more than Trials, should induce the Ruler of a State to relinquish a Plan formed on mature Deliberation; but that he should, in Spite of such Interruptions, be collected in himself, and continue steadily fixed in the Pursuit of his Object: Such Conduct is truly worthy of what great Min s alone are capable of. By the Blefling of God, you, my Friend, are endowed with these exalted Sentiments.

As the Fame of our intimate Connection, the Deputation of a confidential Agent to form a Treaty with me, and the constant Intercourse of Letters between us, is spread throughout Decan; and I have received Letters from Pundit Purdhaun and his Ministers, and from the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah, defiring Information on this Head and have candidly replied, that the Ties of Connection which have ever subsitted between me and the English, by Reason of the Bengal Tribute, and the Vicinity of our Territories, are so firmly bound that no Circumstance has or shall loose them; and Advices of the Transactions here, both public and private, have doubtless been transmitted thither from your Quarter likewite; in a Word, as the Standard of Friendship which has been erected for the Promotion of our common Advantage, and the Ruin of our Enemies, has been feen far and wide, and the View of it has inspired our Friends with Strength and Confidence, and produced Ferror and Dismay amongst our Enemies, you will take every Means to confirm our Friends, by not giving Way to an unavailing Grief for the Loss of Mr. Elliott, but writing immediately to Mr. Farquhar to form a Treaty on the Instructions given to Mr. Elliott, of which he is acquainted; and having concluded his Negociations, whatever may be concluded by our joint Deliberations, to transinit the Particulars there of to you, and to take no Measure which may be an Hindrance to the Establishment of a Friendship between he on so solid a Basis as may descend to our latest Posserity, or otherwise send some other Person qualified for so important a Trust, on the Wings of Expedition, by the Route of Cuttack, with Directions on no Account to be dilatory in his Journey, as the Business is of the most delicate Nature, and the Opportunity to person it in is very short. You need not be reminded of this.

From Dewagur Pundit: Received 12th November 1778.

I have been honoured with your Four friendly Letters with Karetahs for the Maha Rajah my Master, which assorbed me the greatest Pleasure, as I learn from them your steady Adherence to your Friendship for the Maha Rajah, which must be productive of mutual Benefit, not only at present, but to the latest Time; they also caused the greatest Satisfaction to my Master, and strengthened those friendly Sentiments he has long entertained towards you. By the Blessing of God, the Basis of your Friendship becomes daily more extensive. The regarding the Friends and Enemies of either Party as common to both, and the Delivery of Mr. Chevalier to Mr. Elliott by Rajah Ram Pundit, in confequence of your Desire intimated to him, are Fruits of the most intimate Friendship; and Rajah. No one has been, nor will be suffered to interfere, in any Measure, in the Negociations and secret Communications between you and my Master, except some few who are the Considents of the Secrets of Government; how then should Oodapooree Gosaien, and such like Persons, have any Thing to do with them? Of this you may be perfectly satisfied.

After Mr. Elliott had arrived at Cuttack, and had got Mr. Chevalier into his Hands, and quitting Cuttack, advanced as far as Saranagur, we received the melancholy News of his Deceafe, by a Letter from Mr. Farquhar; this unfortunate Event filled both the Maha Rajah and myfelf with inexpreffible Grief: As there is no Remedy in fuch Cafes but Patience, it is our Duty to fubmit with Refignation to the Decrees of the Almighty. Since the News of Mr. Elliott's Approach, and the conftant Intercourfe of Letters between the Two States has been univerfally acknowledged by all the Chiefs of the Decan, and the Eftablishment of an intimate Connection between them is known to all Ranks of People, to fusfier Mr. Elliott's Death to cause a Suspension in the Negociations with which he was entrusted, and to put a Stop to your mutual Designs, will bring Discredit on both States, for to form a Design and afterwards on a small Alteration of Circumstances to relinquish it, can neither be advantageous nor honourable to either State. Since you are in Wellfare, every Wish may still be accomplished: You will therefore write immediately to Mr. Farquhar, who accompanied Mr. Elliott, a d having concluded a Treaty on those Grounds, to communicate the same to you.

The Objects to be attained by this Negociation depends on a mutual Agreement of Sentiments; you will learn further Particulars from the Maha Raja's Letters; what I have written you will regard as dictated by Zeal and Attachment.

From Beneram Pundit: Received 12th November 1778.

I have already addressed several successive Arzies to you, which I hope you have received. Agreeable to your Directions, I took Leave of Colonel Lease, and reached Naigpore on the 22d Thabaun, 14th of September, where I had the Honour to cast myself at the Feet of my Master, and the Pleasure of a Meeting with Dewan Dewagur Pundit.

I had a long Conversation with my Master and his Dewan on the Subject of your Virtues, and your earnest Desire to enter into the strictest Ties of Friendship and Intimacy with him, on which I dwelt very largely: My Master expressed the greatest Joy, and his Heart entertains no Sentiment but of the warmest Regard towards you, and desires to cement your Friendship, the Meanof which he is constantly contriving; may God establish this Connection, fraught with Happiness to Mankind, on a Basis equally strong as the Wall of Alexander, that it may remain throughout all future Generations: Whilst we were in Expectation of the Arrival of Mr. Elliott, the Instability of Fortune, which is constantly producing some Change in the Face of Assairs, brought about an Event so melancholy as to effect the Hearts of all Well-wishers in the most sensible Manner: May the Almighty preserve your auspicious Instance over us to the End of Time.

The Maha Raja was greatly grieved at this distressful Circumstance, and made much Lamontation. Your Excellency will be further informed of these Particulars, by my Brother Bissemba Pundir.

The Fame of the strict Connection and intimate Friendship between you and the Maha Raja has been every where spread, and has convinced Pundit Purdhaun Peshwa and the Nabob Nizam ul Mulk, that in contracting such a Friendship, you have the most extensive Views; which Apprehension has silled them with Dismay; it is therefore expedient, that you labour to confirm this Belief, which is fraught with Advantages to both States. The Maha Raja regards the Friends and Enemies of your Government as his own, and repeatedly is heard to declare, that whoever opposes your Sircar is his Foe, and whoever is loyal to him will promote the Wellfare of it: of the Truth of this, your own Disposition will furnish you with sufficient Proof. As the Chief's and People of the present Time are full of Suspicion, they make every Circumstance a Plea for exciting Commotion's 3

Commotions; thus Cossids with Letters from you to the Maha Raja, are apprehended in the Way in the District of Purna by the People of the Raja of that District, who murdered them and sent the Letters to Pundit Purdhaun Peshwa, which has excited hostile Designs in them.

The Rains being now at an End, and the Season of Action arrived, be pleased to return an immediate Answer to the Maha Raja's Letters, which fully explain all Matters, that the Opportunity which now presents itself may not be lost. I have been for some Time afflicted with a Fever occasioned by the Change of Climate, but by the Blessing of God, and your Excellency's and my Master's Favours, I shall speedly recover.

Letter from Colonel Goddard to Mr. Hastings.

Sir.

In consequence of the Arrival of Balajee's Vackeel in Camp, which I informed you of in my last Letter, I have the Fleature to communicate to you my Expectation of effablishing Terms of Amity with this Maratta Chief, without having Recourse to the Force of Arms. The Sentiments he has expressed are perfectly correspondent with my present Inclinations for Peace; and the only Request he has made is, that I will alter the intended Route of passing through Saajur, which from every Information appears to be my direct Road; and he will conduct me through his Country by another Route. The Motives he urges for foliciting this are such as Reason and Justice would in general approve, and seems particularly directed by Policy at this Time, when I am anxious of removing every Obstacle, however small, to the grand Object I hold constantly in Sight, of reaching Berar. He has represented to me, that Saagur is the Capital of his Country, and a very flourishing City, which will be totally deferted upon the Approach of the Army; and as the Route he has pointed out to me will not make a Difference of more than Six or Seven Cofs, I have conferted to march by it, as a Proof of my friendly Intentions of the English, and their Wishes to preserve the Country and Inhabitants from Ruin and Violation. I have advanced Two Days upon this Road, and am within Three short Days March of Maltoun, a considerable Place belonging to Balajee, after which I hope shortly to be at Gunge Befandat, where I fall in with the Road that will lead me towards the Huffienalad Gaut, upon the Nerbudda. It is with Pleafure I now affure you of the Profpcct I have of moving brifkly forward. I have a fine open Country before me, in comparison to the mountainous broken one I have passed; and as the cold Scason is fully setting in, the Number of Sick in the Detachment, which at this Change of Scason, as you well know, used to be very numerous, will decrease daily. By a Letter received last Night from Madajee, I understand some Dispatches are arrived from Calcutta, which he has promifed to forward immediately, and I expect to receive them To-morrow or next Day. This Circumstance leads me to imagine, that the Board have been missinformed respecting the Situation of the Detachment, and are of Opinion that it is advanced nearer the Place of its Destination than it really is. Allow me to express the extreme Anxiety I shall feel till I hear from yourself. I do not need any Incitement to call forth my every Exertion on the Occasion this Service may present me; yet I cannot but anticipate the superior Satisfaction and Spirit your Letter will insuse into me. As I am now moving fast to the Southward, it will, I think, become necessary to establish some other Communication than that by Benares, which will be attended with considerable Delay: I therefore hope you will intimate to me your Intentions on this Head; and from the Intelligence I can obtain, I beg Leave to mention it may be easily done by Chuta, Naugpore, and Rutterpore, to Berar.

Camp, near Lemra, October 22d 1778. I am, &c. (Signed) Tho' Goddard.

Nº 153.

Bengal Secret Consultations, 16th November 1778.

The following Propositions from the Governor General, and the Drast of a Letter to the Captain General at Goa, were circulated with the above Letters.

Governor General—As it appears from the preceding Letters that Colonel Goddard was likely to conduct the Detachment very speedily to the Borders of Berar, and that Moodajee Boosla was both willing, and proposed to join his Assistance in its Operations, and as the Season of the Year will not admit of longer Delays, but require speedy Decision and Action,

The Governor General moves, That Mr. Farquhar may be directed to deliver over all the public Papers, which were in his Charge, of the late Mr. Elliott, to Colonel Goddard, and that Colonel Goddard may be directed to carry into Execution the Instructions given to Mr. Elliott, and to negociate and conclude a Treaty with the Rajah of Berar, in like Manner, and with the same Powers as it those Instructions had been originally given to him in Charge:

That Letters be written to the Select Committees of Fort Saint George and Bombay, and to the Resident at Poona, advising them of this Commission, and requiring their Conformity to it, in the PPENDIX, N° 152 and 153.

Terms of the Letters written on the like Occasion, on the Appointment of Mr. Elliott to the same Trust, and by the Governor General to the Rajah of Berar, to the same Effect.

The Governor General also recommends, that a Letter be written to the Captain General of Goa, conformable to the accompanying Draft.

The Governor General, fince writing the above, having received Letters from Captain Campbell and Lieutenant Anderson, which he herewith submits to the Perusal of the Board, mentioning the Death of Mr. Farquhar, the late Mr. Elliott's Secretary, he recommends that the Order proposed for Mr. Farquhar be directed to Captain Campbell, in whose Charge it appears that Mr. Elliott's Effects remain; and in the Cafe of his Death to Mr. Anderson.

I referve my Opinion on the Governor General's Propositions till the Meeting of the Board.

(Signed)

Philip Francis.

I agree to the Governor General's Propositions.

Mr. Francis delivers in the following Minute on this Subject:

Colonel Goddard's Letter of the 22d October is a private one to Mr. Hastings, therefore strictly and regularly no Authority of itself to this Board, to which he ought to have addressed himself on every one of the Points which he has thought fit to communicate folely to the Governor. Sup. poling any Measures which the Board may take in Consequence of the Information contained in this Letter, may hereafter fail, I much question we should be warranted in appealing to it against Colonel Goddard: For this Reason, and because the Terms he makes use of evidently imply an Opinion, that the Governor General possesses an Authority independant and exclusive of the Council, I object to our receiving it as an authentic and official Communication, on which the Measures of Government can be safely founded; and in this Place I deem it incumbent on me to declare once for all, that I object to and protest against all private Correspondence between the Governor General and commanding Officer of the Company's Troops, so far forth as such Correspondence may contain Orders, Instructions, or Intelligence, which ought to proceed from or be communicated to the Governor General and Council collectively, and not otherwise: The Place tice can answer no good Purpose, and is hable to many Inconveniences; it is against Law, and in a former Instance has been solemnly condemned by the Court of Directors. Supposing these Objections to be over-ruled, as I conclude they will be, I proceed to confider the Letters as they stand, with the Propolitions founded upon them.

It appears to me, that the Reasons assigned by Colonel Goddard for departing from the high Road to Sagier are very unfatisfactory; and I must own I am forry to see that almost the sad Step he takes after the Command is intrusted to him, should be so liable to Exception. Balajce Pundit is the Man to whole Artifices and Enmity almost all the Difficulties and Opposition which Colonel Leslie met with have been constantly ascribed; our Records are filled with Proofs of his perfidious and hostile Disposition towards us: Yet the Moment Colonel Goddard enters his, Country, he finds Means to perfuade him that Reason, Justice, and good Policy, should oblige him to quit the direct Road to Sagier, for Fear of diffreffing his Capital. In my Opinion, Balajee Pundit deserved no such Lenity and Compliance from the Commander of our Army: If the Expedition itself is to be justified, I apprehend, that Reason, Justice, and good Policy, should have induced Colonel Goddard to treat this Man with some Degree of Severity, as a Warning to others, at all Events, his following a Route pointed out to him by fo suspicious a Guide is not to be justified. It appears by Mr. Anderson's Letter, "that the Whole of the Country, nominally subject " to the Raja Beembajee, though in Point of Extent little inferior to that of his Brother, is yet " by ruinous Management to entirely depopulated, that it fearcely yields him a Revenue fufficient " for the Maintenance of his Forces, which do not exceed 2,000 Horse and Foot." tion with respect to the internal State of Berar, and the Strength and Resources of its Sovereign, is so imperfect, that exclusive of all other Objections, I should think it very hazardous on this Ac count, to enter into any Alliance with him: His Brother, with an equal Extent of Country, feenis to be little better than a Beggar; and I do not know that there is any direct Evidence before this Board to induce us to believe that Moodajee Bootla himfelf possesses much greater Strength or Refources, or that his Country is much better governed than that of Beembajee.

Dewagur Pundit, in his Letter received on the 12th Inflant, fays, " that the Fame of the flrick " Connection and intimate Friendship between the Governor General and Moodajee Boossa has been " every where spread, and has convinced Pundit Purdhaun Peshwa and the Nabob Nizam ul Mulck, "that in contracting such a Friendship the Governor has the most extensive Views; which Appre-"hension has filled them with Dilmay." In my Opinion, their Ideas of the Views of this Government is not ill-founded; and as it must naturally excite in them the utmost Alarm for their Safety, it cannot but fuggest to them the Necessity of uniting in their mutual Defence, and of engaging all the other Powers of India to join with them in oppoling fuch Views, and to confider the English as the common Enemy of them all. A general War in India I think must inevitably be the Confequence; and this War must on our Part be supported at an immense Distance from our own Frontier, at the Commencement of a Rupture with France, and with the Apprehension of an Invasion hanging over us. Whatever may be the Event of a War maintained under fuch Circumstances, it deferves to be feriously considered whether any Degree of Success can compensate to the Company for inmoderate Expense with which it must be attended. We are precluded from making further spin ions of Territory; and if we were not, I see nothing that Victory and Conquest can produce; tempediate and certain Disbursements, with a very uncertain Prospect of Payment in Resision.

The proposed Alliance with Moodijee Boosla, whenever it shall be accomplished, will amount to a schaution of War with the Nizam of the Decan: On what Principle such a Step can be justified, lo not know; much less how it can be reconciled with the Company's fundamental Policy of supring that Prince against the Marattas. In their Letter of 30th June 1769, to the Presidency of it Saint George, "they consider the Nizam as one of the sew remaining Chiefs, who are yet capable of coping with the Marattas;" and expressly add, "that it is the Company's true Interest to preserve a good Understanding with hum." I conclude, for my own Part, that as soon as he shall ar of the Terms of our Alhance with Moodijce Boosli, he will unite his Forces with those of the sona Government, and make an Irruption into the Carnauc.

Waving all former Objections to the Measure which the Governor General now prefumes to rene, I object to it on the Ground of the Steps which this Government itself has taken, fince the inded Negociation was put a Stop to on Mr. Elliott's Death. On the 7th of October, we instructed a commanding Officer to obey the Orders of the Presidency of Bombay, whom we at the same informed, that if their Plan of the 25th July still subsisted, or if they should have formed any ther Plan or Design for the R. Joration of Ragoba, which should require the Assistance of the Desichment, they might command it to advance. In their Letter of the 11th September, they tell us key shall now very speedily come to some decisive Resolutions, and advise us immediately of the Resist: It is to be presumed therefore, that when they find the Detachment still under their Command, and that they are so expressly authorized by us to employ it in the Service of Ragoba, their Decision all soon follow, and their Measures be taken accordingly. In that Case, and supposing the Treaty with Moodajee Boosla to be concluded on the Principles of Mr. Elliott's Instructions, the Faith of the Company may be engaged on one Side to Ragoba, on the other to Moodajee Boosla, to support each of them in their Pretensions respectively to the Sovereignty of the Maratta State. The commanding Officer, in the mean Time, is I fit to chuse between contradictory Instructions, and to determine for himself what Authority he shall submit to, and what Orders he shall obey.

If, notwithstanding these Considerations, which to me appear to deserve the mod serious Attention, it should be determined to refume the Negociation with Moodaje. Boosla, I must object to our committing the Conduct of it to Colonel Goddard; First, Because the Business itself is of a most delicate Nature, requiring peculiar Talents and Information, which the Governor does not represent Colonel Goddard to posses. On this Principle at least the Choice of Mr. Elliott, to whole Abelities I have been at all Times ready to do Justice, was particularly minimate Knowledge of the Governor of the State of this Government, in relation to the original Considerates Mount to say that his Quantum on are not of this Nature.

Secondly, Because I prefume that Colonel Goddard's Care and Attention will be ingrossed by the military Ducies of his Station; and that our loading him with an Employment so foreign from the Line of his Experience and Profession, can only tend to embarrass and diffress him.

For these, and other Reasons, I object to and protest against the Motion.

With respect to the Letter to the Governor of Goa, I am of Opinion, that the Facts from which our Application arises are purely imaginary. The supposed Alliance between the Poona Government and the French, on which so much Strets has been laid for near a Twelvemonth past, and from which so many important Interences have been deduced, has yet produced no one visible Effect whatsoever: For my own Part, I do not believe that such an Union exists; but if it does, I cannot but deem it in the highest Degree improbable, that a Governor of Goa would venture to permit a French Army to land there, without express Orders from his Court. If he has such Orders, our Letter to him avails nothing: If not, he must do it at the Hazard of his Head. At all Events, I think, that confidering the respective Rank of this Government and that of Goa, the Stile of the proposed Letter is much too earnest and suppliant. I know the Portuguese, and can affirm with Certainty, that this is not the Way to treat with them. If the Danger were really such as the Governor General apprehends, another Kind of Linguage might produce a good Effect.

(Signed) P. Francis.

Mr. Wheler delivers in the following Opinion: I fubferibe generally to the Sentiments and Opinions expressed in Mr. Francis's Minute, and particularly to that Part of it which protests against all private Correspondence between the Governor General and the commanding Officer, being received as authentic and official Information, so far as such Correspondence may contain Orders, Instructions, or Intelligence, which ought to proceed from, or be communicated to the Governor General and Council collectively, and not otherwise.

(Signed) E. Wheler.

The Governor General's Propositions being agreed to by a Majority of the Board, Resolved, That the following Letters be written to Colonel Goddard, and to the Select Committee at Bombay:

Sir, (G g)

A P P E N D I X, N° 152 and 153.

Sir,

The unfortunate Death of Mr. Elliott having deprived us of his Services in the Execution (i). Commission with which he was entrusted, and Moodajee Boosla, the Rajah of Berar, by his 10 on the Occasion to this Government, having expressed his earnest Desire that some Person may immediately empowered to settle Terms on which the Alliance with the Company, which he seem anxious to form, should be concluded, we have thought it expedient to pursue our Intention opening a Negociation with him for that Purpose; and we are induced, by the Considence we require your Ability, Integrity, and Zeal for the Interest of the Company's Affairs, to charge you with Execution of it; we have therefore directed Captain William Campbell, into whose Hands the pull Dispatches and Credentials of the late Mr. Elhott have fallen by the Death of Mr. Farquhar Assistant, or Lieutenant Anderson, in case of Captain Campbell's Death, to deliver up those Doments to you; and we hereby direct and authorize you to carry into Execution the Instruction which we had given to Mr. Elliott; you will therefore negociate and conclude a Treaty of Alham with Moodajee Boosla, in Behalf of the Company, in like Manner and with the same Powers as those Instructions had been originally directed and given in Charge to yourself.

We are, &c.

Gentlemen,

We have already made you acquainted with the unfortunate Event of Mr. Elliott's Death, and the Realons of our delaying to take any further Measures respecting his Appointment, until we show hear from Berar. The Rajah has now written us, expressing his sincere Concern for the Loss of Melliott, and earnessly desiring that some other Person may be immediately empowered to settle the Terms on which the Alliance with the Company, which he seems so anxious to form, should concluded; we have therefore thought it expedient to pursue our Intention of entering into such Alliance, and have appointed Colonel Goddard, on whose Ability and Zeal we depend, to exact the Negociation committed to the late Mr. Elliott; we request that you will correspond with him any Subject which may be material for his Information therein, agreeably to our former Desire the Occasion of Mr. Elliott's Appointment.

It being no longer necessary to withhold the Instructions prepared for Mr. Elliott, and now direct to Colonel Goddard, from our Records, we have ordered them to be entered, and herewith encless Copy for your Information.

We are, &c.

To Modajce Bhoofila. To be delivered by Colonel Goddard. Written 18th October.

I have already informed you of the Removal of Colonel Leslie, and the Appointment of Colonel Goddard to the Command of the Detachment of English Forces on their March to Bomb. Colonel Goddard being an Officer in whose Abilities I have the highest Confidence, and for whom entertain the greatest Esteem, I hope that you will favour him with your Confidence and Regardle will have the Pleasure to deliver you this Letter; and I request that you will freely communicat with him on the Measures taken for our common Interest. Knowing me, &c.

To Beneram Pundit · Written 27th October.

I have very fully communicated to Colonel Goddard, who has succeeded Colonel Lessie in the Command of the English Detachment, my Views with respect to the Operations of the Detachment and to the Connection with the Maha Rajah your Master. On Colonel Goddard I have the most implicit Considence, and am sure that his Conduct will be such as to merit, not only mine, but the Mah Rajah's Regard. You are well acquainted with his Character; that he is a Gentleman of the meal liberal Sentiments, and conciliatory Disposition, and will represent him in this Light to the Maha Rajah and his Dewan Dewagur Pundit, and introduce a friendly and considential Communication between them.

As it was impossible for me by Letters so fully to explain myself to Colonel Goddard as I could have wished, I have referred him to you, who, from former Convertations we have had together on these Subjects, are intimately acquainted with all my Views in sending the Detachment, and in the close Connection I am desirous of forming with your Master, for more particular Information; this I request you will give him, and will consult with him on the Measures proper to be taken, exerting all your Interest with your Master and his Dewan to give them Essect. On your Wisdom and steady Attachment to your Master, which includes in it an Attachment to the Company, his Interest being so closely united with theirs, I rely for the successful Issue of my Designs, which are calculated to promote our common Advantages.

To Modajee Bhoofila: Written 23d November.

After acknowledging the Receipt of his last Letter, and recapitulating the Contents of it:

To this Time I chole to wait for the fure Knowledge of your Sentiments, though in my own Mind I was perfuaded that they were exactly conformable to my own, before I ventured to fix the ultimate Destination of the Army. Your Letter has fatisfied me; and in the firm Assurance that a Connection so well cemented, an Union of Two States so powerful, and so fortunate a Concurrence of Time and Circumstances as the present, must, with the Blessing of God, which ever attends Measures concerted with Prudence and founded on Justice, be productive of Success. I have sent Orders to Colonel Goddard to propose to you the Conditions of a Treaty between your State and that of the English Company, and a Plan of Operations to be undertaken by your Forces and ours under his Command, in Conjunction, both sounded on the Instructions delivered to my late valuable Friend Mr. Elliott, and he has been invested by me and the Council composing this Government with full Powers for these Purposes. You have now in your Hands the Means of binding the Interests of your Family with those of the English Company by the Ties of a perpetual Alliance, and of exalting your Name above those of the most renowned Warriors and Chiefs of Hindostan and Decan. Seize the Occasion which God and Fortune, which is but the Chain of Events produced by the natural Effect of his Prudence, have placed within your Reach; and know, that Gifts borne on the Wings of Time, pass forward, and if neglected never return. To say more would imply a Distruct of your Wisdom and Fortitude, of which, were I not assured. I would not adventure the Concerns of my Nation with yours in so great an Undertaking.

To Dewagur Pundit: Do.

Containing the whole Substance of the foregoing Letter with the following Addition:

In the Whole of my Conduct I have departed from the common Line of Policy, and have made Advances where others in my Situation would have waited for Solicitation, as the greatest Advantages to which I can look cannot in their Nature equal those to which the prosperous Issue of our Measures may conduct the State of the Maha Rajah's Government. But I know the Character to which I address myself. I trust to the approved Bravery and Spirit of your Chief, that he will ardently catch at the Objects presented to his Ambition, and to your Wisdom, of which, if Fame reports truly, no Minister ever possessed a larger Portion; that you will view their Importance in too clear a Light to hazard the Loss of them by attempting to take an Advantage of the Desire which I have expressed for their Accomplishment. This Intimation is not so much intended for a Caution to you, as for an Explanation of my Conduct to those who may be less able to penetrate the Grounds of it.

R Eceived the following Letters from Mr. Lewis, Affistant to the Resident at Poona:

My last Respects were dated 27th ultimo. Having received Information that the Durbar had received several Letters from Pondicherry, I employed a Person to procure me Copies of them, which he accordingly effected; but they being written in Persian, and I having no Person here who can translate them, I am under the Necessity of forwarding the Persian Copies to you.

Copy of a Letter from the Chief of Pondicherry to the Peshwa.

Your gracious Letter expressive of Friendship, together with Letters from Nanah Purnavese and Hurry Pundit, on the Subject of the Quarrel with the English, and of Aid and Assistance of Money, Troops, &c. honoured me by its Airival, and afforded me inexpressible Pleasure. Accordingly, agreeable to your Orders, I am prepared to exert myself in the Manner you point out, and to fulfil your Pleasure.

You will be fully informed of every Particular from my Letters to Nanah Purnavcse and Hurry Pundit.

Your friendly Letter on the Subject of a War with the English Nation, and Assistance of Money and Troops to be afforded by Seremunt Sahib, and the Establishment of a Factory at Poona after the Business of the English is brought to a Conclusion, arrived, together with a Letter from Seremunt Sahib, in a happy Hour, and greatly honoured me.

Agreeably to what you write, in which you propose Terms advantageous to me, which I delay to reply particularly to till a fit Opportunity, I proceed to such Points as are immediately ne.

In the First Place, you write that the English are very unfaithful to their Engagements, quarrelfome, and the Fomenters of Disturbances; and that the principal Actor in these Disturbances is Mostyn, the Vackeel of the Settlement of Bombay, who laid the Foundation of the Quarrel with the English. You secondly write, that they have set up and espoused the Cause of Dada Ragonaus Row Jeo, and neither have left nor do leave any Act of Malice unperformed: That if I will engage warmly in the Business, you will shortly cause Twenty Lacks of Rupees to be granted me Iro.

Secret Department.

Par. 10. The very dilatory Proceeding of Colonel Lessie in his March towards Berar, notwithstanding our repeated Crders to him on that Subject, and his direct Violation of our Instructions, by pledging the Faith of the Company to a Treaty of respectual Friendship with the Rajahs Gomaun and Comana Sing, a Copy whereof transmitted by him to the Governor General was communicated to the Board, made it, as we judged, incumbent on us to remove him from his Station, and to promote Lieutenant Colonel Goddard, the next Senior Officer, to the chief Command of the Troops. This Resolution passed in Consultation the 12th October; and on the 22d we heard of Colonel Lessie's Death, after a short Illness of Four or Five Days. Colonel Goddard, who on that Event assumed the Command before the Arrival of our Appointment, moved from Raji Ghur, where the Lestachment was then encamped, in Two Days Time, and to our Satisfaction has since made a great Progress in his Way to the Place of his Destination.

11. In the last Letter from Colonel Leslie to the Board, which he was too ill to put his Name to, a pointed Reference was made to his Correspondence with the Governor General, for a full Account of his Proceedings: The Governor General has in consequence had the same before us, and we have caused such Parts of the Letters as have any Relation to public Matters, to be transcribed for your Information. A Copy of them is entered after the Consultation noted in the Margin.

12. The Importance of the Command entrusted to Lieutenant Colonel Goddard, our Considence in his Experience and Abilities as an Officer, and the Length of his Services to the Company, have induced us to give him the local and temporary Rank of Colonel during the Expedition on which he is employed; and Care has been taken to declare that this is not to prejudice the Rights of Two Lieutenant Colonels, his Seniors in the Service.

13. The field Instructions we gave to Colonel Goddard on his Appointment, were to profecute his March immediately towards Bombay, if on his Arrival at Berar the Rajah frould agree to join him with a sufficient Force, to enable him to do it with Security and Effect; but if the Rajah should refuse or decline his Aid on this Occasion, we left it to the Colonel's Discretion to pursue his Route or to suspend his Operations, unless he should receive positive Orders for his Guidance from the

Piclidency of Bombay,

14. We gave Notice at the same Time of this Licence to the President and Council of Bombay, authorizing them to order the Advance of the Troops at all Events, if their original Plan for the Restoration of Ragoba, or any other Plan, consistent with the Terms on which we expressed our Approval of that Measure, should still subsist, or that they judged the Presence of such a Force immediately and indispensably necessary for the Desence of Bombay against a French Invasion; but in all other Cases, to leave it to act under our Orders.

15. We did not at this Time intend to depute any other Person to execute the Commission entrosted to the late Mr. Elliott, until we should hear from the Rajah of Berar, who would, we concluded, be more earnest to bring about an Alliance, in consequence of the Accident which had frustrated our Endeavours; and might probably either depute a Vackeel immediately to us himself, or propole Terms of Alliance advantageous to the Company's Interests.

16. On the News of Mr. Elliott's Death, the Rajah wrote a Letter of Condolance, and pressed us in strong Terms to supply his Place immediately; recommending that Mr. Farquhar, whom he had taken as an Assistant, might be empowered to execute his Commission, that the Connection intended to have been formed between us might not be dropped. He even related a Circumstance, which proves, in our Opinion, that he is sincere in his Protessions: A Letter written to him from this Government, on the Occasion of Mr. Elliott's Appointment, happened to be intercepted in Boondelcund, and immediately transmitted to Poona; that Durbar and Nizam Ally being in this Manner apprized of its Contents, immediately wrote to demand the real Intentions of Moodajee respecting us, and obliged him in consequence, as he informs us, to declare himself the firm Friend of the English, and that their Enemies were his Enemies. Thus he is necessarily obliged to place some Reliance on our Attachment and Support.

17. On Receipt of the above Letter, we thought it advisable to prosecute the Plan of Mr. Elliott's Deputation; and that no Time might be lost in carrying his Instructions into Essect, we ordered them to be delivered up to Colonel Goddard, whom we have tharged with the Performance of that important Commission.

- 18. This Measure having rendered it improper, as we conceived, to leave a Power vested in the President and Select Committee of Bombay to stustrate the Success of the Negociation, by ordering the Troops to advance before any Engagements could be finally concluded, as they had dropped the Plan for the Accomplishment of which the Troops were originally intended, and as their Orders might in other Respects clash with our Measures, we thought it proper to revoke the Authority conveyed to them by our Letter of the 15th October, and have reserved to ourselves the sole Right of directing the future Operations of Colonel Goddard. A cursory Account of these Transactions is all we pretend to give you in a general Letter; for a more particular Detail of them, we must refer you to our Consultations noted in the Margin.
- 19. The State of our Advices from Bombay and Poona, at the Date of our Iast Dispatches, will be found particularly given in the accompanying Duplicate of our Letter of the 17th August. We have since been informed, that Moraba Furnese, the late Minister, and Burhaba Proonder, a Chief warmly attached to his Interest, had been seized by the prevailing Party, of whom Nanah Furnese is nominally the Head, and thrown into Consinement: The Government nevertheless remained still in Consusion, from the ambitious Views of the different Persons composing it, and the hostile Advances made by Hyder Ally, which they were preparing to repel. Succaram Baboo had been declared superannuated by Nanah Furnese, and compelled to give up his Offices, and retire to his own House, on which Guards were placed to keep a Watch on his Actions.
- 20. Mr. Lewis writes, under Date the 27th October, that he had fent away his Sepoys, and was in hourly Expectation of being recalled himself, as the Governor of Bombay wrote to him, that the Secret Committee had determined to act against the Poona Durbar.
- 21. Mr. Lewis has obtained Copies of Letters faid to have been written by the Governor of Pondicherry to the Paishwa and his Ministers, which we think it our Duty to transmit Translations of, although we have no Grounds either to credit or doubt the Authenticity of them.
- 22. Judging the Services of the Commander in Chief more necessary in the Nabob's Dominions, for making a proper Disposition of the Company's Forces there, in order to protect the Western Frontier, than at the Presidency, where a complete Disposition has already been formed, we directed General Stibbert to repair immediately to that Quarter.

Fort William, 30th November 1778.

We have the Honour to be, Honourable Sirs,

Your most faithful humble Servants,

Warren Hastings, Rich⁴ Barwell, P. Francis, Edw⁴ Wheler.

E

From Siccaram Pundit; received 5th December 1778.

I HAVE been favoured with your Letter, intimating your having received repeated and certain Intelligence of the Arrival of a French Gentleman at Poona, the Grant of a Place to him in the Neighbourhood of Bombay, and the Formation of a Friendship with him. Your Surprize at such Measures, which are inconsistent with the Treaty of strict Friendship contracted between the Two States (a Friendship fraught with mutual Advantages) and carry the Appearance of a Dissipation in this Government to Friendship. Such Acts are a Breach of the Treaty, and opposite to the Duties of Friendship and Alliance. That the Foundations of the Treaty are laid on this Basis, that the Friends and Enemies of each State should be common to the other; and that a Conduct in Opposition thereto could never be reconciled to the Rights of Friendship, and was highly improper.

My Friend! in the Terms of the Treaty, there is no Room for Deviation, nor shall they ever be difregarded on our Part; and my friendly Heart afforcs me, that you on your Part will always keep this Treaty present in your Mind, regarding our Friends and Enemies as common. I had, before the Arrival of your Letter on the 18th of Summadee Ulawul (25th June 1777) caused the French Chief to be dismissed from the Presence of my Master, Shemund Row Pundit Purdham Peshwa Sahib; but he afterwards continued fome Time at Poona, to provide for the Transportation of his

Baggage, which being effected, he quitted Poona the 6th Jammadee Assance (12th of July 1777.)

You write with the Pen of Friendship, that our Views and Interests are the same. It is true that I regard the Preservation of the Friendship of the English Company and King of England as really incumbent; but the Governor and Council of Bombay have not fulfilled one Article of the Treaty: They have to the present Time given an Asylum to Seremunt Ragonaut Row, and excited Disturbances and Commotions in the Dominions of my Master, Scremunt Sahib.

As Tocojee Row Holdcar, Madajee Row Sindia, and other powerful Chiefs, have conceived Aftonishment and Doubts with respect to the Propriety of your Conduct and good Intentions, and the Governor and Council of Bombay will not fettle the Affair of the Three Lacks of Rupees with the Sirkar, nor reftore Chickley, &c. Places ceded by Futtah Sing Row, with the Collections made therein; and Thomas Mostyn, the Vackeel of the Governor of Bombay, who came here to settle the Matters in Debate, incited by Enmity and Hatred, has openly declared that he has no Orders from the Governor of Bombay to bring the Disputes to a Conclusion (Copy of an Extract of a Letter of his is inclosed, Lalla Sereck Ram who will present it for your Perusal) and it is the usual Conduct of the Chiefs to contract Engagements at one Time, which they will not afterwards abide by; if in consequence I should give Thomas Mostyn his Dismission, it will excite your Displeasure.

Whilst Colonel Upton remained here, all Matters were settled; but from the Day of his Departure, every Matter has been kept under the Veil of Procrastination and Suspence.

God only knows what Accusations Thomas Mostyn may write to you and the Governor of Bombay; but I conceive from this, that the Governor of Bombay in his Heart wishes a Breach in the Settlement made and Friendship contracted between the Two States.

At the Time the Treaty was formed with Colonel Upton, he was told that he should send for a Person of Credit on the Part of the Governor of Bombay, and execute the Treaty in his Presence; to which he made Answer, " The Supreme Council of Calcutta have from the King of England " Authority over all the Settlements: The Acts of the Supreme Court are valid; no one has Power " to violate their Orders."

The Event has been, that, notwithstanding your express Orders to the Governor of Bombay, forbidding him to give Seramunt Dada Sahib an Afylum in the Territories of the English Company, and directing him to conclude the Affair of the Country of 3 Lacks of Rupees in the Manner stipulated in the Treaty, and to reftore the Country ceded by Futty Sing Kaikwar, with the Collections made therein, and to observe a friendly and candid Conduct towards me; yet no one Symptom of Attention to these Orders has appeared in his Conduct, but the very contrary of all this. Such being the Case, induced by Friendship, adopt the only Mode left, by sending a Person in whom you may confide, who may in Person remove the Causes of Dispute on both Sides, and finally settle every Matter, and give you entire Satisfaction. On my Part there shall be no Kind of Failure in or Deviation from the Duties of Friendship. There is no Candour to be expected from the Governor of Bombay; the Remedy is in your Hands.

Whoever may have written you that an Engagement was contracted between me and the French Chief, and a Place granted him by the Sirkar, in the Neighbourhood of Bombay, it is necessary that you make the strictest Enquiry into the Matter, and bring that false Writer, whole Affertions are abfolute Lyes without the least Shadow of Truth, to his deferved Punishment, to deter others by the Example, from penning fuch Falshoods, of which I am entirely innocent.

From Balajee Pundit, of the same Tenor and Date.

A P P E N D I X, N. 155.

Paper referred to in the above Letters, delivered by Lalla Seurik Ram.

Copy of an Extract of the Purport of a Letter, in the Hindoo Language, written by Thomas Moltyn, from Poona, which you are to present on the Part of the Peshwa, for the Perusal of Amaud-ul-Dowla Bahadre.

I have replied to Balajee Jenardar, his Highness's Minister, that I cannot come without an Order from the Governor of Bombay: That the Orders of my Principal are necessary to enable me to come on Business, and that I shall follow his Directions.

Confider the Meaning of the above Lines, and that if he makes such Pretences for not coming from Poona to the Fort of Poorunder, what can be effected with respect to the Settlement of other Matters?

From Siccaram Pundit: Received 7th December 1778.

At the Time when some of the Company's Chiefs were engaged in Disputes and Hostilities with the Chiefs of this Government, actuated by a With to promote the Good and Happiness of Mankind in general, which suffered by those Troubles, you interposed your friendly Mediation to remove the Cause of Complaint, and to put a Stop to them, and deputed Colonel John Upton for this Purpose, to the Presence of my Master Scremunt Row Pundit Purdhaun Peshwa Sahib. the Time of the Ratification of Peace I objected to there being no Person of Rank and Credit prefent on the Part of the Governor of Bombay; to which the Colonel made Answer, That the Governor and Supreme Council of Calcutta were invested with Authority over all the Settlements of the English Company, and that their Acts were binding on the Chiefs of all the English Settlements. On the Faith of this Declaration I made Peace between this Government and the Company's Chiefs, and concluded a Treaty; but the Governor of Bombay has, in every Instance of his Conduct fince, excited Troubles and Commotions in Violation of the Ties of Friendship; and notwithstanding your express Orders to expel Seramunt Dada Sahib from the English Company's Dominions, and to settle all Points between the Two States, in conformity to the Treaty, he has performed nothing thereof; and an Envoy from the King of France arriving here with a Letter, interested Persons and Inventors of Falshoods, conceiving this a lucky Opportunity to obtain Credit to their lying Reports, without Examination or Reflection, represented it to you in the Manner best calculated to answer their malicious Purposes. I call God to Witness, that out of Regard to the Friendship and Alliance of the Company and English Chiefs, I dismissed the said Envoy, without negociating or even conversing with him. I have lately heard that some of your People have possessed themselves of the Fort of Calpee, which belongs to this Government. This Measure is widely removed from the Faith of the solemn Treaty executed by the English.

When the Governor of Bombay in former Times put on the Mask of Friendship for the Purposes of Deceit, and aided the Enemies of this Government, regarding you Sir, as superior to all other Chiefs, I made Peace and Friendship with you, and these are the Fruits produced by this Friendship.

You write, that the maintaining of Friendship and strict Union between our respective States, is your Resolve. Is it in effect for the Preservation of Friendship that you trouble the Dominions of this Government? such a Mode of Conduct is inconsistent with the Maxims and Usages of high and illustrous Chiefs. It is mutually incumbent on us to preserve inviolate the Terms of the Treaty. Should any Deviations arise therein, they are the Effects of the Will, and Dispensations of God. Farther Particulars will be communicated Sella Senrick Ram, the Government Vackeel. Let me constantly have the Pleasure to hear of your Welfare.

From Balajce Pundit; of the same Tenor and Date as the foregoing.

From Madhorow Peishwa: Received 12th December 1778.

I have been favoured with your Letter the 22d Summadee Assanie, 17th July, intimating your Determination to maintain the Peace inviolable, and to adhere scrupulously to all the Conditions of the Treaty, and your having dispatched an Army for the Reinforcement of the Settlements of Bombay, and desiring positive Injunctions to all the Dependents of my Government, to allow the Troops a free Passage, with other Particulars; which I understand, and which afforded me great Pleasure.

As my friendly Heart is ever defirous of maintaining inviolate all the Conditions of the Treaty concluded between our States, and I am constantly attentive thereto, it is incumbent on you likewise to persevere in the Path of Friendship. Our well-beloved Ministers Saccaram Pundit and Ballajec Pundit have received Orders to reply to every Article of your Letters; this they will do, and you will act agreeable thereto.

ENDIX.

From Saccaram Pundit: Received the 12th of December 1778.

I have been favoured with your Letter under Date the 22d Summadee Afanie (17th July) on the Subject of the Preservation and Increase of the Friendship between the Two States; and intimating that it is your fixed Refolve to maintain every Article of the Treaty as long as it is adhered to be Row Pundit Purhaun; that the Troops have been fent folely for the Reinforcement of the Settlement of Bombay; and that the commanding Officer has strict Injunctions to observe such a Conduct in every Respect as is consistent with the Friendship subsisting: That the several Letters you have lately ic. ceived from this Quarter, meaning from me, contain a Declaration to maintain the Treaty and Friend. ship between us; yet, that my having hitherto evaded your Request, to grant Passes for the March of the Troops through the Government Dominions, couses you great Altonishment; that if I still refused to comply therewith, you are remediless, and the Blame will fall on me. The Letter containing the above and other Particulars, which I shall notice before I conclude, reached me on the 4th of Shabaun (28th August) and afforded me great Pleasure.

It is univerfally allowed that there is nothing more excellent in the World than Friendship and Harmony, which are Bleflings to Mankind in general. The Maintenance of every Article of the Treaty is equally incumbent on both Parties. It is not stipulated in any Article of the Treaty, that either Party may fend Forces through the Dominions of the other, without confulting him beforehand and cause Trouble and Distress to the People. To what Rules of Friendship can be attributed the flationing of Garrisons in the Forts, and making Collections in the Country of the other Party: What has happened is then agreeable to the English Faith: In proof of this Assertion, be it observed, Colonel Leslie, the commanding Officer of the Forces, has kept with him Seramunt Dada Salais. Carkoon, and in Conjunction with him collects Money from the Dominions of the Government by intimidating its Subjects; this being the Cale, what becomes of your Assurance before recited, that the Treaty should be scrupulously, adhered to on your Part, as long as it was maintained by my Master Seremunt Peishwa Sahib, or what Degree of Ciedit can be given thereto?

From Time immemorial, no Forces of the maritime European Nations having marched by Land through the Dominions of the Government, but the Route of all the trading and European Nations has been by the Ocean; nor is it slipulated in the Treaty that English Detachments shall have a Passage through the Government Territories.

Reflect maturely on this, and then determine on whose Side the Blame rests. That such unlooked for Acts should proceed from you, is Matter of the highest Astonishment, to think that mighty and powerful Chiefs should act in direct Opposition to the Faith of their Engagements. You are pleaked to write, that if the Presidency of Bombay shall still continue to require the Troops, you can in m

Case agree to recall them. The Matter is briefly this:

At the Time of the Conclusion of the Treaty, I made Objections respecting the Presidency of Bombay; to which Colonel John Upton made Answer, "The King of England and the English" Company have placed Considence in the Supreme Council of Calcutta, and invested it with Authority "rity over all the other Settlements: The Acts of the Council of Calcutta are binding on the Government of all the Company's Settlements." Having given this Assurance, he prepared the Form of a Treaty, such as the critical Situation of the Times rendered necessary; and you transmitted me a Treaty conformable thereto, under the Seal of the English Company. It was from the Beginning the earnest Wish of the Government of Bombay, that no friendly Connections should be established between the Two States, and they have ever fince been striving to overfet it; and notwithstanding the Conclusion of the Treaty, they kept Dada Sahib with them: How then was it to be expected that they should recall their Troops, which were disturbing the Peace of the Government Dominions? It even appears to a Conviction, that they perfuaded Dada Sahib to the Meatures ... has purfued: How then does the Supreme Authority of the Council of Calcutta from the King of England appear, fince the Chiefs of the different Settlements do not regard. Engagements contracted by you, as binding on them, but make no Scruple to break them; and you, paying no Regard to your Acts, take your Measures on the Representation of the Government of Bombay? This is indeed astonishing to the highest Degree.

It is the Dictate of found Policy that you withdraw your Troops to your own Territories; this will be a convincing Proof of the Sincerity of your Friendship, and will spread the Fame of your good Faith throughout the Universe.

From the Commencement of the Authority of the Family of the Peishwa, they have entered into Treaties with many of the Chiefs both of the East and West, and have never before experienced such a Want of Faith from any one; nor ever, to the present Time, deviated from their Engagements, or been wanting to the Duties of Friendship and Alliance. The Blame rests with you.

Letter from Beneram Pundit; received 16th December 1778.

I HAVE already transmitted you Two Arzies, accompanied by Letters from the Maha Rajah and Dewan Dewagur Pundit, on the Subject of the unfortunate Death of Mr. Elliott, under Charge of Cossids; the one by the Way of Cuttack, the other by that of Benares; all which I hope you have received, and become acquainted with their Contents.

Pundit Pardhaun Peifhwa, on the News of the late Mr. Elliott's Deputation, fent a Vackeel named Baboo Ram Bade, to the Maha Rajah, to obtain Intelligence of what was going on. The faid Baboo Ram, in the Prefence of Dewan Dewagur Pundit, has repeatedly, on the Part of the Peifhwa, talked to me of the Breach of Engagements, and oblinately refused to hiten to Conviction. Dewan Dewagur Pundit observed to him, had Mr. Elhott arrived, all Matters would have been known. It is unnecessary to dwell on notorious Facts. The happy Insuence of the English Fortune has at all Times effected the Ruin of their Enemies, and will continue to do so in future. May the Almighty daily augment it!

It is a tresh Proof of their good Fortune, that on the 26th of Ramgaun, through the Valour and Magnanimity of the victorious English, the Fort of Pondicherry was reduced, and the Enemies of their State, to wit, the French Sirdars, all made Prisoners. I sincerely congratulate you on this happy Event. The News of this Victory has been conveyed hither by a Letter from Mhad Ameen Khan to Vikar ul Dow ah; who, actuated by Friendship, sent the Letter to Dewan Dewagur Pundit, who shewed it to me. All Tongues are employed in sounding the English Praises, their Power, and good Fortune; which may God flill increase!

We wait impatiently for your Reply to the former Letters from hence, desiring that a Gentleman might be declated in the room of the late Mr. Elliott. Bissember Pundit will represent further Particulars to you. The Maha Rajah and Dewagur Pundit are greatly rejoiced at the News of this Victory. I have been so ill with a Fever ever since I arrived at Naigpore, that I was for many Days deprived of Sense: I am now, through your auspicious Instituence, on the Recovery, although still very weak: In Two or Three Days I hope to recover sufficient Strength to attend the Durbar. Let not my Illness cause you any Uneasiness; for, by the Blessing of God, every thing will go well.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 7th December 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Esquires.

THE Governor General having delivered the following Minute, it was immediately circulated with Drafts of Letters to Bombay and Colonel Goddard.

Governor General—As the Failure of the Plan to which the Detachment destined for Bombay was originally formed, renders it no longer necessary that it should act under the Orders of that Presidency, and as these might eventually counteract and defeat the Ends of the Negociation lately given in Charge to Colonel Goddard, I move, That the Powers delegated to the President and Select Committee at Bombay, in our Letter of the 15th ultimo, be revoked, and that the commanding Officer of the Detachment be directed henceforth to obey only such Orders as he shall receive from us; and that the following Letters to the Select Committee at Bombay, and to Colonel Goddard, be written accordingly.

To the Select Committee at Bombay.

Gentlemen,

In our Letter of the 16th Instant we informed you, that we had thought it proper to invest Colonel Goddard with full Powers to conclude a Treaty with Moodajee Boosla, Raja of Beray, on the Rep. VI.

(1i)

Grounds

A P P E N D I X, Nº 157.

Grounds of our Instructions to the late Mr. Elliott, of which we enclosed a Copy for your Information. As the Event of his Negociation is likely to cause a very speedy and essential Change in the Design and Operations of the Detachment, and as the Plan which we have chosen to supply the Place of the originally recommended by you, has rendered it necessary that we should retain in our Hands the Means of essecting it; we hereby revoke the Power which we gave you in our Letter of the 15th ultimo, and shall direct the commanding Officer of the Detachment to obey only such Orders as he shall hereafter receive from us.

Although the Circumstances into which we have been thrown by the Failure of the Plan for which the Detachment was originally formed, have rendered it necessary to make this Alteration in the Control and Directions of it, our Intention is not to withdraw the Services of the Detachment entirely from the Support of any Measures which you may have formed in reliance on them, if those Measures shall not prove incompatible with the Instructions given to Colonel Goddard, and with the Engagements which he may conclude in consequence of them. We shall therefore leave him still subject to your Instructions under these Provisions, and request that you will communicate to him such Points as you may judge proper to be included in the Operations concerted with the Raja of Berar.

We are, &c.

Fort William, 23d November 1778.

To Colonel Goddard, commanding the Detachment from the 1st Brigade.

Sir.

As we fear that your Negociation with Moodajee Boosla, or the Measures which you may find it necessary to pursue in consequence of your Engagements with that Chief, might be interrupted by the Orders which you would receive from the President and Select Committee at Bombay, were we to leave the Direction of your Operations entirely to that Government; we think it necessary to revoke the Order contained in our Letter to you, dated the 15th ultimo, by which you were directed to obey all such Orders as you might receive from the President and Council of Bombay; and to forbid you to obey any Orders but such as you shall henceforth receive from us. But as it is our Intention that the Detachment under your Command, shall yet act in support of any Measures which the President and Council of Bombay may have formed in Reliance on it, as far as they shall be consistent with your present Instructions, and the Engagements which you may have concluded in consequence of them, we defire that you will nevertheless attend to any Instructions which you may receive from them, provided they be not incompatible with this Rule.

We are, &c.

Fort William, 23d November 1778.

The following Minutes were returned on the above Subject:

Mr. Francis-At last it is avowedly determined that the Detachment shall not proceed to Bombay. For my own Part, I receive this Explanation of the Intentions of the Majority without Surprize, and shall leave them to answer to the Company for this, as well as all the other Changes and Inconfishences which have attended the Measure. But it is my Duty to point out to the Court of Directors, that this last Arrangement is not justified by the Motive assigned for it: No Event has happened since the 15th of October, which should induce us to believe that the Plan alluded to in the Governor's Minute has failed. It it has, it mult have failed before we gave our Instructions to the Commanding Officer, under that Date, to concur in the Support of fuch a Plan; but let the Plan formed in favour or Ragoba have failed when it may, its Failure, on the Governor General's own Principles, is no Reason for countermanding the March of the Detachment, or revoking the Authority of the Presidency of Bombay over it. The Case of an immediate Invasion of Bombay by the French was supposed and insisted on by the Governor General, as the Ground of giving Powers to that Presidency to direct the Motions of the Detachment, and employ it in their Defence; but the Defence of Bombay, in case of an Invasion, has no Connection with a Plan in favour of Ragoba, and is now as likely as ever it was to demand the immediate Affistance of the Detachment. The Intimation contained in the proposed Letter to Bombay, "That it is not our Intention to withdraw the Services of the Detachment entirely from the Support of any Measures which they may have " formed in Reliance on them," is nugatory, and can mean nothing, fince it is refled on a Condition that supposes an Impossibility; viz. That any Measures formed in favour of Ragoba, can be compatible with the Plan and Object of Mr. Elliott's Instructions.

For this, and many other Reasons which I could easily state, if I thought it were to any Purpole, I dissent from and protest against the Measure.

(Signed) P. Francis.

I lik/wife diffent from and protest against the Measure.

Mr. Barwell having approved of the Letters proposed by the Governor General to be written to the Select Committee at Bombay, and to Colonel Goddard, they were copied fair, and dispatched.

The following Proposal from the Governor General was received and circulated the 4th Instant:

Governor Genera'—Not having yet received Advice of the Arrival of the Gentlemen who accompanied the late Mr. Elliott, at Naugpoor; left any Accident should have befallen them, or the l'apers ander their Charge, I move, That a Copy of Mr. Elliott's Instructions be immediately transmitted to Colonel Goddard, with another Copy of the last Letters written to him.

I acquiesce.

(Signed) P. F. (Signed) E. W.

A Letter was accordingly fent to Colonel Goddard, with a Copy of Mr. Elliott's Instructions, as follows:

Sir,
Lest some Accident should prevent the Delivery of the original Instructions to you which were given to Mr. Elliott, we think it proper to transmit you a Copy of them, by the Way of Benarcs, together with a Triplicate of our last Letter on the Subject of them.

Fort William, the 4th December 1778.

Letter from the Governor General to Ragonaut Row.

I HAVE been favoured with your very agreeable Letter on the Subject, and informing me of your having dispatched Rajah Ram Dunkar and Trimbuck Dado Jee, Persons possessed or your Confidence, to make me fully acquainted with them.

The Reliance you place in my Friendship is well grounded, of which I shall be ever happy to give you the most convincing Proofs.

It is Matter of the highest Concern to me, that the Measures taken by this Government, on the Plan proposed so, your Advantage by the Presidency of Bombay, have hitherto sailed of Success; and the total Ignorance in which we have since been kept of the State of your Assairs, has less me at a Loss how to act: You may however rest persectly satisfied that you are in the Hands of your Friends, and that I shall be always ready to join in any Measure for your Benefit which can be executed without any Distress to my own.

Your Vackeel Rajah Ram Dunkar and Trimbuck Dado Jee are arrived, and have related to me very particularly the Circumstances relative to you and your actual Condition. I am greatly concerned that such able and faithful Advocates were so lately sent, as well as that the powerful Means employed by this Government for your Support have received so little from your other Friends.

The Detachment of English Forces sent for the Reinforcement of Bombay are still on their March thither, where, by the Blessing of God, they will shortly arrive; and I flatter myself that its Arrival will be productive of the greatest Advantages to your Assairs. I now wait impatiently for further Advices from you on the Subject of your future Views, which I request you will speedily favour me with.

Convinced of your warm Friendship to me and the English Nation, it is with the utmost Pleasure I inform you, that Pondicherry, the principal Fortress of our Enemies the French in India, was reduced by our Troops on the 10th of October. I doubt not but this fivent, which destroys the Power of our Enemies, who are likewise your's, will be productive of the highest Satisfaction to you, and therefore congratulate you on it. Knowing me, &c.

Bengal Secret Perfian Correspondence, 1778.

Copy of a Letter from Maha Rajah Modajee Bhosila, to Colonel Goddard; dated the 23d November 1778.

I Have been made happy by the Receipt of your agreeable Letter, informing me of your Arrival at Gourdacy, that you have quitted the Territories of Balajee, &c. who, notwithstanding the Connection you had formed with him, and the Intercourse of Friendship which had been established between you by Letters and Meslages, opposed your March by Stratagem and Deceit; yet, that all his Attempts to hurt you proved inessectual, and he could carry nothing away except the Camel and Essects of Ram Budder Pundit, who stayed behind the Baggage, and also received Two Wounds from a Spear; that you reserve the revenging this to another Opportunity; that the Maratta Cavalry are collecting on all Sides of your Army, and you hear that they are also gathering together in the Decan; that I should therefore take such Measures as may be most advisable in these Circumstances; that you shall take your Route by Bhelsah and Bopaul to the River Nurbudder; with other Particulars, which I understood, and which afforded not the greatest Pleasure.

I before, in consequence of Two Letters which I received from you after the Death of Co. lonel Leslie, intimating your Intention to the Banks of the Nurbudder, and from thence to the Place of your Destination, sent Lalla Jadoo Roy, who had before waited near Five Months these in Expectation of the Arrival of the Army, and who was then obliged by Sickness and the Delay of your coming, to return to Naigpore, together with Shas Sing Hazzarey, a Man of Credit, to Saoty, which Jalook is the Jaghier of the latter; by this Time they must be arrived there, and will provide you with every Necessary, and Lalla Jadoo Roy will advance Two or Three Days Journey to meet you, and inform you of every Particular relative to the Junction of the Armies of the Decan, (to wit) those of Sindeah and Holear, and the Purport of all the Letters received from the Nabob Amaud-ul Dowla fince the Commencement of Colonel Leshe's Maich to this Quarter, and the Deputation of Mr. Elliott to conclude with me a firm Treaty and Alliance, and to advise with me on many Points of the utmost Importance: Of all these Affairs he will give you a perfect Knowledge, as it would take up too much Time and Paper to commit them to Writing. In Brief, that the Operations of the Army in Bundlecurd should be determined by the late Mr. Elliott's joint Advice and Concurrence, and that Colonel Leftie should follow the Instructions which Mr. Elliott should write him from Naigpore, he having full Powers to conduct the Negociations, and that whatever he should do be approved and ratified by all, in the same Manner as if done by himfelf. Mr. Elliott being unfortunately flopped in the Way by the Angel of Peath, all the intended Negociations and Schemes are suspended, and must continue in this State until the Arrival of Letters from Calcutta, or of some Gentleman of Credit to supply the Place of the deceased. As the greatest Priendship subsists between me and the Nabob Amaud ul-Dowla, by Reafon of the Concerns of Bengal, and the Vicinity of our Territories, I can have no Objection to the Army croffing the Nurbudder, and entering my Dominions, which lay immediately on this Side of it; and Lalla Jadoo Row is stationed there, and will to the utmost of his Power provide you with Grain, Provitions, and every other Necessary; but actuated by the warmest Friendthip, which will not allow of any Diffimulation or Referve, I judge it incumbent on me freely to communicate to you whatever I have learnt from the News papers, which I receive from every Quarter, as well as my Sentiments on every Matter which arifes.

The late Colonel Lesse after the Passage over the Jumna wrote to me, that he should shortly arrive at the Nurbudder, and that he hoped from my Friendship I would not allow any Neglect or Delay to arise in the Provision of Grain, &c. Necessaries for his Army; and that from thence, he would proceed to the Place of his Destination: I wrote in Answer, that notwithstanding the Road by this Quarter was a very difficult one, if he should think sit to make it his Route, I would neglect no Means to supply him and his Army with Provisions and Necessaries through my Dominions; that he would then pass a Part of the Peishwa's Dominions dependant on Burhampere, where I had no kind of Authority.

As the late Colonel Lessie marched into the Territory of Bundlecund, and the Country of Balajec Pundit, who holds it under the Peishwa, and wasted near Five Months in those Parts to settle the Assairs of the Country and regulate the Government, every Moment of Delay was impositional, and greatly prejudical to the Expedition, for he ought to have marched to the Nurbudder without the least Delay, and from thence with the greatest Expedition to the Place of his Destination through the Soubah of Burhampore; in which Case, he would have met with no Opposition or Molestation; all the Chiefs of the Decan being at their respective Stations employed in their own Assairs, so that he might have reached Bombay with the greatest Facility, without meeting with the least Interruption in his March thither. By his Delay of Five Months in the Bundle-cund cound Country, and the Letters of Balajee and others to the Government at Poona, that he was creating Disturbances in those Districts, and meditated the Reduction of their Territories, and their to proceed in an hostile Manner against the Peishwa; all the Chiefs were put on their Guard, and immediately set about raising and disciplining Forces, and are now watching an Opportunity to employ them to Advantage. The Opposition of Balajee, and the Armies of Observation which attend on the Steps of the Detachment, are in consequence of Instructions from the Government, and large Armies from Sindeah and Holcar have likewise been drawn together at Poona; the Forces of the Nabob Nizam-ul-Dowlah, he being in strict League with the Peishwa, and it being slipulated in the Treaty between the English and the Peishwa, concluded by the Governor of Madras, that no Ai i or Assistance should be given to Ragonaut Row, and that their Friends and Enemies should be common to all Parties, are likewise engaged in the Cause, and are stationed in different Parts at the Passes and Gauts in the Zella of Berar, under the Command of able Officers, waiting for the Approach of the English Army; that all these Parties are on their Guard and in Readiness, is entirely owing to Colonel Lessie's Delay in the Bundlecund Country: But all this is fruitless, and being past should be forgotten.

It was my Design on the Arrival of Mr. Elliott, who was invested with full Powers, to have consulted with him, and to have formed such a Plan under the Mask of the Posshwa, as might have ensured to the Troops a free and unmolested Passage to Bombay. My Plan was this, that Letters should be written by me and Mr. Elliott to Poona, to the following Purport: That the English are steady to the Treaty which they contracted with the Peishwa, and have not the least Design to support or assist Ragonaut Row; but that they bear Hatred to the French, the inveterate Enemies of the English Nation, and are greatly alarmed at the Residence of a French Vackeel at Poona; that if the Poona Government has sent away the French Vackeel, and will faithfully adhere to its Treaty with the English, they also deem it incumbent on them strictly to perform their Past of it, and in such Case neither have nor will entertain any Enmity to the Peishwa; that this Detachment which is sent to Bombay, as solely dispatched thither from Apprehensions of the Designs of the French against the English Settlements, as War has been declared in Europe between the Kings of England and France; and it is therefore incumbent on them to provide for the Safety of their Possessions in this Quarter.

From such Letters and Promises from us, namely, Mr. Elliott and myself, I had no Doubt that the Mmisters at Poona would have given entire Credit thereto, and regarding it as impolitic to have broken their Engagements with the English without Cause, would have replied thereto, That if the English were steady to their Treaty, they had no Objection to the Passage of the English Army to Bombay, to keep the French in Awe. Under this Mask the Detachment might have come hither, and profecuted their March from hence to Bombay in Safety and Tranquillity, and my warm Friend-ship and Attachment to the English Chiefs would have been clearly manifested. I formerly intimated in my Letters to Calcutta, the Purport of what the Poona Ministers wrote to me, that they neither had nor would have any Friendship or Connection with the French Nation, and that the French Agent came to Poona folely for the Purposes of Trade, and that out of Friendship to the English they had tent him away; that I should therefore write to the Nabob Amaud-ul-Dowlah to be perfectly satisfied with respect to them, they being steady to their Engagements. I received a Reply from Calcutta to this Letter, but to recite the Particulars would swell this Letter to too great a Size: Lally Jadoo Roy will therefore make you acquainted therewith, and shew you a Copy of the Letter. In a Word, by the Deceale of Mr. Elhott, all the Deligns before recited, as well as those existing in the Breafts of the Nabob Amaud-ul-Dowlah and myfelf, which could not be explained but in an Interview between me and Mr. Elliott, are fulpended, and depend on further Advices from Calcutta, which by Reason of its great Distance from hence cannot speedily be received.

The Letters received from Calcutta fince the Death of Mr. Elliott, are in Substance as follows: That the Designs and secret Views entrusted to Mr. Elliott, being by his Death of Necessity suspended, what is to be done to obviate the Inconvenience? That Beneram Pundit is well acquainted with the Assairs and Negociations with which that Gentleman was charged; that he will fully communicate to me the Conditions which he the Nabob Amaud-ul-Dowlah offers me, and such as he requires from my Friendship; that I will therefore inform him of such Points as I wish from him, for the Purpose of establishing a folid Friendship and strict Union between us, as it is not his Design to draw Advantages to himself, without granting equal ones to me, knowing that no private Friendship or public Assaires and the string formed the Design of an Assaires with me; that the Opportunity now presents itself; that the Detachment will shortly arrive in my Dominions, and their Operations will be guided by my Advice; that although either of our Armies are in themselves very powerful, and the Desay in the March of the Detachment has not been caused by Opposition of an Enemy, yet that it is advisable to strengthen it with a Body of my Forces.

In the Conclusion of the Letter is this Sentence, which is the most material: I have now fully explained my own Views and Designs, and wait impatiently to be made acquainted with yours, on which to form my ultimate Resolutions. As to form the ultimate Plan agreeable to what the Nabob Amaud-ul-Dowlah writes, which requires the Settlement of Points of the greatest Consequence and Matters of great Difficulty, viz. The raising an Army, providing Warlike Stores, large Treasures for the Support of each other, and the Junction of a Body of my Forces, under the Communit of able and experienced Officers, will be required of me on the Arrival of a Reply to my Letters—and the Rep. VI.

PPENDIX, Nº 159.

must also write very full Information on every Point, and propose the Mode of carrying our Vica into Effect with Prudence and Forefight, and the present is the Time to form the Plan, which is to be subsequently carried into Execution, with the Advice and Assistance of Mr. Anderson, who arrived here after the Death of Mr. Elliott, and is well acquainted with the Sincerity of my Friendship, and has received Letters from Calcutta to remain at Naigpore, and to make himself acquainted with m Sentiments and Views; it will therefore require a long Time to transmit Letters to Calcutta, and receive Answers from thence, and firmly to establish the proposed Union; it is not to be done at once, but requires Time to regulate Matters of such Importance.

The Junction of a small Body of my Forces with yours can produce no good Effect, but will re move the Veil from the Business, and leave our Designs exposed; it will destroy the Friendship which is established between me and the Peishwa and Nizam-ul-Dowlah, and expose my Dominions to the Ravages of the Armies of the Decan in Berar, and at the Gauts; therefore wait for a Reply from Calcutta with the Opinion of the Nabob Amaud-ul-Dowlah; and induced by Friendship, have made a full and unreserved Communication to you. Mr. Anderson has also written you very fully. You will be pleased to advise me of whatever Phin you may judge proper to adopt, for an unreferved Communication between Friends is highly commendable, and is approved by God.

Postscript .- On the other Side of the Nurbudder you will meet with bad Roads and Mountains difficult of Access, great Rivers to pass, and Thousands of Bhalahs concealed in the Cavities of the Mountains; although these cannot have any Effect upon the Magnanimity of the English, yet you will find great Difficulty to procure Provisions: As soon as you get clear of the Savages aforelaid, you will find the Armies of Holcar and Sindia ready to oppose you. Their Plan will be to watch your Motions at a Distance, cut off your Supplies, to watch their Opportunity to attack you at a Disadvantage, and having done all the Mischief they can, to retreat to their former Posts.

Although Colonel Leslie has been dismissed from the Command by Orders from Calcutta, and vou appointed to conduct the Army with every possible Expedition to Bombay; and you will doubtless make every Exertion of Zeal which so arduous an Undertaking requires; yet every Step brings imminent Danger, and you can only arrive at the Place of your Destination by fighting your Way through, and being subject to herce Attacks.

I am induced by Friendship to give you this Intelligence, for my Heart is pained at the Apprehension of your experiencing any Misfortune; and to return would lessen the Terror of your Arms, and give Displeasure to Mr. Hastings.

My Advice is, that you write all these Particulars to Calcutta, as I have already done, and wait for Orders from thence in consequence, and till their Arrival continue on the Banks of the Nurbudder. For the rest, whatever you may judge most expedient. If you think it advisable, write to the Peishwa, that your Chief has no Idea of breaking the Treaty with the Peishwa, and that the Detachment under your Command is solely intended for the Reinforcement of Bombay against the Designs of the French, the inveterate Enemies of your Sovereign: That if he has expelled the French Vackeel from his Presence, and has no Friendship with them, the English on their Part are steady to their Engagements: That if such Friendship really exists between the Peishwa and your Chief, he can have no Objection to the Passage of the Forces for the Reinforcement of Bombay. That you will not in any Manner affift Ragonaut Row. This shall be accompanied by Letters from me, which may possibly produce a favourable Answer, and in the mean Time you will have an Answer from Calcutta.

Communicate to me your Opinion in the same unreserved Manner as I have done to you; this will tend to the Encrease of our Friendship.

I have spoken on this Subject to Baboo Row, the Peishwa's Vackeel; who has replied, that he can consent to nothing without the Knowledge and Approbation of his Superiors, to whom he will write if I desire him. I therefore think it would be advisable that you send me a Letter addressed to the Peishwa, to the above Purport, which shall be dispatched with Letters from me to Baboo Row.-I shewed you Copy of Mr. Hastings's Letter on the Subject of Mr. James Anderson's staying here.-For further Particulars I refer you to Lalla Jadoo Roy.

A PPENDIX, Nº 160 and 161.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 21st December 1778.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President;
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Edward Wheler,

THE Governor General lays before the Board a Letter addressed to him by Colonel Goddard; dated 16th November; and desires in the present Dispatches to England it may be added, "that by a private Letter from Colonel Goddard, addressed to the Governor General, we are advised that he was arrived at Bileer, in Bopaul, at the Distance of Eight Coss from Islamagur, and Ten from Bopaul;" with any other Particulars of his Letter which the Board may think proper on the Perusal of it.

In my last Letter from the Kournz, I informed you of Balajee's deceitful Conduct, and the unsucceisful Attempt he had made to carry off a Part of the Baggage, &c. of the Detachment, on the Day of my leaving his Territories, and entering a small District belonging to a Patan Chief, which is situated between Sagur and Bisah Connnes. I also expressed my Hope, that the Chief of the latter Country would comply with the Request I made him, of an unmolested Passage through it, and supply me with every thing requisite on my March, as he had sent in a considential Man to treat with me. Through this Man I received from his Master a solemn Engagement to conduct the Troops, and furnish Provisions for them on their Route; as a Pledge for the Performance of which, the Vackeel was to remain in my Camp.

I beg Leave to enclose you a Copy of the Agreement he entered into, the Purport of which I have confined to my own present Purpose, without involving myself or the English Nation in any future Engagements, which might prove inconsistent with your political Views. I have the Pleasure to inform you, that by this Management I have succeeded in the obtaining of what I proposed. I have passed the Consines of his Country, and am arrived at those of the Nawaub of Bholpaul, within Twenty-five Coss of the Nurbudda. The Troops of Balajee still hover in my Rear; but they encamp at too great a Distance, and are too vigilant, for me to attempt attacking them with any Prospect of a Surprize: They harrass me every Day on the March, and now and then pick up any Baggage that straggles too far from Protection: They have also cut off some Supplies of Provision coming into Camp; but they are not capable to delay me much, or do any material Injury. This may appear strange and inadmissible in a Country whose Chief has entered into Terms of Friendship with me, but the Excuse made for it by the latter is the superior Force of Balajee; and he again urges, as a Motive for his Conduct, the Orders he has received from the Poona Durbar, to interrupt the Passage of the English to the Nurbudda all in his Power. In short, I can plainly perceive that their mutual Inclinations are the fame; but that Views of prelent Convenience have induced the Billah Chief to adopt a Neutrality, which is equally agreeable and subservient to my Wish of reaching the Nurbudda without Delay, and prosecuting the grand Object of this Expedition. I have within these sew Days received a Letter from Moodajee Boofla, in Reply to mine from Raje Ghur, informing him of my Intention to proceed towards his Country with all Expedition, and affuring him of my Zeal and Readiness to promote his Interests, and execute the Treaty which shall be ultimately concluded betwixt himself and the English Government. He mentions with much Concern the Death of Mr. Elliott, which has suspended for a while the Negociation to have been carried on with you through him; and requests that, if I have left Bundlecund, I will move forward by easy Marches to the Nurbudda: In the mean Time, he hopes to receive Answer to a Letter he wrote you on the Occasion. The Terms of his Letter, and that from Dewargur, as well as Beneram Pundit, are expressed in as friendly a Stile and Manner as I could have wished. It also informs me he has sent Laloo Jadou Ram, with fome other Chiefs, to the Nurbudda, to meet me on my Arrival there, and to provide every thing neceffary for the Care of the Detachment; but it is plain he would rather fome Agreement had been entered into before the Arrival of the Army in his Territory, and that perhaps he is apprehensive of meeting with Difficulties in concluding any thing with a Person whose Name has not been made known to him by you. In all these Particulars, I hope your Letters will by this Time have fully satislied him; and that finding the Friendship you honour me with, and the Trust you may chuse to repose in my Attention and Endeavours to promote your mutual Views and Interests, he will, before my Arrival, be prepared to receive me with that Cordiality and Confidence, fo necessary to the Succets of the proposed Negociation with him. Moodajee has sent me a Paper of Intelligence relative to the Poona Durbar, which I enclose for your Perusal. Similar Accounts have reached me from other Quarters; but it does not appear, from any Information I have obtained, that the Force intended to be sent towards this Province has actually marched; and I am led to believe that the distracted State of Assars at Poona, and a Circumstance I also learn, of Hyder Naic's having taken the Field with a large Army, will employ their Attention too near the Capital to admit of their detaching any Confiderable Force at this Diftance against me. From my Neighbourhood to the Nurbudda, I make no Doubt of reaching it long before any Troops could arrive, even were they detached, as talked of and this Confideration induces me to push on to the River with all Expedition. The Nawaub of the River with all Expedition and a Simple of the River with all Expedition. Bhopal has fent in a Vackeel to me, with Assurances of Friendship, and a Supply of Provisions, through his Country; fo that at present I can foresee no Obstruction to my March; for although Ba. lajee declares he will follow me to the Nurbudda, I am convinced he cannot give me any material Interruption; and I shall not suffer any Project or Plan whatever to divert my Attention at this Time from the main Business. I have every Reason to expect that the Bhopal Nawaub will furnish the ne. ceffary Supplies of Provisions; and although obliged to preserve Appearances with the Marattas, whose Power he stands in Awe of, I am of Opinion will not venture to take an active Part on this Occasion. I am hopeful of passing through his Country in Peace and Amity, only guarding against the invidious Depredations of Balajee's Troops. I shall not fail to inform you of what may be finally concluded on with the Nawaub, and of my Arrival at the Nurbudda; and as I have, fince leav. ing Rajighur, repeatedly wrote to Moodajee, informing him of my Progress, I may expect to receive more particular Replies from him every Day, which I will immediately communicate to you, and the Steps I may find necessary to take in consequence.

Camp at Beersea, in Bhopaul, 16th November 1778; 8 Cois from Islamnagur, and 10 from Bhopaul. I am, &c. (Signed) Thomas Goddard.

The Governor General likewise lays before the Board, the Copy of a Letter written by Moodajee Boosla to Colonel Goddard, which the Governor lately received from Mr. Anderson at Naguepoor, and which was delivered to him by Dewargur Pundit. It is dated the 23d November, and entered in the Persian Correspondence of the Secret Department.

Read the Letter.

The Governor General further reports to the Board, that he learns by Letters from Mr. Anderson, and by Letters lately received by the Berar Vackeel, that Moodajee Boosla had been dangerously ill, insomuch that his Life was at one Time despaired of, that he was thought out of Danger when the Letters were written, but advancing flow in his Recovery. The following is an Extract from Mr. Anderson's Letter of the 15th November.

"The Rajah too, I am well affured, will not chuse that we should leave this until he sees us, and it is not expected, from the Situation in which he is at present, that he will be able to appear in Public for these Ten or Twelve Days. His Illness has been exceedingly severe: He was for many Days delirious, and they had, in utter Despair of his Life, taken him from the Cott, and stretched him on the Ground. It is now, however, Ten or Twelve Days since a favourable Cristook Place, and they seem to think him entirely out of Danger, though still in a very weak Condition. A large Tumour appeared on his Neck, which has come to a Suppuration; there remain, however, Two on his Body, which afflict him much. His Father Ragojee died of a similar Disorder, which has disconcerted him much."

Paper of Intelligence sent by Moodajee.

The News-papers from the Vackeel at Poona, as well as the Letters from the Ministers, contains the following Particulars, which are repeated by many others; viz. That they affert, we neither have had or have now, any other Views or Designs than Friendship and an Adherence to Treass with the English, nor have we any Connection with the French Vackeel; he came for the Purpose of Traffick; if, notwithstanding, their Forces are come to Chatterpore, and they make Attempts within our Dominions, and form further Designs against us, it is incumbent on us to provide against them, and the Armies of Sindeah and Holdcar shall be sent into the Soubah of Malwa: But whilst there is no Act of Enmity and Dissunion on their Part, no Steps shall be taken by us.

Induced by the fincerest Friendship, I write you without Reserve any Intelligence I receive from Poorunder. You may depend on the Truth of what my Vackeels at the different Stations write you.

N° 161.

Mr. Francis—The Letter from Moodajee Boosla being a public one from the Raja of Berar to be commanding Officer of the Detachment, is of Authority to the Board, and as I think contains statter of the most important Information. As it is not followed by any Motion from the Governor General, I beg Leave to propose the following Questions to the Board: First, Whether it does not appear to the Board, from the whole Tenor of this Letter, that Moodajee Boosla is not inclined o join Colonel Goddard, or to co-operate in any Enterprize against the Poona Government? iccondly, Whether it does not appear at this Time to be the Opinion of Moodajee Boosla, that Colonel Goddard's proceeding on his March will expose the Detachment to the greatest Difficulties and Dangers? The Assirmative to those Questions is in my Judgment so clear, that I shall not attempt to maintain it by any other Argument, than a bare Citation of some Passages from the Letter, which I desire may be entered in this Place. The Court of Directors will undoubtedly give due Attention to the entire Contents of it.

Governor General-To fave partial Quotations, I propose to Mr. Francis, that the whole Letter may be entered.

Agreed to.

Mr. Wheler—I am of Opinion, from the above Letter, that it does appear that Moodajee Boossa is difinclined to join Colonel Goddard, or to co-operate in any Enterprize against the Poona Government.

I am likewise of Opinion, that it does appear by the Letter before alluded to, that the Detachment will be exposed to the greatest Difficulties and Dangers by the Continuance of its March.

Mr. Barwell—I do not think any Judgment can be formed from these Letters of a Change in the political Line of Conduct meant to be observed by the Berar State; it is such as under the Circumstances of that Government relative to ours might have been expected. The Questions now proposed appear to me calculated to preclude that necessary Information on which a decided Resolution must be taken by this Board; they lead obviously to some instant Measure to commit the Government in the Orders it may send to Colonel Goddard before it has heard from that Ossicer: Receiving the Questions in this Light, I must put my Negative upon them; the Assirmative, which Mr. Francis is pleased to declare to be so clear to his Judgment, to mine requires the Comment of the Person to whose Conduct and Prudence the proposed Negociations with the Berar State have been committed, I mean Colonel Goddard.

Governor General—To both Questions I answer briesly, No: I will add, that whatever were the Sentiments of Moodajee at the Time in which this Letter was written, it is my Belief, that we shall find in the Event that Moodajee is both inclined to join Colonel Goddard, and to co-operate with him; and that though it is very plain from the Postscript of the Letter, that he apprehended great Dangers from the Profecution of the Expedition by the Detachment alone and unsupported; yet it does not therefore follow, that he entertains at this Time the same Opinion, if he shall have agreed to join and The Papers which I have introduced on this Day's Proceedings were intended to co-operate with us. for Record only, conceiving it to be incumbent upon me to afford the Board every Information concerning the State and Progress of this important Expedition. I join in Opinion with Mr. Barwell, that the Questions which have been proposed are premature, if they lead to any Object; and the Cause of an unnecessary Waste of Time if they do not. On the News of Mr. Elhott's Death, I wrote to Moodajee Boofla, that I waited for his Letters in confequence of that Event, to determine the future Deslination and Operations of the Detachment. This Letter was written on the 11th of October; on the 12th November the expected Letter from Moodajee arrived, and contained the most pressing Instances that the Negociation might still proceed, and that for the Prevention of Delay it might be committed to the Charge of Mr. Farquhar, who had attended Mr. Elliott as his Secretary. On the 16th of the same Month, it was resolved to impower Colonel Goddard to treat with Moodajee Boosla on the Grounds of Mr. Fliott's Instructions; and on the 23d Letters were written to Moodajee adviling him of it: Therefore, from the Time of Mr. Elliott's Death until the Receipt of this last Letter, he (Moodajce) and his Durbar must have remained in a total State of Suspence and Doubt respecting the Destination and Operations of the Detachment, and of the Interest which they might eventually have in both; fo circumstanced, it was not to be expected that they should precipitately commit themselves in so hazardous a Connection, and the whole Purport of the Letter, read with this Key to it, evidently means that they waited the final Determination of this Government to regulate their own; that unless the Orders from hence could enable them immediately, and without further Referrace, to concert fome Plan for our common Operations, they should decline to take any future Part in our Concerns but that of Mediation; and that without their Aid it might be dangerous to trust to the Strength of the Detachment alone in the Protecution of the Remainder of its March to Bombay, neither would there be an adequate Object to warrant fuch a Rifk. Perhaps the Sicknets of Moodajee may have contributed to heighten the Apprehensions conceived by his Minuter, who undoubtedly dictated the Letter. Under a State of fuch Uncertainty I shall suspend my. Opinion until REP VI.

Answers shall be received to the Letter which I have last quoted, expecting that all ritten be the Receipt of it will be from the same Causes equally discouraging. These are such a might been expected; such as I should have written myself in the same Situation, in Substance I mean Expression I should never hope to equal that of the Letter which has just been recorded.

The Questions resolved in the Negative.

Letter from Governor General to Moodajee Bhoosila: Written the 29th December 1778.

Have received from Mr. Anderson a Copy of the Letter which you wrote last Month to Colone Goddard, and have perused it with the greatest Attention.

You write, that by the Death of Mr. Elliott all your Views are suspended, and depend on further Advices from Calcutta; and that by Reason of its great Distance a long Time would necessarily elapse before all the Points of a solid Treaty between us could be discussed by Letter; which Delay you intimate may be dangerous to our Views, and are apprehenfive may expose your Dominions to Danger. My Friend, I am not surprized at these Doubts; they were natural to your Situation, and fuch as I myself should have entertained under like Circumstances. In my First Letter, after the News of Mr. Elliott's Death, I informed you that I should determine on nothing till I had heard further from you, and should regulate the future Destination and Operation of the Army by the Knowledge of your Inclination; had these been averse to the Prosecution of my Designs, I should probably have sufpended them, and recalled the Detachment; but on the Receipt of your Letter, written immediately after you heard of Mr. Elliott's Death, in which you press me to persevere in them by the most folid Agreements, namely, that no trifling Changes should induce the Ruler of a State, possessed of Firmnels and Magnanimity, to relinquish a Plan formed on mature Reflections; but that he should in spite of such Interruptions, which are in Fact no more than Trials, continue steadily sixed in the Pursuit of his Object; and add, that the Fame of your Friendship having inspired our Friends with Considence, and produced Terror and Dismay amongst our Enemies, it was incumbent on me to take effectual Measures to confirm their fortunate Beginnings, by investing some Person with Authority to conclude a Treaty on the Instructions given to Mr. Elliott; I no longer hesitated, but instantly obtained a formal Commission from this Government in my own Name and that of the Council, to Colonel Goddard, to negociate and conclude a Treaty on Mr. Elliott's Instructions, and to concert with you a Plan of Operations for our mutual Benefit: This of course removes all Objections arifing from Suspicion of Delays. The Measure is now made your own; I have done my Part, and trust to your Fortitude and Resolution for the rest. Since however Delays have happened, and Inconveniences may arife, from Colonel Leslie having, in Contradiction to his Orders, loitered away a confiderable Time in his March, I have thought proper to provide a Reinforcement of Two Battalions for the Detachment. They will march on the 4th of January, or 15th of Zehedja, without Cannon, for the Sake of Expedition, by the direct Road of Ramgur and Chittu Naigpore, to our Western Frontiers, and there wait your Orders; if you direct them to proceed and join Colonel Goddard they will go, if not, they will remain there or return; for in this Service I shall do nothing without your Concurrence. Major Camac, a steady and brave Officer, well known to the Chiefs in that Quarter, will conduct them. Let Colonel Goddard be made acquainted with your Intentions; and write to Major Camac with the proper Passports, if you approve of his proceeding.

I have engaged thus far at your Defire, even more than on my own confirmed Judgement; I repeat your own Words, which I have before quoted,

"It does not become great Minds to relinquish a Plan formed on mature Reflection, in confequence of a trifling Change of Circumstances; but it is their distinguishing Characteristic to persevere steadily to the End."

Do not therefore disappoint me.

Colonel Goddard's Instructions in Essentials are positive. I have consulted your Interests even more than my own, and exact in Return the same Candour and Considence to me which I have invariably observed towards you. The Eyes of the World are on us both; they have seen me struggle through Difficulties to the Points at which with your Aid I have insured the most glorious Success; thee Termination of which, by the Bleffing of God, will afford Peace and lafting Security to the English Dominions in India, and to Increase of Power, Honour, and immortal Reputation. For the reft I refer you to Cesonel Goddard: Confide in him as a Man that possesses my Confidence; and rely on his Bravery and Skill as an Officer of the first Experience and Merits, and endowed with a great Portion of all the Virtues of a Soldier, which you possess in a more eminent Degree than any of the Chiefs of the prefent Age.

To Dewagur Pundit: Do.

The fame as the foregoing, except where the Difference of Situation renders a Change of Expreffion necessary; and with this additional Paragraph, which comes in after the Quotation ending " Perfevere fleadily to the End."

The Encouragement you have given me in your feveral Letters to purfue steadily the Plan formed for our mutual Benefit, but more particularly for that of your Master; and the Reputation you have gained for Wildom, Firmnels, and Resolution, have been strong Motives with me to persevere, not doubting I should receive the most effectual Aid and Support from the Maha Rajah, for the Attainment of the beneficial Objects proposed by the Plan.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, December 28th 1778.

THE Governor General delivers in the following Minute:

As the unexpected and unnecessary Delays in the Progress of the Bombay Detachment until the Death of Colonel Leflie, must have unavoidably occasioned a much more considerable Diminution of the Strength of the Corps than could have happened, had he proceeded with that Expedition which his Duty required, and which it was in his Power to have used for effecting the Service he was sent upon, and as these Contingences will naturally increase with the Length of the March; it is necessary to make Provision for such a Reinforcement, as shall not only supply all present Deficiencies, but keep up the Detachment to the effective Strength of its original Establishment, and was judged requifite to attain the Objects for which it was formed.

For these Purposes, I beg Leave to submit the following Propositions to the Consideration of the Board.

1ft, That Two Battalions of Sepoys be allotted for this Service, and ordered to proceed immediately, without their Artillery, to the Extremity of our Western Frontier, and there wait the Directions of Colonel Goddard, either for a Junction with his Detachment, for the Protection of Naugpoor, or for preferving the Communication with these Provinces, as he shall judge most conducive to the Purpose of the Expedition.

2d. That the 13th and 14th Battalion of Sepoys be fent upon this Service, and ordered to cross the River on Monday next, the 4th January, and proceed directly on their March by the nearest practicable Route.

3d. That this Detachment be immediately supplied with Sixty Barrels of Musquet Ammunition, Four Barrels of Flints, and Treasure to the Amount of Half a Lack of Sunnaut Ru-

4th. That Major Camac be appointed to the Command of this Detachment.

I do not intend by this Selection of Major Camac, to derogate from the Merits or Capacity of other Officers of his Rank, many of whom may be equal to him in Capacity, and the general Knowledge of their Profession: But his long and successful Services in some of the Countries through which the March of the Detachment will lay; his personal Knowledge of most of the Chiefs in the Route; and their known Respect for his Character and Abilities, together with the strong Attachment to him of the 14th Battalion formerly under his Command, peculiarly qualify Major Camac for the Execution of this particular Service.

(Signed)

Mr. Francis-The Governor General's Minute is founded on a Supposition of a Fact, which ought to be afcertained exactly by the Return of Colonel Goddard's Detachment: There is no direct Evidence before the Board that I know of, to shew what Loss of Men has already been in curred, or whether there has been any; until I fee the Returns of the Detachment, I cannot fee the Necessity of reinforcing it by Two Battalions: On the Principles of the Proposition, I am to conclude, that Colonel Goddard has already lost a Number of Men equal to the Reinforcement, but I do not know that this is the Fact, nor do I know on what Grounds the Two Battalion, amounting to 1,632 Men are fixed upon.

Mr. Wheler-The Majority of the Board being alone responsible for the Sifety of the Detach. ment now under the Command of Colonel Goddard, and having I prefume, fufficient Reason to apprehend, that it is or foon will be reduced to a very critical State, from a Variety of Difficulties which they have already, and must yet encounter, I shall not in this Place attempt to obstruct the Proposition now before the Board; but beg it may not be understood, that by affenting to the Governor's Motion I deput in any Degree from those Opinions or Principles which have induced me to oppose the March and Progress of this Detachment.

Mr. Francis—There being no Return before the Board, nor any Explanation given of the actual State of the Detachment, I am obliged to admit a Supposition, that a Loss, equal to the proposed Reinforcement, has been or is likely to be incurred: On this Ground, I am of Opinion, that every Argument which I have hitherto urged against the March of the Army is confirmed; and that the wifest Thing we can do in the present Circumstances is to recall it. By sending Reinforcements we increase our Expence, we hazard so much more of our Force, and lessen the Defence of Bengal in the same Proportion: How Two Battalions, sent from hence at this Time, can be of any Service to Colonel Goddard, I do not comprehend. The Place at which we have Reason to suppose him at present, is I believe Ten Degrees West of Calcutta: The Country through which the Reinforcement is to pass is wild, savage, and unknown; even that Part which belongs to us can hardly be faid to be under our Dominion, and is besides in a great Degree impracticable for Troops: For these Reasons, I object to the Motion: I also object to the Command being given to a Field Officer, as I think it an unnecessary Increase of Expence: The eldest of the Two Captains might perform the Service: I do not mean to derogate from Major Camac's Merit: On the contrary, I wish to detain him here, where I apprehend his Service will be most wanted.

Mr. Barwell—I approve intirely of the Proposition, and I think it properly timed. Before Colonel Leslie's Detachment advanced into the Territories of the Raja of Berar, this cautionary Measure could not produce those Effects which must follow its Adoption at this Time. The Measure is a very judicious one, equally if regarded as the Means of keeping up the Detachment to the effective Strength of its original Establishment, to cover its Retreat, or to push its Advance. It will certainly give Vigour and Influence to its Operations, and that Security to the Dominions of the Berar Chief, as to dispel every Apprehension he may entertain of the Hostilities with which he may be threatened. I entirely concur with Mr. Francis in Opinion, that is, there is no indispensable Necesfity to influence the Proposition; and if I was to proceed to form my Opinion simply on the Necesfity of the Thing, I should undoubtedly vote against the March of these Troops. The Willricks of Palamow and Chute Nagpore are by no Means savage Countries, nor is that of Bimbajee, immediately bordering upon them, through which is the direct Road to Berar. Major Camac formerly reduced these savage Countries to the Borders of the State ruled by Bimbajee, with his own Battalion of Sepoys, and kept them in Subjection; and I believe the Force lately allotted by this Government to the latter Purpose is limited to Five Regular Companies, and effected to this Period by Three Militia Companies. As to Increase of Expence, this Measure makes no Alteration in the Military Establishment, nor will the Desence of Bengal in my Opinion be weakened by these Troops being placed in a judicious Station on the Western Frontier, as it does not appear to me that the utmost Western Station that can be sixed on, can go beyond 150 Miles from the North West Point of the Midnapore Province.

The Governor General-Since the Objections which were made to the Propositions introduced by me on the 16th of last Month, among which Objections I recollect that Mr. Francis, after having on another Occasion entered on our Proceedings as Authority, the Extract of an anonymous Letter, formally denied the Authority of a Letter addressed by the commanding Officer of the Bombay Detachment, to the First and executive Member of this Government; and even protested in Substance, if not in Terms, against the Correspondence carried on between them; in which Opinions he was seconded by Mr. Wheler; I have expected Opposition to every Measure proposed, for the Safety and Success of the Detachment, as a Point of Course and the Effects of System, and have discontinued the Practice of answering all the Arguments which have been occasionally applied to this Subject; and indeed I have been discouraged from affording the Board in their collective Character, those Lights which upon many Points were necessary for their Information; especially as the Correspondence with Colonel Goddard has been frequently interrupted, and many of his public Letters & believe lost: I shall henceforth hold it unnecessary to swell our Proceedings with ulciels Discussions, and shall confine myself to the simple Recital of Facts, and to such Comments on them only, as shall be necessary to the Information of our Superiors. I have thought it proper to introduce this Declaration in this Place, that my Silence in Matters of mere Controversy were not to be imputed to a wrong Cause. On the present Occasion, it is necessary to mention simply as a Fact, that the Loss of Men sustained by the Detachment from its first Marching, bears no Degree of Proportion to the Reinforcement I have proposed, and has in Effect been inconsiderable. But whether On hundred, or Sixteen hundred Men, are wanted to recruit it, it is equally necessary that a Force oree be fent capable of protecting itself in the Way, independently of the other Reasons which have induced me to propose, that I wo Battalions be employed on this Service.

Mr. Francis—I have never objected to the Governor General's laying any Papers he thought proper before the Board; but I do object to our receiving private Letters to him as Authority to this Government. If there be any Reason why the Correspondence of the Oslicers commanding the Detachment should not be addressed directly to the Board, I am unacquainted with it. The Fact alluded to by the Governor General, is not accurately stated. I did never propose an Extract of a private Letter as Authority to the Board, or to be the Ground of any Act of theirs. It appears by the Proceedings, that I repeatedly asked if there were any Returns of the State of Colonel Lesse's Army, or of the Casualties, which had happened on the First Day's March from Calpee. Finding there were none, I gave the Board that private Information, which was in my Possession. I still believe it was true, at least in the material Part. There were at that Time many private Letters in Calcutta to the same Essect. On the Remainder of the Governor General's land Minute, I willingly submit myself to the Judgment of the Court of Directors. Debate in this Place is tifeless.

Governor General—I appeal to the Minutes delivered in the Confultation of the 22d June, and to the Conviction which every Man must feel in his own Breast, that a Paper of that Nature, which contained Information of Facts alone, so solemnly given by a Member of the Government, must have been intended for Authority, or ought not to have been given at all. The following Words extracted from Mr. Francis's Minute evidently mark it to have been intended for Authority. What Mr. Francis deemed worthy of his Credit, and especially deserving the Consideration of the Board, must certainly have been understood to possess that Quality. "As I find there are no public Letters before the Board, to inform us of the particular Circumstances that attended Colonel Leslie's March on the First Day from Calpee, I beg Leave to lay before the Board an Extract of a private Letter from Camp, to which I give Credit, and which I think deserves our Consideration; I understand there are many private Letters in Town, which give the same Accounts."

Mr. Francis—I stated the Letter to be a private one, and desire that Reference may be had to the Whole of that Day's Proceedings. Whatever Credit I myself might have given to it, I can easily shew that the Governor General did not receive it as Authority; his Words are, "I believe that the Troops must have suffered from the Heat and Want of Water on the Road; I did in essent forced it in a Minute distated at this Board; but I believe that the anonymous Extract produced by Mr. Francis, is a gross Exaggregation, and calculated more to consultate the Exaggregation to whom it was is a gross Exaggeration, and calculated more to conciliate the Favour of the Person to whom it was " probably addressed, than to convey a strict Relation of the Truth."

Governor General—I certainly did not, nor did this affect my Argument; I speak of Authority given, not admitted. I propose that a Letter be immediately written to Colonel Goddard, to inform him of these Resolutions, and that as much as be necessary be published in General Orders.

Agreed to.

The following Letter is accordingly written to Colonel Goddard:

To Colonel Goddard, commanding the Detachment from 1st Brigade.

Sir

Deeming it expedient that a Reinforcement of Troops should be sent to supply the Losses which you may have sustained in the Detachment under your Command, by Deaths and Desertion, and to keep up its effective Strength to the original Establishment, we have ordered the 13th and 14th Battalions of Sepoys to march immediately, under the Command of Major Camac, to the Western Frontier of the Company's Provinces without their Artillery, and directed him to halt there, and to wait your Instructions, either to form a Junction with your Detachment, or to preserve the Communication with these Provinces, as you shall judge most conducive to the Purposes of the Expedition; and we desire that you will correspond with him, and transmit to him such Orders and Information, from Time to Time, as the Good of the Service may require.

The following Instructions were given to Major Camac on the 14th Instant, in Conformity to the Resolutions of the Board:

Sir.

Having appointed you to the chief Command of the Detachment which has been lately formed at the Presidency, and ordered to march to the Western Frontier of Bengal, we direct that you take Charge of the same, and proceed, agreeably to our general Orders, with the Troops which form this Rep. VI.

Detachment. We have directed the Chief and Council at Burdwan to cause 150 Draft and Carriage Bullocks to be pressed, and held in Readiness to march with you from that Place, as the Contractor will not be able to supply you in proper Time; you will therefore notify your Approach to them, and fix a Place for the Delivery of the Bullocks, which they may in consequence provide for the Section of the Detachment.

We also direct that you hold a constant Correspondence and Communication with Colonel Goddard, or the Officer in Command of the Detachment from the 1st Brigade. By the last Advices from the Colonel, dated in December, he was at Hussingabad, on the South Side the Nerbudda, on the Borders of Berar.

As our Intention in making the prefent Detachment is to reinforce the Troops commanded by Co. lonel Goddard, you will obey such Orders as you may receive from him; he will instruct you either to join your Force to his, or to remain at such Station as may be thought most conveniently situated for preferving his Communication and Intercourse with these Provinces.

You will advise us from Time to Time of your Proceedings, and correspond with us until you shall have formed a Junction with Colonel Goddard, from which Period you will consider yourself folely under his Orders.

To Beneram Pundit; written the 30th December.

I Yesterday addressed Letters to the Maha Rajah and his Dewan Dewagur Pundit, expressive of the Concern I selt at the Doubts he appeared to entertain, by his Letter to Colonel Goddard (Copy of which I have seen) and should have written you at the same Time, but was prevented for want of Leisure. As the Maha Rajah long since must have been acquainted with the Powers given to Colonel Goddard to negociate and conclude all Points with him, all his Doubts must have ceased; and on your Prudence and approved Attachment to both States, I greatly depend to make such Representations to your Master as may induce him to join heartily in the Prosecution of a Plan calculated principally for his Benefit, and in which we have both proceeded too far to recede, which would not only bring Discredit on me, but would likewise be the Cause of the greatest Injury to his Assairs, and might end in his Ruin; for he may be assured, that the Part he has already taken, and the Inclination he has shewn, will never be forgotten or forgiven, and that his retracting would be imputed to want of Resolution, and consequently embolden those whom he has offended to revenge it whenever an Opportunity offers; whereas by a steady Perseverance in the Measures proposed, he will increase the Power and Credit of his State, and by his intimate Union with the Government, will be effectually secured against the Attempts of all his Enemies.

From the Knowledge I have of the Rajah's Penetration, Firmness, and Magnanimity, I have no Doubt but these Arguments will be sufficient to induce him heartily to join in my Measures; and my ou I trust to give them the Weight they deserve.

To obviate every possible Inconvenience apprehended by the Maha Rajah in the Profecution of the March of our Joint Forces, by Reason of the Delay which has arisen, I have thought proper to provide a Reinforcement of Two Battalions for the Detachment, which will begin their March under the Command of Major Camac, a steady and brave Officer, on the 15th of Zehidja, and take their Route through Ramgur and Chittah Naigpore to our Western Frontiers, where they will wait your Orders from the Maha Rajah, and will either proceed and join Colonel Goddard, or remain there, as he shall direct; as I am determined to do nothing in their Service without his Concurrence.

For further Particulars I refer you to your Brother's Letters, which will accompany this. Knowing your Master's Interest and Honour inseparably connected with ours, you will use your utmost Endeavours to give a prosperous Issue to the Design in Hand. The News of the Maha Rajah's Indisposition has filled me with inexpressible Concern, and my Anxiety to hear of his Recovery is not to be described. May God speedily restore to him persect Health! This is my constant Wish and Prayer.

At a Council; PRESENT.

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Edward Wheler,

READ the following Letters from Lieutenant Colonel Goddard:

Gentlemen,

I had the Honour of addressing you the 19th Instant from Hierapore, and informed you of my lopes to meet with no Interruption on my March through Ballajee's Territories, upon the Confines f which I was then arrived. In confequence of a particular Request he made me to avoid Sagur, he Capital of his Country, on account of the Lois he must sustain by the Approach of an Army nere, I gave my Confent, and received from him the strongest Assurances of Friendship, and every eceffary Affiltance on my Route. Determined to lofe no Time in protracted Negociations, which I new must be the Cale if I waited to settle any Terms with him, I so far consided in the Professions e made, as to move forward on the Road he had pointed out; however, I was too well acquainted ith his perfidious and treacherous Character to neglect guarding myself effectually against any Atimpts he might be tempted to make upon the Baggage of the Army. The Event justified the Preaution I had used; for on my March Yesterday to this Place, when I was leaving the Confines of his ountry, his whole Army, to the Amount of about 5000 Horse, appeared on my Rear, and made speated Attacks upon the Bagoage and Followers, in which however they were completely difapointed and baffled. It is furely unnecessary to make any particular Remarks upon this Conduct of alajee's, which equally serves to display his Insolence and Treachery. After observing the greatest aution and Order in marching through his Country, preferving from Violation the Villages and Inabitants, who did not even quit their Habitations on my Approach; and above all, after the I reaty ntered into by his Brother Gungader at Calpee, which ought to have been binding on him, and the onfequent Restoration of that Fortress, as well as his own repeated Professions of Friendship made mystelf, the impotent Attack he made to plunder the Followers, whom he hoped to have found unuarded and defenceless, is an Instance of villainous Cowardice, which furely deserves the severest hastilement. As I deem it of the utmost Importance to cross the Nerbudda with all possible Exedition, I must forego the Satisfaction I should feel in inslicting Punishment on him at present, by arching to Sagur, as it is 20 Cols in the Rear, and in its Confequences might detain me a whole Ionth: I shall not therefore, unless attacked by his People, proceed to further Hostilities, against m. I am now arrived on the Confines of the Billah Diffrict, a Territory belonging to Madhadjee cindier, whose Aumil has sent a Vackeel in, with Proposals of Amity and every friendly Assistance om his Master; so that I hope to have an unmolested March through his Country. I beg to acnaint you, that some of the Bills which were drawn upon the Revenue Council at Mooishedabad ive been returned, as they fay they have not received your Orders to discharge them.

Camp near Convey, on the Banks of the Betwar River, 5th November 1778.

Gentlemen,

I have the Honour to acknowledge the Receipt of your Letter of the 15th ultimo, invefting me ith the Command and Direction of the Expedition ordered to Bombay, and requiring the Return Colonel Leslie to the Provinces, with the First Regiment of Cavalry. The Demile of Colonel estie at Raje Ghur, which has long since been communicated to you, render unnecessary any Reply what immediately relates to him; and, as far as my own Feelings are affected by the particular larks of Favour you have shewn me, I can only assure you, that the grateful Sense I must ever entain of them will call forth my utmost Exertion in executing with Fidelity the Trust you had rested in my Zeal and Attention, and proving myself worthy of the honourable Distinction which you we conferred upon me. I beg to inform you, that I have detained the First Regiment of Cavalry, needing it would be exposed to considerable Danger in passing through the intermediate Countries on this Place to the Provinces; as the unserviceable Condition it is at present in, while it adds litto the Strength of the Detachment by continuing with me, would however render its Return infacticable, if sent back alone, especially as the Troops are now far advance I on their Roure. In y last Letter from Kowry, I informed you of the Treachery practiced by Ballice, and of my Arrival on the Confines of the Billah Cerritory: In consequence of an Agreement received from the Confines of the latter, I have passed also through his Country; and have the Pleasure to acquaint you warry Arrival at Bhopal, about 18 Coss from the Gaut of Hussengabad, at which Place I hope to crethe Nerbudda in a few Days. The Troops of Balajee, joined since by those of the Bilsah Chand by others in the Interest of the present Administration at Poona, amounting in all to ab 10,000, continue in my Rear, and endeavour to harrass me by Attempts to cut off the straggle Baggage and Supplies of Provisions. They have not succeeded in their Endeavours to distress hitherto; and the Inconvenience they mean to give, has no other Effect than to make me move we greater Caution and Security.

Camp near Bhopal, 20th November 1778. Tho Goddard

Gentlemen,

I have the Honour to acknowledge the Receipt of your Letter of the 19th October; and of the Minutes of Council transmitted by your Secretary, appointing me to the Rank of Brevet Coloni during the present Expedition; for which distinguishing Mark of your Favour I beg to offer my fin cere Thanks, and the Assurances of exerting every Endeavour to prove myself deserving of it. I wrote you the 20th Instant, informing you of my Arrival at Bhopal, where I have been detained for some Days in providing a plentiful Supply of Grain for the Detachment to the Nerbudda, as the Route to that River lies through a Country full of Jungles, and almost totally uncultivated; besides that the Approach of our Army, and the Fear of being plundered by the Marattas in our Rear, has induced most of the Inhabitants to move off to some Distance for the Security of their Essects, I have found it necessary, particularly circumstanced as I was upon my Arrival here, to enter into at Agreement with the Nawab of Bhopal, who has engaged to supply me with a sufficient Quantity of Provisions, and to furnish Boats at Hussungabad for the Passage of the Troops across the Nerbul. These friendly Inclinations towards us have drawn upon him the Resentment of Balage and his Confederates; who have burnt and destroyed great Part of his Country on the Way to this Place, and still threaten him with the Vengeance of the Poona Administration for thus acting a Contradiction to the Peshwa's Orders, of preventing if possible our March across the Nerbudda. 1 have therefore at his earnest Solicitation, and on Account of the Difficulties he may hereafter be ex poled to, from the amicable Conduct he has adopted respecting us, promised to recommend him a the strongest Terms to the Favour and Protection of the English Administration; in doing which have been careful not to involve your Government in any Engagements which you might have Caul to disapprove of, or which might interfere with the more important Objects of your political Inten tions, but have left entirely to your own free Choice the Measures you may deem it proper and eligible to pursue in consequence of my Representation made to you. I beg to acquaint you that I propole marching from this Place To-morrow, and profecuting my Route to the Nerbudda.

Camp near Bhopâl, November 25th, 1778. I have, &cc. &c.

Tho' Goddard.

Gentlemen.

Since the Letter I had the Honour to address you of the 25th November, I have left Bhopâl, and am arrived on the Banks of the Nerbudda, at the Gaut of Hussungabad.

The Route to this Place has been through a mountainous and rough Country, where the Troops have exerted themselves with the greatest Cheerfulness and Alacrity, in removing the Stones and large Trees which in many Places had blocked up the Road, and rendered it impassable for Cariages and Artillery, without the greatest Labour and Difficulty. It is with particular Pleasure I can recommend to you the Attention of the Officers, and Perleverance of the Men on this Occasion, who performed in Four Days, under all the Difficulties I have mentioned, a March of at least 46 Miles. From the Disposition and Eagerness they have now displayed, I am led to form the most favourable Prospect of their future Conduct, and cannot but flatter myself with the Hopes that it will be such as to merit your Approbation. The Nawab of Bhopâl has literally and faithfully adhered to the Engagements he entered into of supplying the Army with Provisions through his Country, and fur-The Nawab of Bhopal has literally and faithfully adhered to the nishing Boats for crossing the Nerbudda at Hussungabad, which is dependant upon his Authority. He also prevented the Troops of Balagee from following my Route, which they repeatedly proposed to do; and declared he would repel them by Force if they profecuted further War within his Territories. In short, he has acted with such Sincerity and Regard to his Engagements made to me on this Occasion, that I am induced to represent to you my entire Satisfaction with his Conduct; and the useful Assistance he has afforded at a Time when the being compelled to Hostilities must have detained the Detachment confiderably, and perhaps in the End have proved a material Injury to the Service on which it was fent: While I thus do Justice to his Sincerity and Friendship, let me also contrast with it the treacherous and ill-advised Behaviour of Balajee, who, notwithstanding the moderate and conciliating Measures I adopted towards him, and the Pains I took to preserve his Country from Violence, attempted all in his Power to impede his March. I am informed that he alledges, in Excuse for his Conduct, the Orders of the present Peshwa. This he never communicated to me himself by Letter, or through his Vackeel; but I have no Doubt of Indiructions having been sent him, as well as the other Chiefs on the North of the Nerbudda, by the Administration at Poona, to join in preventing the English from crossing that River; and I know he threatened the Nawab of Bhopâl with the Vengeance of the Peshwa, in case he would not unite his Forces to oppose our March. I beg Leave further to acquaint you, that the Proops have this Day began to pass the River; and I hope in Three Days to have the Detachment compleatly crossed. The Berar Territories con mence about 7 Coss from the Nerbudda, on the Consines of which a consideratial Person from the Court of Naigpore is waiting the Arrival of the Troops, whose Presence I expect in a few Days in my Camp.

Camp at Huffungabad Gaut, on the Nerbudda, December 1, 1778.

I have, &c. &c.
Tho Goddard:

Gentlemen.

I had the Honour to address you the 1st instant, informing you of my Arrival at the Nerbudda, which River the whole Detachment completely crossed the following Day: The Cause of this Dispatch was owing to the Discovery of a Ford, at a small Distance below the Gaut, by which the Artillery, Carriages, &c. and Remainder of the Army pasted over, Two Battalions only having crosted the Evening of the 1st Instant. I shall remain encamped upon the South Side some Days; and this Delay, while it is necessary to determine the political Measures proper to be pursued, equally suits the Convenience of the Troops; for, owing to the bad Roads over which they have marched, more particularly fince leaving Bhopal, all the Artillery and Gun Carriages are much shattered and in want of Repair, belides the Healthiness of this Spot, upon the high and open Bank of a clear plentiful Stream of Water, conveniently fituated for a Supply of Provisions from the Town of Hustungabad, and from the Neighbourhood of the Berar Territories, will in all Likelihood greatly recover the remaining Sick of the Detachment, which upon the March from Rage Ghur amounted to a Thousand Men, and at this Time are reduced to about Fourh undred. Lala Jadou Roy, the confidential Person sent to meet the Army, on the Part of Moodajee, has waited on me fince crolling the Nerbudda, and has expressed himself in Terms the most friendly and favourable to the English Interest, which he says his Master is disposed to promote to the utmost of his Power. As my Arrival at this Place was sooner than had been foreseen or expected, I shall halt some Days till the particular Dispatches can arrive from the Berar Court, by which my future Plan of Operations shall be directed, which I shall not fail to communicate to you. I think it necessary to inform you, that I have not been favoured with a Letter from the Select Committee at Bombay of a later Date than the 21st July, which contained no particular Intelligence whatever. I have me neglected to acquaint them from Time to Time with the Progress of my March, and requested to receive their Instructions and Advice relative to the Route of the Detachment, as well as every Information they could give of the Motion of any Bodies of Troops in that Quarter; I am therefore in Expectation of hearing from them every Day.

Camp on the South Side the Nerbudda, 5th December 1778. I have, &c. &c. (Signed) Tho, Goddard.

Letter from Maodajee Bhofila to the Governor General: Dated the 15th of Zekaida, 5th of December 1778; and received 2d January 1779.

YOUR friendly Letter of the 19th of Ramzaun, (11th of October) informing me of your having received Advice of the Death of Mr. Elliott in his Way to Naigpore; your Concern at that Event, and at the unavoidable Suspension of the Negociations which that Gentleman was to have con-Rep. VI.

ducted with me on the Part of your Government; and the Delay in the Establishment of a strift and perpetual Friendship between the Company's States and mine, concerning which you had exerted yourself so warmly, by reason that the present Situation of Assars would not admit of the Delay which must attend the Deputation of another Person from thence, without injuring the Designs in Hand; but that in your Conviction of my favourable Disposition, from the Knowledge that my Interests and the Company's are inseparately connected, and in the Zeal of Beneram Pundit, whom, during the long Period he refided with you, you found to deferving of your Confidence, from hi, fincere Attachment to our common Interests; that you communicated to him your Sentiments and Views in the moll full and explicit Manner, you have a Refource for effecting the important Objects of Mr. Elliott's Mission; that Beneram Pundit would explain to me the Conditions which you should require, and to which you would yield your Acquiescence; and that to him therefore you refer me for fuller Information; and request that I will give him an attentive Hearing, as your View in the Plan proposed, and in what you have written, is to promote our common Advantage, not for the Interest of one Party only, being convinced that no public Alliance or private Friendship can be firmly established without reciprocal Advantages; that it is on these Principles that you have long planned an Alliance with me, the Time for the Accomplishment of which is now come, for you conceive it to be equally for my Interest as for yours, our Countries bordering on each other, and our natural Enemies being the same; that, in a Word, you require nothing but the Junction of my Forces with yours, by which though each is fingly very powerful, they will require a Ten-fold Proportion of Strength: That the Delay in the Progress of the Detachment intended for Bombay had not arisen from the Opposition of an Enemy, but from other Causes improper to mention, but that it will now shortly arrive in my Territories, and its Operations be determined by my Advice; that you have given Directions to Colonel Leslie, the commanding Officer, to co-operate with the Forces which I shall unite with his; that as you offer me the Forces of your Sirkar to promote my View. you in return expect the Assistance of mine to effect your Purposes; with other Particulars which I fully understand, reached me on the 20th of Shawaul (16th November) and afforded me great Pleasure. I also received Duplicate and Triplicate of this Letter; in the latter Part of it you expreis, that as you have fully made me acquainted with your Views, it is necessary that I also com inunicate to you without Reserve the Ends which I look to for my Advantage in this Union; that the good Faith of the English to every Engagement they contract, so long as it is observed by others, is univerfally known, and that it has been the invariable Rule of your Conduct to support this Character in all Acts depending en you, and never to relinquish any Design of Importance formed on good and judicious Grounds, but to perfevere steadily to its Completion: That having thus explained to me your Sentiments and Views, you wait only to know mine, and on the Knowledge of these you shall form your ultimate Resolutions.

It is equally a Maxim of fincere Friendship, of good Government, Steadiness, Magnanimity, and Forefight, that a Plan formed on good and judicious Grounds, should be conducted in such a Manner as to end happily: You defire to learn my Sentiments and Views, and deferring to form your ulumate Resolutions till you heard farther from me, is the same Thing as if you had consulted me primarily on your first Defigns.

Since after the strictest Scrutiny and Researches into the Dispositions and Views of the Multitude, it has been determined, on Proofs of mutual Sincerity and good Faith, that a perpetual Friendthip and Union be established, it will like the Wall of Alexander, for the Happiness of Markind, continue unshaken till the End of Time.

The having caused a Translation to be made into the English of the Hindoo Books, called the Shafter and Poran, and of the Hiftory of the former Kings; the fludying these Books, and keeping the Pictures of former Kings and present Rulers of Hind, Decan, &c. always before your Eyes, and from their lifeless Similitudes to discover which of them were or are worthy of Rule, and possessed of good Faith, from which to determine with whom to contract Engagements, and what Conduct to observe to them respectively; also the Endeavour to preserve the Blessing of Peace, till forced to relinquish it; the supporting every one in his hereditary Right, and revenging the Breach of Faith and Engagements, but on the Submission of the Ossender, the Exercise of the Virtues of Clemency and Generosity, by pardoning and receiving him again to Favour, and restoring him to his Possessions; the not suffering the Intoxication of Power to seduce you into a Breach of Faith; and the giving Support to each illustrious House, in Proportion to its respective Merits, and in Matters which require a long Course of Years to bring to Perfection; the forming your Conduct on mature Deliberation, and the Advice of the Company and Council, are the sure Means of exalting your Greatness and Prosperity to the highest Pitch: The Intention of all this is to recommend universal Peace and Friendship in the Manner following: The Almighty disposes of Kingdoms, and places whomsoever he chuses on the Seats of Power and Rule, but makes their Stability to depend on their peaceable, just, and friendly Conduct to others: It is not every one who is equal to the Talk of Government, on the Plan deligned by the Almighty Ruler, and of infuring his Stability by a wise and just Conduct: Hind and Decan possess at present very sew enlightened, but a great Multitude of weak and ignorant Men; the English Chiefs, and you in a superior Degree, possess all the Virtues above recited; who coming from distant Islands by a Six Months Voyage on the great Ocean, by their Magnanimity and Fortitude, gained the Dominion of many Soubahs on that Continent: It is easy to acquire a Kingdom, but to become a King over Kings and Chief of Chiefs, is a very difficult Matter: The Attainment of this is only to be effected by the Means of Friendship.

A P P E N D I X, N-165.

Including, by which the Universe may be subjected: My Conduct is formed on these Principles. The Presence of Beneram Pundit at Calcutta was solely to effect the Establishment of the most intipate Friendship, and by the Blessing of God it has taken such deep Root, that through your deaps it has reached the Ears of the Company and King of England; and our Connection and sometypondence carried on under the Veil of the Vicinity of our Dominions, has been discovered by the Poona Ministers and the Nabob Nizam-ul-Dowlah; yet although they form various Conjectures in Doubts, and have sent a trully Vackeel, and written repeated Letters to endeavour to find out to Motives of our Union, yet they remain a Mystery, as I make the Plea of our ancient Ties, and the Junction of our Territories.

I was impatiently expecting the Arrival of Mr. Elliott, who, being endowed with an enlightened Inderstanding, and invested with full Powers from you to conduct the Negociations, and determine in the Measures to be pursued, would have established the Ties of perpetual Friendship, and have attled every Matter on the firmest Basis. It pleased God that he should due on the Journey; and ne Grief I selt on this unfortunate Loss, who would have been the Means of settling all Points between us to our mutual Content, and by his Negociations with me, of giving Satisfaction to the reishwa and the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah, all which have been by his Death thrown back many Months, is not to be described, and could only serve to add to your Assistance. I have not yet recopered the Shock which this Event gave me, as you will learn from Beneram Pundit: There is no Renedy for such Mistortunes; and it is in vain to strive against the Decrees of Providence. Had Mr. Illiott arrived, such Strokes of Policy would have been employed, that the Poona Ministers would have adhered more scrupulously than before to their Engagements; and the French, who are the atural Enemies of the English, would have been their's likewise; and their Suspicions and Appresentions, of Support being given to Ragonaut Row, which never was nor is designed by the English Thiets, as I learn from Beneram, who had it from your Mouth, and which have caused them great Jucasiness, would have been entirely removed by Mr. Elliott's and my joint Security.

The Nabob Nizam-ul Dowlah, who wrote you repeatedly on this Subject, and received for Infwer, that you had no Idea of aiding or fupporting Ragonaut Row; that your Enmity was folely jointed against the French; and that whoever affisted the French were your Enemies, would likewise by these Means have been thoroughly satisfied, and your Detachment would have reached Bombay without meeting with the smallest Interruption; and had the Poona Ministers then acted a contrary Part, should have withdrawn myself from their Friendship: But by the Death of Mr. Elliott all these Deigns must have fallen to the Ground, and must be suspended till another Opportunity, and the knowledge of your Sentiments. It is a Proverb, that what is deliberately done, is well done. In keply to what you write respecting your forming your ultimate Resolutions, I have communicated to seneram Pundit whatever I judge proper and eligible, and which may promote them in such a Mancer as may not be subject to any Change from the Vicissitudes of Fortune. For these Points, which have fixed on after the most mature Deliberation, as the most eligible that can be adopted, I refer ou to the Letters of Beneram Pundit: If notwithstanding you have any Plan to propose for the re-iprocal Benefit of our States, be pleased to communicate it to me.

Postscript.-To your Letter respecting your sending an Army to over-awe the French, and to renforce the Government of Bombay; and letting forth, that the Poona Ministers having broken the Treaty with the English, and in Opposition to the Rights of Friendship, received an Envoy of the rench King, and granted the Port of Choul to that Nation, thereby enabling them to form an Ar-Emal, and collect military Stores, and of their having written to their Officers to permit the French Ships to enter their Ports; all which Instances of Breach of Treaty you learned from the Letters of a Person entrusted by the Poona Government: And that it being therefore incumbent on you to take Measures to counteract their Deligns, you had determined to send a strong Detachment for the Reinforcement of Bombay, by the Route of Berar; and that in Consideration of our ancient Friendship, and the Vicinity of our Dominions, you requested that on its Arrival in my Neighbourhood, I would cause it to be instructed in the Route; and providing it with Provisions and Necessaries, have it conducted in Safety through my Territories, and join a Body of my Forces with it, which would cement and increase our Friendship; and that you have, at the Assurance of Beneram, fixed on this Route for its March, in Preference to any other. In Reply to this Letter, actuated by the Dictates of the fincerest Friendship, I waited not to take the Advice of any one, but without Hesitation wrote to you, that where a fincere Friendship existed, the Passage of Troops through one's Country was a Matter of no Moment: That they should proceed unmolested through my Country. of no Moment: That they should proceed unmolested through my Country. I likewise informed Colonel Leslie of the Difficulties and Dangers he would meet with in the Way, from dangerous Mountains, extensive Rivers, &c. and also dispatched Lalla Jadoo Roy, with a Chief of Note, to the Banks of the Nurbudder, to supply the Detachment with Provisions as long as they were in any Territory, and to treat them with all the Duties of Hospitality; where he waited Six Months, in Expectation of their Arrival, to no Purpole: They loitered away their Time in the Bundlecund Country, contrary to every Rule of Policy. At that Time all the Poona Ministers were separately employed in their own private Affairs, or in the War with Hyder Naig, infomuch that they had no Leisure to turn their Attention to the Concerns of other Parts, and the March to Bombay might have been effected with the greatest Ease: The Time is now past; the Arrow is shot, and cannot be recalled. As I have repeatedly written to the Poona Ministers, with whom I keep up a Correspondence, on the Subject of their encouraging a French Envoy, and breaking their Paith with the English Chees; Acts highly highly inconfistent with Honour and Policy; the Answer I have received from them I have to The Substance of what they say in their own Justification is this: municated to you. French Vackeel came for the Purpose of Traffick, not to negociate; yet, for the Satisfaction of the English, they gave him his Dismission: That the Account of the Grant of the Port of Choul and a Arienal, is without Foundation; and that they have not the least Indisposition towards the English That I will therefore write to Calcutta, that you may be perfectly satisfied respecting their Disposition My Letter did not produce the Effect of fatisfying you on the Subject of the Peishwa, but you Doubts still remained; and, actuated by Wisdom and Prudence, you determined to depute Mr. E. hott to me; and wrote me, that on his Arrival at Naigpore, after he had had an Interview with me and learnt my Sentiments and Views, he would, in conjunction with me, form a Plan for our mun Honour and Benefit, and give Directions to Colonel Leslie in consequence, who would be guald The Event of this Gentleman's Deputation is too well known; and Colonel Leffe like wife, after engaging in Hostilities with the Peishwa's Officers and the Zemindais of those Parts, and collecting large Sums of Money, died also. Colonel Goddard succeeded to the Command, and page fued the same Line of Conduct with respect to the Talookdars, as his Predecessor; and arriving a Gorawaie and Gorosur, in the Territory of the Afghans, whither he was obliged to march with the utmost Caution, being surrounded with a Maratta Army, who constantly seized every Opportunity is attack him, wrote me from thence, that he should shortly reach the Nurbudder, where I would to plealed to cause Grain, &c. necessary, to be prepared, and a Party of my Forces to be ready to join han I wrote them in answer, that Lalla Jadoo Roy and Shao Balo Hazaree were waiting on this Side the Nurbudder, which is within my Territories; and that the Gaut where the Troops should cross was I wo Cois from thence, under Hoshungabad: That Sanojee Bhossilia forded it at that Place with his Army, a his Expedition to Malwa; and that I did not doubt it was now fordable: That he would therefore crid, his Army there, and repair to Hoshungabad; and that Lalla Jadoo Roy would exert his utmost Ass. duity in supporting them with Grain and other Provisions, and treat them with every Degree of Hog pitality: But that, as the Road forwards was very difficult and dangerous, and Thousands of the Bai Cast were conceased in the Holds in the Mountains; who, though not able to oppose him openly, je would do it by Ambuscades and Stratagems, and would cut off his Supplies of Provisions; and ce yond that he would enter the Soubah of Berhampore, dependant on the Peishwa; and near Few thousand of Sindeah's Cavalry were waiting at the Fort of Assert the Arrival of the English on the Banks of the Ganges; Ten thousand more, under the Command of Baugrut Sindeah and Sindeah himself, with other Chiefs, in Readiness at Poona, waiting to hear the Approach of the English; and moreover in Berar, in which the Nabob Nizam ul Dowlah possesses a Share with me, all the Jagher dars, to wit, Hushmud Jung Behadre, Sellabut Khan Behadre, and Balool Khan Behadre, the Sons of Ishmail Khan, deceased, as also Bullund Khan Mye, Bharam Jung; and in Newmull, Zuffer ul Doalah, Mobarez ul Mulk Bahadre, were in Readiness with powerful Armies; and although the English possessed the greatest Magnanimity in Battle, yet as every Step they took would be into the Moud of Danger, and all the above-mentioned Chiefs would let themselves to cut off and destroy his Provifions, and take every Opportunity of attacking him where they faw an Advantage, and of harraffing him Night and Day; constantly surrounding his Army with their numerous Forces, the Junction of Body of my Forces with his would avail nothing in the Face of such large Armies, but would only involve me in the greatest Losses: That neither was it advisable for him to return, which would deminish the Awe and Respect in which he was held: That I would therefore write the full Particulars, in the most explicit Manner, to Calcutta; and that whatever you should think proper to intimate t him and me in Reply, it would be advisable to abide by, and act accordingly; till which Time! would recommend that he continued at Hoshangabad: That I had received Letters from Calcutt, filled with the warmest Assurances of Friendship and Confidence, to the following Purport, That the Detachment would come into my Neighbourhood, and be guided in its Operations by my Advice; that it is incumbent on every Chief, who enjoys the Confidence of another, to give fuch Advice as may be most advantageous to the Party reposing Trust in him, and most consistent with the Fasther Engagements; and with fuch Conduct the Almighty is well pleased: That I had also written to the Poona Ministers my Advice on the Situation of Affairs, to this Purport, That Mr. Elliott was deputed hither to negociate with me, but dying in the Journey, all the Negociations entrufted to him were tuspended; that had he arrived at Naigpore, I had determined, from Principles of Attachment, to have removed from the Minds of the English the Doubts and Apprehensions which had arisen by reason of the supposed Encouragement of the French Envoy at Poona, and the Agreement to suppose that Nation, the inveterate Enemies of the English, which had given Rife to the Quarrel between the Two States; by proving to them, under the Sanction of folemn Oaths, and becoming myself Guirantee, that those Reports were groundless, and that the Poona Ministers were zealous and steady !! their Engagements with the English, and on several Accounts highly obliged to them; and I would also have taken from Mr. Elliott Engagements that the English had no Idea of affording Support to Ragonaut Row, but were resolved to maintain their Treaty inviolate, and that their Apprehensions related to the French; and that when I gave the English Satisfaction respecting the French, and became Guarantee, all his Doubts were removed: That if it were requisite, a fresh Engagement should be executed, and that he would be Guarantee to it: That in brief, each Party entertained a reasonable Doubt, the English that the Poona Ministers would join with the French, and the Poona Ministers that the English would support Ragonaut Row: That when these Suspicions no longer remained, all Causes of Displeasure must of course cease; and that they could then have had no Ob-

tion to the Detachment of English Forces, sent for the Reinforcement of Bombay, and to over-awe he French, not for the Support of Ragonaut Row, repairing thither; and to oppose them would in uch Case have been highly improper, as Mr. Elliott and myself would have been Guarantees to the Ingagement: That as these important Objects have failed, in consequence of the unfortunate Lois f Mr. Elliott, and depended on Advices from Calcutta; and that the Purport of all the Letters I lave received from thence, and of the Assurances of Beneram, was, that the Detachment of English forces was folely deflined for the Reinforcement of Bombay, in confequence of Apprehensions of offile Defigns on the Part of the French, without the smallest Defign to support Ragonaut Row; that was therefore advisable in them not to give any Interruption to the March of the Detachment, but o fuffer it to march peaceably to Bombay; that the Event must at any Rate by these Means be put ff to a distant Period: That the above was the Purport of my Letters to Poona, and those of Baboo low, who is not merely a Vackeel, but one of the Chiefs of Poona: That we must wait to see what Infwer they would give, by which Time Letters would likewife arrive from Calcutti: That it was herefore advisable that he should remain at Hoshengabad, preserving the strictest Watch and Vigiince, as Balajee and Byfajee were lying in wait for a favourable Opportunity; and that he should be arnished with Provisions from hence to the utmost possible.

I have written thus to Colonel Goddard, but have not yet received his Answer; and, induced by ne sincerest Friendship, I have given you this explicit Information. Inform me of your Sentiments, nd of the Measures which your enlightened Understanding points out to you, that Colonel Goddard may regulate himself thereby.

Postscript,-Baboo Row, the Peishwa's Vackeel, has observed to me in the Course of Conversaon, that his Mafter has not the flightest Idea of failing in his Engagements with the English, or of ontracting any Friendship with the French; but that the Treaty forbids the March of English orces through the Peishwa's Dominions, and that the Approach of the Detachment now on its darch is an Instringement of the Treaty. Mr. James Anderson, is frequently acquainted with all the Matters; nothing is concealed from him. Ramkaund, Mr. Elliott's Pasheur, has also written rearding them, from which you will receive complete Information.

Pollteript,—Although it may be improper to repeat the same Thing over again, yet the Importance of the Subject may plead in my Excuse: On either Part a Doubt subsists. The Poona Miifters suspect that the English Forces on their March to Bombay, though oftensibly for the Purofe of opposing the French, are inReality intended for the Support of Ragonaut Row; and that he English at Bombay, who were not included in the Treaty with the Peishwa, which was con-luded through the Governor of Madras with the Advice of the Chief of Calcutta, are defirous of reaking with the Peishwa, and of supporting Ragonaut Row; and that the Detachment on its sarch has been sent at their Requisition. They alledge, that the Chief of Calcutta writes to them hat he is firmly resolved to adhere to the Treaty with the Peishwa, and that the Detachment he has ent to Bombay is folely to awe the French, without the least Defign to affift Ragonaut Row; and hat fince it is forbidden in the Treaty to dispatch Troops over Land, the March of the Troops is Breach of it: That if it is necessary to send Troops to Bombay to awe the French, they ought to e fent by Sea.

The English on their Part suspect the Poona Ministers of joining the French, in consequence of heir having recrived a Vackeel. As the Peishwa formerly wrote me that he had no Idea of failing his Engagements with the English; and that he had given no Encouragement to the French rackeel, who came for the Purposes of Traffic; and that he had dismissed him, and therefore reuested that I would satisfy you respecting him; I in consequence formerly wrote all these Particuirs to you. As I have a Voucher in my Hands from the Peishwa, that he has no Connection with ne French, and is steady to his Engagements with the English, I am able by this Voucher to give ou complete Satisfaction on this Head; but I have no Voucher nor Intimation from you by which may be enabled to give Satisfaction to him.

As he pleads a Prohibition in the Treaty to the March of Forces over Land, and likewise complains specting the Money that Colonel Lessie collected in his Territories, what Answer can be made iereto?

As the Times require that a Conciliation take place with the Poona Ministers, you will confider nd determine what Reply shall be given to these Two Points of which they complain, and by what leans they may be fatisfied; and communicate your Resolution to me, that I may write conformably iereto, and remove all Doubts.

Your friendly Letter, under Date the 19th of Ramzaun (11th of October 1778) intimating your having, on the News of Mr. Elliott's Death, entrufted the Representation of the Points of Negociation committed to the Charge of that Gentleman, to Beneram Pundit; your having delayed to form your ultimate Resolutions till you receive further Advices from hence; your having appointed Colonel Goddard to take the Command of the Army in the room of Colonel Leslie, who is to be confidered as fully empowered in every Point of Negociation; your Defire that your Army may be (O 0) accompanied to Bombay by a Body of the Forces of this Government; and in Conclusion intimating that Colonel Goddard will shortly arrive in this Neighbourhood, and regulate his suture Operation for the common Interest, by the Advice and Concurrence of the Maha Rajah, for which Purpose you have written the necessary Instructions to the Colonel, who will conduct himself accordingly, reached me on the 26th of Shawal, (16th November) followed by Duplicate and Triplicate, and accompanied by Three Karetahs for the Maha Rajah, my Master, and inspired me with the utmost Pleasure. From this Letter I become fully acquainted with your Sentiments and Views, and of your unchangeable Friendship to the Maha Rajah; and likewise understand what Bissembur Pundit wrote at your Defire to his Brother Beneram Pundit.

By the Death of Mr. Elliott, who would have been the Means of fettling many Points of the utmost Importance, all Matters were thrown into Suspence, and became dependant on further Advices from Calcutta: The Repetition of the Grief felt by the Maha Rajah and myself at this unfortunate Event, could serve no other Purpose than to renew your Affliction: There is no Remedy against the Decrees of Providence: The Objects which would have been effected by Mr. Elliott's Magnanimity are now thrown back many Months, but by the Bleffing of God, will take Effect at a tavourable Opportunity, and your Views and Designs be fully accomplished; I am employed Day and Night in Measures for the Augmentation and perpetual Duration of Friendship be. tween your illustrious States: The Maha Rajah has very fully written you on the State of Affairs, the Measures which the Times require, and the Means for the uninterrupted Passage of the Forces destined for Bombay; and of his having written in the most effectual Terms to the Poona Ministers on this Subject; and that in these Letters he has solely attended to the Dictates of that warm Friendship which he feels for you, difregarding every other Consideration; as also of his having unreservedly communicated to Colonel Goddard his Sentiments and Advice on the Conduct to be pursued; from that Letter, you will have complete Information, for it contains the Dictates of the Heart, and every Sentiment of it proceeds from the truest Friendship, the clearest Behaviour, and foundest Policy, and will doubtless meet with your Approval, and produce a Reply to the Maha Rajah and Colonel Goddard, with such Instructions as your Judgement shall point out to you as best adapted to the Situation of the Times: Colonel Goddard has been written to, to continue at Hoshengabad, which is within the Dominions of this State, till such Time as Advices are received from you, because it is by no Means advisable to proceed forwards into the Territory of the Peishwa; where no Progress can be made without fighting, and all the Chiefs with numerous Forces are waiting the Approach of the English Army, and taking Measures to stop their receiving Supplies of Provisions, to seize on all the Passes and Ghauts, and difficult Roads, but no Answer has been yet received from Colonel Goddard: We must wait to see whether he will consent to remain at Hoshengabad, or determine to proceed forward, but it is certainly most advisable that he should continue there, which is in the Territory of this State, till he hears further from you: He will be supplied with Provisions from hence to the utmost possible.

Byfajce and Balajee Pundit, Talookdars of the Peishwa, who constantly encompass the Army and harrais it by daily Skirmishes, and have plundered some of the Baggage, have been written to, that such Conduct is highly improper, as the Detachment is intended for the Reinforcement of Bombay, and to awe the French, not for the Support of Ragonaut Row; that the Poona Miniters will not approve of their Conduct, and that they will shortly receive Letters from Poona: I have no Doubt but they will pay Attention to what has been written to them, and suspend their Hostilities.

Whenever the Army begins its March from Hoshengabad, the Marattas will instantly set themselves in Opposition, but by remaining in this City which is in the Dominion of the Maha Rajah, they will be in a State of perfect Security: Their Artillery and the Guards which they will station around them, will prevent their receiving any Injury: In the mean Time, Replies will be received from Poona, and Intelligence of their Force, and of the Defigns of Sindeah and Holcar will be learnt; in consequence of which, a proper Plan may be formed for the March of the Army: Set your Mind at rest, that the Colonel will experience no Instance of the slightest Failure or Inattention from this Quarter, but every Thing shall be done, and his Honour shall be considered in the same Light as our own, and his Desires paid equal Attention to as our own: Beneram Pundit has received Instructions to reply to the important Points represented by him at your Desire: From his Letters you will have full Information.

Mr. James Anderson, Captain Campbell, and Ramkund, Mr. Elliott's Peishcur, are arrived here; agreeable to your Desire all Matters are communicated to these Gentlemen, and in consequence of your Recommendation, they have been received here with every Degree of Honour and Attention: They have likewise, at our Desire, written what was judged proper to Colonel Goddard.

Having made themselves acquainted with every Matter, and of the Maha Rajah's Candour and warm Friendship towards you, they have written your Excellency on the Subject, to which Letters I beg Leave to refer you for full Information on these Points: I impatiently wait your Reply.

ENDIX,

From Beneram Pundit; received 2d January 1779.

I have been honoured with your Three gracious Letters, intimating your having received Accounts of the Death of Mr. Elliott in his Way to Naigpore; your Grief on that Event; your not appointing another Person in his Room; your Resource for remedying the Delay which had arisen in the Objects of that Gentleman's Mission; and your appointing me to the Trust of representing your Sentiments and Views to the Maha Rajah my Master, and Dewan Dewagur Pundit, and communicating to your Highlies their Sentiments in consequence: The Receipt of these Letters afforded me the greatest Pleasure.

I have made a full Representation to my Master and the Dewan, of whatever I had formerly learnt from you, and of all the Particulars contained in my Brother's Letters written at your Defire: The Maha Rajah's Reply thereto was as follows: Where a fincere and intimate Friendship sublists, a free and unreserved Communication of all Matters, is the most certain Means of augmenting and carrying it to the highest Pitch; that in a Word, by the Delay of Colonel Leslie for a Term of Six Months in the Bundlecund Country, a Measure highly impolitic, the Opportunity was lost; that the Poona Ministers had been all engaged in their respective Affairs, and had no Leisure to pay Attention to the Concerns of any other Part, by which Means the Detachment might have proceeded to Bombay with the utmost Facility, and without the smallest Opposition: That immediately on the Receipt of your Highness's Letter, he had sent Lalla Jadoo Roy to wait at the Nurbudder, and on the Arrival of the Detachment within his Territories, to use every Means to supply them with Provisions, and to afford them every Kind of Affistance. That he remained there Six Months improfitably, and that Affairs then took a different Afpect, for the Poona Ministers, apprehensive of Support being given to Ragonaut Row, which never was nor never will be thought of by your Highnels, collected together Armies, and stationed them in different Parts: That for the Purpose of removing their Suspicions, he had written to them with Assurances, that the English Detachment were repairing to Bombay, with the sole Design of reinforcing that Government, and awing the French, the natural Enemies of the English, and had no other Design in View; that they should be perfectly fatisfied on this Account, and not give Way to Sufpicions, which were unworthy of Credit.

There is great Reason to believe that these Letters will produce the desired Effect, and that satisfactory Answers will be returned. The Maha Rajah and Dewan Dewagur Pundit have written you very voluminously on this Subject; the Letter of the former consisting of Six Sheets of Paper, from which you will have complete Information.

Colonel Goddard, after the Death of Colonel Leslie, marched from Chattapore, and with unparalleled Bravery, exceeding all Description, has, by daily Marches, in full of every possible Oppolition from the Talookdars of those Parts, to wit, Bylajee, Bylajee, and others, who have thrown every Obstruction in his Way, forced his Passage to Bopaul: The Maha Rajah and Dewan Dewagur Pundit have written to Bysajee, and other Talookdars, to relinquish so improper and unjustisiable a Conduct, in which, if they persist, the Event will prove fatal to them.

The Detachment will foon arrive on the Banks of the Nurbudder, this Side of which River is in my Master's Territories. Lalla Jadoo Roy and Shas Sing Hazzaree are at Hoshengabad, on the Bank of the River, and will employ their utmost Endeavours to supply the Detachment with Provisions, &c. and Orders have been iffued to bring Provisions to the Army from every Quarter. As soon as they arrive within the Maha Rajah's Territories they will be secure from all Opposition; but as the Route forward is very difficult, and the Hills are very steep and dangerous, and by the Direction of the Poona Ministers Multitudes of Bahlas and others are stationed in different Parts, to oppose the Progress of the Army, it has therefore been judged advisable, and has been recommended to Colonel Goddard, that as the most intimate Connection subsists between the Two States, he will for the prefent encamp on the Bank of the Nerbudda, and will be guided in his future Motions by the Situation of Affairs and the Refult of the common Deliberations; that it will be proper maturely to reflect on the probable Event before the Commencement of any Undertaking; and that it is the Part of Wildom and found Judgment, before any further Steps are taken, to determine by what Means they are to be supported, that no Unsteadiness may hereafter arise: Whatever Measures may be adopted by mutual Consent after the Arrival of the Detachment at the Nurbudder I will communicate to you. For further Particulars I beg Leave to refer you to the Letters of Mr. James Anderson and Bissembur Pundit.

Postscript .- Your gracious Letter, through the Channel of Colonel Goddard, informing me of your having appointed him to the Command of the Detachment, and that not being able to explain yourself on several Points so fully as you could have wished, you have referred him to me for particular Information, has made me happy by its Arrival. As the River Nurbudder is only Eight Days Journey from Naigpore, as foon as the Colonel arrives there I will repair thither, and state every Matter fully to him; and whatever shall be determined on with the Colonel's Advice shall be carried into Execution, and I will give Information thereof to you.

From Modajee Bhosila; received 2d January 1779.

I have had the Pleasure to receive Four Letters from you; Two by the Way of Benares, One by the Route of Cuttack, and another from the Hands of Mr. James Anderson. You write, that since Mr. Elliott is dead, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Campbell will proceed to Naigpore; and that as Mr. Anderson is a Gentleman of Worth, and acquainted with the Persian and Hindostan Languages. he may be of Use in explaining Colonel Goddard's Negociations, and will write to the Colonel whatever he may in conjunction with me deem proper; that he will remain with me at Naigpore, and will with my Concurrence write you all the Occurrences of this Quarter. The aforesaid Gen. tleman, together with Ramkund, Mr. Elliott's Peishcur, arrived here in Safety, and have frequently visited me. Mr. Anderson exceeds your Description in Worth, and in his perfect Knowledge of Astairs; Ramkund is likewise well versed in Affairs, and possessed of Penetration and found Judgment. I have already made, and will make them acquainted with all Correspondence which has passed, or may pass between us; and also with Colonel Goddard, as well as the Advices from Poona and the Nabob Nizam ul Moulk; and I have caused them to transmit you in English and Persian the Particulars of my Letters to you and Colonel Goddard; the Affairs of this Quarter; and the Substance of the Advices from Poona; as well as the Account of Colonel Goddard's Arrival at Bopaul; his being encompassed by the Armies of Bysajee and Balajee, and of his daily Skirmishes with them; and that by the Bleffing of God he will reach the Nurbudder in another Week, and having crossed the River will come to Hoshengabad; and agreeable to my Advice, founded on found Policy, and the Letters which I have defired Mr. Anderson to write to him, will encamp there, where he will be furnished by me with Provisions, and wait for further Advices from Calcutta. ceive fuller Information on all these Points from my Letters under Charge of the first Cossids which arrive here, in which having written at large, it is unnecessary to dwell longer on the Subject in this

I have likewise written Letters to Poona to remove their Suspicions and Apprehensions on the Subject of Ragonaut Row, assuring them that this Detachment was proceeding to Bombay, for the Purpose of awing the French, not for the Support of Ragonaut Row, and giving them Advice touching their Conduct. We shall see what Answer they return; I will communicate it to you as soon as it arrives; in a Word, I have no other Wish or Design than the Preservation and Encrease of Friendship with the English Chiefs, and of keeping on good Terms with the Poona Ministers, which the Situation of the Times renders necessary; that by these Means the Detachment destined for Bombay may reach that Place with Facility, and experience no Hostilities in its Passage. Considing in the Candour and Sincerity which subsists between us, you may implicitly rely on the above Assertions.

From Dewagur Pundit; received 2d January 1779.

I have been honoured with the Receipt of your friendly Letters, written after the Decease of Mr. Elliott, informing me, that Mr. James Anderson, a Gentleman of great Worth and Abilities, and well versed in the Persian and Hindostan Languages, will remain at Naigpore, and explain the Advices received from Colonel Goddard, and will write to the Colonel whatever he may in conjunction with us deem proper, and communicate the same to you; that I will therefore make him acquainted with every Matter, and regard him as a Person worthy of Considence. These Letters gave me great Pleasure, and from your former and late Karetahs, and Letters repeatedly received by the Way of Cuttack and Benares, I am perfectly acquainted with your Sentiments and Defigns, the Principal of which appears to be the Passage of the Detachment to Bombay, with the Advice and Concurrence of this Government, which will be attended with reciprocal Advantages to both States. I have also explained all Matters, from first to last, to Mr. Anderson, and have replied fully to these Letters without the least Reserve, stating the most eligible Mode for the Passage of the Army to Bombay, and the Removal of the Peishwa's Suspicions, which the present Situation of Affairs renders necessary, without suffering the least Point to escape me; and to those Letters I must refer you, having on mature Reflection formed your Judgment on the several Points contained therein, and regarding the Letters from hence as dictated by the warmest Attachment and Zeal, you will return an explicit Answer with your Sentiments and Advice, that Colonel Goddard, who is now arrived in the Country of Bopaul, under the Dominion of the Afghans, and is daily engaged in Contests with Bysajee and Balajee, Talookdars of the Peishwa, and who, by the Favour of the Almighty, will reach the Nurbudder in another Week, and in consequence of Letters from hence will encamp at Hoshengabad, on this Side the River, and under the Dominion of this State, and wait there for fresh Advices from Calcutta, may conduct himself thereby. In what I have written I have no other Interest than my Attachment to the Prosperity of both States, and my Defire to comply with the Views both of the Maha Rajah and the English, and have guided myself by the Dictates of Prudence and Forelight.

Mr. Anderson and Ramkaund have written you a particular Account of what they have seen and heard, and from them you will have complete Information. The Company of Mr. Anderson and Ramkaund has offered me the highest Pleasure, as they are Persons of distinguished Worth and Understanding; they are both here and well, and have written to Colonel Goddard whatever was mutually judgest proper to induce him to remain at Hoshengabad: We are in Expectation of the Colonel's

Reply thereto. The Poona Ministers have been written to to semove their Suspicions; assuring them hat the English Chiefs have not the smallest Design to support Ragonaut Row, and that the Detachment on its March to Bombay has been fent thither tolely from Apprehenfions of the French; that they may be affured of this, and should not obstruct or molest them in their Passage, which will inflame the Disputes to the greatest Degice.

There is little Doubt but their Answer will be as formerly, that they have not the least Design to break their Engagements with the English; and it such Idea has been formed from the Reception of a French Vackeel, it is entirely groundless; and that whoever has written to that Effect to Calcutta has been actuated by Falshood; that he came for the Purpose of Traffic, and that they dismissed him to satisfy the Doubt-entertained by the English; that we will therefore satisfy you on this Head: But for the Purpole of fatisfying their Doubts by an Assurance that you have no Idea of sup. porting Ragonaut Row, and that the Detachment you have fent is defigned against the French, and that if the English Government of Bombay, who had no Concern in the Formation of the Treaty, should on this Account wish to break the Peace, and require Assistance from you, no Attention shall be paid to them, but they shall be dismissed from their Stations, and that a Person of Credit shall be given as Guarantee for the Performance (for without fuch a Guarantee they will never be fatisfied): whatever you may judge advisable in this Case be pleased to communicate to me, that they may receive Satisfaction.

It is my Opinion that such Measures should be taken as may conciliate the Mind of the Peishwa, and till this Point is effected, that Colonel Goddard should remain at Hoshengabad.

I have been induced to make these Two Propositions entirely by Principles of the sincerest Friendship to the English Chiefs, and from a View into Futurity. Whatever is your Opinion, be pleased to make it known to me. It is the Duty of Friendship to labour for the Interest of both States: For the rest, it remains with you.

What I have lately learnt from Baboo Row, the Peishwa's Vackeel, and the Letters of the Poona Ministers, is as follows: That they are firm to the Treaty they have contracted with the English; that they gave no Encouragement to the French Vackeel; that he came to traffic, and they difmiffed him; that whilst they adhered to their Engagements, the March of an English Army through their Territories and the Collection of large Sums of Moncy in different Places, and molecting and injuring the Districts and Persons of their Talookdars, were evident Instances of a Breach of Treaty; what other Judgment could they form of it? That fince the Treaty prohibits the March of English Forces over Land, to what Motive are they to attribute such a Measure? That if it is necessary to send a Force to Bombay for the Reinforcement of that Settlement, and to awe the French, they should send it by Sea, and thereby avoid a Breach of Treaty: That as they have been guilty of no Violation of their Engagements, the Preservation of them on the Part of the English is necessary to good Faith: That the Detachment must not therefore come by Land, but be transported by Sea to Bombay, and the Money taken from the Talookdars and other Places, be restored as good Faith requires. Such are the Intimations which have been received from the Poona Minifters, with a Requisition that Letters to this Effect may be written from hence to Calcutta, and that Endeavours may be used to confirm the Treaty between them and the English Chiefs, on the Terms above-mentioned, and fatisfactory Assurances given you, that they neither have, nor will enter into any Friendship or Connection with the French; in brief, such is the Purport of their late Letters, and Baboo Row confirms the Substance. Whatever you deem advisable you will therefore be pleased to communicate to me without Delay.

Extract of Bengal Secret Consultations, the 11th January 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Edward Wheler,

MR. Francis-I desire that the Letters received on the 2d, and recorded in the Persian Correspondence on the 9th instant, from Moodajee Boosla and his Ministers, may be read; and that a Minute, which I shall send in Circulation this Evening, on the Subject of these Letters, may be entered in this Place.

Agreed to.

REP. VI.

The

The following Minute from Mr. Francis is therefore recorded in this Place: Mr. Francis—I have nothing to object to the pious Precepts and excellent moral Instructions contained in this Letter: Whether they come feafonably or not, at a Time when deep Plans of Policy and decided Acts of Vigour might have been expected from our intended Ally, instead of a general Discourse upon the Duties of a Statesman; or how far such a Discourse may with Propriety be addressed to the chief Member of this Government; are Questions very little necessary to be considered at present. It is of no sort of Moment to us now, to enquire into the moral Character or religious Creed of this Maratta; though it might have been prudent in us to have been somewhat better acquainted with both, before we trusted him so far. From other Parts of his Letters, we may collect Information of a more interesting Nature. If we really mean the Public Service; if we mean to lave Colonel Goddard's Army, and to provide for the Security of the Company's Possessions, let us not oblinately shut our Eyes to the Evidence before us. After examining the Facts without Prejudice or Passion, let us draw the natural and obvious Conclusions from those Facts, and endeavour to act firmly and confistently upon both.

For my own Part, the Declarations contained in Moodajee Boofla's Letter to Colonel Goddard, recorded on the 21st December, appeared to me sufficiently explicit: A Majority of the Board however still thought it necessary to wait for some farther Explanations; but now I presume that not a Shadow of Doubt can remain with any of us concerning his real Sentiments and Resolutions. The most material Points of Fact ascertained by the present Letters, and by which our Measures must be immediately directed, are,

1st, That so late as the 5th of December, Moodajee Boossa does not appear to have had the least Idea of the Extent or Nature of the Governor General's Views in the proposed Alliance, though we have been informed that his Vackeel, Beneram Pundit, was perfectly possessed of the Project of that Alliance, from several Conversations which he had had with the Governor General in Calcutta, and was authorized to communicate the same to his Master.

2d, That whatever Degree of Information the Rajah might possess on this Subject, and admitting his Ignorance of the Governor's Plan to be merely affected, he appears plainly to have no Sort of Disposition to catch at the Objetts presented to his Ambition, or to run the Risque of a Rupture either with the Peshwa, or with the Nizam, much less with both at the same Instant, for the Sake of any Offer that we can make him. On this Point his Declarations are clear and decided.

3d, That so far from shewing a Disposition to join us against his Countrymen, he says expressly, that the Junction of a Body of his Forces with Colonel Goddard would avail nothing in the " Face of fuch large Armies, but would only involve himself in the greatest Losses."

4th, That it is his, Moodajee Boosla's Opinion, founded on Reasons, which, if he does not deceive us, are sufficiently folid, that the Detachment cannot proceed towards Bombay without the greatest Difficulty and Danger, nor return without Disgrace.

5th, That so far from entering into an offensive Alliance with us against the Poona Government, he infilts on the Necessity of our coming to an immediate Conciliation with them, and of our previously giving them Satisfaction for the March of our Army through their Country, and for the large Sums collected from their Zemindars, first by Colonel Leslie, and afterwards by Colonel Goddard, who, he says, has pursued the same Line of Conduct with respect to the Talookdars as his Predeceffor.

The Perufal of these voluminous Letters will suggest many other interesting Reslections to our Superiors. One Circumstance in particular I think deserves their Notice: Notwithstanding the Detachment was for some Months under the Orders of the Presidency of Bombay, whose Designs were very explicitly communicated to us; and although the commanding Officer was instructed to co-operate with them in the Plan they had formed for the Support of Ragoba, and notwithstanding all the Measures taken here professedly originated from the Communication which we received in January last, of certain Overtures proposed to have been made by the Ministers for reinstating Ragoba, Moodajee Boosla now affirms, that his Vackeel had it from Mr. Hastings's own Mouth, "That it never was nor is designed by the English Chiefs to support Ragoba." The good Advice contained in these Letters is in Effect the severest Resection on the Levity and Precipitancy of our Councils; and probably has no other Meaning, but to shew the Governor General in what Respect Moodajee Boosla holds a Statesman, who professes to have departed from the common Line of Policy in the Whole of bis Conduct. If we were not become the Objects of his Scorn, would our boafted Ally take fuch a Time to tell us, " That it is a Proverb, that whatever is deliberately done is well done; that it will " be proper maturely to reflect on the probable Event, before the Commencement of any Undertaking; and that it is the Part of Wisdom and sound Judgment, before any further Steps are taken, to determine by what Means they are to be supported, that no Unsteadiness may hereafter arise?" What must this Maratta think of the Prudence of a Government, which sends an Army a Thousand Miles forward into an Enemy's Country, on the Presumption of receiving Assistance on the Spot, without any Treaty previously concluded, without a fingle Condition agreed on; without one Stipulation formed for the Operations, for the Proceeding, or for the Retreat of that Army; and even without knowing the general Sentiments, Views, or Disposition of the Prince, on whose future Support we placed our Dependance? I do not wonder that Moodajee Boofla should feel no Inclination to unite his Fortune with tuch a Government: But let us now at least profit by his Advice, as far as the Circumstances we are reduced to will admit. In the natural Order of Things, Deliberation should go before Measures; with us, it must follow them. Colonel

APPENDIX,

Colonel Goddard's Army is now near Eleven Degrees West of Calcutta: We have no other Way fof tracing his Progress, or ascertaining his Distance from us, but by observing, as accurately as we can, the Latitude and Longitude of his Polition, on a general Map of India. If he attempts to proceed, it must be into the Mouth of Danger: If he retreats, it will resect Dishonour on our Arms: If he advances into Berar, it is against the Advice of the Rajah, who insits on his remaining where he is, and who, I presume, will never suffer an English Army to march into the Heart of his Country, especially when he hears that another Detachment is preparing to enter it from the Eastward: This Measure, so far from giving him Encouragement to join us, must naturally sill him with Jealousy and Distrust. Without insisting on the faithless Character uniformly attributed to the Marattas, these Motives alone are sufficient to put him on his Guard against us; while others equally powerful may nduce him to take Advantage of the critical Situation of our Army, and to compromise his own differences with the Peishwa and the Nizam at our Expence. At all Events, I presume it cannot e disputed, that the Safety of the Detachment depends greatly on the good Faith of Moodajee oofla.

In this Situation, we have a Choice of Difficulties before us. Whatever Resolution we adopt, ill, I fear, be liable to fuch Objections, as will admit of no better Answer, than that still greater Objections may be urged against any other.

We may order Colonel Goddard, at all Events, to proceed to Bombay; or to move towards our Western Frontier, through Berar; or to return as expeditionsly as he can, by the Way he went: I am against the First, because I am convinced it cannot be attempted without the greatest Hazard to the Detachment, or with the smallest Probability of Success. I consider it as one common and equally effential Interest of all the Powers of India, to oppose the March of an English Army across the Continent; and by defeating the Attempt in the First Instance, to deter us from ever forming such an Enterprize again: Moodajee Boossa himself states the Danger to us, in Terms which sufficiently express his Opinion of the Impossibility of surmounting it: With respect to Bombay, notwithstanding all that has been faid of the deep Designs of the French, that Place is actually in no Danger, and if it were, this is not the Way of providing for its Desence.

I am against the 2d, because it appears, that the Rajah himself is very averse to letting Colonel Goddard come into his Country, and infifts on his staying where he is: If the Army should move into Berar without the Confent and without some Stipulations previously determined with him, it will always be in his Power to facrifice them to the Poona Government, or to the Nizam, if they can make it his Interest to do so. For my own Part, I am very much inclined to think, that all his late Delays and Uncertainties are affected for no other Purpose than to give his Countrymen Time to complete their Preparations, and to furround Colonel Goddard: No Choice then is left but to order Colonel Goddard to return as he went; I do not fay, that this Measure will not leffen the Opinion which the Powers of India may hitherto have entertained of the Councils of this Government: It may also be thought in some Degree disgraceful to our Arms; but neither is this of Weight against other superior Considerations, nor do I apprehend, that if no direct Impression be made upon our Army, its bare Retreat will prove any Thing, but the extreme Imprudence of those Measures, which have left us no other Option; at the same Time, I think that proper Letters should be written to the Peishwa, to inform him of this Alteration; to delire that the Army may retire without Molestation; and to assure him, that we are sincerely disposed to come to a Conciliation with him, and to adjust whatever Differences may have unfortunately arisen between his Government and ours in an amicable Manner, and agreeably to the Terms and Principles of the Treaty of Poona.

The Time which has elapsed fince the Receipt of Moodajee Boosla's Letter, and the critical Situation of the Detachment, make it inditpensably necessary that some clear and decisive Orders should be immediately dispatched to Colonel Goldard; I shall be ready to correct or alter my Opinion

if I fee just and solid Reasons urged against it.

(Signed)

P. Francis.

Governor General—I have received Mr. Francis's Minute, but do not think it necessary or proper to reply to it.

(Signed)

W. H.

The following Minutes from Mr. Wheler and the Governor General were returned with the above Minute from Mr. Francis.

Mr. Wheler-The Observations contained in Mr. Francis's Minute appear to me too strong and too well supported, not to deserve a Reply: I have no Doubt of their attracting the particular Attention of the Court of Directors: At any Rate, the Situation of Colonel Goddard's Army makes it necessary, that some clear and decisive Orders should be sent him without further Delay: I fee by the Book of Persian Correspondence, that the Governor General has Letters from him as late as the 17th December; at that Time Moodajee Boofla does not appear to have altered the Refolution expressed in his former Letters, of not engaging with us against the Petshwa: If the News we have just received should prove true, that the Presidency of Bombay have sent an Army to Poona, under the Command of General Carnac, in order to reinstate Ragoba, an Alliance with Moodajee Boossa on the Plan of Mr. Elliott's Instructions becomes impracticable: The Rajah of course will conclude, that we mean nothing but to deceive him, or at least, that we have no Authority over the Presidency of Bombay: But let him think as he will of the Sincerity and grow Faith of this Government, he will naturally make this a Plea for not proceeding in any Negociation with Colonel Goddard.

In these Circumstances, it becomes a Question of the greatest Importance to determine, what Co.

lonel Goddard is to do.

I presume, it is not meant that he should remain much longer on the Banks of the Nerbudda; and if he is to move, the Object of his suture Operations, and the Place of his Destination ought to be clearly pointed out; this Question is every Day embarrassed with new Facts and fresh Dissiputies, which no Information at present before the Board is sufficient to clear up. Waiting therefore for those Lights which I presume the Governor General is able to give us, I shall content myself at present with urging the Necessity of immediately resuming the Subject, and of coming to some Resolution on the final Orders to be given to Colonel Goddard.

Governor General-As there is no Question proposed in either of the preceding Minutes, I must decline to bear my Part in a Debate of which I see no Object.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 25th January 1779.

PRESENT,
The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Edward Wheler,

THE Governor General delivers in the following Minute.

Governor General—The Intimation given by Mr Barwell, of his Intention to return to England, in the Public Department Consultation of the 11th Instant, has already given Currency to an Opinion of an impending Change in the Administration of these Provinces; not only by the immediate Consequences which his Departure would produce in the Instuence of the present Council, but by the Conclusion drawn from it, that it proceeded from some Fore-knowledge of the new Settlement of this Government, and that it was intended as an Anticipation of it: I feel myself exceedingly alarmed for the Effects of this Belief on our public Measures; and especially on one which is now at its Criss, and may receive its ultimate Direction from such an Impulse. Calcutta is unhappily become the Resort of Agents, both public and secret, from many of the States, and even of some of the remotest of India. To these the Nakedness of our Constitution has been long exposed, and the Facility with which the most important Transactions of the Council find their Way to the public Notice, enables them to send early and constant Advices, modified according to their respective Views and Interests; or dictated, as I believe, by a concealed Instuence, not only of actual Events as they occur, but of every Rumour of every Day, to their several Constituents.

By such Channels it will be soon known, both at Poona and Naigpore, that the Powers of this Government which rest with a Majority of Voices in the small Body composing it, are on the Eve of devolving to the Two Members who have considerably opposed in every Stage of its Progress, the Plan which has been publicly adopted for the Support of the Company's Interest on the Western Side of India; and who, it is universally believed, will seize the first Means which are offered to them to deseat and annul it altogether. A Member of this Government entrusted with the Guardianship of the Company's Interest, and of the Honour of the British Name in India, has not scrupled to propose, that we should make an abject Submission to the miserable Possessor of the seeble Government of Poona; acknowledge our past Faults, with a Promise of Amendment; and humbly intreat their Permission for the sate Retreat of our Army from Berar, to its own Confines. If I misconstrue Mr. Francis's Words, let them speak for themselves, as they stand in the following Extract of his Minute, dated the 11th Instant.

"No Choice is then left, but to order Colonel Goddard to return as he went. I do not fay, that this Measure will not lessen the Opinion which the Powers of India may hitherto have entertained of the Councils of this Government: It may also be thought in some Degree dif-

oraceful to our Arms, but neither is this of Weight against other superior Considerations, nor do 1 apprehend, that if no direct Impression be made upon our Army, its bare Retreat will prove any Thing but the Imprudence of those Measures which have left us no other Option: at the same Time, I think that proper Letters should be written to the Peshwa, to inform him of this Alteration, to desire that the Army may retire without Molestation, and to assure him, that we are sincerely disposed to come to a Conciliation with him, and to adjust whatever Differences may have unfortunately arisen between his Government and ours, in an amscable Manner, and agreeably to the Terms and Principles of the Treaty of Poona."

What Conduct may not be expected from fuch Sentiments, and fo avowed, if they are allowed the Accession of Power to give them Operation, not only in the Instance which I have already been proposed by me or Mr. Barwell: This it shall be my Care, as it is my Duty, to obviate by every Means within the stender Compass of my Ability. I do therefore conjure Mr. Barwell, both by that Zeal which he has hitherto so steadily manifelled for the Interests of our common Mallers, and even by the Ties of a Friendship cemented by a Participation of the same Labour and Sufferings for the Public Service, that he will not permit the Measures in which he has a common and equal Responsibility with myself, to be exposed to the Triumph of a Party; but that he will both continue to afford the Support of his Presence and Abilities to the present Government, while it yet exists; and that he will suffer me to exact from him a Declaration to that Purpote, rot only for my own Satisfaction, but for that of every Man, who has the Company's Interest, or the Prosperity of this Settlement, or the Credit of his Country, at Heart; and who, I presume to fay, expect this Sacrifice from him. A few Months will either release him from the Effects of it, or bind him by fresh Obligations, and such as may engage his voluntary Submission to remain; for, lest as this Government has been for the last Four Years, to a State of Suspence and Indecision, it is not possible for it to continue to beyond the Term of its legal Existence, which mult cease of course, even without the Hand of Power to annihilate it, in the Month of October; and it is not probable that we shall be much longer ignorant of that which must of absolute Necessity be substituted in its Place. If I may truft to the Intelligence which I have received from England, to late as the 10th or June, private indeed, but derived from what I deem the best Authority, no Alteration will take Place at that Period, which will affect either Mr. Barwell or myfelf.

Mr. Barwell—I am concerned that I should have given Occasion for the Minute this Instant presented; the Declaration of my Intention to depart I thought had been sufficiently guarded to obviate any Consequences that might effect the Influence of the existing Government. I do not mean by the Declaration I have already made, to decline my Aid in the Support of the Governor General's Administration, so long as it shall continue; I have hitherto yielded it with Cheerfulness, and do not propose, whatever Wish my Health may make me entertain of going to Europe, to decline sharing with sim in the Responsibility of his Measures so far as I have engaged in them, and consequently supporting him under every discouraging Circumstance that may stand in Opposition to my Duty; I do not think myself at Liberty to follow my own Wishes, and every private Consideration must yield, should the Public Service require it: The Reasons that are assigned for it by the Governor General, require me absolutely to retract the Intention I have declared; I admit the Force of them; and with Pleasure declare my Determination to support his Government, as long as the public Measures of it shall require me.

Governor General—I beg Leave to record my Thanks to Mr. Barwell for his ready and honourable Acquiefcence in my Request; it adds to the many Obligations which I already owe him for his past Support, but cannot heighten the Sense of Gratitude which I already entertain for him.

Mr. Francis-I shall leave it to the Court of Directors, who will have the Whole of my Argument before them, to determine, whether the Passage quoted from it by the Governor General, will fairly bear the Construction he has been pleafed to give it; passionate and contemptuous Terms, unaccompanied with Argument, will prove nothing against the Prudence of that Opinion which I submitted to the Board, with an express Declaration of my Readiness to correct or alter, if just and folid Reasons were fuggested to me for doing so. The Governor General gives no Reasons, nor does he propote any Thing; yet I prefume it is not meant that Colonel Goddard is to be left much longer without Instructions. It happens singularly that the Advice which I have presumed to give on this Occasion concurs with an Opinion which I should have thought would have had some Weight with the Goverbor, I mean that of Moodajee Boofla; his former Letters, which I have already referred to, were fufnciently explicit; but even in one received within these few Days, and written after he had feen and conversed with the Person whom Colonel Goddard had deputed to him, and after he was persectly apprized of the intended Plan of Alliance, his Advice still is to come to a Conciliation with the Peishwa; he says, "I do not myself think it by any Means prudent at present to enter on this Busi-" ness; that it is improper precipitately to plunge into Undertakings of such a Nature, and that Precipitation is not at present by any Means advisable." These Sentiments of Moodajee Boosla I apprehend could not be influenced either by Mr. Barwell's late Declaration, or by the Opinion expressed in my Minute of the 11th Instant; they appear to have been invariably his own ever since he had any Knowledge of the Governor General's Views. In such a Situation it avails but little to say, that any particular Opinion of a Member of this Government is dangerous, impolitic, or dif-graceful, Moodajee Boosla refuses to act; can that Fact possibly be denied? yet the Governor General proposes nothing. I see we differ very much in our Ideas of national Honour; I have no Idea of *REP. VI. (Qq) national Honour independant of Justice. The Projects of Ambition are usually ambitious; if the are nothing but the Projects of Ambition, they are in my Judgment always dishonourable. To revert to that pacific System which the Company have uniformly prescribed to us, to endeavour to conciliate the Friendship which we have unjustly or unwisely departed from, and to return, if it be possible, to the Terms of a Treaty which we ourselves have wantonly violated, are not Acts that will ever I think, and as I feel, bring Dishonour on the British Name; I am sure they are the best Means of preserving our Strength and our real Instance in India, and I have no Doubt that they will meet with the highest Approbation from Home. As long as I am trusted with any Share in the Office of Guardian of the British Interests and Honour in this Country, these shall be the Principles on which I will invariably act.

For what Purpole Mr. Barwell made his late Declaration, or what Purpole it is now retracted, is to me a Question of the most profound Indifference; I believe it to be equally immaterial to the Support of the Influence and Authority of the present Majority of this Board; in the Language of Moodajee Boosla, "The Arrow is shot, and cannot be recalled." Since the Governor General has been pleased to mention his private Intelligence, and the Security it gives him, I shall beg Leave to assure that I also have private Intelligence, which perhaps may be no better founded than his; but on which I for my own Part place some Dependance; that a total Change in the ruling Power of this Government was determined when Sir Eyre Coote left England, and I have no Doubt that Sir Eyre Coote will give us some very satisfactory Information on this Point; but whether he does or not, his Presence alone mult in the highest Degree affect that very Object which Mr. Barwell's present Declaration professes to have in View.

Governor General—The Respect which I bear for the Character of Sir Eyre Coote, would have prevented me from introducing his Name on the present Occasion, had I shought it any way concerned in it, and restrains me from answering the Assurances implied in the Conclusion of Mr. Francis's Minute respecting him; for the rest, I mean not to enter into a Debate with Mr. Francis, I had a different Object, yet I think it necessary to say, that I know of no Expessions of mine which ment the Epithets of passionate or contemptuous; neither did I mean, or do I now think it necessary to answer his Minute of the 11th Instant with Argument. I did not understand it to contain any serious Propositions, it may be Irony, it may be Sarcasin, it may be Invective; but I believe that no one who reads it will understand it to aim at any other Object; and it was for that Reason I have said that I thought it neither necessary or proper to reply to it.

Mr. I ancis-I hope and believe the Governor General did not mean to apply the Terms I allude to personally to me, nor did I object to them on that Presumption.

Bengal Private Persian Correspondence.

Letter from Moodajee Bhossla: Dated 10th Zehedja, 30th December 1778, and received 22d January 1779.

COLONEL Goddard having by the greatest Bravery and good Management arrived in Safety at Hoshengabad, on this Side the River Nubudder, which is dependant on me; and not judging it advisable to leave his Army at that Place, which is 120 Coss from Nagpore, and to proceed in Person hither, deputed Mr. Weatherstone, a Gentleman in his Confidence, to wait on me. This Gentleman being accordingly arrived in Safety, has in an Interview fully informed me of your Sentiments and Views; which are indeed fraught with the greatest Friendship and Regard towards me, and with mutual Advantages, the fame which you gave in Charge to Mr. Elliott when you deputed him to this Quarter. I likewise some Time ago received your obliging Letter, written after the Decease of Mr. Elliott, to the following Purport; That it would not answer to depute another Person from thence in the same Character with Mr. Elliott, which would occasion too great Delay to the Affairs in Hand; and that Beneram Pundit, who was fully acquainted with all your Views and the Points of Negociation entrusted to Mr. Elhott, would therefore make me acquainted therewith; and I would inform you in Reply with my Sentiments and Views, by which you should be enabled to form your ultimate Resolutions, namely, to form a Treaty between the King of England, Company, and this Government, on so firm a Basis, that like the Wall of Alexander it might continue unshaked from Generation to Generation to the latest Posterity; and that our Friends and Enemies be in common, and reciprocal and equal Advantages derived to both States. B neram Pundit accordingly fully communicated every Point to me. fully communicated every Point to me. As your Views are of the most important Nature, and to carry them into Execution require great Preparations to be made, to wit, the assembling an Army, forming Alliances with the Decan Chiefs, preparing Military Stores, &c. mighty Freafure, all which require Time, I deemed it advisable to delay their Execution for some Time, and accordingly pointed out to you in Answer, the Measures I judged most fit and prudent. Beneram Pundit like.

APPENDIX, Nº 168.

Lvife wrote you very fully on the same Subject. Agreeably thereto all these Matters were stated to Mr. Weatherstone, who, inspired with the Sentiments of Bravery and Magnanimity inherent in the English Chiefs, replied, "The Opportunity now presents itself; the least Delay in the Business is impolitic." To this he was answered; "The Decan is our Country, and we have a superior Knowledge of the State of it, and are well acquainted with the proper Season for such an Undertaking. I do not myself think it by any Means prudent at present to enter on this Business; if, not-withit anding, the English Chiers are of a different Opinion, the first Step must necessarily be the Formation of a folemn Treaty." Mr. Weatherstone, conformably to the Customs and Manners of his own Nation replied, "Colonel Goddard is invested with full Power to conclude this Business in the or room of Mr. Elliott." As every one prefers his own Customs and Manners, and it is necessary before the Commencement of an important Undertaking, that complete Confidence be established, I answered, " The Formation of the Treaty, which is to be the Foundation of all the Measures propoted, must of Necessity be in the Presence of the Nabob (alluding to you;) that had Mr. Elliott arrived, still the final Conclusion of the Treaty would have been in your Presence, on the Knowledge of our mutual Sentiments, that so both Parties might have been fully satisfied; that I would now dispatch Beneram Pundit to Calcutta with the List of the Terms I expect, and that the Colonel should likewise write whatever the Duties of Friendship required; and that after this Point was firmly concluded, and I had received a fatisfactory Answer from you, we would then in concert enter on the Undertaking."

Mr. Weatherstone having obtained complete Information on all these Points, and of the Sincerity of my Friendship, wrote an Account thereof to Colonel Goddard. As you are universally allowed to possess the greatest Penetration and Foresight, and to exceed all others in your Judgment of the Propriety and Fitness of every Measure; and as your Opinion on all Occasions receives my Approbation and Assent, I am about to dispatch to you Beneram Pundit, accompanied by Ramkund, the late Mr. Elliott's Peisswa, a Man of Understanding, and attached to your Government, whom I have made acquainted with all my Designs in this important Undertaking. On their Arrival they will in private make you fully acquainted therewith, and you will consider them with the greatest Attention; and having sixed and concluded on such Points as are most advisable, and may be completely statisfactory to both Parties, will inform me thereof, that conformable thereto the most judicious

Meatures may be adopted,

From Modajee Bhosilah: Received 22d January 1779.

The late Events at Poona and Bombay are these: Officers from Bombay have marched from thence with Three Battalions, and some Pieces of Cannon, into the Cokun Country, and sent a Detachment from their Army to Bore Ghaut, which is about 20 Coss from Poona, where they have made Entrenchments. The Poona Ministers have now dispatched their Army, which was in Readinels to march, towards Hoffungabad, to oppose the Progress of Colonel Goddard against the Boinbay Army. By these Means there does not at present appear to be any Force to oppose Colonel Goddard's March to Bombay; but I have already repeatedly written to you my Opinion on this Subject, founded on the Situation of the Times; and have fully communicated to you whatever I have learnt of the State of Poona, and informed you of the Tenor of the Letters of the Ministers of Pundit Penhwa, as well as what I gathered from Report; and I shall now perform the Duty of a Friend, by freely stating to you my Advice on the present State of Assairs, which is as follows: You have conceived Displeasure and Resentment against the Poona Ministers on Account of the Arrival of a French Vackeel, and their negociating with him. They have written to me repeatedly on this Subject, that they never entertained the slightest Idea of Enmity towards the English Company, er of giving Support to the French: That a Frenchman came there for the Purposes of Traffic, and that even him they fent away; and have not the smallest Design of breaking their Treaty with the English: That such a Conduct, while solemn Engagements subsisted, would render them deterlable in the Sight of God and Men, and be so shameful a Renunciation of every religious Tie, as to make them the Objects of Abhorrence; that I would therefore write to Calcutta, and clear your Mind from tuch Sufficions. I accordingly wrote all these Particulars to you. I now give it you as my Advice, that a Person of Credit may on the Application of Pundit Purdhaun, with the Consent of the English Chiefs, become Guarantee for both Parties, that so all Doubts may be completely removed, and an End put to all Hostilities and Contentions. Let the Terms of the Guarantee be, that the Poona Ministers shall never form the Idea of giving Support to the French Nation, who are the Enemics of the English Company; and that the English Chiefs, in Violation of Treaty, shall take no Steps for the Support of Ragonaut Row; and that if either of the contracting Parties shall infringe the Engagement, the Guarantee shall be responsible for such Breach.

Every Person who undertakes any difficult Enterprize or Contest, should first consider the End thereof, and well understand the Advantages or Losses which may result therefrom; and if it appears in his Judgment, after the maturest Resection, that the Advantages over-balance the Losses, he may then pursue it.

The Monarchs of former Times, and Viziers, possessed of a noble Ambition, made this an invariable Rule in the Prosecution of their Conquests, and never deviated in the least Instance from it; on this Principle, that where their Object could be effected with Facility and Quiet, it was impolitic and

PPENDIX, Nº 163.

useless to pursue it with Labour and Difficulty; knowing that none but the All-wise could of a () tainty foresec the Event of any Undertaking.

Thus it appears improper precipitately to plunge into Undertakings of such a Nature: I am there. fore defirous that you should for the present pretend to be satisfied on the Subject of the Apprelie. fions which you had conceived of the French, on account of the Support of the Poona Minitters, and leave the Profecution of your private Defigns to a more favourable Opportunity: This may be productive of the most important Advantages; for it will be reported through the whole Country, the the English Chiefs having conceived Suspicions of the Poona Ministers, dispatched an English Ar my on this Account folely, to the Decan, and not with any View of supporting Ragonaut Row and that the Poona Ministers being convinced and ashamed of their Error, has given a Person of Credit as a Hostage, and thereby extinguished the Flames of a dreadful Contest, and this would exalt your Reputation and Fame to the highest Pitch; you will therefore maturely consider the Ad vantages and End of fuch a Conduct, and to what good Purpoles it may be turned. The Opportunity is not yet passed. If you approve of this Advice, give immediate Intimation thereof to me, Colonel Goddard, and the Bombay Gentlemen.

I have communicated all the above Particulars to Mr. Weatherstone, who will write to Colo. nel Goddard whatever he may judge most sit and proper.

From Dewagur Pundit. Dated 10th Zchedja, 30th December 1778, and received 22d January 1779.

Beneram Pundit, after the Decease of Mr. Elliott in his Way hither, in Conformity to your Di. rections intimated to him, fully represented all your Views and Deligns with which he had been entrusted, tending to the Fstablishment of a Treaty between the King of England, the Company, and yourself, on the one Part, and the Maha Rajah my Master on the other, on so firm a Basis that like the Wall of Alexander it might continue unshaken from Generation to Generation to the latest Posterity; and the prudent and judicious Answer he received, "That for the Commencement " of so important an Affair the necessary Preparations, such as the assembling an Army, the Junction " of Allies from amongst the zealous Friends of this Sirkar, the collecting Magazines of Warhke " Stores, and the Provision of a large Treasure, required a considerable Time to complete," has been already communicated to you. Colonel Goddard having lately croffed the Nurbudder, and being arrived at Hoshingabad, dependant on the Maha Rajah, not deeming it advisable to quit his Army, and repair to Naigpore, which is at the Distance of 120 Coss from that City, deputed Mr. Weatherstone hither. On his Interview he communicated your Sentiments to the same Effect as Beneram Pundit had before represented them, and was answered in the same Manner as has been written to you. Inspired by the Courage and Magnanimity inherent in the English Chiefs, he replied, "This is the Time, let not the Opportunity which presents itself escape." Actuated by Penetration and Fore-fight, I represented to him the State of the Decan, and the Necessity of a Treaty from Calcutta, prior to the Commencement of fo important an Undertaking, fully explaining every Point to him, which he wrote to Colonel Goddard, who will communicate them to you.

Beneram Pundit and Ramkund the late Mr. Elliott's Peishwa, a Man of Understanding, Intelligence in Bufiness, and a zealous Servant of your Government, are about to be dispatched from hence with Letters to you. When they arrive, and you have learnt all my Master's Views, and the Terms he requires, you will make me happy by a Reply thereto.

Pollscript-Certain Intelligence has been lately received, that the English at Bombay have fent some of their Officers through the Cokun Country to Bhose Gaut, which is 20 Cols from Poona, and that they are making Preparations to cross, and that the Peishwa's Army is gone against them: As the Poona Ministers deny every Kind of Intrigue or Connection with the French, which they have repeatedly done by Letters to this Quarter, and the English Chiefs have no Defign to support Ragonaut Row, of which Beneram Pundit has given us repeated Assurances; to what End therefore, are these Suspicions entertained contrary to the Treaty, and which give room to the World to talk in a very improper Stile? If, notwithstanding, the English have any Apprehensions lest the Poona Ministers should hereafter support the French, the Maha Rajah will, agreeably to what they have desired of him, give you full Satisfaction respecting them, and in like Manner will give Satisfaction to the Poona Ministers, and remove the Apprehensions they have conceived, lest the English should support Ragonaut according to the Assurances made to him by Beneram Pundit: This will exalt the Fame and Honour of the English Chiefs throughout the World, and extinguish the Flames of War and Discord, of which none but the all-wife God can with any Degree of Certainty foresee; the Event and the Views which you design to carry into Execution in concert with the Maha Raja my Master, will likewise take effect at a proper Opportunity: Precipitation is not at present by any Means advisable. For more particular Information on these Points, I beg Leave to refer you to the Maha Rajah's Letters, where they are fully treated with.

If you approve of this Advice, you will dispatch Letters immediately to Bombay, forbidding them to engage in a Contest with the Poona Ministers, and will likewise write to Colonel Goddard and me, that in consequence thereof, we may use our Endeavours to remove all Suspicions on either Side, and for the Consirmation and Duration of the Treaty: This Measure suits with the Times,

Times, will extinguish the Flames of Discord in every Quarter, and do you great Credit in the Eyes of the World.

For the rest, whatever your enlightened Understanding, who are endowed with the most distinguished Virtues, and are well versed in every Part of Business, points out to you, will meet with Affent and Approbation.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 1st February 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Efquires. Philip Francis, Edward Wheler,

READ the following Letter from Bombay:

We have had the Honour to receive your Letter of the 17th August, but we have not yet heard 4 Syllable of or from Mr. Elliott.

We were for a confiderable Time in fuch a State of Suspence arising from the flow Advance of the Bengal Detachment, our Expectation of Advices from Europe, and the Fate of Pondicherry, as well as some Difficulties we had to overcome on the Part of Ragoba, that we could not fix upon 2 Period when to write to you with any Degree of Certainty, as to the Measures we should pursue with respect to our Plan for establishing him in the Regency of the Maratta Government; but we have now the Pleasure to acquaint you, that Matters are at last brought to a Crisis, and our Forces have actually taken the Field to conduct Ragoba to Poona.

After the most strict Attention to the Words and Contents of your Letter of the 17th of August, nothing more appeared to us to be meant, than that we should not enter into any final Engagements with Ragoba, which might be contrary to such as might be concluded with, or of a hostile ! enuency to the Government of Berar; for if your Letter was to be understood as containing a Direction, that we were absolutely not to undertake any thing till we had received Advice from

Mr. Elliott of the Refult of his Commission with the Bouncello, it would have been equivalent to a Prohibition of the Expedition we had meditated, and which you had approved, by furpending it to so distant a Period, as to leave us little or no Hopes of Success.

We therefore thought ourselves warranted not only by your Letter, but by the most urgent Plea of Necessity, to give our immediate and most strenuous Assistance for placing Ragoba in the Office of Regent; and our latest Intelligence from Europe giving us not the smallest Apprehension of Danger to this Settlement in the Absence of our Forces, presented an Opportunity so favourable for the Execution of our Plan, that we could not confiftent with our Duty any longer forego it: But in order to guard against the Inconvenience from our Treaty with Ragoba clashing with the Engagements you may form with Moodajee Bouncello, we have by the 17th Article made the necessary Provision on that Head.

It was on the 12th of October, when we took the Refolution for immediately carrying into Execution our Plan, as explained in our Minutes of the 21st of July, when Mr. Draper thought proper to diffent, being of Opinion the Juncture was not favourable to our Delign, for which he affigned the following Reasons: First, Because of the express Conditions contained in your Letter of the 17th August: Secondly, Because of the Restraint Moraba, Butcheba, and their Adherents still appear to be under: Thirdly, Because of the remote Distance of Colonel Leslie's very considerable Reinforcement: Fourthly, Because of the very great Deficiency in our European Corps, to the last Establishment ordered by the Honourable Company.

This Packet being already swelled to a large Size for an over-land Dispatch, we shall defer sending you a Copy at Length of Mr. Draper's Diffent, till the first Sea Conveyance, when it shall be accompanied by a Copy of our whole Minutes and Proceedings on the Occasion.

We now transmit a Copy of the Treaty, and it will give us the most sensible Satisfaction if the Terms thereof are approved by you: A Copy of the Manifesto, or circular Letter, dispersed by the Troops on their landing on the Continent, is likewise enclosed.

The whole Conduct of the Expedition is entrusted to a Committee, confishing of Mr. Carnac, Co-REP. VI. (R r)

lonel Egerton, and Mr. Mostyn, who are directed to correspond punctually with you, and to advide you of all material Transactions. A Copy of their Instructions is enclosed, and of those given to Colonel Egerton; and also a Copy of the Orders we have sent to Colonel Goddard, who by our last Accounts, dated the 31st October, was only advanced to Kimlassy, on the other Side of the Nerbedali.

The Force sent on this Service consists of 172 Artillery, 549 Infantry, and 2689 Sepoys, all Officers included, besides 500 Artillery Lascars, which we flatter ourselves, all Circumstances considered, will be able to bring this Butiness to a happy Conclusion. The Voice of the Peol le, we are assured, is strongly with Ragoba; nor do we think Moraba's Party so much depressed, but that they will be able to yield material Assistance, which with the Approach of the Bengal Detachment, whose Arrival we anxiously expect, and the Fall of Pondicherry, will we trust effectually contribute to the easy Accomplishment of our Scheme.

Our Troops took Possession of the Fort of Bellapore without Opposition, and are now wish Ragoba's Forces near the Foot of the Gauts, which had before been secured by the Grenadier Sepoys of the Army, advanced for that Purpose by a different Route, under the Command of Captain Stewart, they have hitherto proceeded without feeing the Face of an Enemy.

Mr. Lewis remained at Poona till the very last Moment; and left that Place when recalled by us without the least Molestation.

We shall immediately fend a Letter to Mr. Elliott, advising him of the Conclusion and Object et the Treaty with Ragoba.

The flow Advance of the Bengal Detachment has given us much Uneafiness; as whatever Ture Affairs may take at Poona, we shall certainly require a considerable Augmentation to our Force, when we come to settle the necessary Arrangements for the Desence of our new Acquisitions, and provide a respectable Garrison for this Place: Their Arrival would be of unspeakable Advantage to the Honourable Company's Affairs on this Coast, and place us in a Situation almost above Annoyance.

We expect to receive Three hundred European Recruits by the Ships of this Season, including those received by the Royal Henry, and those on board the Gatton and Calcutta; and the Honourable Company acquaint us, they hope to be able to raise a further Number, in which Case they promise to send a Ship purposely with them to this Settlement.

We have not yet taken Possession of the several Cessions made by the Treaty with Ragoba. We believe it was impracticable to have stipulated for a Territory in lieu of the Northern Purgumahs, which would have been either equal in Value or in Convenience of Situation; for the Productions of the Guzerat Country infinitely exceed those of the Conkan, and when we have got Bassein we shall possess the whole Sea Coast from Bombay to the River Myhie, with very little Interruption, except the Portuguese Settlement of Damaun.

The Conduct of Hyder Ally towards the French still continues to shew a Disposition very favour able to them: He has sent Supplies of Provisions, and even Money, we believe, to Mahié; and we have had Intimation, that he has given the French Governor there Permission to hoss his Colours in the Place, should it be attacked by the English. It is said he also intends sending his Fleet with Supplies of Provisions to the French Islands, and that his Ships will be armed with Detachment, of French Soldiers, which were sent to him from Mahié, before the Account arrived of the Rupture with England.

We know not what Effect our Success against Pondicherry may have on the Nabob's Conduct; but we have now a Gentleman under Orders to proceed to his Durbar, whom we propose detaining until we are at some Certainty with respect to the Intentions of the Gentlemen of Fort Saint George regarding Mahie, and the Part the Nabob will take if that Settlement should be attacked.

Judging it highly improper that the French should be permitted to continue a Factory at Surat, in the very Centre of our Possessian, from whence the most important Intelligence might be transmitted, and a dangerous Correspondence carried on with the Country Powers, we have arrested the Person of the French Consul, and all other Frenchmen in that City, and have removed them to Bombay, except the Consul, who remains at Surat under an English Guard, and upon his Parole not to carry on any Correspondence whatever but under the Inspection of the Chief.

A French Officer having in Charge a Packet from the Ministry for Monsieur Bellcombe, has been intercepted at Grain, a Port on the Arab Coast, by a Plan of the Company's Servants at Bussora, and arrived at Bombay the 3d Instant. His Dispatches are in Cypher, and not to be unravelled, though we have actually got the Cypher, which was found amongst the Papers of the French Consul; we find by the Prints and private Letters he brought with him, that there had been an Engagement on the 27th of July, between the Grand Fleets under Admiral Keppel and the Count D'Orvilliers, which was not at all decisive, though it does not appear any Declaration of War had yet been made, so late as the 14th August; the Paper which Mr. Abraham terms so in the enclosed Extract being only as Order to the French Admiralty to grant Commissions for making Reprisals, of which we have the Honour to enclose a Transcript.

The Count D'Estaing's Squadron arrived at Boston the 20th of June.

This Packet will be fent by Sea to Anjengo, from whence it may be forwarded to Madras with the utmost Safety, and we shall desire the Gentlemen there to transmit it to you with all possible Security.

 $R_{\ \ Fort\ William,\ dated\ 5th\ January\ 1779}^{\ E\ A\ D\ \ the\ Governor\ General\ and\ Council\ at}$

Gentlemen,

I some Time ago informed you of the Arrival of the Detachment upon the Confines of Berar, and that a confidential Person on the Part of the Rajah had met me after I crossed the Nerbudda.

Finding that he was not impowered to enter upon the Subject of any particular Negociations betwixt his Master and the English, by confining his Conversation solely to the Subject of my March towards Bombay, and the Means of reconciling that Step to the Peishwa and Poonah Ministers, I judged it proper also to be silent towards him respecting the Views of your Government; and that no Time might be lost in communicating to Moodajee, both them and the Extent of my Commission from you, I determined upon immediately sending Lieutenant Watherston to Naigpore, fully instructed in every Point relative to this Business.

From the Uncertainty in which I had Reason to be, concerning the Sentiments of that Court, and the Distance of the Rajah's Residence from the Frontier, being above a Hundred Coss, I did not think it eligible myself to leave the Army, till I was assured that the Intentions of that Prince were perfectly favourable to the several Points on which I was impowered to treat with him, and I beg to assure you of my entire Satisfaction with the Conduct of Lieutenant Watherston, on this Occasion, who has, I am convinced, neglected nothing which was necessary to promote the Success of this Negociation, and has strictly conformed to the Instructions I gave him.

I cannot in any respect tax this Court with possessing Inclinations unfriendly to the English; on the contrary, I am convinced they see their own Interests in maintaining a Connection of Amity with us, which instead of breaking, they will endeavour to improve and strengthen; but in the present Situation of Affairs in the Decan, they find Excuses for Delay, by which they were determined to be influenced.

To the former Part of your Instructions delivered to Mr. Elliott, concerning the Terms of a defensive Alliance, they expressed to Mr. Watherston a perfect Satisfaction and Concurrence; but as these in their Consequence do not require an immediate Execution, and a Spirit of peculiar Circumspection and Caution seems to direct the present Conduct of this Government; they propose to defer the final Decision, even on this Part of the Treaty, till the several Articles relating to it shall be consirmed under the Signature of your Board, and the Seal of the Honourable Company, for obtaining which they mean to depute a Person to Calcutta immediately.

The same Reason they urge for Delay respecting the former, they also advance as one Cause why the latter Part of your Instructions, which relate to an Alliance of an offensive Nature, cannot now be entered into by them, with any Regard to their own Interest and Advantage, as the Sanction they require in the first Place, must be the only Foundation on which their future Views can be raised, and becomes more necessary, in Proportion to the Importance of the Object they have in pursuit.

Another Obstacle they start to the immediate Commencement of any active Operations, is the present Disputes in which the Ministers at Poona are involved with the English, and the Part taken by the Council of Bombay in favour of Ragonaut Row.

They have themselves addressed your Government on this Subject, and have solicited, as well as recommended, the relinquishing the Cause of the latter, and accepting Terms from the Aresent Ministerial Party; the Motive they acknowledge for acting this mediating Part, is to pave the Way for the Advancement of their own Schemes hereafter, in concert with the English, which they profess cannot be done consistent with an Attention to the Interests of Ragonaut Row.

For these Reasons Moodajee Boosla has declined entering into any Treaty, or taking any active Part whatever till further Accounts may arrive from Calcutta, by the Nature of which he will then be guided; and if it shall be found eligible by you to adjust the Difference betwixt the Bombay Council and the present Administration of Poona, excluding Ragonaut Row from any Share in the latter, he will in that Event cheerfully solicit your Assistance to accomplish his Views; otherwise it is plain he will be induced to lay them aside altogether; in the mean Time, I can speak with Considence, that his Inclinations towards the English are perfectly friendly; and I have studiously taken Care to leave the Negociations with him in such a Train, that it will be always in your Power to renew them whenever you may judge it for the Interest and Honour of your Government to do so.

Disappointed in my Views at this Court, I have referred to the latter Part of your Instructions

Disappointed in my Views at this Court, I have referred to the latter Part of your Instructions given to Mr. Elliott for his Guide, and compared them with the Purport of your Letter to me of the 23d November last, in which you have thought it necessary to revoke the Order before sent nic tor obeying all such Orders as I might receive from the President and Council at Bombay, less a Compliance with them might interrupt any Measures I might find it necessary to pursue in consequence of my Engagements with the Rajah of Berar.

You have also signified to me, that it is your Intention the Detachment under my Command should act in support of any Measures which the Council at Bombay may have formed in Reliance on it, as far as they may be consistent with the Instructions given me, and the Engagements I may have concluded in consequence of them.

By the Determination of this Court, any Difficulties which an Attention to the latter might have occasioned, are entirely removed; and as I consider it further consistent with the Spirit of your Instructions, I have thought proper to march towards Poona immediately.

I am induced to adopt this Step in confequence of having received Letters from the Select Committee at Bombay, informing me that the Foices from that Prefidency had actually taken the Field to effect the Refloration of Ragoba; that Meffrs. Carnac, Egerton, and Moftyn, were appointed Commissioners for fettling the Poona Government; and requiring me to advance towards that Place with all Expedition, as the Prefence of my Detachment is necessary to the Success of their View. From other authentic Intelligence I learn that Hostilities are actually commenced; I am therefore led to believe, that whatever may be the Result of your political Resolves, the Arrival of the Force under me in the Neighbourhood of Poona, will be for the Interest of the Service, either to prosecute the War, or to bring it to an honourable Conclusion; at the same Time that I shall be readyto act, in concert with Moodajee, any Plan that may be deemed necessary in consequence of your Determination.

I beg Leave to enclose for your fuller Information, Copies of the Letters I have received from the Select Committee at Bombay; and as they are so earnest and pressing for my Arrival at Poona, I propose marching towards that Quarter with all possible Expedition; it will be however absolutely necessary for me to wait the Arrival of the Treasure which Lieutenant Watherstone is bringing from Naigpore, the Produce of the Bills transmitted me in your Letter of the 16th November. The Gomastan of Gopaul Doss not being able to collect a Sum more than sufficient to discharge the Amount of the Bill for One Lack, I applied to the Rajah for the Two remaining, who immediately advanced them, without any Deduction or Discount for the Period to elapse before they would become due.

The Governor General lays before the Board the following Letters to him from Colonel Goddard:

Honourable Sir.

I have the Pleature to transmit you herewith a Letter addressed to the Honourable Board, informing them of the Delays I have met with in bringing to a Conclusion the Treaty they had impowered me to enter into with Moodajee Boosla, the Rajah of Berar, and the Reasons assigned by that Chief for his passive Conduct on this Occasion.

In order to give you a more full and complete Idea of the Negociation, I beg Leave to enclose for your Perusal, Copies of the Letters I have successively received from Lieutenant Watherston, since his Arrival at Naigpore; from these you will perceive the determined Sentiments of that Court are, to take no active Part whatever till further Accounts may arrive from you, when they declare these Readiness to co-operate with the Force under my Command in any Plan that may be fixed on for the mutual Interest of both Parties. The Rajah has himself addressed a Letter to you, expressive of their Inclination, which I have the Pleasure to enclose you: He has also addressed you on the Subject of the present Disputes betwixt the Bombay Council and the Ministers of Poona, in which the Interest he seems to take in wishing to reconcile the Difference that has arose, proceeds entirely from Motives of Policy; indeed he does not scruple to acknowledge this to be the Case; and I am persuaded nothing would in Registy be more agreeable to his Wish, than to see the Power of the Paishwa reduced; but he justly apprehends that the establishing Ragonaut Row's Authority under the Influence of the English

APPENDIX, Nº 170.

English would exclude him from all Hopes of ever obtaining the Object he has in View through their Means, as an Attention to and Observance of the Interests of both would be an impracticable Task to our Government, and irreconcileable to themselves. There appears no Doubt of the friendly Difposition of the Berar Court towards the English, which from political Morives they will study to cultivate and improve; for the Vicinity of Cuttack to our Possessions, and the Conveniency of its Situation to them, renders it an Object in our Eyes, of which they know we can at any Time avail ourselves. Throughout the Whole of what has passed with the Naigpore Court since my Arrival here, this friendly Inclination feems fully manifelled; and in the Train in which the Negociation is now left they have covered their Refufal of immediately acceding to any Treaty by specious Arguments, which discover at the same Time the truest Confidence reposed in our Government. I have also made it my particular Study, nor are my Endeavours I am persuaded unsuccessful, that should you at any Time hereafter find it for the Honour and Interest of the Company to prosecute an Alliance with Moodajee, upon the eligible and advantageous Plan already proposed, it will always be in your Power to do so, with Advantage and Convenience to your own Affairs. The Rajah scruples not to declare his Wish to settle the Sittera Succession; and as the only Powers on whose Assistance and Friendship he can rely to support him in this Attempt, he names the English and Zusser ul Howla. You will perceive by the Subject of a Conversation mentioned in one of Mr. Watherston's Letters, how clotely connected that Chief is with the Berar Family, to whose Views he is made privy, and is very urgent with them to feize the present Opportunity offered by the Friendship of the English for their Accomplishment.

By the enclosed Letters to you from Moodajee, you at once fee the Plan adopted by that Prince, and the Motives that influence his Conduct on the prefent Occasion, which appear to be folely dictated by Regard to political Confiderations of Safety and Convenience. Although he is exceedingly urgent to adjust the present Dispute with the Paishwa's Government, he frankly acknowledges his View in so doing is to pave the Way for his own future Projects; and he declares, with equal Appearance of Sincerity, that these are incompatible with the Mealures now adopted in favour of Ragonaut Row. Here then we find the principal, and although others are affigned by themselves, I could almost say the only Obstacle, to the Success of the Negociation I was empowered to manage with Modajee. The Schemes of the Gentlemen at Bombay, and the active Part they have taken in Support of Ragoba, have destroyed all Hopes of concluding the proposed Alliance with the Court of Naigpore, until it may be judged expedient by you to direct the former to be relinquished, in order to leave Room for the entire and free Adoption of the latter. The Sentiments contained in the Rajah's Letter to you exactly correspond with the Opinion I have above advanced; and he further positively assures me, that when the Answers to his Letters shall arrive from you; when the Treaty which he proposes to enter shall be confirmed by the Seal of the Company and the Signature of your Board; and when the Plan he has recommended respecting the Disputes at Poona shall have taken place; he will join his Forces with those of the English, and affert his Pretensions to the grand Object of his Wish and Ambition. To the Inconfishency there appears in labouring so strenuously for the Interests of a Power with whom he means foon to be engaged in Hostilities, and for whom he professes to have no friendly Inclination, he answers, by observing, that it is absolutely necessary for his Success; and that when Matters are ripe for Execution, the Opposition of the Paishwa will be added to a Variety of other Excuses that may be framed for a Rupture with that Court. This is a Refinement upon Policy that might almost lead one to suspect he was not altogether serious and determined upon his Sittera Expedition, was it not to be accounted for by the unfortunate Interference of Ragonaut Row's Interest, and proved still more so beyond Contradiction by the Contents of Zuster ul Dowla's Letters written by his own Hand, and which Watherston himself perused.

I have forwarded to the Honourable Governor General and Council Duplicates of the Letters I have received from the Select Committee at Bombay; in confequence of which, as I find War actually commenced in that Quarter, I confider it for the Company's Interest, and confishent with the Spirit of the Instructions of your Government, that I should immediately march with the Troops under me to affish and co-operate with those of Bombay: In the mean Time I hope to be honoured with your particular Orders and Instructions for my future Guidance; and I beg Leave to assure you, that in the Estimation of a just and wise Policy, whatever Proportion the Plan in favour of Ragonaut Row may bear to that intended to have been prosecuted with Moodajee, I shall exert my Endeavours with the same Zeal and Ardour for the Good of the Service, in accomplishing the former, as if the more pleasing and eligible Task had been fortunately assigned me of effecting the latter.

The proposed Treaty with Moodajee would, I am persuaded, have met with no Obstruction, had not the Measures taken by the Bombay Council intervened to counteract it. Should it be found political or proper to put a Stop to them, it will then be liable to no further Interruption. I have reterred Moodajee in this Point entirely to your Government; he waits with Impatience for the Result of your Resolutions, and is ready to take up Arms if you give the Word. In the mean Time the March of this Detachment towards Poona cannot but be attended with the most beneficial Confequences; and the Rajah is convinced, that let your Determination be which Way it will, the Presence of my Force will either be of Use in bringing the Ministers to a proper Sense of their improper Conduct, or to commence the Operations in his Favour when the savourable Juncture shall arrive; I propose therefore to march from this Place immediately, and move forward with all possible Expedicion. I am however necessarily detained Three or Four Days, till the Arrival of the Treasure coming with Lieutenant Watherston from Naigpore. The Gomastah of Goj aul Dots could only Rep. VI.

collect a sufficient Sum to pay off the Bill of One Lack made first payable, so that I was obliged to apply to the Rajah for the remaining Two, who immediately advanced them to me, taking the Bills in Deposit, and without any Discount or Deduction. I think it proper to mention to you, that the Court of Naigpore has cheerfully and willingly assorded every Assistance I found it necessary to require of them, except that of joining me with a Body of Troops, or taking any active Part in the War, prior to which they say it is requisite that a Treaty should be concluded and ratisfied by the solemn Sanction of your Board; and for this Purpose the Delay of some Time is necessary. They have publicly demonstrated their friendly Sentiments to the English, in a Manner obvious to the neighbouring Powers; and the Assurances made by the Rajah and Dewan in the several Conversations with Mr. Watherston, and in particular when he delivered the Presents from me in the Name of your Government, strongly evince their Sincerity. Mr. Watherston's Letter to me on this Subject goes enclosed, together with an Account of the Presents he delivered at the Court of Naigpore.

Thomas Goddard,

Honourable Sir,

Inclosed I have the Honour to transmit you the remaining Part of Mr. Watherston's Correspondence from the Court of Naigpore, together with the Letters from Rajah Moodajee Boosla, which I omitted to forward in my last Night's Address.

You will perceive by the Conversation related in Mr. Watherston's last Letter, which passed upon taking his Leave, how desirous the Rajah is of detaining the Force under my Command in these Parts, till Answers shall arrive from you relative to the Point referred by him to your Government, and till an Accommodation may have taken place with the Ministerial Party at Poona; on this Head my Resolution is however taken, and I have in my former Letter fully explained to you my Motives for proceeding towards Bombay, to be in Readiness to act in Support of the Measures pursued by the Select Committee, either as the Company's Interests may require, or as it may be hereafter found consistent with the Orders and Instructions you may judge it necessary to send me in consequence of the unexpected Part now taken by the Gentlemen at Bombay.

I have also reconciled the present Movement of my Detachment to the Court of Naigpore, by informing them, their Business being ultimately referred to you, as well as the final Determination of the Dilputes with the Poona Ministry, I shall be ready to execute any Measures in concert with him, which you may judge requifite for the mutual Interest of both Parties.

In Reply to what he mentioned to Lieutenant Watherston, respecting Husseingabad and Maundalla, I have in a few Words informed him that the Intention of your Government in sending an Army into his Country, and empowering me to conclude a Treaty with him in your Name, was to obtain an Object more important and essential to his Interests than the partial Subjection of a few small Districts; that in particular the friendly and hospitable Behaviour of the Nawab of Bhopal, to whom Husseingabad now belongs, upon the Arrival of the English Troops in his Country, gave him a Claim to their Favour, and that at any rate I could not act in this Business without the Sanction and Authority of the Governor General and Supreme Council being first obtained.

I have now made known to you every Thing material that has occurred during my Negociation with the Rajah of Berar; and must, together with him, leave the further Prosecution of it, as well as the partial Line you may think proper to prescribe for my future Conduct, to your final Determination.

Camp, near Huffeingabad, January 6th, 1779. I have, &c. the Honour, &c. (Signed) Tho' Goddard.

The Governor General remarks, that the Letters alluded to in that from Mr. Watherston to Colonel Goddard, of the 24th of December, are only Duplicates of those which have been already received direct from the Rajah.

Governor General—I did hope to have been able to lay before the Board at this Meeting, some Plan for Approbation, in consequence of the late Advices from Bombay; but I have been prevented, 1st, by the Necessity of waiting for the Advices from Colonel Goddard now received, and 2dly, by the Want of the Materials which I judged requisite for the Knowledge of the Board, in deciding on the Treaty concluded by the President and Select Committee of Bombay with Ragoba, and on the Measures which would be necessary on our Part, as the Consequences of that Treaty: The Materials to which I allude, are our late Letters to Bombay, especially those which contained the Instructions on which they had concluded and published the Treaty, as the Effect of our immediate Sanction, and their Advices to us respecting their Plan of the 21st July appears to be that now carried into Execution; I shall lose no Time in preparing for the Inspection of the Board, such Propositions as appear to me necessary on the Occasion.

APPENDIX, Nº 178.

To Colonel Goddard.

The Governor General and Council have advised us of their Resolution to remove Colonel Leslies before they heard of his Demile, and of their having appointed you to the chief Command of the Detachment of Forces ordered for the Support of this Presidency: They have also apprized us of the Orders they have given for your Conduct on your Arrival in the Berar Country.

We congratulate you on this Mark of Distinction conferred on you by the Governor General and Council; and though we hope this will meet you well advanced on your March, in confequence of our Letters of the 13th November and 6th Instant, yet to prevent all Disappointment, and that you may not be at any Loss in your Proceedings, we judge it proper to repeat to you that our Forces have actually taken the Field in Profecution of the Plan communicated to the Governor General and Council, for the Restoration of Ragoba, and that we deem it requisite and advisable that the Army under your Command should move forwards towards Bombay.

We therefore hereby require you to advance according to our former Orders, even without a Junction of the Troops of any Power in Alliance with the Honourable Company, and we likewise defire and enjoin you to conduct your March with all possible Expedition.

The Settlement of the Government at Poona is committed to Messes. Carnac, Egerton, and Mostyn, with whom we desire you will correspond; and we flatter ourselves the Movement of our Forces will facilitate your March, in like Manner as we expect the Advance of your Detachment will lessen the Opposition to our Forces.

To Colonel Goddard.

I beg Leave to write you a few Lines, to acquaint you with my Arrival and Reception at the Court of Naigpore: About Three o'Clock this Afternoon, I was met about Two Miles from the Town by Bulwant Roy, the Buckshy's Son, who was sent by the Rajah to conduct me

In the Evening I waited upon the Rajah in his Palace, where I was introduced to his Three Sons, the Dewan, and Bapow Row, the Poona Vackeel: It was full Durbar, and nothing of Businels was talked of: I proposed to the Dewan, to have a Meeting with him on Business immediately, nay, pressed it very much; as my Instructions from you were positive to lose no Time in commencing Negociations, and they were of too important a Nature to admit of any Delay: He has excused himself till To-morrow. The Rajah received me very graciously, and mentioned in the strongest Terms, his Friendship for the English, and his Sense of the Proof given by our Government to theirs, in deputing you to his Court. He has recovered of his Sickness, which was a very severe one, and it is Ten Days since he received public Congratulations on that Account; he still however appears weak; he talks, I am informed, little in general; and at this Time, on account of the Remains of his Indisposition, less than usual. All Business is managed by the Dewan, who has promised to be with me To-morrow, and to whom I will not fail to mention every Circumstance relative to the Business on which I come, when you shall hear from me in the fullest, and I hope most satisfactory Manner.

I have the Honour, &c. &c. &c.

To Colonel Goddard.

About 3 o'Clock in the Afternoon, as my last Letter informed you, the Dewan came according to his Engagement, and continued near Four Hours, when the whole Subject of the Negociation proposed, was fully canvassed. The Particulars of what passed, are as follow:

I first explained to him, the Powers delegated to you by the Governor and Supreme Council, to conclude an Alliance of Friendship, in the Name and by the Authority of the English East India Company, with the Rajah of Berar; mentioned to him the particular Wish of our Government, and your strong Inclination to promote the Interests of Moodajee, together with your Readiness to carry into immediate Execution, any Plan for that Purpose. The Dewan expressed the favourable Intentions of his Master, his Desire to enter into Terms of Friendship with the English, in the warmest Manner, and his Happiness, that an Opportunity how offered of doing so by your Arrival with full Powers from Calcutta to treat with him.

I told the Dewan, you was yourself exceedingly desirous of having a Meeting with the Rajah, and as soon as he consented to the Alliance, would set out for Naigpore to settle the Business with him in Person; that in the mean Time you had sent me to communicate the Nature of the Negociation you meant to carry on, and to obtain his Answer, which would immediately determine your Operations.

I then proceeded to speak particularly to the Points contained in the Instructions given by the Board to Mr. Elliott for concluding an offensive Alliance with Moodajee; concluding that to be the Object which the Board were anxious to obtain, and in particular the End you had principally in view in sending me. It is unnecessary to repeat the Whole of the Arguments I advanced on the Occasion; be assured, I neglected nothing that you had suggested to me, or that occurred to myself at the Time. Indeed so earnestly did I press their Compliance with an Object from its Nature so manifestly tending to their Advantage, that it ought rather to have been proposed and solicited by themselves, that nothing but the Importance of the Measure in its probable suture Consequences, and the strong Wish of Mr. Hastings to effect it, would have justified my Earnestness and Importunities.

It was however to no Effect; and I can affure you as you will plainly perceive by their Letters now writing you on the Subject, that they are determined not to take any active Part whatever with our Armies.

They have a thousand Arguments to oppose to those I urged in favour of the Plan for assuming the Dignity of Rauge of Sittara; they gave a long Detail of the past Transactions of their History, the Connections which they have fince formed, and the Treaties solemnly entered into by them in consequence. They then dwelt a good deal upon the Regard they have ever paid to their have by an Adherence to which they have always been prosperous and flourishing.

They say they have sworn to an Alliance of Friendship with the present Peishwa, Pundit Purdhaun Madhurow, which they cannot violate; and add, that their afferting their Pretensions to the Sovereignty will meet with numberless Oppositions; and that though Victory must in the End crown our Arms over them all; it will not be without shedding much Blood, and at the Expence of their violating the facred Force of Engagements before entered into by them. This last Circumstance the Dewan lays much Stress on. It is plain from every Sentiment expressed by him, that the Rayah does not mean on any Account at this Time to commence a War in Support of his Claim.

I represented to him the favourable Opportunity that now presented itself; an Army on his Fiontier, ready to accomplish his Wish, the distracted State of Affairs at Poona, which would prevent the Ministry from seriously opposing him, however hostilely inclined; and that the Reasons he had in his Letter urged to Mr. Hastings and you accounted for the Difficulties occasioned by Mr. Elliott's Death; and the Delay of the Detachment now no longer existing. All this he acknowledged; but declared it contrary to every Consideration of Prudence and Policy, for his Master at this Time to adopt the Scheme proposed: He talked of deferring it for Two or Three Years; but could not give any particular Reason, why it would then be more eligible than at this Time. The Motives by which they seem to be actuated, appear to me as follow:

Knowing the friendly Intercourse substitting betwixt the English and themselves, and also plainly

Knowing the friendly Intercourse subsisting betwixt the English and themselves, and also plainly soreseeing that a Rupture with the Peishwa is at this Time absolutely unavoidable, they wish not to involve themselves in any Hostilities till the Event of the War shall determine on whose Side Victory will sinally declare; I doubt not but they are convinced in the Opinion, that it will be on ours, in which Case they are assured of a Friend in us; and should it prove otherwise, besides in the mean Time securing their Country from the Effects of War, they would have the less to fear from the Resentment of the Ministerial Party hereafter.

The Dewan told me, that Zuffer-ul-Dowla, the Chief of Narnull (at present independant of Nizam Ally) is much inclined to unite himself with Moodajee; that Letters have come from him, soliciting the Rajah in the strongest Terms to join with the English, and affert his Pretensions to the Sovereignty of Sittara, in which Zuffer-ul-Dowla is ready to affit him with his Forces: Notwithstanding this concurrent favourable Circumstance, says the Dewan, the Attempt cannot be made at this Time; in short, let what will be the Motive for retracting from the ambitious Projects the Rajah once meditated, it is now obvious that he has altered his Views altogether, or at least that he has deferred them till a future Opportunity.

The Dewan did not fail to mention to me the Motion of the Bombay Troops towards Poona, which he afferts to be an absolute Fact, and communicated to him by undoubted Authority: Ragonaut Row's adopted Son accompanies them with a Body of his Father's Troops; so that there is no Doubt of the Intentions at least of that Government in favour of that Chief. This Circumstance, (though he did not positively say so) what with the general Aversion in which Ragonaut Row is held; the particular Disputes which have of late arisen betwixt him and Moodajee, when the latter was compelled to make Terms with the present Peishwa and Nizam Ally; and above all, a Consciousness that his attaining the Rauze of Sittara in the Extent he wished, under the Administration of Ragonaut Row, would be impracticable; I say this Circumstance seems an effectual Bar to the Rajah's Concurrence with the Plan projected for his Advancement by the Supreme Government at Calcutta, besides a firm Persuasion, I am certain it will be impossible to divert him of, that however we may profess to favour his Views, our principal and ultimate End is to favour those of Ragonaut Row. Many Partse of the Dewan's Conversation, and which do not at present occur, to communicate minutely, were of a Tendency to assure me beyond the Need of surther Conviction, that every Effort to peruade the Rajah into a Concurrence with the proposed Plan would be absolutely inessectual.

Although there is too much Reason to believe the Report of our Troops at Bombay being in Moion. I have fince my Arrival at this Court affected to suppose it might be premature, or attempted ouccount for it by some Dispute which might have happened with the Peishwa and our Government here, or some Quarrel distinct from Ragonaut Row's Cause; positively persisting in the Intentions of the Supreme Board at Calcutta, to enter into and support the Views and Pretensions of Moodajee.

I was induced to be the more peremptory on this Head, from the Contents of the Supreme Council's Letter to the Gentlemen at Bombay, relative to Mr. Elliott's Embassy, in which they positively request that Government to refrain from any Engagements of a Nature hostile to the actual Administration at Poona, excepting such as may appear absolutely necessary for the Defence of their own Possessions.

The Necessity thus provided against by no Means appearing admissible in Excuse for the Measures this Court supposed have been taken in favour of Ragonaut Row, I have not scrupled altogether to doubt the Inclinations for restoring him, having prompted the Bombay Council to take the Field at this Time; and having afferted my Belief that they mean only to be in Readiness to support and cooperate with us in favour of Moodajee's Claim.

I am to have an Interview with the Rajah To-morrow, when I shall be able to write you more particularly.

I have the Honour, &c. &c. &c. (Signed)

To Colonel Goddard.

Sir,

I wrote you Yesterday informing you of the Subject of a Conference I had with the Minister: As you desired me to be very minute in relating every Circumstance that might occur during my Stay at the Place, I shall punctually communicate the smallest Particular, in the Course of which, if I mention any Thing that does not immediately relate to the present Negociation, or that seems to contradict the Sentiments expressed by the Court in any former Conference, it may still be of Use to discover their real Object, and give you a more clear and complete Idea of the Situation of Assairs here.

This Evening I had a private Interview with the Rajah, at which his Three Sons and the Minister were present, when the Whole of the Conversation of the preceding Evening was again talked over, and the same Sentiments freely and clearly declared.

The Rajah has however entered more fully into his own particular Views; he has acknowledged the Object of his Wish: and to prove his Sincerity in that Respect, the Minister shewed me Two Letters from Zusser-ul-Dowla, the Nawab of Narnull, in which he urges the Rajah to make Use of the Opportunity now offered by the Arrival of the English Troops, and possess himself of the Sovereignty of Sittara.

The Rajah talked much of his intimate Connection and Friendship with this Nawab, whom he esteemed as his own Son, and the Desire he had of making him also a Friend of the English. To this I answered in general Terms, that the English would ever consider his Friends as their own.

Moodajee added, that I plainly faw what his Views really were, but that many Things were first necessary before they could be accomplished: In the First Place, a Treaty of Friendship must be concluded betwixt the English Company and himself. I told him that was your Intention, and that you was impowered to do so by the Governor General and Council. I then explained to him the Principles upon which it was proposed a defensive Alliance should be made; to all which he gave a general Consent; but added, that the Concurrence of the Council must be obtained from Calcutta, before his Mind could be at Ease, and before he would undertake the grand and important Enterinze. I then read to him the Board's Credentials, and explained the Nature of them, pointing out the full Authority with which it is customary for the English to invest their Ministers when sent to treat with any foreign Power: At the same Time I told him, that those Articles which were intended to be of a permanent Nature, and did not require an immediate Execution, might be suffectled here, and ultimately referred to the Confirmation of the Board, but that what related to the immediate Service of the Troops could not wait for this Reference; and I exhorted him in the warmest Terms to restect upon the Opportunity that now presented itself, and which might not perhaps so readily occur to his Wish. My Endeavours were however to no Purpole, and he has affured me, that he cannot now undertake the Business; he is writing Letters to the Governor and to you to this Esset, which however will not be ready to accompany this Dispatch; I shall therefore forward them by some survey of the Opportunity.

Rep. VI. (T t)

A P P E N D I X, Nº 170.

In the Course of our this Day's Conversation, many Points most strongly insisted on Yesterday were either totally omitted, or but slightly touched upon. The Sacredness of public Faith was once hinted, but no Regard to the Peishwa's Interest at all expressed; on the contrary, the Rejah plainly avowed his own ambitious Projects; but, as I mentioned before, declared the present Season for attempting them altogether improper and unsit. Ragonaut Row was not at all introduced into the Subject of this Day's Conversation; but after all I am led to believe that the present apparent Revolution in his Favour is the principal Bar to our Negociation. The various Excuses urged To-day for Delay are prompted since the Conference of Yesterday, to soften the Resulal they think it political to give to the present Proposals made to them; at the same Time they mean to keep up the friendly Intercourse they now have with our Government, and to improve it hereafter to their own Advantage at a favourable Opportunity.

Šír.

I have now the Pleasure to transmit you a Letter from the Rajah to yourself, and Two from Mr. Hastings, which the Rajah requests you will forward to Calcutta: Their Contents I have already fully explained to you in my former Letters: As they exactly correspond with the Resolutions expressed in the several Conferences I have had at this Court, I Yesterday paid the Dewan a Visit, when every Particular was again fully and minutely discussed.

Their first Wish seems now to set aside our Connection with Ragonaut Row, the supporting whom the Dewan says he is convinced is highly impolitical, and will in the End be fully proved so. The Abhorrence in which that Chief is universally held is, he says, no Secret to you; and the Prejudices in the Decan against him will not easily if ever be removed. There may be One Cause why this Court is peculiarly inimical towards him, because an intimate Connection formerly subsisted betwixt him and Moodajee, which has since sustained a total Change; in effecting which, Policy concurred with Inclination on the Part of the Berar Rajah to combine with the Peishwa and Nizam, when he solemnly engaged to them never to assist or join Ragonaut. The principle Cause, however, of their Objection to the Bombay Schemes is, I make no Doubt, the invincible Bar they foresee they will occasion to the Accomplishment of their own.

This Confideration furnishes one of the most considerable Objections to the Negociations proposed to have been entered into with them at this Time; and another they assign is the unprepared State in which they now are for effecting the grand Object of their Ambition, for which they say powerful Alliances, a large Treasure, and numerous Force, are absolutely necessary.

The Dewan did not scruple to say that your Detachment was unequal to such an Enterprize; he softened this, by adding, that wherever you marched, and whatever Foe you attacked, you would be victorious; but that it was necessary to guard against the Depredations of Enemies so sudden in their Motions as the Marattas are, in many Quarters; that it would be requisite to leave Two Battalions for the Protection of Naigpore, and Two for that of Narnull: In short, he summed up his Judgment of the Matter by saying, Twenty Battalions would be requisite, and a Thousand Europeans, for this Work; the Thousand Europeans he means principally for the Service of the Guns, for he has no Idea of that Duty being properly performed but by them: In this Opinion I confirmed him, but added, a few skilful Men would be able to manage our Artillery. What they seem to have in View at present is this, the making a Peace betwixt the English and the Peishwa through their Mediation, the totally discarding Ragonaut Row, and the taking a future Occasion of afferting their Pretensions, when a Treaty should have been concluded in the Manner they propose to the Governor.

The Dewan, whose Influence directs every thing here, is a Man of great Prudence and Abilities; nor does he seem inclined to suffer his Master to enter upon this Business, or risk the Safety of his own Dominions by new Projects, till he conceives every Possibility of Disappointment is effectually obviated: The present State of Things by no Means slatters or promises Success to the At-chievement.

The Letter they have wrote to you is perfectly plain and pointed, as are those addressed to the Governor. The Dewan advises the March of your Detachment to Poona, by which Time the Governor may send Orders to Bombay of the Nature recommended in the Rajah's Letter, and Reme Ram also may have settled the other Business with Mr. Hastings. He talks a good deal inconsistently, for he proposed going himself to Poona, to act as Mediator on the Part of his Master, with the Ministers there, which would be a Proof of the highest Friendship; whilst at the same Time he ought to be thinking of arming, in consequence of Mr. Hastings's Resolves, against the very Root of the Peshwa's Power; in short, I am, from Circumstances occurring in the Course of Conversation, well persuaded, that however desirous the Rajah himself may be, the Dewan is himself more lukewarm; perhaps he thinks his own Honour concerned in the maintaining the Treaties between the Nizam and the Peishwa, which he himself principally brought about; and there is even Room to believe believe he may have entered into Negociations of a very secret Nature with the Ministry at Poona, who are Brahmins like himself; nor do I imagine it can be his Wish to see the Power of the Brahmins totally annihilated, which would be the inevitable Consequence of placing a Rajepoot of the Authority of Moodajee in the Throne of Sittara.

Last Night, by some Means or other, he seemed to give a Loose to his Sentiments a good deal; he acknowledged you had Cause to be offended with the Reception given to Monsieur St. Lubin at Poona, by the Ministerial Party, which he described.

He says he brought Letters from the French King, and told them in the Name of his Master, to point out in what Manner they might be served, as the French were ready to do so. He had very valuable Presents, among which, was one Picture of a very particular Nature, and which denoted the deep Address and Cunning with which the Designs had been laid: It represents I the Murder of Narrain Row, in the most striking Point of View, and the Providence of Heaven interfering (which were indeed the Heads of the Ministerial Party) to save the Wise of Narrain Row, Gungaboy, from Destruction, who is attempting to kill herself; and telling her to bring forth that Child with which she was pregnant (meaning the present Peishaw) who would live to revenge his Father's Death, and perpetuate the Glories of his Race.

The Reception they gave St. Lubin, was most gracious and attentive; he was presented with an Elephant, &c. in Proportion, and liberally supplied with every Thing, whilst our Resident Mr.

Mostyn was denied Access to the Durbar, and received even particular Indignities.

St. Lubin since, or about the Time of the March of our Detachment, was dismissed from Poona, and is gone to Nidjiff Khân.

Dewagur describes with great Satisfaction the Conduct of St. Lubin, who, he says, wept a good deal at this affecting Story, as did some of the other old Brahmins there; but Nana Furnese laughed at the Artifice of the Frenchman, and greatly admired the Facility with which he could shed real Tears.

24th December 1778.

To Colonel Goddard.

Sir,

I have received your Letter of the 21st, by which I find the News of the Bombay Troops being in Motion has also reached you, and before this I make no Doubt it will be fully and particularly confirmed to you. This Circumstance and the Determination of the Beiar Court to remain at present inactive, which I have in my former Letter signified to you, will of course make you anxious to adopt some Plan of immediate Operations.

By every thing that has passed since my Arrival here, I am fully persuaded of the friendly Inclinations of Moodajee towards the English; I before mentioned Two Letters he shewed me from Zusser-ul-Dowlab, the Nawab of Narnul, and informed me of the Contents; last Night he received another, he fent it me to peruse.

It begins with abuling the Government at Poona, pointing out their Infolence in a Gleam of Profeerity, and their opposite Conduct when apprehensive of any Missortune, which he proves by reminding the Rajah of the Threats the Ministers had formerly made use of when they were victorious over the Party raised by Nanah Furnese and comparing it with the Expressions they now employed to prevail upon Moodajee and himself to unite in opposing the English, who they say, in Breach of the solemn Treaty they had made, are marched with an Army from Bombay to support Ragonaut Row; in short, Zusser-ul-Dowla tells the Rajah that the Behaviour of these People is solely dictated by their own private Views, and advises him to put no Considence whatever in their Professions but to join the English, who, he says, are able and willing to be his faithful Friends: He adds a sew Words to the Letter in his own Hand Writing, which are earnessly pressing him to make Friends with the English, and to join their Forces, which are come into his Country: He also encloses a Copy of a Letter from the Ministers to the Nizam, informing him of the March of the Bombay Detachment, and their taking Post at Bhore Gaut; to oppose whom they have detached Scindia and Tookajee Holcar, with Orders to punish their Temerity; they press the Nizam to join them; and after talking of some Grants of Land which they had made over to him, for which Purpose they had given Orders to their Aumil, they mention their Instructions hereafter, sending Scindia and Holcar to assist him in punishing Hyder Naig, who they say is now besieging some Fort belonging to them.

I forgot to tell you that in Zusser-ul Dowla's Letter he informs the Rajah that the Ministers have wrote to him of their entering into Terms of Friendship with Hyder Naig: How palpably the Two Letters contradict each other in that Respect. As a farther Proof of the Artistices to which they are obliged to have Recourse, they propose to the Nizam, as an Inducement for his joining with them, to assist him in attacking Arcot. They have also instructed their Minister at this Court, Bapow Row, to demand the Assistance of the Rajah; and have promised to send Scindia and Holcar with a Body of Troops to assist him in levying the Chout of Bengal. They have surther proposed to the Rajah to give him an Extent of Country in the Province of Khendesh, that will yield a Revenue equal to mat of Cuttack (as they perceive he is apprehensive of the English taking it into their Possession)

and they will themselves receive Cuttack in Exchange, which they will maintain against all our Efforts.

Moodajee sees the Situation of the Poona Durbar, and the Folly of their Councils; he is resolved firmly to observe a neutral Part at present; and recommends to the Peishwa by no Means to enter upon a War with the English, which must be attended with certain Ruin to his Government. He avows to them his Friendship for us, but also gives them to understand he will not fight against their Forces; and if they commence Hostilities against him, he has nothing to dread from their Power, supported as he will be by the Arms of the English.

It appears that a better Opportunity than the present could not offer for our settling the Affairs of this Country according to our Wish; Moodajee and the Narnull Nawab are our Friends; Hyder Naig has for his Enemies ours; the Partizans of Ragonaut Row will greatly divide the Force of the Maratta State; and I have Reason to think that even Nizam Ally will observe a Neutrality.

I think it necessary to say something about Bapow Row, the Minister at this Court from the Poons Durbar: He has often resided here in that Character; and about Eight Months ago came to endeavour to prevail upon the Rajah to fend his Son Ragogee with a Force to affift the Peishwa against Hyder Naig, which he was put off from Day to Day with Hopes of obtaining, till the March of our Detachment, and the Rumour of the Deligns of our Government, gave a Turn to the System of their Politics; since that Time he has been indefatigable in counteracting our Views at this Court; he is treated with a good deal of Respect and Attention, and though his Assiduity and Influence may have proved too weak to make Moodajee wish to break off his Alliance with us, it has I make no Doubt affisted a good deal to prevent his acting hostilely against the Peishwa. I was introduced to him on the Day of my public Audience, but have not met with him since.

This Evening I visited the Dewan; he proposed, when we were discoursing on the Subject of our Disputes with the Peishwa, that this Man should be sent for; but I objected talking to him formally on any Point relating to public Business; as a private Friend of the Dewan's only, I should be glad to see him-the Motion for lending for him was immediately dropped.

I went Yesterday, by the particular Request of the Rajah, to see his Artillery; he takes much Pride and Pleature in it, and has made a Number of Pieces of Ordnance himself; they are some of them large, and prettily ornamented; but the Carriages, &c. are exceedingly clumfy, and ill-constructed: He has Four or Five Europe Guns apparently old. The Whole of his Artillery amounts to Forty; Twelve of which are very small, not exceeding the Bore of One of our Muskets. He has some Half Portugueze, and a few vagabond Europeans in his Service, who receive about 30 Rupees per

They tell of Two Frenchmen of some Consequence and Rank that came here about Five Months ago; one of them died, the other is gone to obtain Service, either with the Peishwa or Nizam. Extravagance is not a Fault of this Rajah; and I find, though he treated the furviving Frenchman with sufficient Attention, and even made him some Presents, giving him Money for his present Support, he would not fatisfy his Expectations to induce him to remain in Employment at Naigpore; perhaps on Account of Mr. Elliott's expected Arrival, and the Negociations he was carrying on with the English, the Rajah was not desirous of his Stay.

Flowever upon the strictest Enquiry, I can see no Grounds to suspect the Interests of the French Nation were any ways connected with this Visit.

I have the Honour, &c. &c. &c. Dal. Watherston. (Signed)

Naigpore, 27th December 1778.

To Colonel Goddard.

In consequence of the Authority you gave me for so doing, I signified to this Government that I had in my Possession some Presents as Testimonies of Friendship from the Honourable Governor General and Council, which you had hoped to have the Happiness of delivering yourself in Person when you saw the Rajah; but as you were disappointed in that Hope, you had desired me to present them in your Name: He received them with many Marks of Satisfaction, and said a Number of Things expressive of his Attachment to the English, whose Friendship he affirmed he never would relinquish; but that the Family of Boosta should be the same with the English, without Diminution, to the End of Tirre. This Declaration he repeated, laying his Hand upon his Breaft; adding, that he did so that his Three Sons, who were sitting by him, might be Witnesses of his Sentiments, and that it might make an Impression on their Minds.

The Dewan proposed that the Presents intended for him might be given in Presence of the Rajah also; which I accordingly did, and he received them with the same Proofs of Satisfaction, expressing himself particularly pleased with the Present of the Ink-stand, which he placed upon his Head, as a Mark of the honourable Distinction he thought done him by sending it.

Many Things were said upon the Subject of the Presents, all expressive of the Satisfaction they gave; and I am particularly pleased that this Proof of Attention, so necessary in opening a Negociation with any of these States, whose established Custom it is to make that Ceremony an Introduction to Buliness, has not been omitted.

I this Evening obtained my Audience of Leave from the Rajah, at which his Sons and the Ministed were present, as indeed they have always been at the several Interviews I have had since my Arrival. He repeated at this Conversation the Assurances of Friendship, and Desire of Alliance with the English, which he before expressed to me; and assigned the same Reasons for delaying the Conclusion of the proposed Treaty with our Government, which I have communicated to you in my tormer Letters. He rested his Hopes of every Success in his own future Views upon the Resolutions which may be taken at Calcutta, and the Answers which shall arrive in consequence of the Letters he has addressed to Mr. Hastings, and forwarded to him through you; these, he says, contain every I hing necessary to be attended to for the Accomplishment of his Wishes, and the Substance of what he has empowered Benie Ram to propose to Mr. Hastings in his Name, by whom also he has fent Duplicates of the same Letters.

Benie Ram Pundit is to fet out immediately by Way of Cuttack; but as he means to travel by daily Stages, I do not suppose he will arrive at Calcutta in less than Forty Days.

In addition to the Proposals before made by this Court, relative to the Troops under your Command, the Rajah and Duan expressed a strong Desire that they might not move forwards towards Poona, but remain in the Neighbourhood of the Berar Territories till Orders might arrive from the Supreme Council, in Answer to the Rajah's Letters; and in the mean Time, as it would be necessary to make some Provision for the Expence that would be requisite for their Maintenance, prior to the final Adjustment of the grand Object, they proposed that you should reduce to the Subjection and Authority of the Rajah, the Districts of Husseingabad and Mundalla, over both which they advance a legal Claim of Sovereignty, and which they affert are unjustly withheld from them by the present Possessions: To effect this Service they propose ordering a small Force to accompany you.

Not having received any Instructions from you on these Points, I declined giving any particular Answer regarding them; but as I was to set out for Camp immediately, I promised to make known to you their Proposals, to which you would yourself immediately send an Answer.

As the Distance of this Place, and the Length of Time 1 must necessarily take in conducting the Treasure to Camp, will make my Arrival something tedious, I have dispatched an Express to you with the Particulars of what has passed, that you may be enabled to reply to the Rajah's Proposals without Loss of Time, in the Manner you may yourself judge most proper.

I beg Leave to intimate to you One Circumstance relative to Bapou Row, whom in a former Letter I have mentioned as Minister from the Peishwa at this Court: This Man prior to my Arrival, and for some Time after, was treated with great Attention and Respect; but for some Reason, which I cannot certainly learn, is now a good deal neglected, and the Dewan told me he was to return to Poona in a few Days; I know he remonstrated very freely with this Court for the Partiality and Friendship shewn by them to the English, but to no Effect; and I believe some Altercations arose betwixt the Minister and him on these Subjects, which produced the present Rupture.

Naigpore, 1st January 1778. I have the Honour to be, Sir, &c. &c. &c. (Signed) Dal. Watherston.

N.B. The Rajah has requested me to take in Charge for you an Elephant, a Cheeta for hunting Deer, a Hawke, and a Kooka, which I consented to bring with me.

(Signed)

D. Watherston.

Bengal Secret Consultations, 4th February 1779.

PRESENT;

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Esquires. and Edward Wheler,

R E-considered the Advices from Bombay, recorded in the last Consultation.

The Governor General delivers in the following Minute:

REP. VI.

(U u)

The

APPENDIX, Nº 171.

The following Observations have occurred to me as worthy Notice in the Consideration of the Letter lately received from the President and Select Committee of Bombay, and now before the Board:

On the 17th of August we received a Letter from the President and Select Committee of Bombay, dated the 25th of July, informing us that they had concerted a new Plan for conducting Ragonaut Row to Poona. We replied on the same Day, and authorized them to carry their Plan into Execution, with the following express Provisions:

1st. That it should not interfere with any Engagement formed with Moodajee Boosla by Mr. Elliott, and previously notified to them by him.

2d. That their latest Advices from Europe should amount to an Assurance that the Force required for this Service might be spared without endangering the Sasety of Bombay in the Event of a French Invasion.

3d. That the Engagements which they might form either with Ragonaut Row himself, or with Moraba and his Associates, should not be contrary to those concluded by Mr. Elliott, and notified to them, nor of a hostile Tendency to the Government of Berar.

These appear to have been the last Instructions received by them from this Government when they resolved on the Execution of the Plan, and concluded the Treaty with Ragonaut Row, of which they have advised us in their Letter of the 12th of December; these they have quoted to us as their Authority, and the same Authority has been proclaimed to the World by Ragonaut Row in his Manifesto.

So far the Letter of these Instructions could warrant the Execution of their Plan, independently of the Circumstances under which they were dictated; the subsequent Change of these Circumstances, the Period of Time originally fixed and notified to us for its Execution, the great Lapse of that Time, and the known and actual State of our political System, it is certainly warranted by them, since no Engagement had been formed between this Government and that of Berar; nor do the Conditions of the Treaty visibly bear a hostile Tendency to the Government of Berar; neither are they in any Danger of a French Invasion.

But whether it can be justified under all the other Considerations which I have enumerated, I shall leave to a higher Authority to determine, since it is not my Intention to propose that we should either disclaim or annul it; I shall simply confine myself to a brief Recital of the Transactions and Events which have happened since the Notifications of their Design, and which may affect the Propriety of it, considered relatively to the Time and Mode of its Execution.

The Time first appointed for the Execution of the Plan was the Beginning of September.

On the 11th September they advised us, that "they had not yet taken any Measures in the Prosecution of the Plan, but should speedily come to some decisive Resolutions, and advise us immediately of the Result," referring us to Mr. Lewis for sull Information of the Situation of Affairs at Poona.

The Words which I have marked with Lines drawn under them were too emphatical not to attract our particular Notice when they were read, and obviously impressed us with the Persuasion, that as so long a Time had already elapsed (for the Letter did not reach us till the 2d of November) and as we had received no other Advices from them, though promised to be immediately sent us, of the decisive Resolutions which were speedily to follow it, no Resolutions had followed, but that the Plan had proved abortive. In this Opinion we were confirmed; I speak for myself, at least by the Information received from Mr. Lewis, that the Heads of the Party at whose Invitation the Presidency of Bombay had formed the Design of conducting Ragonaut Row to Poona, were all either imprisoned or deprived of Office and Authority. I must add in this Place, that notwithstanding the Promises so pointedly given in their Letter of the 11th September, we heard no more from them till the Receipt of their Letter of the 12th December now before us.

Our Army was at this Time far advanced; the Object originally presented to it seemed to have vanished, and none remained but the proposed Alliance with Moodajee Boosla, which had been to this Time treated as little more than a Resource, to which we looked in the Event of a Failure in the Design furnished us by the Presidency of Bombay. It was now resolved to adopt it wholly; and to prevent our being embarrassed by a Revival of the former, Colonel Goddard having been empowered by our Letter of the 16th November, to negociate a Treaty with Moodajee Boosla on the Ground of Mr. Elliott's Instructions; he was by another Letter of the 22d of the same Month released from the Authority of the Presidency of Bombay, and directed to obey only the Orders of this Board, with the Allowance to exercise his own Discretion in complying with such Requisitions from them as were not inconsistent with the special and single Commission which he had now in Charge.

not inconsistent with the special and single Commission which he had now in Charge.

These were Consequences which the Presidency of Bombay ought to have foreseen and to have made a Provision for them; I will venture to say that they did foresee them; they knew that our Army was on the Way, and making quick Advances, their Letter mentions it; they knew that we were in Treaty with Moodajee; they knew that we had left the Negociations open for the Accomplishment of their Plan, while there was a Chance of its taking Effect; and as they had given us every Cause to conclude that it would not take Effect, they ought to have concluded in their Turn that we had indemnissed ourselves for the Disappointment by an immediate and decided Engagement with Moodajee, the only Resource now left us; and which in Effect we had at first abandoned to act in the Prosecution of the Schemes which they had presented to us, and to which the Orders of the Company had required our preferable Attention. They knew also that at the very Time in which they were in Treatry with Ragonaut Row, and preparing to conduct him to Poona, the Ministers of this Government were either in immediate Treaty, or on the Point of commencing it with Moodajee Boosla; and that we had already drawn that Prince into a declared Party with our Government, by the Prospect held out to him of the Credit and Advantages of our Atlance; under such Circumstances they will possibly be deemed by impartial Judges to have exceeded the Point of Duty in acting at all, and in not waiting for the Result of the depending Measures of their superior Government: But as they had resolved to act, they surely ought to have paid some Regard to the probable State of our Connection with Moodajee, and have left an Opening for his Admission into their Engagements with Ragonaut Row, after our Example, and in the same Manner as our Instructions to Mr. Elliott had prescribed the Junction of Ragonaut Row in his Negociation with Moodajee. This Precaution they wholly neglected, confining themselves to a bare Acknowledgment of any Engagements which might have been actually concluded with Moodajee at the precise Date of their Treaty, without which the Treaty itself would have been invalid. Thus far their Conduct may have been defective; it has defeated our Measures and exposed us to the Suspicion of Duplicity; but I know not how it can be remedied.

the

The last Point which remains to be noticed is of greater Consequence, and merits a more substantial Consideration of it, as the Remedy is, I presume, within our Power, and our Duty requires that we should apply it. It will be remembered that our Detachment was expressly designed for the Support of the Plan communicated to us by the Prefidency of Bombay, in December 1777, and fince executed in a different Form. Its Object was afterwards varied, because we understood, on the Authority of that Presidency, that their Plan was wholly laid aside. They have now precipitately recalled it to its original Pursuit, but have neither provided the Means of indemnifying the Company for the past Expences of the Army, nor a Fund for its future Subsistence, although it was one of the First Injunctions given to them, when we resolved on furnishing them with this Aid, "That a specific "Sum should be required, to reimburse the Company for the military Charges which might be "incurred by their Interposition." See our Resolutions of the January 1778. The 9th and "incurred by their Interpolition." See our Resolutions of the January 1778. The 9th and 10th Articles of the Treaty do indeed bind Ragonaut Row to the Payment of a specific Sum, viz. Two and a Half Lacks of Rupees per Month for the Charges of the Army and Stores with which he was to be affilted now, that is from the Prefidency of Bombay only; and the Number of Men compoling this Aid is fixed at 4000, which is within 90 of the Force actually employed on this Service. But they have not only made no Provision for the Charge of our Detachment; they feem to have fludied to preclude it altogether, by the following Clause of the 10th Article, viz. " Which the " Governor and Select Committee agree to accept without further Account, in full of every Expence " attending the Army."

I hope and believe, that however we may have differed, or may differ, on other Points, we shall be unanimous in the Resolution to require that this Defect of the Treaty be supplied by a Demand of a specific Sum for the Reimbursement of the past Expences incurred by the Expedition, and of a

It does not appear necessary for this Board to express either an Approval or Disapproval of the Treaty. It has been made under the Declaration of their Sanction, and proclaimed as possessing it. The Conditions have received the firmest and fullest Ratification that could be given to them by the contracting Parties, and cannot therefore admit of Amendment or Addition. It is happily conformable to the Orders of the Court of Directors; and if the Objects of it be successfully prosecuted, the essential Purposes of our late Measures, which have a Relation to the Marattas, will be answered by it, though perhaps not so essentially, nor so durable a System of Policy established as might have been obtained by an Alliance with Moodajee Boosla, on the Footing projected for it. The Measure is past, and cannot be recalled; our own Plan has been rendered impracticable by it, and our Detachment must by this Time be far advanced to support it. We have therefore no Option. We must give it all the Aids that can be effectually bestowed on it.

But I do not think for this Purpose we should entirely disarm our own Government of its Powers, and leave it to the Discretion of the Government of Bombay. This would be neither consistent with the Lessons of Prudence which we have learnt from dearly-bought Experience, nor with the Dignity we possess as the superior State. Besides, the near Approach of the Period which has been fixed for the Duration of the present Government imposes an additional Obligation upon us to maintain inviolate those Rights of which we are but the temporary Guardians. The Desects of the present System have been manifested by a Trial of Five Years; and it is to be expected that the Wisdom of the Legislature will provide a more complete and essectual Control for the new Administration of the British Assairs in India, than that which was constituted by the last Act of Parliament. With this Consideration in Prospect, I shall propose that Colonel Goddard shall still retain his Independancy on the Government of Bombay; and that he be invested with Powers to treat with the Administration of Poona, as the Minister and Representative of this Government, on all Points which regard the general Interests of the Company, or the particular Views of this Government.

Having thus laid down the Grounds of our future Conduct, I shall now proceed to recommend the following Propositions as dependant on them:

Ist. That Colonel Goddard be directed to co-operate with the Presidency and Select Committee of Bombay, and with the Committee appointed by them for conducting the political and military Affairs at Poona, in the Support of the Treaty concluded by that Presidency with Ragonaut Row, and of the Operations dependant on it.

2d. That

2d. That he be confirmed in the Possession of the Powers which he at present holds, dependant on the Governor General and Council of Bengal, and independant of the Government of Bombay.

3d. That he be authorized to apply for such Reinforcements of Troops from the Presidency of Bombay as he shall judge necessary for completing the Strength of his Detachment, and to receive the same, with the Condition that they be not commanded by any Officer of a superior Rank to his own, and that the Presidency of Bombay be desired to furnish him with such Reinforcements, on the Condition thus prescribed.

4th. That he shall not interfere in any of the Negociations or other Transactions of the Committee appointed by the President and Select Committee of Bombay, nor in any Points which respect the Treaty lately concluded with Ragonaut Row, or the separate and immediate Interests of that Presidency, except only in such Points in which he shall be called upon by the Presidency and Select Committee, or by the Committee appointed for conducting the military and political Assaurs at Poona, for his Advice or Assistance.

5th. That he be appointed by the Minister of this Government at the Court of Poona, with full Powers to treat with Ragonaut Row, or fuch other Person or Persons as shall be at the Head of the Maratta State, upon such Matters as shall be expressly given to him in Charge; and to accept or conclude any Engagements for the same on the Part of the Governor General and Council; and that a Letter of Credence be given him to that Effect.

6th. That he be instructed to demand from Ragonaut Row, or the Government for the Time being, Payment of the Expences already incurred in the Expedition undertaken by the Detachment under his Command, estimated at 2 Lacks of Rupces per Month, from the 1st of June 1778 to the Day of Arrival at or near Poona, and a Monthly Subsidy to the same Amount, for the Time in which it shall remain at Poona; with the Allowance of Six Months for the Return of the Detachment to Bengal from the Day of its Dismission; that it be lest to his Discretion to obtain the most complete Security for these Payments, either by Assignments on the public Treasury, or on respectable Shroffs, or, on the last Resort, on any of the Aumils or Collectors of the Revenue, who shall engage to him for the same, but not on the Collections themselves; and that he be expressly forbidden to interfere, or to have any Concern in the Collections, or to suffer any Person under his Authority to interfere, or have any Concern therein.

7th. That in case of the Refusal to comply with this Demand, or of such an Evasion of it as shall be equivalent to a Refusal, Colonel Goddard be directed to notify the same to the Committee, and to the President and Select Committee of Bombay; and either to return with the Detachment under his Command to the Province of Berar, or to retire to the Lands ceded to the Company, and in Possession of the Government of Bombay, at his Discretion; and that the President and Select Committee of Bombay be peremptorily required and commanded, in such Case, to recall their Troops from Poona, and from the Maratta Dominions.

8th. That the Instructions already given to Colonel Goddard do remain in full Force; and that he be directed to return the Negociations with the Government of Berar, and to treat with it on the Grounds of those Instructions, whenever an Occasion shall offer to prosecute them consistently with the foregoing Resolutions.

9th. That the President and Select Committee of Bombay be desired to appoint an Agent or Minister on the Part of their Government, for the Management of its separate Concerns with the Administration of Poona, and for the Accomplishment of the Treaty lately concluded with Ragonaut Row; that his Instructions be limited to these Objects, and that they themselves be forbidden to enter into any new Engagements without a previous Application to us, and our Sanction obtained.

Mr. Francis—I shall give these Propositions the most attentive Consideration; but that the Board may have the whole Subject at once before them, I beg Leave to ask, whether it be meant that the Detachment under Major Camae shall proceed under its present Orders, or be recalled? Colonel Goddard's Advance to Poona, I apprehend, alters the Ground on which that Reinforcement was sent, and makes it now impracticable to effect a Junction between the Two Detachments.

Governor General—I think it is probable that we may find Reasons in the subsequent Advices from Colonel Goddard to recall Major Camac; but I do not think that we should too precipitately resolve on this Measure, as we are yet unacquainted with the Result of the Expedition undertaken by the Presidency of Bombay, the Event of which may render the Advance of this Reinforcement very essentially necessary. Colonel Goddard was advited of our Resolution to send him this Reinforcement in our Letter of the 28th December, which I understand from the Secretary was dispatched on the 1st or 2d of January. It will probably have reached him before the End of last Month, allowing the greatest probable Length of Time for its Conveyance, and his Answer to it may be expected by the End of this Month: I think it will be advisable to wait till that Time, unless from any intermediate Intelligence we shall have strong Grounds to conclude either that the Junction will be impracticable or unnecessary. The Detachment will still remain within our own Territories, and ready for any other Service, although there is no great Likelihood that it will be required.

APPENDIX, No 174;

Bengal Secret Consultations, 8th February 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Esquires.

Re-considered the Minute of the Governor General, entered in the last Consultation.

Mr. Wheler delivers in the following Minute:

Having on former Occasions given my Opinion fully on the general Questions, which relate to our political Transactions with the Marattas, I hold myself dispensed from again entering into that Subject, and shall therefore confine my present Remarks to the Propositions contained in the Governor General's Minute, and upon which I am called by him to give my Opinion.

I see no Objection to the Proposition contained in the First Article; understanding it to have been the original Design of this Government, in sending a Detachment to Bombay, to support and affift the President and Council of that Settlement, in their Engagements with Ragonaut Row.

To the Second and Third I object; and to every other Propolition which has for its Object the giving to Colonel Goddard any Authority, Civil or Military, independant of the Prelident and Council of Bombay. I confider it as contrary to every Principle of found Policy, that either in the Conduct of War, or Negociation between Two States, there should subsist in Reality or Appearance, Two Authorities, or Two Interests; I know of no Interest that this Government or the Presidency of Bombay can have, separated from each other: And the Court of Directors order, That in our political Transactions and Negociations with the Powers on the other Side of India, we make Use of the Channel and Agency of the President and Council of Bombay.

To the 4th Article I see no Objection: The 5th, 6th, and 7th, I consider already in great Measure as answered; and although I am equally desirous with the Governor General, that the Company should be reimbursed for the Expence occasioned by the March of the Detachment across India, yet I cannot consent to the Demand of it being made by Colonel Goddard, or to the Alternative proposed for him, should that Demand be refused. The Presidency of Bombay have entered into a Treaty with Ragonaut Row, on the Part of the Company, by which we are bound, and are engaged in Measures in support of that Treaty; I cannot consent to Orders which authorize an Infraction of the Treaty, and which may clash with, or even totally deseat the Measures taken in consequence.

To the 8th Article I object, because I consider any Negociations or political Connections with the Rajah of Berar, as totally inconsistent with the Company's Policy and constant Orders; and if this was not the Case, the Disinclination he has already manifestly shewn to enter into any Engagements with this Government, is a sufficient Warning to us not to renew our Negociations in that Quarter.

To the 9th Article I must observe, that during a State of actual War, when Circumstances may change every Day, and when the Presidency of Bombay must act from them, according to the Occasion; I cannot consent to so strict a Limitation, either of the Object of their Minister at Poona, or of their future Negociations with Ragonaut Row, because at the Distance we are placed, an entire Change of Circumstances may take place, and savourable Opportunities be lost, before we can be made acquainted with the Events, much more give our Orders in consequence.

As far therefore as the Letters and proposed Instructions to Colonel Goddard may differ from the Sentiments expressive above, they must meet with my Disapprobation, and I diffent from them accordingly.

Mr. Francis delivers in the following Minute:

The Line of Conduct which I have invariably pursued with respect to the late political Measures of this Government and of the Presidency of Bombay, not only exempts me from all Responsibility for the Consequences of them, but from any Obligation of deciding upon the respective Merits of their Proceedings and ours: That Question lies strictly between the present Majority of this Board, and the Presidency of Bombay: I shall enter into it no farther than I am compelled to do by the Propositions before us, and by the existing State of Facts.

In the Consideration of every Measure, which I have either recommended or opposed, my original and constant Object was, to preserve the Peace of India; to adhere faithfully to our Treaty with the Peshwa; and not to suffer the Company's Arms to be engaged either on this Side of India or by the Presidency of Bombay, in Schemes of Conquest and Ambition: In adhering to these Principles, I believe I have been guided by the Dictates of sound Policy and right Reason; as I affuredly have the Company's sundamental Maxims, and by their positive and repeated Commands: I have it too from an Authority, which in the Scale of any Argument of mine, must be deemed Ref. VI.

particularly weighty * "that in the Company's Concerns with their Neighbours and Allies, the most forupulous Observance of their public Engagements, and of the Rights of others, ought to be their first and ruling Object; for every Prince and State whose Possessions may found within "Sight of the Company's Ambition, is naturally led to apply to their own Interests the Treatment which they see others receive from the Company and their Dependants."

When I found my first and principal Object no longer attainable, my meke Endeavour was, to preserve if possible an Unity of Views, a Consistency of Plan, and a general Co-operation of Mea. fures between this Government and the subordinate Presidencies. My Essorts in both Instances have been equally unsuccessful: For the Truth of these Assertions, I shall content myself with referring generally to our Secret Consultations for the last Twelve Months; but more particularly to that of the 17th August 1778; nothing has happened which had not been foretold: But fince ho Reflections on what is past will lessen the Difficulty of our present Situation, I shall avoid all Retrospect as much as possible; new Facts create new Questions, and these Facts, I fear, are such as exclude this immediate Influence of general Principles of Policy and good Conduct, on which alone a great State can found a folid System of Strength, Security, and Duration. The Arguments and Events with which the Governor's present Propositions are introduced, are stated to be the Grounds of our future Conduct: As fuch, I must examine them, and perhaps my own Safety may make it ne. ceffary on this Occasion more than any other, to shew how far I do or do not concur in the Assert tions or Opinions which I may be obliged to fet my Name to.

1st. I agree with the Governor General, that the Plan lately carried into Execution by the Prof. dency of Bombay was certainly warranted by our Instructions to them of the 17th of August 1778.

2d. I agree with the Governor General in thinking that, confidering the particular Promite contained in their Letter of the 11th of September, as well as the general Line of their Duty, the Subor. dination in which they stand to this Government, and the Attention they owe to the common Interests of the British Empire in India, not less than immediately to those of their own Presidency, they were bound to have fent us immediate Notice of the Refult of their Refolutions; and that their refolung on an Enterprize of fuch Importance on the 12th October, and not giving us Intelligence of it before the 12th of December, is not to be defended, not at least by any Fact or Argument which is yet before us.

3d. But I do not admit that any Thing done or omitted by the Presidency of Bombay after the 11th September, did or could warrant the Resolution taken here of abandoning Ragoba, and substituting an Alliance with Moodajee Boofla, in the Place of the Object originally prefented to us by the Presidency of Bombay: That Resolution was taken here on the 11th of July. I consider our Plan as wholly adopted the Moment Mr. Elliott's Instructions were resolved on. From that Time forward it never was confidered as little more than a Resource to which we looked in the Event of a Failure in the other Design; it then became our main and sole Object; and Mr. Elliott was positively instructed to conclude, even without waiting for any further Orders from the Board.

It is true that on the 17th of August we authorized the Presidency of Bombay to carry their own Plan into Execution; but I never can allow that the Two Measures could be reconciled. their manifest Inconsistency was objected to, the Answer to that Objection was, that "the Resolution " of the Prefidency of Bombay to defer the Execution of a Defign, the Success of which could only " be infured by immediate Action, was equivalent to a Refolution to do nothing." The Governor General then regarded their Design in savour of Ragoba as improbable, yet thought it incumbent on bim to support their Measures, though against his Belief of their taking Effect. In the Event it appears, that they have adhered to their Plan, and bave carried it into Execution.

4th. Whether the Presidency of Bombay did or did not foresee the Consequences which might attend their engaging in this Enterprize, they have our direct and explicit Authority to plead in their Defence. They were not made acquainted with the Contents of Mr. Elliott's Instructions, consequently they had no direct Information of the Nature of our Views to guide or restrain them in the Exercise of that Power which our Letter of the 17th August gave them. They never received any Letter from Mr. Elliott; nor do they appear to have heard of his Death on the 12th December; and admitting that they had not left an Opening for Moodajee Boofla's Admission into their Engagements with Ragonaut Row, I know not how the Example of this Government, and the Instructions faid to have been given to Mr. Elliott, to provide for a Junction of Ragonaut Row in his Negociations with Moodajee Boofla, can be urged against the Presidency of Bombay, who knew nothing of the Matter. To this Hour we do not know that they have ever feen Mr. Elliott's Instructions.

By their Letter before us, they do not appear to have known that our Army was making quick Advances; on the contrary, they express an Uneafiness at the flow Advances of the Bengal De-

5th. In speaking of our intended Engagement with Moodajee, it is said, "that in Effect we had " at first abandoned it to assist in the Prosecution of the Scheme which they had presented

From the obvious Construction of these Words I should conclude that the Alliance with Moodajee Boosla was the First Object of this Government, contrary to every Thing that has been professed of our original Motives for undertaking the Expedition; but be this as it may, it does not appear that we ever abandoned our Project to affift in the Profecution of their's. The Fact, as I understand it, 15 totally new to me.

6th. I do not entirely agree with the Governor General in thinking that their Conduct has exposed us to the Suspicion of Duplicity; perhaps they may think themselves entitled to reverse the Charge, and to second it on this Government: Neither do I admit that, in Fact, it has defeated our Measures. Morniagie Boosla, in his Letter to Colonel Goddard of the 23d November, expresses the same Determination not to join the Detachment, or to co-operate in our Views against the Peshwa, which he has done invariably, since that Time in all his Letters to the Governor General; but on the 23d November he knew nothing of the Proceedings at Bombay, nor for several Weeks after; nor does he any where allude to their Engagement with Ragonaut Row, or alledge that as a Reason for not taking Part with us.

7th. Though clearly exempt from any Degree of Responsibility on Account of the Expence which this Government has voluntarily incurred by sending the Detachment, I am nevertheless as defirous as the Governor General can be of seeing the Company reimbursed, though not by all or any Means whatsoever; Three material Objections occur to me against the Demand which is proposed to be made on Ragonaut Row; Two of these relate to the Demand itself; the Third to the Quantum.

I deem it unjust, for the following Reasons:

It is said "that the Bombay Treaty has been made under the Declaration of our Sanction, and "proclaimed as possession; it; that the Conditions have received the sirmest and fullest Ratisfication "that could be given to them by the contracting Parties, and cannot therefore admit either of "Amendment or Addition." Acquiescing in this Opinion, I can never admit that we have any Right to make so material an Addition to the Treaty, as we should do by insisting on a specific Sum for the Reimbursement of the past Expences incurred by the Expedition, and of a Monthly Substidy during its Continuance, considering that the Treaty itself has fixed a specific Sum, which the Presidency of Bombay agree to accept without surther Account, in full of every Expence attending the Army. Neither do I think that we have an equitable, any more than a conventional Right, to make any such Demand on Ragoba. If he be reinstated, it is done without the Assistance of the Detachment. Colonel Goddard was not to move from Husseingabad before the 15th of January: Fifty Days at least must be allowed for his March to Poona; which, supposing nothing to retard him but the Length of the Journey, fixes his Arrival at Poona to the 6th March. But the Bombay Expedition moved from thence on the 22d November; and if it did not effect its Object by the 15th January, I can only say from myself that I have very little Idea or Expectation of its Success. Colonel Keating, with a much greater Force, was beaten in the Field, and compelled to retire.

Supposing, on the other Hand, the Expedition to have succeeded, and Ragoba to be reinstated; I wish to know on what Pretence the Charge of our Detachment, which in the Case supposed will have been of no Service to him, can be exacted of him.

My Second Objection to the Demand is, that I am convinced it never can fucceed. Ragoba has no Refources equal to such accumulated Demands; nor if he had, is it likely that any Thing but Force should compel him to yield to them. To insist on the Demand, or to abandon him in the Manner proposed, I look upon to be as clear and direct a Violation of the Treaty with him, as if we should determine to renounce it in Terms.

My Third Objection to the Demand is, that were it granted it would not reimburse us the Expence of the Detachment. A considerable Part of this Charge must have commenced in March 1778; the Whole of it I believe in April; but the Demand is only to be made from the 1st June. Again, the Expence is estimated at Two Lacks of Rupees per Month, whereas the Presidency of Bombay have obtained a Subsidy of Two Lacks and a Half a Month, though their Force amounts to little more than Half ours. The annexed Abstract thews that the actual Expence of our Army amounts to very near Two Lacks Sixty thousand Rupees a Month, exclusive of the Pay of the Nabob of Oude's Cavalry, and exclusive of the Expence of Major Camac's Detachment, which is estimated at 64,600 Rupees a Month. I conceive we have as much Right to exact the Whole as any Part of the Expence of the Armament, from Ragonaut Row.

8th. I shall now give my Opinion on the several Propositions in the Order in which they stand; premising only, that the Situation we are in compels me to accommodate myself to Events for which I am not answerable, and to submit to Facts which I cannot alter.

Supposing the Measure past, and that it cannot be recalled, I acquiesce in the First Proposition; understanding, that by the Word co eperate it is meant that Colonel Goddard shall follow the Instructions of the Select Committee of Bombay, as he was originally directed to do.

I am against the Second, as incompatible with the Purposes expressed in the First, and because I deem it in the highest Degree unsate to employ Two Armies on the same Ground and in the same Service; and to place each of them under a separate, an independant Authority. In military Operations, more indispensably than in any other, the Power that directs them ought to be united in One Hand. Independant Powers can produce nothing but classing Councils, or separate Pursuits. The Measure I believe is wholly unprecedented, and cannot be received but with the highest Disgust by the Governor and Council of Bombay. Whether Colonel Goddard, under any Instructions whatsoever from this Board, can refuse to obey the Orders of General Egerton, when once he shall be within the Reach of such Orders, is a Question of the most serious and extensive Consequence. I am of Opinion that his Resultance could not be maintained without a direct Violation of the Articles of War, Disobedience of the Injunction contained in the Body of his Commission, and a Subversion of the fundamental Principles of military Discipline and Subordination; I therefore diffent from the Proposition, and most solemnly protest against it. If the Board should now be of Opinion that it is not safe to trust the Presidency of Bombay with the Conduct of our Negociations at Poona, or with any

any Authority over the Troops which we fend to their Affistance, such a Reason may be valid against permitting them to embark in Enterprizes to which we deem their Councils unequal; but will not justify us in pursuing a System which naturally tends to divide and weaken our Strength, and of course to defeat our Measures as well as theirs.

On the same Principles I object to the Third; and hope it will be seriously considered, that a Case may possibly happen in which a Junction of the Two Armies may be indispensably necessary for the Preservation of both; many probable Cases may be imagined, in which without such a Junction.

it might be impossible for their Operations to succeed.

I agree to the Fourth.

I object to the Fifth, not knowing what fort of Business Colonel Goddard can have to transact with the Court of Poona, independant of the Council of Bombay; and foreseeing, that we shall weaken their Credit and Influence with the Court of Poona for no adequate Purpose. This Article constitutes an Ambassador, with Letters of Credence and full Powers—to do nothing. The Proposition is open to many other Objections; but the Company's Orders in the 21st and Three following Paragraphs of their Letter of the 5th February 1777, are positive and explicit on this Subject, and leave no Room for Argument.

I have already given my Opinion fully on the Substance of the Sixth Article.

Seventh. I agree to the Return of the Detachment to the Frontiers of Berar, supposing that Route to be the shortest that leads to the Jumna: But I object to our requiring the Council of Bombay to break their Treaty with Ragoba, especially on such unwarrantable Ground, as that proposed for doing it; I mean his Refusal to comply with a new Condition, not only not stipulated in the Treaty.

but expressly excluded by it.

I object to and protest against the Eighth: In another Place, the Governor General speaks of the Uses to be derived from dearly-bought Experience: We are by this Time sufficiently acquainted with the light and unsteady Character, note to say Duplicity of Moodajee Boosla; and as to the general Question no Words can be stronger than those in which Mr. Haltings has heretofore expressed his Opinion against an offensive Alliance with the Marattas. But waving this and all former Objections to the proposed Alliance with Berar, the Governor General himself says, that "the Bomby Measure is past and cannot be recalled, and that our own Plan has been rendered impracticable by it." Will our breaking a Third Treaty with the Marattas, facilitate the Conclusion of a Fourth? Let us consider at least what Character these Transactions are likely to six upon the Bittish Name in India.

I acquiesce in the Ninth Proposition.

My Opinion of the proposed Letter to Colonel Goddard is virtually included in the preceding Observations. I think it necessary however to observe, that although I do not condemn Colonel Goddard for resolving to march to Poona, believing him to consider it as an Act of Necessary, forced upon him by Moodajee Boosla's Conduct, and by the Circumstances he was reduced to; still I do not think that it calls for any particular Approbation and Applause. The Applause of Government should never be bestowed, but upon clear and unquestionable Ground, and always with Dignity and Moderation. I think it will appear that Colonel Goddard has acted without Orders: By our Resolution of the 23d November, the Powers delegated to the President and Select Committee at Bombay were revoked. He was then directed henceforth to obey all such Orders as he might receive from us. But he has never since received any Orders from us, directly or indirectly authorizing him to march to Poona; or to co-operate with the Presidency of Bombay in the Restoration of Ragoba: The Board, I am persuaded, will consider the Consequences of giving their Applause without Reserve to any Resolution, however prudent or necessary, which a Commanding Officer may take without their Authority. In the Preamble to the proposed Letter to Bombay, I object to our saying that, in consequence of their Operations, our Measures have been abruptly broke off; because I am convinced, for Reasons already assigned, that their Proceedings have really had no Instituence whatever on the Councils of Moodajee Boosla.

Eleventh. It only remains for me to fay, that I think Major Camac's Detachment should be immediately recalled.

P. Francis.

Extract of the Observations on Sir John Lindsay's Letter to the President and Council of Fort St. George, dated 18th April 1771.

We have frequently in our Deliberations on this Subject expressed our Opinion very clearly and fully against an offensive Alliance with the Marattas. In this we are justified by the repeated Senuments of the Court of Directors, expressed in their Commands for several Years pass, against distant Operations, and engaging in Alliances with the Country Powers. These Sentiments of the Court of Directors, it is true, are not expressed in such Terms as naturally convey the Idea of absolute and determinate Orders; nevertheless we stand in so unhappy a Predicament that we have no Safety but in considering them as such; for the whole Tenor and Spirit of the Dispatches of last Season (as we have noticed in other Instances) are Proofs that Sentiments so expressed are quoted as absolute Orders; at the same Time Candour obliges us to acknowledge that the Sentiments of the Court of Directors Directors on this Subject are perfectly conformable to our own. Their Orders of the 27th June last.

received per Dolphin, are very positive and express; they are as follow:

We have only here to enjoin you to avoid, as much as in you lies, becoming Parties in any Difbetween the Powers of India, and to pay the most strict Obedience to our Orders for confining " our Views to our present Possessions, the Peace and Security of which are the utmost Scope of our "Wilhes, as they will neceffarily tend to advance the commercial and vital Interests of the Com-

These, if there were no other, would be very sufficient Motives to induce us to be very cautious of entering into Alliances or Engagements with the Country Powers in general; but with regard to the Marattas, the Honourable Court have very clearly in many Parts of their Commands expressed their Apprehensions of the Dangers of an Alliance with them, or of adopting any Measures which may tend to encrease their Power.

Ordered, that the Account referred to by Mr. Francis be entered after the Confultation.

Mr. Barwell-It is not necessary for me to enter into a Discussion of the Objections that have been urged against the Governor General's Propositions; whoever will take the Trouble to examine the real existing Facts, and the Reasonings upon them, to controll the Measures that are now proposed to be purfued, will be impressed with a Conviction that they are urged more upon System than Pohery of State. The Argument is not supported by the Facts, these I have carefully weighed, and upon these, after the maturest Deliberation, I concurred with the Governor General in Sentiment, and with him formed and approved the Propositions on which the Sentiments of the Board are now to be delivered; my Opinion still continues the same of the Measures that should be pursued; I in consequence give my Voice in the Affirmative to the several Propositions.

Governor General-I believe I shall make no Reply, I think it unnecessary, and I have no Time. If on reading the past Minute, I should think it necessary to add to the Debate, I shall take another Occasion for it.

Refolved, that the following Letter be written to Bombay:

Gentlemen,

We have received your Letter of the 12th December, with its several Inclosures.

It was formerly a Matter of great Concern to us that you had suffered so many Opportunities to escape after the Conclusion of the Plan which you had formed in December 1777, for restoring the Power of Ragoba, without taking any effective Means to carry it into Execution. It now affords us equal Concern and Mortification that you have precipitately undertaken it, after having given us every Reafon to conclude that you had abandoned it altogether, and compelled us therefore to adopt other Measures, which in consequence of your present Operations have been abruptly broken off, without intimating your Designs to us, and affording us Time to suspend the Course of our own Transactions, or to accommodate them to yours.

You appeal to the Authority contained in our Letter of the 17th August, as a Sanction for concluding the late Treaty with Ragonaut Row, and for proceeding immediately to carry it into Execution. It is true that you were warranted by that Letter to form fuch Engagements, and that you have litetally complied with our Instructions; but no Attention appears to have been had either to the Circamiliances under which they were dictated; to the Length of Time fince elapsed; or to the very effential Change which has taken place in the Situation of Affairs: We shall leave it to our Superiors to determine whether you were jullified under every other Confideration that occurred.

On the 11th September, about the Time fixed for the Commencement of your Operations, you formed us, "that you had not yet taken any Measures in Prosecution of the Plan, but would peedily come to some decisive Resolutions, and advise us immediately of the Result;" you also referred us to Mr. Lewis for full Information of the Situation of Affairs at Poona. Words to emphascally expressed as those contained in the above Passage of your Letter, could not fail to raise our Expectation; and when a long Period had elapfed without further Advices from you, though we had received Intelligence from Mr. Lewis of the Seizure and Confinement of Moraba Furnese, and Buthaba Poonder, and of the entire Depression of Ragoba's Party, these Causes served to confirm us in the Perfuation that nothing had been determined, but that your Plan had proved abortive. Our Army at this Time was far advanced towards the Maratta Country; the Object prefented to Electmed to have vanished, and none remained to establish an Influence in those Parts, but to effect the proposed Alliance with Moodajee Boosla: Though till then it had been treated as little more than Resource in the Event of a Failure of your Design, we now resolved to adopt it wholly; and to prevent our being embarrassed by a Contrariety of Orders, we thought it proper to release Colonel Goddard, whom we had previously empowered to protecute Mr. Elhott's Commission from your entire Authority, except in Cales where your Requititions might not be incompatible with the special and fingle Trust thus committed to him.

These are Consequences which we think you ought to have foreseen, and to have provided for them, fince it appears that you actually did know of the quick Advances made by our Detachment when the Death of Colonel Leslie, and of the Negociations commenced with Moodajee Boosla. also conceive that you were acquainted with the Essects of the Alliance held out to that Chief, which REP. VI.

had brought upon him the Referenment of Nizam Ally and the Marattas, and in a Manner drawn him into a declared Party with our Government. Under these Circurastances we think you might have waited the Result of our depending Measures, or at least have paid so much Regard to the Standard our probable Connections with the Government of Berar, as to have lest an Opening for its Admittant of Ragonaut Row to Mr. Elliott in his Negociations with Moodajee Boosla, and requested you to instruct him on any Points which your own Situation might suggest. That Precaution however you neglected, and consined yourself to a bare Acknowledgment of such Conditions as might have been concluded at the precise Date of your Treaty, without which the Treaty itself would have been invalid.

We shall here close our Remarks upon this Subject; adding only, that as no Conditions were finally agreed upon with Moodajee Boosla, and the Treaty with Ragonaut Row has been concluded and proclaimed under the Declaration of our Sanction, it remains only for us to support it in the most effectual Manner we can; we therefore approve the active and zealous Conduct of Colonel Goddard in marching immediately towards Poona, on your Requisition; and we hope that the Cause has received timely Succour from the Junction of this Force, and Credit from its Approach.

It cannot however but appear extraordinary to us, that although you foresaw the Necessity of Colonel Goddard's Force to support your Operations, and wrote to him in the most pressing Manner to march to your Assistance; and although his Detachment was originally formed for the Service of Ragonaut Row, and our First Instructions to you, dated the 2d February 1778, expressly enjoined, that a specific Sum should be required to reimburse the Company for the military Charges, that might be incurred by their Interposition; yet you omitted to make any Provisions for the Expences of the Detachment in your Engagements with that Chief. In the present Situation of Things we shall endeavour to correct this Oversight by the best Means that occur to us; we have therefore invested Colonel Goddard with full Powers to act as the Minister of this Government at Poona, and he is furnished with Instructions to the following Essect:

1st. He is ordered to co-operate with you, and the Committee appointed by you, for conducting the political and military Affairs at Poona, in the Support of the Treaty concluded with Ragonaut Row, and of the Operations dependant upon it.

2d. We have confirmed him in the Possession of the Powers conveyed to him by our Letter of the 23d November, and which he at present holds dependant immediately on us, and independant of your Presidency.

3d. We have authorized him to apply to you for such Reinforcements of Troops as he shall judge necessary for compleating the Strength of his Detachment; and we request that you will grant him the same, with this express Condition, without which he is not authorized to receive them, That the Officers whom you shall appoint to the Command of them, may be of a junior Rank to that of Colonel Goddard.

4th. We have forbid him to interfere in any of the Negociations or other Transactions of the Committee appointed by you, or in any Points which respect the late Treaty with Ragoba, or the separate and immediate Interests of your Presidency, except only in those Points in which you or the Committee shall call upon him for his Advice and Assistance.

5th. He is appointed, as we have already observed, the Minister of this Government at the Court of Poona, with full Powers to treat with Ragonaut Row, or such other Person or Persons as shall be at the Head of the Maratta State, upon all Matters which we shall expressly give to him in Charge, and to accept or conclude any Engagements for the same on our Part: He is furnished with a Letter of Credence for this Purpose.

6th. He is inftructed to demand from Ragonaut Row, or the Government for the Time being, Payment of the Expences already incurred in the Expedition undertaken by the Detachment under his Command, estimated at Two Lacks of Rupees per Month, from the 1st June 1778, to the Day of his Arrival at or near Poona; and a Monthly Subsidy at the same Rate for the Time in which he shall remain at Poona, with the Allowance of Six Months for the Return of the Detachment to Bengal from the Day of its Dismission: We have left it to his Discretion to obtain the most complete Security for these Payments, either by Assignments on the public Treasury, or on reputable Shroffs; or in the last Resort, on any of the Aumils or Collectors of the Revenue, who shall engage to him for the same, but not on the Collections themselves, in which we have peremptorily forbid him or any one under him to have any Concern or Interference.

7th. In case of the Refusal of the Maratta Government to comply with these Demands, or of such an Evasion as shall be equivalent to a Refusal, we have directed him to notify the same to you and to the Committee; and either to return with the Detachment under his Command to the Province of Berar, or retire to the Lands ceded to the Company, and in your Possession at his Discretion. We also hereby peremptorily require and command you in such Case to recall your Troops immediately from Poona and from the Maratta Dominions.

8th. We have confirmed the Instructions which we had originally given to Mr. Elliott, and on his Death transferred to Colonel Goddard; they will therefore remain in full Force, and he is directed to refume the Negociations with the Government of Berar, and to treat with it upon the Grounds of those Instructions whenever an Occasion shall offer to prosecute them consistently with the Plan laid down in this Letter.

We recommend that on the Return of your Committee you appoint an Agent or Minister on the part of your Government, for the Management of its separate Concerns with the Administration of poons, and for the Accomplishment of the different Articles of the Treaty which you have concluded with Ragonaut Row, with Instructions expressly limited to these Objects; and we think it proper to command, that you do not enter into any new Engagements without previous Application to us for our Approbation, and that Sanction obtained.

We are, &c.

The following Letter to Colonel Goddard, containing Instructions for his Conduct, was prepared by Order of the Governor General, and sent round to the other Members on Friday and Saturday.

To Colonel Thomas Goddard.

Sir.

We have received your Letters of the 4th and 6th January.

We are very much concerned that Moodajee Boosla should have so far distrusted the Powers with mich you were invested, as to suppose that any Engagements formed by the President and Council of Bombay could preclude the Accomplishment of a Treaty with him, if such had been concluded; and therefore that he declined to enter into the proposed Negociation. If a Treaty had been executed by you on the prescribed Terms, it would have been our Duty to enforce it in Preserence to any made at Bombay; and to have taken Care that no Conditions in which that Presidency might have bound itself, should have operated to the Prejudice of our Engagements; but in the present Situation of Things we approve and applaud the Prudence and active Zeal for the Interests of the Company; which you have shewn in the Resolution so immediately taken on Receipt of the Requisition from the President and Select Committee of Bombay, to relinquish the Prosecution of the Commission which had been specially entrusted to you, and to proceed with the Detachment under your Command to support the Measures in which the Presidency of Bombay was actually engaged, and in which they had so far committed the Safety and Prosperity of their own Government, and perhaps the general Welfare of the Company, as to require every Aid that could be possibly given to them.

As the Treaty concluded by the President and Select Committee at Bombay with Ragonaut Row

As the Treaty concluded by the President and Select Committee at Bombay with Ragonaut Row was declared to be made under our Sanction and Authority, and as we actually did grant our Consent to such a Treaty on the 17th August 1778, we are determined to abide by and support it, notwithstanding the total Change which has since taken place in the Circumstances under which it was proposed to us, and the new Measures which we have ourselves adopted, on the supposed Failure of those planned by the Presidency of Bombay: But as the Treaty does not provide for the Expence of your Detachment, although it was expressly designed for the Support of the Plan on which the Treaty was founded; and although our Instructions to the President and Council of Bombay, dated the 2d February 1778, expressly direct, that a "specific Sum should be required to re-" imburse the Company for the military Charges which might be incurred by their Interposition;" we think it necessary to rectify this Omission, and to invest you with full Powers for that Purpose, also to furnish you with the following Orders, to which we require your strictest Obedience.

ift. We direct that you co-operate with the President and Council or Select Committee at Bombay, and with the Committee appointed by them for conducting the political and military Assairs at Poona, in the Support of the Treaty concluded by that Presidency with Ragonaut Row, and of the Operations dependant on it.

2d. We do hereby confirm you in the Possession of the Powers which you at present hold, dependant on this Government, and independant of the Government of Bombay.

3d. We authorize you to apply for such Reinforcements of Troops from the Presidency of Bombay as you shall judge necessary for completing the Strength of your Detachment, and to receive the same; with the Condition that they be not commanded by any Officer of a superior or senior Rank to yours: And we have desired the Presidency of Bombay to surnish you with such Reinforcements on the Condition thus prescribed.

4th. We forbid you to interfere in any Negociations or Transactions of the Committee appointed by the Select Committee of Bombay, or in any Points which relpect the present Treaty with Ragonaut Row, or the separate and immediate Interests of the Presidency of Bombay; except only in such Points in which you shall be called upon for your Advice or Assistance by the President and Council or Select Committee appointed to conduct the military and political Assairs at Poona.

5th. We do hereby appoint you the Minister of this Government at the Court of Poona, with full Powers to treat with Ragonaut Row, or such other Person or Persons as shall be at the Head of the Maratta State, upon all Matters which shall be expressly given in charge to you by this Government for that Purpose, and to accept or conclude any Engagements for the same on our Part: A Letter of Credence to this Effect is inclosed.

We hereby enjoin you to demand from Ragonaut Row, or the Maratta Government for the Time being, Payment of the Expences already incurred in the Expedition of the Detachment under your Command, estimated at the Rate of Two Lacks of Rupees per Month, from the 1st June 1778, the Day of your Arrival at or near Poona; and a Monthly Subsidy at the same Rate for the bay, from the Day of your Dismission.

We leave it to your Discretion to obtain the most complete Security for these Payments, either the Payments of the Payments. Assessments on the public Treasury, or on respectable Shroffs; or, in the last Resort, on an Aumils or Collectors of the Revenue, who shall engage to you for the same, but not on the Col lections themselves. And we expressly forbid you to interfere, or to have any Concern in the Col. lections yourself, or to suffer any Person under your Authority to interfere or have any Concern

7th. In case of the Refusal of the Maratta Government to comply with your Demand, or of such an Evasion on their Part as shall be equivalent to a Refusal, you are to notify the same to the Committee at Poons, and to the President and Select Committee at Bombay; and either return with the Detachment under your Command to the Province of Berar, or retire to the Lands ceded to the Company, and in Possession of the Government of Bombay, at your Discretion. And in such Case we have peremptorily required the President and Select Committee at Bombay to recall their Troops from Poona, and from the Maratta Dominions.

8th. We think it proper to declare, that the Instructions originally given to Mr. Elliott, and transferred to you, do remain in full Force; and we direct that you refume the Negociations with the Government of Berar, and treat with it on the Grounds of those Instructions whenever an Occasion shall offer to prosecute them, consistently with the following Provisions:

If Ragonaut Row shall conform to the Terms of his Engagements with the President and School Committee of Bombay, and shall yield to the just and equitable Demands of this Government, you must give, and continue to give, all the Support which shall be requisite for the Confirmation of his Authority: But if he shall depart from the Terms of those Engagements, and the President and Council, the Select Committee, or the Committee appointed by them, shall declare to you that he has so departed from them; or if he shall refuse to comply with the Demands which you are instructed to make; or if he shall himself desire to include the Government of Berar in his Alliance with the Company, on the Footing prescribed by your original Instructions; or in the Event of his Death, or of the Failure of the Plan laid for restoring him to the Administration of the Government at Poona; we fay, in either of the Cases here premised, we authorize you to recur to the Ne. gociations which have been suspended with the Court of Berar, and to conclude a Treaty with that Government in the Manner, and on the Terms already prescribed by your former Instructions.

However we may be restrained by Motives of Policy from prosecuting this Measure under the Circumstances which have caused the present Suspension of it, we are by no Means precluded by the Terms of the Treaty with Ragonaut Row; the Pretentions of Moodajee Boosla to the Rauze, or Sovereign Authority of the Maratta State, existing independantly of any Connections between the Company and Ragonaut Row, and being also perfectly reconcileable with them.

Although the Orders which are numbered, taken collectively as they stand, are of themselves very expressive and clear, we have thought it necessary to add this Explanation of the last, with a View to obviate any possible Misapprehension of the Nature and Extent of the present Treaty concluded with Ragonaut Row; and to recommend it to you, to keep the Object of your original Commission constantly in Mind, that you may be prepared to carry it into Execution, in Whole or in Part, whenever you shall have it in your Power to do so, without embarrassing this Government in discordant Measures.

Bengal Secret Consultations, the 15th February 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President,
Richard Barwell,
Philip Francis,
Edward Wheler,

Edward Wheler,

The Governor General having delivered in the following Minute in Reply to Mr. Francis's, which is entered in the last Consultation, a Copy of it was sent Home a Number in the Shrewsbury's Packet.

Governor General—I think it proper to make the following detached Observation in Reply to such Parts of Mr. Francis's Minute of the 8th Instant, as appear to me to require it, for the Purpose of correcting the Fact miss stated, of compleating the Sense of partial Quotations, or of removing Objections arising from Principles to which I cannot subscribe.

Mr. Francis.

I consider our Plan as wholly adopted the Moment Mr. Elliott's Instructions were resolved on. From that Time forward it never was considered as Jittle more than a Resource to which we looked; in the Event of a Failure in the other Design, it then became our main and sole Object.

Reply.

1. To fo pointed a Denial of my Affertions the best Argument which can be opposed will be a Reference to Mr. Elliott's Instructions, and particularly the following Clause:

" But if you shall have Reason to believe that " the Presidency of Bombay have commenced 44 any Negociation, or entered into any Engage-" ment, either for the firm Establishment of " Peace with the Poona Ministry, or for the Re-" storation of Ragonaut Row, or for any other "Purpose, which may prove incompatible with " the Operations which we have authorized, you " will in such Case suspend your Negociations " until you shall have received authentic Infor-" mation, either from Mr. Mostyn or the Presi-" dency of Bombay, of the Nature of the En-"gagements either projected or executed by them; and you will so conduct yourself as to " conform to their Measures, if you can consist-" ently with the prior Attention which you will "give to our Views; or at least not to engage in " any offensive Plan which shall be contrary to " that of the Presidency of Bombay." In this Case Mr. Elliott is not only directed to suspend his own Negociations on the Information of any Engagement actually concluded by the Presidency of Bombay, and to conform to it; but he is restricted from the Prosecution of his own, on the Information, and even on the Belief of any Negociation having been only commenced, and from engaging in any offentive Plan which should be contrary to the Plan of the Prefidency of Bombay.

How then can Mr. Francis so peremptorily affirm, that the Negociation with Moodajee Boosla was never considered as little more than a Resource to which we looked in the Event of a Failure in the other Design, and that it then became our main and sole Object.

2. I must here repeat the Observation which I have had too frequent Occasion to make, of Mr. Francis's Mode of extracting, that by the Selection of disjointed Sentences, any given Sense may be affixed to any Words, even in the literal Question of them. To the First of these Quotations I

But I never can allow that the Two Measures can be reconciled, when their manifest Inconsistency was objected to. The Answer to that Objection was, "that the Resolution of the Presidency of Bombay to defer the Execution of a Design, the Success of which could only be infured

Reply.

fured by immediate Action, was equivalent to

" a Resolution to do nothing."

The Governor General then regarded their Defign in favour of Ragoba as impossible, yet thought it incumbent on him to support their Measures, though against his Belief of their taking Effect. In the Event it appears, that they have adhered to their Plan, and have carried it into Execution.

have no Objection, but do not see how it applies to Mr. Francis's Argument.

The Second is highly exceptionable, as it implies and involves in it, for Want of its Context, a Complication of the groffest Absurdities, for what Purpose I know not; for even these do not assist the Proposition which it appears to have been introduced to prove, namely, that the Measures of the Two Presidencies could not be reconciled.

I shall beg Leave to insert my Words at full Length, and leave it to those who may be the Judges of our Contests, to compare the Sense of his Quotation with the genuine Extract: "But though I regard the projected Design in favour of Ragoba as improbable, I still consider it as possible, and in that View only proposed the Answer expressed in the Question; and I have thought it incumbent upon me to support the Measures of that Presidency in this Insert taking Effect, because the Court of Directors have expressly enjoined the Renewal of the Engagements with Ragoba in the Case of a Rupture with the present Government of Poona."

Although Mr. Francis has not affigned any Reason for his Assertion, that the Two Measures cannot be reconciled, yet as it is possible that others may adopt the same Conclusion, I shall briefly state the Two Measures as they were proposed, without any Comment upon them.

That formed by the Presidency of Bombay was to restore Ragonaut Row to the Office of Peshwa or Chief Minister of the Maratta State; ours to support Moodajee Boosla in his Pretensions to the Rauze or Sovereign Authority of the Maratta State. These Offices are both universally acknowledged to be consistent and existent Parts of the Maratta State; they were therefore, and still continue, reconcilable to each other.

I know not how the Example of this Government and the Instructions said to have been given to Mr. Efficit, to provide for a Junction of Ragonaut Row, in his Negociation with Moodajee, can be urged against the Presidency of Bombay, who knew nothing of the Matter to this Hour; we do not know that they have ever seen Mr. Elliott's Instructions.

3. It is true they had not then seen Mr. Elliott's Instructions, but they know so much of their intended Essects, as to justify the Observation made in my Minute that "they ought to have left an Opening for the Admission of Moodajee Boosla into their Engagements with Ragonaut Row, after our Example, and in the same Manner as our Instructions to Mr. Elliott had prescribed the Instructions of Ragonaut Row, in his Negociation with Moodajee Boosla."

Our Letter to them dated the 17th August, clearly implied, that we had left such an Opening in our Instructions to Mr. Elliott, because it authorized them, under certain Conditions, to assist Ragonaut Row with a military Force, and conduct him to Poona; and it was not possible for them to suppose, that at the Time when we gave them such an Authority, we should either give or leave to Mr. Elliott such Instructions as in their Nature would tend to annul it.

By their Letter before us, they do not appear to have known that our Army was making quick Advances; on the contrary, they express an Uneasiness 4. By their Letter before us, they acknowledge their having received Intelligence of the Arrival of the Army at Kimbassy: It is to this Knowledge ealiness at the flow Advances of the Bengal Detachment.

In speaking of our intended Engagement with Moodajee, it is said, "that in Effect, we had not "first abandoned it to assist in the Prosecution of the Scheme which they had presented to "us." From the obvious Construction of these Words, I should conclude, that the Alliance with Moodajee Boosla was the first Object of this Government, contrary to every Thing that has been professed of our original Motives for undertaking the Expedition. But be this as it may, it does not appear that we ever abandoned our Project to assist in the Prosecution of theirs: The Fact, as I understand it, is totally new to me.

Moodajee Boosla in his Letter to Colonel Goddard of the 23d November, expresses the same Determination not to join the Detachment or to co operate in our Views against the Paishwa, which he has done invariably since that Time in all his Letters to the Governor General; but on the 23d November, he knew nothing of the Proceeding of Bombay, nor for several Weeks after, nor does he any where allude to their Engagement with Ragonaut Row, or alledge that as a Reason for not taking Part with us.

I can never admit that we have any Right to make so material an Addition to the Treaty as we should do by insisting on a specific Sum for the Reimbursement of the past Expences incurred by the Expedition, and of a monthly Subsidy during its Continuance; considering that the Treaty itself has fixed a specific Sum, which the Presidency of Bombay agreed to accept without further Account, in full of every Expence attending the Army.

ledge I have alluded in the Expression to which Mr. Francis objects, and which I think is $w_{\rm eff}$ ranted by it.

- 5. An Alliance between the Governments of Bengal and Berar, was first suggested by Shaw. bajee Boosla, the Predecessor of Moodajee Boosla, in the Year 1773, and has been the Subject of a continued Correspondence between the Two States to the present Time: I believe, it was also intimated by me on the Accession of the new Government, in a Minute which I wrote upon the Political State of their Presidency: It has been frequently mentioned in the Course of our Debates on the present depending Measure.
- 6. I knew, which Mr. Francis indeed could nor, that the First Change of Moodajee Boosla's Sentiments arole from his Knowledge of the Defigns which were then actually formed by the Presidency of Bombay, to engage in some active Enterprize with Ragonaut Row: This was mentioned by Beneram Pundit, the Maratta Vackeel, in a Letter to his Brother, and communicated to me. I own it made little Impression at that Time upon me, because I had no Expectation of what has fince passed at Poona, and thought that Moodajee had a more obvious and substantial Reason for his Hesitation in the supposed indecision of this Government. All the Letters written fince that Date by Moodajee Boofla, the Conferences held by him and his Dewan with Mr. Watherstone, the Opinion of Mr. Watherstone, and that of Colonel Goddard, all combine to prove, that this was the prime if not the fole Caule, and I think an allowable one, of his declining to accept of the proffered Engagement with us.
- 7. By the Treaty, the Prefidency of Bombay are only bound to conduct Ragonaut Row to Poona, and to place him in the Government, with this express Stipulation, that this done they shall leave him there. We have therefore a clear Right to withdraw our Force when these Points are accomplished; and the Orders issued to this Effect, in the Event of the Case supposed, can only operate after the Restoration of Ragmaut Row to the Possession of Poona, and of the Government of that Capital. The Treaty with the Presidency of Bombay doth not preclude any Demand which may be made by this Presidency for the specific Aid afforded to Ragonaut Row; and every Principle of Justice, and the universal Practice of all States in fimilar Cases, authorizes us to demand an Equivalent for the Aid which we have furnished to Ragonaut Row at his Requisition, and applied directly to his Support; we have ordered the Demand to be made, but no other Means have been prescribed to enforce it, except to avail ourselves of the possible Advan-tage which the Treaty itself, both in the precise Terms and evident Intention of it, gives us.

If Mr. Francis had objected that the Means propoted

Reply.

Neither do I think that we have an equitable any more than a conventional Right to make any such Demand on Ragoba.

If he be reinstated, it is done without the Assistance of the Detachment. Colonel Goddard was not to move from Hussengabad before the 15th January; Fifty Days at least must be allowed for his March to Poona, which, supposing nothing to retard him but the Length of the Journey, fixes his Arrival at Poona to the 6th of March.

Ragoba has no Refources equal to such accumulated Demands.

My Third Objection to the Demand is, that were it granted, it would not reimburse us the Expence of the Detachment.

proposed might, under certain and possible Cases, prove insufficient, I should have acknowledged it; but pleaded that this was a Case of Necessity, imposed upon us by the Presidency of Bombay, and susceptible only of the impersect Remedy which we have applied to it.

8. I impute the First Revolution in the Maratta State to the Influence of our Detachment, although it was then scarcely formed.

I ascribe the Second to the Inaction of the Prefidency of Bombay, and to the flow Progress of our Detachment.

I shall ascribe a Share at least of the Success of the Operations undertaken by the Presidency of Bombay, if they shall prove successful, to the Advance of our Army, and to the other corresponding Measures which have been taken by this Government to defeat the Designs of the Administration at Poona.

I shall leave the Justice of these Conclusions to every Man's own Breast, who knows the Force of Opinion on all great political Events; but without resting the Equity and Reasonableness of our Demand on this single Ground, I shall add as incontrovertible Proofs that this Aid was originally projected at the Requisition of the Presidency of Bombay, on the Behalf of Ragoba; that repeated Requisitions have been made for it by both; that its Destination has been lately called by the same Party from the other Objects in which it was then engaged; and lassly, that the President and Select Committee of Bombay, whom we must regard as empowered to transmit the Sentiments and Wishes of Ragonaut Row, have expressly assigned as a Reason for calling the Detachment to their Support.

9. The Resources of the Maratta Government, if united through the Means of our Assistance, added to those which Ragonaut Row inherently possesses, are equal to these and infinitely greater Demands; and surely we have a Right to claim the first Application of his Treasures to the Discharge of the Expence incurred on his Account, if he derives the Possession of them immediately from us.

10. After having read it objected to the Demand, that it was too much, I did not expect an Objection immediately to follow it, that it was too little; it was not my Delign to observe the Precision of an Account current in the gross Sum to be demanded as the Reimbursement of a general Expence: The Sum proposed for the Subsidy is certainly moderate, but I believe upon the whole it will prove adequate to its professed Ob ject; the Charge of the Detachment did not properly commence until we had carried into Execution the Expedient adopted in July last, for replacing the Number of effective Men which had been drawn from our Establishment by this Detachment, and the Expence of their being confined to Effectives only, bears but a small Proportion to the Battalions which have been spared for this Service; I do not include Major Camac's Detachment (3A)

REP. VI.

Detachment in the Expence of Colonel God dard's, nor supposed it to make a Part of the present Demand.

Whether Colonel Goddard, under any Instructions whatfoever from this Board, can refuse to obey the Orders of General Egerton when once he shall be within the Reach of such Orders, is a Question of the most serious and extensive Conlequence.

11. This is a very alarming Declaration, and may be attended with ferious Confequences if it should reach the Presidency of Bombay, which is not improbable from the Facility with which the most important, and what from their Nature ought to be the most secret Transactions of this Government, make their Way to the Public No. tice. I know no Powers which Colonel, not Ge. neral, Egerton possesses over the Officers and Sol. diers of this Establishment

It has been usual in all Instances in which Detachments have been fent from one Prefidency to another to particularize in the Instructions and Orders given to the Officer commanding each Detachment, how far he was to obey the Orders of the Presidency under which he was to serve.

From the many Instances which may be brought to prove this, I shall just mention such as at prefent occur to me.

When Colonel Clive was sent from Madras in 1757 to retake Calcutta, he was empowered and directed by the Presidency of Fort Saint George to return with his Troops, or any Part of them which he thought proper, when he should judge it necessary.

When Colonel Peach was fent from Bengal to the Decan in 1767, with a Division of the 1st Brigade, this Prefidency not only referved to itself the Power of recalling the Detachment whenever they pleased, but stipulated also that Colonel Peach should command this Force, and any other that the Presidency of Madras should judge necessary to add to it.

Mr. Francis may not now perhaps recollect, that when so small a Detachment as a Lieutenant, an Enfign, and 50 Men from the ist Regiment, were ordered to Bombay in 1776, under the Command of Lieutenant Taylor, it was expressed, that in the Event of a Campaign that Party was to be put under the Command of a Bengal Officer, Captain Allan McPherson.

It was further agreed, that on the Arrival of this Party at Bombay they were to be put under the Orders of the Governor and Council there.— This furely implies that it was necessary for us to grant an Authority to the Officers under this Government, to obey the Orders of the Government of Bombay before they could obey them, we might of course have reserved to ourselves the Power of recalling the Detachment when we thought proper.

If after this Explanation any Doubts should remain as to our Power of fending discretional Orders to General Goddard, or investing him with an Authority over the Troops of this Presidency, subject only to our future Instructions, although I am forry to take up the Time and Attention of the Board on a Point so extremely clear, let Mr. Francis read over the Commission of an Officer in this Service; he will there see that every Officer on the Bengal Establishment is directed and bound to obey our Orders, and the Orders of his Superior fuperior Officers, which inevitably implies Officers commissioned by or acting under our Authority only.

While the Treaty of Poona was depending 7th Marenay in 1776, and there was a Prospect of our commencing Hostilities against the Maratta Government, we took upon ourselves to appoint the late General Gordon to command the Army that should be ordered to act upon the Malabar Coast, and to appoint Lieutenant Colonel Upton Commander of the Troops that should be sent from Bengal, and Second in Command of the Forces that might be ordered to act against the Ma-

In the First Instance our Orders were thus expreffed:

"We think it incumbent upon us to require " and infift that you affign the Command of the " Army to General Gordon, &c."

The Second Initance was expressed, "We shall 44 direct Lieutenant Colonel Upton to fend the Two Companies of Sepoys under the Com-" mand of Captain Wroe, which he took with " him as his Efcort to strengthen your Army, and " to command it to you that he may be appoint-" ed Second in Command in your Army, &c."

The Words used by Mr. Francis in a Minute, delivered by him on this Occasion, are so oppofite to the prefent Debate, that I shall beg Leave to extract them: " Neither is our Recommenda-" tion of Colonel Upton, in my Opinion equi-" valent to an absolute Order; at the same "Time, I expect it will be complied with; fince, " independant of the superior Authority vested in "this Council, it would be highly unreasonable, " that even on the Footing of a combined Army, " the Party from which the chief Support of the " common Cause is expected, should have an Of-" ficer in that Army on whom they can directly " depend."

I object to the 5th, not knowing what Sort of Business Colonel Goddard can have to transact with the Court of Poona, and forefeeing that we shall weaken their Credit and Influence with the Court of Poona, for no adequate Purpose. This Article constitutes an Ambassador with Letters of Credence, and full Powers—to do nothing.

12. The Instructions express in very plain Terms, what fort of Business Colonel Goddard is to transact at the Court of Poona, independant of the Presidency of Bombay.

The 5th Article impowers him to treat upon fuch Matters as shall be expressly given to him in Charge; and the next expresses in Terms the Matter on which he is to treat, namely, to demand a specific Monthly Sum for the Charge of the Detachment.

I am at a Loss to conceive, on what Grounds Mr. Francis has crouded together so many strong and pointed Terms, to express his Sense of the Futility of Colonel Goddard's Powers.

13. I have faid, that the Presidency of Bombay " feem to have studied to preclude it," but I do not agree with Mr Francis "that they have " expressly excluded it," for the Truth of which, I refer to the Article of the Treaty itself.

But I object to our requiring the Council of Bombay to break the Treaty with Ragoba, especially on such unwarrantable Ground as that proposed for doing it, I mean his Refusal to comply with a new Condition, not only not stipulated by the Treaty, but expressly excluded by it.

Reply.

We are by this Time sufficiently acquainted with the light and unsteady Character, not to say Duplicity, of Moodajce Boosla.

14. I know no Instances of Moodajee's Con. duct which can justify these Charges: On the Application to him, to permit the Detachment to march through his Dominions and to fupply it with Provisions, he complied instantly and he berally; wrote to the commanding Officer to come with Security; and fent a Man of Trust with a Store of Provisions to his own Borders, when it lay waiting for the Detachment Five Months: On the Proposal made to him of an Alliance, he acquiesced without Reserve; and when that P10. pofal was in Danger of failing by the Death of Mr. Elliott, he strongly recommended the im. mediate Transfer of the Commission to another Before the Commission could take Effect, he ic. ceived Intelligence of a Defign projected, and on the Eve of being executed at Bombay, which he judged incompatible with the proposed Engage. ments, or with his Views in it; he therefore de. clined to engage further in it, until that Ob. flacle was removed, or until it could be under. taken on more folid and fatisfactory Grounds, and for this Purpose, he had deputed an express Agent to receive our ultimate Determination, and to explain the Conditions on which he will acquiesce in it: He may have carried the Pinciple of Caution, as I think he has, to a faulty Excess; but of Levity, of Unsteadiness, of Duplicity, I wholly acquit him.

Mr. Francis has in another Place produced contrasted Passages of Moodajee's Letters, written under different Situations, which I have explained; but he has not offered the Evidence of a single Fact, nor I presume, can any be offered, in support of the Allegations which are thus harshly pronounced against Moodajee Boossa, not by Mr. Francis in his own Person only, but on the Behalf of the whole Board as united in the fame Sentiments with him.

And as to the general Question, no Words can be stronger than those in which Mr. Hastings has expressed his Opinions, against an offensive Alliance with the Marattas.

15. With equal Reason the Garments which I now wear may be construed to infer an Inconfistency with Declarations made by me with respect to the Weather on the 1st of May last: Different Seasons and Circumstances require different Solutions of the same general Question. At the Time from which Mr. Francis has borrowed his Quotation, the Maratta Empire was in its full Vigour; its Parts entire; its Possessions extending from the Banks of the Jumna to the Walls of Seringapatam; and it was administered by a spirited and enterprizing Prince, who had demanded our Aid, not as the Gift of reciprocal Policy, but as the Right of ascertained Superiority; and denounced War and Ruin on the Carnatic if we refused: It was then argued, that it was impolitic to contribute to the Aggrandizement of a Power already too great for our own Safety. This was the Language of the Court of Directors, and of the Presidency of Fort Saint George, reiterated to each other: It is now proposed to assume an Ascendant over this no longer dreaded State; such is the Spirit of the Orders given by the Court of Directors for the Restoration of Ragonaut Row; and such is the Reply.

Spirit of the Measures which we had projected for the Elevation of Moodajee Boosla.

I think it will appear that Colonel Goddard has acted without Orders. By our Resolution of the 23d November, the Powers delegated to the President and Select Committee at Bombay were revoked. He was then directed benceforth to obey all such Orders as be might receive from us; but he has never since received any Orders from us, directly or indirectly, authorizing him to march to Poona, or to co-operate with the Presidencies of Bombay for the Restoration of Ragoba.

16. It is true that our Orders of the 23d November directed Colonel Goddard henceforth to obey all such Orders as he might receive from us, and from us only; but these did not forbid him to comply with a Requisition of the Presidency of Bombay, although delivered, as it must be, until the Revocation of our former Orders was known, in the Style of Authority, if it was consistent with the Instructions before given to Colonel Goddard; and both our Instructions of the 15th October and those of the 23d November, sully warrant the last Movement of the Detachment, the former Instructions allowing him Authority to advance, even without the Order of the Presidency of Bombay, and the latter to assist and co-operate with them, consistently with the primary Objects of his Commission.

I shall conclude this Minute by acknowledging, that the Propositions were written with the immediate and personal Assistance of Mr. Barwell, after the most deliberate and wary Consideration of them, and are at least as much his original Composition as my own, which I repeat with Pleasure, because I think they will restect no Discredit on him; and I shall ever think it a Credit to my Labours, that they have so strong a Sanstian as his Participation in them.

Sanction as his Participation in them.

(Signed) W

Mr. Francis in consequence sent in the following Remarks, a Copy of which were also enclosed a Number in the Packet.

Mr. Francis—I beg Leave to offer One Observation on the Governor General's Minute recorded Yesterday, and which I desire may accompany it as a Number in the Packet.

Having stated my Objections to the Command proposed to be exercised by Colonel Goddard, independent of Brigadier General Egerton, his superior Officer in the Company's Service, with whom he is nevertheless to co-operate, it is urged in Reply that, in May 1776, we directed the sole Command of the Company's Troops at Bombay, or that should be ordered to act on the Malabar Coast, to be vested in General Gordon; and that we recommended it to the Presidency of Bombay to appoint Lieutenant Colonel Upton Second in Command in their Army. Whether these Measures were advisable or not, or whether we had a Right to insist on their Compliance with our Injunctions, are not the Points at present in Debate. The Question is, whether, when I object to dividing the Command of Troops on the same Service, and to our making an inferior Officer independant of his Superior, such Objection is answered by saying, that at a former Period we insisted on the sole Command being vested in General Gordon, and recommended that Lieutenant Colonel Upton should be appointed to act under bim.

On all the other Points I submit to Judgment, with this Remark only, that I do not believe it will appear to any impartial Judge, that I have ever in any Instance misrepresented the Sense of any Passage in the Governor General's Minutes, though I do not think it necessary to recite all the Words he makes use of.' If the contrary be affirmed, it should be shewn by a clear Statement of the Amount of his Meaning, compared with that which I have attributed to him, in what Particular, or to what Degree the one essentially differs from the other.

Long Quotations, which nobody will attend to, feldom have any other Effect but to leave the Question perplexed and undecided.

(Signed)

P. Francis.

Governor General—I do not mysels make long or full Quotations, but think it incumbent on me to include in them every Thing necessary to compleat their Sense; and I complain that Mr. Francis, by a different Practice, and particularly by the Exclusion of intermediate Words and Sentences, has totally perverted my Meaning.

Extract of a Letter from the Governor General and Council in Bengal to the Court of Directors, in their Secret Department; dated the 1st February 1779.

WE have just received very important Advices from the Select Committee at Bombay, and from Colonel Goddard, which being now under our Consideration, we shall defer writing on the Subject of them until we can inform you of the Result of our Deliberations; in the mean while we enclose Copies for your Information.

Copy of a Letter from the Governor General and Council in Bengal to the Court of Directors, in their Secret Department; dated the 11th February 1779.

Honourable Sirs,

In our last Dispatch of the 1st Instant, by the Godfrey, we transinitted you a Copy of the important Advices which we had just then received from the President and Select Committee of Bombay, and gave you to expect that our Proceedings upon them would shortly follow. We have now the Honour to forward a complete Copy of them by the Shrewsbury, agreeable to our Promise: As they are very full, and not encumbered with any foreign Subject, we trust that you will bestow on them the Attention which they deserve; and therefore we shall take the Liberty to refer you principally to them.

We shall not enlarge in this Place upon the apparent Irregularity and Precipitancy of the Measures lately adopted by the President and Select Committee of Bombay, but leave you from a Perusal of the Facts to judge and pass your Opinion, whether they were fully justified in resolving to undertake them on the different Grounds and Considerations that occurred at the Time.

With respect to the Mode of Conduct which we have resolved to pursue on this Occasion, we think it proper to be rather more minute. The present Treaty with Ragonaut Row having been formed by the President and Select Committee of Bombay, under the express Letter of our Sanction; and this Authority having been proclaimed to the World in a Manifesto, under the Company's Seal, it remained only for us to support the Engagements thus concluded, although a very principal Condition, both enjoined by us in our Letter to Bombay, dated 2d February 1778, and obviously striking in itself, had been omitted; we mean, a Stipulation or Provision for the Expences of the Detachment fent from hence to the Aid of Ragonaut Row; which was at that Time advancing quickly into the Maratta Country, and which has fince actually marched towards Poona, at the express Requisition of the President and Select Committee of Bombay.

Thus circumstanced, with an Object of so much Importance to secure at the Court of Poona, we thought it advisable to pursue the most effectual Means of accomplishing it that were suggested by the Occasion; and therefore resolved to invest Colonel Goddard with Powers to treat with that Court, and to furnish him with Instructions, to the following Effect:

Colonel Goddard is directed to co-operate with the President and Select Committee of Bombay, and with the Committee appointed by them for conducting the political and military Affairs at Poons in support of the Treaty concluded by that Presidency with Ragonaut Row, and of the Operations dependant on it.

He is confirmed in Possession of the Powers conveyed to him by our Letter of the 23d November, which he at present holds, dependant on this Government, and independant of the Presidency of

He is authorized to apply for fuch Reinforcements of Troops from the Prefidency of Bombay, as he shall judge necessary for completing the Strength of his Detachment, and to receive the same, with the Condition that they be not commanded by any Officer of superior Rank to himself.

We have forbid Colonel Goddard to interfere in any of the Negociations, or other Transactions of the Committee appointed by the President and Select Committee of Bombay, or in any Points which respect the Treaty lately concluded with Ragonaut Row, or the separate and immediate Interests of that Prefidency, except only in those in which he shall be called upon by the Prefident and Select Committee, or the Committee appointed by them, for his Advice and Affistance.

P P E N D I X, Nº 172, 173.

We have appointed Colonel Goddard the Minister of our Government at the Court of Poona, with Sell Powers to negociate with Ragonaut Row, or fuch other Person or Persons as shall be at the Head of the Maratta State, upon all Matters which shall be expressly given to him in Charge, and to accept or conclude any Engagements for the same on our Part.

We have instructed Colonel Goddard to demand from Ragonaut Row, or the Government for the Time being, Payment of the Expences actually incurred in the Expedition undertaken by the Detachment under his Command, estimated at Two Lacks of Rupees per Month, from the 1st of lune 1778 to the Day of his Arrival at or near Poona, with the Allowance of Six Months for the Return of the Detachment to Bengal, from the Day of its Difmission; to obtain the most complete Security for these Payments, either by Assignments on the Public Treasury, or on reputable Shroffs; or, in the last Resort, on any of the Aumils or Collectors of the Revenue, who shall engage to him for the tame, but not on the Collections themselves, in which we have forbidden him, or any one under his Authority, to have any Concern or Interference.

In case of a Refusal on the Part of the Maratta Government to comply with these Demands, or of fuch an Evafion of them as shall be equivalent to a Refusal, Colonel Goddard is directed to notify the fame to the Committee, and to the President and Select Committee of Bombay, and either return with the Detachment under his Command to Berar, or retire to the Lands ceded to the Company, and in Possession of the Government of Bombay, at his Discretion; and we have peremptorily required and commanded the President and Select Committee in such Case to recall their Troops from Poona, and from the Maratta Dominions.

We have thought it proper to confirm the Instructions originally given to Mr. Elliott, and after his Death transferred to Colonel Goddard, and to direct him to refume his Negociations with the Government of Berar, and to treat with it on the Grounds of those Instructions whenever an Occasion shall offer to execute them confistently with the foregoing Resolutions. For the fuller Explanation of our Intentions in this Article, and to obviate any Misconception of the Obligation imposed on us by the Treaty concluded by the Presidency of Bombay with Ragonaut Row, we have distinctly specified the several Cases which shall authorize him to renew the Negociations with Moodajee Boosla. These are as follow: 1st. If Ragonaut Row shall depart from the Terms of his Engagements with the Government of Bombay.

adly. If he shall refuse to comply with our Demands.

3dly. If he shall himself defire to include the Government of Berar in his Alliance with the Company, on the Footing prescribed by our Instructions to Mr. Elliott.

4thly. In the Event of Ragonaut Row's Death.

5thly. In case of the Failure of the Plan undertaken by the Presidency of Bombay for restoring that Chief.

We have given the necessary Directions on these several Subjects to the President and Select Committee at Bombay; and further recommended it to them, on the Return of their Committee, to appoint an Agent or Minister on the Part of their Government for the Management of its separate Concerns with the Administration of Poona, and for the Accomplishment of the different Articles of the Treaty which they have concluded with Ragonaut Row, but with Instructions expressly limited to those Objects; and we have also thought it necessary to forbid them to enter into any new Engagements, without a previous Application to us, and our Sanction obtained for that Purpole. We are,

Bengal Secret Persian Correspondence.

Letter from Governor General to Moodajee Bhosila: Written 9th February 1779.

DID not think proper to return an immediate Answer to your First Letter, because it had been written on the Supposition that the Commission which had been entrusted to Mr. Elliott had not been transferred to any other Person, and that the Negociations and Objects of it were left in total Suspence s

Suspence; and as all your Objections to the proposed Alliance were grounded on that Presumption, 1 expected that when you were informed, as you would foon have been after the Dispatch of that Let ter, that Mr. Elliott's Commission had been transferred to Colonel Goddard, with full Powers for carrying into Execution the Plan intended by it, all your Objections would cease of course, and that you would be as much disposed to accept of the proposed Alliance, and to join in the Measures pro jected for it, as you appeared to be in the Letter which you wrote me immediately after the News of Mr. Elliott's Decease: In this Hope however I have been disappointed; an unfortunate Concurrence of Circumstances has caused a Change in your Sentiments, and defeated my Designs. By your last Letter, and by the Advices received at the fame Time from Colonel Goddard, I understand that you have given him his final Answer, and that the Subjects of his Negociations remain suspended to an in. definite Time; and that the Cause of your Reluctance to enter into my Views, has proceeded from the Engagements which have been lately concluded by the Government of Bombay with Ragonaut Row, and the Measures actually taken by them for replacing him in the Administration of Poona, I will own that the Doubts you entertained on the Receipt of this Intelligence were reasonable; for I have no Right to expect that you should place an implicit Reliance on the Faith of any Engage. ments implied by the Overtures made by me to you, but not ratified by any formal Instrument; yet I am forry that you entertained this Diffrust; and do declare, that had you accepted of the Terms offered you through Colonel Goddard, and concluded a Treaty with this Government upon them, I should have held the Obligation of it superior to that of any Engagements formed by the Govern. ment of Bombay, and should have thought it my Duty to maintain it, and to defend the Faith of this Government pledged for the Performance of it against every Consideration even of the most valuable Interests and Safety of the English Possessions intrusted to my Charge; nor in Effect was the Plan proposed to you precluded by the Engagements of the Government of Bombay with Ragonaur Row, but as I conceive entirely reconcilable to it; this however has had the Fffect of diverting your Mind from the Profecution of our mutual Deligns, and I am therefore without Remedy.

You will be pleafed to remember that the original Intention of fending an English Army from this to the Western Side of India was to assist the Government of Bombay in the Accomplishment of a Plan connected with the actual Ruler's of the Maratta State, with whom they were in Alliance, and similar to that which they have lately carried into Execution, as I informed you in my First Letter written upon this Subject. That Plan proved abortive; but the same Causes which had induced me and the Members of this Government to give our Sanction to the Measures of the Government of Bombay, namely, the dangerous and forward Intrigues of the French at Poona, still substitted, with other additional Motives, for profecuting the Undertaking; and I thought this a fair Occasion to afford you the most substantial Proof of the Sincerity of the Professions which I had repeatedly given to you, and of cementing a lasting Friendship between your House and the Company by the strong Connection of mutual Advantages. With this View I first deputed Mr. Elliott with full Powers to negociate, and to conclude a Treaty between us, and to concert the Operations dependant on st. His Death suspended this Design, which was instantly renewed on the Intimation given me by you of your Wishes concurring with mine, and Colonel Goddard was substituted the Minister of this Government in his Place.

To you I had unrefervedly communicated all my Views, partly and indiffinctly by Letters, but very fully in repeated Convertations with Beneram Pundit, as it would have been very improper to have trufted Affairs of fuch Delicacy and Importance to Letters, and to the Hazards to which thele would have been expoted in a long and doubtful Journey. Your Caution was still greater, and was perhaps more commendable, although I may regret the Necessity which prescribed it; for neither your Letters, nor the Letters of Beneram Pundit, afforded me the least Clue to judge of your Scholments or Inclinations respecting the particular Points of Action which were to form the Substance of our projected Engagements; and although from your general Professions, and the Warmth and Sucerity with which these were manifestly dictated, I had every Reason to conclude that you approved of them, yet, without some Assistance, common Prudence required that I should not precipitately abandon every other Refource, and irrevocably commit the Honour and Interest of this Government in a doubtful Meafure. Precautions were taken that nothing should be undertaken by any of the Governments dependant on this, which might eventually interfere with those actually concluded with you; and laftly, that Colonel Goddard might be freed from all Embarrassments which might check or impede him in his Negociations with you. The Orders by which he had been subjected to the Authority of the Government of Bombay were revoked, and he was instructed to give his whole Attention to the Treaty which he was charged to conclude with you. Due Intimation of this was at the fame Time written to Bombay.

The Past is past, and cannot be recalled; it is therefore as unnecessary as it would be improper, to pass a Judgment on the Propriety of it. With respect to the future, my Disposition and Wishes remain the same; nothing is yet lost, although the Prospect be removed to a greater Distance. I shall wait for the Arrival of Beneram Pundit for the Information of future Inclinations; and by this it is my Desire to be guided in the Hopes that they may be speedily accomplished to our mutual and entire Satisfaction.

Bengal Secret Consultations, the 2d March 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, Esquires. Edward Wheler,

M. Francis having fent in the following Minute on the 23d ultimo, it was circulated, and returned this Morning by the Governor General, with the Minute which is entered after it.

Mr. Francis—It does not belong to me to answer for the Inconsistency of the Measures purMr. Francis,

One December 1777, or to reconcile and account for the contradictory 1779. ued by this Board since December 1777, or to reconcile and account for the contradictory Declarations with which they have been occasionally introduced or supported; in every Instance, n which I may be able to produce the Governor General's own Authority in Desence of my Dpinion, I shall think myself at Liberty to make use of it.

The Question left in Debate by his last Minute, recorded the Eleventh Instant, and in which understand him to maintain the Affirmative, are as follow:

1st. " Whether at the Time when Mr. Elliott's Instructions were resolved on, the Plan prooposed by that Commission was not the principal Object of this Government; or whether it was considered by us as little more than a Resource to which we looked in the Event of a Failure in the other Design?"

When Mr. Elliott's Appointment was refolved on in July 1778, it appears by his Instructions, hat the Bombay Plan, in favour of Ragoba, was abandoned by this Government. In the Intructions it is expressly inserted, That "the Design bad failed; that Ragonaut Row had now ono Party left; that the Presidency of Bombay could not now, under any Circumstances, afford him this Affistance; and that, thus deprived of the Resources on which we depended, in the Partizans of Ragoba, &c. we were therefore defirous of joining our Forces and our Interests with those of Moodajee Boosla." Even the Passage quoted by the Governor General proves, hat the Junction with Moodajee Boosla was not considered by us as little more than an eventual, Resource, but that it was then our main and principal Object. On a Supposition that the Presidency of Bombay might have actually entered into Engagements with Ragoba, the Instrucions to Mr. Elliot say, "You will so conduct yourself as to conform to their Measures, if you ean, confistently with the prior Attention which you will give to our Views, remembering that a defensive Alliance with Moodajee Boosla being the permanent Object of your Commission, you are to fuffer no Confideration whatever to divert you from that Object, &c.

Finally, the Governor General in his Letter of the 9th Instant to Moodajee Boosla, says, I do declare, that had you accepted the Terms offered you through Colonel Goddard, and concluded a Treaty with this Government upon them, I should have held the Obligation of it superior to that of any Engagement formed by the Government of Bombay.'

2d. " Whether the Two Plans, viz. That formed at Bombay, for the Restoration of Ragoba to the Office of Peishwa, and that projected by us for the Advancement of Moodajee Boosla to the Sovereign Authority of the Maratta Empire, are compatible in their Nature, and may really exist together."

Rep. VI.

The Object constantly aimed at by Ragoba on one Side, and held out to Moodajec Boosla on he other, has been, the actual Sovereignty of the Maratta State. It is not to be supposed, that ither of them would be satisfied with a bare. Title, while the actual Power was left in the Hands this Rival; nor in Fact was such a Proposition ever made to them. But if the actual Power of he Administration was their common Object, it can hardly be a Question, whether Two Plans, he professed Purpose of which is to place both of them in Possession of such Power, can be reconiled and executed together. The Governor General himself says, That the Resolution taken at lombay has deseated our Measures, and exposed us to the Suspicion of Duplicity; but the Assirtantive the Question supposes the Measures compatible, consequently the Execution of one ought not odeseat the Success of the other. The Opinion that they are really incompatible, does not clong to me alone. In Mr. Elliott's Instructions, the possible Case of an Engagement on the Part f Bombay, for the Restoration of Ragoba, is stated as incompatible with the Operations which ve had above authorized, viz. in the preceeding Part of the Instructions. Colonel Goddard, in is Litter of the 6th of January, says, "That Moodajee Boossa justly apprehends, that the establishing of Ragonaut Row's Authority under the Influence of the English, would exclude him from all Hopes of ever obtaining the Object he has in View through their Means, as an Attention to, and Observance of the Interests of both would be an impracticable Task to our Government, and irreconcilable to themselves."

Ιn

N D I X.

In another Part of the same Letter he tells us, that "Moodajee Boosla acknowledges his View is to have the Way to his own future Projects; and that he declares, with equal Appearance of "Sincerity, that these are incompatible with the Measures now adopted by Ragonaut Row!

Mr. Watherstone, in his Letter of the 24th of December, says, "The principal Cause however, of their Objection to the Bombay Schemes, is, I make no Doubt, the invincible Bow they forestee they will occasion to the Accomplishment of their own." The Governor General himself says, That "our own Plan has been rendered impracticable by it." I fubmit to Judgment, whether this Fvidence be or be not conclusive?

3d "Whether the Presidency of Bombay were bound by our Example, to leave an Opening for the Admission of Moodajee Boosla into their Engagements with Ragoba, in the same Many as our Instructions to Mr. Elliott had prescribed the Junction of Ragoba in his Negociation " with Moodajee Boofla?"

The Governor General affirms, "That it was not possible for the Presidency of Boarbay to " suppose that at the Time when we gave them such an Authority, we should either gize or leave to Mr. Elliott such Instructions, as in their Nature would tend to annul it." Yet the Declaration quoted from the Governor's last Letter to Moodajee Boosla, plainly shews that full a Supposition, if they had formed it, would not have been unwarrantable. At all Events that ought not to have been left to their own Conjectures, on a Point of such Importance. They ough to have been informed of the précise Object of Mr. Elliott's Commission. They would then have had no Excuse for entering into Engagements, which are now said to have defeated our Measures, and to have exposed us to the Suspicion of Duplicity. It rests with the Governor General to shew how it was possible for them to follow our Example, and to leave an Opening for Moodate Boofla, in the fame Manner as our Instructions to Mr. Elliott had prescribed the Junction of Ra goba, with his Negociation with Moodajee Boosla, when they had never seen Mr. Elliott's la-Aructions, nor know any thing of the Plan of them.

4th, "Whether the Support of the Plan, prefented to us by Bombay, in December 1777, was not our First profest Object in undertaking the Expedition, and whether we have ever " abandoned our Plan, to affift in the Profecution of their's?"

When the Court of Directors shall have read the following Quotations, I believe they will view with the same Surprize that I do, the Governor General's present Declaration, that the Alliance with Moodajee Boofla was the First professed Object of this Government.

" If there are Men in England fo devoid of Common Sense as to suppose it possible for me " to have formed a Plan, oftenfibly professed for the Support of Bombay, but really meant as a " Cover for other Defigns, let them. Whosoever they are, or in whatever Relation they may

" fland to this Government, fuch Opinions will give me no Kind of Concern."

"We were called upon by the Presidency of Bombay to assist them in a Plan, &c. Our Assistance was only necessary to support it."

"The Object originally prefented to our Army, seemed to have vanished." "It will be re" membered, that our Detachment was expressly defigned for the Support of the Plan com-"municated to us by the Presidency of Bombay, in December 1777."

"You will be pleased to remember, that the original Intention of sending an English Army

" from this to the Western Side of India was to affist the Government of Bombay, in the accomplishing of a Plan, concerted with the actual Rulers of the Maratta State."

If nevertheless, an immediate and decided Engagement with Moodajee had in Effect been first adopted, and afterwards abandoned by us, to affist in the Profecution of the other Scheme, with what Reason can it be considered as little more than a Resource, to which we looked in the Event of a Failure in the Design furnished us by the Presidency of Bombay?

I deny that we have ever abandoned the Project of an Alliance with Moodajee Boofla, fince it was first avowed. The Proof of the contrary lies on the Assirmative.

5th. " Whether the supposed Change in Moodajee Boosla's Sentiments, is to be attributed to "his Knowledge of the Deligns lately formed at Bombay?"

A private Letter from the Marratta Vackeel to his Brother, is no Evidence to this Board, if it had ever been before us. It appears that the Governor General himself paid no Regard to 15 But Moodajee Boosla's Letter to Colonel Goddard, of the 23d of November, must be received by us as public Authority. He therein states a Multitude of Reasons for not engaging in the proposed Alliance. Is it to be supposed, that if he had been acquainted with the Resolution then taken at Bombay, he would not have added that Argument to the rest, or that he would have defignedly omitted to justify himself by the only Plea to which in Truth there could be no Possibility of Reply?

6th. " Whether we have frielly a Right to insist on a further Subsidy from Ragoba, in Ad"dition to the Sum stipulated and limited by the Bombay Treaty?"

The Twelfth Article of the Treaty says, "The English Forces are to continue with Ragonaut "Row, until the Object of this Treaty is accomplished, which is to place him in the Regency of Poona." But, if he refuses to comply with the Demahd of Two Lacks a Month, belond the Subsidy limited by the Treaty, Colonel Goddard is commanded to retire with his Detachment, and the Presidency of Bombay to recall their Troops from Poona. The Execution of these Orders is not to wait till the Objects of the Treaty are accomplished; the Demand is to be inflamily

h February

nstantly made, and a Refusal to comply with it is to be immediately followed by the Retreat of Armies. The Conclusion from these Premises is obvious and unavoidable.

7th. "Whether we have an equitable Right to insist on such a Demand?"
We must the Event, before we can determine whether Colonel Goddard's Army will really have contributed in any Degree to the Success of the Expedition from Bombay. That Presidency may naturally tell us, that the Motion of their Army was the Cause of Colonel Goddard's Security, fince it evidently must have diverted a Part at least of the Force that would have opposed him. The Argument, otherwise equal in itself, preponderates clearly in favour of that opposed him. Party, which stands nearest to the common Enemy, and enters first into Action.

8th. " Whether Ragoba, supposing him reinstated, derives the Possession of his Treasures

" immediately from us?"

Lknow of no Refources which Ragoba inherently possesses; for a considerable Time past he has been a Burthen to the Company, even for his personal Subsistence. That he will derive the future Possession of any other Treasures immediately from us, is a Proposition which, I believe, the Prefidency of Bombay will be as unwilling to admit as Ragoba himfelf; they will claim the whole Merit of the Service, and they will engross the Reward of it. We need not yet, however, mbarrass ourselves about a Division of the Spoil. That Question at present is premature.

9th. " Whether my Objection to the Amount of the Demand be unfair on my own Principles?"

There is an Air of Cavil in the Remark on my Objection to the Amount of the Demand, which perhaps might excuse me from replying to it. Yet I should be forry to be misunderstood; ny Meaning is, that if all Objections to increasing our Demands on Ragoba, on the Score of he Assistance he may derive from the March of Colonel Goddard's Army, be over-ruled, the Denand then should be proportioned to our actual Expence. On any Principles that will justify as in demanding a Part, we have a Right to the Whole. Two Lacks a Month from June last, fall very short of reimbursing the Company for the Charge of this Measure.

10th. " Whether it appears what Sort of Business Colonel Goddard is to negociate and transact

" at the Court of Poona, as Ambassador from this Government?"

To make a peremptory Demand of a specific Sum of Money, does not require us to vest Colonel Goddard with the Character and full Powers of an Ambassador, and no other Object of Negociation appears to be intrusted to him.

11th. "Whether we have no Reason to charge Moodajee Boosla with Levity, Unsteadiness, or Duplicity?"

If it be true that Moodajee Boofla constantly solicited an Alliance with this Government, and, as I find it afferted by the Governor General on the 16th of November last, that " he was " both willing and prepared to join his Affistance in the Operations of the Detachment;" I am entitled to charge him with Levity and Unsteadiness in departing from all his former Professions, as he evidently did on the 23d of November, when it was impossible for him to be apprized of the Resolution taken at Bombay. With respect to his Duplicity, I must leave it to others to judge from Facts; in the mean Time, I do not deem it unwarrantable, nor is it unprecedented in the Confultations, either here or at Madras, to question the good Faith of a Maratta. How it stands with the Governor General's personal Credit, or with the Wisdom of his Measures, to maintain that Moodajce Boofla's Conduct has been unexceptionable, is a Question which I think deferves his Confideration.

12th. "Whether the direct Change of Opinion admitted by Mr. Hastings, with respect to the " Policy of engaging the Company in an offensive Alliance with the Marattas, be justified by a total "Change of Circumstances, supposed to have taken place since his former Opinion was de-" livered?"

When fundamental Maxims of Policy are avowedly fet aside, the Change of Circumstances should not only be clear and uncontrovertible, but it should be such a one as warrants the Adoption of new and opposite Principles of Action. I am not sufficiently Master of the Revolutions which have happened in the Maratta Empire fince April 1771, and which in so short a Period are supposed to have produced a total Alteration in its Circumstances, to enter into that Part of the Question. Taking the Facts as they are stated by the Governor, it seems to me an obvious Conclusion, that, if it were dangerous for us to unite with the Marattas when their Empire was entire and in its full Vigour, it must be useless to commit ourselves by taking any Part in their Divisions, when their Empire is falling to Pieces of itself; either Way, our engaging the Company's Arms in an offensive War, whether in Conjunction with a Part or the Whole of the Maratta Empire, is indesensible, since it is equally contrary to the Company's positive, most solemn, and repeated Commands.

13.h. "Whether Colonel Goddard in marching to Poona, has not acted without Orders?" It is admitted, that on the 23d of November, Colonel Goddard was directed thenceforth to obey all fuch Orders as he might receive from us, and from us only. The Exclusion contained in these Terms, could only relate to the Authority heretofore delegated to the Presidency of Bombay and now revoked; under these last Instructions Colonel Goddard could no longer obey

N D I X, Nº 174 E

The direct Orders of that Prefidency; but it feems he was at Liberty to comply with their Requisitions. Such a Construction of positive Orders, I believe, is unprecedented. The vibal Diffinction between Orders and Requisitions, scens to me to be of no Weight. Colonel Goddard has defended his Conduct on much better Grounds.

(Signed) P. Francis.

The Governor General—This is not a Time for speculative Discussion; yet I must desend myself against the Charge of Inconsistency in Measures of such Importance to the Interests of the Company and to the national Reputation, as those into which I have been forcibly drawn, not by my own Option, but by the Acts of others independant of me, fince December 1777; and which are rendered yet more important to my own Character by the miferable Catastrophe which has attended the Design from which these all derive their Origin. I shall conform to Mt. Francis's Arrangement of his Arguments in my Reply to them, and hope at least to have the Merit of Brevity, if I am not justified by the Metives which have impelled me to give up to much of my Time to Debate, which might be devoted to more useful Purposes, and to write what perhaps no one will read.

1st. Mr. Elliott's Commission consisted of Two distinct and independent Points; a describe Alliance, which was to be concluded independantly of any Measures or Engagements of the Presidency of Bombay; and an ossensive one, which was not to take place, if any Engagements should have been concluded, or Measures formed, by the Presidency of Bombay, which were contradictory to it. This is clearly expressed in the following Extract of his Instructions, which I quote again to fave the Trouble of a Reference. "But if you shall have Reason to believe that the Presidency of Bombay have commenced any Negociations or entered into any Engagements, either for the firm Establishment of Peace with the Poona Ministry, or for the Restoration of Ragonaus Row, or for any other Purpose, which may prove incompatible with the Operations which we have above authorized, you will in such Case suspend your Negociations until you shall have received authoritie Information, either from Mr. Mostyn or the Presidency of Bombay, of the Nature of the Engagements either projected or executed by them; and you will so conduct yourself as to conform to their Measures, if you can consistently with the prior Attention which you will give to our Views, or at least not to engage in any offensive Plan which shall be contrary to that of the Presidency of Bombay." There is a clear and pointed Opposition stated of Two Designs; one proposed by Mr. Elliott's Commission, and the other by the Presidency of Bombay; and it is declared that the former shall not be attempted in the Case of the actual Prosecution of the latter; therefore it is provided, that " at the Time when Mr. Elliott's Instructions were resolved on, " the Plan proposed by the Committee was not the principal Object of this Government, but " confidered by us as little more than a Refource, to which we looked in the Event of a Failure " in the other Defign."

The Quotation made from my Letter to Moodajee, has no Relation to the Proposition stated by Mr. Francis himself, which expressly confines it to the Date and Duration of Mr. Elliott's Instructions. This speaks only of Engagements made by Colonel Goddard. The relative State of the Two Commissions was clearly this: In Mr. Elliott's we considered the Project formed by the Presidency of Bombay as abortive, but in the Supposition of the Possibility of its Existence we gave it the Preserence, and therefore left the Detachment under the Orders of that Presidency-In Colonel Goddard's Commission, we still considered that Project as abortive, and decining it indifpenfably necessary to fix the Destination of Colonel Goddard's Detachment, then advanced to the Confines of Berar, where it must either remain for the Junction of Moodajee, and for the Accomplishment of the Plan proposed to him; or abandoning that Design, proceed to the Support of that of the Presidency of Bombay; we gave the Preserence to the former, and therefore released the Detachment from the Orders of that Presidency.

2d. It was never agreed nor propofed, neither did Ragonaut Row ever require, that he should be put into Possession of the Sovereignty of the Maratta State, whatever might have been the implied and secret Object of the Engagement concluded with him. He did not dare in his ejected State to violate the Constitutional Forms which the Peishwa's, his Predecessors in the Plenitude of their Power professed to hold facred. Whether therefore he were satisfied or not with the "bare Title" of Peishwa, without the usurped Powers of it, would have been no Concern of mine, nor ought to have influenced the Measures of our Government if we could have improved its Relation to the Maratta State by other Aids, not prohibited by our Engagement with him.

The professed Object of the Alliance with Moodajee, was to put him in Possession of the Sovereignty of the Maratta State, to which he had fair and legal Pretentions, and which he might have certainly held without Prejudice to the Rights of Ragonaut Row as Peishwa; and Ragonaut Row might as confiftently have exercised the Office of Peilhwa under his Authority as his Predecessions in the same Office did before the Usurpation of Ballagee in 1740, which has been supported under all the Forms and avowed Rights of the Conflitution.

Therefore, the Two Plans, viz. "That formed at Bombay for the Restoration of Ragoba to the "Office of Peishwa, and that projected by us for the Advancement of Moodajee Boosla to the Sovereign Authority of the Maratta Empire, are compatible in their Nature, and may really exalt together." My.

APPENDIX, Nº 174.

My Affertion, that "the Refolution taken at Bombay has defeated our Measures and exposed to the Suspicion of Duplicity," does not imply that the Two Measures are incompatible. The Union of Two distinct Cases may be consistently supposed, although the Attempt to unite them may fail, or the Means separately taken to establish one may defeat or counteract the other. Moodajee with night eventually be defeated by those which he saw formed by the Presidency of Bombay with Ragonaut Row, and with the Nature and Extent of which he was unacquainted. He therefore declined it under such Circumstance; so that in Enect, the Resolution taken at Bombay has leseated our Measures, because he did not chuse to be a Party in it, yet it does not therefore follow hat the Measures were in themselves incompatible. That "our own Plan has been rendered impracticable by it," which are quoted as my Words, and I suppose are such, meant no more, han that it was no longer practicable for Colonel Goddard to concert a Plan of Operations with doodajee Boossa, since he had been obliged to leave him, and to march to Poona, for the Purpose suppose support to the Presidency of Bombay in Favour of a Plan to which Moodajee was dverse; yet surely neither is this a Proof that the Two Measures were in themselves incompatible.

3d. I prefume that the Point is fufficiently proved by what has been already faid upon it in my ormer Minute, as I find nothing new in Mr. Francis's prefent Argument against it.

4th. Here again Mr. Francis has confounded Two different and unconnected Subjects, viz. The stensive Alliance with Moodajee Boosla for the mutual and perpetual Support of our respective entitories, immediately bordering on each other, and an offensive Alliance for other Purposes, he Design of the first had existed since the Middle of the Year 1773, and a fair Opportunity estanted itself of accomplishing it, when the Presidency of Bombay called our Attention to anomal Object. It would have been unreasonable at such a Time to attempt it. It was therefore abandoned to affish in the Prosecution of theirs." This is a sufficient Comment on the multi-lied Quotations which Mr. Francis has too exultingly produced for the "Surprize of the Court of Directors."

5th. Mr. Francis has affirmed, that the supposed Change in Moodajee's Sentiments could not are been influenced by the Knowledge of the Designs lately formed at Bombay, because it is first lowed in his Letter to Colonel Goddard of the 23d November, when no such Designs existed. It now appears that the Treaty with Ragonaut Row was executed on the 24th of November, and that on the 5th of December the Operations of the Army for the Support of it were in such orwardness, that an advanced Party from it was in actual Possession of the fatal Pass of Roorgaut. a Month only be allowed, which is a very short Allowance for making the necessary Provisions of the Expedition, and passing the Army and Stores to the Continent, this Time was much more can sufficient to have furnished Moodajee with a complete Knowledge of their Intentions. It plears besides from Mr. Lewis's Letter, dated the 27th of October, that there had been formally officed to him by Mr. Hornby, that he had in consequence sent away all the Sepoys stationed with at Resident, and hourly expected his own Recall. The Proof therefore of Moodajee having official this Knowledge, no longer rests on a private Letter from the Maratta Vackeel to his rother; and for its Essect on Moodajee's Sentiments, his Declarations, the corroborative Opions of Mr. Watherstone and Colonel Goddard, and the plain Conclusions of common Sense, e sufficient Evidences.

6th. The professed Object of the Treaty is to place Ragonaut Row in the Government of pona; and it is a Condition of it, that this being essected, our Forces shall have Liberty to leave m. This is all that is proposed by the Orders given to Colonel Goddard, and to the Select Comittee of Bombay, in the Event of Ragoba's Refusal to repay the Charges of our Detachment, it have therefore "strictly a Right to insist on a surther Subsidy from Ragoba, in Addition to the Sum stipulated and limited by the Bombay Treaty," with this single Alternative.

7th. The Failure of the Undertaking renders this a Point of pure Speculation; I shall therefore ave it to be supported by the Arguments which I have already used in my former Minute.

8th. This too supposes a Case no longer existing nor likely to exist; I shall therefore leave it.

9th. I refer to my former Minute as a complete Reply to Mr. Francis's short Argument on this roposition, as he has stated it, if either his Reasonings or mine on such a Subject merit so much ttention.

10th. Colonel Goddard is not fimply impowered to make a peremptory Demand, but he is altructed in the feveral Modes in which it may be accepted, and in the Conduct which he is to offerve in the Case of the Refusal to comply with it. These are Powers specifically given to olonel Goddard, and whether necessary or not, in Mr. Francis's Opinion to the Character of an inbassador, these sufficiently prove that, "it appears what fort of Business Colonel Goddard is to ne jociate and transact at the Court of Poona, as Ambassador from this Government."

41th. This Quotation has been sufficiently discussed in my Observations on the 5th Proposition, ad in my former Minute.

tath. "The emphatic Appeal made by Mr. Francis to the Company's politive, most folems, and repeated Commands," might deter me from replying, if I had no other Means of Defendant in sheltering myself under contradictory Orders of the Court of Directors; their secent Commands to recur to the Engagement formed by Ragonaut Row, are a virtual Repeal of all former orders given to abstain from Hostilities with the Marattas, and under the Circumstances in which these opposite Orders were dictated, both are mutually reconcilable, as I have proved in my former Minute.

13th. Colonel Goddard was freed from the Authority of the Presidency of Bombay, but he was directed to use his Discretion in certain prescribed Cases. He might therefore comply with a Requisition from Bombay, or even an Order, which presented to him any of the Cases prescribed, as in Essective it did. He has not therefore acted without Orders in the Resolution taken by him to march to Poona on such Requisition.

Extract of Bengal Secret Confultations, the 25th February 1779.

PRESENT,

The Honourable Warren Hastings, Governor General, President, Richard Barwell, Philip Francis, and Edward Wheler, RECEIVED the following Letter from Bombay.

Gentlemen,

We have had the Honour to receive your Letters, dated the 15th and 20th of October, by the Terrible; and agreeable to the Power given us in the First of these Letters, we immediately sent an Order to Colonel Goddard to advance to this Coast, even without a Junction of the Forces of any Power in Alliance with us; a Measure we thought indispensably requisite, having formed our Plan with a Dependance upon the Services of this Detachment, which we always understood was meant for the Support and Assistance of this Presidency.

We were therefore much surprized and concerned upon Receipt of your Letter of the 23d November, to find the Direction of the Detachment taken out of our Hands, at a Time when we had such pressing Occasion for its Services; and our Perplexity was much increased by the Miscarriage of the Letter and Instructions therein referred to, whereby we were lest intirely ignorant of the Object of a Negociation, which we are told is likely to cause a very speedy and essential Change in the Design and Operations of that Detachment.

All that we could do in such a Situation, was to explain to Colonel Goddard our Views in the Engagement we had formed with Ragoba, and to send him a Copy of the Treaty, that he might judge how far our Measures were compatible with his Instructions from you: We at the same Time pressed him strongly to advance to this Coast as soon as possible; and we trust, that you, Gentlemen, respecting on our Situation, will see the Propriety and Necessity of enforcing our Injunctions.

We beg Leave to enclose a Copy of our Letter on the Subject to Colonel Goddard.
